Vol. X. (Published Weekly) TORONTO AND MONTREAL, JANUARY 3, 1896 ($2.00 per Year) No. 1

DROPS FROM THE EDITOR'S PEN.

An "ad" is an admirable trade winner.

Murmuring and merchandise in the store are incompatible.

Merchants who would succeed to-day must watch and pry.

Stick-to-it-tiveness is a better quality than genius to wager upon.

Merchants who refuse to give credit do not as a rule lose credit.

To ensure its being read an advertisement must be bright and newsy.

What use for a cash register has a merchant who does a credit trade?

Some match makers are not marriage makers, nor are all Eddy-fying.

Within the reach of every sane man are the elements essential to success in business.

He who professes to sell his goods below cost is either lying or preparing to cheat his creditors.

It is natural that the pedlar should push the merchant and the law officer aside: He is used to pushing—a cart.

Opinions changed frequently denote instability; advertisements changed frequently denote practicability.

Malice is a boomerang, for it injures the malicious infinitely more than it does those against whom it is levied.

An association is an instrument for dissociating fogeyism, spleen, jealousy, and other evils from business men.

A successful business man may have been your father, but it does not follow that you should religiously tread in his footsteps. Although they led him to Success they may lead you to Destruction. Times and methods have changed since your father was a merchant.

A good resolution to make at this, the opening of the New Year, is never to be without your trade paper.

A black sheep or a white sheep would the Creator have made you had he intended that you should follow where others led.

Keenness in business men is much to be desired, but sharpness in manner toward customers is much to be deplored.

Eschew those things which your business has not digested well during the past year, and feast on those which have proved nutritious.

A thorn in the side to work much injury to trade, instead of a sword of protection thereto, appears to be the Customs tariff of the United States.

Unsoldered and caused to fall apart has the fire of jealousy many business men's associations, while others it has prevented from being soldered.

It has been intimated to me that Mr White, the new president of the Toronto Retail Grocers' Association, will make a "white" chairman.

A fallacious and fatal idea is it to fancy that people like to be "fooled" by merchants. They may be by circus men, but by business men never.

Merchants are there, who, while they would not lie themselves, have no qualms of conscience about making their advertisements messengers of falsehoods.

If when merchants for some unexplained reason lose customers they would go out and search diligently for the cause thereof it would be possible to keep others from straying through the same hole in the business fence.

Some of the soap manufacturers in Saginaw, Mich., are wrapping their product in a wrapper, which has induced soap makers elsewhere to unwrap the vials of their wrath.

As to whether the proposed United States tariff changes are in the line of progress or of retrogression depends altogether upon the vantage ground from which they are viewed.

As thick as leaves in Ambrosia were good resolutions on New Year's day, but as sparse as prairie grass after a fire will they be after the whirlwind of temptation has stirred them up.

Some of the trade papers are discussing the propriety of freezing canned goods. Freezing, it may be noted, has frozen out some of the packers of canned goods in Canada lately.

Few business men would be eating leeks to-day had they partaken of a little reflection before they performed the act that subsequently necessitated their swallowing Wales national emblem.

He who is a member of an association is a spoke in the wheel of that association, and every time he absents himself from a meeting, by so much is the efficiency of the organization impaired.

The nearest approach to war which the United States is likely to be the scene of in this year of grace will be when President Cleveland and Congress cross swords over the amendments to the tariff.

The store window is a mouth to the merchant through which he can sing the praises of his wares, and an eye to the public through which it can see the character of the goods heaped upon the shelves and counters inside.

DRUMMERS IN ANNUAL SESSION.

THE twenty-second annual general meeting of the Commercial Travelers' Association was held in the Auditorium, Toronto, on Friday, the 27th ult., President R. H. Gray occupying the chair. The attendance was large. Mr. J. J. Allworth was elected recording secretary.

The annual report and statement of the Board of Directors was read by Secretary Sargant. The report stated that the permanent reserve fund now amounted to over $250,000. On November 30th the total membership amounted to 3,923, being an increase on last year of 159. The mortuary payments during the year had amounted to $30,390. As there had been no fatal casualties during the year, the payments under the accident bonus by-law were for minor claims only, and aggregated $1,671.50. The maximum mortuary benefit for 1896 has been continued at $1,200. The premium to members is continued at the rate of $12 per annum for a $5,000 policy.

The cash abstract showed the receipts during the year to have been $63,065.02, of which $16,590.76 had been invested in debentures and a balance of $6,817.18 was in the Dominion Bank. There had been $32,061.50 paid in benefits and bonuses, and the remainder had gone for current expenses.

The profit and loss account showed as follows: Receipts — Certificates, $39,318; interest, $8,778.11; interest accrued, $144.90; rentals, $3,510; additional accident insurance, $2,049.25; total, $53,800.26. Disbursements—General expenses, $2,741.37; office expenses, $3,726.65; building expenses, $1,940.01; rent, $1,500; mortuary benefits, $30,390; accident bonuses, $1,671,50; furniture, $51.85.

The president, in moving the adoption of the report, took an opportunity to deliver his annual address. He congratulated the association on the fact that its reserve fund had passed the desired quarter-million mark, notwithstanding the large mortuary claims of the past year. He animadverted upon the question of the additional accident policy of $5,000, and ventured the opinion that the Board had not received due credit from the membership in its efforts in regard thereto.

"I have heard," he continued, "remarks by some of our members that under our regulations a man has to die to win, and they would like something done for the living but unfortunate member who has become disabled and incapacitated from following his occupation. This is of course a reasonable thought, but, as you must all admit, you now get unusually good value for the small fee of $10, paid very generally by the merchant employer, and as no provision exists in our by-laws for the diversion of any part of the mortuary fund, and as by the advice of our actuary it would be most unwise to so divert it, if we could, there is nothing for it but to pay for such a scheme, if you wish one put in operation. At our last annual meeting a committee was appointed to inquire into this matter. Several meetings have been held during the year, and a crude plan of procedure has been laid out, which is in your hands. We cannot tell how it will work, nor can our actuary advise us, but we feel satisfied if a start is once made by 500 members, subscribing $5 each, that a commencement will be made which in the end will blossom out into proportions now undreamed of."

He touched upon hotel sanitation, and the efforts that had been made to remedy existing evils. He was sorry to say, however, that very little change for the better had taken place. "It is a very serious thing for you, gentlemen, who spend so much of your time in the small hotels of the country, that the sanitary condition of such places should be under Government surveillance," he added. Before closing, the president put in a good word for the railways, and eulogized his fellow-officers.

In the discussion which followed, Mr. Bedlington pointed out that the sums paid out under the accident policies had been chiefly claims for bicycle accidents. He was of opinion that this class of accidents should in future be excluded from the provisions of the policies. He further expressed the opinion that it would be beneficial to the association were it to issue its own accident policies.

Mr. Hugh Blain agreed with Mr. Bedlington in his last contention.

The secretary's report was then adopted, and the financial statement was concurred in during the afternoon session.

Mr. Joseph Taylor then presented, on behalf of the committee appointed at the last annual meeting to consider the question of the establishment of a "total disability fund," the report prepared on the subject. He read the rules which it was proposed should govern the fund, and which rendered it necessary for the recipient of the benefits to be obtained to be entirely unable in any way to make his own living. It included total loss of sight, loss of both arms, and insanity. He urged very warmly that the fund should be extended so as to include cases of old age as well as of accident.

Mr. C. H. Murdoch followed, and warmly supported the scheme and the suggestions made by Mr. Taylor. "We, as an association, have not one dollar to-day to give to you or to me or to any one of us in the case of any of us becoming incapacitated."

Mr. E. S. Warne did not strongly oppose the scheme suggested by Messrs. Taylor and Murdoch, but he thought that it was necessary to have a fund raised and invested before the paying of annuities to the totally disabled could be prudently begun. He therefore proposed that each member of the association should subscribe, first, $1 for each year he has been in the association, and then $5 for three years following. This he calculated would give a fund of $80,000, which at 4 per cent. would yield $3,200 per year, and this interest would give eight men $400 a year each.

After further discussion a motion was adopted, thanking the committee for its labors, and asking it to further consider the question, and report again at the earliest moment possible.

The scrutineers' report on the voting for the joint Boards of Directors for Toronto and Hamilton was submitted. It stated that 1,168 ballots had been cast, of which 37 were not properly marked and were therefore excluded. This left 1,131 correct ballots. The following were reported as elected:

For Toronto (18 candidates)—M. C. Ellis, Joseph Taylor, John Muldrew, J. H. Devaney, D. D. Braid, H. Gooderham, C. H. Murdoch, E. E. Starr, Wm. Cauldwell.

For Hamilton (10 candidates) — Wm. Bremner, H. G. Wright, James Hooper, J. H. Herring, Fred Johnston, W. G. Reid.

After the adoption of a number of resolutions, one of which was appointing Mr. A. A. Allan as representative on the Industrial Exhibition Board, the meeting adjourned.

SOAP FROM OLIVE KERNELS.

This peculiar product is prepared in the consular district of Brindisi, Italy, says an English paper. The residue of the olive kernels is subjected to chemical process under the action of sulphuric acid, after all means of extraction by pressure have been exhausted. Of this substance it is stated that during 1894 the quantity produced amounted to about 1,200 tons, the medium market price for which ranged at about £18 (say $90) per ton. This article, which is of little value as a lubricator, has an extensive sale for use in soap manufacture, and in years when the oil crop has been favorable considerable quantities have been exported to America, Great Britain and Northern Europe. This oil is locally known as olio sulfureo, or sulphur oil, from the system of its extraction. The refuse left after the extraction of this oil is known as "sausa," and it is used as fuel for steam boilers by millers, as being more economical than coal.

RIO COFFEE PROSPECTS.

The Rio News says: "The time is approaching for the official estimates of the coming crops, and the general impression seems to be that everything eads to expect the excellent outturn that has been prophesied. But November estimates are frequently very partial, and we confess to more confidence in those made after the turn of the year."

MARINE METAPHORS.

THE sailor and his calling have furnished many of the descriptive words and phrases of every-day life, and the novelist and the preacher are continually going to Old Ocean for illustrations and other material, says Merchants' Revtew. The writer, therefore, will perhaps be excused if he uses a few nautical metaphors to describe some of the dangers that threaten beginners in business who are starting out with small capital and less experience, and that threaten established dealers, too, when they have grown careless and over-confident.

The newly-established business may appropriately be likened to a ship, the stock of merchandise to the cargo, the clerks to the crew, and the proprietor to the captain or skipper.

The vessel, then, starts on her voyage to the port of Good Fortune, freighted with the entire wealth of her captain and owner, and with all his hopes and aspirations. The ship is barely out of sight of land when she encounters a severe gale, which sharply tests the seamanship of the commander and crew and the staunchness of the fabric which is bearing them from port to port. Ths vessel pitches and rolls, straining her masts and seams, and it is imperative that sail should be taken in at once, though this may not be done without danger to the crew or loss of one or more of the sails. This may be accepted as a not inapt description, in nautical language, of the condition of a young retail grocer and his business, after a few months' trading and when his capital has been reduced by too easy credits, and the wholesaler begins to press for his just dues. If every hour of the day and night is filled with anxiety for the ship-captain while the crisis lasts, so also does the young dealer pass sleepless nights, and until he becomes hardened and willing to let the creditors "do the walking," spends a very anxious time during such spells of ill-fortune.

If the ship, as we will call the business, is staunch and well-found, and the skipper or retailer is skilful, vigilant, persevering and sober, the craft usually manages to survive the mauling she receives, and finally makes her port all right, to the great profit of the dealer.

But when a hurricane blows, out of a clear sky, just as some business panics come unheralded, or almost so, the most experienced, vigilant and ingenious mariner is liable to be caught unready, and the vessel, or business, to founder with all on board, in the company of hundreds of other ill-fated craft.

The pirate of marine life has his prototype in the dead beat, the hated enemy of all grocers; the reckless ship-captains who sail at full speed at night without warning signals, stand for the grocers who, without benefit to themselves but to the danger of others, rashly "cut" all the profit out of prices; the knavish skippers who scuttle their vessels to get the insurance, are they not paralleled by the merchants who commit arson or swindle their creditors by means of bogus bills of sale, "crooked" assignments, etc.? Is there any real difference in importance between a leak at sea and a leak in the store? Are not manly courage, prudence, sagacity and energy needed to successfully conduct a business as well as to safely guide a fine vessel across the trackless ocean?

Thanks to the intelligence of young Americans, mutiny is a difficulty with which the average grocer is seldom bothered; usually his little crew work hard during long hours and for wages not at all extravagant, and though the vessel may possibly be uudermanned the work will, nevertheless, be well done.

Now, if the crew are loyal and the ship is well-provisioned and tight, what is to hinder the voyage being prosperous, if no unusual tempests, otherwise panics, meet the vessel in her course? Nothing, probably, unless the commander lacks the requisite qualities for a successful career or has not acquired the practical experience. Lack of experience is the principal cause of the failure of the younger class of grocers, and this want can be supplied during a subordinate career, if the would-be employer will use his opportunities.

SPEARING SMELT.

Smelt, writes our St. John, N.B., correspondent, are being speared on the north shore. One would think the fish too small, but a good man will make $2 per day. A small shanty with no windows is built over the ice with a hole in the floor. A hole in the ice is cut the same size. Then a square piece of white cotton is sunk by weights attached to the corners and held in position by cords. The fish, as they pass over it, can be plainly seen, and the larger ones are speared. The spear is of steel wire with a handle. There are two jaw-shaped springs between which is the spear. Three or four fish will fit in at one time. The fishermen are taxed 50c. per spear. This method was first used by the Indians, and afterwards by the French.

STORY OF A BUSHEL OF WHEAT.

A milling trade organ publishes the following description of the manner in which a bushel of wheat is made to bear a variety of profits:

1. The farmer lives on it—He raises it.
2. The shipper lives on it—He ships it.
3. The elevator man lives on it—He stores it.
4. The Board of Trade man lives on it—He sells it.
5. The miller lives on it—He mills it.
6. The flour dealer lives on it—He sells it.
7. The grocer lives on it—He sells it.
8. The consumer lives on it—He eats it.

They all buy and sell again at a profit except the last man, who pays all the profit the other seven have made.

The only criticism we feel inclined to make on the above, remarks Merchants' Review, is in reference to the seventh item. By far too many grocers sell flour by the barrel at 25 cents to 50 cents profit, barely paying cost of handling, therefore it is too much to say "the grocer lives on it."

The orange and lemon crop of Southern California this season is variously estimated from 9,000 to 11,000 carloads of 300 boxes each. Last season the shipments from Riverside and immediate vicinity alone amounted to nearly 3,000 carloads, of which only about 70 carloads were lemons.

HALIFAX TRADE GOSSIP.

AS IS usual during the week between Christmas and New Year's, trade is quiet in Halifax. In fact, dealers are enjoying the season as well as their customers. The weather continues mild and open, and is more like April than December.

The breadstuff markets have necessarily a holiday aspect, and yet, owing to the continued mild weather, trade has kept up in a wonderful way, and there is still something doing. The out-ports are all open, which enables the coasters to get back and forth. As far as prices are concerned, there is no change. Stocks are small, but ample for present requirements.

The flour trade during the year just closing was better than the previous year. It is too soon to prognosticate for next year.

The Refinery has put up granulated and yellow sugars a couple of fractions. This year has been one of the best for the Halifax refineries for some time.

Green fruit dealers are doing quite a trade. They report the past season a very good one.

All other lines remain quiet and unchanged.

The Nappan dairy station has 400 cheese ready for shipment to England.

F. H. Longley has been awarded the contract to supply the Victoria General Hospital, and W. A. Maling the Insane Asylum, with meat for one year. Dillon Bros. have the contract to supply both with butter and groceries.

Auld Bros. and Geo. H. Toombs, of Charlottetown, are shipping frozen smelts to Boston.

Wm. McDonald, for years on the road for the tea house of M. T. Foster, has accepted the maritime agency of Rawley & Davies, London.

An officious Inland Revenue official here has received a well-merited snub. Inspector Barrodale issued an order the other day for the benefit of Halifax merchants who have excise warehouses. The order insisted that all goods (liquors and tobaccos) must be placed in warehouse in such a manner as to call for two feet of clear space between each row of casks or boxes. This would necessitate double warehouse room. The department at Ottawa was communicated with, and on Monday Mr. Barrodale was called upon to revoke his order.

THE ENGLISH WAY.

There is a custom in England, as well as in many of the larger cities of Continental Europe, that could be followed with excellent results by the merchants and tradesmen of this country, says Journal of Commerce. When a person enters a shop in London, for instance, and selects an article he may desire, no matter what it is, and inquires the price, a certain sum is stated. If the buyer happens to have an account at the establishment and instructs the salesman to charge his purchase to him, he is politely informed that the price of the article is two or three pence higher than the first-named cost.

This system is followed in all the better mercantile establishments in the United Kingdom. The credit price is invariably a few pennies higher than the same article would be sold for spot cash. The reason for this is very simple and entirely proper. When a person buys a thing for cash the transaction is closed and there is no further expense involved to either party. When a person buys for credit, the item must be attended to by a bookkeeper, the services of a paid collector are brought into requisition for the bill, and the running expenses of the establishment wherein the trade took place are thus increased.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Mr. J. B. McRae, the popular representative of the Snow Drift Co., Brantford, Ont., for the eastern section of Ontario and Montreal, has been laid up for some time with a severe attack of pneumonia. His friends will be glad to hear he is now improving very rapidly.

Robert Maxwell, the well-known city traveler with Perkins, Ince & Co., has been a Benedict for twenty-five years. The other night he celebrated his "Silver Wedding" in becoming style, and a large number of friends were present to offer their congratulations.

MONTREAL BUSINESS MEN DID IT.

THE defeat of the Government candidate in Montreal Centre is the most significant rebuff this or any other Dominion Cabinet has received for many years. The school question may have been a factor; the tariff may have influenced some votes.

But the great factor which contributed to the defeat of the Government was the revolt of the business men of the city against an unbusiness-like and senile Cabinet.

The merchants of Montreal have been Conservative and are still Conservative, but the present Cabinet has proved so inimical to the business interests of Montreal in particular, and to those of the country in general, that, from a sense of self-preservation, they were compelled to vote against the party with which they had hitherto been hand in glove.

In every commercial centre in the Dominion there is a feeling of contempt of the most pronounced type against the present Cabinet. Men who are merchants by profession, and Conservatives in political sympathy, are humiliated because of the poor Cabinet material that is both bringing the country into bad odor and dragging the party to destruction. And, like those who were never anything else, they are out of sympathy with the party.

In Montreal, this peculiarity is probably more pronounced than in any other city. And naturally so, for there, in its action towards the business men, the incapacity of the Cabinet has been revealed in its essence.

For nearly three years the port—the most important in the country—has been without a collector. And all the satisfaction the business men of the city could get, through memorials sent by the Board of Trade, was that the position would be "filled as soon as possible." Representations by deputations headed by such men as Mr. Laporte, of Laporte, Martin & Cie., regarding measures for the better carrying out of the French Treaty, have been treated with silent contempt, while letters regarding departmental matters have either been unanswered or only answered after an unreasonable time had elapsed. Then, among other things, there have been petty, annoying, and iniquitous Customs regulations to stir up the antipathy of the business men and transform them into enemies of the Administration.

The fact of the matter is the Cabinet lacks the common sense of the business man, the keenness of the politician, and even the natural quality of self-preservation. And under such conditions it is only natural that, from a sense of self-preservation, the business men of Montreal should desire to give it its quietus, or, at least, see it remodelled on a more businesslike and common-sense basis. That the Montreal merchants essayed to do this is evident from an analysis of the recent vote.

Centre Ward is the business ward of the city. In this ward, in 1891, the Liberals polled 234 votes and the Conservatives 357. In last week's contest the figures were 449 and 394 respectively. In other words, the Government's majority of 123 in 1891 was turned into a minority of 92 on the 24th ult. And the influence of the business men was not confined to the Centre Ward. But in the wards where they and their employes resided the same factors, adverse to the Government candidate, were at work.

THE CANADIAN GROCER is not concerned as to whether the Cabinet at Ottawa be composed of Liberals or Conservatives, but it is concerned a great deal as to whether that Cabinet be composed of statesmen, and men of experience and ability who have shown themselves capable of successfully managing their own business, instead of ward politicians of less than the average ability who have failed at everything they have undertaken, and have failed signally in the management of the departments over which they have presided.

It is more than eighteen months since we became firmly convinced that the present Cabinet took no interest in the affairs of the business men. We saw that the only way to bring them to a sense of their duty was persistent action and the united efforts of the Boards of Trade. Week after week since then we have hammered away at the subject. We have brought up grievance after grievance. Our articles have been republished in the daily and weekly newspapers all over Canada. There has thus been a continuous fire. In consequence, the Government issued orders to the departments that in future no Government advertisements were to be inserted in this paper.

We have done our best to arouse the business men. The result in Montreal shows that our efforts have been successful. The result in Jacques Cartier County, adjoining Montreal, in which there is a large business vote, is a further proof; a Liberal replacing a Conservative in that constituency this week.

The present conditions seem to be similar to what they were in the Mackenzie Government. The business men then asked Sir Richard Cartwright for a measure of protection. That gentleman told them in effect that he was running the country, and advised them to go home and mind their business. He had a big head. So have most members of the present Government. What the business men would like to see is a Government composed of the best men from both parties—that Government would carry the country.

THE CUSTOMS CONTROLLERSHIP.

NOW that the appointment of Hon. J. F. Wood to the Controllership of Customs is no longer a question, Saturday's Canada Gazette having announced the fact, the business men of the country are asking why, in appointing a Controller, a practical business man has been overlooked and a man of briefs selected for the position.

The reason is not far to seek. There are some men who do not know a harrow from a seed drill. The Cabinet is in a similar condition, the only difference being that it does not realize the fact that a man of business is one thing and a man of law or medicine another.

It is no wonder the business men of the country are surprised at the absurdity of the Cabinet appointing a lawyer to the Controllership of a purely business department, for they realize that were they to make the same indiscriminate appointments to the heads of their departments the sheriff would soon be in possession of their business.

Col. Prior, who has been taken into the Cabinet and placed at the head of the Inland Revenue Department, is a practical and successful business man. He, or some other business man, should have been given the Controllership of Customs. And while the business men have not one word to say against Mr. Wood, they have a great deal to say against the Government for making him, instead of Col. Prior, Controller of Customs.

The reason the Government advanced Mr. Wood to the Customs Department was undoubtedly that he had greater influence with the Cabinet than Col. Prior, and Mr. Wood was no doubt equally willing to take the position, for the Customs Department would afford him more opportunities for awarding his friends easy offices, and thereby, of course, increasing his power. This is, of course, the gauge that is used to ascertain a Cabinet Minster's ability. But it is none the less a reprehensible one, and one which the people of this country should frown down, and fortunately they are beginning to frown it down.

THE RATE ON "DROP" LETTERS.

A FEW days ago a man was arraigned before a Montreal magistrate and fined for delivering letters in that city.

This is quite in accordance with the Postal Act of the country. Clause 34 of that Act declares that the "Postmaster-General shall have sole and exclusive privileges of conveying, receiving, collecting, sending and delivering letters within Canada." And the same clause further declares that any one "conveying, delivering," etc., letters unlawfully "shall for each and every letter so unlawfully conveyed or undertaken incur a penalty not exceeding $20."

The same clause also cites certain conditions under which letters can be carried or delivered by private persons, viz.: letters by private friends; letters sent by messenger on purposes concerning the private affairs of the sender or receiver; commission writs; letters addressed to places out of Canada and sent by sea and by private vessel; letters brought into Canada and immediately posted at the nearest post office. But it is specifically laid down that no person shall "collect any such excepted letters for the purpose of sending or conveying them.

Briefly, then, while the law permits a firm sending its clerk out to deliver its private letters, it prohibits a firm from establishing itself as an agency for collecting, conveying or delivering letters.

With the law itself THE CANADIAN GROCER has no exception to take. It is perfectly right that the Postmaster General should monopolize the work of collecting and delivering letters. In fact we do not think we would look with disfavor upon a proposition for the Postal Department to monopolize the delivery of newspapers as well as letters.

The only point where we take issue with the Postal Department is in regard to the manner in which it takes advantage of its power of monopoly to unnecessarily tax the business men of the country.

We refer particularly to the postage on "drop" letters—letters for local delivery.

When it is found necessary to increase the burdens of the people, it is usually the business men of the country that are selected to bear the heavy end. And the Dominion Government is not alone in this respect; the Provincial Governments are quite able to do this same thing. The recent business tax in Montreal demonstrates that.

When, some six or seven years ago, the Postal Department undertook to raise more revenue, it was decided to increase the rate for the delivery of local letters by 100 per cent., and the registration rate by 150 per cent. There is no gainsaying that the burden of this fell largely upon the mercantile men. And the fact that since these increases were made the Boards of Trade in different parts of the Dominion have repeatedly, though ineffectually, urged upon the Department the necessity of lightening these burdens still further exemplifies it.

The reason assigned for increasing the rate on the drop letters was that the Department could not afford to deliver them for two cents, and for increasing the rate 150 per cent. on registered letters, greater efficiency was promised. As for any improvement that has been made, we fail to see where it has materialized. We know from the Postal Department's own report that in 1894 there were 222 cases of abstraction from, or total loss of, registered letters, against 149 the previous year—an increase of 73.

True, the Postal Department does not pay its way. Last year the deficit was $707,920, against $647,690 in 1893 and $663 375 in 1892.

But deficits are not, as a rule, turned into surpluses by an inordinate tax upon the revenue producers in a free country. And notwithstanding the commercial growth of the last ten years, there has been a diminution in the number of registered letters, there being nearly a quarter-million less in 1894 than in 1885, while just about the time the extra rate was put on, the number which passed through the mails was nearly half a million more than in 1894. Last year the registered letters carried through the mails averaged 60 per head of population, against 64 in 1893.

The sum and substance of the whole matter is not that the Postal Department is insufficiently paid for the letters it carries: the cause of the trouble is that the Department is not run close enough to business principles. The Postmaster-General's report of last year shows that no less than 4,925,500 letters were carried free, or about five out of every one hundred letters delivered. Then thousands of dollars are annually lost through the abuse of the newspaper delivery system. Every year untold numbers of papers that are advertising fakes of the worst kind have free use of the mails in direct contradistinction of the regulations of the department.

But where the greatest saving would be entailed would undoubtedly be in the running expenses of the department. At present the expenditure is 88c. per head of population, against a revenue of 74c. per head. The franking or free delivery system should be done away with altogether except in so far as it relates to mail matter purely belonging to the Department. The other departments in the governmental system should pay postage, and postage should be charged on letters particularly sent out by, or received by, members of Parliament. Then, there are those in the service of the Department whose heaviest work is the drawing of their salaries. They should be dispensed with.

Put a practical business man with force of character at the head of the department, and we should soon have cheaper local and registered letter rates without in the slightest degree crippling the revenue. At any rate, when private individuals are willing to deliver "drop" letters fifty per cent. below the rate now obtaining, the Department ought to be able to do so. If it cannot, it should surrender the monopoly it now enjoys, for it has no right to a monopoly that unnecessarily burdens the business interests of the country.

HOW TO SAVE ONE DOLLAR.

There are hundreds of general merchants who are subscribers to THE CANADIAN GROCER who should be subscribers to The Dry Goods Review as well. This latter paper contains as much valuable information as the former. Each number is profusely illustrated, and contains valuable pointers on new goods, bargains, window dressing, store management, etc. We club the two papers for Three Dollars a year. Please send in One Dollar while you have it in mind, and begin with the first issue of 1896. Here is one firm's idea of The Review:

> The Dry Goods Review has just come to hand, but we have not had time to do more than glance through it, but that was sufficient to show that we can get many pointers from it. Yours truly,

A LESSON IN POULTRY.

Time and again has THE CANADIAN GROCER urged prompt shipment of poultry. Had these suggestions been more generally acted upon better results would have been obtained during the holiday season than were experienced.

During the early part of the past week poultry was scarcely to be had for love or money. As a result quotations went away up, but as there were not many shipments on the market few were benefited by the higher values.

Close upon the advance in prices naturally came liberal supplies, and the concomitant of that was, of course, lower values. Tuesday night saw a drop of two cents per pound on the figures ruling in the morning. And Thursday saw a still weaker market.

THE MONTREAL COLLECTORSHIP.

The Government has at last filled the long vacant collectorship of Montreal, Mr. R. S. White being appointed to the position on the last day of the old year.

Had the office been filled three months ago Montreal Centre would not have gone against the Government by the majority it did on the 24th ult. And had the appointment been made six months ago it is possible that the constituency might have been saved to the Government.

Mr. White has managed with credit the newspaper of which he is at the head, and it is quite reasonable to suppose that he will make an acceptable collector of Customs.

SUGAR MARKET OF 1895.

THE sugar market of 1895 will stand out unique in the history of the trade.

Paradoxical as it may seem, it was a year which witnessed low prices and high prices, big profits and small profits, great promises and great disappointments.

When the year opened refiners' price for granulated, delivered in Toronto, was 3⅝c. per pound. This was about equal to 4.22c. to-day, with the extra half-cent per pound duty. About the middle of January the price declined one-eighth, bringing the quotation down to 3½c., or about equal to 4.10c. to day. Three and a half cents per pound was the lowest point granulated sugar had touched in the history of the country.

This price obtained till the middle of March, when it declined another eighth, again beating the record for lowness of quotation. And the end was not yet, for about the middle of the following month a further decline of one-sixteenth was recorded.

On the first day of May there was a slight recovery, the refiners making sales at 3⅜c. And less than a week afterwards they were demanding and obtaining 4c. per pound, the duty in the meantime having been increased from 64c. per 100 pounds to $1.14 per 100 pounds. As the increase in the duty was 50c. per 100 pounds, it will be seen that the advance in price was one-eighth cent per pound more than the amount of the duty. But this was warranted to some extent at least by the condition of the outside markets. A few days later another eighth of a cent wes added to the price.

The increase in the duty on sugar, it will be remembered, came as a surprise to the trade, and consequently the wholesale houses, as a rule, only held moderate stocks. There were exceptions, however, but these exceptions had laid in good stocks, not because they expected a change in the duty, but because they deemed the condition of the market warranted their anticipating their wants. Those who were thus fortunate, and even those who bought on the first advance after the increased duty was put on, made money. A profit of $3 per barrel was common.

Anticipating further material advances, there was some heavy buying of sugar for a while. The fever was caught by those other than grocers : jam and preserve manufacturers and householders, all anticipated their wants to an unusual extent. And this fact aggravated the trouble that developed later in the season.

The advances of May were well maintained till toward the end of July, when prices declined a sixteenth, but a few weeks later 4⅛c. per pound was again the refiners' figure. Towards the end of August, however, after a particularly heavy period of buying, the market again sagged. October saw the market stronger, with refiners' price at 4¼ to 4⅜c., delivered in Toronto. The demand during October was light, but prices were fairly firm. The latter part of November saw a little easier feeling, but the second week of December saw the development of a better feeling and an improvement in the demand. The end of the third week saw an advance of an eighth, and on the 30th, there was another gain of the same amount, making a total advance of a quarter cent per pound in less than a week. Refiners' prices to-day are 4½ to 4 9-16c., delivered in Toronto net cash.

Although a great deal of money was made by wholesalers, in May and June particularly, yet business during what is known as the purely sugar months was disappointing. The factors which induced this were, first, the heavy supplies left over from the speculative buying of May, and, secondly, the failure of the fruit crop, and the consequent haste of speculative holders to unload when they discovered that the market was going against them.

AN ADVANCE IN SUGAR.

REFINED sugar has been pointing to an advance for some time, and it will be no surprise to the trade generally that refiners in Montreal have marked up their prices ¼c. per lb. all round during the past week.

About a fortnight ago they put up the price of low grade refined yellows ⅛c. per lb., and it was then the general expectation that all grades up to granulated would follow suit.

The refiners, however, concluded not to make any change, but since then circumstances have forced them to alter their opinion.

In the first place, the price of refined sugar in Montreal has all along been below the parity with New York prices. That market advanced a short time ago, and the rise induced an active enquiry. This, with the position of affairs in Cuba, and the general tendency of the raw market, set wholesale grocers, jobbers and buyers generally, thinking whether it was not the time to buy. They concluded that it was, and the decision resulted in an active demand during the past eight or ten days at the refineries from buyers who wanted to get their orders placed before the advance.

As only one of the refineries has been running on short time, and as stocks of refined in first hands were small, it is not surprising, considering outside conditions, that the advance of this week was decided upon, all the more so as the demand still keeps up. In fact, still higher prices are looked for on Tuesday's basis at the refineries, which is as follows : Granulated, 250 barrel lots, 4⅜c. ; smaller lots, 4½c. ; yellows, 3½ to 4c.

In New York granulated is now quoted at 4 13-16c., or an advance of ⅜c., and large sales of 96 crystals are reported from that market at 3¾c.

Private cables from London were strong this week, and quoted beet at 11s. for December and January, f.o.b.

The feeling is spreading more and more that the Cuba crop will be very short. As to the beet crop in Europe contradictory estimates are given.

The London Grocer, one of the best authorities on the subject, has the following to say of the matter :

"To prove the truth of our assertions, we here append statements compiled by the several enumerators under the all-embracing title of 'popular estimates,' of the continental beet crops now being gathered, from which it will be seen that they differ to the extent of not only tens of thousands, but hundreds of thousands of tons from each other, viz. :

	Tons.
	First popular estimate.	Second ditto.	Third ditto.	Fourth ditto.
Germany	1,400,000 to 1,525,000	1,320,000	1,475,000	1,431,000
Austria	775,000 to 825,000	740,000	800,000	716,000
France	630,000 to 680,000	592,000	650,000	618,000
Russia	600,000 to 640,000	590,000	630,000	593,000
Belgium	220,000 to 245,000	207,000	225,000	210,000
Holland	85,000 to 95,000	108,000	90,000	102,000
Oth. countries	120,000 to 140,000	130,000	130,000	130,000
Totals	3,830,000 to 4,150,000	3,687,000	4,000,000	3,800,000

"Then we come to consider the weight of the 'visible supplies,' as the cane and beet sugars are termed that are in stock, afloat or available at various places, and these, we are told, are found to be more or less unreliable through certain mistakes having been detected in the totals representing the Cuban stocks, which, it appears, have been counted twice over, to the tune of about 270,000 tons ; and, what is more, these 'mistakes' are openly acknowledged to be such by their authors. Amid so much that is confusing and hard to reconcile in the present framework of statistics as a whole, it is not surprising that the home trade, in their doubts as to which is the safest course to pursue, act with extra caution and reserve at this juncture of events, and prefer waiting for what better chances of operating the future may unfold to them, rather than follow wherever speculators may choose to point."

THE OUTLOOK FOR BUTTER.

A fairly good quantity of butter has been going forward during the past few days, according to reports furnished by Toronto dealers, but the outlook is not considered roseate.

The disturbing element is the English market. During the past month that market has declined something like 40s. per 112 pounds.

It will be remembered that, when the fact became known that the dry season had affected the output in Australia and that Denmark would have a short supply, the price of butter advanced enormously. But this advance drew unusually heavy supplies from Canadian and United States ports, with the result that prices were eventually broken, and the market is still in an unsatisfactory condition.

MARKETS AND MARKET NOTES

ONTARIO MARKETS.

GROCERIES.

INTEREST during the past week has been centred in the sugar market. On Friday last the refineries marked prices up an eighth, and on Tuesday the operation was repeated, making a total gain of one-fourth of a cent per pound. At the advance there has been some good buying for this time of the year. Outside sugar, the grocery market has been dull and featureless. All the travelers, with one or two exceptions, remained in town on Monday and Tuesday. The exceptions who went out did not, it is said, get enough business to allow even the amount of the invoices to equal their expenses. Yesterday (Thursday) saw, however, most of the travelers filing stationwards with their "grips." And a week or so will probably see the wheels of commerce moving a little more briskly again. In the meantime the sample rooms present a deserted appearance, for most of the staffs are in the warerooms assisting in taking stock. The only commodity outside sugar that is receiving anything approaching attention is Ceylon tea, quite a few transactions in which have been received during the week.

CANNED GOODS.

The volume of business is still limited, and there is no change to note in prices. We quote: Tomatoes, 77½ to 85c.; corn, 75 to 85c.; peas, 90 to 95c. for ordinary; sifted, $1.05 to $1.10; extra sifted, $1.50 to $1.55; peaches, $2.90 to $3 for 3's, $1.90 to $2 for 2's; raspberries, $1.40 to $2.00; strawberries, $1.80 to $2.45, according to brand and quality; blackberries, $1.90 to $2.20; cherries, $2.40 to $2.45; apples, 3's, 85 to 90c.; gallons, $1.90 to 2.25; salmon, "Horseshoe," $1.35 to $1.40; "Maple Leaf," $1.35; "Lion," $1.35; Lowe Inlet, $1.27 to $1.30, in tall tins; cohoes, $1.10 to $1.20; canned mackerel, $1.10 to $1.20; lobsters, $1.80 to $2.10, for tall tins; flats, $2.35 to $2.65; half tins, $1.45 to $1.50; Canadian canned beef, 1's, $1.40 to $1.50; 2's, $2.40 to $2.55; 6's, $7.75 to $8.25; 14's, $16 to $18.

COFFEE.

There has been a fair demand for green coffees, particularly Rios, although a fair quantity of Javas and Mochas have gone out on city account. We quote green in bags: Rio, 19 to 21c.; East Indian, 27 to 30c.; South American, 21 to 23c.; Santos, 19 to 22½c.; Java, 30 to 33c.; Mocha, 33 to 35c.; Maracaibo, 21 to 23c.; Jamaica, 21 to 25c.

SUGAR.

The sugar market has been characterized by a great deal of strength during the past week. In sympathy with the firmer feeling outside, prices on Friday last were advanced ⅛c. per lb. by the Canadian refiners, and four days later (Tuesday) they repeated the dose, making the total gain ¼c. per lb. Being stock-taking time, most of the local wholesalers are caught with light stocks. Considering the season, there has been a good deal of buying during the past week or ten days, both of carload and small lots. The ruling idea for granulated is now 4⅝c. per lb., although 4⅛ to 4⅝c. may be given as the range. For yellows the lowest idea appears to be about 3⅜c.

SYRUPS.

There is not much doing and stocks are light. We quote: Dark, 30 to 32c.; medium, 33 to 35c.; bright, 40 to 42c.

MOLASSES.

The demand continues to be limited. A Halifax firm has been offering 3 carloads of West India molasses on the local market during the week, but no transactions are reported. We quote: New Orleans, barrels, 25 to 32c.; half-barrels, 33½ to 35c.; Barbadoes, barels, 31 to 35c.; half-barrels, 33 to 37c.

SPICES.

Nutmegs are about 1s. easier, but the local market remains unchanged. Cream of tartar is 5s. 6d. dearer in the primary markets and the feeling is stronger locally in consequence. The spice trade continues fair for the season. We quote: Pure black pepper, 10 to 12c.; pure white, 18 to 25c.; pure Jamaica ginger, 23 to 25c.; cloves, 15 to 20c.; pure mixed spice, 25 to 30c.; cream of tartar, French, 25 to 27c.; ditto, best, 28 to 30c. per lb; allspice, 14 to 18c.

NUTS.

There are no Brazilian nuts to be had on the street. Shipments of Bordeaux and Grenoble walnuts have been received during the week. Trade is quiet. We quote as follows: Brazil nuts, 14 to 15c.; Sicily shelled almonds, 25 to 26c.; Tarragona almonds, 14 to 14½c.; peanuts, 10 to 12c. for roasted, and 7 to 10c. for green; cocoanuts, $4.50 to $5 per sack; Grenoble walnuts, 12 to 12½c. Marbot walnuts, 11 to 12c.; Bordeaux walnuts, 9c.; Sicily filberts, 8 to 10c. for sacks and 10½ to 11c. for small lots; pecans, 10½ to 11c.

TEAS.

There have been some continued heavy purchases of Ceylon tea in the lower grades, and there have been some transactions in fine grades of the same growth. Young Hysons are now in plentiful supply, and relatively are showing better value than Japan teas. China blacks are neglected. In London, England, a good demand is reported for fine liquoring Ceylon teas up to 1s., and Indian teas for a price. We quote ruling prices to retailers as follows: Young Hysons, 12 to 18c. for low grades, 24 to 27c. for mediums, and 30 to 45c. for high grades; China Congous, 14 to 18c. for mediums, and 25 to 55c. for high grades; Japans, 15 to 20c. for mediums, 28 to 35c. for high grades; Indians and Ceylons, 18 to 22c. for mediums, and 30 to 65c. for high grades.

DRIED FRUITS.

Valencia raisins are quiet and unchanged. We quote: Off-stalk, 4½ to 4¾c.; fine off-stalk, 5 to 5½c.; selected, 6 to 6¼c.; layers, 6½c.

Nothing new has developed in currants either in regard to business or prices. We quote: Provincials, 3¾ to 4c. in bbls.; Fine Filiatras, in barrels, 4¼ to 4½c.; ditto, half-barrels, 4¼ to 4¾c.; ditto, half-cases, 4¾ to 5c.; Casalinas, cases, 5 to 5¼c.; Vostizzas, cases, 6 to 6½c.; ditto, half-cases, 6½ to 6¾c.; ditto, extra fine, 6¾ to 7¼c.; ditto, half-cases, 7¼ to 7½c.; Panaretas, in cases, 9c.

Malaga raisins are quiet and nominally unchanged. We quote: London layers, $1.85 to $1.90; black baskets, $2.50 to $2.75; blue baskets, $2.90 to $3; choice clusters, $3.25; Dehesa clusters, $3.75; Royal clusters, $4.25 to $4.50; Royal Buckingham clusters, $4.25; Non-Plus-Ultra and Royal Windsor, $6.

In Bosnia prunes the movement is insignificant. California prunes of the smaller sizes have been in better supply. We quote prunes: Bosnias, "Sphinx" brand, "A," 70-75 to lb., 9c.; "B," 80-85 to lb. 7¾c., "U," 110-115 to lb., 6½ to 6¾c.; California prunes, 40-50, 10 to 10½c. per lb.; 50-60 to box, 9½c. per lb.; 60-70 to box, 9c.; 70 80 to box, 8½c. per lb.; French, 5 to 6c.

California loose muscatels have been sold at about ¼c. below last week's quotation, but, it is claimed, prices were unnecessarily shaded. Some cheap California peaches have arrived on the market. They are showing good value, and several carloads have changed hands. We quote: Apricots, 13½ to 15c.; peaches, 10½ to 12½c.; pears, 10½ to 12½c.; plums, 6½c. for unpitted, and 12½c. for pitted; nectarines, 11 to 13c.; loose muscatels, 5½ to 6½c. per lb.

Sultana raisins are without change, business being quiet and prices steady at 5 to 5½c.

There is just an ordinary demand for figs. We quote: Eleme, 14 oz., 9 to 10½c.; 10 lb., 9½ to 12½c.; 12 lb., 12½c.; 28 lb., 15c.

GREEN FRUIT.

The demand for oranges, which was good during the holiday season, is now beginning to slacken off. Prices are lower. There is a good seasonable demand for lemons, the cheapness of this fruit having induced the demand. Malaga lemons have been cleaned out of the market. Business in cranberries has been rather better than usual the past few weeks, owing to the low price of poultry. We quote: Lemons—Messina, $3 to $4 per box; Oranges—Choice, $4.50; fancy, $5 to $5 50; California navels, $4 to $4 75; Valencias, 420's, $4 75 to $5; Jumbo's, 420's, $6.50 to $7; ditto, 714's, $5.50 to $6.50; Mexicans, $5 to $5.50 per box. Bananas, $1.40 to $2; cocoanuts, $3.50 to $4 a sack; apples, $1.50 to $3 a barrel; domestic grapes, in cases, 65 to 75c.; Malaga grapes, $5 to $7 per keg; pears, 40 to 50c.; domestic onions, 60 to 65c. per bag; Spanish onions, 50 to 65c. per small crate; sweet potatoes, $3 to $3.25 per bbl.; cranberries, $10 per bbl., and $3.50 per case; hickory nuts, $1.50 to $1.75 per bush.

BUTTER, CHEESE, POULTRY, EGGS.

BUTTER—The mild weather has induced more liberal receipts of butter, especially large rolls. A fair proportion of tub butter has also been coming forward, but the quality in most instances was poor, in consequence of which dealers satisfied their requirements with large rolls. We quote: Early summer dairy, store packed, 8 to 12c.; choice fresh packed, 15 to 16c.; large rolls, fresh, 15 to 16½c.; dairy pound prints, 16 to 18c. Fresh creamery—Tubs, 20 to 21c.; do., pound prints, 21 to 22c. In creamery butter there is a plentiful supply coming forward, and stocks are accumulating, and dealers are looking for higher prices.

CHEESE—The export demand continues to improve, there being more enquiry on this account. Dealers are anticipating an active trade after the holiday season is well over. We quote: Summer make, 9c.; Sept. and Oct., 9½ to 10c.

EGGS—Receipts continue liberal, and prices are easier, although there has been no special quotable change. We quote: Late gathered, 16 to 17½c.; strictly new laid, 21 to 22c.; cold storage and held fresh, 14 to 15c.; pickled, 14 to 14½c.

POULTRY—The market during the past week has been the best of the season, but largely due to the want of supply. In this case, however, very few got any benefit, for when supplies became liberal, prices sagged. Turkeys were quoted as high as 11c. this week, but as we go to press prices are one to two cents per pound lower. We quote: Geese, 6 to 8c. per lb.; turkeys, 9 to 10c. per lb.; chickens, 25 to 50c. per pair; ducks, 50 to 80c. per pair.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

BEANS—There is little or no demand. We quote $1 to $1.15 per bushel.

DRIED APPLES—Are dull and easy at 4¾ to 5c.

EVAPORATED APPLES—Offerings are more liberal, and prices fractionally lower at 7 to 7¼c. per lb.

POTATOES—The market is even in a worse condition than before, carloads on track being quoted at 20c. per bush.

HONEY—Is quiet and unchanged. Strained brings 8 to 10c. per lb.; while combs go at $1.50 to $2 per doz.

PROVISIONS AND DRESSED HOGS.

The Christmas demand being over, the provision market has assumed a quiet condition, and quotations are lower in many instances. With the advent of more favorable weather, the offerings of dressed hogs are more liberal, and packers are again busy. They are now paying $4.50 for select weights, running from 110 to 240 lbs. For anything under these weights 25 to 50c. less is being paid.

SMOKED MEATS—Breakfast bacon, 10c.; rolls, 7 to 7¼c.; hams, large, 22 lbs. and over, 9c.; medium, 15 to 20 lbs., 10c.; small hams, 10c.; backs, 9 to 9½c.; picnic hams, 7c.; all meats out of pickle, 1c. less than above.

LARD—Pure Canadian, tierces, 7 to 7¾c.; tubs, 7¼ to 8c.; pails, 7¾ to 8c.

BARREL PORK—Canadian heavy mess, $13.50; Canadian short-cut, 14 to $14.50; clear shoulder mess, $12; shoulder mess, $11.50.

FISH.

Finnan haddies have been scarce, although some small lots have been arriving during the week. Oysters are firmer. Fish trade generally is quiet, as is usual at this season. We quote standards at $1.25, and selects $1.65. Fish are quoted as follows: Skinned and boned codfish, 6½c.; boneless fish, 3½ to 4c.; haddock, 5 to 6c.; Labrador herring, $3.25 to $3.50 per half barrel and $5.50 to $5.75 per barrel; Newfoundland herring, $2.50 per half barrel, and $4.50 to $4.75 per barrel; fresh water salt herring, $3 per barrel; blueback herring, 3c.; pike, 6 to 7c. per lb.; flitched cod, 5c.; finnan haddies, 6½c.; Digby herring, in bundles of 5 boxes, 11c.; ditto, lengthwise, 10c.; large halibut, 12 to 15c.; Restigouche salmon, 20 to 25c.;

British Columbia salmon, 13 to 14c.; mackerel, 20 to 25c.; steak cod, 6½ to 7c.; haddock, 5c.; black bass, 9 to 10½c. Fresh Lake Erie herring, $3 per 100; whitefish, 8 to 9c.; salmon trout, 7½ to 8c.; Lake Superior whitefish, 8c.

FLOUR AND FEED.

WHEAT—Deliveries have been light during the week. Quoted thus: White, 72c.; red, 67c.; goose, 53 to 54c. per bushel.

BARLEY—There have only been a few odd loads coming forward and prices rule higher than a week ago, namely: 37½ to 44c.

FLOUR—Is quiet; cars of 85 per cent. patents sold high freights west at $3.15, 90 per cent. patents at $3 west, and straight roller at $2.90 west.

BREAKFAST FOODS—Business is quiet, but an improvement is looked for shortly. We quote: Oatmeal, cornmeal and pot barley from 10 to 15c. lower; Standard oatmeal and rolled oats, $3.10 to $3.20; rolled wheat, $2.10 in 100 lb. barrels; cornmeal, $2.75; split peas, $3.25; pot barley, $3.25.

SALT.

The market is active at unchanged prices. The fact that the packers have been busier during the past week or ten days has stimulated the demand for salt. We quote at Toronto: In carload lots, $1 per barrel, and 60c. per sack; in less than carload lots, $1.05 per barrel and 65c. per sack. At the wells we quote: F.O.B. barrels, 70c.; sacks 50c. for points west of Toronto, and 45c. for Toronto and points east of Toronto.

HIDES, SKINS, WOOL AND TALLOW.

HIDES—Quiet and unchanged. Dealers are paying 5, 4 and 3c. respectively for Nos. 1, 2 and 3. Cured are nominal at 6¼c., trade being slow.

CALFSKINS—Are still quoted at 6½c. per lb.

SHEEPSKINS—Lambskins and shearlings are still quoted at 80c.

PETROLEUM.

The demand is fair and prices lower. We quote in 1 to 10 bbl. lots, imperial gallon, Toronto: Canadian, 16c.; carbon safety, 18c.; Canadian water white, 18c.; American water white, 21½c.; Pratt's Astral, 23c.

Warren Bros. & Boomer have in stock a line of new season's Bordeaux walnuts in 110-lb. sacks.

Ebenezer Roberts' table jellies, in all flavors, are in stock with Davidson & Hay.

Gunn, Flavelle & Co. report a continued increase in the demand for "Maple Leaf" lard and smoked meats.

In syrups and molasses Lucas Steele & Bristol are offering some special values. Their travelers have samples.

George Stanway & Co., brokers, Toronto, have removed to first floor over their late office, No. 46 Front street east.

Another carload of such scarce goods as shelled walnuts and Grenoble walnuts came to hand this week for Clemes Bros.

Dawson & Co. have a carload of Valencia oranges close at hand. They are also in receipt of 100 cases of finnan haddies.

McWilliam & Everist are in receipt of a carload each of Washington navels, Valencias, and Jamaica oranges, and a car of Jersey cranberries.

"In teas to retail at 25c. we never had such all-round values," say Lucas, Steele & Bristol. "Our blacks are particularly choice also in the half-dollar lines."

W. H. Gillard & Co. are large holders of Imperial plums, in 25 lb. boxes, in excellent condition, and merchants desiring a snap in this line should drop them a card.

The travelers of the Snow Drift Co. will start on the road Monday, January 6, to wait upon their much-esteemed friends throughout the year 1896. Thankful for the confidence of the past year, which has been the most successful in their history, they again ask the favors of the trade, which will have careful and prompt attention.

Half-barrels of A1 mackerel; also kitts, are to hand with Lucas, Steele & Bristol. They also have some choice British Columbia salmon to offer in half-barrels.

The enormous advertising the "Salada" Ceylon Tea Co. are doing is attracting a great deal of attention. P. C. Larkin & Co. say: "In advertising be sure you have the right article first, then don't spare printers' ink."

W. H. Gillard & Co. have some exceptional values in high-grade Young Hysons. The firm state they were particularly fortunate in getting in right, and that merchants desiring bargains should communicate with them.

A large consignment of Rio coffee has just been delivered to W. H. Gillard & Co., and having bought at an advantageous point of the market, the figures they are asking are low, considering the now advanced prices asked by first holders.

Clemes Bros. are in receipt of two cars of navel oranges, one car of bananas, one car of Valencia oranges and one car of choice evaporated peaches. The last named is direct from the Coast, and the fruit is in bags.

Warren Bros. & Boomer report that they have Arguimbau's off-stalk Valencia raisins, which they are offering at bargain prices; also half-cases of choice Patras currants and extra choice Vostizzas in cases and Panaretas in half-cases.

W. H. Gillard & Co. report that during 1895 their sales of standard black teas have reached larger proportions than even they anticipated, being 50 per cent. in advance of former years. This should be a fair indication of their value, and the above firm state they are at all times pleased to furnish samples for comparison with other blends.

QUEBEC MARKETS.

MONTREAL, Jan. 2, 1896.

GROCERIES.

THE most notable feature this week has been the strength of the sugar market, refiners having advanced their prices on Tuesday ¼c. per lb. all round. This advance has, to a certain extent, been anticipated in these columns, and such traders who took advantage of the tip and placed their orders are better off by ¼c. per lb. At this writing the refineries are experiencing an active demand for both prompt and future delivery, but are not disposed to operate ahead. The volume of trade in other lines has been of a seasonable character, and values generally have a firm tendency, especially so in the case of dried fruits.

SUGAR.

The demand that refiners have experienced from jobbers for refined sugar for future account has continued and has led the latter to advance their price ¼c. per lb. all round. Jobbers have not, at this writing, fixed their prices here, as the refiners only put up prices on Tuesday morning. They are certain to ask a proportionate advance, however, especially as the retailers by their desire to place orders for future delivery seem to be fully awake to the stronger tone of the market. We quote prices nominal for jobbing lots, but refiners are getting 4⅜ to 4½c. for granulated, and 3½ to 4c. for yellows.

SYRUPS.

There is no change in syrups, which have only been moderately enquired for. Prices are unchanged at 1⅞ to 2½c., as to grade.

MOLASSES.

A moderate jobbing trade is passing in Barbadoes and Porto Rico goods. We quote: Barbadoes, 36 to 37c., and Port Rico, 34 to 35c.

RICE.

The rice market continues quiet and unchanged.

SPICES.

There is not much doing in spices, and though primary markets report weakness in some cases, values in a jobbing way are steady and unchanged. We quote: Pure black pepper, 10 to 12c.; pure white, 18 to 25c.; pure Jamaica ginger, 23 to 25c.; cloves, 15 to 20c.; pure mixed spice, 25 to 30c.; cream of tartar, French, 25 to 27c.; ditto, best, 28 to 30c. per lb.

COFFEE.

There is no change in the coffee market, a fair jobbing demand being noted by the local roasters. We quote green in bags : Maracaibo, 20 to 21c.; Rio, 19 to 20c.; Java, 28c.; Jamaica, 20 to 21c., and Mocha, 32c. The easier feeling in New York noted last week has not influenced this market as yet.

TEAS.

Very little change is to note in the tea market, there being little or nothing doing in a large way between houses, and only a moderate distributing trade on local account. For round lots of Japans, we hear of 15½ to 18½c. as a range, while a fair enquiry is noted for Moyune Young Hysons and Ceylons, ranging all the way from 25 to 30c. We quote Japans : Low grades, 14c. ; medium, 15 to 18c.; fine, 20 to 22c., and choice, 25 to 32c.

DRIED FRUIT.

The Valencia raisin market has not presented any notable activity, and no large business is noted, while the movement in a jobbing way is quiet. Layers and selected have been the fruit most asked for the small hand-to-mouth demand experienced during the week. We quote : Ordinary off-stalk, 4¼ to 4½c. ; fine off-stalk, 4¾ to 5c.; selected, 5½ to 5¾c., and layers, 6¼ to 6½c.

There have been further receipts of California raisins, but jobbers are still lightly supplied and values are firm, in fact, full values are easily obtained. We quote 3-crown rather firmer in consequence at 5½ to 6c., and 4-crown stiff at 7c.

Table fruits are quiet. We quote Malagas as follows: Extra loose muscatels, $1.40; Imperial London layers, $1.75; Imperial cabinets, $1.90 ; Connoisseur clusters, $2.20; extra dessert clusters, $3 ; Royal Buckingham clusters, $3.50.

Sultanas have been moving for actual wants to a fair extent. Prices are firm at 6 to 6½c., as to grade.

The currant market contiuues firm but quiet, and prices are unchanged. We quote: 3¾c. in barrels, 4 to 4¼c. in half-barrels, and 4½ to 4¾c. in half-cases.

The prune market is firm and prices strongly held. Supplies of French are becoming exhausted, and values are held strong in consequence, as stocks could not be replaced except at an advance. We quote : Bosnia prunes, 6 to 6½c.; French ordinary, 5½c.; do. plums, 10 to 14c., and California prunes, 9c.

There has been a moderate enquiry for figs at 9 to 10c. for ordinary and 14 to 17c. for fancy, as to box, etc.

Dates are held firm, old moving at 4½c., and new stock at 4½ to 5c., as to grade.

NUTS.

There has been a fair, seasonable trade in nuts. Almonds are firmer, if anything. We quote : Grenoble walnuts, 12 to 13c.; filberts, 7½ to 8c.; Tarragona almonds, 11½ to 12½c.; pecans, 9 to 14c., and shelled walnuts, 27 to 30c.

CANNED GOODS.

There is no change in the situation of the canned goods market. We quote: Lobsters, talls, $8 per case ; flats, $9 to $9.50 ; sardines, ordinary brands, $7 to $8.50; best brands, $9.50 to $10.50 ; salmon, $1.25 to $1.30 per doz.; tomatoes, 75 to 80c.; peaches, $2 to $2.25; corn, 85 to 90c.; marrowfat peas, 95c. to $1; strawberries, $2 to $2.25; raspberries, $1.75 to $2; green gages, $1.75 to $2; blue plums or damsons, $1.50 to $1.75; pineapples, $2 to $2.25 and 3-lb. apples, 80 to 85c.

WINES AND SPIRITS.

Wines and liquors continue quiet and unchanged, with no special feature to report.

GREEN FRUIT.

There has been a good active holiday jobbing trade in green fruit, oranges, lemons, in fact all kinds of fruit, selling well on local account, with a bare market at the close of the week.

ORANGES—All kinds of oranges here ruled active and firm, and fresh receipts of Messina, Jamaica and Valencia oranges, which arrived, showing fine condition, were a very short time on the market. We quote: Jamaica, $9 to $10 per barrel ; Valencia, $5 to $5.50 per box, and Messina, $3.

LEMONS—Have shown a somewhat softer tone, but prices do not show much change despite the sales at Boston and New York last week. We quote : $2 75 to $3.50 per box.

GRAPES—There has been a fair demand for grapes, Malaga stock moving well at $5 to $6.50 per keg as to grade.

CRANBERRIES—Continue active and firm at $10 to $10.50 per bbl. for Nova Scotian and $8 to $12 for Cape Cod.

APPLES—The apple market is about as last quoted. Green fruit are quiet, but there is a fair enquiry for evaporated and dried stock. We quote: Whole fruit, $2 to $5 per bbl. as to quality; dried, 4 to 4½c., and evaporated, 5½ to 6½c. per lb.

SPANISH ONIONS—Quiet and unchanged at 25 to 40c. per crate.

FISH.

There has been little doing in fish during the past week. We quote : Fresh haddock and cod at 3½ and 4c.; pickled No. 1 Labrador herrings at $5.25, No. 1 N.S. at $4.50, and ordinary grades $3 to $4 per bbl.; No. 2 Labrador salmon, $13 per bbl.; B. C. salmon $11 ; No. 1 lake trout, $4.25 to $4 50 per keg ; No. 1 green cod at $4.50 to $4.75 ; No. 2 at $3 to $3.10 ; No. 2 mackerel at $17.50 ; No. 1 pickled sardines at $4 50 per bbl. Dried and boneless cod, $4.25 to $4.50 per 100 lbs. for dried ; 5½ to 6c. per lb. for boneless ; 5c. per lb. for boneless haddock; 3¼c. per lb. for fish, and 11c. per lb. for shredded. Smoked haddies, 6½ to 7c. per lb., kippered herrings at $1.40 to $1.50 per box, Yarmouth and bay bloaters at 90c. per box, and smoked herrings at 8 to 10c. per lb.

DRESSED HOGS AND PROVISIONS.

The provision market has developed a weaker tone since our last. This is due to the continued slow demand, the liberal receipts of hogs, and the low prices ruling in the west. Recent sales of short cut clear have been made at $13, and mess at $13.50. In lard and smoked meats there were no changes. We quote : Canadian short cut, clear, $13; Canadian short cut, mess, $13.50; hams, city cured, per lb., 9 to 10c.; lard, Canadian, in pails, 8¼ to 8½c.; bacon, per lb., 9 to 10c.; lard, com. refined, per lb., 6¼ to 6½c.

Continued mild weather has demoralized the trade in hogs. Prices are easier at $4.50 to $4.60 in car lots, and $4.75 to $5 per 100 lbs. in a jobbing way.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

EGGS—There has been a demand for small lots of eggs. We quote : Boiling stock, 18 to 20c; Montreal limed, 14 to 15c.; western limed, 13½ to 14c., and held fresh, 13½ to 14c. per dozen.

BEANS — In beans business continues quiet and prices rule steady. We quote : Car lots of choice hand-picked at $1 to $1.05, and small quantities at $1.10 to $1.20.

POTATOES—The demand for potatoes was slow, and the market rules quiet, choice Early Rose being quoted at 40 to 45c. per bag.

POULTRY—There was no improvement in the poultry market on account of the continued mild weather. The offerings of stock in poor condition were large, and sales of such were at 3 to 5c. per lb. for turkeys ; 4 to 5c. for chickens, and 4c. for geese. Choice fresh killed turkeys sold at 7 to 7½c.; chickens, 6 to 6½c.; ducks, 7 to 7½., and geese, 5 to 5½c. per lb.

FLOUR, MEAL AND FEED.

There has been a weaker feeling in the flour market for Ontario grades, and prices are quoted 10 to 20c. per barrel lower all round. The demand is slow, and the market on the whole is dull. We quote : Winter wheat, $3.60 to $3.80 ; spring wheat, patents, $3 75 to $3.85; straight roller, $3.30 to $3.40; straight roller, bags, $1.60 to $1.65 ; extra, bags, $1.40 to $1.45 ; Manitoba strong bakers', $3.40 to $3.65.

In oatmeal the feeling is steady, but sales are slow. We quote : Standard, bbls., $3 to $3.10 ; granulated, bbls., $3 to $3.15; rolled oats, bbls., $3 to $3.15.

The demand for feed is slow and values are unchanged. We quote : Bran, $14 to $15; shorts, $15 to $16; mouillie, $19 to $20.

CHEESE AND BUTTER.

The close of last week brought more export enquiry for finest fall cheese. Holders were not urgent sellers, but several lots were put through at a range of 9 to 9¼c. This is a modification of the views expressed at the beginning of the month. It remains to be seen whether sellers will submit to further shading, or whether, once business is set in motion, they will not endeavor to secure a fraction more than current rates.

Local enquiry for fine, late-made creamery butter is fair, at a range of 19½ to 20c., but it is the only outlet offering at the moment. In dairy stock, trading is hard to discover, but a nominal range of 14 to 15c. is given on finest late-made creamery. Unless the shippers come into the market, of which there is no indication at present, little improvement on current prices is possible.

HAY.

The market is quiet and unchanged at $13 for No. 1 and $12 to $12.50 for No. 2.

NEW BRUNSWICK MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE CANADIAN GROCER.

ST. JOHN, N.B., Jan. 2, 1896.

THE Christmas Number of THE CANADIAN GROCER was much appreciated by the trade here. One feature has had particular interest to the grocery trade in the columns of THE GROCER lately. That is tea. And the articles which have appeared from time to time receive more than passing notice from the reader. This has been a quiet week. The chief matter of interest has been the strengthening in the sugar market. The weather is very warm, there being but little frost during the week. There is no snow at all. It is a great drawback to lumbermen in the woods.

SALT—Price keeps low. There is little demand at this season, and the larger part of that arriving is being put in store. A small quantity is expected to arrive by steamer from Liverpool this week. We quote: Coarse, 50 to 55c.; fine factory-filled, 95c. to $1.10; 5-lb. bags, $3.25 per bbl.; 10-lb. bags, $3 per bbl.; 20-lb. boxes, 20c.; 10-lb. boxes, 12c.; cartoons, $1.90 to $2 per doz.; dairy, bulk, $2.80 per bbl.; cheese, bulk, $2.70 per bbl.

OIL—Movement is much lighter, and there is nothing new. Prices remain unchanged. In returning barrels dealers would find it to their advantage to see they are in good order, particularly that all hoops are on. We quote: Best American, 23¼c.; best Canadian, 21½c.; prime, 19c. No charge for barrels.

CANNED GOODS—There is no stir. The past season has not seen as large a business as formerly, dealers finding they can buy about as low in the spring as fall. Stocks in the hands of the wholesalers here are fair, strawberries being, however, very scarce.

Oysters in Baltimore are quoted rather higher. The tone of the market here is firm. We quote as follows: Corn, 85 to 90c.; peas, 90 to 95c.; tomatoes, 90 to 95c.; corned beef, 2-lb. tins, $2.60 to $2.75; 1-lb. tins, $1.50 to $1.60; oysters, 2's, $2 to $2.25; 1's, $1.60 to $1.65; peaches, 3's, $2.85 to $2.90; 2's, $1.90 to $2; lobsters, $1.75 to $2; haddies, $1.40; salmon, $1 35 to $1.50; flat, $1.75; clams, $5.50 for 4 doz.; chowder, $3 for 2 doz.; scallops, $5.50 for 4 doz.; Digby chickens, $1; pineapples, $2.35; kippered herring, $1.10; American peaches, $2.40.

GREEN FRUIT—The holiday trade has been good. The mild weather has aided in the shipping of goods. Cranberries are high, which keeps down demand. West India oranges, owing to the number of bad now among them, have to be repacked, and are higher. There are also a good many small ones. Valencias are coming in in good order and are low. Apples are good value, and prices held firm. Stocks are light. We quote: Lemons, $4 to $4.50; West India oranges, $7 to $8 per bbl.; Malaga grapes, $5 to $6.50; Valencia oranges, $4 to $5; Pippins and winter fruit, $1.50 to $2.50; native cranberries, $8 per bbl.; Cape Cod do., $12 per bbl.

DRIED FRUIT—There is a quieter feeling now that the Christmas season is over. California prunes are here, both in boxes and bags. The price is, however, higher than for the French, which also have an advantage in duty when imported direct. London layers are rather easier, though late advices from California show rather an advance. In loose muscatels, while prices are easy, there is quite a range in quality, and all 3 cr. goods are not alike. The demand for cleaned currants has been particularly encouraging. There is also a better feeling in apples, and quite a number are moving. In dried apples the market is dull, and, as stated last week, Nova Scotia could likely be bought at 4c. The quantity of new French prunes here is very light. We quote: New Valencias, 5 to 6c.; new figs, 10 to 12c.; new 4-crown Cal. L. M. raisins, 6 to 7c.; new 3-crown Cal. L.M. raisins, 5½ to 6c.; keg prunes, 4c.; boxes, 4¾ to 6c.; new Cal. L. L. raisins, $1.50 to $1.75; new currants, bbls., 3¾ to 4c.; half-cases, 4 to 4½c.; new evaporated apples, 7 to 7½c.; dried apples, 5 to 6c.; dates, 4½ to 5c.; California evaporated peaches, 12 to 13c.; do. apricots, 12 to 14c.; do. pears, 12 to 13c.; clean currants, bulk 5 to 6½c.; 1-lb. cartoons, 7 to 7½c.; Canadian onions, $2 to $2.25 per bbl.; cocoanuts, $4 to $4.50 per 100; citron, 15 to 16c.; orange, 13 to 14c.; lemon, 12 to 13c.; Valencia layers, 6 to 6½c.

DAIRY PRODUCE—Movement during the week has been light. There is a dull feeling in butter. Stocks of medium grade are large, while for best there is a good business. Prices keep low. Creamery, both tubs and prints, is below last year's prices. In eggs there is slow sale, though fresh laid are being held at good figures. Case eggs are not much wanted. Cheese, though there are not large stocks, and but little through the country, does not gain strength, and demand is not large. We quote: Cheese, 8½ to 9c.; butter, 17 to 18c.; eggs, 17 to 19c.; fresh creamery prints, 23 to 24c.; tubs, 21 to 22c.

MOLASSES—Some Barbadoes which arrived by last steamer is not desirable stock. The stock of good quality here is light, but prices keep low. There are but few small packages, the principal thing being New Orleans, which, giving good satisfaction, finds steady demand. This is the first season it has been imported here. The trade are well satisfied with it. The demand for syrup continues good. We quote: Barbadoes, 30 to 33c.; St. Croix, 30 to 32c.; Porto Rico, 34 to 36c.; syrup, 35 to 38c.; Trinidad, 32 to 33c.; New Orleans, bbls., 35 to 36c.

SUGAR—There is but a fair movement at firm prices. We quote: Granulated, 4½ to 4⅝c.; yellow, 3½ to 3¾c.; Paris lump, 5¼ to 5½c.; powdered, 5¼ to 5½c.

FISH—The mild weather has much disappointed the trade, as it has prevented any movement in frozen fish, for which at this season there is always good demand. Two small cargoes have been in for some days, but, on account of warm weather, have not been able to unload. In dry, demand is good. Pickled are quiet, while smoked are still dull at the low prices. Hake, in which a good business is done with Cuba, is very dull. No doubt the war there affects business. There are fair stocks held here of extra dry fish. There is steady demand for boneless, and in bloaters and finnan haddies a good trade is being done. There is quite a range in shad. We quote: Medium cod, $3.25 to $3.50; large, $3.65 to $3.75; small, $2.25 to $2.50; pollock, $1.50; bay herring, $1.25 to $1.30; Grand Manan, $1.30 to $1.40; ripplings, $1.65 to $1.70; wolves, $1.90 to $2; Quoddy River, $2.75 to $3; smoked, 5 to 6c.; shad, half-bbl., pickled, $4.50 to $5; Canso, $5; halfs, $2.75; Shelburne, $2.75 to $3 per bbl.

PROVISIONS—There is light movement, and values remain low, with beef market rather low again this week. Smoked, though so low, finds but little sale. There is fair movement in lard. We quote: Domestic mess pork, $14 to $14.50; American, $13.50 to $14; clear pork, $15 to $15.50; beef, $13 to $14; pure lard, 8¾ to 9c.; compound lard, 8c.; rolls, 8c.; hams, 10½ to 12c.

FLOUR FEED AND MEAL.—There is fair movement, but, like all other lines at this season, there is nothing large. Then the weak state of the market works against large business. Ontario flour is, if anything, rather lower. Manitoba shows no change. In cornmeal the demand has dropped off, though price is quoted rather easier. Oatmeal and oats show no change. Hay is still firm, and shows strength. Very few Island oats are offering. We quote: Manitoba, $4.25 to $4.50; best Ontario, $3.95 to $4.00; medium, $3.85 to $3.90; oatmeal, $3 50 to $3.60; cornmeal, $2.30 to $2.35; handpicked beans, $1.20 to $1.25; prime, $1.10 to $1.15; split peas, $3 70; pot barley, $4.10 to $4.25; hay, $12 to $12.50; oats, 34 to 36c.; middlings, $19 to $20 on track; bran, $18.; buckwheat meal, domestic, $1.25 to $1.30; western, $1.75 to $2.

ST. JOHN NOTES.

Since Nov. 1st, the creameries of P. E. I. have made 30,000 pounds of butter.

Among the receipts here this week by rail were five cars raw cotton, and three cars broom corn.

Horton Township, N.S., exported this year 200,000 bushels of apples; last year it was about 300,000.

At Sackville this season, upwards of 4,000 bushels of Nova Scotia apples were landed for there and surrounding towns.

of American goods coming here for shipment. One day last week 137 manifests were entered at the Customs. This is the largest number ever entered here in one day.

St. John is to have a new wholesale drug house. The name is Canada Drug Co., Ltd.; capital, $100,000, of which $50,000 is paid up. The incorporators are: Wm. H. Murray, Samuel Hayward, James Kennedy, Charles T. Nevins and James W. Russel. These names represent some of our richest men.

C. & E. Macmichael have received some of the MacLaren Imperial cheese in the new jars. These jars are much handsomer than the ones before used. It is not necessary that the cheese should be any better.

While steamers bring coal here from Glasgow, Halifax is shipping coal to Liverpool. Similar conditions obtain in regard to lumber. A schooner is here unloading hardwood, from New York, to which port we are always sending lumber.

The regular line steamers are receiving all the freight here they can carry. There is one thing: if they are short of general cargo they can always get lumber.

The new pulp mill at Mill Cove, on the Miramichi, is to be first-class in every particular. It will use about eighty cords of wood a day.

From Mount Stewart, P. E. I., 60,000 bushels of potatoes and 20,000 bushels of oats were shipped this fall.

In connection with the article on the bark business of this province, which was in the Christmas number, it might be added that another reason why the trade is quiet is because manufacturers are moving from Massachusetts to New York and Pensylvania, where bark can be obtained, while in the former it could not. One shipper is sending forward some ten cars per day, having in hand some 10,000 cords.

Yarmouth County, N.S., did a large business in berries during the past season, shipping some 16,000 bushels of blueberries, valued at $32,000; also 4,000 bushels of strawberries and other small fruit to the value of $18,000.

A NEW INDUSTRY.

Mr. W. Munn, writes the Newfoundland correspondent of The Montreal Gazette, has been actively engaged this year in the manufacture of refined cod liver oil, and has succeeded in producing a splendid article, which competes successfully with the Norwegian oil. He employs the freezing process, which separates the stearine, and produces an article rich in medicinal properties, and much more palatable than the ordinary oil. Mr. Munn has rented large premises in St. John's, with the view of carrying on the business on an extended scale next year. Naturally, our oil is richer and finer than that of Norway, and, when manufactured on the improved plan, it will surpass the Norwegian article.

HOW IT WAS WORKED.

A DELEGATION of young men had been shown into the reception room of their employer's residence, and when his wife entered, all arose awkwardly and seemed ill at ease.

"We are employed at your husband's office," explained one of them at length.

"Indeed," she said, in some surprise. "I am very glad to see you; but to what am I indebted for this call?"

"Well," said the spokesman, plucking up a little courage, "we've been getting off at three o'clock Saturdays during the summer, and now we want to make it twelve or one o'clock if we can."

"The ball grounds are quite a distance away," put in one of the delegation.

"And we have to start early to get to the races," said another.

"Really, you must excuse me," said the mistress of the house, courteously but firmly, "I never interfere with my husband's business affairs."

"Oh, we don't want you to," protested two or three together.

"You see," said the spokesman, getting down to business again, "it's just this way: we want you to be kind and nice and pleasant to him for a few days, and then we'll go to him and ask him to—"

"Gentlemen!" she exclaimed haughtily.

"Might ask him to take you to the ball game," said one of the young men, noticing her manner.

"Or the races," added another.

"There is an inference, gentlemen—" she began, but the spokesman interrupted.

"Oh, I know all about it," he said; "I'm married myself. Things go wrong in the house, and you're tired and cross at breakfast. Then we suffer at the office. You stay up late to chaperon your daughter to a ball, and we have more trouble at the office. You're a bit cross three mornings in succession, for one reason or another, and we have a—a—terrible time at the office."

"I was discharged from an office once because my wife was cross the same morning that my boss was," exclaimed one young man. "I suppose our wives would have chatted pleasantly if they had met, but there was an explosion when we met. He was ugly about something, and I fired and he fired back. That's the way it goes now; and if you'd make it a point to be particularly agreeable and pleasant to him for—say, four days—"

"Yes, four days will do nicely," broke in the spokesman. "Then we'll go to him and everything will be all right. The fourth day you give him the best breakfast you can—everything that he likes best—and we'll get what we want in three minutes. Talk about a woman having no influence in business! Why, the humor she's in has more effect than a bank failure or a boom in trade.

She thought she ought to be angry, but instead, she laughed, agreed to the proposition, and four days later, when they waited on the head of the firm, he made the closing hour twelve o'clock, and said that never in the history of the firm had things run as satisfactorily as they had during the last four days.—Texas Siftings.

DISPLAY YOUR GOODS.

DISPLAY is a silent but very effective salesman—never absent for meals or on account of sickness, remarks The American Grocer. It adds nothing to salary account, very little to general expenses. Give display plenty of space and it will beat any other sales agent in the store. Recently the representative of a large manufacturer, upon entering a prominent retail store, noted a very fine display of their goods on the floor. He requested that it be removed and the goods exhibited upon the counters, in imposing array. This was done, and soon a customer, walking about, examined them with interest and ordered forty dollars' worth of preserves, of which there was a prominent display. Probably the customer did not have the goods purchased in mind until the eye was arrested, desire created and gratified.

We never found a grocery with too much floor area. The more that goods are spread out and displayed the more interest will be aroused with consumers to investigate and the quicker will be the demand. Piling goods several rows deep on shelves is not calculated to increase interest therein.

It is well in making a display to remember the Earl of Chesterfield's motto: "Whatever is worth doing at all is worth doing well." Let not a slight expense deter one from making an artistic display. If the establishment has no one possessed of a taste for arranging goods, then hire an expert, or else go and study displays that are effective, of which there are many.

No dry goods store or bric-a-brac shop has as varied an assortment of goods as the grocer, whose wares are of exquisite colors and lend themselves to decoration in a wonderful way. They are particularly adapted to giving the store a bright, cheerful holiday aspect that catches the eye of the passers by and sets them to advertising in a way which money cannot buy.

THE MIND RULES THE WORLD.

THE number of inventions that are being announced, and the numerous patents that are being issued daily, should be a lesson to old as well as young to be on the alert, on the move with eyes always open and ears ever receptive to catch an idea that, by saving time or by easily and adequately supplying the wants of man, may become an article of value to the world, says New Ideas. Edison, the greatest name in practical electricity, whose inventions have made him or will make him one of the wealthiest and most widely known men in the world, says : "Never look at the clock while at work." He has often sat in his darkened laboratory while working on one of his brain creations, probably the phonograph or kinetoscope, while his whole mental being, that wonderful something to which the body is but a shell, was so absorbed, so concentrated on the one subject, that he was utterly oblivious to the passing of time, and after many hours of such application he has come back again to the world, as it were, and found that he had been sitting from early morning until far into the night without having gone outside his door. As it has been with the father of the kinetoscope, so it has been with other great inventors. Everything must give way to the mind. Mind rules the world, and he who through sheer laziness or carelessness gradually loses the power to concentrate his mind, must not expect to retain a forward position in the procession of life, but must resign himself to one of those levels which separates man from the machine. So many persons who have work to perform go about it in a slip-shod, half-hearted way, more like a horse or an automaton, than a human being; conscious of the fact that they have to put in their time doing something, say from eight o'clock in the morning until six o'clock at night, they measure work done not by results, but by ticks of the clock. No matter how humble a man's occupation be ; no matter how much drudgery he be subjected to, no matter how much there be of a tiresome sameness in his work, still if he keeps his mental machinery well oiled and always in working trim there is ever a chance for him to strike upon an idea, simple at first, but which upon materialization and application may prove a boon to his fellow-men, and also may yield a fortune to himself. It is true there are some inventions that have been stumbled upon by mere chance, but the great majority have been made by those who have had their brains in working order, and who have not permitted themselves to become walled in from the world of progress by allowing their brains to become deadened from carelessness and non-application.

SUPPORT MR. WEISMILLER.

Commercial travelers who have been up in Huron County say that there is every probability that D. Weismiller, the Conservative candidate, will be returned to the House of Commons in the election to be held there shortly.

It is to be hoped he will be successful. He will take his place in a Parliament that is decidedly weak in business representatives.

From what we all saw of him at the conference of merchants and manufacturers held in Hamilton a few years ago, he will undoubtedly be a valuable acquisition to the House.

It is to be hoped that the business men of West Huron will cast aside politics and use their best efforts to elect Mr. Weismiller.

He has been an occasional contributor to these columns, and his views on questions affecting the trade—the retail trade especially—have always been sound, and consequently have been well received by business men in every part of Canada, who will be delighted to know of his probable success.

TREATMENT OF DRUMMERS.

A CHICAGO firm writes a contemporary as follows regarding treatment which should be accorded traveling salesmen :

A WORD FOR THE SALESMEN.

English buyers have a very systematic method of treating with salesmen who call upon them with a view to selling a bill of goods. They set apart a certain portion of the day or the week to the reception of the traveling man, when he can show his samples and make his little speech. To further expedite matters, these buyers, as a rule, ask their visitors if they are carrying any new goods, and if so they look over the samples of such, and buy or not, as suits them. Should it happen that the drummer has nothing novel, the buyer refers to a memorandum kept for the purpose to ascertain whether a replenishment of the stock is necessary, and, if needed, orders it at once without keeping his visitor waiting for a decision, as is so often done in this country. Then, again, our English friends allow out of town salesmen to call on them outside of the hours fixed for those who can conveniently abide by the rule. When the buyer is busily engaged he will immediately inform his caller of the fact, and appoint a meeting that will cause no inconvenience to himself or loss of money or time to the drummer. Best of all, the buyer is always very punctilious in keeping such engagements, and unless something unforeseen occurs, will never disappoint the salesman or keep him waiting. Doubtless there are many buyers in this country who are equally as punctual and methodical, but, from the number of letters sent us by road men, complaining of ill-treatment at the hands of the persons in question, we cannot help but feel that there is plenty of room for improvement in this respect.

SUGGESTIONS TO CRANKY BUYERS.

Cranky buyers, as a rule, are men of very little experience outside their own office and have no road experience whatever. This class of buyers do not consider the time of a salesman worth anything, while it is equally as valuable in proportion as theirs.

Buyers who are courteous, considering a salesman's time worth something, and accord him a hearing, let it be ever so short, will seven times out of ten buy goods cheaper and better than if they allowed the salesman to hang around for hours, and sometimes days, before affording him a hearing or a chance to see him in regard to his goods.

If a salesman has a job or inside deal of any kind he will never offer it to the cranky buyer or to the one who kept him hanging around for hours. The price of goods to such buyers generally advances according to the time the salesman has been waiting for an audience. These are facts, but many buyers don't know it.

It is just as easy for a buyer to tell a salesman at 8.30 Monday morning, after an interview of five minutes, that he does not wish any of his goods, as it is to say the same thing Thursday or Friday of the same week.

By so doing he affords the salesman an opportunity to make two or three other towns, and perhaps sell many bills, thus earning his salary and at the same time making money for the house he represents.

POLITENESS.

Politeness is one of the cheapest commodities in the world, and the buyer who dispenses it with a lavish hand is always sure to make friends among salesmen who are willing to aid him in every possible way. He will also be serving the best interests of his employer, who, as our correspondent points out, is always benefitted by dealing properly with the commercial traveler. The latter is but human and should not be looked upon as an interloper in any sense of the word, "Live and let live" should be the motto of all, as each is dependent on the other. Without making mutual concessions both will be sure to lose golden opportunities that can never be recalled.

KOOTENAY PETROLEUM DEPOSITS.

ONE of the various resources of East Kootenay waiting for development, says a correspondent of a contemporary in that district, is the petroleum found in the Flathead Valley in the southeastern portion of this district. This is a section of country but little known, and which is separated from the remainder of the district by a high range of mountains. The natural outlet of the valley is down the Flathead River into Montana, and the nearest railroad is the Great Northern. Some years ago attention was called to the section through the finding of crude oil in the possession of some Stony Indians, who annually hunted in this valley, and they were induced to show some miners were they obtained the oil, which they (the Indians) were in the habit of using as a medicine for complaints of all kinds. The surface indications are good, and two different qualities of oil have been obtained. On Kishneena Creek, a short distance north of the international boundary line, a black oil, similar to the Pennsylvania and Ohio oils, is found. But, on Sage Creek, some eight miles north, there is found an oil that is nearly pure, of a light yellow color, which will burn in a lamp as it comes from the ground. Close by, there is natural gas escaping from the bedrock, which burns freely on ignition. Some of this oil sent to the Geological Museum at Ottawa, caused considerable excitement and comment, and was pronounced a fraud on account of its purity. Dr. Selwyn, the head of the Department, made a special trip to the valley, and was surprised to find the oil genuine, and also that this oil was found in the Cambrian formation, which was something unknown, as all the oil fields hitherto discovered have been in the Trenton limestone. Directly due east of Sage Creek, and on the eastern slope of the main ridge of the Rocky Mountains, in Alberta Territory, there are plenty of surface indications of crude oil. And the finding of these indications over such a large area, and in the same formation, would go to show that there is a large oil field awaiting capital to develop it.

TRADE CHAT.

I. BRICKLES, 760 Queen street east, Toronto, has disposed, by auction, of his entire stock of fruits, candies, etc., as well as fittings, including show cases, glass jars, etc.

Mr. J. C. Stockwell, Danville, Que., has sold by auction his dry goods, etc., and will only keep drugs and groceries.

Retail grocers of Newcastle, Pa., have organized an association to protect themselves from non-paying debtors, and any person who trusts a blacklisted person will be fined $10.

The warehouse of the pottery works of Mr. F. S. Glass, of Pottersburg, near London, was totally destroyed by fire Saturday morning. The contents were also ruined. The building was valued at from $12,000 to to $13,000, and the stock at from $8,000 to $9,000. The building and contents were partially insured.

A number of the members of the Woodstock Fishing Club visited the preserve this week, and report that the trout in the breeding ponds are thriving.

Max. Wolfe, at London, has been fined $20 for an infringement of the Transient Traders' Act, he having opened up in the Forest City for the purpose of doing a fur trade during the holiday season.

In some parts of Ontario ploughing was in progress during Christmas week, which is most unusual.

The Department of Customs has refused the application of the proprietors of the Silver Creek trout ponds, Toronto, for free admission of speckled trout ova from the United States.

Mr. J. Dunfee reports that the demand for groceries, confectionery and fruits during the Christmas holidays at his store was about double what it was last year. They had to work late every night getting goods ready for the following day.—Guide, Port Hope.

The cheese buyers of Western Ontario have decided that in future all cheese will be purchased on the following condition as to weight : "That all cheese shall weigh at the time of delivery at the railway station or other point of delivery up beam at half a pound per box more than the weight marked on the box, and that no fractions of a pound shall be marked on the box."

CEYLON TEA

JAPAN TEA PLANTATIONS.

THE tea production of Japan, writes Y. Obayashi, of Tokyo, in American Grocer, amounts to 62,836,892 pounds, and this tea is grown on plantations scattered within the limit of 31 deg. 20 min. to 41 deg. 30 min. N. lat., namely, from Chiran of Kagoshima to Matsumaye of Hokkaido Though young buds can be plucked from the tea tree in the cold region as far as Hokkaido, yet it is an evidence of unnatural growth. The true limit of mercantile tree production may probably be 36 deg. 30 min. (the upper part of Ibaraki prefecture). In the upper region, or above 36 deg. 30 min., there are very few plantations, which only supply the local consumption and produce 2,047,486 pounds, or 3 per cent. of the entire production of Japan tea. In the middle part of the island there are three or four tea districts, of which the Uji region is the widest and most famous. Next to Uji is the Shidzuoka district, and next to that is the Sayama tract. In the Uji region there are Kyoto, Shiza, Nara and Miye, prefectures of large production. In the southern part there are found in abundant profusion wild tea bushes among the hills or forests. For those who would be more conversant in regard to the Japan tea districts I have grouped the tea districts according to latitude, as shown in the following table :

Plantations—	Production, lbs.	Per cent.
Above 34 d. 0 m. N. lat	41,529,153	16.0

According to this classification the Sayama tea belongs to the second group, and in the third there are Shidzuoka and Uji.

It is well known that the crop of tea per acre is very heavy, though the climate is colder than the regions of China or India. Every farmer knows how to cultivate tea with the aid of manure, but does not know how to get the best results without the manure. Every tea man knows that the tea leaves picked from the manured trees are rich in aroma and taste, but does not know how to produce fine tea from unmanured plantations. From a single acre there is sometimes obtained a crop of 2,083 pounds. The yield of the May and summer crops frequently amounts to 1,000 pounds in Shidzuoka, Uji, Miye, Sayama, etc. But as to the average it is far below, as shown in the following table :

	Tea Acreage.	Pounds per acre.
Average		417

I cannot but feel very sorry that your countrymen serve only inferior variety and cannot use the finest tea of Japan such as Japanese gentlemen consume. The American Consul at Amoy, about 1892, said that among Formosa Oolongs there is found tea of very high value, and also in Japan, where a pound of Gyokuro costing above $10 may be bought in the large cities of the empire.

THE CUBAN SUGAR CROP.

Special correspondence of Willett & Gray, writing upon Cuban crop prospects, says: "Regarding the total amount of our crop, in view of the general situation, and after a careful examination of all the data at hand, I have come to the conclusion that 500,000 tons seems at present to be the most conservative probable out-turn to our crop of 1895 96. At the same time there is but little doubt that due to all the present evils the crop will be a late one."

DO YOU WANT A LEAD PENCIL?

If you do, send to M. Masuret & Co., London, Ont., and no doubt they will send you one that will last a year. We have no authority to ask you to write for one, but as we want our readers to get all that is going, we assume the responsibility. If you write, put the blame on us. The pencil in question is about a foot long, half an inch thick, with a brass ring on one end.

A NEW INDUSTRY.

Mr. W. Munn, writes the Newfoundland correspondent of The Montreal Gazette, has been actively engaged this year in the manufacture of refined cod liver oil, and has succeeded in producing a splendid article, which competes successfully with the Norwegian oil. He employs the freezing process, which separates the stearine, and produces an article rich in medicinal properties, and much more palatable than the ordinary oil. Mr. Munn has rented large premises in St. John's, with the view of carrying on the business on an extended scale next year. Naturally, our oil is richer and finer than that of Norway, and, when manufactured on the improved plan, it will surpass the Norwegian article.

There is always a "best" in everything.

This time it is starch—Edwardsburg Starch. Anything we didn't know about making starch when we commenced business in 1858, we have since learned, and as we manufacture from nothing but purest selected corn we feel justified in calling our preparations "the best."

CONFIDENCE

in the merits of the goods you sell is an important element of success.

JOHNSTON'S FLUID BEEF

can always be sold with the most absolute guarantee that it is the best beef preparation. We will back you up in this statement to the fullest extent.

THE JOHNSTON FLUID BEEF CO. - MONTREAL.

To Our Customers

FROM OCEAN TO OCEAN

Another year has closed, and although we are rushed with orders as we never were before, we just want to use this space in THE CANADIAN GROCER to return our sincere thanks to our numerous customers for their past support. We will try and merit your favor in the future even more than in the past, by giving you good goods and fair dealing. We wish it were possible to shake hands with you and tell you all we feel ought to be said; but as this is impossible you will be kind enough to "take the will for the deed," and believe we are sincere when we say we are grateful for your past trade and are greedy enough to look for more in the future. We wish you, one and all, a big booming trade in 1896.

Yours very truly,

HENRY C. FORTIER

DROPS FROM THE EDITOR'S PEN.

An adder, but without a sting, is he who adds up accounts in an office.

The trade paper is a teacher to the clerk, a guide to the buyer, and a help-meet to the seller.

"C" stands for Ceylon, a very good tea that is knocking Old Harry out of a tea called Chinee.

Everything else may be shoved into a corner, but for ability there is always room in the world.

A regrettable fact is it that merchants who live beyond their incomes sometimes live beyond their time.

Food for consolation is the thought that failures of last year can be made the foundation of success this year.

Dr. Jameson, of South Africa fame, is evidently a bore, but still, the Boers have nothing in common with him.

Men without opinions will not develop enough energy to keep themselves warm, much more set the world on fire.

Progressive ideas that have been conceived with the New Year should be brought forth before they become addled.

Merchants who are the freest in giving credit are usually the ones who most quickly bring discredit upon themselves.

People who are always hunting for bargains sometimes get more than they bargain for—dissatisfaction instead of satisfaction.

Judging from the tone of the exchanges from there, people who have gone into mining in British Columbia have not got into a hole.

Most of us are full of contradistinctions: we are always prospecting for low priced goods, and yet when prices are low we are as pesky as an old maid who has just made her ninty-ninth and ineffectual attempt to entrap a man.

Clerks should not flirt with a business which is incompatible with them. Select a business that is compatible and then marry it.

Thought is the germ from which business men spring. Consequently, if thought be absent the merchant proper cannot be present.

He who does not know at least the rudiments of the art of advertising can scarcely be said to have mastered the details of his business.

The voice is not the goods nor the goods the voice, but the selling of the goods often depends upon the tone, if not the quality, of the voice.

Failures in life are due, not so much to over-competition as to the fact that men essay to be what nature never intended they should be.

How can a Cabinet that requires to be "schooled" in common sense be expected to deal intelligently with the Manitoba school question?

No footprints in the sands of time will he leave who finds time hanging so heavily on his hands that he wastes golden moments in trying to kill it.

If ten per cent. of what has been lost to the country through bad roads could be collected, we could construct roads good enough for the most fastidious.

By three fires last year Toronto lost $2,490,000. Let us hope that the only fire that will visit the "Queen City" in this year of grace will be the fire of business enthusiasm.

He who declares cash down shall be his business motto will need to keep up a great deal of courage if the motto is not to be like a clock with no tick.

An advertisement in a bright paper reflects the common sense of the advertiser, but an advertisement on a mirror reflects the lack of sense of the advertiser.

A trade contemporary talks about "The Coming Department Store." I thought the department store was here. What most merchants are interested in is the going department stores.

The Retail Grocers' Association of Jackson, Mich., is to hold a social, and it has decided to invite the retail grocers and their ladies, the clerks and their ladies and the wholesale grocers and their ladies. It is not three of a kind, but it is a winning triumvirate all the same.

I suppose the retail grocers of Chicago take butchers into their association in order that they may have a competent expert carver to disjoint departmental stores and divide the trade proportionately among the legitimate merchants of the "Windy City."

A Chicago paper has magnified into formidable warships, that could blow United States cities sky high, Canada's three little fishery protection steamers with their crew of half a dozen men that ply the upper lakes. If there is as much exaggeration regarding what the United States would do to Canada in the event of war, small indeed must be the injury that our neighbors can do this or any other country.

A Toronto news company is adding a line of package tea to its wares. The tea is named "Jungle," and a good many merchants will no doubt hope that the firm will get tangled up in it. But the firm in question, knowing that tea and news are companions at the breakfast table if not in the bed, no doubt anticipate the two will pull along together very nicely. We shall see.

A BUSINESS-LIKE VIEW.

HOW much more imagination influences some men than facts do is illustrated by a couple of resolutions, one in each branch of Congress, looking to an international conference of American nations to protect each other from European aggression. All South America buys of us only about $33,000,000 worth of merchandise in a year, while the British colonies alone buy more than double that; and the entire British Empire was our customer in 1894 to the enormous extent of $520,000,000, or about an even ten million dollars a week. Commercially speaking, South America is worth nothing to us in comparison with British markets. Of course, if our national safety and our free institutions, and our liberty of conscience were at stake, we ought cheerfully to repeat the formula of Patrick Henry and demand liberty or death, regardless of business. That our liberties are in no respect endangered we shall not take the trouble of arguing; if any one is dull enough to need argument on that head he is too dull to be reached by argument. No entangling alliances with foreign nations would be so dangerous to us as alliances with countries subject to political revolutions every two or three years, and most of them heavily indebted to Europeans who will some time or other insist on benig paid. This country has never undertaken to guarantee the defence of any South American state; it has indeed distinctly refused to, and it has limited its interference with their concerns to the extent of its own interests. Three of the South American states declined four years ago our reciprocity overtures; between Chili and Peru 15 years ago we interfered just enough to make Chili dislike us, and not enough to win the affection of Peru; most of these states are military dictatorships, and their markets are markets for manufactured goods which the gentlemen now in control of the House of Representative believe we cannot produce in competition with Europe; hence their desire for higher duties.—N.Y. Journal of Commerce.

THE WESTERN RANCHES.

F. S. Stimson, manager of the North-west Cattle Co., High River, N.W.T., is in Montreal. Chatting to a Herald reporter, Mr. Stimson said that the cattle shipments from the ranches were never better than this year. Over 20,000 head were shipped from the combined ranches this season, meaning an exchange of cash to the extent of $750,000. During the past summer over 10,000 young cattle were bought in Ontario for the purpose of feeding in the ranches, and for shipment in a few years. The ranch controlled by his company extends over 7,000 acres now, while a contract for 18,000 acres additional was recently made with the Government. The great trouble was that the Government charged too much for land that could be and would be utilized for stock raising, and which was no use for anything else. The new purchase of his company was at the rate of $1.25 per acre. At $1 an acre the land will be well sold, in fact, it would pay to take 50 cents an acre, so long as thrifty settlers were attracted.

CANNED GOODS IN THE STATES.

WITH the end of the year it is not to be expected that the consuming trade would show much interest in canned goods, and the reports from all producing and distributing centres of dull trade is only what might be expected at this season. When the present season opened there was not a large carry-over in any line, with the exception of tomatoes and corn, but the exceptionally low prices quoted on these caused an enlargement of the consuming outlet, and as the 1895 pack of nearly everything was short stocks in all hands were moderate. Packers and commission men have, it is said, already disposed of the bulk of the current season's pack of nearly all descriptions of fruits and vegetables, and there seems to be no accumulation of anything in first hands, with the possible exception of corn. Stocks of all kinds have filtered out slowly through jobbing channels, but at no time has the movement been of sufficient importance to warrant more than passing notice. Very little speculative interest in any line has been apparent since early in the season, and then there was no great show of interest on the part of those who sought to make investments.

Prices throughout the year have been low, but toward the close there have been marked evidences of improvement in everything on the list. In this connection a statement showing the opening, highest and lowest prices of the year in comparison with present quotations will be interesting, and we draw upon the statistics of prices just issued by Messrs. Thos. J. Meehan & Co., of Baltimore, for the following statement of the extreme fluctuations in prices of goods packed in Baltimore. The differences noted in these figures are about the same as in other sections. The following figures represent Baltimore prices, to which freight must be added to find the equivalent in New York.

—N. Y. Journal of Commerce.

THE DIFFERENCE WAS MARKED.

I passed two grocery stores the other day which illustrated very pertinently the difference between the different degrees of progressiveness possessed by two grocers, remarks a writer in Grocery World. These stores were almost adjoining, there being but a few stores between. Both of them had a good display of fruit and produce about the door. There was no difference in the display. One was about as good as the other. But one display was papered all over with neat signs, telling the price of the goods, and sometimes with just a word of praise or description. Every basket or box had a sign on, and the lettering was so large that it could easily be read across the street. The whole display had a strictly live, hustling, up-to-date appearance. The other display hadn't a single sign on. As I stated, the produce itself was just as good as the other man's, but it presented an entirely different appearance. That grocer missed a splendid advertising opportunity.

AN AD. HAS MANY LIVES.

The value of an advertisement, says the Music Trade Review, no matter how old, if once it has been committed to type, is very peculiarly shown in the experience of Frank Howe, son of the late historian. For many years the historian was a resident of Cincinnati, engaged in the publishing business. He was at that time a very liberal advertiser in the newspapers of the State, and received a very large mail. Thirty years have passed since then, and yet occasionally, to this day, letters addressed to Henry Howe, at his Cincinnati street and number, are received by his son in New York, and after having been forwarded from Cincinnati. In one of these letters the writer explained that he had just come across an old paper containing an advertisement of a book in which he was interested, and wrote at a venture to see if a copy could be secured. The newspaper had been packed away in some corner and had, after long disuse, found an interested eye. This and other instances of the kind show that it is impossible to tell how and when an advertiser will get returns. It is made equally apparent that the good offices of an advertisement in a newspaper are never ended till the paper is destroyed.

CEYLON'S TEA-SEED IMPORTS.

The Ceylon Observer says that, from statistics supplied by the Collector of Customs, it appears that over half a million pounds weight of tea seed was imported into Ceylon during the two years 1893 and 1894, viz., 324,000 lbs. in 1893, valued at 129,000 rupees, and 207,000 lbs. in 1894, a value of 200,000 rupees. The amount for 1895 will be considerably less. Up to September 19 last tea-seed to the value of 36,000 rupees only had been imported into Ceylon from the several ports of India.

THE REAL AND THE UNREAL BUSINESS PAPER.

By Nath'l C. Fowler, Jr., Doctor of Publicity, New York.

Imitation is the order of the day.

Imitators are everywhere.

The real and the unreal live side by side.

The good and the bad are neighbors.

There are trade papers which are trade papers.

There are trade papers which trade on the trade, and have nothing to trade with.

The profitable trade paper is very profitable.

First-class trade papers make money.

All first-class men are successful.

All honest men succeed.

Dishonest men try to, and sometimes do.

There are papers masquerading under the names of legitimate publications which are nothing more nor less than advertisements bound together in pamphlet form.

There are so-called trade papers which have no circulation, and which cannot get any circulation.

There are trade papers run by men who know nothing about the trnde they represent.

The popular impression that all trade papers are successful, has thrown upon the market numerous illegitimate publications which attempt to float on the water which has passed, and to sail by the wind of others.

A trade paper can be three-quarters advertising, and yet be a good trade paper.

A trade paper can be half clippings, and yet be a real trade paper.

The trade paper which is all sample copies is illegitimate—it has no right of existence.

The trade paper which is all clippings is not a real publication.

The trade paper which is all advertising cannot be classed in the first-class.

The trade paper which is a trade paper, is the paper which contains part advertising, part original matter, part clippings, and is of interest and benefit to its readers, and such a trade paper is obliged to have circulation.

The trade paper which contains nothing but puffs is not worthy of publication.

The trade paper which has all of its reading columns for sale, and which sells nearly all of its reading matter space, is worthless as an advertising medium.

The trade paper has a perfect right to print a paid notice. Every publication, excepting a few of the magazines, do that.

The trade paper can legitimately speak well of its advertisers—it ought to do that—the advertisers expect it.

The trade paper which speaks illy of those who do not advertise in its columns is a trade paper which has no standing, and which is worth little.

There are trade papers in the country which are nothing more or less than blackmailing sheets, which the Government ought not to transmit through the mails, and which are a detriment to the trade they represent, and to the honesty of the craft.

The legitimate trade paper, the trade paper of character, and the trade paper which pays the advertiser, is the trade paper which carries a large amount of advertising, for such advertising is as valuable to the reader as the reading columns themselves, for these pages of advertisements present pictures of progress, and tell buyers what the to buy as well as where to buy.

The legitimate trade paper contains a reasonable amount of reading matter, part of it original and part of it copied.

The legitimate trade paper balances its advertising with its reading matter, and its reading matter with its advertising.

It prints legitimate reading notices.

It speaks well of its advertisers, but it is not a paper of puffs—it is a paper of news and comment, simply the right combination of all that which makes up a first-class publication.

Beware of the trade paper which has a different rate for every advertiser.

Look out for the trade paper which does not stand on its own dignity and say to the advertiser, "My space is merchandise. If you want it, you must buy it as you buy your clothes or your shoes."

Look out for the trade paper which has a "Seeing-it's-you" concession for everybody.

Look out for the trade paper which puffs everybody indiscriminately.

The trade paper can be known by the quality of its representatives.

First-class advertising men work for first-class papers.

Second-class advertising men work for second-class papers.

The representative of the legitimate trade paper is a gentleman—a man worthy of your confidence—when he calls he is entitled to your consideration, and should be given an audience.

It is your business to discourage the illegitimate trade paper.

It is your business to encourage, with your money and your interest, the trade paper of character, for such a paper is as much a part of your business, and is as necessary to your business, as your desks and your counters.

UNIQUE WAY OF TAKING STOCK.

Mr. John Mouat, of Winnipeg, sends us the following: Apropos your seasonable article on "Stock-taking" in THE GROCER of 20th ult., reminds me of how an old shop keeper in a country town in Scotland took his stock and struck his balance. When the time came he started off thus:

"Noo lads, steek the door, and let's get oor stock-takin' ower before onybody comes in to bother us."

With a business-like air he began looking up the first row of shelving with the remark: "Weel, there's as muckle stock there as pay McDonald & Co.," eyeing each row of shelves in succession. "And there's as muckle there as will square Fraser & Co., and as muckle there as will stand for Cameron & Co., and they twa or three shelves there will cover the few wee accounts due and a' the rest's my ain. Noo, boys, come up and hae your supper wi' me."

If some of our merchants would even take their stock in this off-hand way, it would be much better than none at all.

TRADE CHAT.

WILLIAM THOMAS HODGENS, oil merchant, of London, Ont., was united in marriage the other day to Miss Ida Gwendolyn Owen, youngest daughter of Mr. L. Wade Owen, of the same city.

R. H. Smith, the well-known aparian, St. Thomas, has bought the grocery business at 125 Ross street, that place, lately carried on by Mr. McA. Anderson.

A general store at Brookholm, a suburb of Owen Sound, owned by Chas. Lethbridge, was destroyed by fire on the 3rd inst. Loss about $2,000 ; stock insured for $900.

Messrs. Halstead & Scott, bankers, have closed their bank in Wingham. Mr. Smith, their former agent, intends carrying on the banking business on his own responsibility.

James Proctor, one of the most popular auctioneers in the county of Perth, died in Stratford Thursday morning. He was born in Sault Ste. Marie, and was 43 years of age. He had lived in Stratford for 25 years.

Wheat is going east via the Canadian Pacific on an average of 140 cars a day. The interior elevators are being relieved and the Fort William elevators contain nearly 3,000,000 bushels.

A press despatch from Chatham on Jan. 3, says : The city is full of pork, farmers from all over this district bringing it in in immense loads. More than 2,000 carcases were delivered to-day. The price is $4.35, with an upward tendency.

The British Board of Trade returns for December show an increase in imports of £3,900.000 and an increase in exports of £1,680,000 during that month, as compared with December, 1894.

Mr. J. Brodie, proprietor of the Mapleton cheese factory, has his creamery still in operation, and is making over a thousand pounds of butter a week. It has been all contracted for, by a London firm, at 20c. per pound.—St. Thomas Times.

The City Travelers' Association of Toronto have elected the following officers : R. M. Corrie, president ; W. F. Daniels, G. B. Curran, vice-presidents ; R. W. Cherry, secretary ; James Mortimer, treasurer; J. F. Smythe, chaplain; T. Holman, marshal.

The exports from Winnipeg during the past month showed a wonderful increase over the same month in 1894. The figures are : 1894, $98,376 ; 1895, $628,989. The exportation of wheat to Duluth was the cause of the increase. Wheat, fish and furs, are the chief exports from Canada.—Free Press, Winnipeg.

Olive culture in California seems to be making great strides. It is reported that over 800,000 trees have been planted this year and that it is expected that at least a million more will be set out next year. The total area in olive orchards in California is stated to be 21,000 acres. Last year's crop was valued at $160,000.

Mr. John P. Macdonald, one of Stratford's most prominent business men, is dead, aged 68. Deceased settled in Stratford in 1876. For years he was the senior member of a big milling firm. In 1892 he became manager of the North American Mill Building Co., but he had to retire two years later on account of ill-health. Mr. Macdonald had served several times as an alderman, and had also occupied the position of president of the Board of Trade.

THE PROPOSED MERCHANTS' CONVENTION.

IT is to be hoped that the different business men's associations throughout the country will second the efforts of the Retail Grocers' Association of London to hold a convention some time during the summer months.

The business men of this country are badly in need of affinity. No community of merchants needs it more.

What local associations the country can boast of are, as a rule, but poor sickly things, owing to the chronic apathy which afflicts their members. And while two associations will occasionally correspond upon some question of interest to both, yet, as a rule, the one does not half the time know whether the other is dead or alive.

The immediate result of the proposed convention may not be the creation of a provincial association. But immediate results would be obtained in the formation of acquaintanceships, the interchange of ideas regarding the actual management of business, and the interchange of ideas as to the best methods to be adopted to remedy the evils in trade, particularly those which depend on action from within and not from without.

While each business man of the country remains wrapped up in himself, or each of the few associations there are make no common cause with the others, their interests will continue to be subservient to other interests, united, but incomparably less important.

The greatest evils that menace trade to-day are created by factors within and not without. Legislation cannot remove them. But merchants themselves can if they will sink petty jealousies and act in unison.

Let the convention be held if no organic union results therefrom. Sympathies will be excited and united at any rate. The more tangible union will come by-and-bye; and the oftener there is a fraternization the sooner will the desideratum be obtained.

As things exist to-day the merchants of the country are, like the sons of Noah, trying to build a tower into which they can enter for safety from floods present and floods prospective, but their structure makes no headway because of the confusion which comes of disunion and mistrust.

GLEAM OF HOPE IN POTATOES.

WHILE the potato market continues in the same dull and unsatisfactory condition, there are not wanting those who see daylight ahead. And they are basing their expectations on their experience with the market eleven years ago.

In the spring of 1885 the conditions were even worse than they are to-day. In May of that year farmers were selling their potatoes to shippers at ten cents per bushel, and were glad to get it. The crop the preceding year had been, like it was last year, enormous. Producers could not find a market for a large proportion of their tubers, and consequently farmers' cellars became overfilled. With the outlook so unsatisfactory, farmers naturally did not give that attention to potatoes that they would have, had a fair price obtained. As a result large quantities of potatoes were spoilt during the winter, while, in addition, a great many were fed to the stock.

The result of this waste became apparent between the opening of the spring and the incoming of the new crop: what was an over-supply had become a shortage. Then prices advanced by sharp bounds until 60 to 70c. per bag represented the wholesale price. Dealers who had anticipated their wants at low prices made money that year.

The price at which potatoes are selling to-day nets the grower little if any more than ten cents per bushel. At this price the producer is naturally not disposed to concern himself much about the care of stocks that he will be compelled to carry over till next spring. Then, whether large quantities are spoilt or not, it is quite reasonable to expect that potatoes will be liberally fed to the stock this winter, especially in sections of Ontario where the hay crop was short last year.

But whether the experiences of 1885, even in a minor degree, will be repeated remains to be seen. Prices do certainly seem to be at a point where they cannot well go lower, and, consequently, it is quite natural to expect at least an improvement on the figures now obtaining.

Outside a few Early Rose potatoes no demand is looked for from the United States. This particular potato is used for seeding in the south, and, as planting begins about February or March, some enquiry on this account is in order soon.

WHY CHEESE IS HELD.

THE other week THE CANADIAN GROCER pointed out some of the reasons for the prolonged dulness in the export cheese trade. Facts that have been made public since then explain pretty plainly why the British importers wanted to keep prices down.

The estimated stocks at the two great centres of Liverpool and London on the first of the year show a shortage of 20,000 boxes and 10,000 boxes respectively.

No returns are available from the other centres, but there is good reason for believing that the supplies of cheese in Great Britain generally are considerably less than they were a year ago.

Being aware of this state of affairs, British buyers, who certainly lost heavily on their deals in 1894-95 cheese, have tried ever since the close of navigation to buy cheese in Montreal at 9c. and under. If they could have done so to any large extent they would have had a wider margin to recoup for last season's losses. The exporters in Montreal, however, did not respond very freely to their bids, and a very small quantity of cheese has been sold at Montreal since the close of navigation.

At this writing business still continues dull, and sellers in Montreal believe that their goods will be worth more money once the English demand really sets in. To be plain, they have strong reasons for their belief.

The exports from New York are some 300,000 boxes less than they were last season. Our own Canadian exports from the 1st of last May to date fall short of those for last year 50,000 boxes.

The supplies in Great Britain are less than they were a year ago, and, with excessive drouth in the Antipodes, the receipts from that quarter are expected to be very much less. In fact, it seems pretty certain that Canadian cheese will have to fill a much larger void than usual in Great Britain this spring; and, with the ruling price in Montreal 1c. below what it was a year ago, it is not surprising if holders think they will profit by holding for an advance.

FOOD FOR SATISFACTION.

There is probably no better indication of the condition or a country's trade than the character of its railway earnings. To this doctrine all leading commercial nations subscribe.

A railway depends largely for its earnings upon the trade of the locality which it traverses. When trade is bad the earnings of the railway naturally reflect the fact. Consequently, the doctrine that the earnings of the railways indicate the condition of a country's commercial health is based upon facts, not theories.

This acknowledged, it is gratifying to note that the earnings of the Canadian railways show a satisfactory increase for the months of December and November last.

For December the earnings were 8.4 per cent. larger than for the same month in 1894, while in November they were 10.9 per cent. larger than in 1894.

These increases are all the more gratifying from the fact that they are 2 and 2.3 respectively larger than were the increases of the United States railways for the same periods.

In the trade situation in Canada there is much food for satisfaction. What we want is confidence in our country, confidence in ourselves, and courage to put our confidence into practice.

CANADA'S FOREIGN TRADE FOR 1895.

THANKS to the special meeting of the Dominion Parliament for the purpose of introducing remedial legislation regarding the Manitoba school question, the country is in possession of the Trade and Navigation Returns a month or two earlier than is wont.

It has always been a source of annoyance to newspaper men and others who are interested in dissecting the foreign trade of the country to be compelled to wait some eight, nine, and even ten, months after the close of the fiscal year, for the blue book before they could do so.

The aggregate foreign trade of the Dominion for the fiscal year ending June 30 last was $218,891,314, a decrease of $11,727,618 compared with last year.

Of the aggregate trade $113,638,380 were exports and $110,781,682 imports. Omitting the bullion and coin from both years our exports are shown to be $6,372,085 less than last year. In total imports there is a decline of $12,693,258, although in goods entered for home consumption only the decline is but $7,841,472.

The decline in the imports, while not by any means a subject for congratulation, is not a matter of great concern. During the fiscal year of 1894-5 Canada felt the effects, in a minor degree, of the depression which existed in the United States in 1893-4. Being so closely connected with her by commercial relationship it could not well be otherwise. In consequence of this merchants of all descriptions anticipated their wants to a much less extent than usual. Under such conditions imports would naturally suffer. But when we come to consider that the decline in goods entered for home consumption was in percentage about 6.2, the figures lose some of their darkness. And when we remember the decline there was in prices they actually approach a stage where congratulation is in order.

The proportion of free to dutiable goods for 1894 and 1895 respectively was 44.24 and 43.80, or .44 per cent. in favor of the former year, an insignificant amount, indeed.

A striking feature of the report is the increase in our exports to the United States. While we sent $6,671,866 worth less to Great Britain, and our shipments fell off to France, Germany, Spain, Portugal, Italy, Holland, Belgium, Newfoundland, South America, China and Japan, our sales to the United States aggregated $41,297,676, or $5,487,736 larger than a year ago. Our exports to Great Britain were $61,856,990. The imports from Great Britain for home consumption were $31,131,737, and from the United States $54,634,521. Our aggregate trade (exports and imports) with the two countries was $92,988,727 and $95,932,197.

Subjoined we give some of the principal imports and exports of interest to grocers and general merchants for the past fiscal year, together with a comparison of the same for 1894 :

CANADIAN APPLES NET 42c.

Advices received in Toronto from Liverpool during the past few days indicate that the Canadian apples which arrived there lately have not proved satisfactory.

One exporter who sent eight cars has been notified that his consignment only netted forty two cents per barrel. He estimates his loss at $2,000.

The cause of the low prices is the quality of the fruit.

To all appearances, when shipped from here, the apples were in good condition, but it is presumed that the mild weather which was experienced before they left the country made them, in trade parlance, tender.

The result has had a depressing effect on the trade, for although the unsatisfactory conditions were confined to the cargo of one vessel, it is not known how the shipments now on the way will fare. Exporting, however, is still going on.

CODFISH AND TABLE GOODS MEN.

THE western agents of Gordon & Dilworth and J. W. Beardsley's Sons, of New York, the other day paid a brief visit to their chief, W. H. C. Burnett, room 509 Masonic Temple, Chicago. The party included: John H. Grant, St. Louis, Mo.; K. L. Perry, Cincinnati, O.; A. S. Gamblee, Denver, Col.; Geo. O. Moule, Detroit, Mich.; W. D. Brewster, Toronto, Ont.

Mr. Burnett had his time fully monopolized during their stay, but, with the assistance of John G. Baylis, Chicago selling agent, he was enabled to prevent any of them getting lost in the holiday shopping crowds, and successfully led them through the gastronomic feat of Christmas day without subsequent ill effects. "Monday," says The Chicago Grocer, "the day of their arrival, was spent in exchanging reminiscences, such as only 'Knights of the Grip' can spin. Tuesday, they were given a peep at what Chicago can do in a retail way, finishing up with a theatre party in the evening. Wednesday?—The balance of the week was given to business. Their '95 work has shown up most brilliantly and Gordon & Dilworth and J. W. Beardsley's Sons can look for big things from their western agents in '96 if courage, confidence and pluck count, for a more enthusiastic lot of salesmen never started the New Year in better trim, and even after partaking of Christmas turkey, they cry unanimously — 'there's only one shredded — that Beardsley's,' 'The only table delicacies are G. & D's.'"

A unique feature of the gathering was the fact that all the United States representatives present were Canadians, while the representative from Canada, Mr. Brewster, was an American, born and bred.

WHY DID PERRY ABSCOND?

Everybody is wondering why A. W. Perry, the Toronto retail grocer doing business in Broadview avenue, absconded.

He was doing a nice trade. Up to within a few days of his sudden departure he paid his accounts promptly, and, apparently, had at least a fair amount of capital.

When he absconded, his liabilities aggregated about $750. Against this he had stock and fixtures of $1,032 and book debts of $300. It is estimated by those who have examined the estate that when he shook the dust of Toronto off his feet he had about $200 or $300 in his pocket. "If," said one creditor, "he had first sold out his business and liquidated his liabilities, he could have taken away at least as much as he did, and, I think, a little more."

When it became known that Perry had absconded, the landlord put in the bailiff for one month's rent. Close upon bailiff number one's track was a bailiff representing one of the largest creditors. The latter, however, bought off the former and obtained possession.

The stock has since been sold, and the proceeds will be equally distributed among the creditors.

Perry is an American, but from what part of the States he came no one knows, and whither he has gone no one knows. Perry, it will be remembered, bought out Langford Bros. less than two years ago.

MAIL TRANSMISSION OF SAMPLES.

The chief post office inspector has answered a complaint made to him in regard to delay and damage occurring to samples transmitted through the posts.

He states that it is the wish of the department to afford all facilities and conveniences to the mercantile community in this connection. As to delay, he advises that the best method of avoiding it will be to mail samples some time before the close of the mail. Otherwise, as regular letters are given the preference, they may be subject to delay.

SHIPPING AT ST. JOHN, N.B.

Our St. John, N.B., correspondent writes: "The fact of the large shipments going forward from St. John, as a winter port, is still a matter of great interest to all here. The Donaldson line, which comes here without a subsidy, is well pleased with the business they are doing. The value of the cargo shipped by ss. Lake Ontario was about $95,000, fifteen of which was local freight. Large quantities of American flour, oats and corn are going forward. The shipments of live stock are very important to us, and are increasing. For that going forward by the Concordia, forty tons of hay and fifteen tons of oats were bought here. It is reported one of the Allan Line will make a trip here. There is also an effort being made toward a direct line to Porto Rico. There are now direct steamers between Halifax and Porto Rico."

CANADIAN CANNED GOODS IN LONDON.

W. Boulter & Sons, of Toronto and Picton, recently sent samples of their canned goods to the Imperial Institute, London, to be placed on exhibition there. A few days ago the firm received the following acknowledgment from the Minister of Agriculture for Ontario:

Toronto, Dec. 27, 1895.

GENTLEMEN,—In reply to yours of the 26th inst., I am directed to say that the goods you shipped for exhibition at the Imperial Institute, arrived here in good order and will be forwarded immediately. The Minister desires me to thank you for the handsome exhibit which he believes will make a very creditable display in the Ontario Section. He has given instructions to have it set up to the best possible advantage.

Your obedient servant,

WM. B. VARLEY, Minister's Secretary.

W. Boulter & Sons, 26 Bay street.

WHAT ARE PROFITS?

PERHAPS many readers are like myself—often when reading the suggestions and pointed articles by writers for Trade Magazine, say: "Well, that may suit some merchants, but it does not apply to my business," and sometimes argue that it is not practical. While this may seem to be the case at times, I am going to touch on something that in all probability will fit the case of many readers, and it makes no difference what kind of business they are engaged in. He may be a grocer or druggist, a dry goods or a hardware merchant—it matters not, it is a true bill.

Do you realize that on 25 per cent. of your goods you are making nothing? That you may be doing what you and the public generally consider a large business and still make no money?

Do you buy goods and sell them at the same price? At once you say: "What an absurdity—No!" Grant it then that you do not, and that you put, say, 25 per cent. or more profit on the goods. You seem to sell them, and yet, after all the margin of profit tacked on, your bank account does not increase.

Now, I am getting down to the point that I wish to make. Have you noticed lately or ever that a large part of your stock is only partly sold and that the balance is still on the shelves or sticking to the sides of the barrels and boxes? Well, it is. Where is the profit—on the first portion or the last? Come, let us go behind the counter and see.

How much of this or that article did you buy?

How much have you sold?

Have you as yet even got back what money you put into it?

No?

The profit is in that portion which is left, is it not?

Yes, did I hear you say? Well, yes is correct, and that's my point.

We often congratulate ourselves on doing so well, and are prompted to congratulate ourselves and say: "Well, I certainly have done well on those goods," when in real solid truth you have not your money back that was paid for them.

Maybe you are still skeptical in this regard. If you are, after finishing reading this article, take your pad and write down twenty articles and see if it is not true. How much have you that is stuck away, drying out, getting shopworn, and which, when once grayheaded, will not sell at any price?

Here are five rules that have helped me and may help you:

1. Buy sparingly of goods not well known to the consuming public.

2. Buy largely only goods that are always salable.

3. Keep seasonable goods where they can be seen and call attention to them.

4. Goods which are in season only two or three months push towards the front before the time is up—advertise them and get your money back with that 25 per cent profit.

5. Make it an object to clean up. Sell all. That's your profit.—Trade Magazine.

GROCERIES.

THE grocery trade is little if any more interesting than it was a week ago. Business is getting into a more normal condition because the travelers are again on their respective routes. But while this is so, there is nothing of a striking feature to note, like there was last week, when the excitement obtained over the sharp advance in sugar. Sugar continues firm at the recent advances, but there is no great movement, although taking the season into consideration there is a nice trade doing in this article. In canned goods there has been a little better demand for peas, but otherwise business in this line is much as before. While trade in general is light, the turn-over is fairly satisfactory for the season, and, compared with this time last year, better.

CANNED GOODS.

A little more enquiry is to be noted this week for peas. Otherwise there is no change to note. Prices on both tomatoes and peas continue strong. We quote: Tomatoes, 77½ to 85c.; corn, 75 to 85c.; peas, 90 to 95c. for ordinary; sifted, $1.25; extra sifted, $1.35; peaches, $2.90 to $3 for 3's, $1.90 to $2 for 2's; raspberries, $1.40 to $2.00; strawberries, $1.80 to $2.45, according to brand and quality; blackberries, $1.90 to $2.20; cherries, $2.40 to $2.45; apples, 3's, 85 to 90c.; gallons, $1.90 to 2.25; salmon, "Horseshoe," $1.35 to $1.40; "Maple Leaf," $1.35; "Lion," $1.35 to $1.40; Lowe Inlet, $1.27 to $1.30, in tall tins; cohoes, $1.10 to $1.20; canned mackerel, $1.10 to $1.20; lobsters, $1.80 to $2.10, for tall tins; flats, $2.35 to $2.65; half tins, $1.45 to $1.50; Canadian canned beef, 1's, $1.35 to $1.45; 2's, $2.25 to $2.35; 6's, $7.50 to $8; 14's, $15 to $16.50.

COFFEE.

Demand continues fairly good. The New York market is unsettled for Rio growths, but the local market is unaffected. The world's visible supply of coffee for the month increased 160,000 bags, while the gain in the world's reserve for the year is 870,000 bags. We quote green in bags: Rio, 19 to 21c.; East Indian, 27 to 30c.; South American, 21 to 23c.; Santos, 19 to 22½c.; Java, 30 to 33c.; Mocha, 33 to 35c.; Maracaibo, 21 to 23c.; Jamaica, 21 to 25c.

SYRUPS.

The demand continues light for syrups, and prices are unchanged. We quote: Dark, 30 to 32c.; medium, 33 to 35c.; bright, 40 to 42c.

MOLASSES.

Advices received this week indicate a much stronger feeling in New Orleans molasses. Locally the situation in molasses is much about as before. We quote: New Orleans, barrels, 25 to 32c.; half-barrels, 33½ to 35c.; Barbadoes, barrels, 31 to 35c.; half-barrels, 33 to 37c.

SPICES.

Singapore pepper has declined another point in New York. There is no change here. Spices generally are quiet. We quote: Pure black pepper, 10 to 12c.; pure white, 18 to 25c.; pure Jamaica ginger, 23 to 25c.; cloves, 15 to 20c.; pure mixed spice, 25 to 30c.; cream of tartar, French, 25 to 27c; ditto, best, 28 to 30c. per lb.; allspice, 14 to 18c.

SUGAR.

The sugar market remains firm at last week's quotations. There is not a great quantity of sugar going out, but nevertheless the demand is good, considering the season. Quite a few assorted carloads have changed hands during the week. We quote: Granulated, 4½ to 4⅝c.; yellows, 3½ to 4c. for dark and extra bright respectively.

NUTS.

There is a fair after-holiday trade doing, especially in walnuts. We quote as follows: Brazil nuts, 14 to 15c.; Sicily shelled almonds, 25 to 26c.; Tarragona almonds, 14 to 14½c.; peanuts, 10 to 12c. for roasted, and 7 to 10c. for green; cocoanuts, $4.50 to $5 per sack; Grenoble walnuts, 12 to 12½c. Marbot walnuts, 11 to 12c.; Bordeaux walnuts, 9c.; Sicily filberts, 8 to 10c. for sacks and 10½ to 11c. for small lots; pecans, 10½ to 11c.

TEAS.

There is a little enquiry for Ceylon and Indian teas, both at a price, and good flavoring and liquoring teas. Only a small hand-to-mouth business is being done in China teas. The situation in Japan teas remains much as before, the scarcity of low grades still being the feature of the market. We quote ruling prices to retailers as follows: Young Hysons, 12 to 18c. for low grades, 24 to 27c. for mediums, and 30 to 45c. for high grades; China Congous, 14 to 18c. for mediums, and 25 to 55c. for high grades; Japans, 15 to 20c. for mediums, 28 to 35c. for high grades; Indians and Ceylons, 18 to 22c. for mediums, and 30 to 65c. for high grades.

DRIED FRUITS.

The demand continues fairly good at firm and unchanged prices. We quote: Off-stalk, 4½ to 4¾c.; fine off-stalk, 5 to 5¼c.; selected, 6 to 6¼c.; layers, 6½c.

Currants are in fair demand for small sorting up lots considering that we are just out of the holiday season. We quote as follows: Provincials, 3¾ to 4c. in bbls.; Fine Filiatras, in barrels, 4¼ to 4½c.; ditto, half-barrels, 4¼ to 4¾c.; ditto, half-cases, 4¾ to 5c.; Casalinas, cases, 5 to 5¼c.; Vostizzas, cases, 6 to 6½c.; ditto, half-cases, 6½ to 6¾c.; ditto, extra fine, 6¾ to 7¼c.; ditto, half-cases, 7¼ to 7½c.; Panaretas, in cases, 9c.

In prunes the demand is light at unchanged prices. We quote prunes: Bosnias, "Sphinx" brand, "A," 70-75 to lb., 9c.; "B," 80-85 to lb. 7¾c., "U," 110-115 to lb., 6½ to 6¾c.; California prunes, 40-50, 10 to 10½c. per lb.; 50-60 to box, 9½c. per lb.; 60-70 to box, 9c.; 70 80 to box, 8½c. per lb.; French, 5 to 6c.

California dried and evaporated fruits are quiet and unchanged. We quote: Apricots, 13½ to 15c.; peaches, 10½ to 12½c.; pears, 10½ to 12½c.; plums, 6½c. for unpitted, and 12½c. for pitted; nectarines, 11 to 13c.; loose muscatels, 5½ to 6½c. per lb.

Dates are firmer in the primary markets, and the New York market has responded in sympathy. Locally there is no change. It may be interesting to note that the total importations of new crop Persian dates at New York to Jan 1, amounted to 135,000 boxes, or about 12,000 boxes less than on the same date last year.

A good trade is reported in Sultana raisins for this time of the year. The idea as to price is still 5 to 5½c.

Eleme figs are quiet and unchanged. We quote: Eleme, 14 oz., 9 to 10½c.; 10 lb, 9½ to 12½c.; 12 lb., 12½c.; 28 lb, 15c

GREEN FRUIT.

The annual quiet after-holiday quietude obtains, and the market is devoid of feature, except it be that prices are lower on oranges than they were a week ago. We quote: Lemons—Messina, $2.50 to $3.50 for 360's and 300's respectively per box; Oranges—Jamaicas, $4.50; fancy, $5; California navels, $4 to $4 75; Valencias, 420's, $4 25 to $4.75; Jumbo's, 420's, $6.25 to $6.50; ditto, 714's, $5.52 to $5 75; Mexicans, $5 to $5.50 per box. Bananas, $1 25 to $1.75; cocoanuts, $3.50 to $4 a sack; apples, $1.50 to $3 a barrel; Malaga grapes, $5 to $7 per keg; domestic onions, 60 to 65c. per bag; Spanish onions, 40 to 50c. per small crate; sweet potatoes, $3 to $3.25 per bbl.; cranberries, $10 per bbl., and $3.50 per case; hickory nuts, $1.50 to $1.75 per bush.

BUTTER, CHEESE, POULTRY, EGGS.

by this class of goods. There is rather more coming forward than is required, and as a result prices are easier. We quote: Early summer dairy, store packed, 8 to 12c.; good to choice fresh packed, 13 to 15c.; large rolls, fresh, 13 to 15c.; dairy pound prints, 15½ to 16c. Fresh creamery—Tubs, 19½ to 20c.; do., pound prints, 21 to 22c.

CHEESE—There is a little more enquiry on export account. There is not much doing locally. We quote: Summer make, 9c.; Sept. and Oct., 9½ to 10c.

EGGS — Since the cold weather set in country receipts have fallen off, but values have not changed very much. We quote: Late gathered, 17c.; strictly new laid, 21 to 22c.; cold storage and held fresh, 14 to 15c.; pickled, 14 to 14½c.

POULTRY—The poultry market is dull and neglected except in chickens and ducks, which are scarce and wanted. We quote: Geese, 5 to 6c. per lb.; turkeys, 6 to 8c. per lb.; chickens, 25 to 50c. per pair; ducks, 40 to 75c. per pair.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

BEANS—Trade continues quiet. Prime medium are quoted at $1 to $1.10.

DRIED APPLES—Are dull at 4c.

EVAPORATED APPLES—The situation is much as before with 6½ to 7c. the idea as to price in a jobbing way.

POTATOES—Buying has been a little brisker during the past week, but the volume of business is still of insignificant proportions. We quote 25 to 30c. per bag out of store and 20 to 25c. on track.

HONEY—A good demand is reported on country account for strained clover honey, and locally there is a fair demand for comb honey. We quote: Strained, clover, 10 to 10½c.; dark, 5c.; comb, clover, $1.90 per dozen; dark, $1.50.

PROVISIONS AND DRESSED HOGS.

There has been little or nothing doing in provisions during the past week, but prices are much as before. Dressed hogs are a little firmer, there not being so many coming forward. For select weights of 110 to 250 lbs., $4.50 to $4.55 is the idea, as to price; for weights under or above, 25c. per 100 lbs. less.

SMOKED MEATS — Breakfast bacon, 10c.; rolls, 7 to 7¼c.; hams, large, 22 lbs. and over, 9c.; medium, 15 to 20 lbs., 10c.; small hams, 10c.; backs, 9 to 9½c.; picnic hams, 7c.; all meats out of pickle, 1c. less than above.

LARD—Pure Canadian, tierces, 7 to 7¼c.; tubs, 7¼ to 8c.; pails, 7¾ to 8c.

BARREL PORK—Canadian heavy mess, $13.50; Canadian short-cut, 14 to $14.50; clear shoulder mess, $12; shoulder mess, $11.50.

FISH.

Trade has continued quiet, but an improvement is shortly anticipated. A feature of the trade this week is the arrival of a few carloads of Lake Winnipeg white fish, and they are finding a good demand at 7½ to 8c. per pound. They are choice fish. Oysters are 5 to 10c. per gallon dearer owing to the cold weather in the primary markets, and still higher values are anticipated. We quote standards at $1.30 to $1.35, and selects $1.60. Fish are quoted as follows: Skinned and boned codfish, 6½c.; boneless fish, 3½ to 4c.; haddock, 5 to 6c.; Labrador herring, $3.25 to $3.50 per half barrel and $5.50 to $5.75 per barrel; Newfoundland herring, $2.50 per half barrel, and $4.50 to $4.75 per barrel; fresh water salt herring, $3 per barrel; blueback herring, 3c.; pike, 6 to 7c. per lb.; flitched cod, 5c.; finnan haddies, 6½c.; Digby herring, in bundles of 5 boxes, 11c.; ditto, lengthwise, 10c.; large halibut, 12 to 15c.; Restigouche salmon, 20 to 25c.; British Columbia salmon, 13 to 14c.; mackerel, 20 to 25c.; steak cod, 6½ to 7c.; haddock, 5c.; black bass, 9 to 10½c. Fresh Lake Erie herring, $3 per 100; whitefish, 8 to 9c.; salmon trout, 7½ to 8c.; Lake Superior whitefish, 8c.; Lake Winnipeg whitefish, 7½ to 8c.

FLOUR AND FEED.

WHEAT—The street market is easier. There have been sales of white at 70c. and red at 67c. Goose is nominal at 54c.

BARLEY—Is steady with sales at 44c.

OATS—Firm at 28½c.

FLOUR—Demand is moderate and prices steady. Transactions in straight roller are reported at $3.09 and in patents at $3.22, Toronto freights.

BREAKFAST FOODS—Business continues quiet. We quote: Oatmeal, cornmeal and pot barley from 10 to 15c. lower; Standard oatmeal and rolled oats, $3.10 to $3.20; rolled wheat, $2.10 in 100 lb. barrels; cornmeal, $2.75; split peas, $3.25; pot barley, $3.25.

DRESSED BEEF, VEAL AND MUTTON.

Cattle are much dearer. This is owing to the fact that, while the demand is good, supplies are light, good cattle having been bought up for the holiday trade. Then the higher prices for poultry had naturally turned the attention more toward meats, all kinds of which have advanced in consequence. We quote: Beef, $4.75 to $6.75; lamb, 7 to 7½c.; mutton, 5½ to 6c.; veal, 5 to 7c.

SALT.

Business has fallen off a little during the past week, but prices remain unchanged. We quote at Toronto: In carload lots, $1 per barrel, and 60c. per sack; in less than carload lots, $1.05 per barrel and 65c. per sack. At the wells we quote: F.O.B. barrels, 70c.; sacks 50c. for points west of Toronto, and 45c. for Toronto and points east of Toronto.

HIDES, SKINS, WOOL AND TALLOW.

HIDES—Quiet and unchanged. Dealers are paying 5, 4 and 3c. respectively for Nos. 1, 2 and 3. Cured are nominal at 6¼c., trade being slow.

SHEEPSKINS—Lambskins and shearlings are still quoted at 80c.

PETROLEUM.

The demand continues fair at the recent decline in prices. We quote in 1 to 10 bbl. lots, imperial gallon, Toronto: Canadian, 16c.; carbon safety, 18c.; Canadian water white, 18c.; American water white, 21½c.; Pratt's Astral, 23c.

QUEBEC MARKETS.

MONTREAL, Jan. 9, 1896.

GROCERIES.

THE prominent feature of the grocery market this week has been the continued activity and strength in sugar. Enquiry for the staple has not been checked by the recent advance, both wholesalers and retailers showing anxiety to place orders in anticipation of future wants. The tone is firm at the advance. In other lines nothing striking has occurred. Syrups, however, are working firmer in sympathy with sugar, while tea rules quiet. Nothing is doing in a large way between houses, as jobbers are fairly well supplied, but a better enquiry from retailers is expected next week. In dried fruit the sole feature of interest here is the scarcity of 4-crown layer raisins. Receipts of new shelled walnuts have arrived and relieved the stringency on these, while there are no pure Grenoble walnuts to be had here, wants being filled with mixed. Canned goods are quiet, and an easier tendency is noted in leading lines of green fruit. The same can be said of fish.

SUGAR.

The advance in prices has not checked the demand for this staple. On the contrary, enquiry has been brisk ever since the refiners advanced their price and a large volume of business has been transacted. Refiners are not disposed to book orders any length ahead and prices have a very firm tendency. The demand from retailers is quite as brisk; in fact, buyers generally, both large and small, show a strong desire to lay in a good stock of sugar at once, or provide for future wants by placing orders for future delivery. To-day granulated is firm at 4⅝c. for the best stock from second hands in a jobbing way, though No. 2 can be had for ⅛c. less per lb. Yellows are equally firm and well enquired for at 3⅜ to 4c., as to grade.

SYRUPS.

These are dull, but the market has a firm tone, and an advance is not at all unlikely, owing to the strength of the sugar market. Prices are steady at 1¾c. for ordinary, and 2½ to 3c. for bright stock.

MOLASSES.

There is very little doing in molasses, but the market is steady in tone. Barbadoes stock moves quietly for jobbing lots at 36 to 37c., and Porto Rico ranges from 34 to 35c.

RICE.

There is no change in the rice market. Business rules quiet.

SPICES.

The spice market is quiet and few changes are to note. We quote: Pure black pepper, 10 to 12c.; pure white, 15 to 22c.; pure Jamaica ginger, 23 to 25c.; cloves, 15 to 20c.; pure mixed spice, 25 to 30c.; cream of tartar, French, 25 to 27c.; ditto, best, 28 to 30c. per lb.; allspice, 12 to 15c.

COFFEE.

Quietness rules in coffee both from first and second hands. Jobbers, however, expect an improvement in the course of a week or so, in fact, orders on this account are already beginning to show signs in that direction. We quote green in bags: Maracaibo, 20 to 21c.; Rio, 19 to 20c.; Java, 28c.; Jamaica, 20 to 21c., and Mocha, 32c.

TEAS.

There is little activity to note in the tea market at present, but next week a change for the better is looked for. Little or nothing is doing in a large way on this market between jobbers except a few lots of common Japans at 14c. Blacks are enquired for in small jobbing lots of Indians and Ceylons. We quote Japans: Low grades, 14c.; medium, 15 to 18c.; fine, 20 to 22c., and choice, 25 to 32c.

DRIED FRUIT.

Business in Valencia raisins is quiet on the whole, and prices are rather softer on ordinary to fine. The contrary is the case with 4-crown layers, the market being almost absolutely bare of this grade, 6½c. being paid this week by wholesalers for supplies. We quote: Ordinary off-stalk, 4 to 4¼c.; fine do., 4½ to 4¾c.; selected, 5 to 5¼c., and layers, 6½ to 7c.

California raisins continue firm in tone and meet a steady jobbing enquiry. We quote: 3-crown, 5½ to 6c., and 4-crown, 7c.

There is no change in table raisins, which continue as last noted. We quote Malagas as follows: Extra loose muscatels, $1.40; Imperial London layers, $1.75; Imperial cabinets, $1.90; Connoisseur clusters, $2 20; extra dessert clusters, $3; Royal Buckingham clusters, $3.50.

No sultanas are now available under 6½c., and high grade goods have jobbed out at a range all the way up to 9½c. for special brands.

Advices in regard to currants conduce to firmness, and though demand is quiet, prices are strongly held. We quote: 3¾c. in barrels, 4 to 4¼c. in half-barrels, and 4½ to 4¾c. in cases.

There is no change in prunes, which rule quiet but firm. Bosnia stock move quietly at 6 to 6½c., while ordinary French have changed hands at 5c. There are few plums on the market, and prices are difficult to quote. Fresh receipts of California prunes have come to hand, and the inside price is rather lower, sales having been made at 7c., but for good to choice 9 to 10c. has been freely paid.

There have been considerable receipts of bag figs during the week, which have been selling at 4c. This fact has imparted a rather easier feeling, and sales of ordinary in boxes have been made at 8½ to 9½c., while fancy are steady at 14c.

Dates continue quiet and steady at 4½ to 5c., as to grade.

NUTS.

There are no pure Grenoble walnuts to be had on the market, but mixed have sold at 11½ to 12½c. Receipts of new pecans and new shelled walnuts have come to hand, and values on both these varieties are quoted at a lower range as a result of this. We quote: Grenoble walnuts, 11½ to 12½c.; filberts, 7½ to 8c.; Tarragona almonds, 11½ to 12½c.; new pecans, 9 to 12c., and new shelled walnuts, 18 to 20c.

CANNED GOODS.

Business in canned goods is limited, and prices are nominally unchanged. We quote: Lobsters, talls, $8 per case; flats, $9 to $9.50; sardines, ordinary brands, $7 to $8.50; best brands, $9 50 to $10.50; salmon, $1.25 to $1.30 per doz.; tomatoes, 75 to 80c.; peaches, $2 to $2.25; corn, 85 to 90c.; marrowfat peas, 95c. to $1; strawberries, $2 to $2.25; raspberries, $1.75 to $2; green gages, $1.75 to $2; blue plums or damsons, $1.50 to $1.75; pineapples, $2 to $2.25 and 3-lb. apples, 80 to 85c.

WINES AND SPIRITS.

There has been no movement in these of any importance.

GREEN FRUIT.

This has been a fair week in green fruit, but orders have been generally for small quantities, and the range at the different auction sales rather lower. As a result prices in some cases are quoted down, especially on oranges, lemons and apples.

ORANGES—Trade has been quieter, and prices are lower. We quote: Jamaicas, $8 to $9 per barrel, and $4 to $4.50 per box; Valencias, 420's, $3.75 to $4, and 714's, $4 50 to $5.

LEMONS—Business has been moderate in these, and prices are 25c. easier for the inside figure at a range of $2.50 to $3.

GRAPES—There is no change in Malaga grapes, which range from $5 to $6 per keg.

CRANBERRIES—Move quietly at lower prices, viz.: $9 to $10 per barrel as to quality, a decline of $1 on the lower grades.

APPLES—Dull and easy at $2.50 to $3 50, sales being very slow, even at the decline.

SPANISH ONIONS—At an auction sale this week these sold as low as 10c. per crate, but in a jobbing way we quote 40c.

FISH.

The long spell of mild weather demoralized the trade in fresh fish, and stocks have accumulated in all lines. Fresh haddock and cod have picked up a trifle this week under the cold snap. Pickled fish are dull, and only a trifling trade has been transacted in smoked and boneless fish. We quote: Fresh haddock and cod at 3½ and 4c.; pickled No. 1 Labrador herrings at $5.25, No. 1 N.S. at $4.25 to $4.50; and ordinary grades $3 to $4 per bbl.; No. 2 Labrador salmon, $13 per bbl.; B. C. salmon, $10.50 to $11; No. 1 lake trout, $4 25 per keg; No. 1 green cod at $4.25 to $4.50; No. 2 at $2.75 to $3; No. 1 mackerel at $20; No. 1 pickled sardines at $4 50 per bbl. Dried and boneless cod, $4.25 to $4.50 per 100 lbs. for dried; 5½ to 6c. per lb. for boneless; 5c. per lb. for boneless haddock; 3¼c. per lb. for fish, and 11c. per lb. for shredded. Smoked haddies, 6½ to 7c. per lb., kippered herrings at $1.40 to $1.50 per box, Yarmouth and bay bloaters at 90c. per box, and smoked herrings at 8 to 10c. per lb.

DRESSED HOGS AND PROVISIONS.

There was no new feature in the provision market. The demand was limited and business rules quiet at the recent decline. We quote: Canadian short cut, clear, $13; Canadian short cut, mess, $13.50; hams, city cured, per lb., 9 to 10c.; lard, Canadian, in pails, 8¼ to 8½c.; bacon, per lb., 9 to 10c.; lard, com. refined, per lb., 6¼ to 6½c.

The demand for dressed hogs was fair in small lots at steady prices. We quote car lots at $4 50 to $4.60, and jobbing lots at $4.75 to $5 per 100 lbs.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

EGGS—Business in eggs was quiet, the demand being limited, and only for small lots at steady prices. We quote: Boiling stock, 18 to 20c; Montreal limed, 14 to 15c.; western limed, 13½ to 14c., and held fresh, 13½ to 14c. per dozen.

BEANS—There was no change in beans, the market still being quiet and steady. We quote: Car lots of choice hand-picked at $1 to $1.05, and small quantities at $1.10 to $1.20.

POULTRY—The receipts of poultry for the past few days have been small and the market at present is pretty well cleared up of nice bright stock. There was a fair demand to-day for fresh killed turkeys, but few were offering, and prices are firmer. Choice fresh killed turkeys sold at 7½ to 8c.; chickens, 6 to 6½c.; ducks, 7 to 7½., and geese, 5 to 5½c. per lb.

POTATOES—Continue quiet and steady. Sales of four carloads were noted to-day at 35c. per bag, and we quote 40 to 45c. in an ordinary way.

FLOUR, MEAL AND FEED.

A firm local business has been transacted in flour, and the market is moderately active and steady. We quote: Winter wheat, $3.60 to $3.80; spring wheat, patents, $3 75 to $3.85; straight roller, $3 30 to $3 40; straight roller, bags, $1.60 to $1.65; extra, bags, $1 40 to $1.45; Manitoba strong bakers', $3 40 to $3.65.

The demand for oatmeal was slow, and the market is quiet at the recent decline in prices. We quote: Standard, bbls., $2.85 to $2.95; granulated, bbls., $2.90 to $3; rolled oats, bbls., $2.90 to $3.

The tone of the feed market was steady and business is quiet. We quote: Bran, $14 to $15; shorts, $15 to $16; mouillie, $19 to $20.

CHEESE AND BUTTER.

Cheese is dull. A firmer feeling has been developed, but the general expectation is for no radical change this month. To be plain, sellers consider their goods worth more money, and the fact will tend to check business. In a nominal way 9¼c. is the general idea for finest fall makes, but it would take an advance on this to move any large quantity of goods.

The butter market was unchanged, business being confined to a jobbing trade on local account. Creamery for small parcels ranges from 20½ to 21c. and dairy stock, 18c. for Townships, and 15c. for western.

HAY.

The hay market has advanced $1 per ton, and we quote at $14 for No. 1 and $13 for No. 2.

ASHES.

The market is quiet and steady at $3.70 for first pots and $3.50 for seconds; pearls, $4.65.

MONTREAL NOTES.

Oranges are easier this week, sales of Jamaicas being made at $1 per bbl. less.

It is expected that the firm feeling in sugar will lead to stronger prices on syrup.

at a standstill, so far there being but little frost in the ground. The mild weather is also a great drawback to the fresh fish business, which will be much felt by the fishermen. Prices have been so low during the fall that the good demand there always is for frozen fish would be much appreciated. The principal interest in markets is the continued strengthening of the sugar market, which it is thought will hold. A number of our merchants have full stocks. One party, not a wholesale grocer, has one thousand barrels bought before the duty was changed. Present prospects are for colder weather.

SALT—The movement continues light, with fair stocks held here. There were no arrivals this week. We quote: Coarse, 50 to 55c.; fine factory-filled, $1.10; 5-lb. bags, $3.25 per bbl.; 10-lb. bags, $3 per bbl.; 20-lb. boxes, 20c.; 10-lb boxes, 12c.; cartoons, $2 per doz.; salt, bulk, $2.70 to $2 80 per bbl.

OIL—There is fair business reported and prices continue firm at the advance. The fall trade was very large. We quote: American burning oil, 23¼c.; best Canadian, 21½ to 21¾c.; prime, 19c.; no charge for barrel.

CANNED GOODS — There is no change in prices and stocks are fairly large, while little demand is noted. Salmon have not advanced as many expected. This province continues to pack rather more sardines from year to year, but in nothing like as large quantities as just over the line in Maine. The largest quantity of the fish there packed are caught in New Brunswick waters. In corned beef demand is very light at this season. Prices are easy. We quote: Corn, 85 to 90c.; peas, 90 to 95c.; tomatoes, 90 to 95c.; gallon apples, $2.15 to $2.25; corned beef, 2-lb. tins, $2.50 to $2.65; 1-lb. tins, $1.60 to $1.65; oysters, 2's, $2 to $2.25; 1's, $1.60 to $1.65; peaches, 3's, $2.75 to $2.85; 2's, $1.90 to $2; pineapple, Canadian pack, $2.35; salmon, $1.40 to $1.50; lobsters, $1.75 to $2; haddies, $1.30; clams, $5 for 4 doz.; chowder, $2 75 for 2 doz.; scallops, $5.50 for 4 doz.; Digby chickens, $1; kippered herring, $1.10.

GREEN FRUIT.—Returns from a shipment of a St. John house of apples to England have been received; it was one of the first direct shipments made from here. The parties are not very well pleased with the result. The stock of apples is not large here, but there is no particular demand. Good fruit is held firm. Lemons show quite a falling off in price. Valencia oranges are also quoted lower. West India oranges rather more than hold their own. Keg grapes are rather off in quality. For selected stock very firm prices are asked. California oranges are now here in small quantities. We quote: Apples, $1.50 to $2.50; oranges, $6.50 to $7 per bbl., $3 50 to $4 per box; Lemons, $3 to $3.75; keg grapes, $5 to $6.50; Valencia oranges, $4 to $4.50.

DRIED FRUIT—A few selected Valencias are still on the market. California fruit is quiet, with a fair but not large stock held here. Such stock as is here is largely raisins, evaporated fruits having very little demand in this market. Currants continues firm at the advance. Demand in all lines is quiet. There is rather better enquiry for evaporated apples, which seem firm. Dried very quiet. Some Bosnia prunes are to hand and some Californias are daily expected. Onions are quoted rather firmer. We quote: Valencias, 4⅞ to 5c.; layers, 6 to 6¼c.; California L. M. 4-crown, 6 to 7c.; 3-crown, 5 to 6c.; London layers, $1.65 to $1.75. Currants, bbls., 3⅞ to 4c.; cases, 4¼ to 5c.; cartoons, cleaned, 7½c.; bulk, cleaned, 6½c.: prunes, kegs, 4c.; boxes, 4⅝ to 5c.: half-boxes, 6 to 8c.; dates, 4½ to 5c.; dried apples, 5c.; evaporated apples, 7½ to 7¾c.; California evaporated peaches, 12 to 13c.; apricots, 12 to 14c.; pears, 12 to 14c. Canadian onions, $2 25 to $2.30; cocoanuts, $3 to $4 per 100 lbs.; figs, 10 to 12c.; Sultana raisins, 7 to 8c.

DAIRY PRODUCE—Butter continues very dull. There are large stocks of medium quality; good would find fair market. In creamery tubs, at a price, if medium size, there would be good demand, but not at fancy price. Prints have been dull, owing to soft weather; the trade has been well supplied, the retailers getting it direct from the creameries or farmers. Price shows no change, but rather easier. In eggs case stock sale is slow, and no large quantities of any are being sold. In cheese, though price is rather firmer, there are but few moving. The factories supply a good deal of local trade. We quote: Common dairy butter, 15 to 16c.; dairy, 17 to 18c.; new creamery prints, 23 to 24c.; cheese, 8½ to 9c.; creamery, tubs, 20 to 21c.; eggs, 17 to 19c. by case.

SUGAR—There are fair stocks here, and this seems one of the bright spots in what is at present a very dull market. Prices are fully ⅛c. firmer. There are, however, no very large quantities moving. At least one speculator has still 1,000 barrels granulated bought before the change of duty. The desire, however, to do business, together with the fact that many cannot hold goods, tends to keep price below what it should be, and this does not apply only to sugar. We quote: Granulated, 4½ to 4⅝c.; yellow, 3½ to 4c.; Paris lump, 5¼ to 5½c.; powdered, 5¼ to 5½c.

MOLASSES—There is light movement at present. Stocks held are not large, and quality in many cases but fair. No better molasses than some handled here last season, however, has ever been upon the market. Said a merchant to THE GROCER: "I almost hate to sell it, not knowing when I shall replace it." New Orleans in barrels finds a continued demand, and the sale of syrup is much larger than usual, an extra quality being here. Prices of New Orleans molasses and syrup are very firm. We quote: Barbadoes, 30 to 33c.; Trinidad, 32 to 34c.; Porto Rico, 34 to 36c., bbls.; New Orleans, 34 to 35c.; St. Croix, 31 to 32c.; syrup, 36 to 38c.

FISH--The weather is somewhat colder, and the fresh fish business more active, which is much appreciated by both dealers and fishermen, there being a steady demand for these goods. Fresh herring are not plentiful, but other fish are in good supply. The West India market is reported dull. There is no change in prices, at this season demand for pickled and dry being light, but in dry the price is steady. Smoked are still dull with fairly large stocks here. We quote as follows: Fresh haddock, 2 to 2¼c. per lb.; dry, $1.50; large cod, $3 60 to $3.75; medium, $3.35 to $3.50; pollock, $1.50; bay herring, $1.25 to $1.30 per half-bbl.; Ripplings, $1.65; Wolves, $1.85 to $2; smoked herring, old, 4 to 5c.; new smoked, 5 to 6c.; Canso, $5 to $5.50 per bbl.; shad, half-bbl., $5 to $6; Grand Manan herring, half-bbl., $1.25 to $1.35; Shelburne, $3.75 bbl., $1.65 half-bbl.; boneless, 2½ to 8c.; oysters, 3 to $3.50 per bbl.; small cod, $2.50; frozen herring, 70c. per 100.

PROVISIONS — Our local dealers are making money, if any is to be made at present. They are getting a good profit; in many cases a large profit above Ontario prices, even after freight is paid. Such goods as our market will not take are shipped to the West Indies, where a fine price is obtained. Lard is quoted lower, also hams. Business is quiet. We quote: Clear pork, $15 to $15.50; mess, $13 50 to $14; beef, $13 to $14; domestic mess pork, $14 to $14.50; hams, 10½ to 12c.; rolls, 8c.; pure lard, 9 to 9½c.; compound, 7¾ to 8c.

FLOUR, FEED AND MEAL—In flour there is no change, but a rather steadier feeling, with but light business doing. In oats there is a rather easier feeling, and Ontario oats now have the market, as they are much below P. E. I., and much preferred to New Brunswick. In cornmeal price is low, which effects the price of, and demand for, feed. Hay, though not moving here in quantities, is active through the province, and Americans are large buyers, they offering much better prices than the English market. There was a large quantity in the country, but stocks are much lighter. In buckwheat meal the demand is light. We quote as follows: Manitoba, $4 40 to $4.50; best Ontario, $3 95 to $4; medium, $3 70 to $3.80; oatmeal, $3 50 to $3.65; cornmeal, $2 30 to $2.35; middlings, $19 to $20 on track; bran, $18 to $19; hand-picked beans, $1.25; prime, $1.20; oats, 33 to 35c.; hay, $12.25 to $13; pot barley, $4; round peas, $3 65 to $3.75; split peas, $3.70 to $3.80; yellow eye beans, $1.85; buckwheat meal, $1.30 to $1.35.

ST. JOHN NOTES.

Hops are lower in ½ and ¼-lb. packages.

Cream of tartar took a sudden jump of 10s. this week.

The Virginia Peanut Association has gone into liquidation.

Pownall, P.E.I., has this season shipped $3,000 worth of oysters.

The farmers in Carleton County are getting $9 per ton for loose hay.

Potatoes are still plentiful in this province. It is said in Victoria, too, there are 20,000 bushels.

The Duart Castle took from here equal to 3,000 barrels cargo, besides which there were 120 packages goods from Hong Kong.

J. H. White has been appointed agent for the Norfolk Storage Co., Norfolk. This is one of the best known houses shipping peanuts.

Potatoes in Carleton County are bringing almost twice as much per barrel as on the American side, the prices being about 35c. and 60c. per bbl.

The Bay of Fundy Steamship Co.'s Str. City of Monticello, has been handed over to the Dominion Atlantic Railway. This will end the competition.

We regret to see the British War Office has not followed the example of the Admiralty in buying evaporated vegetables in Canada rather than Begium.

The shipment of deals is a very important business to St. John and the province. The quantity shipped in 1895 was 291,382,574 sup. ft., about 35,000,000 less than 1894. Alex. Gibson, who has been on the Nashwalk 30 years, has cut 1,000,000,000 ft. of logs.

Leonard Bros. are sending to their Montreal house three cars fine frozen herring, very large and bright, the only quantity that arrived here this season. They are also receiving large quantities of haddock and cod.

On Christmas Day 2,000 pounds of butter were churned at the Central Creamery, P.E.I., valued at $440. This was a venture this winter, and though patronized as yet by only some 350 out of 16,000 farmers, is a success.

The Bank of New Brunswick is to be congratulated. Beside a short time ago paying a half-yearly dividend of 6 per cent., it the other day added $25,000 to the rest, which is now larger than the capital stock by $50,000, the capital stock being $500,000.

Trade of St. John for 1895 was as follows as compared with 1894: Exports—1894—$3,094,212; imports, $3,233,594; duty, $769,711; free, $934,935; excise duty, $273,071. Exports—1895—$3,352,123; imports, $3,508,479; duty, $763,445; free, $1,127,648; excise duty, $269,786.

The trade of Fredericton in Dec., 1895, shows in exports a large increase over Dec., 1894, the difference being about $13,000. For the past year the duty collected at Fredericton, as compared with 1894, shows an increase of about $4,000, the increase in imports being about $22,000.

HALIFAX TRADE GOSSIP.

MERCHANTS are not complaining about open weather this week. The cold snap struck Halifax on Saturday, and produce and poultry dealers at once stopped selling goods at auction prices or less. There was a stiffening up all round, and on Monday the general tenor of trade was good. The holiday trade did not act as usual this Christmas. Previous years the whole city trade was done the day before Christmas, but this time people made their purchases several days in advance, and consequently Christmas Eve was very dull. This is accounted for from the fact that owing to the extreme mild weather provisions and poultry sold low, and buyers wanted to reap the benefit. At the present time business in provisions is very good, and is put down as far better than it was at this season last year. There is also considerable encouragement in sugar; the refinery anticipating a good year's business.

As has already been noticed, the fisheries have not proved remunerative, but, nevertheless, very little complaint is heard from the fishermen. The market to-day is quiet. Inferior grades of cod are somewhat easier, owing, no doubt, to the eagerness of St. Johns, Nfld., holders to get clear of their stocks. The Mediterranean and Brazilian markets have not been very good lately. Shipments to these ports have been exceedingly large and prices are kept down as a natural consequence. Large and medium merchantable hold their former values, and, if anything, are firmer; in fact, there is not sufficient large, hard cured cod to supply the requirements until the new catch comes in. Really good fat, split herrings sell readily, but West India grades are in over supply. There are very few salmon in sight, and holders look for much higher prices. Mackerel do not seem to be called for.

The Halifax refinery reports the market strong for refined and granulated. The lowest prices at the refineries to-day are granulated, 4½c.; yellows, 3¾ to 4c. This is an advance of ¼c. since last report.

Some P.E.I. produce vessels are lying up here for the winter, and intend to wait a change in the market before taking off their hatches. This seems to have made an easy feeling in produce, and potatoes and turnips have not advanced.

There is very little change in the beef market. So called auction or light beef is fairly well cleaned up. We generally have a lot of that article, and as it sells at a very low rate, it interferes with legitimate business somewhat. Beef cattle, sinking pelts, is worth $6.50 to $8 50; mutton and lambs remain inactive, and may be quoted at about 4½ to 6½c. Little or nothing is doing in dressed hogs. Ontario stocks are quoted today at from 5 to 5½c. P.E.I. mess pork is in slow demand at $12.50 to $13, while prime mess is quoted at $10.50; hams are worth 9c., and lard, 10c.

The rush for poultry is over, but the cold weather maintains prices. Native turkeys

There is quite an improvement in the tone of the butter market. Quotations to-day are from 15 to 22c., as to quality.

Eggs are moving easily. Strictly fresh laid stocks bring as high as 40c., and meet ready sales. Limed can be had for 15c., and case for 16c.

There is very little doing in green fruit. The stocks are small and demand only fair.

Molasses remains without any special feature. There are no fresh arrivals, and prices remain unchanged.

The demand for dried fruit during the holiday season was only fair. Trade is quiet at present.

There is nothing to note in breadstuffs, except that stocks remain light. The demand is fairly satisfactory.

Canned goods are being more sought after, particularly in fruit.

George McLellan has the contract to supply the Halifax gaol and county poor farm with beef.

Some few weeks ago it was noted that W. Wheatly had left for the States, and that the sheriff had charge of the business known as the Halifax Produce and Fruit Co. Mr. Wheatly has returned and announces that the business will be carried on at the corner of Sackville street and Bedford Row.

The Halifax Confectionery and Baking Co., Ltd., has suspended. Dull business is the cause assigned. James M. Henderson is the manager. A number of leading Halifax men are shareholders in the concern.

The Germans arrived here this week to engage in the business of smoking herrings and salmon for the American market.

It is stated that a New York man has been in Halifax several days in connection with a large fish combine proposed to be organized, with headquarters at New York and connections at Boston, Gloucester, Halifax and Yarmouth. It is the aim of the promoters to get the principal fish merchants of these places to join the combine. Beside the fresh fish landed by Gloucester vessels the combine propose to receive fresh mackerel, salmon and lobsters direct from the Maritime Provinces, by way of a fast line of steamers direct from Halifax and Yarmouth and other ports. Refrigerators for preserving all kinds of fish and an artificial pond for keeping live lobsters would be provided.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Mr. W. Brewster, Canadian selling agent of Gordon & Dilworth and J. W. Beardsley's Sons, of New York, will leave on one of his periodical eastern trips next week in the interest of his firm. He will be away about two months, and will go as far east as Quebec, and possibly Halifax.

William McDonald, one of Miner T. Foster's popular travelers, has gone with the well-known tea house of Rowley & Davies, London. He will look after their maritime business.

Mr. C. R. Cooper, of the Toronto Salt Works, is this week attending the dairymen's conventions in Woodstock and Campbellford in the interest of the Windsor Salt Works.

Mr. Quetton St. George, for many years in the wine and spirit business in Toronto, is dead.

Mr. Geo. E. Tuckett, the tobacco manufacturer, has been elected Mayor of Hamilton.

Mr. H. Dawson, of Dawson & Co, Toronto, is this week attending the convention of commission merchants in St. Louis, Mo.

THE COMMERCIAL TRAVELER.

IN THESE days of enterprise, push and energy, says Texas Sandwich, the drummer has come to be recognized as a commercial necessity, and the sensible merchant greets him as a friend and an essential factor in his business relations with wholesalers. Those who used to look upon the commercial traveler as they did a book agent or a lightning-rod peddler, and agree that they were nothing but expensive solicitors sent out to worm money from them, a service for which the retailers had to pay, have entirely disappeared, and he is considered a mutual friend who is not only a convenience, but a money-saver to the buyers, for he can see six or eight or a dozen merchants and sell them bills with as little expense as either of these buyers would be at were they compelled to visit the markets in person, to say nothing of the loss of time which would be occasioned by such visits, and thus the expense of buying goods is reduced to one-sixth or one-twelfth. Then, traveling over the same territory from month to month he becomes familiar with the interests of his customers, and, with the honor and candor which characterizes the profession, he may usually be relied upon as an adviser and a counselor in the selection and purchase of a bill of goods. Black sheep have crept into the fold, it is true, as in every other profession, and the good have had to suffer because of their practices; but the black sheep has had to go, other objectionable characters have been relegated to the rear, and the weeding-out process has continued until the great army of knights of the grip is now composed of up-to-date business men who seek only legitimate methods, and no more gentlemanly, courteous or useful men can be found in any of the avocations of life.

A WINDOW DISPLAY.

A novelty! that is what the grocer needs. Something made from stock and simple to arrange. Well, what more novel and easily-devised trim could you have than a lighthouse, made up as follows: Take the largest washtub you have in stock, and nail it to the floor of your window, bottom side upwards. On top of the tub place a frame made of lumber in circular form, with shelves if you like; to this frame secure packages of soap, arranged in pyramidal form, tier above tier. On top of these place a barrel cover, then stack up cans of oysters and surmount the whole with a large pumpkin. The pumpkin should be hollowed out and a light placed inside. For the floor use green tissue paper, streaked with white paint, to imitate the water. Try this design—we predict it will please you.—Harry Harman.

A GROCER EARNS A PENSION.

There is a grocer in Bay City, Mich., that merits a life pension from the millers of the world, says American Miller. He has originated and induced his competitors to sign an agreement which, as soon as it goes into effect, will confine the city's flour trade to the products of the home mills. The dealers will be guaranteed a profit of not less than 25 cents a barrel in return for their agreement to handle only home-made flour. Competition is becoming so severe that the millers can no longer afford to give the flour retailer a profit of 50 cents to $1 a barrel on all grades. Unless the local dealers give the home mills a chance to make a living in the home market they must expect them to do a retail business. The interests of their own business will drive them to do it.

BLINDNESS OF GROCERS.

A contemporary says that when a merchant ties up a parcel he gives it a weigh. And when he sells on credit a parcel of goods to a dead-beat he gives it away.—CANADIAN GROCER.

True, but many grocers won't believe it. They don't see it this way. It goes in with the bad debt account. Some merchants argue that they have to lose some money in bad debts; it might as well be by Jones as Smith. And all this time the cash system—easy, invigorating, remunerative—is waiting to help them get rid of their cumbersome credits.—Grocery World.

MOLASSES MAKING.

IT IS molasses-making time in Mississippi —at once a busy and festive period with the farmers and their families — writes a Dixon, Miss., correspondent of The Philadelphia Times. To one unused to the art it is a sight of some interest, while to the initiated it seems to be the crowning glory of the year's toils and pleasures.

Of course nothing is done on so extensive a scale as on the Louisiana sugar plantations. Both the crop and utensils for working it up are less imposing, certainly, but not less effective.

Early in the spring the cane is planted by laying it in furrows, three or four stalks together, continuously, thus producing from the "eyes" at the joints a beautiful growth of almost impenetrable thickness, but otherwise much resembling corn in height and foliage. Very little work is required for its cultivation.

Late in the autumn, before frost, men may be seen with grubbing hoes taking down seed cane. In this case the stalks are not stripped or topped, as when prepared for the mill, but piled in a heap and covered with earth, to remain until spring. If it is not a severe winter the stubble may be counted upon to furnish a fine crop the next year. An acre of cane will easily produce 400 or more gallons of molasses, and with less labor than any other crop; so that of this commodity there is always plenty, whatever else may lack or fail.

There are few late fruits here, save fox grapes and muscadines, those allies of chills and fever, so the sugar cane fills a real want.

Children carry it to "teachers" in lieu of fruits and flowers, and a girl's popularity may sometimes be reckoned by the number of stalks she has stacked up in the corner of the piazza. Without actually witnessing it one can scarcely credit the dexterity with which even small boys and girls, armed with dull barlows, can peel the hard points, while a grown man, arrived at courting age—not always synonymous with "years of maturity" —considers himself accomplished only when he can with a sharp knife peel a six-foot stalk completely without cutting it or breaking the strips of bark. Having acquitted himself of the performance he rests assured of the adoration of all young women and very small boys.

It is quite wonderful what an amount of luscious sweetness can be extracted from it after it is peeled, cut and split into convenient pieces. The art of chewing gracefully in the society of her "best young man" is one receiving much thought from the country lass, while her manner of disposing of the discarded "chews" is looked upon by bachelors and widowers as offering a key to her qualities for housewifery.

That the exercise is reckoned, physiologically, more productive of jaw power than of longevity of teeth needs but the proof of ocular testimony for confirmation. There is seldom seen a full fair set of teeth in the South, and this lack has, through cane chewing, the goober habit and snuff-dipping (the last happily becoming defunct), come to be a profitable field for the dental fraternity.

Thus, when molasses-making time rolls around and Mr. Jack Frost has begun to leave his visiting cards, there is a twinge of melancholy in the hearts of the young that is not all due to reflection upon the dying summer, and they chew faster than ever. There is a busy day or so when negroes or the farmers' boys strip and top the cane chewing madly at every interval of rest; the farmer rigs up the old-fashioned mills, cleans more or less thoroughly his evaporator, and, putting on his gunny-sack apron, goes gayly to work.

Early and late the cane mill is the trysting place of all ages and conditions. Each comer claims a draft of the juice as it trickles from the mill, while the feeders, drivers and boilers take frequent pauses and imbibe so copiously that one wonders mutely, if uninitiated, sympathetically if one is "to the manner born."

This juice is never known to hurt any one, and it will bring roses into pale baby faces in a manner to arouse all doctors to envy. This is witnessed scores of times.

Certainly a visit to the cane mill is calculated to confirm or to cure any taste for molasses one may have boasted of previously, for it can be the dirtiest place imaginable, and is, no matter how cleanly, unequalled in power to be smeary and sticky. Even the odor of the boiling juice is smeary.

The evaporator is a long, shallow iron pan with bars dividing it into compartments. At one end may be the fresh juice, while from the other is being drawn off molasses. If sugar is desired it is boiled very thick and put in open barrels to granulate. No amount of boiling will render the molasses fit for making candy unless it has been previously boiled and cooled; otherwise a cane mill would be an ideal place for an old-fashioned "candy-pulling."

At a typical mill visited by the writer recently all appointments were of the rudest kind. The furnace door and bars were home-made; the odd stool on which the boiler sat to skim the syrup, the tall stand on which the pine knots flame at night, and all barrels, tubs and strainers. Even the boiler himself was home-made and plain, savoring of old times and no fashions. He discoursed to his visitors on politics and the church, dipping and skimming and stirring the while. Every comer was pressed to drink a brimming gourd of juice and carry home a jugful of hot syrup for the family.

Later on, when the resinous odor of the pine knots mingles with the rich yet repulsive savors of the evaporator, when the mill has ceased to go round and round and the weary mule dreams among his fodder after his day's work pulling the ponderous lever, there will be fewer sun-bonnets in the group and the gourd will pass blithely about, not from the juice barrel, but ladling out beer. This vile concoction is distilled from the skimming, and is the shadow of evils which darken the autumn festival. It also brings its roses, but they do not adorn the cheeks of babes.

EGG CANDLERS OF NEW YORK.

A UNIQUE labor organization in New York, according to a New York paper, is the Egg Candlers' or Egg Testers' Union, composed principally of East Side Hebrews. It is little talked of because it is a closed corporation, and none but people who have proved themselves experts at the business can be admitted to membership. It is one of the oldest labor bodies in New York, and was originally known as the Egg Candlers' Union, because it was organized before the days of gas or electric lights, and in those days eggs were tested by holding them before lighted candles. It required a keen sight and a practical eye to detect the first symptoms of the advent of the chicken in an egg that had been partly hatched and then forsaken by some giddy hen, who could not be induced to sit on a nest, or to detect the first traces of over-ripeness.

Only about one man out of a dozen can make an egg candler, and the egg candlers themselves say that egg candlers, like all other geniuses, are born, not made. A steady hand is required, and for this reason a man addicted to excessive use of stimulants could not be an egg candler. A plank in the constitution of the union provides that no person habitually given to the use of intoxicants can be admitted to membership. The members of the Egg Testers' or Egg Candlers' Union are greatly in demand among the dealers in Washington and Fulton markets, and they command good prices. He can detect symptoms of addling where ordinary people would pronounce the egg as pure as the virgin snow.

AN "IMPERTINENT" GROCER.

Mrs. Harduppe—John, the grocer from where we used to live has found out our address. He called with that last year's bill and was real impertinent.

Mr. Harduppe (hotly)—Impertinent, was he? Well, now, we'll let him wait for his money.

All along the line, and way back in the cross roads, B. F. P. cough drops hangers decorate the counters and shelves of live grocers, drawing their customers' attention to a seasonable article of undisputed merit.

BUSINESS CHANGES.

DIFFICULTIES, ASSIGNMENTS, COMPROMISES

CANTWELL & SMITH, a large commission fish exporting house, St. Johns, Nfld., is seriously involved. The firm compromised last winter and is now unable to pay the dividend that fell due in January. The trouble is due to the unremunerative price of fish in the foreign market.

Jos. A. Debien, grocer, Montreal, has assigned.

G. J. Babcock, grocer, St. John, N.B., has assigned.

W. A. Cardwell, merchant, Cobourg, has assigned to A. J. Armstrong.

J. H. Ross & Son, general merchants, are financially embarrassed.

Thos. B. McQuarries, general merchant, Mabou, N.S., has assigned.

Mrs. C. Germain, general merchant, has compromised at 50c. on the dollar.

A demand of assignment has been made upon S. H. Pigeon, St. Tite, Que.

E. G. Smith, tea dealer, Stratford, is offering to compromise with his creditors.

John Saunders, grocer, Harriston, has made an assignment to F. H. Lamb.

R. L. Rolls, general storekeeper, Centreton, has assigned to Richard Tew, Toronto.

Lena McKilvey, general merchant, Minden, has assigned to E. R. C. Clarkson, Toronto.

Elie Reberge, general merchant, St. Denis, Que., is offering to compromise at 25c. on the dollar.

A meeting of the creditors of A. Beauleau, general merchant, St. Pacome, Que., is called for to-day (Friday).

L. A. & T. Doan, general storekeepers, Dorchester South, have placed their estate in the hands of W. Warnock.

S. H. Frigon, general merchant, St. Tite, Que., has assigned, and a meeting of creditors has been called for 16th inst.

J. & J. Lugsdin, hats and furs, Toronto, have assigned. They owe between $25,000 and $30,000, and the assets are estimated at the same.

J. H. S. Hoover, grocer, Toronto, has assigned to E. Maybee. The estate is small and he is now offering to compromise at 40c. on the dollar.

P. J. Haffey, grocer, 200 Queen street west, Toronto, has assigned to T. F. Slattery. Creditors will meet on the 15th. Competition in that line of business in the neighborhood was too keen for Mr. Haffey.

RIO COFFEE SHIPMENTS.

The shipments of coffee from Brazil during December were as follows : From Rio, 66,000 bags to Europe, 162,000 to United States, 18,000 to other countries ; from Santos, 229,000 bags to Europe, 114,000 to United States ; from Victoria, 18,000 bags to United States ; total, 547,000 bags.

ALL THE ANNEXATIONISTS DEAD.

THERE were, until recently, two annexation newspapers in Canada, or at least in Ontario, namely The Goderich Signal and The Simcoe Reformer. The editors and publishers of these papers, "Dan" McGillicuddy and Hal B. Donly, are personally two of the most popular of the fraternity among their fellow journalists, both being thorough good fellows, and have had to stand lots of chaff for what they have always been careful to designate as their "Continental union" views. It carries special gratification therefore through the ranks of the Ontario Press Association to note how The Signal and The Reformer take the war scare. Brother McGillicuddy in The Signal says :

The duty of Canadians is plain, whether they be Grits or Tories, colonists or continentalists. They all love the land in which their lot is cast, and where the remains of their loved ones lie, and rather than yield one foot of the sacred soil to the armed foeman they are prepared to march to the music of The Maple Leaf Forever, and defend fair Canada, if necessary, until the last man dies in the last ditch.

Mr. Donly in The Simcoe Reformer announces himself with equal vigor thus :

Three years ago many Canadians would have cheerfully voted for union with the United States, to-day we believe no difference of opinion exists from one end of Canada to the other. War will not be discreditably avoided. The voice of England is the voice of Canada. Conscious that we are right and that the opinion of the whole civilized world is with us and adverse to the United States, strong in the fact that with us it will be a war in defence of all we hold dear—freedom, home and native land—we will resist to the last the advance of enemies, be they of our blood and language, or no.

It is an ill wind that blows no good, and Cleveland's ill wind tends at least to solidify Canadian patriotism.—Ottawa Journal.

A NEW DEPARTURE.

Messrs. Britten & Bradshaw, of 48 and 50 Lombard street, Toronto, who have succeeded in establishing an enviable reputation as manufacturers of popcorn and chewing gum, have decided to manufacture licorice.

They have made many additions to their factory in the shape of the latest improvements in machinery from England and the United States, and will be prepared in a very short time to put on the market all the different grades of flexible and pure licorice.

Having entered into this business the firm intend to thoroughly establish for their goods a reputation second to none. [Advt.

CANADIAN BUTTER FOR JAPAN.

Mr. Robt. Scott, of Shoal Lake, has left for Japan, with a large consignment of butter, which he manufactured at his own creamery. He sailed for the Flowery Kingdom on the 5th, and will be accompanied by Mrs. Scott. Mr. Scott, according to The Winnipeg Free Press, is the leading butter maker of Manitoba, and has shipped the product of his factory to nearly every part of the world.

NOVA SCOTIA FIBRED CODFISH

REPRESENTS the highest achievement in the art of curing and preparing Codfish ready for cooking.

NOTHING is used in this product but the finest of shore Codfish especially cured and dried for it.

THE disagreeable odor usually considered to be a necessary evil to be endured while cooking Codfish will be found to be entirely lacking in this.

EVERY particle of skin and bone being removed and the water evaporated, there is absolutely no waste. The contents of each package, therefore, is worth to the housekeeper about three times its weight in Codfish as ordinarily sold.

PUT UP in half-pound cartons, 3 doz. cartons to the case, and sold by the wholesale and retail grocers throughout Canada.

The special illustrated edition of The Woodstock Sentinel-Review shows that proprietor Andrew Pattullo is not allowing his paper to deteriorate while he is devoting so much of his time and attention to furthering the cheese industry of the country. The edition is beautifully and amply illustrated, and is replete with much interesting and valuable information.

CHEESE MAKING 25 YEARS AGO.*

By A. F. MacLaren.

TWENTY-FIVE years ago comparatively few cheese were made in Canada on the factory system, or, in other words, the manufacture of cheese as an industry was simply in its infancy. The first factory was built and operated in the Township of Norwich, Oxford County, in 1862, by the late Harvey Farrington, the well-known, practical and experienced cheese maker from the noted Herkimer County, New York State, to whom much credit is due for the establishment of the great cheese industry in Canada, which developed very slowly for a time, only a few factories being in existence up to the date of which I am about to write.

Thinking of cheese making twenty-five years ago carries me back to the time when I first entered the Fullarton cheese factory, in Fullarton Township, Perth County, for the purpose of learning the business. The factory was that season rented by Mr. Geo. Hamilton, who also owned the Cromarty factory. The cheese maker was Mr. Wm. Huxley, who, I understand, received his first instruction and education in cheese making from the above-mentioned "grand old man," Mr. Harvey Farrington.

In those early days everything in connection with the cheese business was entirely different to what it is at present. In the first place factories were generally located on low ground and usually close to or directly over a running stream, and if possible in close proximity to a spring of pure cold water, which, if possible, was secured at an elevation high enough so that the water could be taken to the factory in pipes and allowed to flow under the vats to be used for the purpose of cooling the milk when delivered at the factories twice daily, as was then the custom. In this respect, the Fullarton factory was and is splendidly situated and we seldom had to make cheese twice daily, as with this plentiful supply of very cold water running under the vats of milk all night we had no difficulty in keeping the milk perfectly sweet.

We will now proceed, metaphorically speaking, to convert a vat of pure sweet milk into cheese as it was done twenty-five years ago. We will suppose the milk is set at a temperature of 82 deg. Fah. The milk has sufficiently coagulated, time for cutting curd having arrived, the curd having been cut, we begin to stir by hand from 10 to 15 minutes. We then apply heat and gradually begin the cooking process (still stirring by hand), which was no pleasant task, and only those who were possessed of a good strong back, perseverance and patience would continue this hand stirring and gentle handling which the curd required so as to secure a good average. Impatient, careless cheese makers would be inclined to use the rake too soon, thereby handling the curd so roughly that the whey became white, or, in other words, the butter fat which should have remained in the curd passed into the whey. It was our custom in those days to keep on stirring by hand until the mass of whey and curd had been heated to over 90 deg. Fahrenheit and the curd had become somewhat hard. We were then allowed to use the rake (wooden rake) and continue agitating and heating until curd was 100 deg. Fah. more or less, according to condition of curd. Then the curd was allowed to remain in whey until acid developed. Then the whey was removed by the use of a syphon. This being done, the curd was dipped into a slat sink covered with a cloth strainer. From the time dipping began all available help was on hand to stir curd in sink so as to prevent matting and allow all whey to escape. As soon as curd was stirred sufficiently dry, and the necessary acid having developed, salt was then added, well stirred in and the curd was ready for press. At that time we used upright presses only, and now we proceed to put curd to press: Large press cloths were then used, which were placed in each hoop. The curd was then placed therein; hoops filled; then end of press cloth pulled over top of curd, when followers were put on and gradual pressing began. As soon as curd was pressed sufficiently hard, or so that it could be removed from the hoop, it was taken out and bandaged. A small cotton head cloth placed on each end of the cheese, when it was returned to hoop and press, where it remained under heavy pressure until morning. Then the cheese were taken out and turned, ends of bandages turned down and any cheese which may have projected pared off. These shoulders or projections are generally caused by followers being too small, thereby allowing cheese to press up between followers and hoop, and if not removed would materially affect the value and finish. The cheese were again returned to press and allowed to remain until the presses were required for the second day's curd. They were then removed to the curing or drying room, where they were allowed to remain for a short time until sufficiently dry to admit of the application of whey butter on each end so as to prevent them from cracking. We were then supposed to turn and rub the cheese on each end every morning, this being necessary for the purpose of properly curing the cheese. And I may say that in those days one of the great causes of trouble and loss in many factories was the careless manner in which cheese were handled in the curing room.

During the summer months some careless cheese makers would allow the cheese to crack and check, which allowed the cheese fly and skipper to complete their work of destruction. And then again late in the season it was almost impossible to find cheese which were properly cured. Even to-day there is great room for improvement along these lines.

From reading the above the modern cheese maker will observe there were many difficulties to contend with at that time, and when I enumerate the many advantages the cheese makers of the present day have compared with those of a quarter a century ago, it is easily understood why cheese of the present day has attained its high standard of perfection.

The patrons are better educated and have received a great deal of experience and instruction from careful study and close observation as to how milk should be produced and handled so as to bring it to the factories in the best possible condition.

In those days it was necessary for us to make our own rennet extract. We had no rennet test; no Babcock milk tester; few factories had engines and no such thing as agitators to be worked by steam, for the purpose of stirring the mass of curd and whey in the vat during the cooking process. No sweet dipping, no matting of curd, no curd mill, no bandagers, no gang press, no pressing of cloths on top of cheese, no seamless bandages, no milk inspectors or instructors, etc. And still there are hundreds of factories right in our midst where still greater improvement could be made.

And just before I close my article (as I am afraid I am now making it too long), I would like to suggest to the factorymen and patrons the great necessity of at once stopping the ruinous practice of having the sour whey returned in their milk cans. I am sure there are no intelligent farmers who would not be convinced if they knew how serious a matter this is, as in almost every case this practice is ruinous to the flavor of the cheese. My observation in examining cheese where the above named practice is prevalent is that in 99 cases out of a 100 more or less whey flavor had developed. It may not be noticed to any great extent while cheese remain on the shelves in this country, but it is almost sure to develope before it reaches the consumer's table in the Old Country. If this practice were discontinued I feel satisfied that the producer would be the gainer of from ½ to 1 cent per pound. I sincerely trust that ere long some system will be devised whereby this practice may be abolished.

I would further suggest the grouping of say 20 to 30 factories in different sections of the country and placing them under the supervision of a practical cheese maker. His salary and expenses could be paid by each factory contributing its proportion according to amount of cheese made. In this way there should be no trouble in having the cheese made in each group almost as good and uniform in quality and size as if made in one factory.

In adopting this system it would be advisable to use the same kind and very best material in the manufacture of cheese in all the factories in each group, and by purchasing in large quantities the cost could be materially reduced. As my readers can easily see, that by using the same rennet extract, same coloring, same salt, same curd mill, same size hoop, same presses, then weigh the curd so as to have each cheese the same weight and size, and last, but not least, by having all boxes made of the same size and of the very best material. If the above suggestions were carried out I feel confident that our cheese would receive a still higher reputation in the markets of the world than they do to-day.

A few words to my brother cheese makers and I have done: There are a few things that many of you could improve on at the present time and with the factories as they now are. In the first place the cheese maker himself should as far as possible see every can of milk as it is dumped into the weigh can. That is the time to ascertain if the flavor is right or not. If the flavor is not right advise the producer and get to work at once to find out the cause of the trouble. Secondly, see that every man in your factory, who is there to learn the business, is careful about keeping himself and everything in and outside the factory neat, clean and tidy. Don't think the work is done when the cheese are put to press. Look round and you will find many little things to fix up, and above all in the fall of the year take better care of your cheese. I know how I used to like to get away from cheese and factory, as soon as the last cheese for the season was made. But it is a mistake. At present I find great carelessness in the curing of fall cheese. The temperature is seldom found to be just right. And now I implore of you, don't neglect a cheese; don't leave them alone for an hour, till the last box is shipped. Many times this last fall and early part of winter I have gone to see how the cheese I had bought were being cured. The first factory I called at I found the cheese maker away, and the cheese too warm. The next factory I found too cold, and the cheese maker was away. At the third factory I found the temperature too low, the last make of cheese on the lower shelves, when they should have been on the top shelves and nearer the fire. At the fourth factory I found everything as it should be.

Now if you can spare the time, go to Guelph or Kingston Dairy Schools where, you receive a great many useful lessons, not only with regard to making cheese and butter, testing milk, etc., but you will carry away with you many ideas whereby you can improve many things in connection with your own factories.

PERSIAN DATE SHIPMENTS.

It is reported that the total shipments of dates from the Persian Gulf for this season were less than 550,000 boxes, against over 700,000 in the previous year, which results that the stock carried over in London is small. The Hills Bros.' Co. report, according to The N. Y. Journal of Commerce, that, by late cable advices, only 116,000 boxes exist in that market, against 280,000 boxes on hand January 1, 1895. In view of the small stocks the London dealers are holding their goods with great firmness, and desirable brands of Hallowee cannot now be imported to cost less than 3⅝c. without a penny allowed for commissions or profit to dealers here.

HINTS TO BUYERS.

PERKINS, INCE & CO. have a shipment of Indian and Ceylon tea arriving, which they are offering at special value.

Pure lard is being offered at low prices by T. B. Escott & Co.

A drive in bag peaches is being offered by Lucas, Steele & Bristol. They also offer Harvest prunes.

"Grand Sultan" coffee is having good sale. See letters re "Grand Mogul" advertisement.

A handsome 2-lb. tin of syrup is being placed on the market by Lucas, Steele & Bristol. It will retail at 10 cents.

T. B. Escott & Co. have large shipment molasses arriving, bought before recent advance.

A shipment of Moyune Young Hysons, half-chests, which they claim are splendid value, is in store with the Eby, Blain Co., Ltd.

Shipment California prunes, 40's, received at low prices, have been received by T. B. Escott & Co.

"Yes, we are moving a good many teas this month," say Lucas, Steele & Bristol. "We are constantly having applications for samples."

W. H. Gillard & Co. report a good demand for early crop May Japan teas in 5-lb. boxes and 30-lb. caddies. This is a handy sized package for the jobbing trade.

T. B. Escott & Co., of London, have large lines of Indian and Ceylon teas, they advise, at great bargains.

Extra values in jams and marmalades in 7-lb. pail, are offered by Lucas, Steele & Bristol. Their prices for 2 and 3-lb. peaches, they advise are very low.

"We have just made up our books for last week's business," said Mr. Larkin, of P. C. Larkin & Co., "and we find that our sales of "Salada" tea exceeded those of any previous week in our history."

W. H. Gillard & Co. beg to advise the trade that their long-looked-for "Haycastle" currants arrived a short time ago and all back orders have been filled. A good sized stock is still on hand at bargain prices.

The Snow Drift Co. claim to have just wound up the most successful year of their history, and, in view of the fact, propose to follow the same old policy: "First-class values in pure goods at lowest possible prices."

W. H. Gillard & Co. are having a lively sale for their special blends of pure coffee, "W. H. G. No. 2" and "Purity." These lines are put up in handsome 25-lb. packages, retail at popular prices, and shew the retailer a handsome margin.

The Snow Drift Co. have just passed into stock another hundred sacks of that very choice Tellicherry, and more on the way. They did an enormous trade in pepper last year, and are determined to keep it going. "Blood tells," they write.

A TRUE GRAPE STORY.

A friend of mine, says a writer in Retail Grocers' Advocate, told me he bought a nice lot of Malaga grapes cheap, at $3.75 a barrel, each barrel marked 55 pounds.

I asked him if he ever put down what he got out of a barrel of grapes, (I saw the barrels myself and they seemed to be very light).

He said he never did, but he promised to do it with the next barrel he would open.

He sold it over Christmas, and this is what he got out of it. He sold them at 18 cents per pound.

BRITISH AND U. S. CONTRIBUTIONS TO OUR DUTIES.

AMONG the interesting features to be noted in the Trade and Navigation Returns just issued is one relating to the duty paid by British and American goods respectively.

A glance over the trade returns shows that only on six occasions during the last twenty-three years have our imports from Great Britain exceeded those from the United States, and yet, in spite of this fact, the greater proportion of the duties collected on the goods brought in from the two countries in question have invariably been borne by those from Britain.

But the disproportion between the duties paid by British and American goods has undergone a marked change since 1872, the most remote year to which the figures we have at hand carry us back.

In that year the proportion to the whole was 6.30 and 1.80 respectively. Last year, 1895, the proportions borne by each were 6.36 and 5.45. This, compared with 1894, was a decrease of .14 in the ratio on British goods and an increase of .58 on United States goods.

In 1872 the imports from Great Britain for home consumption were 58.87 of the whole, and those from the United States 32.70. Last year the proportions were 29.50 and 51.40 respectively, or an increase of 18.70 in American goods and a decrease of 9.37 in British goods.

Last year, however, is rather an unfair year by which to make comparisons of this kind.

What we import from Great Britain is largely finished products. From the United States, on the other hand, we bring in a great deal of raw material to be turned by us into the finished article. This not only explains why British goods pay a larger proportion of the duty, but, furthermore, it had its influence in a marked degree on the imports from the respective countries for the fiscal year 1894-95.

As we pointed out a week ago in dealing with the returns, last year the importers of finished products, owing to the depression in the United States, and the influence it exerted on this country, were cautious to an unusual degree, a condition which naturally exhibited itself in the returns showing the imports from Great Britain.

As 1895 progressed it will be remembered the manufacturing industries in Canada began to put on their normal activity, with the result that more raw material was wanted. The imports from the United States would naturally reflect this. But, furthermore, the tide of imports from that country was augmented during the first half of the fiscal year 1894 95 by the influx of American finished products into Canada, the urgent need of money on the other side inducing the manufacturers there to slaughter the Canadian market in order to get the "needful." The British manufacturer, on the other hand, not experiencing the same acute depression nor the same pronounced need of money, did not resort to the same tactics.

Taking the more normal year of 1893-4 the percentage to the whole of the imports from Great Britain was 34.60, and from the United States 46.90, as compared with 29.50 and 51.40 last year, as already stated.

By way of comparison, it may be interesting to note that while our total exports to Great Britain in 1872 were but 30.40 to the whole, in 1895 they were 54. With regard to exports to the United States, in 1872 they were 43.80 to the whole, and in 1895 the proportion had fallen to 35.39. And our exports to the United States in 1895 were larger than for any previous year since 1883, while those to Great Britain were nearly seven millions less than in 1894, and about three millions less than in 1892 and 1893.

CAUSE OF LAST YEAR'S CHEAP CHEESE.

THE past year was not an altogether satisfactory one for Canadian cheese makers and dealers. The depression of 1893-4-5 the world over had something to do with it, but not all.

For the excessive stocks that existed last spring Canadians had themselves largely to blame.

The clean sweep of the awards which Canadian cheese made at the World's Fair stimulated enormously the production of cheese in Canada in 1894. When the storehouses and refrigerators throughout the country groaned with the quantity of cheese packed away in them, people groaned too, and charged that over-production was the cause. And there was over-production, insofar as the storehouses were overcharged, but scarcely in the sense that the market was over supplied.

The world over during 1893-4, it will be remembered, there was a gradual and unusual decline in the values of staple goods, with one exception. That exception was cheese, and it was accomplished by the manipulation of speculators, with the result that the price of cheese in Canada was ultimately a great deal above the parity of other food staples. With the realization of this fact consumers at home and abroad turned their attention to the foods that were cheaper; and what the consumers did the storekeepers had perforce to do likewise. This ultimately accomplished what, in the natural order of things would have been done before: it brought prices down.

Last year prices ranged from 5½ to 9c., while the year before, 1894, the range was from 9 to 11c. These latter figures were much about the same as those which obtained during the fat years, or the good times. Had the factorymen and exporters twelve or fifteen months ago conceded a cent or two per pound they would not have experienced the low values and unfavorable conditions to the extent they did, for the cheese would have gone into consumption and thus have prevented prices falling to the point they did, just as it is possible to save a dam by opening the sluice gates. When the price ultimately did go down consumption increased until to-day the tendency of values is again upwards.

While we would not for one moment say that there was an over-production of cheese in Canada, yet it is just possible we have reached a point where it is well to consider whether we are or not getting near that condition.

A gentleman who is acknowledged to stand in the first rank of cheese authorities on the continent expressed the opinion to THE CANADIAN GROCER the other day during a conversation on this particular subject that as far as quantity was concerned, cheese-making in Canada had reached a point where it should stop, for the time being at any rate, and that factorymen should devote their energies to improving the quality, good and all as the quality is to-day.

THE CANADIAN GROCER does not know but what he is right. It is not enough that the quality of our cheese should be maintained: It must be improved, if from no other fact than that we have competitors who are assaying to climb to the high position we occupy as cheese-makers.

In Ontario alone there were in 1894 no less than 1,011 factories, producing 97,284,547 pounds of cheese, against 1,567 in the whole Dominion in 1891, and 709 ten years before. The growth has been, indeed, rapid, and it is well to be careful that we do not grow too fast.

CHEESE ADVANCING.

THOSE owners of cheese who have all along expressed a determination of holding for 9½c. per lb. are in fair way of receiving what they want and possibly more.

This is clearly shown by the more active demand that has been expressed during the past week for the product.

Fully 30,000 boxes of cheese, ranging all the way from summer to finest Quebec fall goods, have changed hands at ⅛ to ¼c. more per lb. than would have been paid last month.

This development tends to confirm what has been said by THE CANADIAN GROCER before, with regard to the cheese market. In fact, at the present writing it is extremely doubtful if any export buyer who went on the market to fill an order for, say 3,000 boxes or so, could do so unless he offered more than 9½c. per lb.

All this must be decidedly satisfactory to those who have stubbornly held on, for present indications point to even higher prices, and though the expectations of the more sanguine for from 1 to 1½c. per pound more may not be realized, it is safe to expect some advance on ruling values.

THE CATCH OF LAKE WINNIPEG WHITE FISH.

A few carloads of white fish from Lake Winnipeg have been received on the Toronto market during the past week or two. The fish shows exceptionally fine quality and demands slightly better prices than the ordinary white fish found on that market.

The outlook for this kind of fish is accounted to be more satisfactory than for some seasons.

Heretofore the catch has exceeded by far the capacity of the dealers to dispose of within a reasonable time to prevent their spoiling. The consequence was that fishermen and dealers every spring lost money on account of the low prices and the heavy losses entailed by the fish going bad.

Some time ago, however, the fishermen consummated an agreement to limit the catch to 1,200 tons. This is from six to eight thousand tons less than last year, and is expected to prevent the reckless waste of former years, and to net all concerned better prices.

FLOUR ACTIVE AT MONTREAL.

Although there has been no actual change in flour prices, the market in Montreal was a very interesting one during the past ten days or so, the volume of business transacted involving a sensible reduction in the stocks in store at that place.

At this writing the tendency of values is distinctly higher in consequence of the advance on Ontario grades at milling points of 10 to 15c.

Dealers generally state that they have seldom experienced a more active demand for flour at this season of the year.

Orders for Manitoba flour have absolutely poured in, a notable point in this connection being an active export enquiry. This has involved the turnover of some 10,000 barrels on this account, and the fact that millers' agents here have refused orders for fully 8,000 to 9,000 barrels from the Lower Provinces, because bids were too low to suit them, is an unusual circumstance in the flour market. They are not disposed to operate ahead either to any large extent at current rates.

To-day advices from Winnipeg to the two Manitoba milling firms in Montreal quoted wheat 3c. higher at all points, with 18c. freight, the best prices for choice goods being 43 to 44c. This is considered a strong point for an advance, especially as stocks here are only a little over those of last year, viz., 3,000 barrels.

OUR PICKLED EGGS IN BRITAIN.

CANADA'S export egg trade to Great Britain has been of a somewhat unique character during the past season. This applies particularly to the exports of pickled eggs, shipments of them having been very large.

The chief reason for the increase is no doubt due to improved methods of shipping.

Heretofore eggs have been shipped in cases holding 120 dozen, but this season the rule has been to send them in cases of 30 to 36 dozen each. These smaller cases have taken well, and largely increase the sale of Canadian pickled eggs in Great Britain. The steamer which last week left Portland for Liverpool carried 1,100 cases, and that from Boston for Glasgow 800 cases.

Stocks of pickled eggs in Canada are now generally conceded to be pretty well cleaned up.

As far as we can learn, fresh eggs have not done as well as would be desired on the English market. The chief reason appears to be that the eggs were not fresh enough to suit the taste of the English buyers, they being held too long on this side before favorable shipping weather developed.

This fact has increased the desire of shippers for facilities which will enable them to send their eggs forward whether the weather be warm or cold.

Our shipments of eggs to Great Britain for the fiscal year ending June 30th last aggregated 4,184,271 dozen, against 3,449,243 in 1894, and to the United States 2,256,518 against 1,611,881 dozen.

The panicky condition of the United States market prevents eggs being shipped to that country.

ORANGE-FLAVORED TEA.

The religious sentiment of many of the tea brokers in Toronto has not improved during the past couple of weeks. The cause is not their own natural tendency to evil, but an orange flavor which has permeated their samples of tea, which arrived by two mails in succession.

Tea is even more suscep ible to foreign odors than a woman is to flattery. It does not matter whether the odors are sour or sweet, offensive or pleasant, tea will absorb them readily. The samples of tea in question were no exception to the rule. And although they were encased in tin packages, unsealed it is true, they partook of the flavor of the oranges which must have been near them in the ship's hold.

The samples were of course spoilt. If it was the value of the tea alone that was concerned the loss would not be of great moment, but as it prevents the broker from doing business in the particular teas of which they were the samples until fresh lots are sent out from London, the loss is considerable, and is sufficiently serious to demand the attention of the Post-Office Department in order that its repetition may be obviated.

ILL-LOOKING TEA PACKAGES.

EDITOR GROCER, — Can some of your good readers tell me why I cannot buy my Indian and Ceylon teas in nice neat packages similar to those which we now get our China and Japan teas in? It does not matter whether I order a 20-lb. box, or 50-lb. box, or 100-lb. box of these teas, they all come in such rough, untidy looking boxes that I am ashamed to put them in a conspicous place in my store with my other teas.

The other day one of my best customers' little daughter came in for a pound of "your best Indian tea." I had not filled up my regular tea tin, so had to go to my storeroom for some. My small but inquisitive customer following me, saw me take the tea for her order out of a box resembling an ash box, when she remarked: "Mother said it must be your best," and it took me some time to persuade her that anything good, let alone "best," could be contained in such a package.

I could mention several similar cases which have come under my notice, which shews that the public cannot understand this careless way of putting up an article more sensitive and requiring more care than any other article handled by a grocer any more than I can. Thanking you for the space and hoping that the packers of these teas may soon learn that "what is worth doing is worth doing well."

Yours, etc.,

NORMAN MCLEOD.

TORONTO RETAIL GROCERS' ASSOCIATION.

MONDAY night's meeting of the Toronto Retail Grocers' Association was one of the most interesting that has been held for some time : It witnessed the inauguration of the officers elected at the December meeting, and the starting of the after-meeting social hour.

Retiring President F. S. Roberts occupied the chair, and among those present were : J. G. Gibson, R. B. Snow, F. W. Johnston, A. G. Booth, J. S. Bond (vice-president), R. Davies, D. W. Clarke, T. W. Squires, D. Bell, B. Panter, W. J. McCleary, R. M. Corrie (general secretary), Robert Mills (hon. secretary), Martin McMillan (treasurer), A. White (president-elect).

It was decided to defer till the next meeting the matter of considering an At Home.

Secretary Corrie brought up the matter of the cigar and tobacco license. Some of the members considered that the present license fee of $5 shou'd be reduced to $1, and eventually a committee composed of J. G. Gibson, Robert Mills, A. White and F. S. Roberts were appointed to consult the civic authorities regarding the matter.

Hon. Sec. Mills presented the report regarding the special fund, showing a balance on hand of $512 92.

Treasurer McMillan's report showed a balance on hand of $253 in the general fund.

Gen. Sec. Muat-Corrie showed the membership of the association to be 148.

Mr. Roberts retired from the chair, and introduced the new incumbent, Mr. A. White, which event was characterized by much applause. Mr. White followed with a brief and pointed speech. He urged the members to attend the meeting regularly and to come in good time, as he was resolved on opening at 8.30 p. m. sharp. Any duty imposed upon a member should be performed willingly and with expedition. Among the opinions he threw out was one suggesting that the members of the association band themselves together for the purpose of purchasing their supplies in large lots and thus securing better discounts. He urged that by this means they would be better able to compete with the department stores.

A pleasing feature of the meeting was the voting of fifty dollars to Hon. Sec. Mills for services rendered during the two years he has filled his present position. Before the matter was brought up Mr. Mills was, according to prior arrangements, informed he was wanted at the telephone, and by the time he came back the necessary motion had been put and carried.

Mr. A. G. Marmion suggested that the association formulate some scheme whereby, in the event of a member losing his horse through accident or illness, the other members might contribute a fund for reimbursing him. "I think the members of this association should help one another," he said. "Of course some of the members may be too well off or too proud to take the money—(laughter)—but we're not all rich." He gave notice that he would introduce the matter at the next meeting.

The meeting formally adjourned at 10 o'clock, and then a pleasant hour was spent in card-playing, checkers, parlor balls and other games. This was the first occasion this feature was introduced. It was voted a success, and will be continued hereafter.

LARD IS HIGHER.

Lard is occupying a good deal of attention on the Toronto market at the moment.

This is the season when prices are usually favorable to buyers, and, as a consequence, they anticipate their wants to a more or less extent. The extremely low range of values which has obtained up to within the last few days has stimulated the demand to such an extent that the producers have advanced prices three-quarters to one cent per pound, and still there is a good trade doing. Notwithstanding the advance prices are still about a quarter to half cent per pound below the range of values a year ago at this time.

The while the price of pure lard has been so cheap, the price of cotton seed oil, one of the ingredients in the compound article, is relatively high. These two factors have naturally caused a falling off in the sale of the latter.

PEEP INTO A COLD STORAGE WAREHOUSE.

The Toronto Cold Storage Co. has been a success from the first. The necessity for such a plant in a large centre like Toronto was felt for a long time. The new enterprise received immediate patronage from the city dealers, and has assisted these dealers to very materially increase their profits.

Country dealers should find it much to their advantage to send in poultry, eggs, etc., to the cold storage warehouse when it is considered advisable to hold them.

THE CANADIAN GROCER was shown through the large building on Jarvis street, occupied by the Toronto Cold Storage Co., a few days ago, and found a number of rooms filled with all kinds of things that were being kept to await the time when the sale of them would bring greater profits than if sold earlier.

There are sixteen rooms in the three floors, and they are all fitted up with the latest improvements in the way of refrigerators, hooks, etc.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

EDITOR GROCER.—As I know you have the interests of the trade at heart, and are always ready to supply useful information on topics pertaining to such, I would like your opinion in respect to these :

1. Stock-taking time, so much dreaded, is at hand. Providing both partners have equal shares in a business, and it is understood that each is to draw an equal stated amount out during the year for their private use : No. 1 overdraws his account during year $100, and gives No. 2 a note with signature of the firm for the amount, drawing interest so as to balance both accounts and make them equal. How should the interest be paid ; should No. 1 pay it out of his private funds, or should it be drawn out of the business?

2. We pay almost daily bills for freight from London, Hamilton and Toronto ; also frequently we receive express parcels. We receive our bills and pay whatever is asked, not knowing whether rate is correct or not. We sometimes stumble on an error, but on the whole do the thing in the dark. Should not the railway furnish us with freight rates and classification of goods, showing rate on each, and Express Co. do the same.

3. Would it be possible for wholesale houses to mail invoice of goods same day as shipment We often have goods knocking around and getting mislaid before invoice arrives, and I think the claim for shortage arises from that cause.

REMARKS—1. In the event of a partner drawing more than his share from the business the amount of such overdraft should be charged direct to his account. A note should be treated similarly, as the firm—having signed same—is directly responsible for its payment. The interest should be paid by the partner who obtained the loan, and certainly is not chargeable to the firm.

2. The railway and express companies will supply you with classification on your making application, this will enable you to check rates when goods are delivered.

3. Wholesale houses should send on invoices same day as goods are shipped, we know several that would not allow it to be otherwise. We believe a letter to the delinquents will have the desired effect.

THE EDITOR.

SETTLING UP TIME.

This is the month of the year when we ask our subscribers to "pay up." The process of their paying up is an exceedingly pleasant pastime to us, not alone for the many Two Dollars received, but for the many kind words from satisfied intelligent subscribers. Here are examples :

DEAR SIRS,— We herewith hand you five dollars in payment for our subscription for THE CANADIAN GROCER to August 31st, 1896, and one year's subscription for The Dry Goods Review from January 10th. We find THE GROCER an invaluable paper, and no doubt The Review will, also, be its equal for pointers on trade and commerce.

Yours respectfully,
M. B. PERINE & Co.

That's not bad, is it? Here's another :

DEAR SIRS,—Having acquired the interests of Mr. Morris, of the firm of Morris & Co., in future please address THE CANADIAN GROCER to me. I enclose Dominion Express money order $4.50, for payment in arrears and renewal subscription to THE GROCER and The Dry Goods Review. I am very much pleased with THE GROCER and would not be without it if it cost double the price.

Yours faithfully,
Lacombe, Alta. M. J. MACLEOD.

How is this for a wind up?

DEAR SIRS,—Your traveler, or canvasser, called on us last week and we paid him $3 for subscription to THE CANADIAN GROCER and The Dry Goods Review. We couldn't keep store without these papers. Keep right on improving.

Yours trully,
Beamsville, BARRY & Co.

CITY TRAVELERS' NEW PRESIDENT

BY wire-pulling, pipe-laying and sundry other methods, men of mediocre abili y may suddenly spring into positions, but they just as suddenly disappear. They have been found wanting when placed in the balance. The subject of the accompanying sketch, Mr. R. (Muat) Corrie, has for some years not only stood the test of business demands, but as an officer of business men's organizations he has for some years occupied a prominent position. For five years he has been secretary of the Retail Grocers' Association of Toronto, and ever since the inception of the City Travelers' Association he has been a prominent figure of that organization. In the latter association he has filled, as far as my memory serves, every office, the members a couple of weeks ago electing him to the presidency.

Mr. Corrie was born in Dumfries, Scotland. How long ago I don't know. Probably about 37 years, I should judge. But this reminds me that his real name is not Corrie. His right name is Muat. And the way in which his original name was lost sight of leads me to the conclusion that after all there is not much in a name sometimes. When he came to this country as a boy eighteen years ago it was to live with a guardian, whose name was Corrie. A good many people thought he was Mr. Corrie's son, and Corrie, of course, the boy Muat was called by these. As no effort—continuous effort, at any rate—was made to disabuse their minds, his real name gradually became lost in that of his guardian. Those, however, who may contemplate leaving him a million or two of dollars will please take notice that his name is R. Muat.

Mr. Muat-Corrie, for I suppose that is how I should really write his name, before coming to Canada had a good business foundation laid. The most important part of it was during the five years he was with Dakin & Co., the oldest retail tea house in London, England. His first experience in Canada was with Swan Bros., of Toronto. Another well-known house with which he was later on was that of Robert Jaffray & Co., and then he was eight years with James Shields & Co., three of which he was foreman. Since then he has been city salesman for J. W. Cowan & Co., the Toronto Soap Works, and D. Williams & Son. For some years he has been carrying on with much success a manufacturers' agency.

Besides being well versed in business matters, he knows human nature pretty well—a valuable essential to a salesman, while his push and perseverance stand out as prominently as any other of his characteristics.

Mr. Muat-Corrie has had some experience as a soldier as well as a business man, having served five years in the Governor-General's Body Guard, and was sergeant in that regiment during the Northwest rebellion in 1885.

The public will not be kept much longer in suspense regarding the details of the Hudson Bay canal scheme. Col. Scoble is in Winnipeg promoting his application for a charter, but progress is slow owing to the disturbed condition of the Government. However, he has no reason to fear that he will not be successful.

ONTARIO MARKETS.

GROCERIES.

TRADE is not active. Such is not to be expected immediately after the holidays, when retailers are engaged in taking stock. Notwithstanding that business is quiet, it is the general opinion among wholesalers that the turnover is larger than it was this time a year ago. "We appear to be doing a great deal of what we usually do in February," remarked one wholesale man. An increased activity is reported for canned vegetables, particularly peas, although a fair proportion of tomatoes are going out. Teas of Ceylon and Indian growth and Young Hysons are receiving fairly good attention. Molasses are in good demand, with the price of the New Orleans kind dearer. In spice there is a fair demand for allspice, pepper and ginger. There has been no further quotable change in sugar, but the outside markets continue to gather strength. Foreign dried fruits are, as a rule, quiet.

CANNED GOODS.

The demand is fairly active for peas and tomatoes, an improved enquiry having developed for both. The feeling in regard to both these commodities is strong. Fruits are quiet and there are no new features in regard to salmon. We quote: Tomatoes, 77½ to 85c.; corn, 75 to 85c.; peas, 90 to 95c. for ordinary; sifted, $1.25; extra sifted, $1.35; peaches, $2.90 to $3 for 3's, $1.90 to $2 for 2's; raspberries, $1.40 to $2.00; strawberries, $1.80 to $2.45, according to brand and quality; blackberries, $1.90 to $2.20; cherries, $2.40 to $2.45; apples, 3's, 85 to 90c.; gallons, $1 90 to 2.25; salmon, "Horseshoe," $1.35 to $1.40; "Maple Leaf," $1.35; "Lion," $1.35 to $1.40; Lowe Inlet, $1.27 to $1.30, in tall tins; cohoes, $1.10 to $1.20; canned mackerel, $1.10 to $1.20; lobsters, $1.80 to $2.10, for tall tins; flats, $2.35 to $2.65; half tins, $1.45 to $1.50; Canadian canned beef, 1's, $1.35 to $1 45; 2's, $2.25 to $2.35; 6's, 7.50 to $8; 14's, $15 to $16.50.

COFFEE.

There is not a great deal doing, and there is no special feature to note. We quote green in bags: Rio, 19 to 21c.; East Indian, 27 to 30c.; South American, 21 to 23c.; Santos, 19 to 22½c.; Java, 30 to 33c.; Mocha, 33 to 35c.; Maracaibo, 21 to 23c.; Jamaica, 21 to 25c.

SYRUPS.

There is the usual quiet demand for the season. We quote: Dark, 30 to 32c.; medium, 33 to 35c.; bright, 40 to 42c.

MOLASSES.

New Orleans molasses is about 4c. per gallon dearer than it was, and there is an active demand to note as a result. We quote: New Orleans, barrels, 32½ to 35c.; half-barrels, 35 to 37½c.; Barbadoes, barrels, 31 to 35c.; half-barrels, 33 to 37c.

SUGAR.

The outside markets continue strong, with an upward tendency. A cable received by Warren Bros. & Boomer, on Tuesday, from London, announced that quotations for January had advanced to 11s., February to 13s., and June to 13s. 6d. The estimate on the Louisiana crop has been reduced 30,000 tons, Hawaiian, while it is said the rebels in Cuba have issued a proclamation forbidding grinding on penalty of the factories being destroyed. On the local market prices are firm but unchanged. There are a few carload lots moving, but generally speaking the turnover is not large, although fair for the season. We quote: Granulated, 4½ to 4⅝c.; yellows, 3½ to 4c. for dark and extra bright respectively.

SPICES.

There is a fair demand for pepper, ginger and cloves. A further advance has taken place in cream of tartar in the primary markets. We quote: Pure black pepper, 10 to 12c.; pure white, 18 to 25c.; pure Jamaica ginger, 23 to 25c.; cloves, 15 to 20c.; pure mixed spice, 25 to 30c.; cream of tartar, French, 25 to 27c.; ditto, best, 28 to 30c. per lb.; allspice, 14 to 18c.

NUTS.

Trade is quiet and featureless. We quote as follows: Brazil nuts, 14 to 15c.; Sicily shelled almonds, 25 to 26c.; Tarragona almonds, 14 to 14½c.; peanuts, 10 to 12c. for roasted, and 7 to 10c. for green; cocoanuts, $4.50 to $5 per sack; Grenoble walnuts, 12 to 12½c. Marbot walnuts, 11 to 12c.; Bordeaux walnuts, 9c.; Sicily filberts, 8 to 10c. for sacks and 10½ to 11c. for small lots; pecans, 10½ to 11c.

TEAS.

In consequence of the exceptional values offering in Young Hysons, buyers have been tempted to enter the market a little more freely. China blacks—A few sales have been reported this week, with a little better enquiry for good liquoring Monings. Japan teas are neglected. In Ceylon teas the wholesale men have been buying for importation. The kind most in demand have been good mediums. Flavory Pekoes are wanted, but buyers are rather reluctant to pay the price asked to-day in London for these teas. We quote ruling prices to retailers as follows: Young Hysons, 12 to 18c. for low grades, 24 to 27c. for mediums, and 30 to 45c. for high grades; China Congous, 14 to 18c. for mediums, and 25 to 55c. for high grades; Japans, 15 to 20c. for mediums, 28 to 35c. for high grades; Indians and Ceylons, 18 to 22c. for mediums, and 30 to 65c. for high grades.

DRIED FRUITS.

Currants continue in fairly active demand. We quote as follows: Provincials, 3¾ to 4c. in bbls.; Fine Filiatras, in bbls., 4¼ to 4½c.; ditto, half-bbls., 4¼ to 4¾c.; ditto, half-cases, 4¾ to 5c.; Casalinas, cases, 5 to 5¼c.; Vostizzas, cases, 6 to 6½c.; ditto, half-cases, 6½ to 6¾c.; ditto, extra fine, 6¾ to 7¼c.; ditto, half-cases, 7¼ to 7½c.; Panaretas, in cases, 9c.

Valencia raisins continue firm with demand light. Stocks in New York are reported to be 12,000 boxes, compared with 136,000 boxes the same time last year. The consumption there during December was over 30,000 boxes. We quote: Off-stalk, 4½ to 4¾c.; fine off-stalk, 5 to 5¼c.; selected, 6 to 6¼c.; layers, 6½c.

Further advances are to be noted in the price of Bosnia prunes, according to advices from Trieste. The advance is more marked in the smaller sizes, which are about 1s. 6d. dearer. The demand is fair on the local market and good demand is looked for later on owing to the small crop of domestic fruits. The higher grade prunes are also firmer in California. We quote prunes: Bosnias, "Sphinx" brand, "A," 65 to lb., 9c.; "B," 75 to lb. 7¾c., "U," 102 to lb., 6½ to 6¾c.; California prunes, 40-50, 10 to 10½c. per lb.; 50-60, 9½c. per lb.; 60-70, 9c.; 70 80, 8½c. per lb.; French, 5 to 6c.

California dried and evaporated fruits are quiet with very low prices offering for loose muscatels. Apricots are firm and dear. Peaches are steady with some lower grades offering. Peaches in bags are being offered by the wholesale houses as low as 8c. per lb. We quote: Apricots, 15 to 16c.; peaches, 8c., in bags, and 10 to 15c. in boxes; pears, 10½ to 12½c.; plums, 6½c. for unpitted, and 12½c. for pitted; nectarines, 11 to 13c.; loose muscatels, 5½ to 6½c. per lb.

Eleme figs are quiet and unchanged. We quote: Eleme, 14 oz., 9 to 10½c.; 10 lb., 9½ to 12½c.; 12 lb., 12½c.; 28 lb., 15c

GREEN FRUIT.

Trade is seasonably quiet in all kinds of green fruit, and will remain so till milder weather sets in. The feature of the trade this week is a further decline in the price of oranges, which are from 25 to 50c. per box. We quote: Lemons—Messina, $2.50 to $3.50 for 360's and 300's respectively per box; Oranges—Jamaicas, $4.50; fancy, $5; California navels, $4 to $4 75; Valencias, 420's, $4 25 to $4.75; Jumbo's, 420's, $6.25 to $6.50; ditto, 714's, $5.52 to $5 75; Mexicans, $5 to $5.50 per box. Bananas, $1.25 to $1.75; cocoanuts, $3.50 to $4 a sack; apples, $1.50 to $3 a barrel; Malaga grapes, $5 to $7

BUTTER AND CHEESE.

BUTTER—Trade is still principally confined to large rolls, receipts of which are considerably in excess of requirements, and prices are easier. There is not much doing in creamery butter, owing, to some extent, to the low price of dairy rolls. We quote: Early summer dairy, store packed, 8 to 12c.; good to choice fresh packed, 14 to 15c.; large rolls, fresh, 13 to 15c.; dairy pound prints, 15½ to 17c. Fresh creamery—Tubs, 19½ to 20c.; do., pound prints, 21 to 22c.

CHEESE—There is no special feature to note, beyond the fact that the country market continues strong. We quote: Summer make, 9c.; Sept. and Oct., 9½ to 10c.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

BEANS—Trade continues quiet. Prime medium are quoted at $1 to $1.10.

DRIED APPLES—Continue dull at 4c.

EVAPORATED APPLES — Business continues dull at 6½ to 7c.

EGGS—Fresh eggs are firm and wanted. We quote: Fresh, 17 to 18c.; packed, 14½ to 15c.

HONEY—A fair demand is being experienced for honey at quotations. We quote: Strained, clover, 10 to 10½c.; dark, 5c.; comb, clover, $1.80 per dozen; dark, 84c. per dozen.

POTATOES—The market is a little easier at 20 to 23c. on track and 25 to 30c. per bag out of store. The potato dealers are practically doing nothing.

TURNIPS—There is no local demand, but a good many are being exported to the Southern States.

POULTRY—Demand is limited. We quote: Geese, 5 to 6c. per lb.; turkeys, 7 to 8c. per lb.; chickens, 25 to 50c. per pair; ducks, 40 to 75c. per pair.

PROVISIONS AND DRESSED HOGS.

There has been a slight revival in the provision trade, especially in lard, which is about 1c. per lb. dearer. Carload lots of dressed hogs have changed hands on track at $4.50 to $4.60.

SMOKED MEATS — Breakfast bacon, 10c.; rolls, 7 to 7¼c.; hams, large, 22 lbs. and over, 9c.; medium, 15 to 20 lbs., 10c.; small hams, 10c.; backs, 9 to 9½c.; picnic hams, 7c.; all meats out of pickle, 1c. less than above.

LARD—Pure Canadian, tierces, 7¾ to 8c.; tubs, 8 to 8¼c.; pails, 8¼ to 8½c.

BARREL PORK—Canadian heavy mess, $13.50; Canadian short-cut, 14 to $14.50; clear shoulder mess, $12; shoulder mess, $11.50.

DRESSED BEEF, VEAL AND MUTTON.

Trade is fairly good. We quote: Forequarters, $2 to $4 per 100 lbs.. hindquarters, $5 to $7.50, according to quality; lamb, 7½c.; mutton, 5½ to 6c.; veal, 5 to 6½c.

FISH.

Business is still light and prices unchanged. We quote oysters: Standards at $1.30 to $1.35, and selects $1.60. Fish are quoted as follows: Skinned and boned codfish, 6½c.; boneless fish, 3½ to 4c.; haddock, 5 to 6c.; Labrador herring, $3.25 to $3.50 per half barrel and $5.50 to $5.75 per barrel; Newfoundland herring, $2.50 per half barrel, and $4.50 to $4.75 per barrel; fresh water salt herring, $3 per barrel; blueback herring, 3c.; pike, 6 to 7c. per lb.; flitched cod, 5c.; finnan haddies, 6½c.; Digby herring, in bundles of 5 boxes, 11c.; ditto, lengthwise, 10c.; large halibut, 12 to 15c.; Restigouche salmon, 20 to 25c.; British Columbia salmon, 13 to 14c.; mackerel, 20 to 25c.; steak cod, 6½ to 7c.; haddock, 5c.; black bass, 9 to 10½c. Fresh Lake Erie herring, $4 per 100; whitefish, 8 to 9c.; salmon trout, 7½ to 8c.; Lake Superior whitefish, 8c.; Lake Winnipeg whitefish, 7½ to 8c.

FLOUR AND FEED.

WHEAT—Prices are higher than a week ago. We quote: White, 71½ to 72c.; red, 69c.; goose, 54c.

BARLEY—There have been sales on the street at 40 to 44½c.

OATS—Remain much as before at 28 to 29c.

FLOUR—The market is strong, with demand good. We quote: Old crop Manitoba patents, $4.10, and bakers', $3.70; new crop, patents, $3.80, and bakers', $3.50.

SALT.

Business has improved during the week, and is now good. Prices are unchanged. We quote at Toronto: In carload lots, $1 per barrel, and 60c. per sack; in less than carload lots, $1.05 per barrel and 65c. per sack. At the wells we quote: F.O.B.

QUEBEC MARKETS.

MONTREAL, Jan. 16, 1896.

GROCERIES.

THE want of snow is a general complaint with the jobbing trade here, who assert that their business in Quebec, the Ottawa Valley and Eastern Ontario is seriously interfered with for this reason. The expectation was for a sensible improvement in the volume of business during the week under review, and the fact that it has not come is generally attributed to the above fact. Few features are to note, nor are there any changes in values in any of the important lines. Staple lines, such as sugar, tea, dried fruit, etc., continue precisely as they were, so far as the spot position is concerned.

SUGAR.

The sugar market continues firm, but business is quieter than it was, jobbers having supplied themselves. Demand from retailers is not brisk this week, and is confined to small orders. We quote granulated 4½ to 4⅝c., and yellows 3½ to 4c.

SYRUPS.

There is no change in syrups this week. The want of snow is interfering with the distributive movement in Quebec Province and also in Ontario. We quote 1¾c. for ordinary, and 2½ to 3c. for bright stock.

MOLASSES.

The local situation in molasses remains unchanged, business ruling quiet. We quote: Barbadoes, 36 to 37c., and Porto Rico, 34 to 35c. In a large way the only sales of importance have been some carload lots of Barbadoes at 35c.

RICE.

The rice market rules quiet and unchanged. We quote: Japan standard, $4.25 to $4.40; crystal Japan, $4.75 to $5; standard B., $3.45; English style, $3.30; Patna $4.25 to $5, and Carolina, $6.50 to $7.50.

SPICES.

There is no change in spices locally, and nothing very interesting in outside advices. We quote: Pure black pepper, 10 to 12c.; pure white, 15 to 22c.; pure Jamaica ginger, 23 to 25c.; cloves, 15 to 20c.; pure mixed spice, 25 to 30c.; cream of tartar, French, 25 to 27c.; ditto, best, 28 to 30c. per lb.; allspice, 12 to 15c.

COFFEE.

There is a fair demand for coffees of a jobbing character. Prices generally are steady as follows: We quote green in bags: Maracaibo, 20 to 21c.; Rio, 19 to 20c.; Java, 28c.; Jamaica, 20 to 21c., and Mocha, 32c.

TEAS.

The tea market is quiet and unchanged on the whole. Jobbers appear to be supplied for the immediate future, for they are not doing much either in Japans or medium priced China teas. In the former low priced teas continue scarce, but there appears to be enough of other kinds to go round without causing any special enquiry. Indian and Ceylon teas continue in fair enquiry in a jobbing way. We quote Japans: Low grades, 14c.; medium, 15 to 18c.; fine, 20 to 22c., and choice, 25 to 32c.

DRIED FRUIT.

There is a fair jobbing demand for Valencia raisins. We quote: Ordinary off-stalk, 4 to 4¼c.; fine do., 4½ to 4¾c.; selected, 5 to 5¼c., and layers, 6½ to 7c.

No change is to note in California raisins, which meet a fair demand at 5½ to 6c. for 3-crown, and 6¾ to 7c. for 4-crown fruit.

Table raisins are quiet and steady at present: We quote Malagas as follows: Extra loose muscatels, $1.40; Imperial London layers, $1.75; Imperial cabinets, $1.90; Connoisseur clusters, $2 20; extra dessert clusters, $3; Royal Buckingham clusters, $3.50.

Sultanas move quietly and steadily at 6¼ to 6½c. for ordinary grades.

Currants are in fair demand to fill up blanks in stocks. Prices are firm and advices from primary markets are equally so. We quote: 3¾c. in barrels, 4 to 4¼c. in half-barrels, and 4½ to 4¾c. in cases.

A moderate demand is noted for prunes at steady prices. We quote: French, 5c.; Bosnia, 6 to 6¼c., and California 7 to 10c. as to size.

Figs are steady and quiet at the following: Bags, 4c.; ordinary boxed, 8½ to 9c., and fancy, 12 to 14c.

Dates are the same as noted last week, at 4½ to 5c.

NUTS.

There is a fair seasonable trade in nuts, which is of the usual moderate volume characteristic of the season. We quote: Grenoble walnuts, 11½ to 12½c.; filberts, 7½ to 8c.; Tarragona almonds, 11½ to 12½c.; new pecans, 9 to 12c., and new shelled walnuts, 18 to 20c.

CANNED GOODS.

There are few features to report in canned goods, any demand noted being confined strictly to supplying actual necessities. We quote: Lobsters, talls, $8 per case; flats, $9 to $9.50; sardines, ordinary brands, $7 to $8.50; best brands, $9.50 to $10.50; salmon, $1.25 to $1.30 per doz.; tomatoes, 75 to 80c.; peaches, $2 to $2.25; corn, 85 to 90c.; marrowfat peas, 95c. to $1; strawberries, $2 to $2.25; raspberries, $1.75 to $2; green gages, $1.75 to $2; blue plums or damsons, $1.50 to $1.75; pineapples, $2 to $2.25 and 3-lb. apples, 80 to 85c.

WINES AND SPIRITS.

Business in this branch of trade is motionless, aside from an occasional sorting order. Import business has not commenced yet on spring account.

GREEN FRUIT.

The green fruit market has exhibited a moderate degree of activity during the past week, but few new or striking features are to note.

ORANGES—These are not as active as they were, and prices are soft at the decline, viz.: Jamaicas, $8 to $9 per barrel, and $4 to $4.50 per box; Valencias, 420's, $3.75 to $4, and 714's, $4 50 to $5.

LEMONS—Continue dull and unchanged at $2.50 to $3.

GRAPES — Malaga grapes move quietly and steadily at $5 to $6 per keg, as to quality.

CRANBERRIES—The easy feeling on these continues, and the range is lower at $8.50 to $10 per barrel, as to quality.

APPLES—Dull and easy in tone at $2 to $3.50, as to grade.

TORONTO - - ONTARIO

DRIED, ETC.—Dried apples range from 4 to 4½c., and evaporated, 6 to 6½c.

SPANISH ONIONS—There is no change in these, which we quote at 40c. per crate.

FISH.

The fish market has materially benefitted by the cold weather, which has stimulated the jobbing demand on city acccunt. Fresh herrings here rule scarce, but prices are unchanged. We quote: Fresh haddock and cod at 3½ and 4c.; pickled No. 1 Labrador herrings at $5.25, No. 1 N.S. at $4.25 to $4.50; and ordinary grades $3 to $4 per bbl.; No. 2 Labrador salmon, $13 per bbl.; B. C. salmon, $10.50 to $11: No. 1 lake trout, $4 25 per keg; No. 1 green cod at $4.25 to $4.50; No. 2 at $2.75 to $3; No. 1 mackerel at $20; No. 1 pickled sardines at $4 50 per bbl. Dried and boneless cod, $4.25 to $4.50 per 100 lbs. for dried; 5½ to 6c. per lb. for boneless; 5c. per lb. for boneless haddock; 3¼c. per lb. for fish, and 11c. per lb. for shredded. Smoked haddies, 6½ to 7c. per lb., kippered herrings at $1.40 to $1.50 per box, Yarmouth and bay bloaters at 90c. per box, and smoked herrings at 8 to 10c. per lb.

PROVISIONS AND DRESSED HOGS.

There is little change in the situation of the provision market. The demand for all lines is limited, and trade continues slow. We quote: Canadian short cut, clear, $13.50; Canadian short cut, mess, $14; hams, city cured, per lb., 9c.; lard, Canadian, in pails, 8c.; bacon, per lb., 9 to 10c.; lard, com. refined, per lb., 6¼c.

The demand for dressed hogs was fair, and the tone of the market is firm. Car lots of nice, fresh stock sold at $4.80 to $4 90 per 100 lbs., and in a jobbing way $5.25 to $5.50 was paid.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

EGGS—There was no change in eggs, and values are steady. We quote: Boiling stock, 18 to 20c; Montreal limed, 14 to 15c.; western limed, 13½ to 14c., and held fresh, 13½ to 14c. per dozen.

BEANS—The demand for beans was slow and the market dull. We quote: Car lots of choice hand-picked at $1 to $1.05, and small quantities at $1.10 to $1.20.

POULTRY—Enquiry for turkeys was good, and nice fresh stocks have a ready sale at 7½ to 8c. Chickens are scarce and wanted, while ducks and geese are little enquired for. Choice fresh killed turkeys sold at 7½ to 8c.; chickens, 6 to 6½c.; ducks, 7 to 7½., and geese at 5 to 5½c. per lb.

FLOUR, MEAL AND FEED.

The flour market has developed marked activity during the past week, and prices are much firmer than they were. We quote: Winter wheat, $3.60 to $3.80; spring wheat, patents, $3 75 to $3.85; straight roller, $3 30 to $3 40; straight roller, bags, $1.60 to $1.65; extra, bags, $1.40 to $1.45; Manitoba strong bakers', $3 40 to $3.65.

The demand for oatmeal was slow, and the market is quiet, with no change in prices to note. We quote: Standard, bbls., $2.85 to $2.95; granulated, bbls., $2.90 to $3; rolled oats, bbls., $2.90 to $3.

A fair business was done in feed, and the market is moderately active and steady. We quote: Bran, $14 to $15; shorts, $15 to $16; mouillie, $19 to $20.

CHEESE AND BUTTER.

The cheese market maintains its healthy tone, and buyers are picking up cheese wherever they find a seller. The latter, however, are very firm in their views, being strongly disposed to obtain 9½c. and over for finest fall makes. So far, we have not heard of any important transactions on that basis, but it is reported that quite a few lots were put through to-day at within a fraction of that price. The public cable advanced 6d. to-day.

Butter continues quiet and steady in a jobbing way, at 20½c. for creamery, and 14 to 18c. for dairy stock.

HAY.

The firm feeling in hay has been accentuated since last writing, and prices are 50c. to $1 per ton higher, at $14 50 to $15 for No. 1 and $13.50 to $14 for No. 2.

ASHES.

There has been an easier feeling in ashes, and under large receipts prices are 10c. lower, at $3.60 for first pots and $3.40 for seconds. Pearls are purely nominal in the absence of business.

MONTREAL NOTES.

J. A. Mathewson & Co. have just turned into stock a shipment of Lazenby's jellies.

Geo. Childs & Co. landed this week a shipment of Griffin & Skelley's fine Santa Clara prunes.

There are no Valencia raisins at all, from ordinary to fine off-stalk, in first hands here, of any consequence.

Rose & Laflamme note an increasing demand for Indian teas, "Ram Lal" sharing in it with other grades.

Laporte, Martin & Cie. call attention to their large stock of teas, full particulars being given in this week's advertisement.

A. P. Tippet & Co. note an increasing demand this season for the larger and finer sizes of Santa Clara California prunes.

The easier tone in raw sugar in Europe is attributed to political complications. It is not expected to have any effect on values here.

Laporte, Martin & Cie. received the first carload of a shipment of No. 1 Barbadoes molasses on Tuesday. Others follow during the week.

Joseph Tetley & Co. call attention to their new season's teas referred to in last week's advertisement. Samples sent on application.

H. & A. Allan have decided to use Radnor Water on their mail steamers. "We have had some of the Radnor Water analyzed and the result is highly satisfactory," they write.

NEW BRUNSWICK MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE CANADIAN GROCER.

ST. JOHN, N.B., Jan. 16, 1896.

BUSINESS continues quiet, stocks held being large in many cases. In fact, they are larger than usual owing to prices ruling so low during the late fall and the last months of the year, particularly sugar, beans, flour, oatmeal, pork and lard. In some of these lines large quantities are bought ahead. It is a doubtful question if there is an advantage in such large stocks in a market no larger than ours. In many cases the smaller dealers, often not strictly wholesalers, have been able to buy as low as the larger dealers, and in proportion have as large a stock. Then the presence of stocks in the hands of those anxious to do business tends to keep the price below the market, and a much smaller per cent. of profit is made, while interest, risk and labor is much more. The lack of snow has very much lessened the volume of business in all lines.

SALT—There is nothing moving; it is the dull season. Fair stocks are held here, some in bond, which is not usual. The fish caught at this season are sold frozen, which is one reason of the quiet. We quote: Coarse, 50 to 55c.; fine factory-filled, 95c. to $1.10; 5-lb. bags, $3.25 per bbl.; 10-lb. bags, $3 per bbl.; 20-lb. boxes, 20c.; 10-lb. boxes, 12c.; cartoons, $1.90 to $2 per doz.; dairy, bulk, $2.80 per bbl.; cheese, bulk, $2.70 per bbl.

OIL—There is good business doing in burning oil, at even prices. The great bulk sold in the city is American. For one grade of Canadian as high a price is asked, but the larger quantity of the Canadian sold is at a lower price. In lubricating oil this the first season and little is doing. We quote: Best American, 23¼c.; best Canadian, 21½c.; prime, 19c. No charge for barrels.

CANNED GOODS—In all light groceries the movement is particularly small, there being not even the excitement of an advancing market. And then, when out of season, there is a less demand, as goods are bought largely to last through a season. No advertisements in THE GROCER are better gotten up, or attracting more interest, than those of the different canners. In salmon this year the chief brand on this market, or perhaps it would be better to say, the brand of which there is the largest quantity in stock, is the O-Wee-Kay-No. For some years it has been the British America, but the others this season were somewhat cheaper. We quote as follows: Corn, 85 to 90c.; peas, 90 to 95c.; tomatoes, 90 to 95c.; corned beef, 2-lb. tins, $2.60 to $2.75; 1-lb. tins, $1.50 to $1.60; oysters, 2's, $2 to $2 25; 1's, $1.60 to $1.65; peaches, 3's, $2.85 to $2.90; 2's, $1.90 to $2; lobsters, $1.75 to $2; haddies, $1.40; salmon, $1 35 to $1.50; flat, $1.75; clams, $5.50 for 4 doz.; chowder, $3 for 2 doz.; scallops, $5.50 for 4 doz.; Digby chickens, $1; pineapples, $2.35; kippered herring, $1.10; American peaches, $2.40.

DRIED FRUIT—In this line there is little to say that is new. There is rather more inquiry for dried apples, and those holding Nova Scotia are beginning to want to sell; market is, however, dull. There is rather more movement in evaporated, though not any particular demand, prices being rather firmer. Some are buying. The dates to hand this season are looking very nice. Prunes are quiet with a few California to hand. There are no California evaporated fruits moving. Peanuts are reported rather firmer. We quote: New Valencias, 5 to 6c.; new figs, 10 to 12c.; new 4-crown Cal. L. M. raisins, 6 to 7c.; new 3-crown Cal. L.M. raisins, 5½ to 6c.; keg prunes, 4c.; boxes, 4¾ to 6c.; new Cal. L. L. raisins, $1.50 to $1.75; new currants, bbls., 3¾ to 4c.; half-cases, 4 to 4½c.; new evaporated apples, 7 to 7½c.; dried apples, 5 to 6c.; dates, 4½ to 5c.; California evaporated peaches, 12 to 13c.; do. apricots, 12 to 14c.; do. pears, 12 to 13c.; clean currants, bulk 5 to 6½c.; 1-lb. cartoons, 7 to 7½c.; Canadian onions, $2 to $2.25 per bbl.; cocoanuts, $4 to $4.50 per 100; citron, 15 to 16c.; orange, 13 to 14c.; lemon, 12 to 13c.; Valencia layers, 6 to 6½c.

GREEN FRUIT—Apples are rather higher; there is no large stock here. Nova Scotia exporters are well satisfied with returns from England. But few California oranges are yet to hand; a few Floridas are seen in the retail stores. They get 65c. per dozen, while Valencias are retailing as low as 17c. per dozen. Some West India oranges here are very nice quality, and retail at about 30c. In lemons, price is lower. Cranberries continue in light demand, owing to high price. The cold weather keeps movement light. Bananas are only seen in the retail stores. We quote: Lemons, $3 to $4; West India oranges, $6 to $7 per bbl.; Malaga grapes, $5 to $6; Valencia oranges, $3.75 to $4.50; Pippins and winter fruit, $1.50 to $3; native cranberries, $8 per bbl.; Cape Cod do., $11 to $12 per bbl.

DAIRY PRODUCE—There is no improvement along these lines. Butter of medium quality continues plenty, with light sale, and while good is hard to get, there is difficulty in getting an extra price. Creamery prints are in but fair demand. In eggs, while high prices are paid for hennery stock, case eggs sell slowly. Cheese shows little improvement, there being but light demand, and English price is low. We quote: Cheese, 9 to 9½c.; butter, 17 to 18c.; eggs, 17 to 19c.; fresh creamery prints, 23 to 24c.; tubs, 21 to 22c.

MOLASSES—Price is rather easier than was expected, though holders of good grades are not pushing sales except at firm figures. New Orleans in barrels, which has been so largely sold here, giving good satisfaction, is very firm, while syrup is also firm at quotation, showing a good demand. Stocks of Barbadoes, contrary to what was expected, are larger than at this season last year, and by some low prices are quoted. We quote: Barbadoes, 30 to 33c.; St. Croix, 30 to 32c.; Porto Rico, 34 to 36c.; syrup, 35 to 38c.; Trinidad, 32 to 33c.; New Orleans, bbls., 35 to 36c.

SUGAR—Price has been again advanced. Stocks held are in some cases reported large for this market, one firm holding over 4 000 barrels and another over 3,000, with other dealers well stocked. In the above there are some yellows, but the larger part is granulated. Demand is not large. We quote: Granulated, 4.60c. to 4⅝c.; yellow, 3½ to 3¾c.; Paris lump, 5¼ to 5½c.; powdered, 5¼ to 5½c.

FISH—Quite a quantity of frozen trout were received from Quebec during the past week. The arrivals of frozen fish have been light. A better business is expected this week. There is a good demand. A large business is also being done in shipping bloaters, haddies and boneless fish west. The West India market is still dull. Smoked herring move very slowly. Dry fish are firm. We quote as follows: Frozen herring, 60 to 70c. per 100; frozen cod and haddock, 2¼ to 2½c.; bloaters, 60c.; haddies, 4½c.; Medium cod, $3.35 to $3.50; large, $3.65 to $3.75; small, $2.25 to $2.50; pollock, $1.50; bay herring, $1.25 to $1.30; Grand Manan, $1.30 to $1.40; ripplings, $1.65 to $1.70; wolves, $1.90 to $2; Quoddy River, $2.75 to $3; smoked, 5 to 6c.; shad, half-bbl., pickled, $4.50 to $5; Canso, $5; halfs, $2.75; Shelburne, $2.75 to $3 per bbl.

PROVISIONS—There has been quite an active week. Owing to advance in prices many dealers have bought quite largely in pork and lard. Though lard is firmer some of the lowest prices of the season have been quoted during the week. The advance in pork has so far been about 50c. per bbl. Beef as yet shows no change. Little business is yet doing in smoked meat except by local curers. We quote: Domestic mess pork, $14.50 to $15; American, $14 to $14.50; clear pork, $15.50 to $16; beef, $13 to $14; pure lard, 8¾ to 9c.; compound lard, 8c.; rolls, 8c.; hams, 10½ to 12c.

FLOUR FEED AND MEAL—Market tends upward, and fair sales are reported by millers. A combine among the smaller Manitoba mills is reported, and they are making a push for business. In oatmeal there is also an advance, and dealers have bought largely in many cases ahead to arrive. Oats are also firm, though still low. Beans show no change, but the feeling is for higher figures. In hay price continues high, with large quantities going to the American market. Buckwheat meals show light demand. We quote: Manitoba, $4.35 to $4.60; best Ontario, $4 to $4.10; medium, $3 90 to $3.95; oatmeal, $3 60 to $3 70; cornmeal, $2.30 to $2.35; hand picked beans, $1.20 to $1.25; prime, $1.10 to $1.15; split peas, $3 70; pot barley, $4.10 to $4.25; hay, $12 to $13; oats, 34 to 36c.; middlings, $19 to $20 on track; bran, $18.; buckwheat meal, domestic, $1.25 to $1.30; western, $1.75 to $2.

ST. JOHN NOTES.

About one car of fish per day is being sent west, largely haddies, bloaters, boneless cod and frozen fish.

John Sealy received a large consignment of frozen fish this week. He makes regular shipments west, where he has a large trade.

Brooms and brushes are being quoted rather lower. The most marked change is in brooms. The cause is the lower price of stock.

St. John merchants shou'd push for a direct steamer to Porto Rico. Halifax now has one. We have fish and other goods to send. Porto Rico molasses is also a favorite here. A large quantity of extra quality arrived here this season.

The exports of New Brunswick to the United States for 1895 exceed those for 1894 by $807,000. The total exports aggregated $2,219,000.

At the last meeting of the Board of Trade a letter was read from the Provincial Government promising co-operation in the matter of cold storage.

Quite a large seizure of bass under size was made here during the week. It is hoped this will stop a practice which hurts no one more than the fishermen.

J. K. Dunlop, Jr., has opened a hay, oats, feed and flour store on Mill street. He is in a new building fitted up for the business near the railway, and should do a large trade.

One shipper of cattle by the steamers sailing from here brought with him a car of feed to send across with his cattle. He was not a little surprised, as well as somewhat disappointed, to find he could have bought it better here.

SUGAR OF THE EMPIRE.

An English exchange says: At a meeting of the London Royal Colonial Institute at London, recently, a paper was read by Mr. Justice Conde Williams, of Mauritius, on "The Future of Our Sugar-Producing Colonies." Mr. Justice Williams said that the all-important question just now was, can the struggle against the bounty-fed product be longer maintained by our own sugar-producing colonies? If the home market alone were available the answer would be in the negative; but, fortunately, there were other markets in the great colonies and in the United States. In view of possibilities it was desirable in the case of all our West Indian possessions, and essential in the case of some of them, to maintain at all hazards the manufacture of sugar. This could only be done, without loss to the producer, by perfecting the methods of manufacture. The hour had arrived for adopting the central factory system, which was freely employed by other countries. British Guiana contained possibilities of wealth beyond the dreams of avarice. The colony was as large as the British Isles, and with a population of less than three to the square mile, its exports in 1893-94, in spite of all bounties and depression, amounted to nearly £2,500,000, of which more than £1,500,000 was in sugar and rum, and £500,000 in gold, obtained almost wholly from alluvial washing. The output of gold had increased tenfold during the past five years. Vast upland regions remained to be exploited, prolific in every resource and condition of tropical culture. Mr. Justice Williams said he believed in the hopeful culture of our sugar-producing colonies, no less than in the future of cane sugar itself, when at length freed from the subsidized competition of what was after all a very inferior rival."

HALIFAX TRADE GOSSIP.

THE reports from Toronto and Montreal of a rise in flour have not affected this market, and prices are not likely to change for some time at least. A good business is being done in Manitobas.

The local sugar market remains firm at prices quoted last week. The refinery is doing a good business.

Hay is in good demand. An Amherst firm is offering good prices for an exportable article. Halifax quotation is about $11.50 in car lots, which is mainly for Quebec hay.

Stocks of creamery and roll butter are large, and the enquiry is only light. Creamery in tubs is worth 22c., and dairy rolls 18c.

"Eggs, 10 cents per dozen," was the sign displayed in an Argyle street store all last week. It did not attract custom, though it certainly attracted attention. Housekeepers fight shy of eggs at that price at this season of the year. Guaranteed fresh stock is worth 20c. retail.

The local cheese market is somewhat firmer, though prices have not come up any. Antigonish September is sold at 10½c.

The green fruit market is very quiet after the holidays. Stocks are light and there is little or no demand. Good eating apples are worth $3. Grapes have gone up somewhat, $6 being asked for heavy kegs. Valencia oranges are cheaper.

There is some enquiry from the west for frozen herring, but otherwise the fish market is without interest.

The demand for molasses is quiet. A sale of 100 puncheons Trinidad to Boston is reported.

P. E. Island potatoes were never so low in this market, and shippers are billed to lose heavily. They are selling at 15c. per bushel from schooner, which is only a small advance on first cost.

P.E. Island oats are in fair demand at 34c.

The provision market is unchanged.

Canned goods are meeting with little or no enquiry, but dealers look for business next month.

The poultry market is depressed. Good Ontario turkeys are retailing at 10c., and geese, ducks and chickens at proportionately low rates.

A fire at Kentville last Sunday destroyed the grocery stores of S. S. Strong, and Dodge & Dennison. Strong's loss is $3,000, and he has $1,200 insurance. Dodge & Dennison's loss is $2,000, with $500 insurance. The latter firm saved most of their stock.

THE CANADIAN GROCER is this week in receipt of a unique New Year's card from one of its old subscribers, A. Neilson, general merchant, Manitowaning, Ont. It is of birch bark with the letters and decorations in porcupine quills of green, purple, pink, yellow and white. We shall preserve it for posterity.

"CUTTING" IN PAPER.

EDITOR GROCER, — The "talk" about war, the dissolution, the bolters and the cut in price of paper and paper products, are stirring topics in Canada just now, and as we are getting a full share of attention from your readers in connection with alleged "cutting," permit us to say that every course and action leading to or encouraging these ends is disastrous.

Much of the "talk" is senseless and much of the "bluster" is reckless.

Some song writer has flippantly condensed England's position in the event of war into a couple of lines of jingle.

Permit us for the benefit of the trades interested in paper and paper bags to parody the rhyme—but not with less force and truth—so as to show our position, thus :

We don't want to cut, but by Jingo if we do,
We've got the mills, we've got the stock, we'll get the business too.

It has been said that the action of "the bolters" reminds one of the pets of "Little Bo-Peep"; and this brings to us the recollection that we lost a few customers for paper last year and the year before because we would not then meet, with our better stock, an inferior sheet at a "cut" price. However, most of the friends who left us then have returned or are returning to the fold, for when left alone they all come home and bring their tails (tales of poor quality and indifferent treatment received elsewhere) behind them. Yours, etc.,

THE E. B. EDDY, CO., LTD.

Hull, Canada, January, 1896.

DEARTH OF GROCERY SALESMEN.

From all indications there is a rapidly-increasing dearth of first-class traveling salesmen to travel among the grocery trade. In one Philadelphia newspaper of last Sunday there were eight advertisements for wholesale grocery salesmen. Six of these were by Philadelphia houses, and one by a New York house who wanted a Philadelphia salesman. The eighth was by another New York concern who wanted a Philadelphia manager.

The strong point of all these advertisements was that they all, in nearly the same words, stated that they were after men who had "established trade." Not a great while ago the supply of good salesmen was fully equal to, if not in excess of, the demand. The present tremendous competition, however, and the hundred and one schemes which are used to-day to capture trade, have resulted in a raising of the standard, so that the grocery salesman who could succeed five or ten years ago may be now very nearly a failure.

This condition means that there is a first-class chance for young men who want to make their mark in the world. A young man who has the selling talent is more in demand to-day than he ever was before. If any young grocer or clerk reading this paper has the faculty of a salesman, he will do well to leave the retail grocery business for the wider and more remunerative field of road work.—Grocery World, Philadelphia.

P. E. I. WANTS A DIRECT STEAMER.

Great interest is being taken in Prince Edward Island in dairying, and a cold storage warehouse and a direct steamer to England are among the things hoped for in the near future. Since the first of the year a shipment of 15,000 lbs. fresh made butter was sent to Halifax for the English market. The central depot in Charlottetown turned out since December 3rd 25,000 lbs.; and another season a great deal more is expected. There are two other creameries at work, turning out about 5,00 lbs. each per week. The output of cheese during the season ending about October 31st was 1,750,000 lbs., and of butter 55,000 lbs. The manufacturing is in the charge of the Government.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Mr. C. E. Dubord, of Quebec, manufacturer of the "Dominion" and "Phœnix" matches, was in Toronto this week.

Mr. George Lightbound, of Montreal, is in Toronto this week looking up business.

Mr. Roberts, the northern "Snow Drift" man, is just in from his first trip north, and while trade is not booming, his men have met their obligations well. He looks forward hopefully to a fair year's work.

Much interest is being taken in Bothwell in regard to oil at the present time. The Gatling well will be in shape for pumping just as soon as all preparations can be completed. The drilling at the Crowell well has been going on steadily, and this well will be pumping in a very short time. The Moore Bros. have shut down their well in order to rebuild their tanks, which were leaking badly. They have now got them in good repair, and again running, the well producing a good supply of oil.

The grocery store of J. M. Rousseaux, King street east, Hamilton, was entered by thieves Monday night and a large quantity of tea and coffee and $9 in money stolen. The money was taken from the safe, the door of which had been unintentionally left open. This is another instance in which entrance was effected with the aid of a duplicate or skeleton key.

AMERICAN TOMATO PACK.

THE sixteenth annual report of The American Grocer shows the total pack of tomatoes in 1895, in comparison with the output of previous years, and demonstrates that an earnest and successful effort has been made to bring supply and demand into their proper relation. The acreage was reduced in nearly every tomato-packing state; and this, coupled with unfavorable weather, a delayed season and early closing, resulted in a pack of 3,844,780 cases, against 6,686,979 cases in 1894—a reduction of 2,842,199 cases, or 42½ per cent. A careful study of the output for three years indicates that under normal conditions the annual requirements of the United States are amply met by a pack of 4,500,000 cases—in fact, the actual consumption has not reached that quantity. The total output in three years—1893-95—was 15,166,942 cases, a yearly average of 5,055,647 cases. Had not this supply been beyond requirements, the market would have advanced. The fact that prices throughout the year have ruled comparatively steady, at or below the cost of production, is sufficient evidence that the output has been enough greater than requirements to keep the market down. The law of supply and demand is inexorable, and if the former is below the latter, it is inevitable that prices improve. They have not advanced, and the conclusion must be reached that invisible stocks are larger than estimated. The total output in 1895 and 1894 (revised to include districts not heretofore reported) compares with the pack of previous years as follows:

Year.	Cases of 2 doz. tins each.
1892	3,366,792
1891	3,405,365
1889	2,976,765
1888	3,343,137
1887	2,817,048
Total for nine years	34,242,226
Average per year	3,804,692
Average per year 1894-95	5,265,879

PROSPECTING IN HAMILTON.

In a report of the meeting of the Finance Committee of the Council, The Hamilton Herald says: In connection with the application for exemption from taxation and water rates from the Aylmer Canning Co., Ontario Canning Co. and Simcoe Canning Co., there were several representatives of the companies present.

On behalf of the Aylmer Canning Co., which wished to come to this city if exemption could be secured, S. F. Washington spoke, calling attention to the fact that in the packing season the company employed from 100 to 110 hands, and it would be a desirable enterprise to have in the city.

Chairman Colquhoun called attention to a letter from the Simcoe Canning Co., which has been paying taxes, but which would not care to go on doing so if exemption were granted an opposition firm.

President Marshall, of the Aylmer Co., said his company was the oldest of the kind in the country, and it was a company of high standing. He had been offered inducements to go elsewhere with his factory.

Alds. Watkins and McAndrews were opposed to the asked-for exemptions, the former reiterating strong objections to exemptions, and suggesting that all businesses in the city be exempted.

A motion to the effect that the requests be refused was about to be put, but at Lawyer Washington's request the committee decided to allow the matter to go over for the new Finance Committee to attend to.

HINTS TO YOUNG GROCERS.

IF accident and luck put the young grocer in a store that does more than support him comfortably, the road to success is straight and pleasant, says Retail Grocers' Advocate. All he has to do is to stay there and save his money. But if his first store happens to be one in which he can hardly make a living, while his capital is hardly enough for his business, the greatest business ability would not be of much avail. He may work hard but he makes no headway. All he can do is to sell his store and start elsewhere. He is fortunate if he finds a buyer in due time at a price that will enable him to buy a paying store; but if he cannot sell out to advantage, he is unfortunate indeed if he does not realize enough to procure a good store with it. To buy a store at a small price is like gambling at best. A good store commands a price, and if the young grocer cannot pay it, the history of the next store will be the same as that of the first, and the grocer may never be well on his feet. This has been the fate of many an able and hard-working grocer. But very often failure in the grocery business is due to causes that can easily be avoided, and the experience of one should be a lesson to the other.

The grocer's business policy should be in harmony with his neighborhood. If his store is in a first-class neighborhood he should be careful about the quality of his goods, for his customers will care more for good quality than low prices. If he is in a low neighborhood, he must be prepared to sell cheap and work hard. His hours must be longer and his clerks must work harder too. In order to make his clerks work hard, he must set them an example by working hard himself.

Never have too many clerks. If two clerks can do your work, they will do it better than three. Necessity will make them work quick, and their minds will be more centred upon their work than if you had an extra clerk, and all had more time to think of other things. If business drags along slowly, think of ways and means to draw new trade, and ask advice from your fellow grocers, who may be able to give you pointers.

Join the grocers' association, where you will get acquainted with people from whom you can learn.

If you have neglected to do these things in the old year, think of them in the new year.

CANADIAN FOODS IN NORWAY.

C. E. Sontum & Co., Christiania, Norway, commercial agents for the Government, announce that they have sold several carloads of Canadian rolled oats, wheat flour, evaporated apples, etc., during the last couple of months. Rolled oats they buy in barrels of 180 lbs., evaporated apples in boxes of 50 lbs. each. Of fresh apples are only wanted Baldwins (red). Of wheat flour they handle all grades, but mills that export Manitoba flour made from hard wheat can do large business in the Scandinavian countries if able to compete with United States mills. C. E. S. & Co. think there could be sold large quantities of Canadian cheese in the Scandinavian countries, and would like to correspond with an exporter. They answer cheerfully all questions in regard to Canadian export.

SUGAR SITUATION IN CUBA.

Willett & Gray publish the following upon the situation in Cuba : "A certain number of plantations at Pinar del Rio, Havana, and part of the province of Matanzas are now grinding ; but the totality of those in the eastern and central part of the island, with the only exception of two or three at Manzanilla and one at Guantanamo, owing to the war still raging in said regions, are as yet unable to start the crop. The invasion by the rebel forces under the command of Meximo Gomex and Maceo, of the province of Santa Clara, or more recently of that of Matanzas, has given scope to the destruction of several plantations and numerous cane fires, the weather prevailing for several weeks past having placed the fields under the most favorable conditions to be quickly and thoroughly destroyed. It is said that in the sole district of Cienfuegos the quantity of cane burnt is enormous and represents a loss of above $8,000,000 ; were plantations able to immediately grind the burnt cane, a certain quantity of same might as yet be made available for sugar manufacturing, but unfortunately such is not the case and the totality of the cane that has been in contact with the flames may be considered as irremissibly lost and on this account the production next year will be reduced to an extent that cannot as yet be fully ascertained even in an approximate manner."

BIT OFF THE PICKLES' ENDS.

A Ludington grocer, according to an exchange, was giving instruction to a green clerk. The most important thing, he said, was to give customers exactly what they wanted. If they wanted "black-strap" molasses, flavored with "nigger's heels," instead of crystal syrup, that was what they ought to get. The clerk would thus please both the customer and his employer. The same afternoon a lady called in a cutter to order some cucumber pickles. "I am very particular" said she, "about the form and shape of my pickles, and I will show just what I want." She picked up a small, well formed sample, bit the end off to taste it, and then held it up. "There," said she, "I want them just like that—that is very nice." Imagine the horror of the lady when the pickles were brought out at a select tea, with every one bit off at the end. There was a rumpus in the store next morning and the new clerk went out into the cold, cheerless world. The proprietor said he liked exact and obedient clerks, but this fellow pleased him "too well."

The man who is simply "going to insure" is usually no better than the man who hasn't made the decision. Vol. X. (Published Weekly) TORONTO AND MONTREAL, JANUARY 24, 1896 ($2.00 per Year) No. 4

DROPS FROM THE EDITOR'S PEN.

Success is the successor of solid successive effort.

"T" stands for the tactician that sells with tact tea.

Men who can't work can grunt all day doing nothing.

Poor policy is it to lie about soap, because there is lie in soap.

He who cannot keep a stiff upper lip cannot keep his reputation.

Man maketh the advertisement and the advertisement the business.

An indolent clerk, like a neglected tree, is not likely to bear much fruit.

Send for the "ad" doctor for a tonic if your business exhibits lethargy.

Young men launching out into life should be as ambitious to do Right as to be Great.

If it were not for the days of grace, some men there are that would now have been in disgrace.

Dead men and men dead to business have both one thing in common: they are unattractive.

Genius, like a beautiful piece of machinery, has not much utility until motive power is put into it.

All other things being equal, the slower a merchant is to give credit the faster does he become affluent.

Grocers and provision dealers to the number of 988 bit the dust, financially speaking, in the United Kingdom last year.

Binding themselves together in cords of unity are the members of the Retail Grocers' Association of Toronto while they are enjoying the after-business social hour which they inaugurated at the last meeting.

A counterfeit of a man is he who knowingly sells a counterfeit for the real article.

The dead business man can console himself with the thought that he will not be bothered by too many customers.

Business may not be a key with which to open the pearly gates; but it is a bar to the gates that lead to the nether world.

The word "advertisement" is synonymous with "influence." And, like it, is one of the greatest forces in the world to-day.

When it is announced that Parliament has settled down to business it means ordinarily that the House has settled down to politics.

A bird in the hand is worth two in the bush, but there is no reason why one should not go into the bush in search of the other two.

The impression of an advertisement is not only made upon a piece of paper, but upon all into whose hands that piece of paper falls.

The six bolters that returned came back, not like dogs to guard the country's interests, but, like cats, for the meat there was in office.

He who steps on a banana is likely to slip down, and he who buys bananas from pedlars on frosty days is likely to get "slipped up."

A fair mede of competition maketh a business man, but a superfluity unmaketh him, and brings him into sore financial straits.

Many of the evils that confront us as a country would soon be prostrate behind us were we to strike a few vigorous blows and walk on.

'Tis men of individuality and fools that attract the most attention in the world. But born with common sense it depends upon a man's own energy what he shall be. There are more men bred than born fools.

"What are profits?" asks a centemporary. Ah, that's the rub. But go thou not to the "cutter" forsooth for an answer to the question.

One thing to be regretted is that in the recent Cabinet shuffle at Ottawa a business man was not shuffled into the Controllership of Customs.

It is by reading, marking, learning and inwardly digesting everything appertaining thereto that the details of a business are mastered.

The traveler has more ups and downs than most men, but he is always jolly. His "ups" are over hills and his "downs" across valleys.

Emperor William declares he will no visit England again. 'Tis too bad. The Prince of Wales will have one playmate less in his mother's back yard.

People inside the counter who do not recognize the rights of those outside the counter will ultimately be left behind the counter without anyone to recognize them.

It is because they scorned to perform the small duties, that many a man is to-day doing the little things, while others who began life doing the chores are now their employers.

Although business men's associations are formed primarily with the object of remedying trade evils, small indeed is the progress made if the social side is overshadowed altogether by the practical.

While friction between employes or between employes and employer will not warm the store these wintry days, it will if continued make the place too hot for all the dissentients to remain therein.

THE RIGHT KIND OF A SENATOR.

THE Dominion Government sometimes makes a judicious appointment, and the Senate sometimes receives an addition that cannot be dubbed an old fogey or that is lacking in business qualifications. We must all acknowledge this, whatever may be our attitude toward either the Government or the Senate.

THE CANADIAN GROCER is inspired to these remarks by the appointment of Mr. J. O. Villeneuve to the Senate.

The appointment is one of the most judicious that has been made in a decade at least, for Senator Villeneuve possesses the rare qualification of being both a practical and successful business man and a politician. Would that we had more such men, not only in the Senate, but in Parliament and in the Cabinet. Had we, farther advanced would Canada be to-day, and spared would the country have been the disgraceful circumstances and scenes which have been enacted the past few weeks in the Cabinet and in the House.

Politician and all as Mr. Villeneuve may be, he is above all a business man. He is head of the firm of J. O. Villeneuve & Co., wholesale grocers, wine and spirit merchants, and started into business away back in 1862 at 1260 St. Lawrence street, Montreal, at which place the firm is still to be found.

Harp as pessimists may regarding the difficulty of doing a strictly honest business, the world has a warm spot in its affections for the honest man, the man of backbone and principle. Mr. Villeneuve is of this kind, and the fact that he is one of the most popular men in the Province of Quebec, as well as the recipient of many public honors, demonstrates that he has not gone unrewarded, whilst of the coin of the realm he is said to have accumulated several hundred thousand dollars. Senator Villeneuve is a man whom the youths of Canada may do well to emulate.

His public life has been as successful as his business life. In 1886 he was elected to represent Hochelaga in the Quebec Legislature, and he is still its honored representative. For seventeen years he was councillor and Mayor of St. Jean Baptiste village. When that village became part of Montreal he became one of the aldermen of the commercial metropolis. He is still a member of the City Council, and in 1894 was elected to fill the Mayor's chair. "He is one of the best men that has sat at the Montreal Council Board," remarked a gentleman to THE CANADIAN GROCER.

Besides looking after his business and performing the duties appertaining to the municipality and the state, Mr. Villeneuve manages to find time to lend his assistance to other institutions: He is a director of the Dominion Cotton Mills and the Banque Nationale, and a member of the Harbor Commission and the Board of Trade.

SENATOR VILLENEUVE

The country is to be congratulated even more than Mr. Villeneuve on his elevation to the Senate. He is the class of man the Senate needs badly. The Government is to be commended for the wisdom of its choice. We urge it to go and do likewise in regard to the other vacancies, and the Senate will then soon become as noted for its efficiency as it now is for its inefficiency.

THE CANADIAN GROCER has long advocated the appointment of business men to the Senate, and we are in a congratulatory mood over the selection of Mr. Villeneuve.

LINE BETWEEN CASH AND CREDIT.

"The country merchant now finds it necessary for him to draw a sharp line between cash and credit on the boot question," says a writer in The Shoe and Leather Facts. "I do not say it is policy to sell boots on a cash basis exclusively. I say it is an absolute necessity. Even if you sell your other goods on credit you must make it an imperative rule that boots and shoes shall not go out of the store in that way. Even if they are paid for after a time you cannot afford to wait. The amount involved is, in the aggregate, entirely too much, and money is worth 6 per cent. any day, and much more when it comes to calculating the discount on a bill. A merchant with a pressing need of ready cash to settle 'a little bill,' and whose resources are represented by the balances, good, bad or indifferent, on his books, is in about as enviable a position as a courtier afflicted with a white elephant on which he is not able to realize. It requires the management of a veritable 'Napoleon of finance' to make money when handicapped in this manner, and so men who are conscious of being possessed of less extensive capabilities should, or rather must, try to invent some way to escape the affliction, especially since the best way for us is also the simplest, the simple 'No.'"

SALMON.

The ship Silverhow, from Seattle, with 15,847 cases of salmon and 3,619 centals of wheat, has arrived to complete her cargo at Victoria with salmon and oil for Liverpool. The Ardmore loading on the Fraser will complete her cargo shortly, and then the pack of B. C. for last season will be out of first hands.

Calculations place the total pack of the Pacific coast canneries for the past year at 2,321,611 cases, which is some 437,400 cases greater than the pack of 1894. The British Columbia pack, 600,978 cases, is the largest ever put up. In 1894 the pack was 494,371 cases, and in 1893, 590,229 cases.

According to the U. S. Customs returns the value of sockeye salmon taken in Washington waters, principally at Port Roberts, and sold to B. C. cannerymen, was $27,575. —B. C. Commercial Journal.

The tea jobbers who are crowding the advertising mediums to attract public attention from brands that are considered as staple as gold have very successfully imitated the external appearance of one of the choicest beverages to be found on the tables of the poor and rich alike, namely, Ram Lal's Pure Indian Package Tea ; but they are just as unsuccessful in imitating the quality of the goods as they have been successful in imitating the label.

TRADE CHAT.

MR. ED. WINNET, of Petrolia, struck a thirty-barrel oil well in the rear of his boiler shop the other day.

H. A. Rutherford, of Bolton, Ont., will open up a butcher shop in Fisher & Co.'s storehouse.

The Otonabee mills and the Peterboro mills have been acquired by a new company called the Consolidated Milling Company.

The large general store and stock of H. Roberts & Co., Strathclair, Ont., were totally destroyed by fire the other night. The insurance is $2,500, and the loss much more.

The council of the Board of Trade, Winnipeg, have perfected arrangements for the annual banquet, which takes place at the Manitoba Hotel on February 4.

John Leitch, of Glencoe, last week bought the October make of cheese from the Galabank, Vyner, Uttoxeter and Forest factories, over 400 boxes, for 8⅝c. per lb.

Says the St. John Sun: W. C. Archibald, of Wolfville, returned yesterday from Montreal, where he placed a few hundred cases of canned fruits, put up in the land of Evangeline.

Batchelor's Maple Grove cheese factory has changed hands, having been purchased by Mr. S. P. Brown, an experienced dairyman from Ontario County. The price is reported to be $2,000.

S. Allen has decided to rebuild at Norwich his vinegar works which were recently burned down. The village council have exempted him from taxation for ten years and the Norwich people are exceedingly jubilant that their efforts to retain this important industry have proved successful.

The confectionery store recently occupied by G. E. Elstone, Ingersoll, Ont., who went away from town unceremoniously, leaving behind many creditors, and which is now in in possession of the bailiff, was burglarized some time during Thursday night and some seventy-five cigars and six briar root pipes appropriated.

The Halifax Chronicle correspondent at Amherst has been informed that Messrs. Black & Page, of that town, have lately made two large shipments of hay from St. John to Liverpool, England, and that they have also contracted for a quantity for each fortnight during the next four months. This firm has already made several shipments from Halifax this season.

The Charlottetown Examiner says that during the past week 4,970 pounds of butter were churned at the Central Creamery in Charlottetown, valued at about $1,000. On Monday morning 15,000 pounds of butter were shipped on the Stanley for the Liverpool markets. It was expected that another shipment of 2,000 pounds would be made on Wednesday.

The aggregate landings of tea at the port of London during last month were no less than 26,291,800 lbs., in comparison with 23,262,600 lbs. in December, 1894; and although the clearances in the same interval of time were heavier by over 1,000,000 lbs. —extending to 18,782,100 lbs., in place of 17,749,400 lbs. in the year just named—the general stock was considerably augmented, presenting on the 31st ult. a surplus of 2,324,150 lbs.

The Hamilton Iron and Steel Co. have had their furnaces going since the 31st December drying the brick work, etc., and expect to make their first cast this week. They have an immense quantity of material on hand, and are receiving about fifty carloads a day. The anxious time will be to see the quality of their product. The plant is strictly up to date, and nothing more complete can be found on the Continent.

At the first annual session of the Ontario Beekeepers' Association on Wednesday last the president referred to the fact that the sale of Canadian honey was increasing in Europe, and he hoped that in 1896 the crop sent there would be largely increased. He found that the Canadian honey gave satisfaction to their British friends, and he urged upon the members that they should put up and sell only first-class goods. The pure honey legislation should be pushed as much as possible. That alone would give them a position as honey producers second to none in the world. The goods would have the guarantee of the stamp of the Government of Canada as regards purity, and that would go a long way with British consumers.

The Toronto, Hamilton and Buffalo Railway are running trains regularly now on the Welland branch. The rolling stock is exceptionally fine, and their engines superior to anything that has been seen in Ontario heretofore. The retaining walls of the tunnel are completed, and the arch is expected to be finished by the end of this month, when nothing remains to be done but filling in over the arch and beautifying the street. With the exception of two or three blocks, no damage whatever has been done to the residential or business portion of the city.

The itinerant dealer is of no earthly use to a town. He gives nothing to churches or public expenses. He has nothing in common with our people. He can swindle you, and often he does. He can cheat with impunity. The home merchant has a reputation to sustain. He bears his share of the expenses of the town. When a subscription is passed he is the first to be approached. He builds a house and makes other permanent improvements that enhance the value of our property. He helps pay for the churches in which we worship and the schools to which we send our children. He cannot afford to misrepresent his goods or swindle his customers. Self-interest alone prevents this. It is not difficult to decide which of the two classes of dealers should receive the patronage of the people.—Pictou, N.S., Advocate.

NOT TO LEAVE AYLMER.

By an article in The Journal of Saturday, under the caption of "Want to go to Hamilton," several people of Aylmer thought it the intention of Messrs. Marshall & Nairn to remove their canning factory to Hamilton. Such, however, is not the case. The Finance Committee of the city of Hamilton was asked by Mr. D. Marshall to exempt from taxation a new factory that he had bought and which is to be run at its full capacity this year in tomatoes and fruits. The matter was left over for the new Finance Committee to settle. However settled, it will not affect the parent factory in Aylmer.—Aylmer Sun.

CANADIAN VEGETABLE PACK.

MORE than usual interest was wrapped around the pack of vegetables in Canada last year. The chief reason for this was the peculiar weather conditions of last spring.

It will be remembered that the tomato plants that were put out early in the spring were destroyed by the heavy frosts which appeared shortly afterwards. Fortunately, the plants had been put out earlier than was wont, and the damage was partially repaired be re-plan ing. But, of course, the maturing of the crop was deterred materially. As a result, speculation was rife as to its ultimate outcome ; and in spite of the drouth of the early summer the crop turned out well, and rather better in quantity and quality than usual. This being the fact, a large pack was anticipated. Although this anticipation was to some extent realized, yet it was not to the full, for the tomato crop, being late in maturing, packers, towards the latter end of the season, required their factories for putting up other vegetables and fruits which were demanding their attention. As it was, however, they put up a larger pack than the year before, as will be seen from the subjoined table.

Regarding peas, everyone in the trade is aware that the drouth prevented anything but a small pack of these. The weather was favorable to corn—during the latter part of the season, at any rate—and the result was a good pack, although from the figures adduced it does not appear to be as large as some thought it would be.

The following table has been furnished us by the secretary of the Packers' Association, W. C. Breckenridge :

	1895.	1894.	1893.
Tomatoes, cases	110,000	106,944	110,496
" gallons	....	833	903
Corn, cases	99,000	106,427	81,524
Peas, "	27,000	34,514	61,300

The figures for 1895 were collated from the reports submitted by ten packers at the meeting of the association held last month, and are estimated to represent two-thirds of the total pack of the different lines.

The pack of gallon apples by the same ten packers aggregated 444,000, or 73,000 cases. We have not the figures for 1894, but in 1893 they were 25,642 cases. The largeness of the pack has been considerably discounted by the fact that a large quantity has been exported to Great Britain.

AN ABSURD STAND.

THE floor of "Exchange Hall," in the Montreal Board of Trade, was the scene of many wordy battles last week.

The matter in dispute was the address which Sir Charles Tupper was to deliver to the members. Those with Liberal leanings spoke strongly against a Minister of the Crown speaking at all to the Board, and seemed to fear that Sir Charles would take advantage of the opportunity to make a political address. The others held that if information of commercial value could be obtained from anyone, no matter whether he was a leader of a political party or not, the members of the Board should be permitted to receive it. They held that it would be treating a distinguished gentleman, whom their Executive had invited to address the Board, with scant courtesy if they imputed to him without cause a desire to make political capital out of a matter which was entirely removed from the domain of politics.

The Board is to be congratulated that it did not allow the narrow views of some of the members to sway it in the wrong direction. The late High Commissioner occupied a position that gave him exceptional facilities for acquiring information on that important subject, inter-imperial trade, and it was unwise to argue that because he had lately been taken into the Cabinet he should be prevented from imparting anything that he had learned regarding it to members of the Board of Trade of the chief city and commercial centre of the country.

CONSUMERS WANT CREAMERY BUTTER.

THE introduction of winter creameries for the production of butter, and the steady growth of the creamery method of butter manufacture has had one visible and important result. This at least is the case so far as the Montreal butter market is concerned, and no doubt it applies elsewhere with the same force.

It is not quite two years ago when to get a choice, tasty, palatable table butter during the fall and winter was an impossibility in Montreal, unless a very high price was paid. Indeed, as the season progressed the stock of butter got stronger and stronger, until it was absolutely too strong for anything except a diseased axle or something of a similar nature.

Nowadays matters are entirely different, the best evidence of the fact this fall being the positive scarcity of western dairy rolls.

These goods in former years were a great factor of supplies during the winter, as was also Townships.

Receipts of both of these have been so light since the summer as to be inappreciable, and creamery butter has entirely taken their place. In fact, it seems to be only a question of time when it will entirely oust dairy butter from central and western Canada.

The only demand for dairy stock now comes from some of the lumbering regions and the fishing sections down on the coast.

Consumers in big cities like Montreal and Toronto have been educated to want creamery, and they will have no other. Butter makers recognize this fact, for the Montreal market has been supplied with fresh, or at least comparatively fresh, butter throughout the entire fall without cessation.

FIG-GROWING IN ONTARIO.

IN the Fall Trade Number of THE CANADIAN GROCER, as our readers well know, there appeared an editorial on the culture of figs in Canada. The successful efforts of Mr. Henry Pafford, of Niagara-on-the-Lake, Ont., to raise and ripen the luscious fruit were noted in detail, and the possibility of the semi-tropical article being grown and handled in this country as a commercial commodity was commented upon.

Since the publication of this contribution, Mr. Pafford has received letters from all quarters of Canada asking for further information upon the subject. Mr. Pafford has, as far as his time allowed, replied to the inquiries thus put to him, and we would not be surprised to see the culture of the fig attempted with considerable success in those districts which are known as "peach belts," and even in localities which have not so salubrious climatic conditions.

Mr. Pafford himself is fully satisfied of the practicability of successfully cultivating figs, in the Niagara peninsula at any rate. None of the trees in his garden have failed to bear abundant fruit every season since they were four years old ; they are wonderfully prolific, bearing two or three bushels of fruit every summer. Moreover, the figs come to maturity in relays, as it were, so that the branches are burdened with ripe fruit continuously from July to October.

So far Mr. Pafford's attention to fig-growing has only been a hobby with him, and he has not made any effort to ascertain what could be done with the fruit on the Canadian market. He does not seem to entertain very serious doubts, however, as to the possibility of Canadian-grown figs becoming a remunerative article of commerce.

He likens them to tomatoes, which a few years ago, though even then grown in abundance in this country, were, because considered unfit for human food, not offered in our markets at all. A like change, he thinks, may come over public opinion as regards figs; when once the people know they can be grown here, figs may be widely cultivated and distributed about our markets throughout the length and breadth of the land.

If this ever comes to pass, to Mr. Pafford will be due all thanks, for he is the pioneer, he the savant, who, assisted by nature, has discovered what Canada could do in this line.

ADOPTING THE CASH SYSTEM.

G. R. ASHWELL & SONS, general merchants, Chilliwack, B.C., write as follows:

"Since writing you some time ago things have taken a decided turn for the worse. Collections are getting tighter all the time. Prices in the way of farm produce never seem to get to the bottom, and the farmers (like a drowning man hanging to a straw) are holding on for better prices. However, we have fully made up our minds to launch our boat on the cold, icy waters of a cash business. We have done a credit business for over a quarter of a century, but, to tell you the honest fact, there is no money in it, neither for us nor our customers. Whilst we may make less profits, our good customers (which we could do better by giving them credit, but they do not make up for the bad ones) will not have to pay for the dead beats." The same firm also furnishes THE CANADIAN GROCER with the following prices of farm produce ruling at Chilliwack:

Hogs, live, on foot, fat, per lb.	$ 4¾
Dressed hogs, per lb.	5¾
Hay, baled, per ton	6 00
Oats, sacked, per ton	15 00
Peas, " "	$16 00 to 20 00
Barley, " "	15 00
Wheat, " "	20 00 to 22 00
Potatoes, "	5 00 to 6 00
Eggs, per dozen	25
Fat cattle, per lb.	2½ to 2¾

ANOTHER ADVANCE IN SUGAR.

"You will see refined granulated sugar at 5c. per lb. before long," said a Montreal sugar broker to THE CANADIAN GROCER this week.

Whether this prediction will be verified or not is difficult to say, but one thing is certain: the tone of the sugar market at the chief Canadian producing centre is firm.

As grocers know, Montreal refiners put up their prices a fortnight ago in consequence of firmness in New York. Since that time the latter market has exhibited irregularity and decline in the price of refined sugar. The developments did not influence Montreal refiners a particle. They knew that it was due to the manipulations of the trust with a view of affecting the price of the raw article, and have manifested a firm tone all along. This culminated on Monday last in an advance at the refineries of ⅛c. per pound all round: granulated, 250 barrel lots and over, 4½c.; 100-barrel lots, 4 9-16c., and smaller quantities, 4⅝c., and yellows, 3⅝ to 4⅛c., as to grade at the factory.

It may be noted in this connection that stocks in refiners' hands are light. This is especially true in regard to yellows, one refinery being about cleaned out of these at the close of the previous week. The same establishment is not in operation, and won't be for two or three weeks yet, owing to some alterations being in progress.

TO GRADE FINEST CHEESE.

The Montreal Butter and Cheese Association at its meeting held last week considered a very important report. The report was in support of the adoption of a standard and uniform basis for grading finest cheese.

The details are altogether too technical in their nature for reproduction here, but every reader of this paper interested in, or acquainted with, the cheese trade will commend the idea.

The frequent difficulties that arise owing to conflicting opinions as to what is "finest cheese" are notorious.

If any method can be devised for obviating them and the injurious effects they entail in the shape of bad feelings, etc., every honest dealer in the trade will metaphorically pat himself on the back.

The Montreal association have instructed their secretary to communicate the details of the report to the dairy commissioner and the secretaries of the different country cheese boards.

THE CANADIAN GROCER sincerely trusts that the latter will give the project their hearty co-operation.

THE MATTER OF INVOICES.

Complaints have reached THE CANADIAN GROCER from time to time that certain wholesale merchants do not send customers invoices same day as goods are forwarded; in fact, that goods are in some instances in stock nearly a week before invoices are received. As a result they are not in a position to satisfactorily check goods on arrival.

We have found on enquiry that many wholesalers have a stringent rule to the effect that invoices must, in every case, be mailed same day as goods are shipped. This being the case, it is fair to assume that the trouble rests with the clerk having charge of the invoice work.

A letter to the firm who is negligent in this matter should have the desired effect. If the trouble continues a change of account is the only alternative in order to be relieved of trouble and worry which must be the inevitable result of continued omissions of this kind.

Wholesalers who are so negligent in an important matter such as this certainly cannot have their business managed in an "up-to-date" style.

AFTER THE DEPARTMENT STORES.

The departmental store is still being agitated against in Montreal.

The latest organization to take up the battle against them is "The Retail Dry Goods Merchants' Society."

At a meeting held last week, that body discussed the advisability of asking the Corporation to impose a tax on each variety of goods carried in the department stores. It was the general opinion that some measure should be adopted to break up the existing monopoly which they declared several large establishments now possessed. It was considered a great injustice to the smaller retail stores. It was stated that in the larger cities of the United States, such as Chicago and New York, a special tax was levied on these department stores.

It was decided to appoint a committee to consider the matter and make a report. The following gentlemen were named: Dry goods, Mr. C. P. Chagnon; grocers, Mr. Ovide Corbeil; boots and shoes, T. L. O'Brien; proprietors, Messrs. Patrick Wright, Ald. J. R. Savignac, L. E. Beauchamp, Arthur Gagnon; toys and fancy goods, J. D. Couture; druggists, S. Lachance; tobacco, T. Martineau; journalists, S. Cote.

A FRUIT MAN MARRIES.

Mr. A. Edwy Clemes, junior partner of Clemes Bros., Toronto, has taken a partner unto himself—a life partner. The ceremony took place on the 15th inst. The bride was Miss Sarah E. Cleland, daughter of Rev. J. Cleland, 105 Winchester street, Toronto, who tied the nuptial knot. Mr. Walter Clemes was best man and Miss Kerr supported the bride. The happy couple left on the evening train for Montreal and the Eastern States.

FAILURES IN UNITED KINGDOM.

The failures in the United Kingdom during 1895 numbered 9,458, of which 1,013 were in the financial, wholesale and manufacturing branches of trade, and 8,445 in the retail trades or among professional and non-trading classes. These totals compare with the figures for previous years thus:

	Number of failures.
	Wholesale.	Retail.	Total.
1895	1,013	8,445	9,458
1894	1,093	9,414	10,507
1893	1,099	9,558	10,657
1892	1,139	8,470	9,609

OVER-PRODUCTION OF CHEESE.

LAST week, it will be remembered, THE CANADIAN GROCER incidentally expressed the opinion that it was possible that the Canadian cheese industry had reached a point where there was an over-production. Mr. Andrew Pattullo, last year's president of the Western Dairymen's Association, is even more emphatic, as is evident from the following excerpt from his recent address before that body. He said :

"Three years ago at a meeting of dairymen in this county, almost as large as this convention is likely to be, I ventured to warn you of the danger of over-production, urging that all our efforts in this country should be directed to improvement in quality and not to the extension of cheese making into new and enlarged areas. Men eminent in the industry then thought otherwise. Last year at Stratford I also took occasion to say :

"'It is just possible that the unusual interest—not quite yet a craze—excited in this and other countries by the success of our dairymen may lead to an expansion of the point of danger ; and that from influences already in motion here and elsewhere we may see a marked fall in the price of cheese as in other products of the farm—a contingency which our dairymen should not lose sight of. However this may be, it is clear that all our efforts, especially all governmental efforts, should now be directed to raising the standard of quality, to the holding and improvement of the position we already have in the markets of the world, rather than to an extension of the area of cheese making operations.'

"The danger has come sooner even than anticipated. We are now suffering from over-production. The world is making more cheese than our solitary market, Great Britain, will consume at such prices as have prevailed in the past. Still, we have been using the resources of the country to force production in many directions. And in this connection it is worth reminding you that the situation might have been much worse. It would have been, for instance, if U.S. exports of cheese had continued normal instead of declining. Then, again, the production of cheese in the Antipodes has suffered a check through more than usually severe droughts. These two dangers have thus been minimized during the past year. But still we have suffered and found profits vanishing for the first time in almost a generation. We too have suffered a check, and have got to low prices, which may continue. The lesson is obvious. Let expansion cease, and let all our efforts, official and other, be directed solely to the improvement of quality. We cannot change outside conditions. We can neither stop production abroad nor raise prices in Great Britain. But we can defeat competition by superior quality, and thus minimize, if not remove, the effects of increased or over-production.

"Some other advice given you last year seems also to be even more important than it was then. I refer to the obvious advantages of selling cheese at our markets promptly when ready to ship. The experience of last year, as of the year before—and, indeed, of almost every year in the history of the trade—proves that by following this rule the producer will be the gainer, and that all the interests of the trade will be promoted. Failure on the part of salesmen to act on so obviously a common-sense policy has had an injurious effect on our markets, while it has frequently caused serious loss to the producer. The fact is, that the 'Call Board' system is becoming something like a farce. What are called our cheese markets seem to exist no longer for the sale of cheese, but to avoid their public sale. The time of buyers and salesmen is wasted by the system into which we have drifted ; and the producer pays for it in the end. The condition of our cheese markets and the practices which are growing up should receive your serious consideration. The one thing always to be borne in mind by salesmen is the absolute necessity in their own interests of getting their cheese, especially their early cheese, into consumption as quickly as possible."

THE SALMON PACK.

THE following is the official statement of the salmon pack by the Fraser River canneries for the year 1895 :

	Cases.
Anglo-Canadian Canning Co. (eight canneries)	119,647
Victoria Canning Co. (five canneries)	67,625
Sea Island Cannery	20,017
Ewen & Co.	27,000
Canadian Pacific Packing Co.	19,416
Short & Squair	12,500
F. Boutilier & Co.	8,104
Lulu Island Canning Co.	13,000
Terra Nova Canning Co.	9,451
Pacific Coast Canning Co.	11,470
Fishermen's Canning Co.	11,786
Beaver Cannery (J. H. Todd & Son)	15,110
Richmond Cannery (J. H. Todd & Son)	11,700
British Columbia Canning Co.	7,025
Malcolm-Windsor Canning Co.	17,010
Brunswick Canning Co.	12,527
Federation Canning Co.	16,000
Dinsmore Island Canning Co.	9,600
Costello & McMorran	16,040
Alliance Canning Co	3,800
Atlas Canning Co	4,000
Fraser River, total for 1895	432,828
Northern pack, 1895	168,061
Grand Total for 1895	600,889

The northern salmon pack is about 28,000 cases more than last year, which is due largely to the increased output of the Rivers Inlet canneries.

Following is the value of the Provincial salmon fisheries for the past six years :

1892	1,148,860
1893	2,916,990

The Fraser River pack for 1895 was considerably larger than it was expected to be, last year being one of the "off" years, the runs of fish in the past having occurred in a four-year series. Thus 1893 having been the "high level" season, the years 1894 and 1895 were expected, as has been the case in the past, to show a reduction each year in the run of fish and the consequent pack, until in 1897 the heavy run would take place. Canners, therefore, not expecting a large run in 1895, were not prepared to handle all the fish which was available. Otherwise it is probable that the pack of 1893 might have been equalled and perhaps exceeded.

The opinion is gaining ground, remarks Statistic News-Advertiser, that this improvement in the run of fish, and the nearer approach of an equality between one year and another, is in a great measure, if not entirely, due to the fish hatchery's operations and the replenishment of the river with the young salmon. Should this year also prove to be another exception to the rule which has prevailed, and the run of fish approach anything like those of the last three years, the belief in the successful operations of the hatchery will be still stronger. In that case the Dominion Government will be asked to establish a second hatchery at a point further up the river than the site of the present one.

A POPULAR CANDIDATE.

THAT Mr. H. Laporte, of Laporte, Martin & Cie., is the popular candidate in the Centre Ward, Montreal, is evidenced by the following interviews with prominent citizens and voters in that district :

Mr. J. Dunlop, sr., when asked by a reporter to express his opinion of Mr. H. Laporte as an alderman, replied that he was all that could be desired, an admirable man in every respect. A better man the electors would never have another opportunity to support, for he was making a great sacrifice in coming out. Mr. Dunlop was quite sure that he would make things warm for the boodlers if elected.

Mr. Chas. Chaput, of L. Chaput, Fils & Cie., considers Mr. H. Laporte, being a business man and having taken an active part in all public matters, thoroughly qualified to represent the Centre Ward, which is the most important business ward in the city.

Mr. C. P. Hebert, of Hudon, Hebert & Co., expresses himself strongly in favor of Mr. Laporte, "Mr. Laporte being a first-class candidate in every respect and thoroughly competent."

"A most excellent choice," said Mr. J. C. Beauchamp, manager of the estate of the late Hon. Charles Wilson, when asked a similar question. "The only thing to be regretted is that the Council are not all men of the same kind. Mr. Laporte is a man of unimpeachable character, a successful business man and a good citizen. He is what we would call a self-made man. He will advocate good government in all departments, and is just the man to inaugurate such a change as is wanted in the Council, and carry it to a successful issue. He is none of your 'penny wise and pound foolish' people."

"He is just the kind of a man we want in the Council; the more of them the better." Such were the words of Mr. L. E. Morin, sr., ex-Mayor of Longueuil, and late president of the Chambre de Commerce.

Continuing, Mr. Morin said : "He is a most intelligent man and progressive man, of exceedingly sound judgment. I have done business with him for years, and have always found him to be honest and straightforward, and not in the slightest way narrow-minded; one who is held in the highest esteem by all with whom he has come in contact."

Mr. G. Lamothe, of the firm of Lamothe & Trudel, advocates, was very enthusiastic in his praise of Mr. Laporte. "He is the right man in the right place. I have known him many years, and always found him to be a very honest man of high character, and we would have to look a long time before we would find a better man." If elected he will look after the best interests of the city and keep a watchful eye on the finances.

TOBACCO CULTURE.

WITHIN the last few months we have, on several occasions, says Statistic News Advertiser, called attention to the efforts being made, of a more or less experimental character, to bring tobacco into the list of agricultural products of the province. In the Okanagan district these attempts appear to have been successful. Another and still more notable proof that tobacco can be successfully cultivated has just been given in a letter which we publish below. While the Okanagan people were experimenting, Mr. Sharpe, manager of the Dominion experimental farm at Agassiz, was doing the same, and a short time ago he sent sample leaves, grown from Havana seed, to the Department of the Interior for expert report. The sample was sent to J. R. Gordon, an expert, of Portland, Middlesex county, Connecticut, who has returned the following highly favorable report, bearing out the assertion made in these columns some months ago, that tobacco cultivation can be made one of the leading industries of the province:

"The Agassiz sample of tobacco leaf was received in good condition, and, after moistening, I was able to examine it very minutely. It is clear to my mind that for this sample the best leaves were picked from several different plants, as they are of excellent quality. Of the leaves enclosed in this Agassiz package, four would certainly pass as A1 wrappers, although not so fine as the others. The beauty of the leaf I find consists in the silky texture; it is free from blemish, and it has very fine veins. The color is also good, but it would have been better had the plant been allowed to ripen more. Because the leaf is small is no fault. Havana cannot rank with the other varieties for size and weight, and a fine leaf rather than a large one is the point at which Connecticut Valley growers of thirty years' experience are now striving for. It has been proved that the smaller varieties of tobacco are the most profitable, in that they find a quicker market, and sell at a price sufficiently high to offset the greater weight of the coarser varieties, which must wait for a market, and then be disposed of at a low figure. To make myself plain, I might put it in this way: That while, from a certain acreage where two tons of the coarser varieties were produced, of the finer varieties the yield might be only one and one-half tons, and this one and one-half tons of fine tobacco would bring a greater return of money than the two tons of coarse tobacco. But to sum up the matter, I don't think the Agassiz people have any reason to be dissatisfied with the experiment, and it is proved to my mind that, in certain districts of British Columbia, tobacco can be raised to rank with any produced in the States. Of course, it must have careful treatment to ensure success."

TO OUR SUBSCRIBERS.

We want our subscribers to let us know if they do not receive their copy of THE CANADIAN GROCER regularly every week. Every Thursday evening of every week of every month of every year, without exception, this paper has been mailed, but notwithstanding great care on our part, we are frequently in receipt of complaints regarding its non-delivery. The publishers are not to blame, and unless subscribers notify them promptly, errors cannot be rectified.

C. T. A. MUTUAL BENEFIT.

The 15th annual meeting of the Commercial Travelers' Mutual Benefit Society was held on Saturday night at the C.T.A. rooms, Toronto. The Board of Management presented a report, which showed the society to be in a more prosperous condition than ever before. After paying all death claims for the year the sum of $9,389.10 has been carried to the reserve, in addition to $1,510.69 from general expense account. The reserve is now $32,440.48. The number of members is 22,253, which will probably be much increased, since the organization will henceforth admit merchants, their clerks and salesmen.

"How do you pronounce the last syllable of that word 'butterine'?" asked the customer.

"The last syllable is silent," stiffly replied the grocer's clerk.

ONTARIO MARKETS.

GROCERIES.

SUGAR has been the cynosure of the sugar market during the week, on account of a further advance of one-eighth of a cent per pound, and continued firmness at the higher prices. Teas are attracting a little more attention, and canned vegetables continue in fairly active demand. Dried fruits are in fairly good request, with last week's prices still ruling. New Orleans molasses is still strong and active, and syrup is firm in sympathy. Cream of tartar has taken another jump in price in the primary markets. Generally speaking trade is fair for the season, although the interest in sugar overshadows nearly everything else.

CANNED GOODS.

No new features have developed during the week. Tomatoes and peas, the latter particularly, are in good demand at firm prices. Fruits are neglected and there is very little salmon going out. We quote as before: Tomatoes, 77½ to 85c.; corn, 75 to 85c.; peas, 90 to 95c. for ordinary; sifted select, $1.05 to $1.10; extra sifted, $1.45 to $1.50; peaches, $2.90 to $3 for 3's, $1.90 to $2 for 2's; raspberries, $1.40 to $2.00; strawberries, $1.80 to $2.45, according to brand and quality; blackberries, $1.90 to $2.20; cherries, $2.40 to $2.45; apples, 3's, 85 to 90c.; gallons, $1.90 to 2.25; salmon, "Horseshoe," $1.35 to $1.40; "Maple Leaf," $1.35; "Lion," $1.35 to $1.40; Lowe Inlet, $1.27 to $1.30, in tall tins; cohoes, $1.10 to $1.20; canned mackerel, $1.10 to $1.20; lobsters, $1.80 to $2.10, for tall tins; flats, $2.35 to $2.65; half tins, $1.45 to $1.50; Canadian canned beef, 1's, $1.35 to $1.45; 2's, $2.25 to $2.35; 6's, 7.50 to $8; 14's, $15 to $16.50.

COFFEE.

The situation locally is much as before. The primary markets are quiet and listless. We quote green in bags: Rio, 19 to 21c.; East Indian, 27 to 30c.; South American, 21 to 23c.; Santos, 19 to 22½c.; Java, 30 to 33c.; Mocha, 33 to 35c.; Maracaibo, 21 to 23c.; Jamaica, 21 to 25c.

SYRUPS.

The tone is firmer, in sympathy with the molasses market, but there is not much business passing. We quote: Dark, 30 to 32c.; medium, 33 to 35c.; bright, 40 to 42c.

MOLASSES.

The market continues strong and the demand good. We quote: New Orleans, barrels, 28 to 35c.; half-barrels, 30 to 35c.; Barbadoes, barrels, 31 to 35c.; half-barrels, 33 to 35c.

SUGAR.

Another all-round advance of ⅛c. per lb. is to be noted in sugars of all kinds. It began with the Lower Province refiners, and was followed by the Montreal men. The tone is strong at the advance, and higher prices are looked for. The demand is fairly brisk. One jobbing house in Toronto sold nine carloads in a day and a half. The idea for granulated is now 4⅝ to 4¾c., and 3.70 to 3.80c. appears to be about the lowest idea for dark yellows, while extra bright yellows run up as high as 4¼c.

SPICES.

There has been another jump in cream of tartar equal to about 1½ to 2c. per lb. The situation in spices remains much as before. We quote: Pure black pepper, 10 to 12c.; pure white, 18 to 25c.; pure Jamaica ginger, 23 to 25c.; cloves, 15 to 20c.; pure mixed spice, 25 to 30c.; cream of tartar, French, 25 to 27c.; ditto, best, 28 to 30c. per lb; allspice, 14 to 18c.

NUTS.

Trade is quiet and featureless. We quote as follows: Brazil nuts, 14 to 15c.; Sicily shelled almonds, 25 to 26c.; Tarragona almonds, 14 to 14½c.; peanuts, 10 to 12c. for roasted, and 7 to 10c. for green; cocoanuts, $4.50 to $5 per sack; Grenoble walnuts, 12 to 12½c. Marbot walnuts, 11 to 12c.; Bordeaux walnuts, 9c.; Sicily filberts, 8 to 10c. for sacks and 10½ to 11c. for small lots; pecans, 10½ to 11c.

TEAS.

Retailers are beginning to buy more freely, as is their custom at this time of the year. Most interest is being taken in Indian and Ceylon growths, although a good many Japan teas are going out on country account. Tea brokers report that Indian and Ceylon teas are the kinds most being picked up by the wholesale houses. We quote ruling prices to retailers as follows: Young Hysons, 12 to 18c. for low grades, 24 to 27c. for mediums, and 30 to 45c. for high grades; China Congous, 14 to 18c. for mediums, and 25 to 55c. for high grades; Japans, 15 to 20c. for mediums, 28 to 35c. for high grades; Indians and Ceylons, 18 to 22c. for mediums, and 30 to 65c. for high grades.

DRIED FRUITS.

Currants are still in good demand for the season, with prices steady. We quote as follows: Provincials, 3¾ to 4c. in bbls.; Fine Filiatras, in bbls., 4¼ to 4½c.; ditto, half-bbls., 4¼ to 4¾c.; ditto, half-cases, 4¾ to 5c.; Casalinas, cases, 5 to 5¼c.; Vostizzas, cases, 6 to 6½c.; ditto, half-cases, 6½ to 6¾c.; ditto, extra fine, 6¾ to 7¼c.; ditto, half-cases, 7¼ to 7½c.; Panaretas, in cases, 9c.

Valencia raisins continue in fairly good demand. We quote: Off-stalk, 4½ to 4¾c; fine off-stalk, 5 to 5¼c.; selected, 6 to 6¼c.; layers, 6½c.

Demand continues fairly active for prunes at unchanged prices. We quote prunes: Bosnias, "Sphinx" brand, "A," 65 to lb., 9c.; "B," 75 to lb. 7¾c., "U," 102 to lb., 6½ to 6¾c.; California prunes, 40-50, 10 to 10½c. per lb.; 50-60, 9½c. per lb.; 60-70, 9c.; 70 80, 8½c. per lb.; French, 5 to 6c.

California fruits are quiet and unchanged. We quote: Apricots, 15 to 16c.; peaches, 8c., in bags, and 10 to 15c. in boxes; pears, 10½ to 12½c.; plums, 6½c. for unpitted, and 12½c. for pitted; nectarines, 11 to 13c.; loose muscatels, 5½ to 6½c. per lb.

Trade is beginning to open up a little better in Sultana raisins at from 5½ to 6c.

Eleme figs are quiet and unchanged. We quote: Eleme, 14 oz., 9 to 10½c.; 10 lb, 9½ to 12½c.; 12 lb., 12½c.; 28 lb., 15c

GREEN FRUIT.

Trade is moderate only. The feature of the market is a marked decline in the price of oranges. California navel oranges have dropped as much as 75c. in some instances. The decline in this particular kind of orange is due to the way in which shipments were hurried forward to escape the threatened frost, thus causing the market to be over supplied. In other kinds of oranges the supply has also exceeded the demand. We quote: Lemons—Messina, $2.50 to $3.50 for 360's and 300's respectively per box; Oranges—Jamaicas, $3 50 to $4; fancy, $4.25 to $4.75; California navels, $4 to $4 75; Valencias, 420's, $3 75 to $4 25; Jumbo's, 420's, $5 to $5.50; ditto, 714's, $4.75 to $5; Mexicans, $3 50 to $4 per box. Bananas, $1.25 to $1.75; cocoanuts, $3.50 to $4 a sack; apples, $1.50 to $3 a barrel; Malaga grapes, $5 to $7 per keg; domestic onions, 60 to 65c. per bag; Spanish onions, 40 to 50c. per small crate; sweet potatoes, $3 to $3.25 per bbl.; cranberries, $9.50 to $10 per bbl. for first class, and $7 to $8 for ordinary, and $3 to $3.75 per case; hickory nuts, $1.50 to $1.75 per bush.

BUTTER AND CHEESE.

Receipts of large rolls have continued liberal. Tubs of good dairy butter have been coming forward in light supply; but there is a great deal of poor and medium quality coming forward. The demand for fresh dairy butter is good, but other kinds are not wanted. Creamery butter is in fair demand with prices easier. We quote: Early summer dairy store packed, 7 to 8c; good to choice fresh packed, 15c.; large rolls, fresh, 13 to 15c.; dairy pound prins, 15 to 17c. Fresh creamery—Tubs, 19 to 20c.; do., pound prints, 21 to 22c.

CHEESE—Prices continue firm owing to the improved condition of the British market.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

BEANS—There are a few going out at $1 to $1.10. for prime medium, but business is practically at a standstill.

DRIED APPLES—There is practically nothing doing and 4c. is about the idea as to price.

EVAPORATED APPLES — Dulness is still the characteristic of this market. We quote 6½ to 7c. nominally.

EGGS—Receipts of new laid have increased a little, and prices are easier. Stocks of pickled eggs are light and prices steady. Held fresh and cold stored are easy. We quote: New laid, 19 to 20c.; pickled, 14½c.; held fresh and cold stored, 14 to 17c., according to quality.

HONEY — Demand continues fair and prices unchanged. We quote: Strained, clover, 10 to 10½c.; dark, 5c.; comb, clover, $1.80 per dozen; dark, 84c. per dozen.

POTATOES—Prices are weak at 22c. on track and 25 to 30c. out of store.

POULTRY—The quality of recent receipts of poultry has not been satisfactory, and low prices have ruled as a result. The market, has been pretty well cleaned up, and a better feeling obtains as a result. We quote: Geese, 5 to 6c. per lb.; turkeys, 7 to 8c. per lb.; chickens, 35 to 50c. per pair; ducks, 60 to 80c. per pair.

PROVISIONS AND DRESSED HOGS.

There has been a much better demand for hog products with the tone of the market stronger. Lard is active and shows increased firmness. Dressed hogs are also firmer at $4.75 to $4.80 for selects, and $4.40 to $4.50 for heavy weights.

SMOKED MEATS — Breakfast bacon, 10c.; rolls, 7 to 7¼c.; hams, large, 22 lbs. and over, 9c.; medium, 15 to 20 lbs., 10c.; small hams, 10c.; backs, 9 to 9½c.; picnic hams, 7c.; all meats out of pickle, 1c. less than above.

LARD—Pure Canadian, tierces, 7¾ to 8c.; tubs, 8¼ to 8½c.; pails, 8½ to 8¾c.

BARREL PORK—Canadian heavy mess, $14.00; Canadian short-cut, 14 to $14.50; clear shoulder mess, $12; shoulder mess, $11.50.

DRESSED BEEF, VEAL, MUTTON, ETC.

There is a great deal of dressed meat coming forward. Business is fair, with prices somewhat inclined to be easy. We quote: Forequarters, $2 to $4 per 100 lbs.; hindquarters, $5 to $7, according to quality; lamb, 5½ to 7c.; mutton, 4 to 5½c.; veal, 5½ to 7c.

FISH.

The fish trade continues quiet at unchanged prices. For oysters the demand is moderate. We quote oysters: Standards at $1.30 to $1.35, and selects $1.60. Fish are quoted as follows: Skinned and boned codfish, 6½c.; boneless fish, 3½ to 4c.; haddock, 5 to 6c.; Labrador herring, $3.25 to $3.50 per half barrel and $5.50 to $5.75 per barrel; Newfoundland herring, $2.50 per half barrel, and $4.50 to $4.75 per barrel; fresh water salt herring, $3 per barrel; blueback herring, 3c.; pike, 6 to 7c. per lb.; flitched cod, 5c.; finnan haddies, 6½c.; Digby herring, in bundles of 5 boxes, 11c.; ditto, lengthwise, 10c.; large halibut, 12 to 15c.; Restigouche salmon, 20 to 25c.; British Columbia salmon, 13 to 14c.; mackerel, 20 to 25c.; steak cod, 6½ to 7c.; haddock, 5c.; black bass, 9 to 10½c. Fresh Lake Erie herring, $4 per 100; whitefish, 8 to 9c.; salmon trout, 7½ to 8c.; Lake Superior whitefish, 8c.; Lake Winnipeg whitefish, 7½ to 8c.

FLOUR AND FEED, HAY, ETC.

WHEAT—Is firmer, at 74 to 74½c. for white, 72c. for red, and 56c. for goose.

BARLEY—Steady, at 40 to 44½c.

PEAS—Steady, at 53 to 54c.

OATS—Steady, at 27 to 28½c.

BALED HAY—With larger receipts the firm feeling has slackened off. Car lots on the track are quoted at $15 to $15.25 for No. 1 and $14.25 to $14.50 for No. 2.

BALED STRAW—The market is steady at $8.50 to $8.75 for car lots. For extra good bales $9 is asked.

FLOUR—Wheat is scarce, and there is not much doing in flour. We quote: Straight roller, $3.50.; Manitoba patents, $3.70; bakers', $3.50.

BREAKFAST FOODS—Business is just moderate. The only change we have to note in prices is slightly lower figures on oatmeal. We quote: Oatmeal, cornmeal and pot barley from 10 to 15c. lower; Standard oatmeal and rolled oats, $3; rolled wheat, $2.10 in 100 lb. barrels; cornmeal, $2.75; split peas, $3.25; pot barley, $3.25.

Business continues to improve, particularly on packers' accounts. Prices are unchanged. We quote at Toronto: In carload lots, $1 per barrel, and 60c. per sack; in less than carload lots, $1.05 per barrel and 65c. per sack. At the wells we quote: F.O.B. barrels, 70c.; sacks 50c. for points west of Toronto, and 45c. for Toronto and points east of Toronto.

HIDES, SKINS AND WOOL.

HIDES—Steady, with demand fair. Dealers pay 5c. for No. 1, 4c. for No. 2, and 3c. for No. 3. Cured hides quoted at 6 to 6¼c.

CALFSKINS—6c. for No. 1, and 5c. for No. 2. Sheepskins unchanged at 80c.

WOOL—Trade quiet. Fleece, combing, is quoted at 23 to 24c.; clothing, 23c., supers., 21 to 22c.; extras, 23 to 23½c.

PETROLEUM.

There has been a slight decline in American oil. Demand is seasonably fair. We quote in 1 to 10 bbl. lots, imperial gallon, Toronto: Canadian, 16c.; carbon safety, 18c.; Canadian water white, 18c.; American water white, 21½c.; Pratt's Astral, 23c.

MARKET NOTES.

Lard is still gathering strength.

Sugar is ⅛c. per lb. dearer at 4⅝ to 4¾c. for granulated.

Cream of tartar is from 1½ to 2c. per lb. dearer in the primary markets.

Eggs are a little easier at 19 to 20c. for new laid.

There has been a sharp decline in oranges.

A good demand for pure "Maple Leaf" lard is reported by D. Gunn, Flavelle & Co.

A representative of THE CANADIAN GROCER dropped in the other day on J. H. Wethey, of St. Catharines, whose condensed mince meat is now so well known to the trade. Mr. Wethey had just been "striking a balance," and the increase of sales for 1895 over those of 1894 spoke in no undecided manner of the growing demand for his tasty article.

with the distributing trade, and the same drawback applies to other staple lines of groceries. In dried fruit business is quiet, but new features during the week have been advices of sharp advances at primary markets on Bosnia prunes and California raisins. Other lines furnish no change of moment.

SUGAR.

The firm tone outside has resulted in another advance by Montreal refiners who quote prices ½c. higher this week at the factory. Jobbers at this writing have not quoted their rise, but will certainly do so before this leaves the press. We quote accordingly 4⅝ to 4¾c. for granulated, and 3¾ to 4¼c. for yellows, as to grade, in ordinary jobbing lots. Demand, however, is only fair, and it remains to be seen whether the further advance will lead to an increased enquiry. One thing seems to be generally admitted, however, and that is that stocks throughout the country are not heavy.

SYRUPS.

There has been little change in the syrup market, business ruling quiet. With light stock, both at the factories and in jobbers' hands, the tone is distinctly firm at 1¾c. for ordinary, and 2½ to 3c. for bright stock.

MOLASSES.

The molasses market is strong in its tone, especially on New Orleans stock, which is quoted at an advance on some grades of 6 to 8c. per gallon at primary markets. Porto Rico has also been firmer in New York. Stocks are not heavy here, N.O. selling at 25 to 35c., as to grade; Porto Rico, 35c., and Barbadoes, 37c.

RICE.

The rice market continues quiet and steady. We quote: Japan standard, $4.25 to $4.40; crystal Japan, $4.75 to $5; standard B., $3.45; English style, $3.30; Patna $4.25 to $5, and Carolina, $6.50 to $7.50.

SPICES.

The spice market is steady, with a fair demand for pepper, cloves, etc. Cream of tartar firm at primary points, latest cables quoting 94s. We quote: Pure black pepper, 10 to 12c.; pure white, 15 to 22c.; pure Jamaica ginger, 23 to 25c.; cloves, 15 to 20c.; pure mixed spice, 25 to 30c.; cream of tartar, French, 25 to 27c.; ditto, best, 28 to 30c. per lb.; allspice, 12 to 15c.

TEAS.

No activity is to note in the tea market in a large way, aside from some transactions in low-grade Japans at 11c., the low price of which tempted some western jobbing houses to operate. Indian, Ceylons and greens have scarcely had any enquiry at all. The distributing trade is equally dull, for the same reason as noted last week—difficulty of communication at country points. We quote Japans: Low grades, 14c.; medium, 15 to 18c.; fine, 20 to 22c., and choice, 25 to 32c.

COFFEE.

There is little change in this market. We quote green in bags: Maracaibo, 20 to 21c.; Rio, 19 to 20c.; Java, 28c.; Jamaica, 20 to 21c., and Mocha, 32c.

DRIED FRUIT.

There is a moderate request for Valencia raisins locally, and values continue firm. No large business has been put through at all from first to second hands. We quote: Ordinary off-stalk, 4 to 4¼c.; fine, 4½ to 4¾c; selected, 5 to 5¼c., and layers, 6½ to 7c.

The tenor of advices from the Coast is firm on 3-crown fruit, and it would cost jobbers ⅛c. more per lb. to lay down fresh supplies than previous rates. We quote values firm at 5½ to 6c. for 3-crown, and 6¾ to 7c. for 4-crown fruit.

Table fruit is without change, prices being unchanged. We quote Malagas as follows: Extra loose muscatels, $1.40; Imperial London layers, $1.75; Imperial cabinets, $1.90; Connoisseur clusters, $2.20; extra dessert clusters, $3; Royal Buckingham clusters, $3.50.

Sultana raisins are a very light stock, and are nominal at 6¼ to 6½c.

Currants continue moderately active for actual necessities. Prices are unchanged. We quote: 3¾c. in barrels, 4 to 4¼c. in half-barrels, and 4½ to 4¾c. in cases.

The prune market is quiet and steady locally, with no change in values to report. Advices from Austria, however, cite a further advance of 6d., making 1s. in the last ten days. We quote: French, 5c.; Bosnia, 6 to 6¼c., and California 7 to 10c., as to grade.

Figs continue quiet and unchanged. We quote: Bags, 4c.; ordinary boxes, 8½ to 9c., and fancy, 12 to 14c.

No change has been noted in the date market, which rules quiet at 4½ to 5c.

NUTS.

Without any special feature, trade being quiet. We quote: Grenoble walnuts, 11½ to 12½c.; filberts, 7½ to 8c.; Tarragona almonds, 11½ to 12½c.; new pecans, 9 to 12c., and new shelled walnuts, 18 to 20c.

CANNED GOODS.

There is a moderate demand for some lines of staple canned vegetables. It is confined to supplying actual wants, however, with no desire to operate abroad. We quote: Lobsters, talls, $8 per case; flats, $9 to $9.50; sardines, ordinary brands, $7 to $8.50; best brands, $9.50 to $10.50; salmon, $1.25 to $1.30 per doz.; tomatoes, 75 to 80c.; peaches, $2 to $2.25; corn, 85 to 90c.; marrowfat peas, 95c. to $1; strawberries, $2 to $2.25; raspberries, $1.75 to $2; green gages, $1.75 to $2; blue plums or damsons, $1.50 to $1.75; pineapples, $2 to $2.25 and 3-lb. apples, 80 to 85c.

WINES AND SPIRITS.

Business in this branch is confined to a very small sorting trade. Outside of a few orders for Scotch and Irish whiskies for spring account little has been done in an import way.

GREEN FRUIT.

There is a fair seasonable demand for fruit of all kinds, and few changes are to note. Grape fruit, which are scarce and firm, furnish the only new feature. We quote: Oranges—Jamaicas, $8 to $9 per barrel, and $4 to $4.50 per box; Valencias, 420's, $3.75 to $4, and 714's, $4.50 to $5. Lemons, $2.50 to $3. Grapes, $5 to $6 per keg; grape fruit, $5 to $6 per box. Cranberries, $8.50 to $10 per barrel. Apples, $2 to $3.50 per barrel. Dried do. 4 to 4½c. Evaporated do. 6 to 6½c. Spanish onions, 40c. per crate.

FISH.

There is a good steady trade doing in fresh fish of all kinds, but pickled fish are hardly enquired for at all, and herrings and green cod are easy in tone. We quote: Fresh haddock, 3 to 4c. per lb.; cod, 3½; steak cod, 4½c.; smelts, 5 to 6c.; fresh frozen B. C. salmon, 10c.; Manitoba whitefish, 7c.; pickerel, 6½c.; dore, 6½c.; pike, 4 to 4½c.; trout, 7c.; tommycods, $1.50 per barrel. Choice pickled Labrador herrings, $5.25; No. 1 N.S. $3 50 to $4; No. 1 green cod, $4.10 to $4.50; No. 2, $2.75; No. 1 haddock, $3; No. 1 large codfish, $5; No. 1 lake trout, $4 to $4 25; B. C. salmon, $10.50; No. 2 Labrador salmon, $12.50 to $13; No. 1 mackerel, $19.50 Lock Fyne herrings, 85c. per keg, and $11 per barrel; tongues and sounds, $9; No. 1 sardines, $4 50; No. 1 dried cod, $4.25 to $4.50; boneless cod, 6c. per lb.; boneless fish, 3¼c.; boneless haddock, 5c.; shredded, 11c.; haddies, 6½ to 7c. per lb.; bloaters, 90c. per box, and smoked herrings, 8 to 10c. per box.

PROVISIONS.

There was little change in the situation of the local provision market, business being reported quiet and prices steady. We quote: Canadian short cut, clear, $13.50; Canadian short cut, mess, $14; hams, city cured, per lb., 9 to 10c.; lard, Canadian, in pails, 8c.; bacon, per lb., 9 to 10c.; lard, com. refined, per lb., 6¼c.

The demand for dressed hogs was good, and the market is active and firm. Car lots of fresh stock sold at $4.80 to $4.90 per 100 lbs., and in a jobbing way $5.25 to $5.50 was paid.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

EGGS—A fairly active trade was transacted in eggs, there being a good demand for small lots at steady prices. We quote: Boiling stock, 18 to 20c; Montreal limed, 14 to 15c.; western limed, 13½ to 14c., and held fresh, 13½ to 14c. per dozen.

BEANS—There was no change in beans, business being quiet at quotations. We quote: Car lots of choice hand-picked at $1 to $1.05, and small quantities at $1.10 to $1.20.

POULTRY—There continues to be a good demand for poultry, and all fresh arrivals met with a ready sale at steady prices. Turkeys sold at 7½ to 8c., chickens, 6 to 6½c.; ducks, 7 to 7½c., and geese at 5 to 5½c. per lb.

POTATOES—Car lots of potatoes on track sell at 35c., and jobbing lots, 40 to 45c., according to quality.

ONIONS—Red onions are quoted here at $2.50 per bbl., and yellows, $2 to $2.25.

FLOUR, FEED AND MEAL.

The demand for flour has been fair, and the market was moderately active and steady. We quote: Winter wheat, $3.60 to $3.80; spring wheat, patents, $3 75 to $3.85; straight roller, $3.30 to $3.40; straight roller, bags, $1.60 to $1.65; extra, bags, $1.40 to $1.45; Manitoba strong bakers', $3 40 to $3.65.

A fair business was done in feed at quotations. We quote: Bran, $14 to $15; shorts, $15 to $16; mouillie, $19 to $20.

Oatmeal ranges from $2.90 to $3 according to grade, demand being very dull.

CHEESE AND BUTTER.

The cheese market maintains its firm tone, and enquiry continues of an encouraging character. It is satisfactory to note in this connection, that, though holders are not urging sales, they show no desire to force prices to such an extent as to check the demand. For this reason, a good, healthy movement is anticipated, as the Britisher finds that supplies are wanted. For finest goods 9½c. is confidently asked for western, and a fraction less for eastern makes. There is enquiry for summer goods at a range of 8½ to 8¾c.

The butter market continues steady, with a good demand from local jobbers. We noted sales of parcels of creamery at 21c., and some lots down to 20½c., but for anything choice, the outside figure would have to be paid.

HAY.

The feature of the hay trade has been the decline of 50c. to $1 per ton in sympathy with weak advices from American markets. The demand here has been good, and considerable business is reported in car lots on track at $14 for No. 1 and $13 for No. 2. At country points No. 1 is quoted at $13 and No. 2 at $12 per ton.

ASHES.

This market has ruled quiet and about steady. The receipts are small, for which the demand is limited. We quote: Firsts, $3 60 and seconds $3.40 per 100 lbs.

MONTREAL NOTES.

Cables from Buda-Pesth to Rose & Laflamme last Friday advised an advance of 6d. per cwt. in Bosnia prunes.

Cable advices to A. P. Tippet & Co. state that cream of tartar is very strong, the most recent quotation being 94s. per cwt.

During the past month it is worthy of record that Porto Rico molasses have advanced in New York 2 to 3c. per gallon.

Rose & Laflamme have just received quotations from Batger & Co., London, for new marmalade, which are the same as last season.

Laporte, Martin & Cie. call attention to the fact that stocks of molasses in Montreal are light. They turned into stock last week a fresh lot of these goods.

Advices to A. P. Tippet & Co. from Griffin & Skelley note a firmer feeling on California raisins, especially 3-crown, which will cost fully ½c. per lb. more.

Rose & Laflamme are in receipt of a consignment of Chyloongs preserved ginger, 1895 crop. This is the first consignment of new ginger received into Canada this season.

N. W. Taussig & Co. advise their Montreal agents that the crop of molasses at New Orleans is 50 per cent. short of last year, and that some grades are 6 to 8c. per gallon higher.

NEW BRUNSWICK MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE CANADIAN GROCER.

ST. JOHN, N.B., Jan. 23, 1896.

BUSINESS is still dull. Not only is this the quiet season, but the lack of snow tends to make it much more quiet than usual. Not only in the city have we no snow, but there is none through the province. The lumbermen feel the want more from week to week, as logs are now yarded and want to be hauled. The winter port business continues to increase. There were four Atlantic steamers loading with general cargo for England and one for the West Indies this week. And four steamers are on their way here from England to take freight. They get full cargoes. The merchants are much displeased at the arbitrary actions of the ship laborers, who are working against their own interests. If things go on as they are now it will either mean the loss of this business to St. John, for which we have been working so long, and which would mean a loss to everyone in the city, or the steamers will have to bring men here to work for them, a thing which we would not like to see, a thing that would mean a great loss to our laborers, but which we could not blame the steamship companies for doing under the circumstances. In markets the feeling is upward, particularly pork, sugar, flour and oatmeal.

SALT—There is but little demand. The last steamer from Liverpool landed some three thousand sacks. The larger part was put in store. There are now fairly large stocks held here. Prices though easy show no change. We quote: Coarse, 50 to 55c.; fine factory-filled, $1.10; 5-lb. bags, $3.25 per bbl.; 10-lb. bags, $3 per bbl.; 20-lb. boxes, 20c.; 10-lb boxes, 12c.; cartoons, $2 per doz.; salt, bulk, $2.70 to $2.80 per bbl.

OIL—The heavy business in burning oil is over, though there is good steady demand. Agents for lubricating are becoming more active and are booking spring orders. Low prices are being quoted. We quote: American burning oil, 23¼c.; best Canadian, 21½ to 21¾c.; prime, 19c.; no charge for barrel.

CANNED GOODS—The only activity this week was caused by the seizure of a car of canned goods, obtained by a broker under false pretences, by the canner. About a hundred cases were missing; the broker was also missing. The goods were resold to a grocer here, so the manufacturer returned home rather better satisfied with results than he expected, and a lesson, we trust, learned. Canners quote corn, peas, and tomatoes rather higher, peas showing an advance of from 10 to 20c. Corned beef tends higher. Prices are easy. We quote: Corn, 85 to 90c.; peas, 90 to 95c.; tomatoes, 90 to 95c.; gallon apples, $2.15 to $2.25; corned beef, 2-lb. tins, $2.50 to $2.65; 1-lb. tins, $1.60 to $1.65; oysters, 2's, $2 to $2.25; 1's, $1.60 to $1.65; peaches, 3's, $2.75 to $2.85; 2's, $1.90 to $2; pineapple, Canadian pack, $2.35; salmon, $1.40 to $1.50; lobsters, $1.75 to $2; haddies, $1.30; clams, $5 for 4 doz.; chowder, $2.75 for 2 doz.; scallops, $5.50 for 4 doz.; Digby chickens, $1; kippered herring, $1.10.

GREEN FRUIT—There is fair movement, oranges and lemons being in good supply. But few West Indies arrived by last steamer, and Valencia and California are supplying the trade. Very few Floridas are seen. Cheap apples are also out of the market, and a better demand is noted. We quote: Apples, $2 to $2.75; oranges, $5 to $6 per bbl., $3.50 to $4 per box; Lemons, $3 to $3.50; keg grapes, $5 to $6.50; Valencia oranges, $3.50 to $4; pineapples, $2.50 to $3 per doz.; cranberries, $11 per barrel.

DRIED FRUIT—Movement is limited, and there is little to report. A shipment of California prunes which have arrived are giving splendid satisfaction. Evaporated apples are held firm, while dried are quiet. Quite a quantity of Nova Scotia dried are being offered; the stock is good, but buyers are offish. Peanuts are again advanced at Norfolk, and are held firm; advance so far is about ½c. California 4-crown loose muscatels are scarce. We quote: Valencias, 4⅞ to 5c.; layers, 6 to 6¼c.; California L. M. 4-crown, 6 to 7c.; 3-crown, 5 to 6c.; London layers, $1.65 to $1.75. Currants, bbls., 3⅞ to 4c.; cases, 4¼ to 5c.; cartoons, cleaned, 7½c.; bulk, cleaned, 6½c.: prunes, kegs, 4c.; boxes 4½ to 5c.; half-boxes, 6 to 8c.; dates, 4½ to 5c.; dried apples, 5c.; evaporated apples, 7½ to 7¾c.; California evaporated peaches, 12 to 13c.; apricots, 12 to 14c.; pears, 12 to 14c. Canadian onions, $2.25 to $2.30; cocoanuts, $3 to $4 per 100 lbs.; figs, 10 to 12c.; Sultana raisins, 7 to 8c.

DAIRY PRODUCE—There is little of interest. Large numbers of cheese are being shipped to Liverpool via St. John from the west. Local demand is slow. In butter, market is still overstocked with medium grades, good being hard to obtain, but prices of it are kept low by the stock of poor held. Eggs in cases are dull. Fresh in small lots freely bring 25c. and over. We quote: Common dairy butter, 15 to 16c.; dairy, 17 to 18c.; new creamery prints, 23 to 24c.; cheese, 8½ to 9c.; creamery, tubs, 20 to 21c.; eggs, 17 to 19c. by case.

SUGAR—Markets though strong advance slowly. As noted, merchants are well supplied. There is little local movement. We quote: Granulated, 4.60 to 4¾c.; yellow, 3½ to 4c.; Paris lump, 5¼ to 5½c.; powdered, 5¼ to 5½c.

MOLASSES—Market seems well supplied and movement light. Quantity of best quality is, however, light, and prices held firm. In syrup demand continues good. Price of New Orleans in barrels is firmer, as is syrup. We quote: Barbadoes, 30 to 33c.; Trinidad, 32 to 34c.; Porto Rico, 34 to 36c., bbls.; New Orleans, 34 to 35c.; St. Croix, 31 to 32c.; syrup, 36 to 38c.

FISH—There has been good demand for frozen, but supply has been light and dealers have to hold orders. In dry, pickled and salt there is little movement, and prices show no change. Fair shipments were made to West Indies by steamer this week. Some herring were also shipped to the English market by direct steamer. Smelt, which for a time were taken in such large quantities, are now scarce. Smoked herring continue dull; some 10,000 to 12,000 boxes arrived in this market this week. We quote as follows: Fresh haddock, 2 to 2¼c. per lb.; dry, $1.50; large cod, $3.60 to $3.75; medium, $3.35 to $3.50; pollock, $1.50; bay herring, $1.25 to $1.30 per half-bbl.; Ripplings, $1.65; Wolves, $1.85 to $2; smoked herring, old, 4 to 5c.; new smoked, 5 to 6c.; Canso, $5 to $5.50 per bbl.; shad, half-bbl., $5 to $6; Grand Manan herring, half-bbl., $1.25 to $1.35; Shelburne, $3.75 bbl., $1.65 half-bbl.; boneless, 2½ to 8c.; oysters, $3 to $3.50 per bbl.; small cod, $2.50; frozen herring, 60 to 70c. per 100.

PROVISIONS — Though reports are for rather higher prices there has been on change this week; prices are held firm. Some good orders for hams and rolls have been given for future delivery. Demand for these goods at present is very light. In beef, markets show less change. In fresh beef some very nice Ontario is seen in the market.

FLOUR, FEED AND MEAL—Large sales of flour are reported by millers' agents during the past week. Not that there is any particular movement here, but our merchants found when prices of Ontario flours began to advance they had little or no stock. A large part of that bought is for later shipment. Best Ontario grades are now quoted well up to Manitoba. In oatmeal the above report answers. Some millers have advanced quite freely. There is quite a range in prices quoted, also in grade of goods offered. Oats do not seem as firm as oatmeal. Cornmeal continues low. Feed is rather higher. Hay is firm at the high price, with rather less movement. Buckwheat meal quiet. A fairly large quantity of domestic yellow-eye beans are offering. We quote as follows: Manitoba, $4.40 to $4.50; best Ontario, $4.15 to $4.25; medium, $3 90 to $4; oatmeal, $3.50 to $3.65; cornmeal, $2 30 to $2.35; middlings, $19 to $20 on track; bran, $18 to $19; hand-picked beans, $1.25; prime, $1.20; oats, 33 to 35c.; hay, $12.25 to $13; pot barley, $4; round peas, $3 65 to $3.75; split peas, $3.70 to $3.80; yellow-eye beans, $1.85; buckwheat meal, $1.30 to $1.35.

ST. JOHN NOTES.

It has been decided to hold an exhibition during the fall of this year.

B. Rautenberg, representing Park, Blackwell & Co., Toronto, was in the city during the week.

The shipment of produce from Florenceville, Carleton county, in 1895 was 400 cars, representing earnings to the C.P.R. of upwards of $30,000.

M. R. Mackenzie, of the Beaver Oil Co., Montreal, called on THE GROCER this week. He reports a good trade in lubrication oils for later shipment.

The Board of Trade, Charlottetown, P.E.I., has affiliated with the Maritime Board, and elected as their representative Hon. Donald Farquharson.

Although rather out of season, C. & E. Macmichael are finding a steadily growing demand for the product of the Sussex mineral spring, for which they are city agents.

J. Hunter White has been appointed agent for Knox's gelatines for this market. These are goods which have made a name for themselves in the west owing to extra quality and low price.

Even in the face of low prices shipments of hay are going forward to Liverpool. With anything like a fair price in the English market a large trade would be the result. Black & Page, of Amherst, sent forward 200 tons by the Beaver Line steamer Lake Winnipeg.

The Chatham Board of Trade elected at their last meeting the following officers: W. S. Loggie, president; R. Flanagan, vice-president; J. D. B. F. Mackenzie, secretary. It was resolved to ask for a further subsidy for the s.s. Miramichi, as otherwise she would have to be taken off.

Reports from Fredericton state that, owing largely to no snow, business is unusually quiet, even for this season. Hay is a bright spot, and sells quickly at $12 per ton. Butter dull at 17 to 19c. Pork still low, offering freely at 5c.

When John Sealy first put his pure cod in 3-lb. packages, without a bone, on the market, the extra price he required to charge caused the venture to be somewhat doubtful, but the old truth that a good thing pays is again shown, and these goods are filling a long felt want.

Through New Brunswick there is an unfortunate opposition to eastern standard time, and both St. John and Fredericton are in the unsatisfactory position of running both. A moment's thought must show the advantage of one time, and the same might be said of eastern standard. After once making the change, we will soon forget it, and much confusion will be avoided.

HE IS INTRODUCING DELICATESSE

Mr. A. E. Richards, of A. E. Richards & Co., of Caledonia, is in Toronto this week for the purpose of introducing "La Delicatesse" cream cheese to the trade. This cheese is manufactured in the celebrated Herkimer County, New York, which is well-known as the best cheese making district in the United States.

It is prepared with the greatest care with a view of making it popular with the best class of trade, and has a fine delicate flavor found only in goods so carefully prepared.

The cheese is put up in neat packages which present an exceedingly attractive appearance on the counter or in the show case.

CANNING FACTORY WANTED.

A public meeting of the Board of Trade was held in the Council chamber, Tilsonburg, Thursday last, for the purpose of discussing topics pertaining to the welfare of the town. It was decided to invite the Western Dairymen's Association to hold one of their meetings there next season. A committee consisting of Messrs. Brasher, Wilkins, Tillson, Thomson and Dawler were appointed to wait upon the directors and urge the acceptance of the invitation.

The question of better market accommodation and the building of a canning factory were also freely discussed, but nothing definite arrived at.

The following gentlemen were elected officers for the present year: President, Geo. Brasher; vice-president, John McIntyre; secretary, F. Biette; treasurer, J. C. Ross; committee to draft constitution, Messrs. Brasher, Ross, Wilkins, McIntyre and Dumler.

HALIFAX TRADE GOSSIP.

THE severe cold weather and a fairly good downfall of snow have come at a time when they were badly needed. The result on trade throughout the province has in consequence been very marked, and the month of January, as far as it has gone, has shown a big improvement over December.

We hear of advances in flour of from 15 to 25c. per barrel in the west, but dealers here manage to sell at the old prices; the flour market is steady, with an upward tendency. Feeds of all kinds are low. Cornmeal is in large consumption, as are also oatmeals.

The refinery reports the market strong with an advance in yellows of ½c. since last week. Raw sugar remains unchanged.

The provision market is quiet, but firm. There is no change in prices. Mr. Rautenburg, representing a Toronto house, is here pushing Ontario beef, and he is disposing of quite a lot of it at fair prices. Ontario beef is becoming more general in this market. Dealers consider it superior to the local product, but have to contend with a local prejudice. It looks as if in time the west will supply this market with provisions and poultry. Reports from Newfoundland are to the effect that an unlooked for soft spell at St. John's has had a bad effect on some recent shipments of beef, mutton and poultry.

Our dealers are still working off Christmas and New Year's stocks of poultry. There are considerable stocks in the market yet and dealers will do no ordering until they are disposed of. Turkeys retail at 8c. per lb., which is a losing figure.

P.E.I. produce remains low. There are several vessels in port with full cargoes, and they are waiting for a rise in the market before opening their hatches. All the available warehouse-room (frost proof) is taken up, and thus the Island dealers have turned their vessels into warehouses. They can afford to do this, as there is nothing for the vessels to do in the winter months.

There is no change in the fish market.

The green fruit market is quiet. There is a good supply of Valencia and California oranges of extra good quality and at low price. The same can be said of lemons.

There are a few grapes on the market, which bring from $6 to $8 per keg.

Good apples are scarce on account of the cold weather. Stocks will be replenished as soon as the weather moderates enough to allow shipping.

Canned goods are in good demand, particularly vegetables.

Figs, prunes and dates, and all dried fruits remain strong in price.

The supply of onions is limited and prices are higher.

Walker, Hanson & Rogers is the name of a new grocery and hardware store at Middleton. Mr. Rogers is manager of the business. The firm was formerly Walker & Hanson.

Moore & Moore was the name and style of a wholesale tea house which opened up business here less than a year ago. There was only one member of the firm, F. S. Moore, who formerly did business in Amherst. On Saturday last the firm assigned to F. Wiltshire and Frank McKenzie, the latter being the firm's bookkeeper. The firm assigned their book debts to Joseph Travers & Sons, London, for $2,296, but subsequently Messrs. Moore & Moore made a general assignment, with only one preference for $297, to Appleton, Machin & Smiley, London. The liabilities are about $5,000, mostly in England. The sheriff has taken possession of the office furniture at the instance of Gordon & Keith, of this city, who supplied it.

WHEN MEN WERE HONEST.

At one time in the highlands of Scotland to ask for a receipt or promissory note was considered an insult, and such a thing as a breach of contract was rarely heard of, so strictly did the people regard their honor. The Presbyterian Witness tells a story of a farmer who had been to the lowlands and had there acquired worldly wisdom.

After returning to his native place he needed some money and requested a loan from a gentleman in the neighborhood. The latter, Mr. Stewart, complied and counted out the gold, when the farmer immediately wrote out a receipt.

"And what is this note, man?" asked Mr. Stewart on receiving the slip of paper.

"This is a receipt, sir, binding me to give ye back your gold at the right time," replied Donald.

"Binding ye, indeed! Well, my man, if ye canna trust yourself I'm sure I'll na trust ye! Such as ye canna hae my gold." And gathering it up he returned it to his desk and locked it up.

"But, sir, I might die," replied the needy Scot, unwilling to surrender his hope of the loan, "and perhaps my sons might refuse it ye, but the bit of paper would compel them."

"Compel them to sustain their dead father's honor!" cried the enraged Celt. "They'll need compelling to do right if this is the road ye're leading them. Ye can gang elsewhere for money, I tell ye, but ye'll find nane about here that'll put more faith in a bit of paper than a neighbor's word of honor and his love of right."

PERSONAL MENTION.

E. C. Coleman, of the Seaforth salt wells, was in Toronto on Saturday looking up business.

R. E. Hicks, of Perth, was seen doing the wholesales in Toronto last week.

THE CANADIAN OIL FIELD.

The normal well in the Petrolea field is about 465 feet deep, made up of 104 feet of surface clay, 296 feet of Hamilton shale and limestone, and 65 feet of Corniferous lime.

The Oil Springs wells are sunk 370 feet deep—60 feet of surface, 250 feet Hamilton shale and 60 feet of Corniferous lime.

The Corniferous lime appears to contain oil throughout, but the petroleum can only be obtained in paying quantities in certain porous strata which occur in it.

A well was sunk 1,505 feet, north of the town, the lower 250 feet of which were bored through rock containing salt crystal, which is not used for commercial purposes at present.

The rock strata in which the Pennsylvania oil is found are considerably higher than the Petrolea strata, but lie 1,800 feet below the surface, being overlapped by other rock formations.

The Petrolea wells are "shot;" that is, a charge of 8 to 10 quarts of nitro-glycerine is exploded in them, to clean out the hole and shatter the rock. In Pennsylvania far larger "shots" are used, as much as 80 and 90 quarts being exploded in a well.

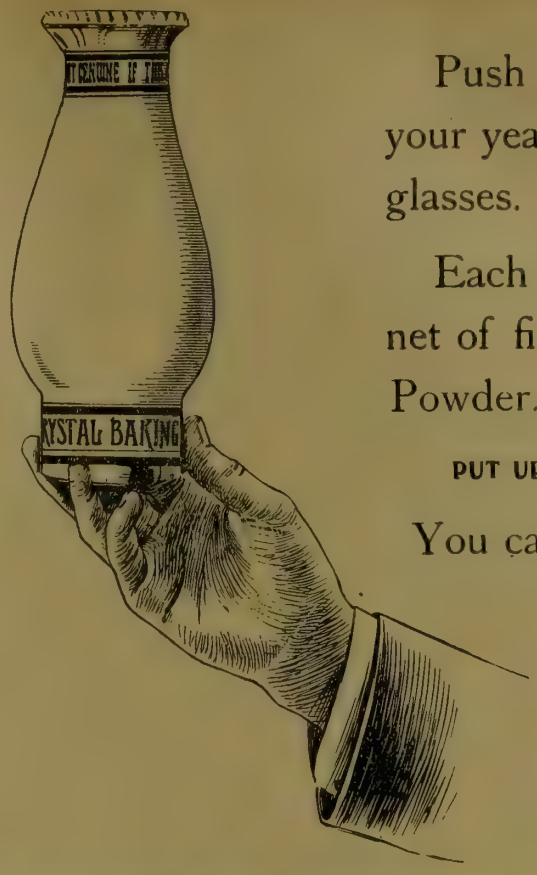
All the way from 1 to 10 wells are sunk to the acre, according to location and productiveness. It would be safe to say, however, that where less than four wells per acre have been sunk, the territory has not been thoroughly exploited, and there is any amount of room for the drill yet.—Petrolea Topic.

BOARD OF TRADE OFFICERS.

At the meeting of the Toronto Board of Trade, on Tuesday, for the nomination of officers, E. B. Osler was elected president by acclamation, Edward Gurney, first vice-president, and D. W. Alexander, treasurer. For second vice-president, A. A. Allan, Jas. Carruthers and John Flett were nominated.

FEED AND PORK GO UP IN SMOKE.

Fire on Wednesday morning destroyed the flour and feed establishment of P. McIntosh & Son and partially destroyed the pork-packing establishment of Park, Blackwell & Co., Toronto. The loss of the former firm is $20,000 and that of the latter $5,000. The McIntosh firm carried $12,000 insurance and Park, Blackwell & Co.'s loss is covered by insurance.



SEND FOR ONE.

One of the neatest souvenirs of the season is that given away to the grocers by Huyler's, manufacturers of cocoas and chocolates, New York, which have recently come on this market. It is a pocket silver match box, with a white enamelled top, on which is painted their trade design, a lady drinking a cup of their coffee.

Any subscriber to THE CANADIAN GROCER who has not received one should write to them at the factory, 18th street and Irving place, New York.

A GROCER IN POLITICS.

THE GROCER is delighted to find its policy so strongly supported by one of its subscribers, Alex. D. Fraser, of Fraser, Viger & Co., one of the leading merchants in Montreal.

We have been continually impressing upon our readers, if they wanted public offices filled with good men, they must support the right kind of business men at the municipal and parliamentary elections. The right kind of men are those who have made a success of their own business, and who have established a reputation for honesty and reliability—men who can be depended upon to do their duty. The man who would go into politics before he was so well off or so firmly established that his absence from his business would not materially affect it, should be discouraged. He generally fails, bringing disaster upon himself and trouble for his competitors and the wholesale houses and manufacturers who supply him.

Let us encourage, regardless of politics, such men as Mr. Connaughton, who showed from the success he made of his own business that he is capable of directing the larger affairs of a city. It is a noble aim for capable men to look forward to the time when they will have made enough on which to retire and devote themselves to municipal and parliamentary politics.

Mr. Fraser in writing to The Star here says: "I was much pleased to read your editorial in last night's issue of The Star, commending the re-election of Ald. Connaughton. The Star evidently believes in speaking of a man as you find him. I have much pleasure in endorsing every word you say in favor of that gentleman. I made Mr. Connaughton's acquaintance eleven years ago, meeting him first at the meetings of the Grocers' Association of Montreal. In the various offices I filled in that body, as secretary, vice-president and president, and during all these years a director, I had occasion to come in contact with Mr. Connaughton regularly—served with him on committees, and worked by his side on many a question, with many an object in view. If there is one thing more than another that struck me in his character it was his perfect reliability. Whoever might come and go, 'Barney' Connaughton, as we called him, could always be relied upon. Night after night he would trudge for miles to our meetings, when others living within a stone's throw of our hall would be conspicuous by their absence. He was always to be found on the side of right, firm and uncompromising, while always a maker for peace.

"I mention these facts, Mr. Editor, simply because a man's public conduct in a public position may be gauged from his private character and career. I know nothing whatever regarding Mr. Connaughton's opponent beyond the fact that he was defeated by that gentleman only a few short months ago. Since then Mr. Connaughton's conduct as an alderman is before us—the electors of St. Ann's Ward—and The Star but voices the sentiment of every right-thinking man in the community who has watched Mr. Connaughton's short term in the Council when it states that he is the right man in the right place, and beyond all doubt has established his claim to re-election."

CHANGE IN FREIGHTS.

By a new agreement between Canadian railway freight agents regarding parcels known as "smalls," the business of the express companies is likely to be considerably increased.

For instance, parcels heretofore delivered by freight for 35c. will now cost 45c. if called for by the company's carter, and if called for here and delivered, say Peterboro', the charge will be 55c.

As the express company collects and delivers parcels free, the saving will be apparent and real.

A SURPRISED SPICE MAN.

"I am more than surprised," said Mr. Fullerton, manager of the Snow Drift, "at the outcome of this year's business. I knew we were not going behind, but did not think (as the results have proved) that we were getting in the biggest year's work since our commencement ten years ago."

THE ART OF GETTING THERE.

ABOUT a dozen years ago, says Results, a man walked into the office of one of the great Chicago packers and asked for employment. Scores of men had called before him on similar missions, and all were told what he was told, that there were no vacancies. This man expected to be told that, but he brought an old coat with him. He had selected the business in which he had desired to work, and he came determined to go to work in it. When told that there was no room for him, he calmly removed his coat and put on the old one. He replied that he was willing to do anything; that there must be something in that great business which a determined man could find to do. He cared not what the work was. He was willing to begin anywhere.

The president of the concern smiled at the man's determination. He had come to Chicago himself years before with that same idea, and everybody had told him that there was no room for him. He had proved that there was by just such stamina as this young man was showing. The applicant's determination won, and the packer told him that he could go out and handle meat in the slaughter-house if he wished to. The young man started, but the packer called him back. Such energy and ambition were too valuable for the slaughter-house. He was placed in the office, told to learn the business, and from that day to this he has been one of the chief aids in the business, holding to-day one of the highest positions in the greatly enlarged concern.

Qualities like these have won everything worth getting in this world. Business men admire pluck. They are quick enough to recognize the qualities which won their own success Ability without determination is like a locomotive without steam.

The best positions open to young men are the opportunities to secure results. There is always room for men who can do this. There is scarce a concern which is not looking for them. Such positions are not to be attained by influence. Friendship counts for nothing where business is at stake. Men can secure clerical positions through good will, or by mild applications, but the positions which are worthy of ambition can only be secured by a display of the qualities required to fill them.

The majority of men are unsuccessful chiefly because they are timid. They enter the world as if they were afraid of it. They are careful not to run against other people. They keep out of the way. They go after success with the constant fear that they are liable to be rash. The world about them is unfathomable, and they do not know what might happen if they should chance to crowd somebody else.

The fact is, the world about us is just as timid as we are. Other people are concealing that fact as we do. They are as fearful of us as we are of them. Let one man assert himself as a leader, and all those imperturbable people will turn in and follow him. The few strong men like himself are the only ones waiting to fight him.

The men who start after their object as if they were determined to have it are the men who succeed. The world is not offering success to anybody. The millions who mingle with other millions, and shrink when anyone frowns on them, can never rise above the level of mediocrity.

Successful men are not generally examples of great ability. We all know men whom the world looks up to, as it always looks up to success, who were evidently not nearly as well qualified to succeed as we are. They are more generally men of tireless energy and fearless determination. They are men who have asserted themselves, and have made better but more timid men yield to them. They have made themselves leaders. The men whom they have cowed serve them.

According to Dun, the number of failures for the calendar year 1895 in Canada were 1,891, against 1,856 in 1894. According to Bradstreet, the figures were 1,923 in 1895, against 1,873 in 1894. The gross receipts of the C. P. R. for the year 1895 were $18,937,000, against $18,752,000 in 1894. The gross receipts of the Grand Trunk were $18,001,000, against $18,037,000 in 1894.

PREFERENTIAL TRADE.

SIR CHARLES TUPPER delivered an address before the Montreal Board of Trade on Monday, on the subject of preferential trade between Great Britain and the Colonies.

Sir Charles said that there were some questions in this country outside the domain of politics, and this was one of them. (Cheers). In Canada there were no two opinions on the subject, and he believed that the cause was making rapid headway at the heart of the Empire.

He read statistics to prove that the export trade of Britain was on the decline, and that it was her bounden duty to promote a closer trade relationship with the self-governing colonies. He read from Lord Salisbury's address at Hastings, as well as remarks from other public men in the old land, to show that a radical change had taken place in public opinion on the other side, and that the task of winning the people to the advocacy of a preferential tariff was far from being a hopeless one.

Sir Charles said that the resolutions adopted at the Ottawa conference had created a deep impression on the public mind of England, and he quoted from a paper read before the Colonial Institute showing the advantages England and the colonies would gain if a preferential duty of ten per cent. were imposed. The Secretary of State believed that trade followed the flag, and said that six self-governing colonies of the Empire took eleven times more British goods than the United States, Germany, France, Spain, Brazil and Russia.

Continuing, Sir Charles said that if England wished to expand her trade she must expand her colonial possessions, for there would be her future market, and not in those foreign countries that were surrounding themselves with a protective wall. He had never witnessed so great a change as that operated in the public mind of England during the last six years, and Sir Charles was convinced that as soon as public opinion was ripe for the change there would be no obstacles placed in the way by Lord Salisbury or his Government. (Cheers.)

If the London Congress adopts this policy it will have won important influence in the Government of Great Britain, and he was glad to say that in adopting the resolution of 1892 the Parliament of Canada had done its duty. The London Times had said, in fact, that if all the colonies adopted these resolutions it would be the duty of Her Majesty's Government to see that they were carried out.

Sir Charles referred to what he called the lion in the path—the unfortunate treaties with Germany and Belgium. These treaties, he said, were now deplored by the public men of England, and he believed that a firm stand on the part of the Imperial authorities would bring about their modification. He strongly criticised the speech on the question by the Marquis of Ripon, and showed that it was more profitable to cultivate the trade of the colonies than that of the two foreign nations, just named. He was also of the opinion that such a policy would have the effect of lowering the hostile tariff of foreign nations and he cited the ungenerous treatment meted out to England and the blow dealt at Canada by the McKinley tariff of the United States.

A NEW BROKER IN LONDON.

London, Ont., is rapidly coming to the front as a grocery centre, and, what is concomitant of it, a centre for brokers and commission men allied to the grocery trade. Among the latest additions in the latter respect is A. T. Cleghorn. He has an extensive and varied experience in the grocery business, a valuable acquisition for a commission agent. For some years he has been with Edward Adams & Co. He has already secured agencies for several of the best firms and manufacturers connected with the trade, but, like all wide-awake business men, he is open to secure a few more. Any of our readers in outside points who desire to be represented in London, we have pleasure in recommending them to Mr. A. T. Cleghorn.

THE MANAGEMENT OF CLERKS.

The Boot and Shoe Recorder is now printing a series of articles upon the above subject. Mr. N. C. Fowler, Jr., expresses his views in about three lines. He says: "Treat your clerk as you would have your clerk treat you if you were his clerk. Don't let your clerk boss you. Don't keep a clerk who needs bossing." Another contributor upon the same subject, Mr. I. A Lewis, writes as follows:

"Cultivate the friendship and good will of your clerks." He then gives these rules which he attempts to follow in creating an interest among his clerks in their work. These are:

First: By trying to treat them as I should like to be treated were I in their position myself.

Second: By paying them sufficient to keep them anxious to please and retain their positions, and making them feel that I am not "the boss," but simply the proprietor.

Third: By taking an interest in both their sorrows and their joys, and trying to make them feel that they are entitled to their pleasures, and they are human as well as I.

Fourth: By granting cheerfully, so far as in my power, any favors or concessions asked of me.

Fifth: By never deducting any salaries for either forced absence, sickness, or vacations of few days.

VINTAGE IN ITALY.

The Gazzetta Ufficiale gives the complete figures of the vintage in Italy, where the total production last year was 476,326,500 gallons, or about 102,000,000 gallons less than in 1894. There was an increase in two of the twelve provinces, these being Lombardy and Emilia; but the southern provinces, especially on the Mediterranean coast, suffered severely from hailstorms and disease; while in Sicily and Sardinia the phylloxera did much damage. Notwithstanding this, Sicily, with over 94,000,000 gallons, produced more wine than any other province, Piedmont coming second with about 83,000,000 gallons, followed by Emilia, the Southern Adriatic and the Southern Mediterranean regions, the production of which ranged from 58,000,000 gallons to 44,000,000 gallons.

REDUCTION IN TANGLEFOOT.

The annual revision of the price of Tanglefoot has again been made, and the manufacturers announce a reduction of 75 cents per case in "Regular," and 40 cents per case in "Little. The prices to rule for 1896 will be: "Regular" size, less than one case, 45c. per box; one to five cases, $4 per case: five cases, $3.75 per case. "Little" Tanglefoot, less than one case, 18c. per box; one case, $2.10 per case. There is probably now no small article so profitable to the retailer as Tanglefoot, and hardly one other which receives a more hearty support from the retailer.

"WHAT delicious tea you always have, Maud! What kind of tea do you use?"

"Thank you, my dear. I use the Ceylon Tea or the India Tea, but this, I believe, is a blend of the two. I tell my grocer that I don't mind which one he sends me, so long as it is not some of those hand-rolled teas."

"What do you mean by hand-rolled teas?"

"Why, in China and Japan the native laborers roll the tea leaves by hand, and ever since a friend of mine visited those countries and told me what he saw, I have preferred to drink Ceylon and India teas, which are rolled entirely by machinery, and I am sure they have a much finer flavor."

(The above is a copy of an advertisement being run by a number of retailers in the States who are making a specialty of their tea department.)

DRIED FRUITS IN BRITAIN.

A COMPARISON of the duty payments of the principal kinds of dried fruits during last year with those of 1894, shows that there has been an increase in each description. So far as it goes, this is satisfactory; but, on the other hand, the improvement is not very much to boast of, and is indeed less than might have been expected, when it is taken into account that we have had a prolonged period of low prices, during which it might fairly have been expected the increase, as a whole, would have been in a heavier ratio. For the purposes of a more extended comparison, we give below the figures for 1893 also :

	1895.	1894.	1893.
Currants.....	27,440	26,035	29,760
Valencias.....	8,571	8,332	7,778
Sultanas..... ...	7,926	7,644	6,038
Muscatels.....	925	784	613
Totals.....	44,862	42,795	44,199

From these it will be seen that the duty payments of currants have not, either in 1894 or 1895, reached the unusual total of 1893. This is to be accounted by the fact that the season of the latter year saw the first of the abnormally low prices; and from the light of later events there can be no doubt that the grocers throughout the country, tempted by the previously unheard-of values, went heavily into stock at that period; and that the duty payments did not represent actual consumption so much as a heavy increase in the floating stocks throughout the country. In the case of Valencias, Sultanas and Muscatels it will be seen that the deliveries of the past year showed an improvement on 1894, and that, in its turn, this was an improvement upon 1893. These figures give some little hope to those engaged in the trade; and although it is not quite satisfactory that with all kinds at such moderate prices the increase should not have been greater, it is something to feel assured that in spite of the many articles which directly compete with dried fruit, the consumption is not suffering any actual decline.

The market has been steady for all descriptions, and a distinct improvement has taken place in the demand from the grocers. The outlook for the two kinds which are of the most importance during the spring and summer months, viz., currants and Sultanas, is very favorable; and there is every prospect of a good market for both kinds; indeed, so far as can be judged, some enhancement in values seems likely.—Produce Markets' Review, London.

SUGAR STATISTICS.

A summary of the statistical position of sugar shows stocks in the United States and Cuba together of 215,924 tons, against 229,400 tons last week, and 180,350 tons last year. Stocks in Europe of 2,171,100 tons, against 2,179,900 tons last week, and 1,690,100 tons last year. Total stocks of 2,493,874 tons, against 2,516,100 tons last week, and 1,925,475 tons last year at same uneven dates, or 2,233,874 tons at the even date last year of January 1st. This year's even date figures not yet received. The surplus of stocks is now 568,417 tons, against 580,637 tons last week, and 758,248 tons December 28th. The beet crops remain 662,520 tons deficiency by Mr. Licht, and Cuba 731,000 tons deficiency.—Willett & Gray.

THE WIDE-AWAKE TONE.

To the doubting few who have not yet subscribed for either or both of these papers, we submit the following letter :

DEAR SIRS,—When The Dry Goods Review comes due next month, if you choose, make a draft for both, namely $3, or I will remit.

I congratulate you on the wide-awake tone of The Dry Goods Review and THE CANADIAN GROCER, and read them with a great deal of pleasure and profit. We are doing business strictly for cash or produce, and, after doing business for several years on credit, find the change a splendid success, and now find it a pleasure to do business.

I remain, yours truly,

H. REHDER.

BASIS OF FOREIGN DISTRUST.

European investors are believed to be very wary and suspicious of American securities and it is generally supposed that this distrust is caused by the unsettled condition of the monetary standard in America. In speaking of this matter The London Financial News says :

"We do not well see how any boom in America can be successfully engineered so long as the unsettled state of the currency problem renders the financial position a constant source of anxiety. The Treasury has not yet solved the problem of keeping its gold, nor will it do so until the proposal to retire the greenbacks is taken firmly in hand. The fear of gold exports must of necessity keep the speculative market in a constant state of nervousness, in which any external trouble would exercise an exaggerated effect. The experience of the past three weeks has been a striking illustration of the way in which the exchange is affected by the adverse financial or political symptoms of the foreign bourses. Wall street was shaken as with a spasm, not because a European war would have been injurious to the United States in a commercial sense—on the contrary, it would have benefited them—or because a breakdown in mining speculation in England or on the Continent would have made American rails any less desirable as investments, but solely because the unsound currency aggravates every political tension abroad, and magnifies the consequences of speculative trouble, however remote. Some part of the disturbance in American securities was, no doubt, caused by their forced sale on account of crippled operators in mining and other securities, but the greater part of the mischief was due to the sensitiveness of the financial situation arising from the currency question."

THE USEFUL BANANA.

IN the West Indies, explains an exchange, the dried leaves and prepared portions of the banana stem are used as packing materials. Fresh leaves are used to shade young coffee or cacao seedlings in nursery beds, and to cover cacao beans during fermentation. The young unopened leaves are so smooth and soft that they are used as "dressing" for blisters. In India the dried stalk of the plantain leaf is used as a rough kind of twine, and the larger parts are made into small boxes for holding snuff, drugs, etc.

In the Malay Peninsula the ash of the leaf and leaf stalk is used instead of soap or fuller's earth in washing clothes, and a solution of the ash is often used as salt in cooking. In the Dutch Indies the skin of the plantain is used for blackening shoes. The juice which flows from all cut parts of the banana is rich in tannin, and of so blackening a nature that it may be used as an indelible marking ink. In Java the leaves of the "wax banana" are covered on the underside with a white powder, which yields a valuable wax, clear, hard and whitish, forming an important article of trade. The ashes of the leaves, stem and fruit rind are employed in Bengal in many dyeing processes. In Siam a cigarette wrapper is made from the leaves.

Fibre is got from the stems, and is the "Manila hemp" of commerce, which holds the chief place for making white ropes and cordage. Old ropes made of it form an excellent paper-making material, much used in the United States for stout packing papers. The Manila hemp industry is a large one. About 50,000 tons of fibre, valued at £3,000,000, are annually exported from the Philippine Islands. The Manila hemp plant is grown exclusively in the southeastern part of the Philippines, and all attempts to grow it elsewhere have failed. Many articles are made from Manila hemp—mats, cords, hats, plaited work, lace handkerchiefs of the finest texture, and various qualities of paper. At Wohlau, in Switzerland, an industry has been started for making lace and materials for ladies' hats from it. By a simple process it is made into straw exactly resembling the finest wheat straw for plaiting.

Forest Council for 1896 will consist of two grain dealers, two undertakers, one banker, one cattle dealer, one contractor, one saw mill owner, one pump maker, one agent and one merchant.

NOVA SCOTIA FIBRED CODFISH

REPRESENTS the highest achievement in the art of curing and preparing Codfish ready for cooking.

NOTHING is used in this product but the finest of shore Codfish especially cured and dried for it.

THE disagreeable odor usually considered to be a necessary evil to be endured while cooking Codfish will be found to be entirely lacking in this.

EVERY particle of skin and bone being removed and the water evaporated, there is absolutely no waste. The contents of each package, therefore, is worth to the housekeeper about three times its weight in Codfish as ordinarily sold.

PUT UP in half-pound cartons, 3 doz. cartons to the case, and sold by the wholesale and retail grocers throughout Canada.

John Pratt, general merchant, Bloomfield, P.E.I., and Louis Bennie, in the same line at Elmsdale, P.E.I., have both assigned to John A. Matheson.

Danford Roche & Co., general merchants, Newmarket and Woodstock, are offering their creditors 30c. on the dollar. The statement presented showed ordinary claims against the firm of $34,195.16, and preferred claims of $1,245.50. The assets, consisting almost entirely of stocks in the Woodstock and Newmarket houses, are valued at $23,003.69. Ten years ago Danford Roche & Co. were doing business in Newmarket, and leaving that place started in Toronto, with an estimated capital of $20,000. In two years they incurred liabilities of $100,000, and compromising at 60 per cent. on the dollar, removed to Barrie. From Barrie the firm transferred its business to Collingwood, but making another change, returned to Newmarket, where it assigned in February, 1890. Then Mrs. Roche, the mother of Danford Roche, purchased the stock, and continued the business till the present assignment.

DROPS FROM THE EDITOR'S PEN.

Meanness is Old Nick in essence.

Quite as much needed as hands and feet is a head in business.

A business is no more capable of navigating itself than is an Atlantic liner.

Attention to business should not allow inattention to the other duties of life.

When thou art weighing give justice to thyself as well as to thy customer.

There is one thing burglars cannot steal, and that is the merchant's good name.

Leisure hours spent in judicious study often result in years of affluence and ease.

Many a man who takes off his coat to work keeps his ideas encased in a straight jacket.

He who keepeth his store open at night should at least see that it is not night in his store.

While a merchant should be gentle in his manner it is stiff he should be in his backbone.

"Push" and "honesty" will not ryhme, but they are the basis of the poetry of success.

The cash system that has not a good backbone running through it is a miserable failure.

Pork is higher, and yet the hogs are squealing. But, then, it is just like us human hogs—always squealing.

Where and how a clerk spends his evenings determines where and how he shall spend his latter years.

A contemporary declares that sugar made from corn cobs equals maple sugar. The producer of the former may say or think so, but what is the opinion of the consumer? I prefer maple syrup—and the syrup that cometh from the Canadian maple—on my pancakes.

It is not because they cannot find a market that farmers are holding their wheat; it is for better prices they wheat.

A dirty face is no more an indication of uncleanly habits than is a dirty window display an indication of an unclean store.

If the Almighty Dollar is the business man's god it has taught him one good thing, and that is to set his face against war.

A smile is a good thing, but its goodness depends on whether you give it from behind your counter or take it in front of the bar.

A young man should consider well whether he will fit the business before he jumps into it; if it is too big for him, ten to one he will drop through it.

A merchant may wish till the crack of doom to do a good business, but he will never secure the desideratum till his wish is backed up by works.

All things come to him who waits; but it is pretty hard sometimes for the merchant with inadequate capital to wait for business to develop to the paying stage.

Better any day is it to have a small business than a large inflated one. The one will stand a little depression, but to the other a little depression means collapse.

The retail grocers and meat dealers of Zanesville, O., have jointly established a union. Between the two the union ought to be able to carve its way to success.

The manager of the Kootenay mines reports that there are good prospects of gold from the quartz at Skeena River, Hudson's Bay.

The above, from a London, Eng., correspondent, appeared in a South African paper. Between the Skeena River and Hudson's Bay stretch the Rocky Mountains and 1,000 miles of country. But, of course, that is nothing to a newspaper man with scan knowledge of geography and wide breadth of imagination.

The youth starting out in life who does not first of all essay to be a Man will in the world be, like chips in broth, a nonentity. Manliness is the first essential in man.

Speaking the other day of Canada, Chauncey Depew said: "Political union will follow whenever we desire to extend the invitation." Now, Chauncey, talk sense.

Ideas have to be frequently rubbed against other ideas before they possess value, just as a knife requires to be rubbed against a grindstone before it possesses an edge.

The cereal crops in Australia are being ruined by drought. This continent might spare the Antipodies a few carloads of its superfluous snow for the purpose of melting down into water.

As white as was the snow which fell in Toronto on Friday last, the day of the big storm, no one was heard to call it beautiful. It just shows how a good name can be spoilt by being too obtrusive.

Wanamaker, the big departmental store man in Philadelphia, has discontinued the sale of groceries after a brief experiment. Like a good many others, he has probably learned that in practice the grocery trade is not at all the same thing it is in theory.

Prate as we may about the injustice meted out in this world, it is the exception and not the rule when a man does not at least ultimately receive justice in even this world. Half the time we are getting our deserts when we are ready to take oath and swear we are not.

Merchants should be as attentive to the wants of the "lower five" as to those of their customers numbered among the "upper ten." The hen is not one whit prouder when she is laying eggs for the millionaire than she is while doing so for the mendicant.

HOW PRUNES ARE CURED.

CONSUMERS of the useful prune, the simple fruit that takes the place of richer preserves, says a contemporary, may not know how the French growers prepare the fruit for market, and what a process of the most primitive kind it goes through before packed for exportation. As soon as the prunes are harvested they are taken to a building called the fruitery, where they remain a few days to complete maturity. The fruit is then subjected to not less than three and frequently four distinct cookings before being pronounced fit for the market. The first two preliminary cookings have for object evaporation of water contained in the fruit; the final cooking, which dries the fruit, imparts a certain brilliancy much sought by buyers. You know that rich gloss? The sun-dried prunes are most delicious to the taste, but the exigencies of the trade do not permit of such long preparation. In several districts of France the most primitive means are practised in curing the fruit. In Provence it is plunged in pots of boiling water, then placed in baskets and gently shaken until cool, when it is put upon long trays exposed to the sun's heat to complete the disiccation.

At Digne the prunes are not gathered until ripe. Women feel the fruit with their nails to avoid injury to the soft pulp. The fruit is strung on small twigs in such fashion as not to touch. These sticks of prunes are stuck into straw frames, which are suspended in the sun until the prunes easily detach from the stick. The pit is then removed and the same process of sun-drying is gone through, and, when thoroughly desiccated, packed for market. The trays used in rural districts are quaint affairs, varying in form, dimensions and construction according to locality. The peasants make them during the winter months, and they are clumsy and cumbersome, and the only excuse is the peasant cannot afford to buy and is not skillful enough to make better ones.

COFFEE STATISTICS.

The total sales of coffee of all kinds in the United States during 1895 were 272,506 tons, against 263,274 tons in 1894, and 247,717 tons in 1893. The receipts of Brazilians were 3,311,604 bags, and the distribution from the seaports 3,230,660 bags, comparing with 3,169,028 in 1894, and 3,208,042 in 1893.

"These figures," remarks N. Y. Journal of Commerce, "are significant in showing good full average consumption, but in their application to present position must be taken in conjunction with the fact that on January 1st the world's visible supply of coffee was much in excess of last year; the quantity available for this country was then and has since shown an amount very much in excess of January, 1895, and the absence of any hints of damage to the growing bean is strong evidence that previous liberal estimates of next crop are not now assailable."

WINNIPEG CITY TRAVELERS.

The City Travelers of Winnipeg met Thursday evening of last week to elect officers for the ensuing year and to arrange for their annual "At Home." Mr. D. M. Horne was appointed chairman, Mr. John Horne, secretary, and J. M. Scott, treasurer. A committee was formed to make all necessary arrangements. After other business of a routine character, a vote of thanks was moved to the retiring officers: A. Pratt, chairman; J. M. Scott, secretary, and K. J. Johnstone, treasurer. From the interest manifested the coming event is sure to be as successful as the previous one. The meeting then adjourned until next week.

UNITED STATES CORN PACK.

THE corn crop of 1895 was the largest on record. The yield per acre averaged unusually large. In Maine it was returned at forty-two bushels; in Vermont it was over forty-five; in New York, over thirty-five; In Iowa, over thirty-five; in Missouri, thirty-six; in Illinois, over thirty-seven; in Indiana, over thirty-two; while in Delaware it was only twenty-one, and in Maryland less than twenty-seven. In Maine and New York the packing season was unusually favorable, and while the acreage for canners' use was reduced in both States, the yield turned out so large, and the weather was so favorable during canning operations, that the total output was but little behind that of 1894. It is stated that in Maine not a single day was lost during the packing season on account of rain. These remarks are necessary in order to understand fully why the corn pack of 1895 was so little behind that of 1894. The total for this year is 3,121,164 cases, against 3,414,808 cases in 1894, showing a reduction of only 293,664 cases, or about 8½ per cent.

There was a general disposition on the part of the packers to reduce the output, and they worked to this end in their conventions and among themselves. There was also a general conclusion arrived at, that the use of chemicals should be avoided, and many of the packers who formerly used chloride of sodium as a bleacher abandoned the practice. Many of them, however, continue to use an artificial sweetener. We entertain very decided opinions that any chemical agent used in the packing of corn tends to discredit the article with the consumer. Thirty years ago, when Winslow's old yellow label corn was the favorite in this and other markets, there were no such troubles encountered in its distribution as are now met with by almost every distributor. We do not believe that corn-packing will become a profitable industry for the majority of packers until they make quality the first and only consideration as against quantity. The pack compares with the previous year as follows:

	Cases 2 dz. tins each. 1894.	1985.
Maine	603,116	543,233
Vermont	12,000	17,000
Maryland and Virginia	450,315	281,475
New York	961,276	850,002
Illinois	519,600	453,668
Indiana	123,950	63,610
Iowa	121,639	369,535
Ohio	344,040	274,400
Nebraska	36,800	33,800
Kansas	20,700	29,000
Missouri	15,444	22,700
Michigan	100	6,000
Pennsylvania	30,900	25,719
Delaware	7,042	.....
Other States	30,821	22,022
Total United States,	3,277,743	2,992,164

The pack of corn in 1895 compares with the output of previous years as follows:

Year—	Cases 2 dz. tins each	Year —	Cases 2 dz. tins each.
1895	3,121,164	1890	1,588,860
1894	3,414,808	1889	1,760,300
1893	4 301,451	1888	3,491,474
1892	3,351,079	1887	2,311,424
1891	2 889,153	1886	1,704,735

Total ten years.....27,934,448
Average per year..... 2,793,445
Average per year 1893-95 3,612,474

In addition to the above supply there was an enormous carry-over at all points. It is evident that our previous estimate of 3,500,000 cases as being the limit of annual requirements was too large, because if that amount were correct there would not be such heavy supplies constantly pressed upon the market with an average pack for three years of a little over 3,600,000 cases.—American Grocer.

WINNIPEG RETAILERS.

The first regular meeting in the new year of the Retailers' Association of Winnipeg was held on the evening of the 22nd inst. in Sloan's Delmonico hall. There was a large attendance of the retail merchants. The annual reports show the affairs of the association to be in a very healthy state. The result of the election was as follows.

President—Gilbert Fowler.
Vice-President—William Wellband.
Secretary—J. M. Teichman.
Treasurer—J. K. Wright.

A permanent committee to which to refer all important subjects for consideration and report was also selected, composed of the officers-elect and Messrs. William Grundy, Geo. Ryan, R. H. Nunn, T. D. Deegan and Ald. Geo. Craig.

A great deal of discussion was occasioned by a motion dealing with the business tax, and which will come up at next meeting.

After adjournment, Mr. Geo. Ryan, the retiring president, entertained the members to a supper in Delmonico dining hall, and a most enjoyable time was spent in social conviviality, speech making and singing.

The association showed its appreciation of Mr. Sloan's kindness in granting it the use of his parlors free and passed a unanimous vote of thanks, accompanied by a tangible token of their appreciation.

WHY FOLKS READ BUSINESS PAPERS.

By Nath l C. Fowler, Jr., Doctor of Publicity.

Business people read business papers.

He who can't get business out of the business paper has no business to be in business and generally isn't.

The daily paper has its business department.

The religious paper recognizes business.

The business paper is all business, for it can contain nothing excepting that directly pertaining to the business it represents.

The business paper is the distributer of hard business literature.

The business paper is the periodical clearing house in which is made the balance of trade.

The business paper increases trade; regulates competition; protects industries.

It is a protective organ, as well as a medium for the distribution of unpolitical free trade.

I do not mean to say that all poor business men do not read trade papers, but there never was a good business man who did not depend upon the paper of his trade.

Perhaps the trade paper editor may not have been drilled in the business he represents.

Perhaps he may have been a failure as a business man.

It is not the business of the business editor to be a success in business.

It is his business to act in the capacity of the absorber of business information ; that he may the better present, with or without argument, the data of business.

Into the trade paper goes the theory and practice of business manipulation.

It is a mirror of business.

It reflects trade directly.

It does not allow the rays of business to diverge from the straight line of trade.

The business man may read an hundred daily papers, or he may read a dozen magazines, and from them all he may obtain general information of positive value in the conduct of his business ; but from a good trade paper he receives definite, practical information of as much importance to him as the counter in his store, or the record book in his office.

Folks read business papers because they want to.

Folks read business papers because they have to.

The first indication of intelligent progression in the clerk is when he turns from his desk at opportune moments to absorb the paper of his trade.

The intelligent man of business reads his trade paper from beginning to end ; advertisements and all.

He may not always read it intelligently, but he gives to every page at least an eye glance.

The advertisements to him are of the same importance as the reading matter.

In the combination of the two he derives information of pertinent necessity to the management and development of his business.

The trade paper is a necessity, and so long as it occupies that position it will be read conscientiously and intelligently by every business man who has proven his right to do business.

THE GROCER ABROAD.

Tees & Persse, wholesale brokerage and commission warehousemen, Winnipeg, in renewing their subscription to The Canadian Grocer, say :

"The writer, (James Tees), spent a few weeks recently in London, Eng., and was greatly gratified to see how highly The Canadian Grocer was thought of among the best people there."

The statements in Mr. Tees' very kind letter are further proven by Mr. Wm. Mackenzie, of Ceylon, who has been in London and America for some time in the interests of the Ceylon Tea Planters' Association, when he says, "he finds The Grocer everywhere in London."

A WHOLESALE FISH FAILURE.

THE long established and well-known wholesale fish firm of Hunt, Barnes & Co., Montreal, assigned last week on the demand of W. A. Robertson & Co., St. Andrews, N.B.

The firm has an existence of over fifteen years, the two senior partners retiring some years ago. Since that time the remaining partner, N. W. Smith, has carried on the business under the old title.

The liabilities are about $11,000 and the assets consist of stock-in-trade, fixtures, book debts, horses, sleighs, express wagons, etc.

At this writing nothing can be said definitely of how the estate will stand until a complete investigation has been made.

The principal creditors are : Nuttal Bros., Rossport, $261 ; Rossport Fish Co., Port Arthur, $504 ; Caleb Haley & Co, New York, $233 ; J. W. Trefethen, Portland, $265 ; A. Alexander, Nepigon, $850 ; C. D. Paramellee, Fair Haven, Conn., $261 ; H. F. Hemmingway & Co., Norfolk, $235 ; Reggin Bros., Crisfeld, Md., $281 ; W. A. Robertson & Co., St. Andrews, $554 ; Bellman,Chisholm & Co., Halifax, $750; Behring Sea Co., New Whatcomb, $240 ; George Tanguay, Quebec, $210 ; Joseph H. Snow, Digby, $260 ; J. T. Brock, city, $245 ; John Magor & Son, city, $343 ; Bank of Nova Scotia, $200 ; T. S. Vipond & Son, city, $650 ; W. Weir & Sons, $1,500 ; Jesse Joseph, rent to 1st May, 1896, $350, and Dame Nellie Cherry Smith (under marriage contract), $1,500.

HALIFAX BOARD OF TRADE.

The annual meeting of the Halifax Board of Trade was held on the 21st. inst. James Morrow was elected president, and A. M. Payne and George Mitchell vice-presidents.

The retiring president, M. Dwyer, in his address, pointed out that it was useless for Halifax to expect the Dominion Government to do justice to Halifax in the matter of a fast line of steamers, and he recommended appealing direct to the Imperial Government.

HOW A GROCER WAS "FOOLED."

I saw one of these "smart" salesmen work a poor little grocer in great shape the other day, writes "Stroller" in Grocery World. It was really the grocer's own fault, for he ought to have known more about his own business. He didn't take any trade paper, I found that out. "Didn't need none," he said, and on that salesman's visit alone that fellow lost enough, simply through ignorance, to pay for almost any trade paper several years.

The salesman wanted to sell the grocer a big order of flour—more, probably, than he'd sell in a year.

"My dear sir, said the salesman impressively, "flour is certain to go up inside of a week, probably 50c. a barrel. By buying now you'll get the benefit of the low price, and can increase your profits when the jump comes."

The grocer didn't know that there was no immediate prospect of an advance in flour, and that if it came it wouldn't mean over 10 or 15 cents per barrel. He took no trade paper, he had no source of information but the salesmen who came into his store, and in consequence there he was. If he had been informed on the markets, he'd have turned that salesman down on the spot. But he wasn't, and I didn't feel called on to interfere, so he booked a big order of flour. As the salesman went out he looked at me as if he wanted to wink, but he didn't do it, possibly thinking it not safe.

I calculate that before that flour is gone, that grocer will be in more approachable shape in regard to the value of a trade paper.

PREFERENTIAL TRADE WITH BRITAIN.

JUDGING from the tenor of the political press, preferential trade with Great Britain will be the most prominent question at the next general election.

The question is one regarding which political lines are not so sharply drawn as between Protection and Free Trade: Liberal as well as Conservative desires trade extension with the Motherland. Differences of opinion only arise when ways and means of securing the desideratum are discussed.

Canada has made marked development in a commercial sense during the past couple of decades. But our manufacturing and mercantile industries have developed relatively much more rapidly than has our population. And to-day we are face to face with the fact that we must either quickly enlarge our population or expand our outside trade —we want to do both. Neither can be accomplished in a day. But it is possible to develop the latter much quicker than the former.

It is an axiom that all will subscribe to, that the freer trade is the better. But unfortunately this axiom has not always been followed in practice. Some nations, actuated by false economic tenets or selfishness, have wrapped themselves up within themselves, practically saying to other countries, "You shall not trade with us." Others, in obedience to the law of self-preservation, have been compelled to imitate these exclusive countries. Canada is one of them, but even in her tariff there are many vulnerab'e points.

It is all very well to plead that two wrongs do not make a right. But there is a war in commerce as well as a war in which guns and bayonets figure; and self-protection is as natural in one as in the other instance.

On the principle that the less carriage that is entailed the better, the expansion of trade with the United States is something much to be desired. But the high tariff policy of that country is in some instances specially designed to injure the Dominion. That our trade would be benefitted by the lowering of the tariff barrier in the United States is clearly demonstrated by the increase of our exports to that country under the Wilson law, which dealt more kindly with Canadian products than did the law fathered by McKinley. But the tendency appears to be rather an undoing than the extension of the Wilson law. There does not, therefore, at the moment appear to be much prospect of extending trade in that direction, much as we may desire it.

But what seems at the moment impossible with the United States is possible with the United Kingdom. That country has no tariff against our products; and, furthermore, it is a consumer of our natural products. Under the existing conditions it is our natural market. Although our exports to the United States last year were valued at about four million dollars more than in 1894, they were nearly a million dollars less than in 1873. Our exports to Great Britain, on the other hand, were 37.70 per cent. greater in 1895 than in 1873, notwithstanding that the exports of last year were nearly seven millions less than in 1894. In other words, while our export trade to the United Kingdom has steadily developed that with the United States has practically remained stationary.

Although last year we sent less to the United Kingdom and more to the United States than we did in 1894, still in spite of this our exports to the former country exceeded those to the latter by some twenty and a-half millions.

The relative importance of our export trade to the two countries may be gathered from the fact that in 1895 our exports to the United Kingdom were 54 per cent. and that to the United States 35.39 per cent. of the total exports to all countries.

With fewer barriers in the way results would undoubtedly be different; indeed, the very fact that nearly 40 per cent. of our total exports now go to the United States in the face of a hostile tariff forces us to no other conclusion. But we are dealing with conditions as they are, not as they might or should be.

In the matter of imports from these two countries, however, quite a different tale is to be told: Those from the United Kingdom have steadily decreased, while those from the United States have just as steadily increased. Last year our imports from the United States were the second largest on record, being exceeded in 1893, when the Americans were so badly in need of money that they were glad to unload their merchandise upon us at any price.

While our aggregate trade (imports and exports) decreased with the United Kingdom and increased with the United States, it is learned by grouping the past five years and comparing them with the preceding similar period that the results are favorable to our trade with the former country. For instance, the aggregate trade of the Dominion with the Motherland for the five years ending 1890 was valued at $423,228,-062, and with the United States in the same period it was $442,182,613. The figures for the five years ending 1895 were $505,057,124 and $473,871,174 respectively.

In other words, an increase of 16 per cent. with the United Kingdom and 6.55 per cent. with the United States.

It is natural we should turn our face to the door which promises to give us the best welcome.

THE PROPOSED DUTY ON TEA.

THE agitation in the United States for a duty on tea has become a live one. The trade and financial press, as far as THE CANADIAN GROCER can gather, are unanimously in favor of the innovation, and there are apparently but few dissentients among the tea dealers. Someone, in fact, has said that the men who opposed the duty were crockery men who handled tea for the purpose of working off their crockery.

The proposition is to place a specific duty of 10c. per pound, and it is held that by this means the Government will not only be able to materially increase its receipts, but that the poorest grades of tea will be kept out of the country, and that, as a further corollary, the tendency would be to rebate the pedlar nuisance.

The inference is that a duty will be levied on tea, and particularly in view of the fact that the United States is sadly in need of an additional revenue producing factor.

It is some twenty years since the United States removed the duty on tea; and the duty on coffee went out with it.

The latest figures we have to hand regarding the imports of tea into the United States are for the year 1894, and they give the imports at nearly 92,000,000 pounds, the average price of which was 15.1 cents. As the imports of tea are not likely to decrease, it is safe to estimate that a revenue of at least $9,000,000 would be raised by the proposed duty.

Much interest is being taken by the tea men of Canada in the movement, and, as far as THE CANADIAN GROCER can gather, they look upon it with favor, for there is a corresponding feeling among importers in this country that the Canadian Government would soon follow suit.

At the same time, however, this must not be forgotten: Canada has of late years been exporting an increasing quantity of tea to the United States, and as a goodly portion of that which is sent there is of low and medium grades, our trade in this respect would in all probability feel the effects of a specific duty. The exports of tea from Canada to the United States from 1890 down to the end of the last fiscal year are as follows :

	lbs.	Value.
1890	189,323	$ 34,990
1891	207,291	40,856
1892	1,103,819	202,203
1893	461,260	71,586
1895	882,057	120,566

The countries which impose a duty on tea are as follows : Great Britain, 8c. per pound ; Germany, 11c. per pound ; Austria-Hungary, 20c. per pound ; Portugal, 48c. per pound ; Norway, 24c. per pound. Canada imposes a duty of 10c. per pound on teas not imported direct from country of production, or that have not been purchased in bond in a country which does not impose a duty.

SCARCITY OF COCOANUTS.

Toronto is at the moment practically without a bag of really good cocoanuts.

On account of the cold weather it has not been possible to bring them in.

As a result an improved enquiry is heard, but, so far, it has not affected quotations, our figures being as before, namely $3.50 to $4 per sack.

AN EXPLANATION.

An article appeared in THE CANADIAN GROCER of October 18th, 1895, under the heading of "A Computing Scale and a Dishonest Grocer." At first sight this may be misleading to those who are interested and who use scales. The fact is that the Computing Scale Co., of Dayton, Ohio, who have been for a long time exporting their scales into Canada, have arranged with the Inland Revenue Department to make a special scale for the Canadian merchant to use, and the statement in the article above referred to, that the scales sent into Canada were practically in a maimed condition, is entirely incorrect and erroneous.

The special scale prepared for the Canadian Government is in every respect equal to the scales prepared for the dealers and merchants in their own country, but it is prepared to conform fully to the laws of the Dominion, and, in reality, costs the manufacturers more to make than the scales they make for their own country.

Those inspectors who have examined them think they are very far in advance of the scales made for use in the United States by the above named firm. Anyone interested, who has hesitated to look into the computing scale business, on account of the publication of the article above referred to, may be set right by writing to the Hon. E. Miall, Commissioner of Inland Revenne, Ottawa, Ont., enclosing stamped envelope for reply, and we have no doubt he will write them, giving the facts as above stated, which facts were obtained from the manufacturers themselves.

EXPORTERS BUYING BUTTER AND CHEESE.

Exporters in Montreal have commenced a regular hunt this week for both creamery butter and cheese. They have advanced their bids on both products within the past eight days over three-quarters of a cent. Ten days ago they laughed at the idea of paying more than 20c. for creamery butter.

On Monday two of the big shippers were foraging the market and offering 21c. This demand, and the fact that the local consumptive demand for butter is almost equal to the supply, points to still higher prices on butter.

Local jobbers are always prepared to pay from ½ to 1c. per pound more than exporters, and, as they evidently want supplies, the competition between them and the exporters is almost certain to send up the price above where it is at present.

With regard to cheese, THE CANADIAN GROCER has all along this fall taken a strong position on the article. The course of events at present goes to prove that its advice to holders not to be in a hurry to sell meant bigger profits to such as followed it.

To-day in Montreal exporters are bidding 9½ to 9¾c. for finest fall makes, against 9c. ten days ago.

This change of opinion has come about since the clearance off the market of the large block of 23,000 P.E I. cheese held in Montreal on factorymen's account..

The reasons for a stronger cheese market have been pointed out so frequently in these columns that it would be tedious to repeat them. Suffice it to say, that it will not be surprising if we see 10c. cheese shortly.

SUGAR BOOMING.

"I was not far out," said a Montreal broker, "when I predicted 5c. granulated sugar in the near future."

The advance of fully one half cent per pound in the manufacturers' price of the refined article inside of a fortnight goes to bear out this assertion, coupled, as it is, with the exceptionally strong position of the raw article in outside markets.

On Monday last the Montreal refiners advanced their prices another ⅛c. per pound, their range now being : Granulated, 250-bbl. lots and over, 4⅝c.; 100-bbl. lots 4 11-16c., and smaller quantities, 4¾c.; yellows, 3¾ to 4¼c., as to quality.

The second jump led to an increased demand from jobbers, who are by no means plentifully supplied with the staple.

Refiners, however, refuse to book orders ahead for any large quantity, and as their stock of refined immediately available is light, the volume of trade has not been materially increased by the better enquiry induced by the advance. At this writing the combination jobbing prices on granulated in Montreal is 4⅞c., and we do not hear of as much cutting on sugar as usual, while jobbers will not sell low grade yellows under 3¾c. at the very inside, and prices range from that up to 4⅜c.

SALMON EXPORTS TO BRITAIN.

Another vessel of the salmon fleet destined for Great Britain sailed for Liverpool on the 18th inst. from Victoria, B.C. Her cargo consisted of 26,785 cases. The vessel in question was the sixth for the season ; and the total number of cases comprising six cargoes were 290,152, valued at $1,484,734.

As the total pack last season was 600,000 cases, it will be seen that over 48 per cent. of it has been exported by sailing vessels to the British market. And there is still another vessel to load.

The exports to Great Britain, in pounds and value during the last five years, were as follows :

	Pounds.	Value.
1891	13,576,108	$1,520,536
1892	11,325,165	1,156,062
1893	7,985,652	847,449
1895	19,771,686	1,934,642

The above table it must be remembered, includes shipments from Atlantic ports as well as by vessels direct from British Columbia, and as the value of what has already gone by the six steamers alone aggregates nearly $1,500,000, it is quite likely that the exports to Great Britain for the fiscal year of 1895-6 will be at least equal to those of last year.

ORANGES WILL BE DEARER.

If present indications are any criterion, the orange market promises to be interesting ere long. The situation in California is the factor which conduces to this. And the situation in California is due in turn to a variety of circumstances.

Since the 1st of January the fruit sections of that State have been visited in turn with severe frosts, two weeks of rain and terrible wind storms, which have caused the orange trees to shed their fruit in showers.

A private letter received in Toronto this week declares that at least 50 per cent. of the crop is ruined.

The market at the moment contains fairly good stocks, but when these are exhausted it is a foregone conclusion that prices will be higher, and, in all likelihood, materially so.

A BRIGHT GUELPH GROCERY.

Scott & Millman, of Guelph. have one of the most attractive and convenient grocery stores in Western Ontario. This firm some months ago bought out Fielding & McLaren, and they were not long in possession till they began to transform what was already an attractive store. Inside and outside the place has been repainted and decorated. The inside of the store has been painted a bright carmonette. Besides the decorations, ingenuity has been exercised in calling into use modern conveniences, whereby increased facilities may be obtained for expediting business, Scott & Millman doing one of the largest trades west of Toronto. And as it is a high-class trade, a large stock of fancy groceries are carried; also fancy china and glassware. The store is 90 by 25 feet, with a 16-foot ceiling, and is well lighted both day and night.

BOARD OF TRADE MEETINGS.

TORONTO.

THE annaul meeting of the Toronto Board of Trade was held on Tuesday. The retiring president, Mr. Stapleton Caldecott, occupied the chair. As the president, first vice-president, and treasurer had been elected by acclamation, the elections were confined to second vice-president, and the various committees, etc. The officers for the ensuing year are:

President—Mr. E. B. Osler.

First Vice-president — Mr. Edward Gurney.

Second Vice-president—Mr. James Carruthers.

Treasurer—Mr. D. W. Alexander.

Secretary—Mr. Edgar A. Wills.

Council (in order of election)—Messrs. D. R. Wilkie, William Christie, W. D. Matthews, H. N. Baird, Stapleton Caldecott, W. G. Gooderham, Edward W. Cox, M. C. Ellis, J. L. Spink, F. L. Phillips, John Macdonald, Elias Rogers, J. H. G. Hagarty, W. D. Beardmore and J. Herbert Mason.

Board of Arbitration (in order of election)—Messrs. John Carrick, Thos. Flynn, Wm. Badenach, R. S. Baird, Thomas McLaughlin, J. H. Sproule, C. W. Band, Wm. Galbraith, Noel Marshall, John Keith, Thos. Davies and C. S. Boon.

Representatives on the Harbor Commission—Capt. Hall and Mr. W. A. Geddes.

Representatives on the Industrial Exhibition—Messrs. D. Gunn, W. B. Hamilton and Joseph Oliver.

Mr. Secretary Wills presented his annual report, which was solely of a statistical nature, and showed that the present membership of the board was 909, viz., 709 resident members and 200 non-resident; of these 849 were subscribers to the gratuity fund, and 93 were life members. Forty-five members had been elected during the year, and eleven had been removed by death.

In presenting his annual report the treasurer, Mr. D. W. Alexander, stated that while the balance to the credit of the board was not, perhaps, as large as they would like to see, still it was satisfactory considering the hard times. Rentals lately had fallen very much, and the Board of Trade had suffered in this. Some steps, Mr. Alexander thought, would have to be taken to offset this loss of revenue. The council thought that this must be met by an increase in the membership, and they looked to the members to accomplish this. Mr. Alexander's statement showed a revenue of $40,393.25, and a contra account of $39,298.27, leaving a balance of $1,094.98. Annual subscriptions were $15,521; rents for 1895, $24,831.25, and transfer fees, $41, this making up the revenue account. The receipts from all sources were $55,755.21, and the expenditure amounted to $63.784.19, leaving a deficit of $6,828.98, which was met by an overdraft on the bank.

The reports were adopted.

President Caldecott's report was a voluminous and interesting document. In his opening remarks he said:

"In harmony with the traditions of the past, in returning into your hands the important trust with which you honored me a year ago, I beg permission to lay before you a short notice of some of the questions which have occupied the attention of the council, and of other subjects which to-day are of deep interest to the welfare and progress of the country. The year 1895 has been for the most part a year of quiet recovery from the depression of 1893 and 1894. The restoration of trade has not been quick, but it has evidently been gradually getting better. Raw materials, which had fallen during 1894 to the lowest point known for many years, have risen considerably. Manufacturers in most branches of trade are fairly well occupied with orders, and bank returns indicate that the country is slowly, yet surely, getting over the long depression that for the last few years has overshadowed every commercial interest. What is particularly wanted now is confidence in the future of our country, a belief in its naturally great resources, and a determination to develop every legitimate industry to the fullest extent."

Referring to the question of a bankruptcy law he said:

"Through a judicial decision which showed that under the Ontario Act for the equitable distribution of insolvent debtors' estates it was possible for a debtor to assign a portion only of his estate, a deputation waited upon the Hon. Attorney-General to point out the mischief that might thus be caused, and it is gratifying to know that immediately Sir Oliver Mowat's attention was called to the point he promised to make the needful amendment, which has since been carried into effect, and is now working very satisfactorily. But though the Ontario Act for the equitable distribution of insolvent debtors' estates is much better than nothing, it is far from meeting the wants of the commercial community. What is required and what this board has been incessantly calling for year by year, since 1882, is an equitable Dominion Bankruptcy Act for the whole Confederation of Canada, which, while giving the creditors the full control of an estate that is evidently insolvent, will prevent fraudulent preferences, punish reckless selling, compel proper bookkeeping and yet give a discharge to the man who has honestly given up his estate to his creditors, and not been guilty of either reckless selling, fraudulent buying, or extravagant living. Such a bill as this was drafted by a united committee of the Boards of Trade of Canada, and brought before the notice of the late lamented Sir John Thompson, who promised to give this important subject his early attention, but unfortunately for Canada, the angel of death cruelly and suddenly snatched him away from what promised to be a long career of usefulness. The present Premier, however, consented to take up the matter, but it is to be regretted that, so far, though a bill has been prepared that largely fills the wants of the trading community, this much-needed legislation has not been presented to the notice of the House of Commons.

"Meantime the need of a sound bankruptcy bill is deeply felt. The passing of such a bill will greatly advance that interprovincial trade which every patriotic Canadian desires to promote, will reduce to a minimum fraudulent and reckless trading, and will powerfully help forward the commercial progress of the country. May I not ask, how much longer shall the commerce of the country call before this needed bill shall become the law of the land?"

MONTREAL.

At the annual meeting of the Montreal Board of Trade, held on Wednesday, Mr. Robert Bickerdike was elected president over the late president, Mr. Jas. A. Cantlie, by 102 majority. The number of votes cast was 867 more than ever before.

Other officers are:

First vice-president—Mr. John Torrance, shipping, by acclamation.

Second vice-president—Mr. John McKerrow, dairy produce, by acclamation.

Treasurer—Mr. Charles F. Smith, boots and shoes, by acclamation.

Members of the council—Messrs. Charles Chaput, groceries, 504; James Crathern, hardware, 734; Henry Miles, importer, 527; David MacFarlane, paper, 633; Robert McKay, dry goods, 553; Charles McLean, shipping, 479; William McNally, cements and builders' supplies, 516; William Niven, dairy produce, 592; J. E. Rendell, Newfoundland trade, 535; G. F. C. Smith, fire insurance, 492; F. Wolferstan Thomas, general manager of Molsons Bank, 679; David G. Thomson, grain forwarder, 640.

Mr. Robert Meighen declared that the board did not do itself nor the city justice. If they would turn their attention and energy to the great Northwest it would be worthy of the board and its mission in Canada. What was needed was enterprise and the development of the port of Montreal, and the best way that the exports of the Northwest could be deflected to this port. With the notable exception of the Ogilvies, Montreal had no firms which figured in the crop product of the Northwest. The trade now went from that section to the American ports, and it was from these ports that it was shipped to Europe. The business which should be done by Canada was under a foreign flag and going to a foreign port. The fact that this great grain product was in the hands of a syndicate was more important than bars and one cent postage.

Mr. McFee followed. He said that it was owing to the inadequate water facilities and to railway discrimination that the grain business of Canada was "nil." As a board they could make the railways come to time, but as individuals they were powerless. The Canadian fleet in the great lakes could not compete with that of the Americans. The tonnage of the different boats was less, and as a consequence the grain could not be carried at so cheap a rate. What was wanted was as good a waterway from Midland to Montreal, as their neighbors had between Buffalo and New York. Deeper waterways were an absolute necessity. He closed by stating that they would lose the entire grain trade if the waterways were not deepened between Montreal and Lake Ontario.

It was decided that after the termination of the lease of the bar and restaurant in May, 1897, it be turned into offices, and hereafter the building should have no bar.

HE MADE HIMSELF A MAN.

WHEN Garfield was asked as a young boy, "what he meant to be," he answered: "First of all, I must make myself a man; if I do not succeed in that, I can succeed in nothing."

Montaigne says our work is not to train a soul by itself alone, nor a body by itself alone, but to train a man.

One great need of the world to-day is for men and women who are good animals. To endure the strain of our concentrated civilization, the coming man and woman must have an excess of animal spirts. They must have a robustness of health. Mere absence of disease is not health. It is the overflowing fountain, not the one half full, that gives life and beauty to the valley below. Only he is healthy who exults in mere animal existence; whose very life is a luxury; who feels a bounding pulse throughout his body; who feels life in every limb, as dogs do when scouring over the field, or as boys do when gliding over fields of ice.

Pope, the poet, was with Sir Godfrey Kneller, the artist, one day, when the latter's nephew, a Guinea slave-trader, came into the room. "Nephew," said Sir Godfrey, "you have the honor of seeing the two greatest men in the world." "I don't know how great men you may be," said the Guinea man, "but I don't like your looks. I have often bought a much better man than either of you, all muscles and bones, for ten guineas."

Sydney Smith said, "I am convinced that digestion is the great secret of life, and that character, virtue and talents and qualities are powerfully affected by beef, mutton, pie crust and rich soups. I have often thought I could feed or starve men into virtues or vices, and affect them more powerfully with my instruments of torture than Timotheus could do formerly with his lyre."

What more glorious than a magnificent manhood, animated with the bounding spirits of overflowing health?

It is a sad sight to see thousands of students graduated every year from our grand institutions, whose object is to make stalwart, independent, self-supporting men, turned out into the world saplings instead of stalwart oaks, "memory-glands" instead of brainy men, helpless instead of self-supporting, sickly instead of robust, weak instead of strong, leaning instead of erect. "So many promising youths, and never a finished man!"

The character sympathises with and unconsciously takes on the nature of the body. A peevish, snarling, ailing man cannot develop the vigor and strength of character which is possible to a healthy, robust, jolly man. There is an inherent love in the human mind for wholeness, a demand that shall come up to the highest standard; and there is an inherent protest or contempt for preventable deficiency. Nature, too, demands that man be ever at the top of his condition. The giant's strength with the imbecile's brain will not be characteristic of the coming man. The first requisite of all education and discipline should be man-timber. Tough timber must come from well grown, sturdy trees. Such wood can be turned into a mast, can be fashioned into a piano or an exquisite carving. But it must become timber first. Time and patience develop the sapling into the tree. So through discipline, education, experience, the sapling child is developed into hardy mental, moral, physical timber.

What an aid to character building would be the determination of the young man in starting out in life to consider himself his own bank; that his notes will be accepted as good or bad, and will pass current everywhere or be worthless, according to his individual reputation for honor and veracity; that if he lets a note go to protest, his bank of character will be suspected; if he lets two or three go to protest, public confidence will be seriously shaken; that if they continue to go to protest, his reputation will be lost and confidence in him ruined.

If the youth should start out with the fixed determination that every statement he makes shall be the exact truth; that every promise he makes shall be redeemed to the letter; that every appointment shall be kept with the strictest faithfulness and with regard for other men's time; if he should hold his reputation as a priceless treasure, feel that the eyes of the world are upon him, that he must not deviate a hair's breadth from the truth and right; if he should take such a stand at the outset, he would, like George Peabody, come to have almost unlimited credit and the confidence of all, and would have developed into noble man-timber.—Architects of Fate.

ONTARIO MARKETS.

GROCERIES.

SUGAR continues to monopolize attention on the local market, another advance of ⅛c. having taken place since our last issue. The advance has checked the demand slightly, but the market is strong, and the general opinion is that a further appreciation in values is probable. Some increased interest has been awakened in foreign dried fruits from the fact that currants and Sultana raisins are dearer in the primary markets, the latter having advanced 2s. in Smyrna. Prunes are advised very firm. Molasses continue in good demand and firm. Pekoe Souchongs are strong in England, but otherwise the tea mareet remains much as before. Payments are fair.

CANNED GOODS.

There is no change in the canned goods situation, except it be that confidence in canned tomatoes is gradually gaining strength. The demand for tomatoes and peas is good for the season, but in other lines there is very little doing. We quote: Tomatoes, 77½ to 85c.; corn, 75 to 85c.; peas, 90 to 95c. for ordinary; sifted select, $1.10; extra sifted, $1.45 to $1.50; peaches, $2.90 to $3 for 3's, $1.90 to $2 for 2's; raspberries, $1.40 to $2.00; strawberries, $1.80 to $2.45, according to brand and quality; blackberries, $1.90 to $2.20; cherries, $2 40 to $2.45; apples, 3's, 85 to 90c.; gallons, $1.90 to 2.25; salmon, "Horseshoe," $1.35 to $1.40; "Maple Leaf," $1.35; "Lion," $1.35 to $1.40; Lowe Inlet, $1.27 to $1.30, in tall tins; cohoes, $1.10 to $1.20; canned mackerel, $1.10 to $1.20; lobsters, $1.80 to $2.10, for tall tins; flats, $2.35 to $2.65; half tins, $1.45 to $1.50; Canadian canned beef, 1's, $1.35 to $1 45; 2's, $2.25 to $2.35; 6's, 7.50 to $8; 14's, $15 to $16.50.

COFFEE.

There is just an ordinary demand, and prices are as before. We quote green in bags: Rio, 19 to 21c.; East Indian, 27 to 30c.; South American, 21 to 23c.; Santos, 19 to 22½c.; Java, 30 to 33c.; Mocha, 33 to 35c.; Maracaibo, 21 to 23c.; Jamaica, 21 to 25c.

SYRUPS.

Trade is quiet and prices steady. We quote: Dark, 30 to 32c.; medium, 33 to 35c.; bright, 40 to 42c.

MOLASSES.

The demand is fair, but nothing extra. Prices continue firm. We quote: New Orleans, barrels, 28 to 35c.; half-barrels, 30 to 35c.; Barbadoes, barrels, 31 to 35c.; half-barrels, 33 to 35c.

SUGAR.

Another eighth of a cent per pound has been placed on the price of sugar by the refiners. Refiners' price on granulated is now about 5¾c. net, laid down in Toronto. The refiners do not appear to have anything in the way of dark sugars under 3⅞c.; 3¾c. was bid for a round lot, but it was not entertained. The refiners will not date orders even one day ahead. The demand continues fair, but it is not as heavy as it was. Proportionally there are more carloads moving than small lots. The ruling idea for granulated is now 4⅞c., and yellows run from 3⅞c. for dark to 4⅜c. for very bright.

SPICES.

There is nothing special to note regarding either the home or foreign market. We quote: Pure black pepper, 10 to 12c.; pure white, 18 to 25c.; pure Jamaica ginger, 23 to 25c.; cloves, 15 to 20c.; pure mixed spice, 25 to 30c.; cream of tartar, French, 25 to 27c.; ditto, best, 28 to 30c. per lb.; allspice, 14 to 18c.

NUTS.

Much as before. We quote: Brazil nuts, 14 to 15c.; Sicily shelled almonds, 25 to 26c.; Tarragona almonds, 14 to 14½c.; peanuts, 10 to 12c. for roasted, and 7 to 10c. for green; cocoanuts, $4.50 to $5 per sack; Grenoble walnuts, 12 to 12½c. Marbot walnuts, 11 to 12c.; Bordeaux walnuts, 9c.; Sicily filberts, 8 to 10c. for sacks and 10½ to 11c. for small lots; pecans, 10½ to 11c.

TEAS.

The market is in much the same position as a week ago, beyond the fact that Pekoe Souchongs are stronger in London, Eng., on account of the season drawing to a close, and the package-tea men buying for their future wants. Locally, the demand for teas, especially Indian and Ceylon growths, is moderate. We quote ruling prices to retailers as follows: Young Hysons, 12 to 18c. for low grades, 24 to 27c. for mediums, and 30 to 45c. for high grades; China Congous, 14 to 18c. for mediums, and 25 to 55c. for high grades; Japans, 15 to 20c. for mediums, 28 to 35c. for high grades; Indians and Ceylons, 18 to 22c. for mediums, and 30 to 65c. for high grades.

DRIED FRUITS.

Currants are cabled higher in Patras, but these is no change here and the demand is light. We quote: Provincials, 3¾ to 4c. in bbls.; fine Filiatras, in bbls., 4¼ to 4½c.; ditto, half-bbls., 4¼ to 4¾c.; ditto, half-cases, 4¾ to 5c.; Casalinas, cases, 5 to 5¼c.; Vostizzas, cases, 6 to 6½c.; ditto, half-cases, 6½ to 6¾c.; ditto, extra fine, 6¾ to 7¼c.; ditto, half-cases, 7¼ to 7½c.; Panaretas, in cases, 9c.

Valencia raisins are in small demand with price steady. We quote: Off-stalk, 4½ to 4¾c.; fine off-stalk, 5 to 5¼c.; selected, 6 to 6¼c.; layers, 6½c.

The prune market continues firm at unchanged prices. The demand locally has hardly yet began. We quote prunes: Bosnias, "Sphinx" brand, "A," 65 to lb., 9c.; "B," 75 to lb. 7¾c., "U," 102 to lb., 6½ to 6¾c.; California prunes, 40-50, 10 to 10½c. per lb.; 50-60, 9½c. per lb.; 60-70, 9c.; 70 80, 8½c. per lb.; French, 5 to 6c.

California fruits continue quiet and unchanged. We quote: Apricots, 15 to 16c.; peaches, 8c., in bags, and 10 to 15c. in boxes; pears, 10½ to 12½c.; plums, 6½c. for unpitted, and 12½c. for pitted; nectarines, 11 to 13c.; loose muscatels, 5½ to 6½c. per lb.

Sultana raisins are advised 2s. higher in Smyrna. On the spot they are quiet and unchanged at 5½ to 6c.

Eleme figs are quiet and unchanged. We quote: Eleme, 14 oz., 9 to 10½c.; 10 lb., 9½ to 12½c.; 12 lb., 12½c.; 28 lb., 15c.

GREEN FRUIT.

The demand for oranges is still light. The market contains some good stock at the moment, but there is a great deal of frozen fruit in existence, especially in oranges of California growth, and higher prices are looked for shortly. As noted in our editorial columns, it is estimated that 50 per cent. of the California crop is ruined. We quote: Lemons—Messina, $2.50 to $3.50 for 360's and 300's respectively per box; Oranges—Jamaicas, $3 50 to $4; fancy, $4.25 to $4.75; California navels, $4 to $4 75; Valencias, 420's, $3 75 to $4 25; Jumbo's, 420's, $5 to $5.50; ditto, 714's, $4.75 to $5; Mexicans, $3 50 to $4 per box. Bananas, $1.25 to $1.75; cocoanuts, $3.50 to $4 a sack; apples, $1.50 to $3 a barrel; Malaga grapes, $5 to $7 per keg; domestic onions, 60 to 65c. per bag; Spanish onions, 40 to 50c. per small crate; sweet potatoes, $3 to $3.25 per bbl.; cranberries, $9.50 to $10 per bbl. for first class, and $7 to $8 for ordinary, and $3 to $3.75 per case; hickory nuts, $1.50 to $1.75 per bush.

BUTTER AND CHEESE.

BUTTER—All the good butter that is coming forward sells freely, but the greater part arriving is poor to medium, and that class is accumulating. The deliveries are chiefly large rolls, for choice baskets of which as high as 15c. is obtainable. We quote: Early summer dairy store packed, 7 to 8c; good to choice fresh packed, 15 to 16c.; large rolls, fresh, 13 to 15c.; dairy pound prints, 14 to 16c. Fresh creamery—Tubs, 19 to 20c.; do., pound prints, 20 to 22c. Creamery butter is coming forward rather faster than desirable, and dealers are therefore willing to shade prices for large lots.

CHEESE—The market keeps firm and business fair. We quote: Summer make, 9c.; Sept. and Oct., 9½ to 10c.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

BEANS—Are still a drug on the market, and prices are much as before at $1 to $1.10 per bushel.

DRIED APPLES—There is scarcely anything doing, and quotations are almost nominal at 4c. per lb.

EVAPORATED APPLES—Business is still quiet and prices unchanged at 6½ to 7c.

EGGS—Receipts of new laid continue to increase, and the tendency of prices is rather downward. We quote: New laid, 19 to 20c.; pickled, 14 to 14½c.; held fresh and cold stored, No. 2, 12 to 14c.; ditto, No 1, 16 to 17c.

HONEY — There is a great deal of white honey coming forward, and the feeling is easier in consequence. The local demand is light, but there are still a few inquiries from the western part of the province. We quote: Strained, clover, 10 to 10½c.; dark, 5c.; comb, clover, $1.80 per dozen; dark, 80c. per dozen.

POTATOES—Are still tending downward. Carloads on track are now quoted at 19c., although we hear of one sale at even less than that figure; out of store, 25 to 30c. is the idea. There is very little doing.

POULTRY—Is coming in a little better, but the demand has improved and stocks are kept well cleaned up. There are no ducks on the market and quotations are nominal. We quote: Geese, 5 to 6c. per lb.; turkeys, 7 to 8c. per lb.; chickens, 35 to 50c. per pair; ducks, 60 to 80c. per pair.

PROVISIONS AND DRESSED HOGS.

There is a firmer feeling in provisions, and although quotations are not higher, packers will not shade figures as they did a week or two ago. Dressed hogs are firmer at $4.90 to $5. Lard is slightly dearer.

DRY SALTED MEATS—Long clear bacon, 6¼c. for carload lots, and 6½ to 6¾c. for small lots; backs, 7½c.

SMOKED MEATS — Breakfast bacon, 10c.; rolls, 7 to 7¼c.; hams, large, 22 lbs. and over, 9c.; medium, 15 to 20 lbs., 10c.; small hams, 10c.; backs, 9 to 9½c.; picnic hams, 7c.; all meats out of pickle, 1c. less than above.

LARD—Pure Canadian, tierces, 8 to 8¼c.; tubs, 8½ to 8¾c.; pails, 8¾ to 9c.

BARREL PORK—Canadian heavy mess, $14.00; Canadian short-cut, 14 to $14.50; clear shoulder mess, $12; shoulder mess, $11.50.

FISH AND OYSTERS.

Trade in fish and oysters continues quiet, and no improvement is anticipated till Lent, which opens in another week. Prices are much as before. We quote oysters: Standards at $1.30 to $1.35, and selects $1.60. Fish are quoted as follows: Skinned and boned codfish, 6½c.; boneless fish, 3½ to 4c.; haddock, 5 to 6c.; Labrador herring, $3.25 to $3.50 half barrel and $5.50 to $5.75 per barrel; Newfoundland herring, $2.50 per half barrel, and $4.50 to $4.75 per barrel; fresh water salt herring, $3 per barrel; blueback herring, 4c.; pike, 6 to 7c. per lb.; flitched cod, 5c.; finnan haddies, 6½c.; Digby herring, in bundles of 5 boxes, 11c.; ditto, lengthwise, 10c.; large halibut, 12 to 15c.; Restigouche salmon, 20 to 25c.; British Columbia salmon, 13 to 14c.; mackerel, 20 to 25c.; steak cod, 6½ to 7c.; haddock, 5c.; black bass, 9 to 10½c.; white fish, 8 to 9c.; salmon trout, 7½ to 8c.; Lake Superior whitefish, 8c.; Lake Winnipeg whitefish, 7½ to 8c.

FLOUR AND FEED, HAY, ETC.

WHEAT—Prices are higher, at 80c. for white, 72c. for red, and 59½c. for goose.

BARLEY—Unchanged, at 40 to 44½c.

PEAS—Steady, at 53 to 54c.

OATS—Steady, at 27 to 27½c.

BALED HAY — Receipts are still large, and prices are easier. Car lots on the track are quoted at $15 to $15.25 for No. 1 and $13 to $14.25 for No. 2.

BALED STRAW — Business is quiet, and prices easy at $8.50 to $9 for car lots.

FLOUR—Business continues quiet. We quote both for job and car lots as follows: Straight roller, $3.50 to $3.60; Manitoba bakers', $3.50 to $3.60; Manitoba patents, $3.90 to $4; Ontario patents, $3.75 to $3.90.

BREAKFAST FOODS—Business is much as before. We quote: Oatmeal, cornmeal and pot barley from 10 to 15c. lower; Standard oatmeal and rolled oats, $3; rolled wheat, $2.10 in 100 lb. barrels; cornmeal, $2.75; split peas, $3.25; pot barley, $3.25.

SALT.

Demand continues fair, although not as active as a week ago, some of the packers not cutting as much meat. Prices unchanged. We quote at Toronto: In carload lots, $1 per barrel, and 60c. per sack; in less than carload lots, $1.05 per barrel and 65c. per sack. At the wells we quote: F.O.B.

HIDES, SKINS, WOOL AND TALLOW.

The market continues dull all round, and there is very little movement in any line. Quotations of hides, skins and wool in the local market are as follows:

HIDES—No. 1 green, 5c. per lb.; No. 2, 4c.; No. 3, 3c.; No. 1 cured 6 to 6½c.

SKINS—Calfskins, No. 1 green, 6c.; No. 2, 5c.; No. 1 cured, each, 75c. to $1. Sheepskins, fresh, 80c., and early, 40 to 60c.

DEERSKINS—Green, 8c. per lb.; dried, 20c. per lb.

WOOL—Fleece, combing, 24c.; tub-washed fleece, 22c.; rejections, 17 to 18c. Pulled—Supers, 21 to 23c.; extras, 22 to 23c; combing, 22 to 23c.

TALLOW—Prime rendered, in barrels, 4½c.; do., in cakes, 4¼c. Dealers re-sell barrel tallow at 5c. and cakes at 5½c.

PETROLEUM.

Trade is brisk for this time of the year. We quote in 1 to 10 bbl. lots, imperial gallon, Toronto: Canadian, 16c.; carbon safety, 18c.; Canadian water white, 18c.; American water white, 21c.; Pratt's Astral, 22c.

MARKET NOTES.

Sugar has advanced another ⅛c per pound.

Sultana raisins are 2s. higher in Smyrna.

Eggs and butter are easier on account of freer deliveries.

Potatoes are down to 19c. per bag on the track at Toronto.

Oranges are expected to advance shortly.

QUEBEC MARKETS.

MONTREAL, Jan. 30, 1896.

GROCERIES.

BUSINESS has not shown much increase in volume, but the week has furnished many interesting features. The most prominent point was the continued strength of sugar, which jumped another ⅛c. per lb. at the refineries. These frequent advances recently have made jobbers more nervous about supplies, and they are free operators, business being moderate, simply because refiners will not agree to book ahead at current rates, while the stock of refined immediately available in first hands is smaller than usual at this time of the year. The possibility of some development from Ottawa in regard to tea duties has also imparted more life to the wholesale tea market here, jobbers enquiring more freely. Strength continues to be shown by molasses, while dried fruit and other lines of staple groceries furnish no striking feature.

SUGAR.

The prediction made last week that granulated sugar was going to 5c. seems in a fair way of being verified, for refiners gave their prices another jump of ½c. per lb. all round last Monday, and the market is strong at the advance. Demand is brisk, for jobbers have now made up their minds that if they don't book now it is going to cost them more money later on. As a result a large volume of business has been transacted, which possibly would be much larger were it not for the fact that refiners' stocks are not large, while they refuse to accept orders for the forward delivery of any large quantity at ruling rates. The jobbing price is now ⅛ to ¼c. per lb. above what it was last week, granulated being held firm at 4⅞c. per lb. and yellows from 3⅞ to 4⅜c. per lb., as to grade.

SYRUPS.

The syrup market continues firm, in tone, as stocks are light in first hands. Business, however, is quiet, but with sugar and molasses firm it is possible that an advance in prices may brighten up the demand. At this writing values are held firm at 1¾c. for ordinary and 2½ to 3c. for bright stock.

MOLASSES.

The molasses market is firm, as noted last week, and demand is fair. Stocks of Barbadoes are much reduced, and this fact, with the firmness in Porto Rico and New Orleans outside, tends to stiffen sellers' ideas, though no actual quotable change is to note this week. Porto Rico and Cuba stock, of which there is a small quantity on the market, have sold in jobbing lots at 35c., and sales of New Orleans have ranged from 25½ to 35c., as to grade. Barbadoes are nominal, the only business noted being in single puncheons, which changed hands at 37c.

RICE.

There has been little change in the rice market, millers noting a fairly satisfactory demand for the season. We quote: Japan standard, $4.25 to $4.40; crystal Japan, $4.75 to $5; standard B., $3.45; English style, $3.30; Patna, $4.25 to $5, and Carolina, $6.50 to $7.50.

SPICES.

There has been a fairly active business in spices, and values are strong, especially on cream of tartar. In a round way sales of black pepper have been made at 9c., and nutmegs at 60c. We quote: Pure black pepper, 10 to 12c.; pure white, 15 to 22c.; pure Jamaica ginger, 23 to 25c.; cloves, 15 to 20c.; pure mixed spice, 25 to 30c.; cream of tartar, French, 25 to 27c.; ditto, best, 28 to 30c. per lb.; allspice, 12 to 15c.

COFFEE.

Jobbers and roasters have been operating with more freedom during the past week, but otherwise the situation is unchanged. We quote bean coffee as follows: Maracaibo, 20 to 21c.; Rio, 19 to 20c.; Java, 28c.; Jamaica, 20c., and Mocha, 31 to 32c.

TEAS.

The tea market is strong, and latterly has given signs of more activity. Low grade and medium Japans have sold at advances of 1 to 1½c., and are now unobtainable on the market aside from what jobbers have in stock and require for their own customers. In fact, supplies generally in jobbers' hands are lighter than usual, and the fact accounts for the better enquiry that tea brokers and importing agents have experienced during the past ten days. In addition to sales of Japans at 15 to 17½c. to jobbers, the latter have been buyers of gunpowders at 18 to 21c., and have also placed some fair-sized cable orders for Ceylons. In a distributive way, the market is quiet.

DRIED FRUIT.

There is a quiet, steady enquiry for Valencia raisins at unchanged prices. We quote: Ordinary off-stalk, 4 to 4¼c.; fine, 4½ to 4¾c.; selected, 5 to 5¼c., and layers, 6½ to 7c.

The firm feeling on California fruit, especially 3-crown, is fully maintained, and we quote 3-crown 5¾ to 6c. and 4-crown 6¾ to 7c.

Sultanas are enquired for in a moderate way, prices ruling steady at 6¼c.

There is a good jobbing demand for currants, and prices are steady at 3¾c. in barrels, 4 to 4¼c. in half-barrels, and 4½ to 4¾c. in cases.

There is no change in prunes, which are held firm on the whole, with the exception of some small sizes of French. We quote: French, 4½ to 5c.; Bosnia, 6c., and California 7½ to 15c., as to grade. Demand for the latter is showing a steady expansion, as the offerings are exceptionally good value, as compared with the European fruit.

Figs continue quiet and steady as follows: Bags, 4c.; boxes, ordinary, 8½ to 9c., and fancy, 12 to 14c.

Dates continue quiet and steady at 4½ to 5c.

NUTS.

There is a moderate trade in nuts at firm prices. We quote: Grenoble walnuts, 11½ to 12½c.; filberts, 7½ to 8c.; Tarragona almonds, 11½ to 12½c.; pecans, 9 to 12c., and shelled walnuts, 18 to 20c.

CANNED GOODS.

Market entirely without new feature. We quote: Lobsters, talls, $8 per case; flats, $9 to $9.50; sardines, ordinary brands, $7 to $8.50; best brands, $9.50 to $10.50; salmon, $1.25 to $1.30 per doz.; tomatoes, 75 to 80c.; peaches, $2 to $2.25; corn, 85 to 90c.; marrowfat peas, 95c. to $1; strawberries, $2 to $2.25; raspberries, $1.75 to $2; green gages, $1.75 to $2; blue plums or damsons, $1.50 to $1.75; pineapples, $2 to $2.25 and 3-lb. apples, 80 to 85c.

WINES AND SPIRITS.

A fair sorting demand is noted for Scotch and Irish whiskies, with an occasional small import order. No great activity is looked for until the beginning of February.

GREEN FRUIT.

It has been another quiet week in the green fruit trade, business ruling dull on the whole, and prices about the same. We quote: Oranges—Jamaicas, $8 to $9 per barrel, and $4 to $4.50 per box; Valencias, 420's, $3.75 to $4, and 714's, $4.50 to $5. Lemons, $2.50 to $3. Grapes, $5 to $6 per keg; grape fruit, $5 to $6 per box. Cranberries, $8.50 to $10 per barrel. Apples, $2 to $3.50 per barrel. Dried do. 4 to 4½c. Evaporated do. 6 to 6½c. Spanish onions, 40c. per crate.

FISH.

The cold, sharp weather of the past six days has had a beneficial effect on the trade in fresh fish, such as tommy cods, haddock and cod, etc., supplies of which are kept well cleaned up. We quote: Fresh haddock, 3 to 4c. per lb.; cod, 3½; steak cod, 4½c.; smelts, 5 to 6c.; fresh frozen B. C. salmon, 10c.; Manitoba whitefish, 7c.; pickerel, 6½c.; dore, 6½c.; pike, 4 to 4½c.; trout, 7c.; tommycods, $1.50 per barrel. Choice pickled Labrador herrings, $5.25; No. 1 N.S. $3.50 to $4; No. 1 green cod, $4.10 to $4.50; No. 2, $2.75; No. 1 haddock, $3; No. 1 large codfish, $5; No. 1 lake trout, $4 to $4.25; B. C. salmon, $10.50; No. 2 Labrador salmon, $12.50 to $13; No. 1 mackerel, $19.50; Lock Fyne herrings, 85c. per keg, and $11 per barrel; tongues and sounds, $9; No. 1 sardines, $4.50; No. 1 dried cod, $4.25 to $4.50; boneless cod, 6c. per lb.; boneless fish, 3¼c.; boneless haddock, 5c.; shredded, 11c.; haddies, 6½ to 7c. per lb.; bloaters, 90c. per box, and smoked herrings, 8 to 10c. per box.

PROVISIONS.

There has been a fair business in provisions, there being a good demand for small lots. We quote: Canadian short cut, clear, $14; Canadian short cut, mess, $14.50; hams, city cured, per lb., 9 to 10c.; lard, Canadian, in pails, 8c.; bacon, per lb., 9; lard, com. refined, per lb., 6¼c.

A good demand is noted for dressed hogs, and the market is active and firm. We quote: Car lots, $5 20 to $5.30, and jobbing lots at $5.50 per 100 lbs.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

EGGS—The egg market continues steady and prices show no change. The demand to-day was fair for small lots and a fairly active trade was done. We quote: Boiling stock, 18 to 20c; Montreal limed, 14 to 15c.; western limed, 13½ to 14c., and held fresh, 13½ to 14c. per dozen.

BEANS—In beans business is quiet and of a small jobbing character at steady prices. We quote: Car lots of choice hand-picked at $1 to $1.05, and small quantities at $1.10 to $1.20.

POULTRY—There was a good demand for poultry to-day, and as offerings were not large a fairly active trade was done at firm prices. We quote: Turkeys, 7½ to 8½c.; chickens, 7 to 7½c; ducks, 7 to 7½c., and geese at 5 to 5½c. per lb.

POTATOES—The market for potatoes was quiet, sales being chiefly in small lots at 40 to 45c. per bag, while car lots are offering at 35c. on track.

ONIONS — Are unchanged at $2.50 per bbl. for red, and $2 to $2.25 for yellow.

FLOUR, FEED AND MEAL.

The flour market has adopted a firmer tone since our last report, and prices both on Manitoba and Ontario grades have been advanced sharply. In fact, enquiry for the latter has been checked to a certain extent by the rise in price. On the other hand Manitoba millers report the demand good at the recent advance, with a large business doing. Cable enquiries were received Monday from Copenhagen and Glasgow, but millers state that, as long as the present demand continues on spot, they have no flour to offer. We quote: Winter wheat, $4 to $4.25; spring wheat, patents, $4; straight roller, $3.75 to $4; straight roller, bags, $1.80 to $1.85; extra, bags, $1.60 to $1.70; Manitoba strong bakers', $3 55 to $3.80.

The demand for oatmeal was slow and the market continues quiet and steady. We quote: Standard barrels, $2 85 to $2.95; granulated, barrels, $2.90 to $3; rolled oats, barrels, $2 90 to $3.

There was no change in feed, business being quiet. We quote: Bran, $14 to $15; shorts, $15 to $16; mouillie, $19 to $20.

CHEESE AND BUTTER.

There has been an active week's trade in cheese, among the large transactions being the disposal of the 23,000 P.E.I. cheese at 8¾c. for the lot. This has brightened up the market materially, and holders are now disposed to ask an advance of ½c., 9¾c. being the inside figure for finest fall, and 8⅞c. for summer makes.

Creamery butter is also higher than it was a week ago, shippers being active buyers at an advance of ½c. over what they were offering a week ago. As the local jobbers are paying 21c. and over this week, the former are not getting much butter.

HAY.

The hay market is quiet at the recent decline, sales of No. 1 being noted at $14 and No. 2 at $13.

ASHES.

There is no change in ashes. We quote: Pots, firsts, $3 60; and seconds, $3.40 per 100 lbs.

MONTREAL NOTES.

Offers of shelled walnuts were made this week at 15 to 16c. per lb. This is a decline of 2c.

The first receipts of bitter oranges are expected here this week. They are offering to arrive at $3 to $3.50.

Receipts of Pecan nuts to hand this week have lowered the range on these goods a trifle, sales being noted at 8c.

Rose & Laflamme had a cable from Bordeaux this week quoting an advance of 8s. per 100 kilos on prunes, nearly 1c. per lb. advance.

Refiners advanced their prices on sugar here on Monday an eighth of a cent all round. The Wholesale Guild price has been marked up in proportion.

Rose & Laflamme have removed from their old premises at the corner of Lemoine and McGill streets, to 400 St. Paul street, at the corner of Custom House square.

NEW BRUNSWICK MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE CANADIAN GROCER.

ST. JOHN, N.B., Jan. 30, 1896.

DURING the past week business has been rather more active, the strong tendency of the market, together with an almost general advance, being the cause. Country orders, however, continue light, but with a little more snow a better business is looked for during the coming month. In fish, the market is rather dull; frozen fish, for which there is a demand, is in very light supply. During the week there has been an easier feeling in molasses owing to quite a quantity of cheaper grades being on the market. Dairy products shows no improvement. Honey is tight. And although paper is reported well met in the banks, collecting open accounts is hard work, particularly around the city. Candy manufacturers here have made a combination price on staple lines; during the past few months these goods have been cut till no profit remains.

SALT—There is no change in price and but light demand. We quote: Coarse, 50 to 55c.; fine factory-filled, 95c. to $1.10; 5-lb. bags, $3.25 per bbl.; 10-lb. bags, $3 per bbl.; 20-lb. boxes, 20c.; 10-lb. boxes, 12c.; cartoons, $1.90 to $2 per doz.; dairy, bulk, $2.80 per bbl.; cheese, bulk, $2.70 per bbl.

OIL—As season advanc s sales of burning tend to fall off in quantity. Market shows no change. A rather better business is noted in lubricating, but largely for future delivery. Prices are easy. We quote: Best American, 23¼c.; best Canadian, 21½c.; prime, 19c. No charge for barrels.

CANNED GOODS — A somewhat better feeling is noted, but business is still very light. In canned meat some American packs are up 10 cents in two-pound size. There are now two Canadian houses selling, their prices being well under those of the Americans. Quite a demand of late has been noticed for clams, and as these goods become better known the sale is bound to increase. With our haddies there is a large market to the west, where the fresh are not as easy to get as here. We quote as follows: Corn, 85 to 90c.; peas, 90 to 95c.; tomatoes, 90 to 95c.; corned beef, 2-lb. tins, $2.50 to $2.65; 1-lb. tins, $1.50 to $1.60; oysters, 2's, $2 to $2.25; 1's, $1.60 to $1.65; peaches, 3's, $2.85 to $2.90; 2's, $1.90; lobsters, $1.75 to $2; haddies, $1.40; salmon, $1 35 to $1.50; flat, $1 75; clams, $5.50 for 4 doz.; chowder, $3 for 2 doz.; scallops, $5.50 for 4 doz.; Digby chickens, $1; pineapples, $2 to $2.35; kippered herring, $1.10; American peaches, $2.40.

DRIED FRUIT—There is still but little business. There is some demand for California evaporated fruit, as peaches, apricots, and prunes, and some nice goods are shown, but sale is not large. Onions are rather higher, peanuts are also up ½c. in first hands. Large quantities of Nova Scotia dried continue to be offered here, but at present prices holders are not inclined to sell. Quality is rather better than usual, though they are not yet put up in a way to command the best price. In loose muscatels a better feeling is noted. Currants are very firm at advance; cleaned continue to grow in demand, though at present, as in other lines, movement is light. We quote: New Valencias, 5 to 6c.; new figs, 10 to 12c.; new 4-crown Cal. L. M. raisins, 6 to 7c.; new 3-crown Cal. L.M. raisins, 5½ to 6c.; keg prunes, 4c.; boxes, 4¾ to 6c.; new Cal. L. L. raisins, $1.50 to $1.75; new currants, bbls., 4 to 4½c.; half-cases, 4¼ to 4¾c.; new evaporated apples, 7 to 7½c.; dried apples, 5 to 6c.; dates, 4½ to 5c.; California evaporated peaches, 12 to 13c.; do. apricots, 12 to 14c.; do. pears, 12 to 13c.; clean currants, bulk 5½ to 6½c.; 1-lb. cartoons, 7 to 7½c.; Canadian onions, $2.25 to $2.55 per bbl.; cocoanuts, $4 to $4.50 per 100; citron, 15 to 16c.; orange, 13 to 14c.; lemon, 12 to 13c.; Valencia layers, 6 to 6½c.

GREEN FRUIT—There is a fair city business, but during the cold weather country business is light. Lemons are marked down 50c. from last week's price, and are freely offered; quality good. In oranges a few very nice Jamaca are on the market. West India fruit are but light stock, and California and Valencias are supplying the market. A few Floridas are seen in the retail stores. Prices are quoted rather easier, while quality improves from week to week. In grapes there are none offering in a wholesale way. Apples are held firm, but stock is large enough for demand. We quote: Lemons, $2.50 to $3; West India oranges, $5 to $6 per bbl.; Valencia oranges, $3.50 to $4.00; Pippins and winter fruit, $1.50 to $3; native cranberries, $8 per bbl.; Cape Cod do., $11 to $12 per bbl.; California oranges, $3 to $3 50.

DAIRY PRODUCE—While cheese seems to gain some firmness there is but little change in local markets, owing to light demand. In butter, while good is hard to get and brings fair price, the general market appears to get worse. There is a large quantity of medium, and it is hard to move at any price. Eggs are quiet with no change in price. We quote: Cheese, 9 to 9½c.; butter, 17 to 18c.; eggs, 17 to 19c.; fresh creamery prints, 23 to 24c.; tubs, 21 to 22c.

MOLASSES—During the season there has been a considerable stock of but fair quality goods upon the market, and as the season advances holders are more anxious to sell, and this tends to keep the market easy. The best molasses here is some Porto Rico, which is held firm, stock being light. New Orleans in barrels continues to gain in favor. Market is advancing. Syrups also show good demand. We quote: Barbadoes, 30 to 33c.; St. Croix, 28 to 30c.; Porto Rico, 34 to 36c.; syrup, 35 to 38c.; New Orleans, bbls., 35 to 36c.

SUGAR—Market during the past week has gained in strength, and an advance is noted. There is rather better local demand. Our merchants are well supplied. Total stocks said to be about 16,000 barrels. We quote: Granulated, 4¾ to 5c.; yellow, 4¼ to 4½c.; Paris lump, 5¼ to 5½c.; powdered, 5¼ to 5½c.

FISH—There is no change in price. The particular feature of the market is the small quantity of frozen to hand, and dealers cannot supply demand. But few dried are arriving, but stocks are ample. Smoked remain very dull. Large quantities of smelt (frozen) continue to be shipped west from the north shore. This is a very large business, and brings in a great deal of money. The fishermen get 1½ to 2c. per lb. cash right on the ice when caught. A few lobsters are coming in; they are small. We quote as follows: Lobsters, 4c. each; frozen herring, 60 to 70c. per 100; frozen cod and haddock, 2¼ to 2½c.; bloaters, 60c.; haddies, 4½c.; Medium cod, $3.35 to $3.50; large, $3.65 to $3.75; small, $2.25 to $2.50; pollock, $1.50; bay herring, $1.25 to $1.30; Grand Manan, $1.30 to $1.40; ripplings, $1.65 to $1.70; wolves, $1.90 to $2; Quoddy River, $2.75 to $3; smoked, 5 to 5½c.; shad, half-bbl., pickled, $4.50 to $5; Canso, $5; halfs, $2.75; Shelburne, $2.75 to $3 per bbl.

PROVISIONS—Movement is not large, and market is well supplied in pork and lard at low price. Prices are firm. It is surprising how much less smoked meat is handled by our wholesale grocers from year to year. They say loss in weight and trouble about quality is too much for the profit. We quote: Domestic mess pork, $14 to $14.25; American, $14 to $14.50; clear pork, $15.50 to $16; beef, $13 to $14; pure lard, 8¾ to 9c.; compound lard, 8c.; rolls, 8c.; hams, 10½ to 12c.

FLOUR, MEAL AND FEED—In flour market is very active. The chief advance is still in Ontario brands. Our merchants have bought freely, and are selling at mill prices. Oats are quoted higher with fair demand. Oatmeal is also up; there is always a steady demand here. In cornmeal though prices have ruled so low they are again marked off this week. Beans do not advance as was expected, but market is firm. There continues to be but light movement here in hay, but prices are very firm, and higher prices are looked for. Buckwheat meals show light demand. We quote: Manitoba, $4.60 to $4.75; best Ontario, $4.25 to $4.50; medium, $4.25 to $4.50; oatmeal, $3 60 to $3 70; cornmeal, $2.25 to $2.30; hand picked beans, $1.20 to $1 25; prime, $1.10 to $1.15; split peas, $3.70; pot barley, $4.10 to $4.25; hay, $12 to $13; oats, 34 to 36c.; middlings, $19 to $20 on track; bran, $18.; buckwheat meal, domestic, $1.25 to $1.30; western, $1.75 to $2.

ST. JOHN NOTES.

A direct steamer to New York is to be put on this spring.

Cream of tartar shows a steady advance during the month, the advance being upwards of 4c.

Quite a quantity of Ontario fresh beef is being received here, three cars coming in during the week. A car has about 40 carcasses. The beef is being sold at about 7c.

The following company is being formed to carry on a wholesale grocery and coal business at St. Stephen: Almond J. Teed, Frank Todd, David N. Bates, Charles W. Young and Geo. Murray. It is to be known as the A. J. Teed Co. Capital stock, $100,000; shares, $100 each.

C. H. Peters, of Baird & Peters, and G. Wetmore Merritt, of Merritt Bros. & Co., are again at their desks, after a short holiday. Not only were their trips much enjoyed, but the fact that large stocks at home were daily becoming more valuable, added much to their pleasure.

As noted in a late number of THE CANADIAN GROCER, St. John is to have a direct steamer to Porto Rico. She will call at San Juan, Pouce and Mayaguez. The first steamer, the Spero, 5,091 tons register, will be here on February 3. Upper Canadian shippers and importers would do well to note the date. Monthly trips will be made.

THE CANADIAN GROCER regrets to have to report the death of Hon. James Fellows, Agent-General for New Brunswick in London. He was well known and greatly respected here. This city was for many years his home, he carrying on a drug business here. He was closely connected with its public interests at that time.

The present mail service across the bay is a matter of much dissatisfaction to our merchants. There is a daily steamer going over and back, but from a false idea of economy she carries a mail but twice a week, Tuesday and Saturday. A large business is done by our merchants through the Annapolis Valley, and where a letter should only take one day in coming from Valley points here, it now takes two or even more

WOODSTOCK, N.B., MARKETS.

Business is dull owing to lack of snow but at time of writing there seems a good prospect of this cause being removed. Price of produce is low, and many farmers are holding goods back. Hay is bringing a fair price, and shows more movement than other lines. Oats are in but fair demand, the quality being the drawback. People are importing Ontario oats. Butter is plentiful and low. The following company is asking for incorporation: H. Paxton Baird, Sperry L. Shea, Chipman Hartlay, Charles A. Munroe, Edward W. Mair. The company is to be known as the Baird Co., Ltd., and it is to do a wholesale and retail drug business, as well as control a number of proprietary medicines owned by H. Paxton Baird. Capital stock, $80,000, in shares of $50. Produce is quoted as follows: Hay, $8 to $9; oats, 26 to 28c.; butter, 16 to 17c.; eggs, 18 to 20c.; pork, 5 to 5½c.; hard wood, $3; green, $2.50.

HALIFAX TRADE GOSSIP.

OUTSIDE the general routine of the markets there is very little to note just now. The leading confectioners of the Maritime Provinces assembled here last week and formed an association, the object of which is to secure a reduction in the duties imposed on glucose and other raw materials which are used in the manufacture of confectionery. With a reduction of the duty the manufacturers hope to be able to sucessfully compete with the Americans. St. John, St. Stephen and Halifax are interested.

We hear of rapid and marked advances in flour elsewhere, but the advance here is not in sympathy. In fact, dealers advertise to sell at old figures. It is thought, however, that we have seen the lowest prices for this year's crop.

Corn and oats are also stiffening, which will have a tendency to advance the price of feeds somewhat.

Beans and peas remain low.

Hay is firm at $12 and $12.50. Sales were made this week by the carload at $12.50.

There is a general boom in fishstuffs, in almost every branch of the business. The United States markets are fully $1.50 to $2 per bbl. stronger in both mackerel and salmon, and the effect here is decidedly pleasing. Herrings are moving lively. Two cargoes of frozen herrings arrived this week, and are meeting with ready sales. Grocery cod is scarce. Smoked herrings are plentiful. The market is bare of green cod, and boneless fish is in demand.

There does not appear to be anything wrong with sugar. The tendency seems to be up, up, up. There is another advance this week of ⅛c. and the Halifax market is decidedly firm. Prices at the refinery for lots are: Granulated, 4¾c.; yellows, 3⅞ to 4¼c. The refineries' advices are that the Cuban crop will not be more than 100,000 tons.

The provision market is dull, with no change of prices.

There is very little doing in poultry. There is no call for chickens or ducks, and turkeys and geese are selling low, retailing as low as 8c. per lb.

P. E. Island potatoes are selling from store at 20c. per bushel, which is about half the price realized this time last year.

The green fruit trade is fairly good this week, and supplies are plentiful. Valencia oranges arriving show very nice, sweet fruit, and sell at $4 per crate. Lemons are low, although of splendid quality, the quotations being $2.50 to $3 50 per box. Good apples are scarce.

There is little or nothing doing in cheese. Antigonish September is quoted at 10½c.

Butter is fairly brisk. Dairy tubs sell at

GIVE THEM YOUR VOTES.

THE Retail Clerks' Association of Montreal are putting up a splendid fight for early closing in that city.

They are most thoroughly organized, and are doing great work in the municipal campaign now in progress. Of the fifteen aldermen elected by acclamation twelve are favorable, two uncertain, and one against early closing.

The big contest takes place to-morrow in several of the wards. In some wards all the candidates are favorable, and the clerks are not interfering. In St. Louis Messrs. Savagnac and Renault are receiving the united support of the friends of earling closing. In St. Jean Baptiste it is Mr. Ouimet; in St. Ann's, Messrs. Kinsella and our old friend "Barney" Connaughton, and in St. Gabriel there is another old and tried friend in Richard Turner.

We feel sure that every one of our readers will support the clerks by voting for these gentlemen. They should remember that the clerks are working year in and year out 14 to 18 hours a day without getting even one night for recreation or improvement.

TO MAKE BEET-ROOT SUGAR.

APPLICATION will be made to the Legislative Assembly of Ontario at its next session for an Act to incorporate "The Leamington Beet Sugar Co., Ltd.," with power to procure and acquire from the municipal corporation of the town of Leamington, or other corporation, the necessary lands for said enterprise, and acquire the necessary machinery and raw materials and other articles required for manufacturing beet sugar and products thereof; to purchase cattle, sheep and hogs, to be fed or fattened on the pulp, molasses, or other residue of the beets, and to purchase such other additional food for animals as may be required for this purpose, or to make arrangement with owners of cattle, sheep or hogs for feeding or fattening the same; to lease or acquire lands for growing sugar beets and to enter into contracts with farmers and others for growing and supplying beets, to issue debentures of the company; to receive and procure municipal or private aid by way of subscription for stock, gift, bonus, loan or guarantee of loans, and to secure instalments thereon in such manner as may be agreed upon, to expend such proportion of the proceeds, thereof, as may be incurred in the preliminary expenses attending incorporation, obtaining contracts for stock or supplies, and procuring subscriptions for stock and aid to the company, with power to the municipalities benefited and interested to take stock in said company, or to otherwise assist by gift, bonus, loan or guarantee of any loan, with power to the municipal corporation of the town of Leamington, in which the beet sugar factory is proposed to be erected, and in which the head office of the company is to be established and maintained, to grant to the said company, free of cost, the lands required for the company's works, yards, etc., and to grant, free of cost, the gas and water required for carrying on the company's operations with power to the company of laying pipe lines for gas to the factory for fuel, and also to grant exemption from taxes for ten years on all the lands, buildings, and personal property of the company, but not on any property occupied or used otherwise than for the business uses of the company.

According to Dun, the number of failures for the calendar year 1895 in Canada were 1,891, against 1,856 in 1894. According to Bradstreet, the figures were 1,923 in 1895, against 1,873 in 1894. The gross receipts of the C. P. R. for the year 1895 were $18,937,000, against $18,752,000 in 1894. The gross receipts of the Grand Trunk were $18,001,000, against $18,037,000 in 1894.

TRADE CHAT.

MRS. CARTHER, general storekeeper, Lambton Mills, who has recently been married to a Mr. Palmer, has given up the business and left that place.

The Birr cheese factory was burned to the ground on the 25th inst.

The Whyte Packing Co., of Mitchell, shipped 30 tons of pork to the lumber camps a few days ago.

The fall cheese of the Mayfair cheese factory was shipped from the factory last week. Price realized 9c. per lb.

The Vienna factory made more than 48½ tons of cheese last year, an increase of 8¼ tons over the previous year's make.

Thompson's joint stock cheese factory, Warwick, shipped 500 boxes of cheese last week; 35,182 pounds sold for 9c. a pound.

The death is announced of William G. Hay, grain merchant, Listowel, Ont., on the 27th inst. Deceased was for forty-four years a resident of that town.

The Newtonville cheese factory has been closed for good, J. G. Honey having bought out the stockholders. The patronage of the factory will be transferred to the Kendall factory.

The damage to the storehouse of Monkland mills, Fergus, is more serious than first estimated. There were about 80,000 bushels of oats in the storehouse, and the collapse of the end of the building resulted in about 30,000 bushels pouring out on to the ground and into the river.

A $300 note was offered for sale on the Toronto market, a few days ago, by Auctioneer George Nunn. Five dollars was bid, and the note was withdrawn until next Saturday.

H. E. Wilson, of St. Mary's, traveler of Warren Bros. & Boomer, grocers, Toronto, while in town last night, received a telegram announcing the death of his eleven-year-old daughter from consumption.—Sentinel-Review, Woodstock.

A number of the members of the Toronto Board of Trade will interview the Ontario Cabinet on Thursday next, and propose that some amendments be made in the law of libel and slander. A number of the business men have been troubled by lawyers who bring actions against them, merely to obtain costs. An effort will be made to have restrictions placed on this system of blackmail action.

D. Chalmers, of Poole, Ont., writes to The Woodstock Sentinel-Review of what he calls an important discovery in the dairy industry. The discovery is, that butter fit for table use has been made from whey which has hitherto been going to waste, and if properly handled should be worth millions to the country. The butter is churned from the drippings of the curd sinks, which is gathered from the time the curd is cut till it is salted.

In the House, on Friday, Mr. Prior, in answer to Mr. Jeannotte, said 12,422,326 pounds of raw leaf tobacco entered Canada in 1895, and 178,167 pounds of manufactured tobacco, which included cigars, cigarettes, snuff, etc. Excise duty amounting to $2,974,025 had been collected from foreign leaf manufactured in Canada for the year 1894-5. The Government had collected duty on the manufactured product to the amount of 544,244 pounds, the amount of duty being $28,896.

GROWING ORANGES IN MANITOBA.

On such a day as this, when even the most ardent temperance man will confess that the thermometer has taken a drop too much, it is pleasing to think that such a thing as an orange can be grown in Manitoba. The shivering reporter would not have believed such a statement had it not been for the production of a fully developed orange with bona fide leaf attachment which made any doubt impossible. The fruit was grown by Mrs. J. G. Hendry, of Portage la Prairie. It was grown in a dining room and is still flourishing. The orange is on exhibition at the M. & N. W. Railway offices.—Free Press, Winnipeg.

TRAVELERS FEAST THEIR FRIENDS.

THE members of the City Travelers' Association, Toronto, entertained their friends on Friday night at their rooms in St. George's Hall, Elm street. And a right royal entertainment it was. It was a sort of "At Home," smoking concert, oyster supper and good fellowship meeting all combined. Into the lodge room were crowded a score or more of tables, and at these tables sat card players, checker players, and other kinds of players, while a substantial cloud of smoke from the good cigars that had been provided encircled all.

About 10 o'clock supper was announced, and about seventy-five sat down to this. And here again the host had well provided for the guests, "substantials" and delicacies being present in abundance.

After the feasting came the speech-making, singing and recitations. The new president of the association, R (Muat) Corrie, sat at the head of the table with a smile so broad that the large epergne in front of him was not large enough to cover it.

There was no prepared toast list, those present speaking as the spirit moved them, or as the chairman commanded them. Like an experience meeting, everybody spoke briefly and to the point.

F. S. Roberts, ex-president of the Retail Grocers' Association, said he did not begin to speak early enough in life to be a speaker, but all the same I noticed he was speaker enough to animadvert upon the mutual benefits to be derived from such gatherings.

James Owen tried to advance the same excuse as Mr. Roberts, but like Noah's dove it did not find a resting place. He had to say something, and so he became congratulatory, the new president coming in for the lion's share.

J. G. Gibson said the trouble with him was that he talked too much. "I hope," he said, addressing the travelers, "that you will go on in the good work, and call upon me often."

Robert Maxwell was greeted with "He's a jolly good fellow," when he arose. He congratulated and pointed out that the chairman was trying to avoid making a speech.

"It is a good thing for us to be here" remarked Frank Gallow, "and I would like to see us here at least once a year. It is a good thing to meet, in this way, those who we are calling upon all the time" (Hear, hear.)

"He's a daisy" and "See him smiling," were the salutations that met D. W. Clark when he got on his feet. He too was in a congratulatory mood, and, as a member of the Grocers' Association, would favor the grocers getting up a similar entertainment.

T. Holman (jocularly)—"I am like most people; I can say something when I speak. Speaking is good for the stomach if it is not for the ears."

Frank Johnston favored the grocers reciprocating.

President Corrie was at last persuaded to speak. He thanked his fellow members for the honor they had conferred upon him. He said he was very poor at making promises. He would, however, like the worthy men who had preceded him in the chair, endeavor to do his best.

C. M. Webb expressed himself in favor of these mutual entertainments between travellers and merchants.

A. G. Marmion ventured the remark that if merchants and travelers did not work together, who should? Some travelers may think that because this and that merchant did not buy from him that it was because of some dislike. Such was not the case, and social hours spent together would prove that it was not.

Vice-President Bond, of the Grocers' Association, said he was glad to be present and meet so many travelers that he did not know.

A voice: And some you don't want to know. (Laughter).

Mr. Bond: If they are as good as the ones I know, I want to know them.

During the evening recitations were given by Mr. Howitt and Mr. McGraw, and songs by Messrs. Young, Padget, Owen, Campbell, Muldrew, Panter, etc.

CONCERNING RETAILERS.

W. H. Benson, of Picton, has sold out to A. Harrison.

T. H. Harding, grocer, Picton, is ill with fever. At latest accounts he was doing nicely.

Marr & Ostic, of Walkerton, have added very much to the appearance of their store by putting in a new plate-glass window.

George Hausenflug, of Waterloo, has added much to the appearance of his store by interior decorations.

James Whitehead, Walkerton, is experiencing a good trade, and finds that business compares well with former years.

James Philip, known as "The Grocer," Fergus, has recovered from his recent short illness.

Robertson & Son, grocers, of Drayton, have been experimenting with the cash system, and they pronounce it a success.

Thos. Sell & Co., grocers, etc., Harriston, adopted the cash system about eight months ago, and now they never will from it depart.

Andrew Davey, jr., has started a grocery store in Quebec street, Guelph.

A meeting of confectionery manufacturers was held in the city on Wednesday. Representatives from St. John and also of a big St. Stephen (N.B.) house, together with some city manufacturers, met, and it is understood the object of the meeting was to form a combine.—Chronicle, Halifax.

A ST. STEPHEN GROCER'S DEATH.

Robert Johnson, grocer, St. Stephen, N.B., was found in an unconscious condition in his store on the 15th inst, the victim of a fit of apoplexy, and passed away a week later at the age of 67. He was in his young days "one of the boys," and was prominent in many stirring adventures at that time, being one of the 49 gold hunters who left for California gold fields in a body. He also played a prominent part at the time of the Fenian scare. Of late years he has been a victim of rheumatism and has been a great sufferer. His nearest relatives are resident in Chicago and California, and the news of his illness did not reach them until it was too late for their assistance to be of any avail. Messrs. C. N. Vroom, L. A. Mills, and David Simpson are executors.

HOW TWO CLERKS LIVED.

A power over a man's substance amounts to a power over his will.—Alex. Hamilton.

To him that wills ways are not wanting.

A SINGULAR and, we might say, exceptional illustration of Hamilton's statement came to our observation recently in connection with the daily life of two city clerks, the one receiving nine dollars per week the other six. The former has in London a wife and two children, and sends them every week five dollars of his earnings; the other has a wife to whom he sends two dollars per week. The two live together, not far from Washington square, within short walking distance of their place of employment, and each has four dollars per week for maintenance. Both have good shelter, spend fifty dollars per year for clothing, and both put away money, and thus belong to the capitalists of New York.

They hire a room at a price which includes light and fuel, and, noting our interest in their plan of life, kindly consented to keep an account and give the writer a statement of their subsistence and rent for one week, in demonstration of how cheaply one may live in a great city on a small sum and save money. Their account for one week is as follows:

Room rent, including gas, fuel and light	$2 50
Bread and rolls	43
Oatmeal	8
Tea	15
Butter	15
Steak	15
Soup and Meat	20
Eggs	5
Condensed Milk	10
Cabbage	5
Total expense for two		$3 91
Rent		2 50
Cost of food per week for two		1 41
Expense of each per week for food		70½
Expense of each for rent and subsistence		1 95½
Margin for clothing and saving		2 04½

The menu and expenses for each day for one week were as follows:

SUNDAY—
Breakfast—Tea, rolls, bread, butter, porridge.
Dinner—Soup, soupmeat, bread, butter.
Supper—Tea, bread, butter.
Cost for day 27

MONDAY—
Breakfast—Bread, butter, porridge, tea.
Dinner—Rolls, tea.
Supper—Meat left from Sunday and balance of soup, bread, butter, tea.
Cost for day 26

TUESDAY—
Breakfast—Tea, Bread, butter.
Dinner—Porridge, tea, bread, butter.
Supper—Steak, bread, butter.
Cost for day 18

WEDNESDAY—
Breakfast—Oatmeal gruel, tea, bread, butter.
Dinner—Rolls, tea.
Supper—Balance of steak from Tuesday, bread, butter.

We believe that the amount allotted for food admits of a more generous diet than that recorded above. There is an absence of food rich in nutritive material and inexpensive, as beans, lentils, buckwheat flour, corn meal and rice. Mrs. Abel, in her prize essay, presented a bill of fare for a family of six, at an average price of 78c. per day, or 13c. per person, which is but 7½c. per day more than the cost of subsistence to the two clerks mentioned. Evidently our young friends have yet to learn the art of living well on a small sum. The childless clerk puts away $2 per week. It is apparent from the above that each may clothe himself neatly and well, and both may, if they choose, enjoy some of the amusements of city life. An all-wool suit of clothes may be bought for $7.50 to $12.50, so that either of the clerks may have two new suits annually, sufficient underclothing, boots and shoes, and have money left for books and amusement, in addition to something for the savings bank. These two hard-working men meet all expenses on $4 per week, and save money. Probably there are many who manage to support a family on as small or smaller sum. A boot-black with wife and three children states that he can get along very nicely on five dollars per week. Such economy does not preclude intellectual or spiritual development and growth, for the church has open doors; the libraries are many and free; entertainments of a high order are to be had free, while picture galleries and museums are open to all without cost. The street windows and the intercourse of men with men are educational, so that life to its fulness may be enjoyed on small income, provided the individual has power over his will.

We would impress upon aspiring youth—the boys who are getting from $4 to $12 per week, and who incessantly grumble that their salary is too small—the incident narrated, for therein lies the secret of wealth and power. When there's a will, there's a way.—American Grocer.

BRITISH TEA IN NORTH AMERICA.

The consumption of Indian and Ceylon tea on the continent of North America, says a London letter, appears to be making satisfactory progress. The figures given below show the increase which has taken place in the re-export of Indian and Ceylon tea direct from the United Kingdom. A large quantity of Indian tea has been transhipped which does not appear in these figures; in addition to which, exports direct both from India and Ceylon during 1895 were considerably in excess of those in 1894.

Everything points to a steady development of this important market, and shows the wisdom exhibited by Indian and Ceylon tea planters in providing a fund for the promotion of the use of British grown tea in the Colonies and abroad.

A GOOD THING TO HAVE.

Molasses appears to be a good thing to have in stock, and even at the advance in cost not a bad purchase where anything in way of strictly straight and attractive goods can be reached. Everything of that kind has been taken up at New Orleans, and is now held above a parity of what a majority of buyers appear willing to bid, although a little custom has been found appreciative enough to undertake some investment, and a few very good-sized sales have been made here this week. The top grade of centrifugal has received considerable attention from mixers, who expect to have plenty of custom before the season is over. Some parcels of sugar syrups came upon sale, but found very prompt custom, in some cases at 1 to 2c. per gallon over what could have been obtained for similar goods one month ago. Glucose is better managed and turns steadily upward in price.—N.Y. Journal of Commerce.

A TOO CLEAN GROCER.

We knew a grocer once, says Brains, in a recent issue, out in Ohio who killed himself by being too cleanly. He had a bad habit of staying out a trifle too late with the boys, and a worse habit of taking a cold bath when he got home. He thought that the colder the bath the better; so he used to take it out in the creek behind his store, even going so far as to break a hole in the ice in the winter in order to get the nice cold bath which he thought he needed. As we said, it killed him.

We know another grocer, swarms of him, who thinks that he cannot properly conduct his business without about a sixteenth of an inch of dust on the brim of his hat and a full line of samples of his meats and over-ripe vegetables displayed on his apron. We cannot fully indorse either the former grocer or the latter swarm. Neither do we wish to suggest any startling innovations in the grocery business. But we do want to suggest a happy medium of cleanliness in grocers, their clerks and their stores that will make a man think more of the things he would like to eat and less of the things he wishes he had not eaten.

A man may have to eat a peck of dirt before he dies, but he doesn't want to think, every time he goes to the grocery, that at the present rate his time will come within the next few weeks.

As the grocer deals in things to eat, of course these remarks apply especially to him, but there are others. Stores in every line need, in many instances, to remember what it is that lives next door to godliness. Many merchants seem to think that clean, newly-dressed windows are something in the nature of a luxury, and that scrupulous neatness inside the store isn't needed in order to sell goods. Isn't it? Think it over again.

A GOOD Paying Investment.

$34.00 per annum invested at 4 per cent. compound interest for twenty-five years, yields $1,475.00, while the same sum applied to an insurance policy yields, with estimated profits, about $1,775.00 in the same time. The gain, therefore, would be $300.00, besides the protection given during the period, one premium securing payment of the sum assured, even if death takes place the day the holder receives his policy. DROPS FROM THE EDITOR'S PEN.

Like candy to children is candor to adults: it wins.

A perverse son is as a cloud and not as a sun to his parents.

The canner who puts up soaked peas is trying to "soak" the public.

If you want to make your business pay, advertise it then without delay.

'Tis business built on proper lines that make men rich these modern times.

Some men are big circulation liars because the circulation of their journals is small.

Unlike turnip seed, the seeds of energy sown in the morning of life always bear fruit.

The effective advertiser is a consistent advertiser, let times be dull or let times be bright.

It is not necessary to advertise heavy goods in order that your "ads." may carry weight.

The only anchor which will fasten disagreeable customers to your store is pleasantness.

Popularity built upon good goods is as a house built upon a rock which the floods of competition cannot remove.

Tarrying long at the pool table does not develop mental muscle necessary to enable one to pull well in the race of life.

A man must climb if he would win success in life; but if it is failure he wants all he needs do is to sit down—and slide.

Merchants who consider they can do without a trade paper are as mariners who fancy they can dispense with the compass.

Hard workers in their young days will be spared remorse in their old days, no matter what their lot may be. The sense of duty done is worth more than gold, and is more lasting.

The richest of all jewels is consistency, and yet it requireth not gold for a setting, and is at the command of the rich as well as the poor.

The president of a business men's association may not necessarily be the brains of the organization, but he is supposed to do most of the thinking.

The Retail Grocers' Association of Cleveland is wrestling with the pedlar question. It is to be hoped the grocers will win at least a majority of the falls.

Never designed was it that man should be a donkey, and yet a near relative of this patient but stubborn animal is the merchant who persists in indiscriminate credit-giving.

The advertisement in the trade paper is the traveler's herald, going before him, often many days, and announcing to buyers what manner of goods the house he represents has to sell.

The merchant who pays his clerks in the coin of the realm only, for services rendered, is not giving them their full wages: tuition in business ethics should also be forthcoming.

Mis(s) Understanding and Mis(s) Representation are two misses that merchants should try and keep out of their store. Their reputation is not good, and where they abide customers will not come.

If men won't work for their families they should be made work for the state, for while their families may not gain anything, it is certain they will not lose anything by such a condition, and the state and society would assuredly benefit thereby.

Business success is won by continuity of effort, and he who, attracted by some will-o'-the-wisp, is ever and anon shunting off into some side track can no more hope to succeed than can the runner who stops in the race to flirt with the cook.

If all merchants were as zealous to guard the good name of their own business as they sometimes are to malign their competitors, it would be better all round, financially as well as morally.

A poor man with a dollar would not hesitate to invest it where he knew one hundred and twenty-five cents could be obtained in return; but a merchant with an appreciation of the benefits of advertising will refuse to advertise on the plea that he cannot afford it.

An alleged creditor of the Canada Atlantic railway has adopted the expedient of attempting to wreck the trains of the debtor. The expedient is novel, but it cannot be commended. Neither can any other system which injures more the innocent than the debtor.

The Latin motto which the Consumers' Gas Co. of Toronto affix to their documents, and the interpretation thereof is, "For the Common Good." A friend of mine thinks this a travesty. I don't. It means for the common good of the shareholders, only the well-known modesty of the company precludes it from affixing the word "shareholders."

I see by the programme of the Western Packers' Canned Goods Association, which is to meet in Chicago this month, that the "Hon. Wellington Boulter, of Picton, Canada," is down for a paper on "The Social Features of these Gatherings." I suppose it has reference to our mutual friend Mr. Wellington Boulter, president of the Canadian Packers' Association. He is honorable enough, but he has not yet got the honorable with a cap. "H," although it is not because Mr. B.'s fellow canners have not made an effort to have the title prefixed to his name. Vide resolutions of the association asking Sir Mackenzie Bowell to appoint him to the Senate. Those Yankees are great people for anticipating.

A GRIEVANCE TO CANADA.

EDITOR GROCER,—The following extract from The St. John Sun of 27th inst, if republished in your paper, which is probably read by more business men than any other paper published in the Dominion, will doubtless have a good effect in impressing on the minds of our fellow countrymen the great injustice which, we, as residents of St. John, the natural winter port of Canada, are suffering at the hands of the Canadian Government.

When the Canadian Pacific Railway was being constructed our people were promised that in return for the taxation which was being put on us we would be doubly repaid by having the winter exports of the great country which was being developed pass through our port. In anticipation of the fulfilment of these promises, our people uncomplainingly bore the burden, and in order to be capable of handling the trade, spent a sum of over $300,000 in building a grain elevator and freight sheds and otherwise improving our facilities.

Now that we are in a position to handle the trade, what do we find? Simply this: that the Government, instead of rewarding us, compels us, in common with the other residents of Canada, to pay for heavy subsidies granted to the Dominion and Allan companies to deliver the export and import trade of Canada via a United States port, viz., Portland, Maine.

We are actually compelled to bear taxation, the result of which is to build up a rival port in the United States at the expense of our own city.

To give an idea of the large sums of money which are left with the citizens of Portland by means of these steamers, a Portland paper is authority for the statement that the Scotsman distributed $12,000 on her last visit.

How long would the citizens of any United States city submit to being taxed in order to build up with United States trade a rival city in Canada?

There is a growing trade between the Upper and Lower Provinces, the balance of which is largely in favor of the former.

If these steamship companies were subsidized to make St. John their terminus the money distributed would be of immense service to our merchants, and by bettering them financially react to the good of the Upper Province manufacturers.

This is not the case with Portland, Maine. The Americans take all they can get, but give nothing in return save insults to the Mother Country. With a tariff wall surrounding Maine, trade is out of the question. If every exporter and every importer would make it a point to order their shipments via St. John great results would be accomplished. Yours, etc.,

ST. JOHN.

[The paragraph referred to by "St. John" reads as follows: "The ss. Vancouver sailed from Portland, Me., on Thursday with a cargo valued at $203 000. The Canadian portion of her cargo consisted of 17 230 bushels of peas, 5,171 maple blocks, 986 wooden doors, 78 crates of road carts, 58 organs, 13 cases of sewing machines, 12 cases of poultry, 8 cases and 29 bales of leather. 1,680 bales of cut hay, 228 cases of apples, 710 boxes of ham and bacon, 43 tierces of pork, 92 cases of canned meats, 13 boxes of butter, 120 packages of agricultural implements, 63 crates of pulleys, 36 packages of emery stones, 25 boxes of tobacco, 10 crates of bicycle rims, 125 boxes of beans, 110 boxes of peas, 250 bags of oatmeal, 120 bales of oil cake, 19 packages of sundries."]

A SENSIBLE VIEW.

He who avers that advertising draws money out of instead of into the pocket is in the same boat with he who could not see the logic of baiting his hook with a minnow to catch a mackerel.—Canadian Grocer.

So many men, when told the cost of an advertisement, will open their mouths in sheer horror at the mere idea of paying such a price for advertising. They forget that the more an advertisement originally costs the better results it is liable to produce, for the high-priced publications are usually the ones who have found that their advertising was worth the high price charged to advertisers. The first cost of an advertisement means in itself nothing. If you have to mortgage your house to spend $1,000 in advertising, and get $4 000, it has paid you, hasn't it?—Grocery World.

A QUICK PASSAGE.

A prominent business man of this city, who is extensively interested in Canadian steamship service, gave The Herald a short interview last evening. He said that the port of St. John, N.B., was rapidly coming to the front as a desirable and advantageous freight and passenger route. It was not behind its rivals on the other side of the line, and, as an illustration, remarked that the Lake Ontario, of the Beaver Line, left Liverpool Saturday, January 18, at 4 p.m., arriving at St. John on Tuesday, the 28th ult., at 6 a.m. The passengers left on the afternoon train, reaching Montreal Wednesday morning. Twenty cars of freight were despatched the same evening, and were delivered in Montreal Thursday at noon. Thus goods were shipped from Liverpool via this route and delivered in Montreal in the short time of twelve days.—Montreal Herald.

BECOMING NERVOUS.

It is now understood that a very large amount of sugar has been ordered forward from Cuba to be stored and held in New York. About 25,000 bags have already arrived, and the total will probably reach at least 100,000 bags; some estimates are double that amount. This movement is due to the disturbed state of affairs on the island, and is believed to have been quickened by pressure from underwriters who were becoming nervous over the fear of destruction of stock by the insurgents.

WINNIPEG CITY TRAVELERS.

WHO THEY ARE AND WHAT THEY REPRESENT—ANNUAL CELEBRATION.

WINNIPEG, within the last eight years, has made such rapid strides in the commercial arena that she now ranks as fourth in the Dominion of Canada as a wholesale distributing point, and perhaps a word or two in reference to those who are potent factors and prominent in helping to push the chariot of commercial industry along might not be amiss, and prove an avenue of introduction to the consuming public of a lot of jolly good fellows, remarks The Tribune of that city. The city traveler as a rule is an unassuming individual, but a firm believer in

"All things come to those who hustle
For men of brains or men of muscle"

His face and handsome figure has become familiar in this city's business thoroughfares, as he pushes along with keen eye and active mind through the crowded streets, not only looking after the interests of the retail merchant, but feeling conscious of being amicus humani generis. Possessing tact, push, principle and ability, the business men have come to realize that they are a medium that cannot successfully be dispensed with in the commercial world. As the city travelers are not members of the Northwest Travelers' Association, The Tribune understands it is their intention to form an association of their own, and, being inspired by the success of their At Home last season, the members are making arrangements for a brilliant gathering at an early date.

THINGS TO THINK ABOUT.

ONE thing is certain in this age of uncertainty in regard to the provision and other markets, and that is: there are a whole lot more bears than bulls in Chicago, and some of them grizz'y old customers at that. A person has only to take into consideration the following items which affect the business more or less, to make up his mind whether he knows anything about the situation or not, and the probabilities in store for the future.

(1) Australian competition in beef, tallow, butter, etc. What effect, if any, it will have on the markets here, taking into consideration that they are fast overcoming the old difficulties which have beset them in refrigeration, etc., and also that preference will be given them, all things being equal, of course, in England?

(2) The prospects for all manner of product in Hamburgh, Antwerp, Rotterdam, London and other points. The conditions governing the conditions, etc. Stocks of oils, neutral, etc., must be figured at these points, and whether Nelson, Morris & Co. and others will keep them up or allow them to diminish, and what will the effect be in either case?

(3) The existing stocks all over the world of all kinds of material, and the probabilities in the future.

(4) The probabilities in the south as regards corn, cattle, cotton, cottonseed oil, provisions, etc.

(5) The price of cottonseed this season, and the effect the meal will have on the western cattle, if used, etc.?

(6) Probability of shortage in cattle and hogs, and vice versa.

(7) Whether the hog cholera has got away with all the pigs, except those it caused to be prematurely marketed, or whether the large crop of corn necessitates a corresponding large crop of hogs at correspondingly low prices, etc.?

(8) Whether all the stock cattle were marketed last year through hay crop failure, etc., or whether this country, being so large, the effect of such a possibility will not be felt?

(9) Whether microscopic inspection, "beef combines," horse beef industry, butchers' unions, railroad and other strikes, trouble between England and America (or, more properly, between Olney and Salisbury), the Cuban matter or the Armenian, or the Chinese or the silver question 16 to 1 bar 1, or the forthcoming Presidential election, or cinch bug, frost drouth, heavy rains, locusts, grasshoppers, trichinæ, railroad and steamboat rates, Standard oil, whiskey trust, Armour, Cudahy and other minor matters will have any effect on the market?

These, dear reader, are only a few of the many items which are to be studied if you would "form" an opinion as to whether you know anything about the matter or not. There are people who reckon they do, bar accident or some unforeseen possibility.

We might add that the people, having been forced to study economy in the immediate past, will they relax sufficiently to cause an increased consumption, or are they to be considered at all; in fact, is it necessary in order to reduce stocks to have consuming population? If pink-eye breaks out among the Oregon cayuses or Martin's shanty is closed by order of the city, or the investigation now being prosecuted proves there does exist a beef combine; or if Mr. J. Sterling Morton becomes president, what effect will such have on the market? Speculation is rife as to whether Mr. Armour owns all the cash stuff or not, and whether he intends to bull the market a little this month, late as it is. Between "hay and grass" is a neat way of summing up the matter when you really don't know "which way the cat is going to jump." How profoundedly wise many men look when asked for opinions anent things in general and the outlook in particular. How many bases are brought forward to set the argument on. The right side is the safest always, and all a fellow has to do in the world is to "get there." Is it any wonder that some of the 'boys" go into a quiet corner and let go a demoniacal laugh with the least sign of risibility on their features, and then look around to see if they have been observed?—National Provisioner.

SUGAR BEET IN LEAMINGTON.

Leamington and the Township of Mersea, it appears, are likely to prove a successful sugar beet growing district.

In May, 1895, W. J. Smith, druggist, who has taken an active interest in procuring a beet sugar factory in Leamington, distributed about 60 pounds of beet seed among some 70 or 75 of the farmers in that vicinity, and last November sent 17 sample lots of beets raised, each sack containing one large and several smaller ones, to Prof. Shuttleworth, of the Guelph Agricultural College, to have them tested for their percentage in sugar and purity, and has just received returns. Prof. Shuttleworth was surprised that beets of so large size as those from Leamington should analyse so well, and to make sure had duplicate analysis made: both reports agreed.

The average analysis of the 17 samples showed solids 16.99; sugar in juice, 15.38; purity, 00.60. Many samples, of course, were much above this average. Leamington thus has exceptional facilities, and undoubtedly the factory located there will prove a complete success.—Banner, Chatham.

CANNED VEGETABLES IN THE U.S.

Says The Trade, of Baltimore: "It is now four months since the close of the pack of fruits and vegetables of 1895, and in the ordinary calculations of the trade, one-half of the pack should have been taken from the producers, and probably should be consumed. There is every reason to believe this is so, yet the remaining half hangs as heavily on the market almost as if there had never been a case consumed. Yet the movement is steady and almost uninterrupted, differing from experience of former years in the smallness of wholesale orders and hand-to-mouth character of trade."

MUST USE CANADIAN PORTS.

THE points made by the correspondent signing "St. John" are not altogether new to the readers of this paper. We have always been strong advocates of compelling all subsidized steamship lines to make some port in Canada their terminal point, and we are happy to be able to say that at least one member of the Government was induced to vote in favor of the subsidy to the Beaver Line in order to make St. John the terminal point from some of the arguments brought to his attention in these columns.

It is a little more than a year since we published several articles showing how much money was actually distributed by some local steamship lines in Halifax for wages and supplies each trip. Many were surprised when they read them, and became as strong advocates of a Canadian port as we are.

We have discussed the question with many of the leading business men in Montreal and west, and when they understood the matter they thoroughly agreed that the Government must compel all subsidized lines to make Canadian ports their terminal points. It is for the Maritime Provinces to interest the merchants and manufacturers in Quebec, Ontario and west. When they do they will have no difficulty in securing their active support. The Government are now in a better humor to listen than ever before. For years the business men in different localities have submitted meekly to unfair—to unjust—treatment at the hands of the Ministry at Ottawa. Strange, however, they did not blame the Government, but the business men in other cities who they supposed had a "pull."

The MacLeans' Trade Journals took the matter up, and for months they have been exposing grievance after grievance—first in one city, then another, now in this section of trade, then in that. These papers, with their principal offices in Toronto and Montreal, and staff correspondents in the leading centres, brought business men in every part of Canada closer together. It was found that the most urgent representations of business men everywhere were treated with indifference by a Government whose chief object should be to promote the interests of trade. Montreal and Toronto Boards were positively snubbed for bringing up matters that were of vital importance to their members.

Thus, learning that the complaints were not confined to any trade or to any locality, but that all suffered alike, the tempers of business men began to rise above party considerations. The Government was told that unless more attention was paid to the requirements of business men they would no longer receive their support. Even that had no effect. Their opportunity came, as we pointed out at the time, with the election in Montreal Centre, when the business men—to use a sporting term—simply wiped the floor with the Government candidate. They repeated the dose a few days later in Jacques Cartier, a suburb of Montreal with a large business vote.

These were the arguments needed to bring the Government to its senses. They did. As we have said, now is the time for those who will directly benefit—and the remainder of Canada will benefit indirectly—to interest business men everywhere. They are in no temper to be trifled with by politicians.

A LIMITED COMPANY.

CHINA SUGARS IN CANADA.

CANADA'S imports of China sugars have increased to a marked extent during the past two or three years. People in Ontario and points further east may not be acquainted with this fact.

A reference to the Trade and Navigation Returns of the past five years elicits the following facts regarding the imports of sugars of all kinds :

	Quantity in lbs.	Value.
1891	27,749	$ 758
1892	274,249	10,764
1893	2,810,304	70,047
1894	4,202,278	154,042
1895	3,608,365	126,715

The quantities of free sugar were : In 1891, 394 lbs.; in 1892, 9,698 lbs.; in 1893, 2,320,017 lbs.; in 1894, 1,927,269 lbs.; in 1895, 682,550 lbs.

In 1891 the Dominion Government made free all sugar under No. 14 Dutch standard, and 1892, it will be noticed by the above table, was the year when imports of China sugar began to increase. Previous to the tariff changes of 1891 the duty on sugar not over No. 14 Dutch standard was 1c. per lb., 70 degree test, and 3½c. per 100 lbs. for each degreee above 70. The changes of 1891 also reduced the duty on sugars above No. 14 from 1½c. per lb. and 35 per cent. to a specific duty of 4-5c. per lb.

Under this new order of things the imports of sugar from China above No. 14 sprang from 14,202 pounds in 1891 to 246,106 pounds in 1892, while of free sugar we took 9,698 pounds and of sugar candy, etc., 18,445 pounds. In 1893 the increase was more remarkable still, our imports from the "Flowery Kingdom" being 469,130 pounds above No. 14, and 2,320,017 pounds of free sugar, besides 21,247 pounds of sugar candy. In 1894 we took 2,252,476 pounds above No. 14, 1,927,269 pounds below that grade, and 22,531 pounds sugar candy.

On the 27th of March of the last-named year the sugar schedules came in for a revision with the rest of the tariff. Except concrete sugar, all sugar was removed from the free list, while the standard was raised from No. 14 to No. 16 Dutch standard. On all sugars above No. 16 the duty was fixed at 64-100c. per lb. Concrete sugar is what its name implies, a hard, solid substance, and comes, we believe, altogether from China. As a rule it is not used at all by the refiners in eastern Canada, as, in fact, are none of the China sugars.

The result of the changes in 1895 were reflected in the imports of China sugars. Of low-grade sugars under No. 16 Dutch standard we only imported 941 pounds, of concrete, 682,550 pounds, but our imports of the higher grades were swelled to 2,907,122 pounds, valued at $110,590.

China possesses some important refineries as well as extensive sugar cane fields. She exports considerable sugar to Great Britain, but her shipments to Canada are confined to British Columbia ports, to which she sends both refined and raw. The principal sugar plantations of China are in Swatow and Takao, district of Formosa.

The raw yellow cane sugar of China is of quality sufficiently good to sell from the grocers' counter. About fifteen years ago, when the Australian refineries were charging high prices and reaping big profits, the experiment of bringing in raw China sugar into that colony was tried, and with success. A Toronto retailer, who was in Australia at the time, informs THE CANADIAN GROCER that it was equal to the Canadian refined sugar he now sells at 4c. per pound.

A QUESTION OF TERMINAL PORTS.

WE print in another column a communication from a correspondent signing himself "St. John," dealing with the question of Canadian subsidies to steamship lines, which in winter make United States ports their terminus.

As "St. John" declares, this is undoubtedly a grievance, for every time one of these subsidized vessels enters an American port and discharges freight destined for this country, something is contributed toward the upbuilding, by the aid of Canadian money, of a competitive and alien port. But we cannot see eye to eye with "St. John" regarding the shoulders most entitled to bear the onus of this.

The Canadian Federal authorities have obviously not done all that in times past they have promised they would do. Like poor miserable sinners they have done the things they should not have done, and left undone the things they should have done. But the fact that there is not much health in them at present should make us charitable.

But the greatest sins, the sins of omission at any rate, have been more with the Imperial than with the Federal authorities. Their power to determine terminals is relatively as much greater than Canada's as is her commercial importance to that of this country. Imperial Administrations after Administrations have subsidized lines running to United States ports without seemingly once considering that on this side of the Atlantic there was a large section of the British Empire that had ports, both summer and winter, that were superior to anything possessed by our neighbors, thus building up, to the negligence of Canadian ports, the shipping industries of a rival nation. It is gratifying to know, however, that Great Britain has at last an Administration that has what promises to be a colonial policy which is far reaching enough to interest itself in the promotion of a fast line of steamships between the Motherland and its daughter on this side of the Atlantic.

As far as Canada's position is concerned, efforts have been made to induce the subsidized steamship lines to make the winter ports in this country the terminal points, but each and every effort has failed except in the instance of the Beaver Line, now running out of St. John, N.B.

But while there is room for educating both the Imperial and Federal authorities in the matter of subsidies, a little missionary work among our shippers is quite in order. In winter, as well as in summer, they should as far as possible send every pound of freight out by a Canadian steamship line having a Canadian port, for the more freight there is to be obtained at Halifax and St. John the easier will it be to induce steamship lines to make these ports terminal points.

THE PORT OF ST. JOHN.

The success which has attended the establishment of the direct and subsidized line of steamers plying between St. John, N.B., and Liverpool exceeds anticipations; but there is yet room for further expansion. And the people of St. John have shown that they have the ambition to bring about this expansion.

But ambition must be whipped into action; ways and means must be employed and schemes devised for inducing freight and passengers to patronize the lines which ply there. In a word, the good people of St. John must advertise their port and its facilities.

This is what a merchant does with his business. A city is a community of merchants, and what is in order for the individual to do is demanded with equal force of the community.

The Board of Trade is the body, it appears to us, upon which the duty of advertising the port devolves. It is the recognized head of the city's commercial interests. The manner and methods this advertising shall take is not for THE CANADIAN GROCER to say. The members of the Board of Trade are, no doubt, in the best position to determine this. All we can say is: advertise, and advertise in such mediums as are most likely to reach the men who have goods to ship.

CANADA'S EXPORTS OF BACON.

CANADA stands first in the world as a cheese-producing country ; and she bids fair to occupy a similar position as a bacon-producer.

This is demonstrated in the first place by our own export figures, secondly by the testimony of the British press, and thirdly by the press of the United States.

Our own figures are in themselves a feast of reason, as is evident from the following figures relating to the exports of bacon for the past five years :

Year.	Quantity in lbs.	Value.
1891	7,150,756	$ 590,852
1892	11,544,295	1,094,205
1893	17,288,311	1,830,368
1895	37,526,058	3,546,107

These figures are most gratifying, but they become more so when it is learned that the increased trade has been with the world's consuming market, Great Britain, where we needs must compete with the exporting countries of the world. Turning to the figures of the past five years dealing with our exports of bacon to the Motherland, we find this result :

Year.	Quantity in lbs.	Value.
1891	7,137,586	$ 589,599
1892	11,493,340	1,089,060
1893	17,274,676	1,828,555
1895	37,765,934	3,544,015

It will be noticed from these figures that Canada's exports to Great Britain have increased over 80 per cent. during the past five years. As the latter country in 1895 imported 455,102,816 pounds of bacon it will be seen that Canada's contribution to this total was about 8.10 per cent. This is, of course, small ; but in the period 1887-89 it was only 1.63, in 1890-92 period 1.63, and in 1893-94 period 6.01 per cent.

The increase in the commodity in question is due to quality. Hence a continuance of the quality means a continuance of the increase. The excellence of the quality of our bacon is due to the fact that our hogs are fed largely upon peas, which imparts a nicer flavor to the meat, while, in addition to this the animals are fattened to a stage that suits the fastidious British taste. Then our climate has doubtless something to do in the premises.

The favor which Canadian bacon has reached in the English market may be gathered from the following, taken from The Mark Lane Express' review of the English provision trade of 1895 :

" Canadian pea-fed bacon has also made astonishing progress in its salt during the year, it being much esteemed by consumers in the country districts for its delicacy and mildness of flavor, and it has often met with ready purchasers when other classes of salted meats have been neglected."

The greater part of the year 1895 was, it will be remembered, one of severe depression in the bacon trade of Great Britain.

It is to be noted that although the United States still enjoys the bulk of Great Britain's import bacon trade, the proportion of that country's contribution to the whole is not what it was. Last year it was scarcely 50 per cent. of the whole, while the average for the years 1893 94 was 74.8 per cent.

The principal trouble with the American corn-fed hog is that it is too fat, for the home consumption as well as the foreign. The National Provisioner, Chicago, of Feb. 1, points this fact out, paying a tribute, at the same time, to the Canadian hog. After referring to the abhorrence of the American consumer for fat pork, the journal in question says :

" The European consumer has the same fault to find with our bacon, and is emphasizing the fact by sending his orders to Denmark and Canada. The farmers of these countries have realized what is requisite, and are, to their pecuniary advantage, paying a great deal of attention to both breeding and feeding. The results are very apparent and convincing. Of course, England is the great competing market, and we cite it as a criterion. In 1893 the exports of bacon from Denmark to that country were 711,845 cwt.; in 1894, 766,828 cwt.; and in 1895, 1,013,930 cwt. Canada's exports for the same years were : 1893, 193,773 cwt.; 1894, 254,443 cwt.; and 1895, 268,886 cwt. The figures from the United States were : 1893, 2,177,293 cwt.; 1894, 2,651,203 cwt.; 1895, 2,649,482 cwt. These figures show a gain, but nothing in proportion to Canada and Denmark's increase. These figures tell their own story, and provide an object lesson for the American farmer. We want him to understand that quality is wanted, not quantity."

The gratifying development of our export trade in bacon, while a subject for much congratulation, also imparts a lesson, and that is the necessity of Canadians centring their energies on developing those industries which are her natural gifts from Providence, and not spending our time and substance in essaying to do those things which Nature never intended we should. Making hog products is one of our natural industries. Let us therefore do all we can to develop what has so rewarded our energies during the past few years.

What the European consumer wants is bacon well streaked with lean, and merchants throughout the country can do good missionary work by impressing this fact upon the farmers, with whom they are so much brought into contact ; for if we can increase our exports of bacon to Great Britain by nearly ten million pounds in a year of severe depression, what can we do in a year with these unfavorable conditions absent ?

ORANGES DEMORALIZED.

The market for oranges in Montreal has been demoralized by rather free offerings of rubbishy, inferior fruit. As a result, values slumped away sharply, over $1 per bbl. in some cases. At the auction sales car lots realized as low as 65c. per box for California and prices on one or two carloads did not average higher than $1.15 per box.

At this writing offers of California oranges are freely made at $2 50 upward for good merchantable fruit. These low offers on Pacific coast stock have cut the ground from under all other values. Jamaicas have sold as low as $5.50 per bbl., or a drop of $2, and Valencias 50c. to $1 per bbl. cheaper, at $3 to $3.50.

There is little sign at the moment of any change for the better, and shipment after shipment has not realized much more than freight charges.

CALIFORNIA RAISINS UNSETTLED.

THE California raisin market presents quite a few features of interest at Montreal. In the first place, despite the fact that stocks are not large, and that advices from the Coast are bullish, lower prices have been offered on the fruit during the past week. These low offers, however, do not signify that the market on spot in in Montreal is weak in its tone. Such is not the case.

The lower range of values noted in the regular market reports is due to the greater variation in the quality of the offerings. Some of the fruit offered, though called 3-crown, has no distinguishing brand at all, and is as a matter of fact 2-crown instead of 3-crown fruit. It is this fruit which is offered in jobbing lots at 3¼c. and under, for no holder of good sound 3-crown raisins will concede from 5c. for a jobbing lot. They have no reason to do so either.

The stocks here are not large, and an estimate sent to a leading Montreal agent stated that there could not be much more than 75 carloads of fruit altogether available in California. The stocks in New York also are well concentrated—in fact, 3 and 4-crown on that market are relatively scarce, as the enquiry is confined almost entirely to the better grades, and prices are firmly maintained.

HAD THE LEGITIMATE MAJORITY.

The result of the recent aldermanic election for the Centre Ward of Montreal is a keen disappointment to every merchant of the ward, which is one of the chief business centres of the city.

Mr. Laporte, of Laporte, Martin & Cie., the well known wholesale grocers, was the candidate of the business community, and polled a majority of the legitimate votes of the ward. He was beaten only by a majority of 40, and as it is well known that there was a colonized vote of over 50, Mr. Laporte, if the result were equitable, would have a clear majority of from 10 to 18 votes.

The fact that the professional politicians were pressed so close, after resorting to such desperate efforts as they did, shows that the business community are thoroughly awake and want business men every time. They have been, to put it plainly, cheated out of the election, and it is quite possible that the matter will not be allowed to rest where it is, but that the courts will be called upon to sift the matter to the bottom.

ROBERT BICKERDIKE.

THE new president of the Montreal Board of Trade, Robert Bickerdike, is one of the most useful citizens of the "Commercial Metropolis," useful in the sense that he is both one of the leading sp rits and one of the pioneers of a trade that brings millions of dollars every year to our great port.

When Mr. Bickerdike first started in the live stock trade it was a small business indeed. To-day the cattle trade of Montreal is valued at over $9,000,000 per annum ; and this goodly proportion is due in no small degree to the untiring efforts of Mr. Bickerdike.

Agriculture is the backbone of Canada, and live stock is one of its most important branches. In extending this trade as he has, Mr. Bickerdike has not only benefitted Montreal, but the country at large. In every phase of the business that required sound judgment and prompt attention the new president has always been one of the leading spirits, notably in battling against the unjust scheduling of our Canadian cattle in Great Britain.

Mr. Bickerdike is one of the gentlemen who believes that Montreal should have a union stock yard, the benefit of which to the port none can deny. No doubt in his present influential position he will be able to give this commendable project great assistance. At present Mr. Bickerdike manages the Canadian Pacific stock yards in the east end.

By birth he is a Canadian, Kingston being the place of his nativity, and it was in 1843 that he first saw the l ght of day. His father was a native of York, England. When a child his parents moved to the county of Beauharnois, where Mr. Bickerdike received his education, and in his boyish association with our French Canadian fellow citizens acquired that perfect knowledge of the French language which he possesses. At the age of seventeen he came to Montreal, entering into his business career by securing a position with a firm of pork packers, with whom he was employed until the year 1866. The live stock trade was then a puny infant, but Mr. Bickerdike saw possibilities in the trade, and he went into the business for himself. He made his first shipment of cattle to Great Britain in the year 1876. Since then he has unceasing'y pushed this branch of trade, until he is to-day one of the largest shippers in Canada.

A fine trait in Mr. Bickerdike's character is his willingness to lend a helping hand to others, his many kind acts of this nature in assisting the younger men in the live stock business being strong evidence in this connection. Besides his live stock interests Mr. Bickerdike is connected with a number of other important business ventures. He organized the Dominion Abattoirs and Stock Yards Co., of which he is the managing director. He was one of the founders of the Dominion Live Stock Association, in fact, the chief factor, for as secretary he had to perform a vast amount of hard work. . The success of the association is due largely to the zealous manner in which he looked after its interests during the early years of its existence. He was the founder and is now the president of the Live Stock Insurance Co. He is president of the Standard Light and Power Co., and has for a number of years been a director of the Hochelaga Bank, now holding the office of vice-president.

A matter that Mr. Bickerdike takes a deep interest in is the extension of the boundaries of Montreal, and he has made a c'ose study of the problem of rapid transit, and the needs of the city and suburbs in the matter of electric railways.

Robert Bickerdike.

It was in 1885 that he first became a member of the great organization of which he is now president, and has assisted materially in the accomplishment of a great deal of useful work as a member of its council. He is also a member of the Corn Exchange Association.

In politics Mr. Bickerdike is a Liberal of the old Mackenzie-Dorion school, but though a sincere believer in his party, he is no narrow partisan. There is plenty of room for such class of politicians as Mr. Bickerdike, in boards of trade as well as in Parliament.

ADVERTISING AXIOMS.

"VIRTUE increases under a weight or burden," and results increase with a comprehensive expenditure of money in good advertising mediums.

"Better late than never." The golden opportunity is still open to him who would enrich himself by judicious advertising. None other will pay.

"Mind moves matter." Therefore exercise your mind to advertise so as to stir the gray matter of the brains of the people and affect their pocket books.

Good goods will sell to good people constantly. Poor goods only once. Don't let people say, "After having praised their wine they sell us vinegar."

"There is no lock but a golden key will open it," except that of the people's pocket book. First-class ads. will do this with golden results. When people think they want a thing, they do want it and they get it.

To be prominent anywhere one must have marked characteristics. So it is with an advertisement in the crowded columns of newspapers and magazines ; in order to produce the best result it must be clear, definite, conspicuous and fresh. Is yours of this character?—Merchants' Review.

TO PREVENT FROSTING.

These last few days have witnessed some pretty badly frosted windows in this vicinity, and therefore the following plan to prevent the trouble may strike some of the grocers as being worth a trial. We clip the item from Tobacco : "Run an inch pipe of tin along the lower inside edge of the window, this tube being perforated with small holes at every inch or so, the holes being on the upper side of the tube; carry this tube right across the window, having one end close to and the other running under the window base, and terminating in an inverted tin funnel. Under this funnel place an ordinary kerosene lamp or gas jet, and keep it lit all day and night. The hot air will rise through the funnel, travel along the tube, and escape through the perforations to the window, ascending up the face of the glass."

$100 A DAY.

Printers' Ink, a journal for advertisers, in its last issue gives an interesting sketch of J. E. Powers, the advertising expert of New York, whose fee for writing, preparing and looking after advertising is $100 a day. Even at this price he refuses hundreds of orders. A few years ago Mr. Powers was John Wanamaker's advertising manager at a salary of $9,000 a year, his employer allowing him $100,000 a year for advertising in Philadelphia alone.

TRADE CHAT.

THE store of Mr. John McCullogh, grocer, Ridgetown, was entered by burglars a few nights ago, and sixty dollars in cash taken from a drawer, where, by oversight, it had been left.

J. H. Richards, of Guelph, has bought J. Butler's grocery at Woodstock.

C. K. Graham will not remove his evaporating works from Norwich to Woodstock after all.

The bankrupt stock of the Patrons' store at Lower Capel on was bought by Mr. W. Blue & Co., who are selling it off.

To relieve the crowded condition of the wheat elevators at Fort William the C.P.R. will probably erect temporary warehouses there.

The Moose Jaw Times states that the merchants of that town are meditating the formation of a protective association, the chief provision of the constitution to be entire abolition of credit.

The bakers of London held a meeting the other night and formed a Master Bakers' Association. They also agreed that from and after that day 5 cents would be charged for the two-pound loaf.

The Hovey Packing Company, of Sherbrooke, received a carload of hogs from the west this week that were in bad condition, and they refused to handle them and instituted suit to recover payment. The defendants settled and paid all costs and removed the hogs.

Prof. Robertson, finding his duties as Dairy Commissioner to be very onerous, has asked to be relieved of the care of live stock at the experimental farm, consequently it is the Government's intention to appoint a first-class man to look after live stock.

The principal object of the Maritime Confectioners' Association, which was formed at a meeting of the manufacturers at Halifax last week, is to secure a reduction in the duties imposed on glucose and other raw materials which they use, and thus enable them to compete with American manufacturers.—Chronicle, Halifax.

The Brantford Board of Trade indulges in an annual banquet. This year's took place at the Kirby house, and was a very brilliant and successful affair. Mr. Ferguson, president of the Stratford Board, Hon. Thos. Ballantyne and A. Pattullo, of Woodstock, were among the outside guests who spoke. Brantford's Board of Trade is a live organization. Its energetic secretary is Geo. Hateley, the cheese buyer, and this year it has a particularly able and enthusiastic president in Mr. Frank Cockshutt.

The Nova Scotia Refinery Benefit Society held its annual meeting on Tuesday. The society, after seven years' existence, was shown to be in a better position than ever, before. The membership continued at about 90. During the year new and improved rules have been adopted, increasing the amount of sick and death benefits. The receipts for the year were $235.09 and the amount of benefits paid was $207.40, leaving a credit balance of $27 69. The reserve fund now amounts to $464 69. Officers for the year were elected as follows: P. J. Delaney, chairman; Fred. Waters, vice do.; Jas. Kemp, T. Williamson, Jas. Elliott, C. Crooks, Alfred Tobin and Jas. Purcell, managing committee; G. A. McKenzie, hon. sec.-treas.—Chronicle, Halifax.

MUST NOT SELL TO DEAD BEATS.

The retail grocers of Allegheny, Pa., have formed an organization by electing the following officers: N. G. Purviance, president; G. Golmer, vice-president; C. W. Woods, secretary; W. G. Good, treasurer. It was voted to request Director of Public Safety John R. Murphy to appoint William H. Habarhan ordnance officer. The society will run a "black list," each member furnishing a list of "dead beat" customers. A fine will be imposed upon any member selling to any person on the list.

If you have not yet had any of the celebrated B. F. P. cough drops, now is the time to send for a sample can. You will be sure to order more.

MARKETS AND MARKET NOTES

ONTARIO MARKETS.

GROCERIES.

THE temperature of the sugar market has again assumed a more normal condition. The market, however, is still strong, but there is an absence of that excitement which was so marked a week or two ago. With the subsiding of the excitement there has also been a falling off in the demand, although there is still a good deal of sugar going out. As a result of the greater trade in sugar, people are turning their attention a little more to trade than they were, with the result that teas in this line shows some improvement. Canned vegetables are meeting with a fair enquiry for this time of the year, and there has been a little better demand during the past few days for canned salmon. Foreign dried fruits are quiet and steady. Payments are rather slow.

CANNED GOODS.

Demand is fairly good for canned vegetables, particularly peas and tomatoes, which continue firm in price. A slight improvement is to be noted this week in the demand for canned salmon. Other lines remain much as before. We quote: Tomatoes, 77½ to 85c.; corn, 75 to 85c.; peas, 90 to 95c. for ordinary; sifted select, $1.10; extra sifted, $1.45 to $1 50; peaches, $2.90 to $3 for 3's, $1.90 to $2 for 2's; raspberries, $1.40 to $2.00; strawberries, $1.80 to $2.45, according to brand and quality; blackberries, $1.90 to $2.20; cherries, $2 40 to $2 45; apples, 3's, 85 to 90c.; gallons, $1 90 to 2.25; salmon, "Horseshoe," $1.35 to $1.40; "Maple Leaf," $1.35; "Lion," $1.35 to $1 40; Lowe Inlet, $1.27 to $1 30, in tall tins; cohoes, $1.10 to $1.20; canned mackerel, $1.10 to $1.20; lobsters, $1.80 to $2.10, for tall tins; flats, $2.35 to $2.65; half tins, $1 45 to $1.50; Canadian canned beef, 1's, $1.35 to $1 45; 2's, $2 25 to $2.35; 6's, 7.50 to $8; 14's, $15 to $16 50.

COFFEE.

Choice Rio coffees are in light supply on the local market at the moment. The demand is moderate. We quote green in bags: Rio, 19 to 21c.; East Indian, 27 to 30c.; South American, 21 to 23c.; Santos, 19 to 22½c.; Java, 30 to 33c.; Mocha, 33 to 35c.; Maracaibo, 21 to 23c.; Jamaica, 21 to 25c.

SYRUPS.

There is a fair demand on retail account, but the refineries have practically none to offer at the moment. We quote: Dark, 30 to 32c.; medium, 33 to 35c.; bright, 40 to 42c.

MOLASSES.

The demand continue active and prices strong. We quote as follows: New Orleans, barrels, 28 to 35c.; half-barrels, 30 to 35c.; Barbadoes, barrels, 31 to 35c.; half-barrels, 33 to 35c.

SUGAR.

There are not so many sugars moving as a week ago, but still there is on the whole a nice trade doing, a number of carloads figuring in the orders. The idea as to price is still 4⅞c. for granulated, and with the refiners' figure 4¾c. net, it could not well be otherwise, but notwithstanding wholesalers are shading the former figure to meet competition. For yellows the lowest quotation is 3⅞c.

N. Y. Journal of Commerce, Feb. 4: "Raw sugars in all locations continue to be offered with much indifference, and we find simply a renewal of old expressions of faith in the run of reports. At intervals there will be some selling of course, but the calculation upon higher rates does not abate and in many quarters there will be a strong and protracted contest for realizing extreme views. To-day the European cables were without further stimulus, and that, in conjunction with the shading on refined, gave a superficial showing of quietness, but there were many of the most desirable parcels upon which it was simply a waste of time to seek negotiation except at figures above anything for time being obtainable. The reports of business amounted to nothing, but at the close there was evidence of negotiation under way, and probably something quietly accomplished."

SPICES.

There is nothing new to note, business being quiet and prices unchanged. We quote: Pure black pepper, 10 to 12c.; pure white, 18 to 25c.; pure Jamaica ginger, 23 to 25c.; cloves, 15 to 20c.; pure mixed spice, 25 to 30c.; cream of tartar, French, 25 to 27c.; ditto, best, 28 to 30c. per lb.; allspice, 14 to 18c.

NUTS.

Trade continues quiet and featureless. We quote as follows: Brazil nuts, 14 to 15c.; Sicily shelled almonds, 25 to 26c.; Tarragona almonds, 14 to 14½c.; peanuts, 10 to 12c. for roasted, and 7 to 10c. for green; cocoanuts, $4.50 to $5 per sack; Grenoble walnuts, 12 to 12½c. Marbot walnuts, 11 to 12c.; Bordeaux walnuts, 9c.; Sicily filberts, 8 to 10c. for sacks and 10½ to 11c. for small lots; pecans, 10½ to 11c.

TEAS.

The tea market, which has been somewhat "draggy" during the past fortnight, has, within the last few days, assumed a little more activity, presumably on account of less attention being paid to sugars. This is probably more marked in cheap Young Hysons and China Congous than in any other lines, although Indian and Ceylon teas are selling freely. Indian teas of the higher grades are reported to be one farthing dearer in London this week. Japan teas are neglected. We quote ruling prices to retailers as follows: Young Hysons, 12 to 18c. for low grades, 24 to 27c. for mediums, and 30 to 45c. for high grades; China Congous, 14 to 18c. for mediums, and 25 to 55c. for high grades; Japans, 15 to 20c. for mediums, 28 to 35c. for high grades; Indians and Ceylons, 18 to 22c. for mediums, and 30 to 65c. for high grades.

DRIED FRUITS.

The demand for currants is relatively better than for other kinds of foreign dried fruits. The primary markets continue firm and unchanged. We quote: Provincials, 3¾ to 4c. in bbls.; fine Filiatras, in bbls., 4¼ to 4½c.; ditto, half-bbls., 4¼ to 4¾c.; ditto, half-cases, 4¾ to 5c.; Casalinas, cases, 5 to 5¼c.; Vostizzas, cases, 6 to 6½c.; ditto, half-cases, 6½ to 6¾c.; ditto, extra fine, 6¾ to 7¼c.; ditto, half-cases, 7¼ to 7½c.; Panaretas, in cases, 9c.

Valencia raisins are quiet, with prices steady, in the primary markets. We quote: Off stalk, 4½ to 4¾c; fine off-stalk, 5 to 5¼c.; selected, 6 to 6¼c.; layers, 6½c.

The demand for prunes is, if anything, a little better than it was, although the volume of business is still small. We quote prunes, Bosnias, "Sphinx" brand, "A," 65 to lb. 9c.; "B," 75 to lb. 7¾c., "U," 102 to lb., 6½ to 6¾c.; California prunes, 40-50, 10 to 10½c. per lb.; 50-60, 9½c. per lb; 60-70, 9c.; 70 80, 8½c. per lb.; French, 5 to 6c.

California fruits continue quiet and unchanged. We quote: Apricots, 15 to 16c.; peaches, 8c., in bags, and 10 to 15c. in boxes; pears, 10½ to 12½c.; plums, 6½c. for unpitted, and 12½c. for pitted; nectarines, 11 to 13c.; loose muscatels, 5½ to 6½c. per lb.

The market for Sultana raisins continues firm with business local y quiet at 5½ to 6c.

Eleme figs are quiet and unchanged. We quote: Eleme, 14 oz., 9 to 10½c.; 10 lb., 9½ to 12½c.; 12 lb., 12½c.; 28 lb., 15c.

GREEN FRUIT.

The feeling is weaker in oranges, especially for California navels, and the demand is limited. Lemons are in fair demand. Malaga grapes are nearly out of the market. We quote: Lemons—Messina, $2 50 to $3 50 for 360's and 300's respectively per box; Oranges—Jamaicas, $3 50 to $4; fancy, $4.25 to $4.50; California navels, $3.50 to $4; Valencias, 420's, $3 75 to $4 25; Jumbo's, 420's, $5 to $5.50; ditto, 714's, $4.75 to $5. Bananas, $1 25 to $1.75; cocoanuts, $3.50 to $4 a sack; apples, $1.50 to $3 a barrel; Malaga grapes, $5 to $7 per keg; domestic onions,

BUTTER AND CHEESE.

BUTTER — Receipts continues liberal, especially in large rolls. The demand has been good for first-class butter, creamery as well as dairy, but poor to medium quality is neglected. Prices are much as before. We quote: Early summer dairy store packed, 7 to 8c; good to choice fresh packed, 15 to 16c.; large rolls, fresh, 13 to 15c.; dairy pound prints, 14 to 16c. Fresh creamery—Tubs, 19 to 20c.; do., pound prints, 20 to 22c.

CHEESE—The enquiry for export continues good at firm and unchanged prices. The demand locally is fair for the season. We quote: Summer make, 9c.; Sept. and Oct., 9½ to 10c.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

BEANS—The market continues dull at $1 to $1.10 per bushel.

DRIED APPLES—The market is dull and nominally unchanged at 4c. per lb.

EVAPORATED APPLES—The little export demand there was a few weeks ago appears to have been satisfied and the market is quieter than it even was before. We still quote 6½ to 7c.

EGGS—The warmer weather has resulted in an increased quantity of new laid eggs being brought forward. This has effected the sale of held fresh and cold stored eggs. Pickled eggs are in good demand. Prices are much about the same as a week ago. We quote: New laid, 19 to 20c.; pickled, 14 to 14½c.; held fresh and cold stored, 12 to 15c. With a continuance of the soft weather lower prices are anticipated.

HONEY—The conditions are much the same as a week ago. We quote: Strained, clover, 10 to 10½c.; dark, 5c.; comb, clover, $1.80 per dozen; dark, 80c. per dozen.

POTATOES—Flatness is still the characteristic of the market. In the absence of any demand 20c. per bag is nominally the price on the track in carload lots; out of store dealers are trying to get 25c.

POULTRY — Receipts are light and all coming forward is readily taken at higher prices. We quote: Turkeys, 8½ to 9½c.; geese, 6 to 7c.; chickens, 35 to 55c.; ducks, 60 to 80c.

PROVISIONS AND DRESSED HOGS.

The market is firm for dressed hogs and much higher prices are being paid, although buyers and sellers are, as a rule, apart. Dealers outside are asking about $5.10 to $5.45 f.o.b., in carload lots, but buyers' views are about this price delivered. The result is that dressed hogs are being stored. With continued mild weather stale stock and lower prices are looked for. Butchers, for local purposes, are paying $5.35 to $5.40 for choice weights. Provisions are firm in sympathy with the advance in hogs. Dry salted meats are about ¼c. per lb. higher. In lard stocks are light, demand good and prices strong.

DRY SALTED MEATS—Long clear bacon, 6½c. for carload lots, and 6¾ to 7c. for small lots; backs, 8c.

SMOKED MEATS — Breakfast bacon, 10c.; rolls, 7¼ to 7½c.; hams, large, 22 lbs. and over, 9c.; medium, 15 to 20 lbs., 10c.; small hams, 10c.; backs, 9 to 9½c.; picnic hams, 7c.; all meats out of pickle, 1c. less than above.

LARD—Pure Canadian, tierces, 8 to 8¼c.; tubs, 8½ to 8¾c.; pails, 8¾ to 9c.

BARREL PORK—Canadian heavy mess, $14.00; Canadian short-cut, 14 to $14.50; clear shoulder mess, $12; shoulder mess, $11.50.

FISH AND OYSTERS.

The soft weather is interfering with the trade in fish. The market is well supplied, and prices on white fish are a little easier. Oysters are in good demand with selects 10c. higher. We quote oysters: Standards at $1.30 to $1.35, and selects $1.70. Fish are quoted as follows: Skinned and boned codfish, 6½c.; boneless fish, 3½ to 4c.; haddock, 5 to 6c.; Labrador herring, $3.25 to $3.50 half barrel and $5.50 to $5.75 per barrel; Newfoundland herring, $2.50 per half barrel, and $4.50 to $4.75 per barrel; fresh water salt herring, $3 per barrel; blueback herring, 4c.; pike, 6 to 7c. per lb.; flitched cod, 5c.; finnan haddies, 6½c.; Digby herring, in bundles of 5 boxes, 11c.; ditto, lengthwise, 10c.; large halibut, 12 to 15c.; Restigouche salmon, 20 to 25c.; British Columbia salmon, 15 to 16c.; mackerel, 20 to 25c.; steak cod, 6¼ to 7c.; haddock, 5c.; black bass, 9 to 10½c.; white fish, 7½c.; salmon trout, 7½ to 8c.; Lake Superior whitefish, 7½c.; Lake Winnipeg whitefish, 7½c.

FLOUR AND FEED, HAY, ETC.

WHEAT—Ontario wheat is scarce and higher. That suitable for breakfast foods is about 15c. per bushel dearer. On the street in Toronto on Wednesday one load of white wheat sold at 85c. During the last few days there have been practically no deliveries on the Toronto market, and our quotations are in consequence nominal. We quote : White, 82c. ; red, 80c.; goose, 66c.

BARLEY—Deliveries are larger than in wheat, but still there is not a great quantity coming forward ; 44 to 44½c. is about the range of price.

OATS—Steady, at 27 to 28c.

BALED HAY — Deliveries of carload lots are free and prices are easier. We quote : No. 1, $14.75 to $15 ; No. 2, $13 to $14.25.

BALED STRAW — Is quiet at $9 to $9.25.

FLOUR—Business has improved a little, demand being fair. Prices are firm at quotations. We quote both for job and car lots as follows : Straight roller, $3.50 to $3.60 ; Manitoba bakers', $3.50 to $3.60 ; Manitoba patents, $3 90 to $4; Ontario patents, $3.75 to $3.90.

BREAKFAST FOODS—Rolled wheat has advanced materially during the past week, the price now being $2.35 to $2.40 in 100-lb. barrels. The demand for breakfast foods is fair. We quote: Oatmeal, cornmeal and pot barley from 10 to 15c. lower ; Standard oatmeal and rolled oats, $3 to $3.15 ; rolled wheat, $2.35 to $2.40 in 100-lb. barrels; cornmeal, $2.75; split peas, $3.25; pot barley, $3.25.

SALT.

Business is recovering a little from the falling off characterized by last month. This is principally due to the fact that enquiries are beginning to come in for supplies for next season's cheese-making campaign. We quote at Toronto: In carload lots, $1 per barrel, and 60c. per sack; in less than carload lots, $1.05 per barrel and 65c. per sack. At the wells we quote : F.O.B. barrels, 70c.; sacks 50c. for points west of Toronto, and 45c. for Toronto and points east of Toronto.

HIDES, SKINS AND WOOL.

HIDES—Unchanged, with demand fair. Dealers pay 5c. for No. 1; 4c. for No. 2; 3c. for No. 3. Cured hides quoted 6 to 6¼c.

SKINS—Calfskins, 6c. for No. 1, and 5c. for No. 2 Sheepskins are firm at 90c.

WOOL—Trade quiet. Fleece, combing, is quoted at 22 to 23c.; clothing, 23c.; supers, 21 to 21½c.; extras, 22½ to 23½c.

PETROLEUM.

Trade continues fairly good, with prices unchanged. We quote in 1 to 10 bbl. lots, imperial gallon, Toronto : Canadian, 16c.; carbon safety, 18c.; Canadian water white, 18c.; American water white, 21c.; Pratt's astral, 22c.

QUEBEC MARKETS.

MONTREAL, Feb. 6, 1896.

GROCERIES.

THE week has not furnished any striking features, but there is a fair volume of trade doing in a jobbing way as a result of the better country roads. No further changes in the value of any of the leading staples are noted, but the feeling generally is steady. Stocks of currants here have run down very low, and prices are firmly held by jobbers at an advance. California raisins have been offered rather lower, but sellers will not concede on good sound fruit. Molasses continue strong, and the few moderate arrivals of Barbadoes noted during the week are hardly appreciable. Syrups point higher in their tendeney.

SUGAR.

The sugar market continues strong in tone, but no further change is to note, though the feeling is unsettled as to value. Refiners are not disposed to operate ahead, and the distributing demand is not particularly brisk at present. Outside advices do not show much change in their tenor, the position of the raw market being very strong despite the persistent efforts of the Trust in New York to appear indifferent regarding supplies of cane stock. We quote the jobbing range unchanged as follows: Granulated, 4⅞c.; yellows 3⅞ to 4⅜c., as to grade.

SYRUPS.

Stocks of syrups in refiners' hands were materially reduced during the past week, and the tone is quite as firm as it was. Any stock that jobbers have on hand now will be wanted, and prices are firm at 1¾c. for ordinary, and 2½ to 3c. for bright stock.

MOLASSES.

The molasses market is quiet and firm at this writing. Some moderate receipts of Barbadoes have been noted during the week, but the supply of this grade continues limited. Porto Rico, Cuba and New Orleans stock are offering at steady prices, and a fair jobbing turnover in single and five and six puncheon lots is noted. We quote: Barbadoes, 36 to 37c.; Porto Pico, 34 to 35c., and New Orleans, 25½ to 35c.

RICE.

Demand for rice at the mills continues fair and prices are unchanged. We quote: Japan standard, $4 25 to $4.40; crystal Japan, $4.75 to $5; standard B., $3 45; English style, $3.30; Patna, $4.25 to $5, and Carolina, $6.50 to $7.50.

SPICES.

There has been no important change in spices, a fair average demand being noted. We quote as follows: Pure black pepper, 10 to 12c.; pure white, 15 to 22c.; pure Jamaica ginger, 23 to 25c.; cloves, 15 to 20c.; pure mixed spice, 25 to 30c.; cream of tartar, French, 25 to 27c; ditto, best, 28 to 30c. per lb.; allspice, 12 to 15c.

COFFEE.

There has been no change in coffee, the market continuing quiet with only a few jobbing lots moving. We quote bean coffee as follows: Maracaibo, 20 to 21c.; Rio, 19 to 20c.; Java, 28c.; Jamaica, 20c., and Mocha, 31 to 32c.

TEAS.

There has been no special change to note in this market, and jobbers here are not enquiring as much as they were last week. In fact, beyond the placing of some medium Japans at 14 to 16c., no large transactions have been put through. With regard to new importations it is yet a little too early to talk. Some of the jobbing houses, however, speak of offers for delivery in May and June of finest grades at about last season's figures. In a general way, however, brokers and agents generally state that reliable quotations are hard to give as early as this. The distributive demand is fair for Ceylons and Japans at steady prices; in fact, is on the increase.

DRIED FRUIT.

There has been no change in Valencia fruit, which are steady. We quote: Ordinary off-stalk, 4 to 4¼c.; fine, 4½ to 4¾c.; selected, 5 to 5¼c., and layers, 6½ to 7c.

The market for California raisins is firm, but arrivals of some cheap fruit have led to a wider range in prices. Business in 3-crown has been spoken of as low as 4¾c., but the quality was not desirable; in fact, it was more 2-crown than 3-crown fruits. Good sound fruit in fact are steady, all the more so owing to the firm advices from primary markets. We quote: 3-crown, 5 to 5¼c., and 4 crown, 6½ to 6¾c.

Sultanas are a light stock here, and what there is is in jobbers' hands. They are held firm at 6 to 6¼c.

Stocks of currants here are almost nil, fruit in barrels being notably scarce, and prices are ½ to ¼c. higher, though the demand is quiet. Cables continue strong from primary markets. We quote: Barrels, 4c.; half-barrels, 4¼c., and cases, 4½ to 5½c. as to grade, the supply of the higher descriptions being very light.

Prunes continue firm under a steady jobbing demand, most of the enquiry being for California fruit. We quote: French, 4½ to 5c.; Bosnia, 6c., and California 7½ to 15c., as to grade. Demand for the latter is showing a steady expansion, as the offerings are exceptionally good value, as compared with the European fruit.

Figs are firm and quiet. We quote: Bags, 4c.; ordinary boxes, 8½ to 9c., and fancy, 12 to 14c.

There is no change in dates, which job out steadily at a range of 4½ to 5c.

NUTS.

Remain as they were. We quote: Grenoble walnuts, 11½ to 12½c.; filberts, 7½ to 8c.; Tarragona almonds, 11½ to 12½c.; pecans, 9 to 12c., and shelled walnuts, 15 to 16c.

CANNED GOODS.

The canned goods market is quiet, a moderate jobbing enquiry for such staple vegetables as tomatoes, corn and peas being the only feature. Values remain much as they were. We quote as follows: Lobsters, talls, $8 per case; flats, $9 to $9.50; sardines, ordinary brands, $7 to $8.50; best brands, $9.50 to $10.50; salmon, $1.25 to $1.30 per doz.; tomatoes, 75 to 80c.;

peaches, $2 to $2.25; corn, 80 to 90c.; marrowfat peas, 90c. to $1; strawberries, $2 to $2.25; raspberries, $1.75 to $2; green gages, $1.75 to $2; blue plums or damsons, $1.50 to $1.75; pineapples, $2 to $2.25 and 3-lb. apples, 80 to 85c.

WINES AND SPIRITS.

Some fair sized import orders for sparkling wines have been placed during the week, but business of this character does not really commence until the middle of the month.

GREEN FRUIT.

The chief feature of the market was the easy feeling in oranges, which sold at exceptionally low prices. We quote: Oranges —Jamaicas, $5.50 per barrel, and $3 75 per box; Valencias, 420's, $3.50 to $3.75, and 714's, $4 to $4.25. Lemons, $2 to $3.25. Grapes, $5 to $6 per keg; grape fruit, $5 to $6 per box. Cranberries, $8.50 to $10 per barrel. Apples, $2 to $3.50 per barrel. Dried do. 4 to 4½c. Evaporated do. 6 to 6½c. Spanish onions, 40c. per crate.

FISH.

The fish market continues active and steady, and there is no accumulation of stock on this market. We quote: Fresh haddock, 3 to 3½c. per lb.; cod, 3c; smelts, 4½ to 5½c.; fresh frozen B.C. salmon, 10c.; Manitoba whitefish, 7c.; pickerel, 6½c.; dore, 6½c.; pike, 4 to 4½c.; trout, 7c.; tommycods, $1 to $1.75 per bbl. Choice pickled Labrador herrings, $5.25; No. 1 N.S. $3 50 to $4; No. 1 green cod, $4.10 to $4.50; No. 2, $2.75; No. 1 haddock, $3; No. 1 large codfish, $5; No. 1 lake trout, $4 to $4 25; B. C. salmon, $10.50; No. 2 Labrador salmon, $12.50 to $13; No. 1 mackerel, $19; Lock Fyne herrings, 85c. per keg, and $11 per bbl.; No. 1 sardines, $4 50; No. 1 dried cod, $4.25 to $4 50; boneless cod, 6c. per lb.; boneless fish, 3¼c.; boneless haddock, 5c.; shredded, 11c.; haddies, 6½ to 7c. per lb.; bloaters, 90c. per box, and smoked herrings, 8 to 10c. per lb.

PROVISIONS.

The demand for provisions continues good, and the market rules active and firm. Canadian short cut clear pork, in small lots, has sold at $15, and mess at $15.50, but in lots of 10 barrels and more 50c. per barrel less is expected. In lard and smoked meats a fair trade is doing. We quote: Canadian short cut, clear, $14 50 to $15; Canadian short cut, mess, $15 to $15.50; hams, city cured, per lb., 9 to 10c.; lard, Canadian, in pails, 8c.; bacon, per lb., 9 to 10c.; lard, com. refined, per lb., 6¼c.

The market for dressed hogs continues fairly active, and as the season draws nearer to a close prices are working up steadily, another advance of 10c. per 100 lbs. having taken place on Monday. The demand is good, and car lots have sold at $5 40 to $5.50 per 100 lbs., and small lots, $5.75 to $6.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

EGGS — There was no change in the situation of the egg market, business being fairly active. The demand was good for small lots, and sales of western limed were made at 13c., and Montreal limed, 14 to 15c. per dozen.

BEANS — In beans business was slow. We quote: Car lots of choice hand-picked at $1 to $1.05, and small quantities at $1.10 to $1.20.

POULTRY—The demand for poultry was limited and the market was quiet. Turkeys sold at 7½ to 8c.; chickens at 8 to 10c.; ducks at 7 to 7½c.; geese at 5 to 5½c. per lb.

POTATOES—The market for potatoes was quiet at 30c. per bag for car lots, and 35 to 40c. in small quantities.

ONIONS — Dull at $2.50 per crate for red, and $2 to $2.25 for yellow.

FLOUR, FEED AND MEAL.

Continued strength, both outside and locally, in grain has led to a stronger feeling in flour, and Ontario grades advanced 5 to 10c., Manitoba patents 20c., and strong bakers' 10c. The demand for Manitoba grades continues good, and an active business is doing, but Ontario dealers state sales are slow, owing to the fact that buyers have filled their wants pretty much for the present. We quote: Winter wheat, $4.25; spring wheat, patents, $4.20; straight roller, $4; straight roller, bags, $1.90; extra, bags, $1.65 to $1.75; Manitoba strong bakers', $3 90.

There is no change in oatmeal, business being quiet and values unchanged. We quote: Standard, barrels, $2 85 to $2.95; granulated, barrels, $2.90 to $3; rolled oats, barrels, $2 90 to $3.

The demand for feed continues slow and the market rules quiet, with no change in prices to note. We quote: Bran, $14 to $15; shorts, $15 to $16; mouillie, $19 to $20.

CHEESE AND BUTTER.

Tha cheese market opened the week with a dull feeling, and has continued so, but the fact does not bother owners of finest fall cheese. The recent decline in the cable of sixpence, and the indifference lately shown on the other side is only expected to be temporary. It is well known that quite a lot of summer cheese have been sold and shipped recently. Imports arriving at Liverpool during the past week have consisted mainly of these goods, and, possibly, some buyers have been disappointed as to quality, which had its effect. Besides, offers from this side were made during the past few days on all the English markets of very close figures, and the two facts in conjunction have checked the demand. At any rate, as practically all the finest fall made cheese in Canada is concentrated in three or four hands, aside from a few outside lots, holders will not concede a jot. In the absence of business prices are nominal at 9½c. for fall makes, and 8½ to 8¾c. for summer goods.

The local demand for creamery butter continues of a steady character, and is sufficient to keep the market well cleaned up at 20½ to 21c. Dairy stock is neglected and nominal.

HAY.

There is no change in hay, which is steady at $14 forNo. 1 and $13 for No. 2.

ASHES.

Ashes are dull and 10c. easier at $3 50 for first pots and $3.40 for seconds per 100 lbs.

MONTREAL NOTES.

Geo. Childs & Co. landed this week a shipment of Griffin & Skelley's San Jose California prunes.

Cables to Rose & Laflamme from London note an advance in currants of 5d. to 1s., or about ¼c. per pound.

Oranges have slumped all the way from $1 to $2 per package, and sold as low as 65c. during the week.

Laporte, Martin & Cie. are landing this week a consignment of fine Barbadoes molasses, arrived via the lower ports.

NEW BRUNSWICK MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE CANADIAN GROCER.

ST. JOHN, N.B., Feb. 6, 1896.

ANOTHER quiet week has passed. Many of our largest dealers take stock February 1, and for many reasons it seems a better time than January 1. It gives them the month of January, when there is little doing, to get accounts in order, which they have very little time to do if they take stock on the first of January, as the Christmas trade extends late into December. Travelers have, however, all been out during the past month—country dealers say in greater numbers than ever—but only light trade is reported. Much better things are expected this month. St. John merchants are much disappointed that exporters in Ontario have shown such little interest in a Canadian winter port. They continue to ship more largely by way of Portland. This should not be, and shows a great lack of loyal feeling, and adds force to a belief which is now too general that the interest of the Maritime Provinces is but little considered by the west. Very large quantities of Ameriban goods continue to be shipped via our port; among other goods this week were two cars of canned beef. Why should not Canadian business be done at a Canadian port? Ought it not to be done at a Canadian port? Ought not the provinces to stand by each other? We are called on to pay duties to build up Canadian manufactures, and we of the Lower Provinces feel that the Upper Provinces should aid us now. We are proud to know that we have landed goods in Montreal shipped via the Beaver line ahead of those by the mail steamer via Portland; also that the Lake Ontario arrived here before her manifest sent by mail via New York. On this trip she had 107 passengers and 1,300 tons general cargo. She will have a full cargo back. Markets continue strong, and in staple lines a further advance is noticed. Quite a quantity of sugar has been bought, some expecting a higher duty.

OIL—There is quiet both in burning and lubricating oils. In burning oils there is very keen competition between the sellers of the Canadian and American product. The prices favors the selling of Canadian. As the different parties handle both grades they are open for business either way. We quote: American burning oil, 23¼c.; best Canadian, 21½ to 21¾c.; prime, 19c.; no charge for barrel.

HUGH WALKER & SON
Guelph, Ont.

SALT—A quantity arriving by last direct steamer was for shipment to Chicago. English salt is used very largely by all canners putting up canned meat. In local market stocks are quite large and in but very light demand. Very little is bought to arrive at present. In box salt, the American which used to arrive here in large quantities has been almost entirely driven out of the market by the Canadian. The Canadian is in a much better package than the American used to be. In large sacks the Canadian makes but little headway. In coarse they do, it might be said, nothing. We quote: Coarse, 50 to 55c.; fine factory-filled, $1.10; 5-lb. bags, $3.25 per bbl.; 10-lb. bags, $3 per bbl.; 20-lb. boxes, 20c.; 10-lb boxes, 12c.; cartoons, $2 per doz.; salt, bulk, $2.70 to $2 80 per bbl.

CANNED GOODS—Movement continues light, but a better demand will be soon noticed. Canadian beef continues to work into the market. It is sold much cheaper than the American, the difference being the duty. This is, of course, the off season. California canned goods are sold in but limited quantities, and Baltimore canned fruits, owing to quality, are not favorites. Vegetables are quoted very low in that market, but the duty prevents importation. We quote as follows: Corn, 85 to 90c.; peas, 90 to 95c.; tomatoes, 90 to 95c.; gallon apples, $2.15 to $2.25; corned beef, 2-lb. tins, $2.50 to $2.65; 1-lb. tins, $1.60 to $1.65; oysters, 2's, $2 to $2.25; 1's, $1.60 to $1.65; peaches, 3's, $2.75 to $2.85; 2's, $1.90 to $2; pineapple, Canadian pack, $2.35; salmon, $1.40 to $1.50; lobsters, $1.75 to $2; haddies, $1.30; clams, $5 for 4 doz.; chowder, $2 75 for 2 doz.; scallops, $5.50 for 4 doz.; Digby chickens, $1; kippered herring, $1.10.

DRIED FRUIT—In this line also there is but limited demand. The foreign market for dried is so low, and the American market being well supplied, the outlook for Nova Scotia product is poor. The more as they do not bulk the apples and pack too lightly in barrels. A letter from a New York buyer for properly-packed apples received this week offered only 3¼c. f. o. b. New York. Market are well supplied with evaporated. In California peaches, apricots and prunes there and nice goods shown, particularly some silver prunes of large size. Apricots are much higher than last year. Onions are quoted rather higher. Some very nice American are shown. We quote: Valencias, 4⅞ to 5c.; layers, 6 to 6¼c.; California L. M. 4-crown, 6 to 7c.; 3-crown, 5 to 6c.; London layers, $1.65 to $1.75. Currants, bbls., 3¾ to 4c.; cases, 4¼ to 5c.; cartoons, cleaned, 7½c.; bulk, cleaned, 6½c.: prunes, kegs, 4c.; boxes 4½ to 5c.; half-boxes, 6 to 8c.; dates, 4½ to 5c.; dried apples, 5c.; evaporated apples, 7 to 7½c.; California evaporated peaches, 12 to 13c.; apricots, 12 to 14c.; pears, 12 to 14c. Canadian onions, $2 25 to $2.50; cocoanuts, $3 to $4 per 100 lbs.; figs, 10 to 12c.; Sultana raisins, 7 to 8c.

GREEN FRUIT—Valencia oranges are being sold, if not at cost, very nearly so, both by the wholesaler and retailer. Lots to arrive will cost higher. They are as low as apples, being retailed by some as low as 12c. per dozen. Californias are being sold, but in much smaller quantities. Lemons continue low. But small quantities of pineapples are handled at this season, and no bananas, in a wholesale way. We quote: Apples, $2 to $2.75; oranges, $5 to $6 per bbl., $3 50 to $4 per box; Lemons, $2.75 to $3.50; Valencia oranges, $3.50 to $4; California oranges, seedlings, $2.50; navals, $3.50; pineapples, $2 50 to $3 per doz.; cranberries, $11 per barrel.

DAIRY PRODUCE—There continues to be but quiet movement, though in eggs, if good quality was sure, a fair business could be done. Butter is slack. With large quantity of poor in hand good butter would find, if fresh, and at fair price, good demand. In cheese the price continues lower than was expected, with light sales. No demand for early makes. We quote: Common dairy butter, 15 to 16c.; dairy, 17 to 18c.; new creamery prints, 23 to 24c.; cheese, 8½ to 9c.; creamery, tubs, 20 to 21c.; eggs, 17 to 19c. by case.

SUGAR—The market continues strong, but with no advance in local prices from last week. Some lots were bought by a few dealers this week looking towards a duty which did not arrive. Stocks are large with but light demand from retail trade. We quote: Granulated, 4¾ to 4⅞c.; yellow, 4¼ to 4⅜c.; Paris lump, 5¼ to 5½c.; powdered 5¼ to 5½c.

MOLASSES—Dealers are looking towards new goods, which may be looked to arrive in about a month. It is thought market will open firmer, and for some grades higher prices are being asked, though our local market is not very strong, particularly Barbadoes. Supply of small packages is light. Price of New Orleans remains firm at the advance, and best Porto Rico is rather higher. Syrup still finds steady sale; a good season's trade is reported. We quote: Barbadoes, 30 to 33c.; Porto Rico, 34 to 36c, bbls.; New Orleans, 34 to 35c.; St. Croix, 28 to 30c.; syrup, 36 to 38c.

FISH—As Lent approaches a better demand is noted. The only dull feature is smoked herring. Bloaters and haddies are in demand, but stock is scarce. This is particularly true of all fresh fish, and dealers cannot fill orders. Frozen herring are quoted higher. Pickled show no change except that Canso are quoted lower. Shelburne are being offered in pails. A nice shredded codfish is now being put upon the market by a local dealer. In lobsters a good many are being received, but they are small. We quote as follows: Fresh haddock and cod, 2¼ to 2½c. per lb.; dry, $1.50; large cod, $3 60 to $3.75; medium, $3.35 to $3 50; pollock, $1.50; bay herring, $1.25 to $1.30 per half-bbl.; Ripplings, $1.65; Wolves, $1.85 to $2; smoked herring, old, 4 to 5c.; new smoked, 5 to 6c.; Canso, $4.25 to $4 50 per bbl.; shad, half-bbl., $5 to $6; Grand Manan herring, half-bbl., $1.25 to $1.35; Shelburne, $3.75 bbl., $1.65 half-bbl.; boneless, 2½ to 8c.; ysters, $3 to $3.50 per bbl.; frozen herring, 80 to 90c. per 100.

PROVISIONS—There continues to be but light business, with a very firm market, and clear is again marked up. In lard the market is up half a cent, while different Canadian packers are still apart in figures. This is also true in smoked meat, particularly hams, in which there is a range of over half a cent. Stocks of all classes of these goods are fairly large except smoked meats, which, though in many cases bought ahead for four or five months, quantities are not large. We quote: Clear pork, $15.50 to $16; mess, $14 to $14 50; beef, $13 to $14; domestic mess pork, $14 to $14.50; hams, 10 to 11c.; rolls, 8c.; pure lard, 9 to 9½c.; compound, 7¾ to 8c.

FLOUR, FEED AND MEAL—In both Manitoba and Ontario brands prices are again marked up, with very strong feeling.

Smith, Baker & Co., Japan

YOKOHAMA and HIOGO

To the Retail Grocers and Tea Merchants of Canada:

DEAR SIRS,—Within the next few weeks most of the orders for importation of Japan Teas will be given by the various firms of Wholesale Grocers and Tea Merchants to the representatives of Yokohama and Hiogo firms, and with this fact in mind we ask those of our readers who are old friends, and all who are desirous of getting

to notify the salesmen who solicit their orders, that in 1896 you will ask for, and insist upon getting, Teas fired, prepared and shipped by the firm of

SMITH, BAKER & CO.

Speaking from our own past experience as Wholesale Grocers, we can conscientiously say that we never either bought on the market, or imported from Japan, Teas which gave our customers more general satisfaction, the Teas invariably being of excellent cup quality, the leaf perfectly manipulated, and of all colors we recommend sun-dried or brown leaf.

A few orders have already been given, in some cases for Teas fired and prepared by other Japan firms. Will you therefore in, we think your own, certainly in our, interest, emphasize the fact upon every occasion which presents itself, that you are going to ask for, and be satisfied with, nothing less than the best, that you want and will have Teas prepared by SMITH, BAKER & CO.

We furnish standard samples to the Wholesale Trade for the purpose of showing to you. We shall be happy to furnish you with the names of such firms as import Smith, Baker & Co.'s Teas We intend these Teas to be known and appreciated from Halifax to Vancouver and Victoria.

Relying upon your kindness in this matter, we are,

Yours respectfully,

Lightbound, Ralston & Co.

Movement is not large. In oatmeal there is no change; two grades of rolled are on the market, the difference in price being about 20c. Cornmeal remains at the low price of the last few weeks. In oats Ontarios are quoted from ½ to 1c. higher. In feed the quotations are no higher. Hay shows a light movement here, but quotations are firm. A much better business in all lines is looked for this month. We quote: Manitoba, $4.60 to $4.70; best Ontario, $4.55 to $4.65; medium, $4.40 to $4.50; oatmeal, $3.40 to $3.65; cornmeal, $2.25 to $2.30; middlings, $19 to $20 on track; bran, $18 to $19; hand-picked beans, $1.25; prime, $1.20; oats, 34 to 35c.; hay, $12.25 to $13; pot barley, $4; round peas, $3.65 to $3.75; split peas, $3.70 to $3.80; yellow-eye beans, $1.85; buckwheat meal, $1.30 to $1.35.

ST. JOHN NOTES.

St. Andrew's is to have a Board of Trade.

There is talk of a candy factory being started in Amherst.

Smelt continue to be caught in large quantities along the north shore.

The direct steamer to New York will be put on about the middle of the month.

Fourteen hundred pounds of spruce gum was shipped last week from Hants Co., N.S., to Boston and Portland.

C. & E. Macmichael are finding that a good thing sells. Boisselier's cocoagene, which they lately added to their stock, is having a splendid demand.

By the last Beaver Line steamer 1,500 sacks of salt were received for shipment to Chicago. As part of her cargo back, she takes five cars of canned meat, shipped from that city.

Canned pineapples can be bought at any price, but quality tells. THE CANADIAN GROCER acknowledges a sample of Singapore pineapples from F. H. Tippet & Co., who are the St. John agents.

A new shredded codfish is being put on the market by Leonard Bros. It is in an attractive cartoon, similar in style to the American. The name of Leonard upon it is a guarantee of the quality. It is being sold generally by our retailers.

A bill is to be introduced in Nova Scotia to provide for the compulsory closing of all shops in Halifax on three nights in the week in any trade where three-fifths of the shopkeepers petition the Halifax City Council to pass such a by-law.

Although the potato market is so dull, some direct shipments are to be made by our merchants to Liverpool. They will be shipped in sacks of 112 lbs. The result will be watched with interest, as large quantities of potatoes are still in the province.

HALIFAX TRADE GOSSIP.

At last Halifax is to have a retail grocers' association. That step was decided upon at a meeting of the trade held a few evenings ago, and a meeting is called for the latter part of this week to complete the organization. There was an association in Halifax a few years ago, but dissensions came in and the association went out. There are good prospects that the new organization will come to stay. Since the old association passed in its cheques there has been a desire for a new one. The hardware people organized and the dry goods people organized, and the grocers felt they should not be out of the race, so they are about to come to the scratch. They will not be behind the others, that may be depended upon. The grocery trade is of great importance in Halifax, and with thorough organization will be sure to make its influence felt.

One thousand five hundred barrels of apples were stored in W. H. Chase's large warehouse at Port Williams, ready for shipment to England, but the building caught on fire, was burned to the ground, and half the apples destroyed.

At the meeting of the Amherst Board of Trade last week a proposition was placed before the meeting for the forming of a joint stock company to carry on the manufacture of confectionery in that town, the capital stock of the company to be $10,000, paid up. The prospectus states that from 60 to 75 hands will be employed within a year. The history of confectionery manufacturers in the province has been a fairly good one. The factory of Hamilton & Co., of Pictou, employs over 100 hands, and has five travelers on the road selling goods. The Halifax Confectionery Co., however, appears not to have been able to stand the competition, which is very keen, and has gone under. There is an idea among the trade that the keen competition of the past three years will soon cease. It is well known that some provincial makers have been sacrificing goods in order to keep the upper Canadian people out of the market. This, of course, only applies to staple goods. The balm of Gilead for this ill is supposed to be in the combine recently formed among the candy manufacturers of St. John, St. Stephen and Halifax. They will likely seek the co-operation of the Montreal and Toronto makers, in order that prices may be kept to a paying basis and that the cut-throat business may be discontinued.

Trade has been quiet the last few days. We had a spurt from the 5th to the 25th January, but there are very few out port vessels in now and consequently there is very little movement.

We hear of the flour market advancing all over the west, but it is possible to pick up flours on this market at from $4.10 to $4.20 for Ontarios with a per centage of Manitoba, and $4.25 to $4.30 for all Manitobas. In fact, we hear of sales being made at those prices, though they appear to be 20c. below millers' prices. Halifax is usually a cheap market when there is an advance in the west.

Cornmeals and oatmeals are still wonderfully cheap, but an advance in both is looked for.

The refinery reports that the buying is not very heavy at the advance, but that the tone of the sugar market remains decidedly firm.

There is no change in fish stuffs since last report.

The produce market remains quiet, with no change in prices.

Dealers are working off old stocks of poultry held over from the holiday trade, and as the demand is very limited, prices rule low.

The green fruit market is quiet, but steady. The boat from Boston on Monday brought large stocks to local dealers. The market is well stocked with Valencia, Denia, California navel and Jamaica oranges, and prices are ruling low. Lemons are in large supply and selling at low prices. Bananas continue to arrive and sell at from $2 to $2.25 per bunch, the latter quotation being for fancy stocks. Apples are in limited supply.

Silver skin onions sell at 1½ to 1¾c. per lb., and Spanish at 60c. per box.

Foxberries are low, the quotations being from $3.50 to $4 per bbl.

There is not much doing in butter or cheese. Good dairy is worth 20 to 21c.; creamery, 22 to 24c.; ordinary dairy, 16 to 18c., and Canadian rolls, 18c. September cheese, Antigonish, is quoted at 10c., and early makes at 9 and 9½c.

P.E. Island produce remains low, with very little trade doing.

There is no change in canned goods, with the exception of a slight advance in tomatoes.

Dried fruit remains quiet, with no change in quotations.

All other lines are inactive and dull.

A cargo of 5,600 bushels of corn was discharged at Matheson's roller mills, Dartmouth, on Monday last, in nine hours, from the schooner Lorena Maud.

WEIGHT OF A GALLON OF SYRUP.

A subscriber writes: "We have received three shipments of syrups from different wholesales this week. One house allows 14 lbs. to the gallon; one 13.80, and the other only 13 50. Will you please inform us through THE GROCER what the Government standard is, and oblige."

REPLY—A gallon of syrup should weigh 14 pounds. THE EDITOR.

THIRD VISITATION OF DEATH.

For the third time within about nine months death has visited the home of Mr. W. H. Seyler, of the Eby, Blain Co., Ltd., Toronto. First his wife was taken away, and a week later an infant followed its mother, and now the eldest, Willie, a boy of 5 years and seven months, has passed away. The little fellow, with his younger brother, while spending his holidays with his grandparents in Waterloo, was attacked with measles; following the measles came pneumonia, which resulted in his death on Wednesday, 5th inst. The remains will be interred at Hamilton on Friday. THE CANADIAN GROCER extends its sympathy to Mr. Seyler in this, his third affliction.

PEANUT OIL INDUSTRY.

PEANUT oil is making such rapid strides in foreign countries as a competitor of olive and cottonseed oils, and as one of the chief components of butter and lard, that it is only a question of time when peanut oil manufacture will be one of the leading industries of the United States, remarks a contemporary. Capitalists will some day take hold of this neglected branch of business and make it so popular with the consuming public that the large dividends earned will eventually attract Wall street investment, and then we shall have a peanut oil "trust," with common and preferred stock, like the other large industrial corporations. The American production of peanuts is limited to an average of 4,000,000 bushels per annum, because of the limited demand. The southern growers claim that the crop is unprofitable, but that is owing to their lack of enterprise; they are only able to obtain about twenty bushels per acre, because they use the same land from year to year, and never think of spending a cent on fertilizers. Intelligent cultivation will bring a yield of 75 to 100 bushels per acre; experience has demonstrated that fact beyond dispute.

The oil industry can be made to advance more rapidly than cotton oil, because peanuts are well known and popular everywhere. In addition to the oil, which is considered much superior to either olive or cotton oil for salad and cooking purposes, there are by-products of crushed hulls, meal and vines, which are used extensively in Germany as cattle food and valued highly, the vines being preferred to timothy hay.

There is certainly a good opening in the Southern States, where land is so cheap, for the cultivation of nuts on a large scale and the manufacture of oil. The latter will sell readily on its merits if offered in the beginning at or below the figures of competing oils. It is believed that such an enterprise could be undertaken with profit even at present low values.

A GOOD MOTTO.

On the wall in one of the busiest downtown houses, says a San Francisco paper, are framed the following lines, which one is apt to think have been made the ruling guide in the early career of the men who have built up a prosperous business. The sentiment expressed is the best bond for success in any honorable career and is worthy of a place in the heart and memory of every man who meets life's battles:

Pluck wins; it always wins.
Though days be slow
And nights be dark 'twixt days that come and go,
Still pluck will win. Its average is sure.
He gains the prize who can the most endure;
Who faces issues—he who never shirks—
Who waits and watches, and who always works.

Fast and furious

Is the race for business, but the right goods and honest dealing invariably win in the long run. Cheap and inferior goods must find their place some time or other, and finally drop out altogether. Maple Leaf Brand has won its laurels honestly and is always in the front.

HINTS TO BUYERS.

W. H. GILLARD & CO. are having a large sale for Rio coffees just now. Their stock is large, and the values they are offering, they state, cannot be beaten.

A carload of molasses arrived this week for Davidson & Hay.

James Turner & Co. say they can back up their tea ad. in to-day's GROCER.

Davidson & Hay are showing good value in a pure sugar syrup in half-barrels.

Davidson & Hay are offering a flowery Ceylon Pekoe packed in 10 and 20-lb. boxes.

H. P. Eckardt & Co. are in receipt of a shipment of Delhi and Aylmer chicken soup.

The Eby, Blain Co., Ltd., have received a shipment of Rogers' and Arguimbau's Valencia raisins.

A shipment of Marbot walnut is to hand with the Eby, Blain Co., Ltd.; also shelled Grenobles and Bordeaux.

John Sloan & Co. have just received into stock a line of 41 chests of Ceylon tea, which they consider show extra good value.

The Ireland National Food Co. report that they are experiencing a largely increased demand for their self-rising buckwheat flour.

The Eby, Blain Co., Ltd., report a most encouraging outlook for their "Kolona" Ceylon tea. Their output, so far, has been large.

The attention of the trade is drawn to the advertisement of "Silver Dust" washing powder, which is put up in neat and attractive packages. This washing powder is highly spoken of by those of the trade who have had the opportunity of testing it. What is more, it is a Canadian product.

James Turner & Co. report January as better than last year, especially in dried fruits and teas, in both of which they have splendid values.

James Turner & Co. have a grand lead in pound squat tins "Flag-Ship" salmon. Solid red meat, a credit to the canner and just the goods for the grocer who likes the best.

Cream sodas, which are made only by the Toronto Biscuit & Confectionery Co., are growing in favor every day. They are packed in tin boxes, and contain three pounds of selected soda biscuits.

W. H. Gillard & Co.'s advertisement this week will prove interesting reading to merchants throughout the country. It shows in concise shape the sugar crops of the world, together with the prices of the raw article at stated periods throughout the different years. It also shows the great possibilities of the sugar campaign, in that the price of raw during eighteen months of 1892 and 1893, with about the same crop available as there is for 1895 and 1896, was fully ¼ of a cent higher than at the present time. The figures presented are worth keeping for future reference.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Mrs. M. P. Card, manufacturer of "Canadian Tomato Chutnee," Guelph, had the misfortune to lose her sister, Miss Eliza Passmore Edwards, lately. Deceased had been ill for some time with a tumor of the brain, but was not thought to be in a very dangerous condition until within a day or so of her death.

THE CLERKS' ASSOCIATION.

The meeting of the Montreal Retail Grocers' Clerks' Association, this week, was a most enthusiastic one, the members all feeling happy over the success of the early closing movement in the municipal elections. Every one of the aldermanic canditates, whose names we gave in last week's paper, and for whom we urged our friends to vote, have been elected. They are all pledged to early closing. This makes only one man opposed and two undecided. There is, therefore, no danger of a repeal of the by-law. The clerks, and especially Mr. Poirier, the president of the committee, deserve every credit for the way in which they worked the candidates and the contest. Let the experience of the Montreal clerks be followed in other cities.

The association elected these officers for the ensuing term:

Honorary president	J. B. E. Poirier.
President	J. P. Beauvais.
First vice-president	J. A. Laughran.
Second vice-president	P. Ethier.
Secretary	O. Legendre.
Assistant secretary	O. Langlois.
Treasurer	W. Archambault.
Assistant treasurer	E. Migneron.
Committtee	Joseph Champagne and Viateur Laforest.
Chaplain	The Abbe Bedard.
Physician	Dr. F. X. Plouffe.

Judging from the immense shipments daily sent out by the Toronto Biscuit and Confectionery Co., their well-known B. F. P. cough drops must be selling freely.

SELL-EVERYTHING GROCERS.

OF TWO classes of stores, one made up of numerous departments clustered about a dry goods stock, and another class where the same process has been employed with a stock of groceries as the starting point, which is the most dangerous to the legitimate grocer, and which is he justified in regarding with most hostility? We ask this question, remarks Merchants' Review, of New York, because we by no means despair of seeing several mammoth general stores started in one or more cities by grocers, as was suggested by trade papers when the department store, as it formerly existed, with two or three departments, began to branch out still further and become a cause of fear and anger to the grocers. The cry was, "fight the devil with fire," although it had not been forgotten that the grandparent of the single-stock store had been the general store of auld lang syne.

So far there has been no sign that the grocers in this country intend to adopt the sell-everything policy, but across the Atlantic there is a marked tendency in that direction.

According to The London Grocers' Journal, in Glasgow, Scotland, there has in late years been a noticeable branching out towards other lines by grocers. Its Glasgow correspondent says: "The year which has gone has been one of a searching after novelties, and a stranger visiting Glasgow would be surprised at the displays which some of the Glasgow grocers have in their windows. Indeed, he may be excused on being told 'That's a grocery over there,' if he replied, 'No, sir, that's a confectioner's.' 'No, that window there, sir, is a grocer's.' 'That window! Why, that's a furniture shop.' The fact is some of the grocers have taken to selling mail-carts, perambulators, carpet brushes, coal vases, and heaven only knows what! And why is this? Simply because they find that drapers, stationers and others have taken to retailing tea, and they think they are justified in selling the articles mentioned. Then some grocers offer fowls, rabbits, etc., but they draw the line at fresh fish. They know well it would never do to offer fresh fish and hope to keep a 'sweet' shop; but it will be seen that they have attacked the furnishers, the poulterers and the confectioners. As to the last named, why, some of their windows have a much more artistic display than the best confectioners. And this is a branch that has expanded during 1895, for the simple reason that the sweets have been offered much more cheaply than they have been by the legitimate confectioner."

We will not allow that British grocers are more enterprising than our own, hence we must get ready for a new departure among grocers here, and should not be surprised to see within a few years the adding of various new departments to their businesses by grocers who to day are angry at the dry goods men because they are so greedy.

NOVA SCOTIA FIBRED CODFISH

REPRESENTS the highest achievement in the art of curing and preparing Codfish ready for cooking.

NOTHING is used in this product but the finest of shore Codfish especially cured and dried for it.

THE disagreeable odor usually considered to be a necessary evil to be endured while cooking Codfish will be found to be entirely lacking in this.

EVERY particle of skin and bone being removed and the water evaporated, there is absolutely no waste. The contents of each package, therefore, is worth to the housekeeper about three times its weight in Codfish as ordinarily sold.

PUT UP in half-pound cartons, 3 doz. cartons to the case, and sold by the wholesale and retail grocers throughout Canada.

HE BLAMES "THE GROCER."

In a letter to THE CANADIAN GROCER, Mr. J. C. Saunders, of Manitou, says:

"I might just say I have been very successful in business, and I have THE CANADIAN GROCER to thank for it, for it is a great guide for a man in business. I could not get along without it."

CALIFORNIA RAISIN SHIPMENTS.

According to mail advices the shipments of raisins from the San Joaquin Valley for the season of 1895, to January 1, were 32,500 tons. At the date the letter was written there were on hand about 5,000 tons, making a total production of about 3,000 cars of about 12 tons each (a minimum carload) for the season, in addition to 300 or 350 cars from other points in the State. There is still some stock in the Woodland and other districts, but it is scattered among a number of holders.

"HONESTY" IN BUSINESS.

"And now, my son," said the loving father, "as you are about to go into busines for yourself, it is well for you to remember always that 'honesty is the best policy.'"

"Yes, papa," said the high-browed youth.

"That 'honesty is the best policy,' and," continued the old man, "if you will study up the laws you will be surprised to find how many things you can do in a business way and still be honest."—Grocery World.

It Pays To

Read advertisements in the Trade Papers. Just watch this space from week to week. We give you weekly hints on Biscuits and this line you make good money on. We get out new biscuits and let the trade know it. If you can have a new article to show your customers, nine times out of ten they buy it. "Household" is a new buscuit of ours.

Never let your stock of Cream Sodas run out. Don't offer something "as good"; no imitation is as good as the original.

"BUILD SOLIDLY when you build." This is just as applicable to the merchant as to the architect, and particularly so with regard to the Tea Department. Without a good foundation the superstructure will not stand ; without sterling quality, strict uniformity and honest value, a successful, lasting Tea Trade cannot be done.

THE ORDINARY MORTAL likes a really good cup of Tea, and when he is satisfied in that particular the grocer usually has a 'cinch' on his general trade, and his bank account rolls up accordingly.

Vol. X. (Published Weekly) TORONTO AND MONTREAL, FEBRUARY 14, 1896 ($2.00 per Year) No. 7

DROPS FROM THE EDITOR'S PEN.

Work without system is like machinery without oil.

The three days of grace have saved many a merchant from disgrace.

Soon deprived of customers is he who strives for inordinate profits.

In business, as well as in a race, it is well to keep your eye on your competitor.

Although selling is an art, the efficient salesman may not necessarily be an artist.

A merchant cannot afford to work always any more than he can afford to play always.

There appears to be a grand stirring up of old bones on the Grand Trunk these days.

He who has an eye for business possesses the key that opens the door leading to success.

A dark and dingy store, like a man with a dark countenance, is often viewed with suspicion.

Acknowledge a fault. By "eating the leek" a merchant is saved from swallowing his manhood.

Inconsistency in the weather may be a part of the plan of nature, but inconsistency in man never.

Indispensable as system is in order to success in business, yet it can be followed to deleteriousness.

Don't be pedantic. The pedant, like the man with leprosy, is shunned by ordinary mortals.

It is well to have friends; but the germ of success is within ourselves and not the gift of our friends.

Ignorance may abound, but it is not thick enough to hide from ultimate discovery he who essays to live on the incredulity of his customers.

Man, like the chick in the shell, must depend upon his own energies for working his way into the world.

The sugar producers in Cuba are grinding their teeth because the rebels will not allow them to grind their sugar.

He who sacrifices prices in order to gain business may be said to be sacrificing himself to the God of Ambition.

In renting a store the determining factor should not be so much a matter of amount of rent as compatibility of situation.

The doctrine that a man cannot be both honest and successful in business is palatable only to those devoid of conscience.

A receipt is a recipe against irritation, litigation and other complaints which may arise subsequent to the payment of an account.

The Maritime Grocer is no more; but with its amoval has come The Maritime Merchant, which essays to cater to all branches of trade.

If there is one trade more than another that a timid man should keep out of it is the grocery trade: In it there is room only for men of courage.

Dollars are often made by reading one issue of a live trade paper; and yet there are merchants who begrudge two dollars for fifty-two issues.

Minnesota has laid claim to one of our islands in the Rainy River. There appears to be no boundary to the boundary disputes of this continent.

The proprietors of the big stores in Paris, France, are conceded special passenger rates by the railways, and Parliament has reduced their licenses 45 per cent. Small dealers in this country have reason to be thankful that they are not as their brethren in the French capital.

The average wife claims equality with her husband in all things except the payment of debts. This anomalous exception the law should remove. Let woman have her rights to the full.

He who while looking for business pulleth his advertisement from the newspaper column is like unto him who putteth his lamp under a bushel when searching for a gem which he hath lost.

Valuable and all as this discovery of photography may be for locating diseases in the human body, yet we shall still have to look in a man's face to learn whether his heart be good or not.

If the same energy and ingenuity were displayed in "fishing" for business as there is in fishing for speckled trout there would be more successful merchants in the country than there are to-day.

I have heard young physicians advised to have the appearance of being busy, whether they were or not; and I don't know that the same advice would be inapplicable to the case of young merchants as well.

In Africa they have trees that grow soap; in one of the Pacific States they have a lake that produces soap. We have none of those things in Canada; and it is because we do not need them: we have manufacturers that produce soap cheap enough for all purposes.

Important as are commercial matters, yet, in our laudation of the discoveries of science, we often overlook developments in commerce. Five years ago Manitoba was an importer of dairy products; last year she was an exporter of these products to the value of six millions of dollars. And yet we have said little about it, while very few Canadians are even conversant with the fact.

CHEESE EXPORTERS DINE.

THE importance of the butter and cheese trade of Montreal has long been admitted, and the modesty of the members of this trade has been a surprise to many. Other branches affiliated with the Board of Trade have had their excursions, dinners, etc., but the butter and cheese men have asserted themselves only by turning over more goods than any other branch of our export trade, except lumber. To use a cant saying, they never "blew their own horn." Now, it may be a sign of vulgarity and ill-breeding to blow it too much, but it is equally true that people can be too modest. This has been the case with the dairy produce trade. They have not taken the prominence that the extent and importance of their business justified in the past, but they propose doing so in the future. The other evening they took the initial step by holding their first annual dinner at the Windsor Hotel. The new president of the association presided, and among those present were: Messrs. Robert Bickerdike, John McKergow, Joshua Bell, Wm. Eager (Morrisburg), J. C. Warrington, D. A. McPherson, Wm. Nivin, A. J. Brice, W. Ware, J. Alexander, P. W. McLagan, F. Duckett, G. Hodge, J. Kirkpatrick, C. Campbell, J. Vaillancourt, W. Dalrymple, A. C. Wieland, J. Ward, W. Taylor, C. Langlois and many others, some eighty people or so sitting down at seven o'clock.

Like men who handle a food stuff, the gathering knew how to appreciate the good things provided by the Windsor.

The usual loyal toasts to Her Majesty and her representative being duly honored the chairman proposed in a few remarks the health of the Montreal Board of Trade. President Bickerdike had been called away, so it devolved upon Mr. McKergow, a leading member of the cheese trade, who is second vice-president, to respond. Mr. McKergow spoke briefly in regard to the Board of Trade, and followed up with a humorous speech about the cow. He remarked that the farmers had developed this animal into a regular machine. But they had to do so, for above all things, with the competition that they had to meet, the Canadian makers of cheese and butter had to be progressive.

One of the veterans of the trade, Mr. Wm. Nivin, who followed, got a rousing reception. He said that he had come to enjoy himself and did not propose to make a long speech. Before concluding, he commended the idea of holding an annual dinner. It was, in his opinion, a first-class method of cementing the feeling of friendship and good fellowship that existed and should always exist between members of the trade, no matter how keenly they might compete against one another. He concluded by proposing the health of the country associations.

Mr. Wm. Eager, of Morrisburg, responded on their behalf. He also thought that an annual gathering like the present one was a first-class idea, and predicted that at the next the men who made the cheese and butter would be better represented by larger numbers than at this one. After referring to the great educational work that the Country Dairymen's Association had been carrying on, Mr. Eager referred to the course of the market. As a maker he had to say that the season just closed had not been quite satisfactory to the producers, but they were just enough to admit that the prices they realized for their make during the previous year more than made up the difference. He frankly admitted, in fact, that the farmers frequently got more for their cheese and butter than the condition of the market warranted. He could not agree, therefore, with the people who sometimes accused the Montreal dealers of shady practices. The fact that a business aggregating twelve to thirteen million dollars had been carried on from year to year was the best denial of this that could be found, and spoke forcibly for the honesty and integrity of the Montreal men as a body. Touching upon the country boards, he said he was not an admirer of them, nor was he an advocate of the idea of having the cheese branded. He considered it impracticable. He concluded by proposing "The Montreal Butter and Cheese Association," which the guests present drank with three rousing cheers.

President Grant, in responding, said: "The Montreal Butter and Cheese Association is the natural outgrowth of the vast business done in these articles; it includes all those who are actively engaged in the business in the city; it is affiliated with the Board of Trade, whose president we have with us this evening; two of its prominent members are now members of the Council of the Board of Trade (and as the Board of Trade has over a thousand members, we are well represented) one of whom is now second vice-president, is also with us this evening, and we hope that in the near future, this gentleman will represent us as president of the Board of Trade. The members of this association handle two-thirds of all the cheese produced in Canada, or about $10,000,000 worth out of the $15,500,000 worth that is annually exported, and I suppose about half of all the butter, both exported and sold in Canada. This association stands for progress and the advancement and best interests of the dairy business in all its branches. I am pleased to say that there has never been an arbitration award in the association, which speaks volumes, and there has not been, to my knowledge, a single lawsuit between one of its members and a factoryman in eight years trading. The business between the English merchants and members of this association is transacted, so far as I know, just as smoothly and with as little friction as it is with the factorymen. There was a report published in a prominent agricultural paper in England last year to the effect that adulterated lard or cheese was shipped from Canada; this association knew that such accusations were basely false, and an association meeting was immediately called, and by its prompt action, Sir Charles Tupper was at once communicated with by cable, and the libel was immediately retracted. The reason Canada holds the high position she does, I may say, the first position, is because no adulterated or filled cheese are made here, and this is more than any other country can say, and Canada makes the most uniformly best cheese of any country on the globe. England imported in 1894 cheese to the value of $26,644,708, of which Canada sent over half, or $13,000,000, Australia $669,225, the United States $7,827,000, and Holland $3,702,000. These figures show conclusively the leading position occupied by our country. I now draw your attention to the growth of the business: Canada exported, in 1880, $3,893,366; in 1885, $8,265,240; in 1894, $15,488,191. Our position in butter, so far as the export trade is concerned, is a paltry one. England imported, in 1894, butter to the value of $65,489,268, of which Demark shipped $28,440,576 worth, France exported $6,680,391 worth, Australasia $6,959,221 worth, Holland $4,048,828 worth. Now, Denmark had a population, in 1890, of 2,173,380, and the area of that country is 14,775 square miles, which is just about half as large as the province of New Brunswick, with its 28,100 square miles. The United Kingdom has 120,179 square miles, the province of Ontario 219,650 square miles, and Quebec 227,500 square miles. Certainly these comparisons show us, if they show anything, that we should not be satisfied with the money value of our exports in dairy produce. In reference to cattle, I may tell you that in 1893 the United Kingdom had 11,027,554 head, Canada, the same year, 4,060 662 head, Australasia the same year had 11 872,360 head. In looking over the value of Canada's exports, I find that the lumber business stands at the head with $28,173,813; cheese second, $15,488,191, and butter $1,414,423; exports of wheat, flour and breadstuffs are credited with $12,598,110, but I am inclined to the opinion that some of the through American exports are included in these figures; cattle is fourth, with $6 499,597, and fifth comes bacon and hams with $3 053,172. All these statistics are official ones from the Agricultural Department of Ottawa."

In proposing the Receivers the president expressed regret that more of them did not join the association. They had as much at stake as the shippers, and should take an active interest in its proceedings. Mr. Arthur Hodgson endorsed what had been said regarding the benefits of such gatherings as the present one, and also to the receivers.

Among the latter who replied were Messrs. Ward, Hislop, Campbell and Taylor, who all expressed their gratification at being present, and agreed that such a gathering was the best means possible of bringing both branches of the trade together.

It Came to Stay, It Has Stayed

Like the trees of the forest, the greater the storms the more deeply rooted become the trees. This is our experience with the celebrated Ram Lal's Tea. At its inception it was assailed, its doom was pronounced in many languages by rival dealers long before the public had given their verdict, yet to-day it stands without a peer, imitated by many, rivalled by none. Equal to Ram Lal's was the highest eulogy bestowed on samples given to dealers by travellers throughout the country, and in many cases the dealers were victimized, and why? Because Ram Lal's Pure Indian Tea has no equal.

Wherever Ram Lal's Tea is shown
It stands unrivalled and alone.

And why has Ram Lal's Tea no equal? Because it is a pure INDIAN blend. Indian Tea possesses more retentive quality than any other tea known to commerce.

IMITATION BLENDS sold throughout the country to-day meet with considerable favor for a time and then become unpopular, and why? Because Ceylons are used very extensively in these blends, and after being kept in stock for a time go "off," losing their pungency and aroma. This has been the experience of practical tea men the world over. The sale of this brand is not confined to Ontario alone, but from all parts of the Dominion orders are being received daily, and numerous enquiries from across the border. Each year these goods are becoming more and more popular, sales having far exceeded our most sanguine expectations.

SELLING AS AN ART.

IT is not every one who can make a good salesperson, says a writer in Trade Magazine. It requires a certain knack which is innate, and cannot be acquired. First of all, one must like the vocation if he intends following it. Without this you will lose a great deal of time, valuable both to yourself and your employer. Some take positions in shops through inclination, others through force of circumstances. But when one enjoys a position back of a counter he can always make a success of it.

Patience, perseverance and ambition must be the watchwords of every salesperson. These are indispensable qualifications.

Patience to an unlimited extent is absolutely necessary, for without patience no clerk will make a successful salesman.

Perseverance is another attribute much needed in the "make-up" of a good salesman. But this is often overdone by clerks making the error of supposing that a constant digging at a customer effects the sale.

As to ambition, I would not give much for the future of any young man who would be satisfied always with the position he holds, however good it be.

He neither benefits himself nor his employers. This is the greatest mistake a salesman makes. The moment he feels he has attained his aspirations, that moment he has exhausted his usefulness to his house.

He should strive to gather the knowledge and workings of all stocks, though he be confined to one department. He should strive, first of all, to work through the different grades until he is at the head of his special line. He should learn to obey, not because he must, but because he ought to. One who cannot obey cannot command. He will be unfit even to assume the charge of his stock, should opportunities ever give him the chance. He must act, in carrying out his instructions, with the expectation that some day he will have a place of business of his own, and he must learn to run it successfully.

He should always dress neatly and genteelly, never in an eccentric or fastidious manner. He should be agreeable, without being inane; pleasant, without being offensive. He should at all times be in readiness to wait on customers and approach them with a pleasant address, remembering that the first impression is the one that tells. On receiving a reply from a customer, he should show his goods in an unostentatious manner, tying to sell without importuning.

Shoppers now-a-days are intelligent. They know well the value of merchandise, and, therefore, it does more harm than good to enlarge too much on what you are selling. A pleasing explanation of the fashion, a general suggestion, and then the salesman should allow the customer an opportunity of exercising unbiased judgment. Sales are often ruined by overmuch talk.

Be honest in your suggestions; never overdo anything; show your wares to the best advantage; make your stock look presentable, and you will be a success. Many clerks make mistakes by being forced into submission. It is far better to do what is expected of you in a graceful manner than to be coerced.

Promptness is another factor in the "make-up" of a good salesperson. That employe who lags a few moments in the morning or noontime will lag all through life.

Discretion in waiting on a customer is another rare quality. To a neat person show neat patterns; to one who is a little more lavish in style or dress show goods according to such tastes. Never try to convince a customer that your way of thinking is right. You can advance your ideas, but, if you find that they conflict with your patron's views, argument is very harmful.

Be truthful under all circumstances; never misrepresent. Even though you should make a sale through misrepresentation you have surely lost a customer, and your house loses that patronage. The truth in business is a mighty power, and paramount to all other qualifications.

Always be doing something. In a large store, as well as a small one, there is always something that should be improved. Idleness leads to mischief. Silly conversation back of counters has been the starting point of the downfall of many young people who might have made a success of their vocation. In the first place, by your frivolous conversation you lose the respect of even those who listen to your prattle, and besides that, you do yourself the greatest injustice. If you do not begin by gaining the respect of those around you, you need never expect it from your superiors. There is no position in an establishment that you cannot gain, if, by your merit and ability, you are qualified to fill it.

Bear in mind that seven-eighths of the employers of to day started in life at the bottom of the ladder, and only attained what they now have through harder work than is needed of you. Be ever mindful of your employer's interests. If you are faithful in your duties to your employer, reward will surely follow. Sometimes it may be slow in coming, but it will certainly come.

It will always be necessary for someone to be given complete charge of the large establishments which exist to day and will exist in the future. Why not you? It is worth trying for, and, if you combine the requisites mentioned, your chances are as good as the best.

VIRDEN BOARD OF TRADE.

At the annual meeting of the Virden, Man., Board of Trade the following were the officers elected: A. Merrick, president; J. F. Frame, vice-president; George H. Healey secretary-treasurer. Council—Messrs. W. J. Wilcox, W. H. Hall, Kennedy, B. Meek, R. E. Turnbull, D. Fraser, J. H. Agnew, D. McDonald, J. A. Schuman, Jas. Rothnie, H. C. Simpson and J. W. Higginbotham; auditor, D. McDonald.

"The Virden Board of Trade is a live corporation that has done much to advance the interests of its particular district, and the town of Virden is to be congratulated on the fact that it again starts the new year under such favorable auspices," says the Virden correspondent of The Winnipeg Free Press.

OUR EXPORTS OF HOG PRODUCTS.

PRODUCING meats for consuming countries is one of the chief offices with which nature has endowed Canada. And the trade returns show that the people are beginning to develop in earnest this nature-bestowed industry.

Last week we referred to the extraordinary development of our export trade in bacon, during which it was pointed out that our sales to Great Britain were 80 per cent. larger in 1895 than in 1891. In this issue we propose to deal with hog products generally.

Taking hams for the past five years we find this result :

	Quantity in lbs.	Value.
1891	403,481	$ 37,617
1892	598,083	57,801
1893	1,216,036	140,150

As with bacon, so with hams, Great Britain is our chief market. Last year it was nearly 98 per cent. of the whole, and in 1891 it was 97 per cent. It will be noticed by the above table that the increase in the exports of hams during the five-year period was 84.54 per cent. Our total exports of bacon and hams last year were 40,134,026 pounds, valued at $3,806,709. Twenty years ago our exports of the two combined were 9,954,528 pounds, valued at $826,691, an increase of 73.60 per cent. in quantity and 75.65 per cent. in value. It is interesting to further note that, compared with 1891, our exports of hams last year increased 115 per cent. to Newfoundland, 95.79 to the United States, and 70.70 to Dutch West Indies.

Countries which in 1891 took no hams from us last year bought from us as follows: Spanish West Indies, 16,674 pounds ; St. Pierre, 2,217 pounds ; Hayti, 7,072 pounds ; British Guiana, 2,223 pounds ; China, 190 pounds ; Japan, 70 pounds. During the period in question the British West Indies and the French West Indies were the only customers that bought less of us. In 1895 the latter disappears altogether from the list, while the former shows a decline of about 50 per cent.

Turning to the figures referring to lard, food for gratification is again found.

	Quantity in lbs.	Value.
1891	47,734	$ 3,174
1892	31,886	2,504
1893	709,624	66,773
1895	1,276,586	104,130

It will be observed that the increase in lard during the five years given is 96.50 per cent. Of the total exports over 99½ per cent. went to Great Britain, the rest being distributed between British West Indies, Newfoundland, Hayti, St. Pierre and the Spanish West Indies. Hayti and the Spanish West Indies did not appear at all in the list of 1891, but whereas the United States took 14,700 pounds from us in the latter year, in 1895 she did not take one pound of our lard ; in fact, Newfoundland was the only country besides Great Britain that took more from us in 1895 than in 1891, but, then, these are all very small customers at the best.

While our exports under the classification "pork" do not exhibit the same continued increase as do bacon, hams and lard, yet they are by no means of a discouraging character, showing as they do an increase of 86.30 per cent. compared with five years ago. The figures for the five years are :

	Quantity in lbs.	Value.
1892	142,386	7,866
1893	903,022	81,953
1894	755,722	38,109
1895	519,736	32,436

A peculiar feature of the export trade in pork is the sharp fluctuations in the quantities taken by Great Britain. For instance, in 1891 she took 550 pounds ; in 1892, 2,600 pounds ; in 1893, 398,174 pounds ; in 1894, 476,963 pounds, and in 1895, 211,436 pounds. Next to Great Britain, our largest exports of pork are to Newfoundland. Then follow the British West Indies and St. Pierre.

The total exports of hog products during 1895, compared with 1891, were :

	1895.	1891.
Bacon, pounds	37,526,058	7,150,756
Hams, "	2,607,968	403,481
Pork, "	519,736	67,687
Lard "	1,276,586	47,734
Total	41,930,398	7,669,658

In value we observe the following development :

	1895.	1891.
Bacon	$3,546,107	$590,852
Hams	260,602	37,617
Lard	104,130	3,174
Total	$3,943,275	$635,732

While these favorable results are due, to some extent, to the increased favor our hog products are finding in consuming countries, yet not all : Canadians, realizing that hog products was one of their natural products have been both developing it and pushing for business. And the success which has crowned their efforts has also demonstrated the fact that the development is only a small part of what it is possible to make it.

A LAME EXCUSE.

THOSE opposed to a reform, but lacking the courage to show which side they are on, usually take refuge behind an excuse : Their wife's mother may lay sick of a fever and they must needs be on hand to see the poor soul receive attention; or they have not had time to look into the matter, when at the same time the matter has been before the public nearly long enough to qualify it to exercise the franchise. These are a sample of a hundred and one excuses that are, in effect, advanced.

The other day when Mr. Martin's Insolvency Bill was receiving the attention of the House of Commons, the excuse advanced why it should not pass was that the measure should have emanated from the Government and not from a private member.

This excuse would have been clothed with some semblance of reason had the Government intimated that it proposed introducing such a measure.

Not only is there no such intimation, but there is not even the barest hope that this is possible this year, next year, or, in fact, ever.

Under such circumstances Mr. Martin was fully warranted in introducing his bill. He evidently recognizes the need there is for an insolvency law covering the Dominion. Therefore, he would not have been doing his duty had he not brought down the measure in question.

THE CANADIAN GROCER has no hope of the bill being adopted, nor in all likelihood has the author of it. But Mr. Martin is to be commended for reviving interest in the question, forlorn hope and all as he may be leading. It is to be hoped that when the bill comes up for its second reading Mr. Martin will divide the House, so that the business men of the country may at least know who are for them and who against.

The necessity for an insolvency law is perhaps not as great as it was a few years ago : some of the provinces in which the law was most lax have been gathering up the loose ends. But that does not do away with the necessity for a law that will be the same in Halifax as in Victoria, or vice versa.

The plea that a Dominion insolvency law would be a species of class legislation, while true in part, is none the less weak and absurd : The Acts relating to banking, railways, seamen, are just as much of the class character, and yet we never remember hearing the charge of class legislation preferred against them.

Taken in its broadest sense, these Acts are for the public good. And so would be an insolvency law. In fact, as long as we are without such law there are certain classes that do, under existing conditions, enjoy special privileges.

With a law like unto that introduced in the Senate two years ago by Sir Mackenzie Bowell—and Mr. Martin's is constructed on the same lines—protection would be afforded the debtor as well as the creditor class. Any measure that did not do so would not receive the support of THE CANADIAN GROCER.

An uniform insolvency law for the Dominion would tend to strengthen the credit of the country, for as long as this law is lacking, there are manufacturers and merchants, both at home and abroad, who are precluded, through laxity in the laws, from pushing business in some parts of Canada to the extent they otherwise would. Obviously, this hindrance to trade, small or great as it may be, should not be allowed to obtain when it is quite possible to remove it.

BULLISH NEWS ON MOLASSES.

IF present indications are a fair criterion the market for molasses is apt to rule strong during the current spring, so far as business for importation is concerned. Advices to sales agents in Montreal tend at least to create this impression.

Advices from Porto Rico stated that sales had been made there at 5c. advance over the prices ruling at the same time last spring. One large sale, made on New York account, was at 30c. cost and freight, or about equivalent to 40c. in Canada.

Last spring the market opened at 25c., so that there is room for radical reaction if values are to rule on the same level as last spring. Besides, it is further stated that there are more orders at Porto Rico than can be filled within the next four weeks, even at these high figures.

With regard to the spot market in Montreal, nearly all the stock of fine Porto Rico is controlled by one firm, who hold it at 34c.

Advices from New Orleans give the crop as 50 per cent. short, and there is little prospect of any heavy exports from Cuba this season. This is shown by the prices paid recently at primary points in Cuba, large sales of Nenevitas in large hogsheads being noted at 26c. spot cash, or 35c. laid down in Canada.

Briefly, the general tenor of news regarding molasses outside is strongly bullish.

HIGHER VALUES FOR RAISINS.

A comparison of the position of raisins at present with the one occupied last year is interesting. It shows that values all round are higher, the fact being due to largely decreased supplies.

According to an estimate by a well known Montreal importer, the stock of Valencia raisins there cannot much exceed 10,000 boxes, or some 50,000 boxes less than for the same period last year. The stock of California also is lighter.

Prices at present are fully 1c. per pound higher on the common grades of Valencia and ½c. on the fine off stalk, while layers are 2½c. per lb. dearer than they were last year. At present common off-stalk are held at 4 to 4¼c.; last year they were offering at 3 to 3¼c., while layers sold as low in jobbing lots as 4c. during last March, but it is doubtful if anything could be had to-day cheaper than 6c. The advance in California raisins has been equally noticeable.

Three-crown fruit were freely offered last spring at 4⅝c. and 4-crown at 5⅝c. To-day 3-crown are selling at 5c., and 4-crown at 6½c., with little or no quantity remaining available on the Coast for the eastern markets.

A DIFFERENCE IN GROCERS.

How unconcerned some merchants are regarding the wants of their customers, and how keen others are for new business was exemplified the week following the recent heavy snowstorm in Toronto. This storm, it will be remembered, paralyzed the street car, telephone, and telegraph services.

In an outlying part of the city is a family that has been in the habit of getting its supplies of groceries from a down-town grocer, ordering, as a rule, by telephone. The family resides in one of the sections of the city that was cut off from telephone communication with the rest of the world. For a week or more—and it may be yet—this condition of affairs existed.

Under such circumstances one would naturally have expected that the grocer of the family in question would have sent his driver around for orders. But no driver came.

Where, however, one grocer was derilect another was on the alert. His place of business was in the centre of the city, but on the very day of the storm he sent his drivers into the isolated districts of the city and canvassed for orders the family in question, besides others with which he had not done business before.

The result was that he not only got orders, but a good name for enterprise besides.

A BIG FRUIT FAILURE.

One of the heaviest failures this year in Montreal was registered at the Court House Tuesday morning. The firm was the well-known wholesale fruit firm of T. S. Vipond & Son, who assigned at the demand of Geo. T. Warren.

The creditors number over 100, with amounts ranging from $100 to $15,000, the total liabilities being in the vicinity of $250,000, direct and indirect. The direct amount to $36,000, among the chief creditors being the following: Jas. Selket, England, $15,000; Greenshields & Greenshields, $2,000; J. Vipond, $2,360; J. A. Vipond, $2,330; D. Robertson & Co., $1,800, and Montreal Cold Storage, $1,300. The firm's paper held by the banks is as follows: Merchants Bank, $94,596; Molsons Bank, $21,171; Halifax Bank, $500. There are mortgages of the following; McIntosh & Hyde, $25,000; Montreal Loan & Mortgage, $3,000 and Church Society Co., $3,500.

It is not known what the estate will pay until an inspection has been made, but there are a lot of valuable assets.

UNFROSTED NAVEL ORANGES HIGHER.

THE CANADIAN GROCER had an article two weeks ago dealing with damage to the California orange crop by frost, wind and rain.

The fact that during the past week the Toronto market has had several carloads of this damaged fruit on the market induces us to again return to the subject.

At the beginning of the season the crop of Riverside navels was estimated at 3,000 carloads, but this estimate, on account of the frost and high winds of December 30 last, has been reduced to 1,500 carloads.

The first result of this was the expeditious shipment out of the state of the damaged goods, which induced an easier feeling in prices, but while lower figures have obtained on the damaged fruit a reaction has taken place with regard to the good quality fruit that remains on the Coast, telegraphic advices received this week in Toronto announcing an advance of 25c. per case in unfrosted navels.

LOSE THEIR CURRANTS.

Telegraphic advices received in Toronto this week from New York stated that the currant steamer Lamington, ashore near that city, is a total loss.

She had on board about 2,000 tons of currants, comprising about 6,500 barrels, 200 half-barrels, 800 cases, and 20,000 half-cases.

A good deal of these currants were for the Toronto and other Canadian markets, and as a consequence of the loss a good many re-sales have been made by brokers covering the losses.

The realization of the fact that the vessel was a total loss is said to have stopped, in New York, the offering of low fruit on that market.

Currant steamers appear to have been unfortunate lately. In the Thames a few weeks ago part of the cargo of a steamer was so seriously damaged that it was unfit for either grocery purposes or home consumption; and at the sale by auction of this fruit almost the entire quantity was bought by continental exporters, much to the gratification of the trade in England.

TORONTO RETAILERS.

THE question of members of the association amalgamating to buy large quantities of goods, in order to secure the larger discounts given by manufacturers and others on such purchases, came up for discussion at Monday night's meeting of the Toronto Retail Grocers' Association. The idea met with general approval, but further action was deferred till the next meeting.

President A. White presided, and there was a good attendance.

The question of holding the annual At Home occupied some attention. It was ultimately decided to dispense with the At Home this year and hold a "Smoker" instead, expenses for which were not to exceed $25. These were appointed a committee to make the necessary arrangements: J. G. Gibson, D. Bell, P. J. Mulqueen, H. D. Kelly, B. Panter and J. W. McCleary.

Mr. F. Johnston gave notice of motion that the association ask the Inland Revenue Department to take more interest in the inspection of foods as supplied to the public by the various stores in the city.

Another notice of motion was given by Mr. J. G. Gibson, setting forth that the practice of tea companies giving free window displays in certain stores was not fair to the smaller stores, and suggesting that the companies hire vacant stores for the purpose.

Business was concluded about 9.30 p.m., and after that a pedro match was played between the members of the association and the City Travelers' Association. There were ten players on each side, and the different associations were represented as follows: Grocers—A. G. Booth, W. H. Marmion, D. W. Clark, C. T. Clark, W. J. Sykes, R. B. Snow, B. Panter, D. Bell, J. S. Bond, H. D. Kelly. Travelers—Chas. Cherry, M. A. Muldrew, E. Oak, C. Husband, C. Fairbairn, C. Coates, W. J. Daniels, D. Casey, F. Morley, John Anderson.

The travelers were easy winners.

THEIR VEGETABLE PACK SOLD.

W. Boulter & Sons announce that they have sold their entire pack of last season's pack of vegetables. Their fruits have also got into small compass, there being nothing left but gallon apples and raspberries. "This speaks volumes for our business," remarked a member of the firm.

SHREDDED CODFISH.

The St. John, N. B., correspondent of THE CANADIAN GROCER last week stated that a new shredded codfish was being put on the market by Leonard Bros., of that city. This inadvertence we regret. The trade, however, is well aware that there is but one firm entitled to use the word "shredded" in connection with codfish, and that firm is J. W. Beardsley's Sons, of New York, whose goods are so well known in Canada. This explanation is scarcely necessary, as everyone knows Beardsley's shredded codfish, but we make it, nevertheless, from a sense of justice to that firm.

GOOD FOR NORTH GREY.

NORTH Grey is the latest district to come into line with our policy. It proposes to send a successful business man to represent it in Parliament instead of a lawyer, or a professional politician, or someone of that sort—useful possibly in their place but not in Parliament. James McLauchlan, wholesale and retail grocer, biscuit and confectionery manufacturer, of Owen Sound, has received the Conservative nomination for the House of Commons. The constituency is now and has been for years represented by a lawyer, and a very reputable man he is.

The time of Parliament is almost entirely taken up with the discussion of business questions. Laws are made to regulate, and action is taken to develope, local and foreign trade. To deal with these questions intelligently it is necessary to have a House composed of experienced business men. This is common sense. When we are ill we consult doctors, not lawyers or blacksmiths, or anyone else. It is true some people do not. They take every old woman's advice and try patent medicines by the score. They are ill for months and spend a hundred or more dollars in various remedies. Finally they consult an able doctor, who charges them $5, and they are well in a week. A case was discussed in Parliament this week that proves the necessity of having experienced men in everything. The warden's residence, Stoney Mountain Penitentiary, Manitoba, had to be removed. The authorities spent much time and prepared elaborate plans, and it was found that it would cost $3,500 to do the work. The Government authorized this expenditure. Among the convicts was a man whose previous life had been devoted to building and contracting. He heard what they were about. He offered to do the work in the way any ordinary every-day builder would for a cash outlay of $15. He did the work and the country was saved $3,485.

Those nominated for Parliament should also be successful business men with more than average ability: if they have not made a success of their own affairs it is hardly possible for them to deal with the larger affairs of the country. They should be enterprising and in touch with the times. They should have means enough to enable them to be independent of parties or governments instead of voting against the interests of their constituents on promises of civil service appointments: it is said 33 members of the present House are after positions: they jump when the Government pulls the string. Their business must be in such a position that their prolonged absence and constant neglect will not seriously affect its earnings: to let their business suffer is unfair to themselves and their families, and unjust to their creditors. They should be men of unimpeachable reputation. Training in municipal politics is often a decided advantage: it brings them into closer touch with all classes of people.

Mr. McLauchlan has all the elements of a capable representative. He is well off. He has a good business, which is now largely controlled by his sons, who have been trained under him. He has been for years in municipal politics, presiding over town affairs or occupying a seat in the County Council. So high does his personal reputation stand that no one dare attack it.

Another biscuit and confectionery manufacturer, to whom everything that has been said of Mr. McLauchlan applies, is Wm. Paterson, of Brantford, now a member of the House, and high in the councils of the Liberals.

May they both, and many others like them, sign "M.P." to their names after the coming Dominion elections.

THE APPLE MARKET.

The apple market presents some peculiar features just now.

On the Toronto market we see the unusual thing of Greenings selling at figures lower than those obtaining in the fall.

In the Old Country good prices are being paid for Baldwins only. Greenings they do not want at all, and Spies are only taken at low figures.

On the local market Spies are quoted rather higher than Baldwins, $2 to $2.50 being asked for the latter and $2.50 to $3 for the former. Good Greenings are selling at $1.50 to $1.75 per barrel and common apples at $1 to $1.25.

LONDON RETAIL GROCERS.

THE regular monthly meeting of the London Retail Grocers' Association was held on Tuesday evening, Feb. 4.

All the officers were present except T. A. Rowat, vice-president, who was reported ill. There was a good representation of members present.

The meeting opened at 8.30 p m. with the president, Mr. W. H. McCutcheon, in the chair.

The question was asked if the committee on early closing of stores on Saturday evenings had anything to report.

Mr. R. W. Sharpe replied on behalf of the committee that the movement was still being agitated, and with good results; but he would like to see the movement take some definite step. He thought that it would perhaps be advisable to fix on some hour for closing.

There was a general discussion on the question, and no objection was offered to fixing an hour providing it could be made unanimous.

It was suggested to hold a special meeting for the purpose of discussing the question, and a committee was appointed to arrange for a meeting for the purpose, and request all the members to attend; also grocers not members. It was suggested that the committee might make it an At Home or social evening.

The question was asked if any reply had been received to the proposal by this association to hold a picnic or convention of all the Retail Grocers' Associations of Ontario, notice of which was reported in THE CANADIAN CROCER.

The secretary replied that he had not received any correspondence from any of the associations, but noticed that THE CANADIAN GROCER had a very good article from the editor.

It was moved and seconded that the secretary communicate with Toronto and Hamilton Associations, and obtain their views on the question and report at next meeting.

The custom of societies, churches, etc., calling on grocers to buy tickets or contribute to entertainments was discussed, and while it was felt that it was the duty of the grocer to contribute to such within a reasonable distance, it was considered that in many cases rather too much was expected. The grocers and merchants were expected to contribute to all the socials and entertainments in the city and surrounding country. None of the members present could suggest any remedy other than for each one to use his own judgment, and to support only those he felt it his duty.

It was reported that the wholesale price of sugar was firm and would likely remain so, and that granulated sugar would probably advance ½c. in the near future.

A half-hour or so was occupied in discussing the markets and state of trade and questions of interest to the trade, and the meeting closed with the members feeling that the time had been profitably spent.

RIO COFFEE.

The market report of Rio News, just received, says of the Rio Janeiro coffee market: "The supply and the appearance of some cafe das aguas in recent receipts has increased the nervousness of dealers, but, so far as we have been able to learn, the factors show a good deal more strength. The average receipts in December have certainly exceeded the expectations of everyone, and only the steady purchases of conservative buyers have prevented a sharp decline in the currency value of coffee, for these apparently endorse the crop estimates of the factors."

The Brazilian shipments of coffee during January were as follows: Rio to Europe, 58,000 bags; to United States, 143,000 do.; to other countries, 19,000 do.; Santos to Europe, 194,000 bags; to United States, 63,000 do.; Victoria to United States, 28,000 do.; total, 505,000 bags.

ONTARIO MARKETS.

GROCERIES.

THE quietude noted last week still obtains. If anything, in fact, it is more pronounced. This particularly applies to sugars. But while sugars are quiet, they are by no means easier, advices from the outside markets indicating increasing strength. Molasses and syrups are quiet but firm. Business in foreign dried fruits locally is quiet. Bosnia prunes are cabled very firm. Valencia raisins in hands of local jobbers are getting scarce. The tendency of dates in the primary markets is upward. Canned goods are much as before, with the feeling in peas firmer. The local tea market does not exhibit much life. Trade in foreign green fruit is still quiet, but the conditions are better than they were. Payments are not satisfactory.

CANNED GOODS.

A stronger feeling is to be noted in canned peas. Some packers who have been on the street during the past few days have exhibited enlarged ideas regarding the price of this particular vegetable, as high as 95c. and $1 being asked, but we hear of no transactions at these figures. Some of the jobbers are also trying to get $1 per dozen. Tomatoes are firm, with 85c. as the ruling idea as to price; pack of 1894 can be had at 80c. We quote: Tomatoes, 80 to 85c.; corn, 75 to 80c.; peas, 90 to 95c. for ordinary; sifted select, $1.10; extra sifted, $1.45 to $1 50; peaches, $2.90 to $3 for 3's, $1.90 to $2 for 2's; raspberries, $1.40 to $2.00; strawberries, $1.80 to $2.45, according to brand and quality; blackberries, $1.90 to $2.20; cherries, $2.40 to $2.45; apples, 3's, 85 to 90c.; gallons, $1 90 to 2.25; salmon, "Horseshoe," $1.35 to $1.40; "Maple Leaf," $1.35; "Lion," $1.35 to $1 40; Lowe Inlet, $1.27 to $1 30, in tall tins; cohoes, $1.10 to $1.20; canned mackerel, $1.10 to $1.20; lobsters, $1.80 to $2.10, for tall tins; flats, $2.35 to $2.65; half tins, $1 45 to $1.50; Canadian canned beef, 1's, $1.35 to $1.45; 2's, $2 25 to $2.35; 6's, 7.50 to $8; 14's, $15 to $16.50.

COFFEE.

The outside markets do not exhibit much life or interest; and much the same may be said of the conditions locally. Prices are as before. We quote green in bags: Rio, 19 to 21c.; East Indian, 27 to 30c.; South American, 21 to 23c.; Santos, 19 to 22½c.; Java, 30 to 33c.; Mocha, 33 to 35c.; Maracaibo, 21 to 23c.; Jamaica, 21 to 25c.

SYRUPS.

Syrups are scarce, but neither the refiners nor jobbers are doing much business. We quote: Dark, 30 to 32c.; medium, 33 to 35c.; bright, 40 to 42c.

MOLASSES.

Strength is still the leading characteristic of this market, both at home and abroad. Business is fair locally. We quote: New Orleans, barrels, 28 to 35c.; half-barrels, 30 to 35c.; Barbadoes, barrels, 31 to 35c.; half-barrels, 33 to 35c.

SUGAR.

Sugars have continued firm, with the tendency of prices in the outside markets upward. At the time of writing beet f.o.b. Hamburg is quoted at the highest point yet touched for March and June. Here are the figures: February, 11s. 10½d.; March, 12s.; June, 12s. 4½d. The local jobbers are evidently fairly well supplied at the moment, for practically they are not buying at all. A fair business, however, is reported on country account. As the raw markets continue to increase in strength, the refineries are looking for higher values when the jobbing demand improves. The idea of the jobbers as to price is still 4⅞c. for granulated, and 3⅞c. upward for yellows.

The New York Journal of Commerce, of Tuesday, says: "Good care seems to be taken of the major portion of supply of raw sugars, and some of the very best lots may still be considered as entirely off the market. That condition is simply in reflection of previous feeling of confidence regarding the probable poor adjustment of balance between supply and demand and a determination to make a stand for extreme valuation. All latest Cuban advices were as strong as ever, and the cable to-day shows Europe to be standing up well, and beet higher. There has been an evident willingness to take all sugars available at old rates, but offerings not very free."

SPICES.

Trade is quiet and without special feature to note. We quote: Pure black pepper, 10 to 12c.; pure white, 18 to 25c.; pure Jamaica ginger, 23 to 25c.; cloves, 15 to 20c.; pure mixed spice, 25 to 30c.; cream of tartar, French, 25 to 27c.; ditto, best, 28 to 30c. per lb.; allspice, 14 to 18c.

NUTS.

Trade continues quiet and featureless. We quote as follows: Brazil nuts, 14 to 15c.; Sicily shelled almonds, 25 to 26c.; Tarragona almonds, 14 to 14½c.; peanuts, 10 to 12c. for roasted, and 7 to 10c. for green; cocoanuts, $4.50 to $5 per sack; Grenoble walnuts, 12 to 12½c. Marbot walnuts, 11 to 12c.; Bordeaux walnuts, 9c.; Sicily filberts, 8 to 10c. for sacks and 10¼ to 11c. for small lots; pecans, 10½ to 11c.

TEAS.

Trade generally has been dull in the local market during the past week. The principal business passing has been in low-grade Ceylon, in which some parcels showing fine value have been sold. A few parcels of cheap Indian teas have also been picked up. Japan teas are quiet and neglected, and the few teas that still remain in first hands are offering at lower prices, but with very little buying, jobbers being chary about increasing their stocks at this time of year. It is thought that lower prices than are now being asked will ultimately have to be accepted. China teas, both black and green, are quiet. Young Hysons continue to show unprecedented value and a little demand has sprung up in consequence; transactions have been principally in thirds and seconds. We quote ruling prices to retailers as follows: Young Hysons, 12 to 18c. for low grades, 24 to 27c. for mediums, and 30 to 45 for high grades; China Congous, 14 to 18c. for mediums, and 25 to 55c. for high grades; Japans, 15 to 20c. for mediums, 28 to 35c. for high grades; Indians and Ceylons, 18 to 22c. for mediums, and 30 to 65c. for high grades.

DRIED FRUITS.

Advices received in Toronto state that the date market continues firm with an upward tendency, stocks getting very much reduced. The local market is quiet and unchanged at 4½ to 5½c.

Valencia raisins in stock are getting well reduced, with selected positively scarce. The demand is light. We quote: Off-stalk, 4½ to 4¾c.; fine off-stalk, 5 to 5¼c.; selected, 6 to 6¼c., and layers, 6½c.

Sultana raisins are this week advised to be rapidly diminishing in Smyrna, with the likelihood of further advances in prices. The local idea as to price is still 5½ to 6c.

Currants are quiet and firm. As will be noticed in another column, there has been reordering of currants by some of the local jobbers who had consignments on board the wrecked str. Lamington. We quote: Provincials, 3¾ to 4c. in bbls.; fine Filiatras, in bbls., 4¼ to 4½c.; do, half-bbls., 4¼ to 4¾c.; ditto, half-cases, 4¾ to 5c.; Casalinas, cases, 5 to 5¼c.; Vostizzas, cases, 6 to 6½c.; ditto, half-cases, 6½ to 6¾c.; ditto, extra fine, 6¾ to 7¼c.; ditto, half-cases, 7¼ to 7½c.; Panaretas, in cases, 9c.

Cable advices report the market firm on Bosnia prunes. California prunes are easier. The local demand continues to show slight improvement. The enquiry is principally for "U's" at 5¾ to 6½c., and California, 70's to 80's and 40's to 50's. We quote: Bosnias, "Sphinx" brand, "A," 65 to lb. 9c.; "B," 75 to lb. 7¾c., "U," 102 to lb., 6½ to 6¾c.; California prunes, 40-50, 10 to 10½c. per lb.; 50-60, 9½c. per lb; 60-70, 9c.; 70 80, 8½c. per lb.; French, 5 to 6c.

The local market has been a little unsettled on all kinds of California evaporated and dried fruits, owing to the arrival here of shipments of inferior goods, branded, however, to indicate that they possessed the quality of the higher grades. California raisins are steady in the primary market. Locally there has been a fair movement in low grade apricots and peaches, but simply because of the easier prices at which they were being offered. We quote: Apricots, 15 to 16c.; peaches, 8c., in bags, and 10 to 15c. in boxes; pears, 10½ to 12½c.; plums, 6½c. for unpitted, and 12½c. for pitted; nectarines, 11 to 13c.; loose muscatels, 5½ to 6½c. per lb.

Eleme figs are quiet and unchanged. We quote: Eleme, 14 oz., 9 to 10½c.; 10 lb., 9½ to 12½c.; 12 lb., 12½c.; 28 lb., 15c.

GREEN FRUIT.

A good many lemons have been moving during the past week, a material improvement having taken place in the demand for them. Oranges are also receiving a little more attention, but sales are still small. There are some Seville marmalade oranges on the market. There were also a few Bahamas on the market, but they have all been cleaned out. Stocks of Malaga grapes are pretty well reduced, and cocoanuts continue scarce. We quote: Lemons—Messina, $2.50 to $3.50 for 360's and 300's respectively per box; Oranges—Jamaicas, $3.50 to $4; fancy, $4.25 to $4.50; California navels, $3.50 to $4; Valencias, 420's, $3 75 to $4.25; Jumbo's, 420's, $5 to $5.50; ditto, 714's, $4.75 to $5. Bananas, $1.25 to $1.75; cocoanuts, $3.50 to $4 a sack; apples, $1.50 to $3 a barrel; Malaga grapes, $5 to $7 per keg; domestic onions, 60 to 65c. per bag; Spanish onions, 40 to 50c. per small crate; sweet potatoes, $3 to $3.25 per bbl.; cranberries, $9.50 to $10 per bbl. for first class, and $7 to $8 for ordinary, and $3 to $3.75 per case, according to quality; hickory nuts, $1.50 to $1.75 per bush.

BUTTER AND CHEESE.

BUTTER—The market continues fairly firm. Receipts are still principally confined to large rolls, good quality of which have met with ready sale. Medium and low grade large rolls are accumulating a little. Receipts of tub butter are light, and there is little or no first-class dairy butter coming forward. Receipts of creamery butter are increasing, and really good butter is selling well at former prices. We quote: Early summer dairy store packed, 7 to 8c; good to choice fresh packed, 15 to 16c.; large rolls, fresh, 13 to 15c.; dairy pound prints, 14 to 16c. Fresh creamery—Tubs, 19 to 20c.; do., pound prints, 20 to 22c.

CHEESE—The local demand has improved during the past week. There has also been a little shipping enquiry. Stocks appear to be light, and a fairly good trade is anticipated from now until the new season's make comes on the market. We quote: Summer make, 9c.; September and October, 9½ to 10c.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

BEANS—Continue quiet and unchanged at $1 to $1.10 per bushel.

DRIED APPLES—The market is easy. There is no demand, and offerings are fairly liberal. Jobbers are paying 4c. and selling at 4½ to 5c.

EVAPORATED APPLES—Are dull, and quoted in a jobbing way at 6½ to 7c.

EGGS—Receipts of new laid have been increasing until the cold spell of the early part of the week, when deliveries were less free. Prices are a little easier. We quote: New laid, 17 to 18c.; pickled, 14c.; held fresh and cold stored, 13 to 15c.

HONEY—Trade is quiet and prices unchanged. We quote: Strained, clover, 10 to 10½c.; dark, 5c.; comb, clover, $1.80 per dozen; dark, 80c. per dozen.

POTATOES — Dulness still obtains, and prices continue easy. On the track 18 to 20c. is the idea, and out of store 25 to 30c.

POULTRY—Receipts are light, there not being enough coming forward to supply the demand. We quote: Turkeys, 9 to 10c.; geese, 7 to 8c.; chickens, 40 to 60c.; ducks, 60 to 90c.

PROVISIONS AND DRESSED HOGS.

Dressed hogs are easier, since which deliveries have been freer. Packers' ideas as to price are $5 to $5.10 for selected weights. Cured meats have been much more active during the week than they were. Lard is in short supply, and the packers are talking of higher prices ruling before a great while.

DRY SALTED MEATS—Long clear bacon, 6½c. for carload lots, and 6¾ to 7c. for small lots; backs, 8c.

SMOKED MEATS — Breakfast bacon, 10c.; rolls, 7¼ to 7½c.; hams, large, 22 lbs. and over, 9c.; medium, 15 to 20 lbs., 10c.; small hams, 10c.; backs, 9 to 9½c.; picnic hams, 7c.; all meats out of pickle, 1c. less than above.

LARD—Pure Canadian, tierces, 8 to 8¼c.; tubs, 8½ to 8¾c.; pails, 8¾ to 9c.

BARREL PORK—Canadian heavy mess, $14.00; Canadian short-cut, 14 to $14.50; clear shoulder mess, $12; shoulder mess, $11.50.

The Toronto Cold Storage Co. are prepared to store all kinds of meats, produce, etc., at very reasonable rates.

FLOUR AND FEED, HAY, ETC.

WHEAT—Ontario wheat is steady, with business light. We quote: White, 84c.; red, 83c.; goose, 68c.

BARLEY—Business light, a few loads selling on the street at 38 to 42c.

OATS—Frm, at 27 to 28c.

BALED HAY—Dealers are rather anxious to sell on account of large stocks on hand. Prices are easier in consequence. We quote: No. 1, $14.50 to $14.75; No. 2, $13 to $14.

FLOUR—The improvement in business noted last week has been lost, there being very little doing at the moment. Prices are higher than a week ago. We quote both for job and car lots as follows: Straight roller, $3.50 to $3.60; Manitoba bakers', $4; Manitoba patents, $4.40 for best brands; Ontario patents, $4 to $4.40.

BREAKFAST FOODS—Demand is moderate only. Rolled wheat is firm and prices steady. We quote: Oatmeal, cornmeal and pot barley from 10 to 15c. lower; Standard oatmeal and rolled oats, $3.15; rolled wheat, $2.40 in 100-lb. barrels; cornmeal, $2.75; split peas, $3.25; pot barley, $3.25.

FISH AND OYSTERS.

The fish dealers are looking for a good trade next week, but in the meantime business continues quiet and prices unchanged. We quote oysters: Standards at $1.30 to $1.35, and selects $1.70. Fish are quoted as follows: Skinned and boned codfish, 6½c.; boneless fish, 3½ to 4c.; haddock, 5 to 6c.; Labrador herring, $3.25 to $3.50 half barrel and $5.50 to $5.75 per barrel; Newfoundland herring, $2.50 per half barrel, and $4.50 to $4.75 per barrel; fresh water salt herring, $3 per barrel; blueback herring, 4c.; pike, 6 to 7c. per lb.; flitched cod, 5c.; finnan haddies, 6½c.; Digby herring, in bundles of 5 boxes, 11c.; ditto, lengthwise, 10c.; large halibut, 12 to 15c.; Restigouche salmon, 20 to 25c.; British Columbia salmon, 15 to 16c.; mackerel, 20 to 25c.; steak cod, 6½ to 7c.; haddock, 5c.; black bass, 9 to 10½c.; white fish, 7½c.; salmon trout, 7½ to 8c.; Lake Superior whitefish, 7½c.; Lake Winnipeg whitefish, 7½c.

SALT.

There has been a material improvement during the past week, trade now being good. We quote at Toronto: In carload lots, $1 per barrel, and 60c. per sack; in less than carload lots, $1.05 per barrel and 65c. per sack. At the wells we quote: F.O.B. barrels, 70c.; sacks 50c. for points west of Toronto, and 45c. for Toronto and points east of Toronto.

HIDES, SKINS AND WOOL.

HIDES—Unchanged, with demand fair. Dealers pay 5c. for No. 1; 4c. for No. 2; 3c. for No. 3. Cured hides quoted 6 to 6¼c.

SKINS—Calfskins, 6c. for No. 1, and 5c. for No. 2. Sheepskins are firm at 90c.

WOOL—Trade quiet. Fleece, combing,

PETROLEUM.

Trade continues good, although no one is buying more than he really needs. Stocks are light all over the country. We quote in 1 to 10 bbl. lots, imperial gallon, Toronto: Canadian, 16½c.; carbon safety, 18c.; Canadian water white, 18c.; American water white, 21c.; Pratt's astral, 22c.

The Petroleum Advertiser in its weekly review says: "The crude oil market was never in a better condition or on a firmer footing than it is to-day. The price is satisfactory, and should any change take place it is safe to assume from the confident tone of the market that it would be in an upward direction."

MARKET NOTES.

Dressed hogs are easier.

Freer deliveries of eggs have caused lower prices to rule.

Beets in Hamburg for March and June have touched their highest point.

A cable to P. L. Mason & Co., of Toronto, states that the prune market in Trieste is very firm.

Stocks of Sultana raisins in Smyrna are being rapidly reduced.

QUEBEC MARKETS.

MONTREAL, Feb. 13, 1896.

GROCERIES.

THERE has been but little change in the position of the general grocery market during the past week, and though the situation seems to be healthy enough, no marked activity is noted in any line. Sugar is quiet, with prices maintained, and a feature is the scarcity of common syrups. Molasses outside is strong, but the local situation continues much the same. Coffee exhibits an easier tendency, and there is little to call for special mention in tea. A market almost bare of currants is the chief point in dried fruits, while values all round on raisins, prunes and figs are pretty steadily held. In canned goods there is little of interest, and the approach of Lent has had no effect whatever upon the demand for fish.

SUGAR.

There has been little change in the sugar market during the past week. Business rules quiet both in a jobbing and wholesale way, but the firm tone of the market is maintained. Cables on raw continue strong in their nature also. Stocks are not heavy at either of the refineries here either of yellow or granulated. We quote the latter 4⅞c., and yellows, 3⅞ to 4⅛c., as to grade.

SYRUPS.

Business is dull in syrups, but the market is very firm as regards values. A leading feature is the scarcity of common grades, and it is difficult to have any large orders for them executed. We quote values firm at 1¾c. for ordinary, and 2½ to 3c. for bright stock.

MOLASSES.

The spot situation in molasses exhibits very little change, but the advices from outside markets continue very strong in their tenor. Demand is picking up a trifle in a jobbing sense, a rather better movement being noted from second to third hands, both in Barbadoes and Porto Rico. Values are firmly held in view of moderate stocks. We quote: Barbadoes, 36 to 37c.; Porto Rico, 34 to 35c., and New Orleans, 25½ to 35c.

RICE.

There was no material change in rice, an average business being noted by millers for the season. We quote as follows: Japan standard, $4.25 to $4.40; crystal Japan, $4.75 to $5; standard B., $3.45; English style, $3.30; Patna, $4.25 to $5, and Carolina, $6.50 to $7.50.

SPICES.

There is a fair business doing in spices in a jobbing way. We quote: Pure black pepper, 10 to 12c.; pure white, 15 to 22c.; pure Jamaica ginger, 23 to 25c.; cloves, 15 to 20c.; pure mixed spice, 25 to 30c.; cream of tartar, French, 25 to 27c.; ditto, best, 28 to 30c. per lb.; allspice, 12 to 15c.

COFFEE.

Demand for coffee has been slow, and the market has taken an easier tone. In fact, values have been shaded on Maracaibo and Rios materially. We quote bean coffee as follows: Maracaibo, 19 to 21c.; Rio, 16½ to 20c.; Java, 28c.; Jamaica, 20c., and Mocha, 29 to 32c.

TEAS.

The tea market furnishes a moderate jobbing trade, but there is an entire lack of any genuine activity in a distributive way, orders being of a hand-to-mouth character. In a wholesale way we understand that orders for early May lots of Japans have been placed at the same figures as last year, and that the quality of the importations is expected to show better value. We quote ruling prices to retailers as follows: Young Hysons, 10 to 18c. for low grades, 24 to 27c. for mediums, and 30 to 45c. for high grades; China Congous, 11½ to 18c. for mediums, and 25 to 55c. for high grades; Japans, 12 to 20c. for mediums, 28 to 35c. for high grades; Indians and Ceylons, 18 to 22c. for mediums, and 30 to 65c. for high grades.

DRIED FRUIT.

The currant market is quiet but very firm in its tone. In fact, the market here is almost bare of fruit, and some of the jobbing houses have difficulty even in supplying the moderate enquiry now noted. Primary markets cable a rather easier feeling this week, but no change is anticipated in the local conditions for the balance of the spring. We quote: Barrels, 4c.; half-barrels, 4¼c., and cases, 4½ to 5½c. as to grade, the supply of the higher descriptions being very light.

Valencia raisins remain dull, and prices are unchanged. Stocks here are light, but the demand is being supplied with other kinds of fruit. We quote: Ordinary off-stalk, 4 to 4¼c.; fine, 4½ to 4¾c.; selected, 5 to 5¼c., and layers, 6½ to 7c.

The firm disposition of California raisins is fully maintained, and very little stock remains available on the Coast for the eastern markets. One leading packer has sold completely out, and another has few carloads that he could send east. Naturally, therefore, prices are firm, though the business passing is moderate. We quote: 3-crown, 5½ to 6c., and 4-crown, 6¾ to 7c., the inside figure being ¼c. higher than what was accepted during the early part of last week.

The market for Sultanas continues quiet and firm at 6 to 6¼c.

There is a fair demand for prunes, supplies of which are not excessive. Prices in consequence are firmly held: We quote: French, 4½ to 5c.; Bosnia, 6c., and California 7½ to 15c., as to grade.

Figs continue quiet. We quote: Bags, 4c.; ordinary boxes, 8½ to 9c., and fancy, 12 to 14c.

Dates are dull but steady at 4½ to 5c.

NUTS.

A moderate jobbing call is noted for nuts. We quote: Grenoble walnuts, 11½ to 12½c.; filberts, 7½ to 8c.; Tarragona almonds, 11½

CANNED GOODS.

There is little activity to note in this market, and stocks appear to be ample for requirements in canned vegetables and fish, as indicated by the disposition toward concession on tomatoes and salmon. In canned fruit, strawberries, however, are rather scarce and firm. We quote: Tomatoes, 72½ to 85c.; corn, 75 to 85c.; peas, 90c. to $1 for ordinary; sifted select, $1.10; extra sifted, $1.45 to $1.50; peaches, $2.90 to $3 for 3's, $1.90 to $2 for 2's; raspberries, $1.40 to $2; strawberries, $2 to $2.45, according to brand and quality; blackberries, $1.90 to $2.20; cherries, $2 40 to $2.45; apples, 3's, 80 to 90c.; gallons, $1.90 to $2.25; salmon, "Horseshoe," $1.35 to $1.40; "Maple Leaf," $1.25; "Lion," $1.25 to $1.40; Lowe Inlet, $1.25 to $1.30, in tall tins; cohoes, $1.05 to $1.15; canned mackerel, $1.10 to $1.20; lobsters, $1.80 to $2.10, for tall tins; flats, $2.35 to $2.65; half tins, $1.45 to $1.50; Canadian canned beef, 1's, $1.35 to $1 45; 2's, $2.25 to $2.35; 6's, $7.50 to $8; 14's, $15 to $16.50.

WINES AND SPIRITS.

The distributing trade in liquors is very dull this week, and orders for import, according to the agents, are not coming in very freely yet.

GREEN FRUIT.

The green fruit market does not furnish anything striking. Large supplies of common apples have led to a decline in their price of 50 to 75c. per bbl., but good apples are scarce and held very firm. Jamaica oranges are off the market, and the same can be said of grape fruit, none offering at present. We quote: Oranges—Valencias, 420's, $3.50 to $4, and 714's, $4.25 to $4 50. Lemons, $2 to $3. Grapes, $5 to $6 per keg. Cranberries, $8.50 to $10 per barrel. Apples, $2 to $3.50 per barrel. Dried do. 4 to 4½c. Evaporated do. 6½c. Spanish onions, 40c. per crate.

FISH.

The fish market is quiet but fairly steady. Lent commences on the 19th, but the fact has not had an appreciable influence on the demand. Arrivels of pickled herring have been rather large. We quote: Fresh haddock, 3 to 3½c. per lb.; cod, 3c.; smelts, 4 to 5½c.; fresh frozen B.C. salmon, 9 to 10c.; Manitoba whitefish, 7c.; pickerel, 6½c.; dore, 6½c.; pike, 4 to 4½c.; trout, 7c.; tommycods, $1 to $1.75 per bbl. Choice pickled Labrador herrings, $5.25; No. 1 N.S. $3 to $4; No. 1 green cod, $4.10 to $4.50; No. 2, $2.75; No. 1 haddock, $3; No. 1 large codfish, $5.50 to $6; No. 1 lake trout, $4 to $4.25; B C. salmon, $10.50; No. 2 Labrador salmon, $13; No. 1 mackerel, $18.50; Loch Fyne herrings, 85c. per keg, and $11 per bbl.; No. 1 sardines, $4 50; No. 1 dried cod, $4.25 to $4.50; boneless cod, 6c. per lb.; boneless fish, 3¼c.; boneless haddock, 5c.; shredded, 11c.; haddies, 6½ to 7c. per lb.; bloaters, 90c. per box, and smoked herrings, 8 to 10c. per lb.

PROVISIONS.

The provision market was without any new feature. The general feeling is firm, and prices are fully maintained. Demand fair and a moderately active business done. We quote: Canadian short cut, clear, $14.50 to $15; Canadian short cut, mess, $15 to $15.50; hams, city cured, per lb., 9 to 10c.; lard, Canadian, in pails, 8c.; bacon, per lb., 9 to 10c.; lard, com. refined, per lb., 6¼c.

Enquiry for dressed hogs fair, and prices rule firm. We quote car lots, $5.40 to $5.50, and jobbing lots at $5.75 to $6 per 100 lbs.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

EGGS—The egg market has sagged off a trifle as regards values since a week ago. We quote: Fresh, 22c.; Montreal limed, 13 to 14c., and Western limed, 12 to 12½c. per dozen.

BEANS—The bean market continues dull and about steady. We quote: Car lots of choice hand-picked at $1 to $1.05, and small quantities at $1.10 to $1.20.

POULTRY—The demand for poultry was limited and the market rules quiet. We quote: Turkeys, 9 to 10c.; chickens, 7 to 8c.; geese, 5½ to 6½c.; ducks, 7 to 8c. per lb.

POTATOES—The market for potatoes was steady, but the demand for car lots is slow, and few sales are reported at 30 to 32c. per bag, while in small quanties they are selling at 35 to 40c. per bag.

ONIONS—Yellow stock range from $1.50 to $1.60, and red are held at $2.50 per bbl.

FLOUR, FEED AND MEAL.

The flour marked has ruled firm since our last, and though demand is quieter at this writing, the advance in both winter and spring patents, straight rollers and strong bakers' made during the past eight days is maintained. We quote: Winter wheat, $4.40; spring wheat, patents, $4.25; straight roller, $4.10; straight roller, bags, $1.95 to $2; extra, bags, $1.75 to $1.85; Manitoba strong bakers', $4.

There was a stronger feeling in oatmeal, and prices advanced 10c. per barrel in sympathy with the rise in the west. We quote: Standard, barrels, $3.10 to $3.20; granulated, barrels, $3.20 to $3.30; rolled oats, barrels, $3 10 to $3.20.; rolled wheat, per 100 lbs., $2.40 to $2.50.

The demand for feed was slow, and prices rule steady. We quote: Bran, $14 to $15; shorts, $15 to $16; mouillie, $19 to $20.

CHEESE AND BUTTER.

CHEESE—The cheese market has developed more marked dulness since last report. Business was a practical blank to-day. Business was a practical blank to-day, and values are difficult to quote. Buyers, however, talk lower prices, and cite, in support of their views, the low offers on different markets, on the other side, of both fall and summer cheese. It cannot be said that holders manifest much anxiety. The expressed idea for fall makes, to-day, was around 9c., and 8 to 8¼c. for summer cheese. These figures were purely nominal.

BUTTER—In butter the jobbing demand for creamery ranges from 20½ to 21c. There is little doing in dairy stock beyond a small peddling trade in western roll stock at 14 to 15c., as to quality.

HAY.

The hay market is dull and easy in tone this week, and prices have slumped off 50c. per ton. We quote: No. 1, $13.50 to $14, and No. 2, $12.50 to $13.

ASHES.

The ashes market is dull. Receipts of second pots are on the increase, and prices have declined 20c. to $3.25, but firsts are unchanged at $3.50. Pearls were offered this week at $5.

NEW BRUNSWICK MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE CANADIAN GROCER.

ST. JOHN, N.B., Feb. 13, 1896.

TRADE during the past week has been light. Markets are strong, particularly flour, which has again been marked up, and is very firm at the price. It was thought by some that the mention made by THE CANADIAN GROCER of some trouble between the steamship people and the laborers was ill advised. THE GROCER, however, had the best interests of the port at heart as well as that of the laborers. And it is pleased to note that since the reference appeared, though perhaps not at all on that account, the ship laborers have taken such steps that no trouble is likely again to happen. This is good news, as our city has proved herself splendidly situated to do the Winter Port business of Canada. The small arrivals of fresh fish are a matter of regret, as this is a business of importance to us, particularly to the fishermen, who find a living hard to make. The position of smoked herring has long been unsatisfactory.

SALT—There has been some little movement during the week, but trade is still very light. There is noticed an increase in the demand for Canadian salt in bulk in barrels. Some slight changes have been made in Canadian quotations since the first of the year, but it was only an adjustment, and had no effect on values. We quote: Coarse, 50 to 55c.; fine factory-filled, 95c. to $1.10; 5-lb. bags, $3.25 per bbl.; 10-lb. bags, $3 per bbl.; 20-lb. boxes, 20c.; 10-lb. boxes, 12c.; cartoons, $1.90 to $2 per doz.; dairy, bulk, $2.80 per bbl.; cheese, bulk, $2.70 per bbl.

OIL—During the week nothing of interest has taken place. There is a fair demand for burning oil, but on the whole business is quiet. We quote: American, 23¼c.; best Canadian, 21½c.; prime, 19c.; no charge for barrel.

CANNED GOODS—It is still early for much movement, although a rather better demand is noticed. Prices are held firm at quotations. As noted, Canadian corned beef continues to come into this market more freely, though at this season quantities are very small. We quote as follows: Corn, 85 to 90c.; peas, 90 to 95c.; tomatoes, 90 to 95c.; corned beef, 2-lb. tins, $2.50 to $2.65; 1-lb. tins, $1.50 to $1.60; oysters, 2's, $2 to $2 25; 1's, $1.60 to $1.65; peaches, 3's, $2.85 to $2.90; 2's, $1.90; lobsters, $1.75 to $2; haddies, $1.40; salmon, $1 35 to $1.50; flat, $1.75; clams, $5.50 for 4 doz.; chowder, $3 for 2 doz.; scallops, $5.50 for 4 doz.; Digby chickens, $1; pineapples, $2 to $2.35; kippered herring, $1.10; American peaches, $2.40.

DRIED FRUIT—There is no new feature to report. California evaporated fruits are having fair movement, but the duty is a strong factor against them, being 2c. and over for best grades. The same is true of prunes, though the quantities of these seem rather to increase, but are still not large. Some evaporated peaches were offered low this week. The market for dried apples does not improve and the presence of some old evaporated in the market tends to keep the price of these goods lower than the market warrants. We quote: Valencias, 5 to 6c.; new figs, 10 to 12c.; new 4-crown Cal. L. M. raisins, 6 to 7c.; new 3-crown Cal. L.M. raisins, 5½ to 6c.; keg prunes, 4c.; boxes, 4¾ to 6c.; new Cal. L. L. raisins, $1.50 to $1.75; new currants, bbls., 4 to 4⅛c.; half-cases, 4¼ to 4¾c.; new evaporated apples, 7 to 7½c.; dried apples, 5 to 6c.; dates, 4½ to 5c.; California evaporated peaches, 12 to 13c.; do. apricots, 12 to 14c.; do. pears, 12 to 13c.; California prunes, 6½ to 10c.; clean currants, bulk 5½ to 6½c.; 1-lb. cartoons, 7 to 7½c.; Canadian onions, $2.25 to $2.50 per bbl.; cocoanuts, $4 to $4.50 per 100; citron, 15 to 16c.; orange, 13 to 14c.; lemon, 12 to 13c.; Valencia layers, 6 to 6½c.

GREEN FRUIT—There is the usual trade. Valencia oranges, owing to the very low price at which they are sold, move freely. Higher prices are looked for. In lemons, price is still low, but for best fruit the quotation is firm. Cranberries show rather more range, but it is rather a matter of quality. Pineapples have small sale. West India oranges are dropping out, while the movement in California, though fair, is kept down by the low price of Valencia. Some very good Bishop pippins, for the season, were offered this week. For good apples a firm figure is asked. We quote: Lemons, $2.50 to $3.50; West India oranges, $5 to $6 per bbl.; Valencia oranges, $3.50 to $4.00; pippins and winter fruit, $2 to $3; native cranberries, $8 per bbl.; Cape Cod ditto., $10 to $12 per bbl.; California oranges, $2.50 to $3 50.; imp. Valencia, $4.50 to $5.

DAIRY PRODUCE—Butter is lower and sells slowly, particularly medium grade, of which large quantities are on hand. Creamery is offered under last week's price. In eggs the market is also lower, and fresh come in more freely. Demand is not very active. Cheese continue quiet, and firmness in outside markets is not felt here. There is a light sale. We quote: Cheese, 9 to 9½c.; butter, 16 to 18c.; eggs, 16 to 18c.; fresh creamery prints, 22 to 24c.; tubs, 20 to 22c.

MOLASSES—The stocks here are getting light. Quite a quantity was shipped this week to Quebec and some rather off grade to Boston. New is still a month off, and there is a firmer feeling, though there is little, if any, change in price. A better demand is noted for barrels, and quite a quantity of New Orleans was placed here this week. This grade is strong at an advance of 1c. In syrup the demand is still felt, though the higher price asked and the lateness of the season is having an effect. We quote: Barbadoes, 30 to 33c.; St. Croix, 28 to 30c.; Porto Rico, 34 to 36c.; syrup, 35 to 38c.; New Orleans, bbls., 35 to 36c.

SUGAR—While no change has taken place in price, the market is stronger, and there is a fair movement. Though there is a fair quantity held, sales are not pushed, at least are not forced. We quote: Granulated, 4¾ to 4⅞c.; yellow, 4 to 4¼c.; Paris lump, 5¼ to 5½c.; powdered, 5¼ to 5½c.

FISH—In frozen, arrivals are very light, while demand is good and prices are higher, particularly herring. In bloaters and haddies, smoked, the demand is also ahead of supply. Many wish this could be said of smoked herring, which are still dull. Some dry and other grades of fish are arriving for shipment by steamer to Porto Rico, the first trip of which boat will be made this month. Pickled tend to firmer figures, except Canso, which are low. Dry move freely at quotations. We quote as follows: Lobsters, 4c. each; frozen herring, 80c. to $1 per 100; frozen cod and haddock, 2½ to 2¾c.; bloaters, 60c.; haddies, 4½c.; Medium cod, $3.35 to $3.50; large, $3.65 to $3.75; small, $2.25 to $2.50; pollock, $1.50; bay herring, $1.25 to $1.30; Grand Manan, $1.30 to $1.40; ripplings, $1.65 to $1.70; wolves, $1.90 to $2; Quoddy River, $2.75 to $3; smoked, 5 to 5½c.; shad, half-bbl., pickled, $4 50 to $5; Canso, $4 to $4.50; halfs, $2 25; Shelburne, $2.75 to $3 per bbl.

PROVISIONS—Prices of pork here are much below western markets and an advance is looked for. There are no large quantities moving. Beef is firmer, and lard is quoted higher outside, but there is little or no change here. Smoked meats, with other lines, tend upward. We quote: Domestic mess pork, $14 to $14.25; American, $14 to $14.50; clear pork, $15.50 to $16; beef, $13 to $14; pure lard, 8¾ to 9c.; compound lard, 8c.; rolls, 8 to 8½c.; hams, 10½ to 12c.

FLOUR, FEED AND MEAL—In flour the market is still upward and quite an advance is noted above last week's price. There is now but a slight difference between Ontario and Manitoba, but it looks as if the usual difference would soon be made by the further advance of Manitoba. Ontarios are, however, very firm and may not stay very far behind. Oats are rather higher, but are

YOKOHAMA and HIOGO

To the Retail Grocers and Tea Merchants of Canada:

DEAR SIRS,—Within the next few weeks most of the orders for importation of Japan Teas will be given by the various firms of Wholesale Grocers and Tea Merchants to the representatives of Yokohama and Hiogo firms, and with this fact in mind we ask those of our readers who are old friends, and all who are desirous of getting

to notify the salesmen who solicit their orders, that in 1896 you will ask for, and insist upon getting, Teas fired, prepared and shipped by the firm of

SMITH, BAKER & CO.

Speaking from our own past experience as Wholesale Grocers, we can conscientiously say that we never either bought on the market, or imported from Japan, Teas which gave our customers more general satisfaction, the Teas invariably being of excellent cup quality, the leaf perfectly manipulated, and of all colors we recommend sun-dried or brown leaf.

A few orders have already been given, in some cases for Teas fired and prepared by other Japan firms. Will you therefore in, we think your own, certainly in our, interest, emphasize the fact upon every occasion which presents itself, that you are going to ask for, and be satisfied with, nothing less than the best, that you want and will have Teas prepared by SMITH, BAKER & CO.

We furnish standard samples to the Wholesale Trade for the purpose of showing to you. We shall be happy to furnish you with the names of such firms as import Smith, Baker & Co.'s Teas. We intend these Teas to be known and appreciated from Halifax to Vancouver and Victoria.

Relying upon your kindness in this matter, we are,

Yours respectfully,

Lightbound, Ralston & Co.

not very active. Oatmeal, though strong, shows no change during the week. Hay is still light movement, though a strong market. Cornmeal is moving fairly at the low prices. A new city mill is offering, but is not yet a factor in the market. Brans show no change. We quote: Manitoba, $4.80 to $4 90; best Ontario, $4 60 to $4.70; medium, $4 35 to $4.50; oatmeal, $3 50 to $3.60; cornmeal, $2.25 to $2.30; hand-picked beans, $1.20 to $1.25; prime, $1.10 to $1.15; split peas, $3.70; pot barley, $4.10 to $4.25; hay, $12 to $13; oats, 34 to 36c.; middlings, $19 to $20 on track; bran, $18.; buckwheat meal, domestic, $1.25 to $1.30; western, $1.75 to $2.

ST. JOHN NOTES.

The Canadian Drug Co., our new wholesale drug house, are in their new and handsome quarters. They have placed an order for Maconochie's pickles.

S S. Oregon, which sailed this week, will return here with cement and glass from Antwerp.

A. L. Goodwin received this week some evaporated peaches, which he offers low. He has also a full stock of California prunes.

F. N. Beatty, grocer, Charlotte street, has closed up his stock, having been seized for rent.

The Fredericton City Council, having been petitioned to have the city clock reset to local time, have decided to take a plebescite.

Owing to small arrivals of frozen fish some fresh fish were this week imported from Boston.

The Board of Trade has been asked to aid in getting a subsidy for the Dominion Atlantic steamer Prince Rupert. This is far the best steamer running between St. John and Digby. She will make daily trips all the year, while, during the summer, she makes two trips a day. It is hoped the effort will be successful.

Winter port business continues to increase. A new feature is the shipping of American cattle, 230 arriving this week. This is the only Canadian port through which such business can be done. The shipments of American flour have been very large. At present there are 36,000 sacks either here or to arrive.

Our exports for January, 1896, are about 400,000 ahead of January, 1895 or 1894. This does not include goods for export entered outward at other ports in Canada. The deposits in our Savings Bank show an increase for the month over withdrawals of $9,000.

J. Hunter White has been appointed agent for Brock's bird seed, representing Nicholson & Brock, of Toronto.

Mr. James Gillespie, the local representative for G. J. Hamilton & Sons, reports a growing demand from the drug trade for their English formula tablets, while, to supply their customers with biscuits and confectionery, they have found it necessary to put on a team for city delivery. This is outside of a large trade which is supplied direct from the factory.

MONTREAL CITY TRAVELERS.

THE Montreal Wholesale Grocery Travelers' Association had an enjoyable smoking concert on Tuesday evening, which was largely attended by the members of the association and their friends. Representatives of all the wholesale houses, and specialty manufacturers, were present, as well as many of the leading commission men and brokers interested in different lines of groceries. President Massicotte, who sees that the interests of N. Quintal & Sons are not neglected by the city's retailers, welcomed the guests in that genial manner for which he is famed, and the other members ably assisted him in seeing that everyone enjoyed themselves. The entertainment was the first of a series that the association proposes to give this spring, and the large attendance was a pleasing surprise, showing the good feeling that exists between the city salesmen and the city retailers.

Among the gentlemen present were the following: S. D. Vallieres, president Retail Grocers' Association; J. P. Beauvais, president Retail Grocery Clerks' Association; W. Sadler, St. Lawrence Sugar Co.; W. H. Dann, representing B. P. Babbitt, New York; J. B. Raby, of the Canada Brewing Co.; A. Brunet, American Dressing Co.; J. Rowan, of Chas. Gurd; J. T. Bryson, of Rose & Laflamme; Edward Cavanagh, of the Edward Cavanagh Co.; J. Bell, of the Laing Manufacturing Co.; Chas. A. Corrigan, of D. H. Rennoldson; W. F. Smorden, of Surprise Soap; Geo. Brown, of C. N. D. Osgoode, and the following well known retailers: V. Raby, Thomas O'Hara, S. Bremner, Thomas Gauthier, J. O. Levesque, P. Lemieux, M. Richot, C. J. Spenard, J. A. Vaillancourt, A. D. Paquette, P. Bruneau, E. Upton, M. Bluteau, A. Hudon.

The members of the association who had charge of the entertainment were: President Massicotte (N. Quintal & Sons), Wm. Duckworth (Caverhill, Hughes & Co.), A. W. Childs (Geo. Childs & Co.), D. Lapointe (L. Chaput, Sons & Co.), E. A. Cardinal (Hudon, Hebert & Co.), and P. Gannon.

The following letter of regret was read:

E. Massicotte, Esq., President Montreal Wholesale Grocery Travelers' Association, City:

DEAR SIR,—Accept my most sincere thanks for your kind invitation. Unfortunately, I regret to state, I cannot attend. I trust, however, that the spirit of good-will and the feeling of comradeship which has ever been recognized between the wholesale grocery travelers of Montreal will never die out.

Wishing you all a real good, comfortable time, I remain,

Very respectfully yours,

O. S. PERRAULT,
Secretary,
American Tobacco Co.

Among the gentlemen who helped entertain were Messrs. Paquette, at the piano, Hague and W. Duckworth, songs.

P. Bruneau, in response to a call, made a neat speech on behalf of the French retail grocers, and E. Upton on behalf of the English grocers.

Messrs. Cardinal, Massicotte, Duckworth and Dunn, replied on behalf of the association, expressing their pleasure at meeting their friends in a social way.

President Vallieres, of the Retail Grocers' Association, and who was given a big reception, and Secretary Levesque, in a few remarks pointed out the benefits of the association and congratulated the city travelers on the harmony and good feeling that existed between them.

J. Doherty followed in a couple of rattling comic songs, and then refreshments were served and cigars passed around.

PERSONAL MENTION.

FROM latest advices received from Mr. E. B. Eddy, president of the E. B. Eddy Co., Hull, he is at present in Rome, and will shortly proceed to Naples, thence to Egypt and the Holy Land. Upon the return of the warmer months Mr. Eddy will make an extensive tour of Germany sight-seeing, and will also visit the largest paper mills in that country.

Mr. Harry N. Gross, who has resided in Toronto for the past eight years, and was up to a short time ago city traveler for Rutherford, Marshall & Co., has accepted a position as manager and buyer for the grocery department of J. T. Petrie's American Bazaar, St. Catharines.

Mr. George McWilliam, of McWilliam & Everist, Toronto, is very low with brain fever at his home, 213 Seaton street. The brain fever was superinduced by a severe cold which Mr. McWilliam contracted at Montreal.

Mr. John C. Oswald, of Bathgate Pim & Co., Calcutta and Colombo, and Bathgate & Co., Foochow, China, has recently visited Toronto, and appointed Mr. C. H. Anderson, 50 Front street, as their agent for Toronto, Montreal and Hamilton. Canadian buyers will, therefore, be in a position to buy by wire through his agency direct from the producing markets.

Mr. T. A. Rowat, grocer, London, is at present confined to his home with hemorrhage of the lungs. THE CANADIAN GROCER hopes to hear of his recovery at an early date. Mr. Rowat is one of London's most prominent grocers.

Mr. J. Buteher, the well-known retail grocer, of Toronto, accompanied by his son and daughter, left for New York on Wednesday en route for England. The party sails ex ss. Majestic of the White Star Line.

HALIFAX TRADE GOSSIP.

TRADE in Halifax this week is particularly quiet. Reports from other parts of the province are that business is fairly good.

Refined sugar at the refinery in unchanged in price. The lowest prices for granulated are 4¾c., and for yellows, 3¾ to 4½c, in lots.

There is very little doing in breadstuffs. The market does not seem to sympathize with the west, and flour can be purchased here to-day lower than in Montreal or Toronto. This discrepancy in price is likely to continue for some time. There is considerable flour in Halifax at the present time. All other lines in breadstuffs are featureless.

Green fruit remains cheap—oranges and lemons particularly. No new stocks arrived this week, but there is a sufficient supply on hand to meet all demands.

The provision market remains dull, with no change in price.

Poultry is not in demand. What few are offering are poor and bring low prices. Chickens are worth from 40 to 60c. per pair, and turkeys retail at 8c.

Newfoundland cod is coming into this market very freely, St. John's merchants being desirous of realizing. A cargo of 7,000 quintals was received this week and will be put through the patent fish drier for the Brazil and Mediterranean markets. Bank, bay and Labrador cod are considerably easier in price. Prime hard cured, small, medium and large merchantable, are in good demand, particularly large, and an advance may be looked for. Herrings for grocery trade are in good demand, but poor, fall, West Indian fish are unsalable, owing to over-supply. Salmon and alewives are firm and advancing.

All other lines remain without change.

Eggs are getting cheaper. A good article can be had for 15c. Warranted fresh stock retails at 20c.

The retail grocers, at this writing, have not organized their association. A meeting was held last Tuesday evening in the Board of Trade rooms, with J. E. Crowe in the chair. A set of by-laws were submitted, and another meeting will be called to finally organize. The meeting was not largely attended—not as largely as it should be. The retail grocers of Halifax should be on the same footing as other trades in the city.

Why allow your customers to take bottle after bottle of vile cough mixture from a druggist when you can sell them B. F. P. Cough Drops and make good money?

OUTLOOK FOR CHINA TEAS.

MR. JOHN C. OSWALD, of Bathgate, Pim & Co., Calcutta and Columbo, and Bathgate & Co., Foochow, China, was in Toronto this week, direct from China.

"It is too early," he said in reply to a query of mine, "to say much about the future crop; but I think China teas will be cheaper this season."

"Are the Chinese tea growers making any new departures: inaugurating improved methods?"

"O, no," he replied with a laugh and a shake of the head; "they are employing the same old methods and using the same old junks as they did a thousand years ago, and a thousand years hence they will be doing the same thing."

"The war with Japan is not likely, then, to lead to much enlightenment?" I ventured.

"No. The fact of the matter is, the people are quite unconcerned regarding the war and its effects. When that large indemnity was paid over to the Japanese Government, in London recently, I asked one of the large wealthy tea planters how much he would have to contribute to the sum. 'Oh, it's nothing to do with me; that is the business of the mandarins.' In other words, the Government," concluded Mr. Oswald.

Mr. Oswald while in Toronto was under the pilotage of Mr. C. H. Anderson, who has been appointed the firm's representative for Toronto, Montreal and Hamilton.

Essex County Council will petition the Legislature for appointment of fruit inspectors.

The directors of Cedar Grove cheese factory are canvassing for stock to build a new cheese factory.

W. H. Odell has purchased the remainder of the season's cheese at the Westminster cheese factory at 8¾c. per pound. He shipped it to Liverpool.

A trial shipment of 200 barrels of potatoes was made on the steamship Lake Ontario, to Liverpool. There are 20,000 barrels in Victoria County, N.B., that can be placed on the cars there at 45c. per barrel, and the railway and steamship people have made a low through rate to test the English market.

Fifteen thousand glass fruit jars are to be turned out at the Wallaceburg Glass Co.'s factory during the next ten days to fill an order for Vancouver, B.C.

The Dairymen's Association of Western Ontario will hold four local conventions to supplement the work of the annual convention, as follows: Dunnville, Feb. 25; Forest, Feb. 26; Listowel, Feb. 27; Elmira, Feb. 28.

The annual report of the Wyandotte cheese factory shows receipts for the past year, $10,475.68; expenditure, $10,255.77; balance, $219.91. The total amount of milk received was 1,406,593 pounds, of which 119,513 pounds were sold for shipment, and 6,168 pounds to patrons. Total cash received for cheese, $10,338.90; average price received per pound of cheese, 8.23 cents; average price paid for drawing 1,000 pounds of milk, 66.73 cents; cost per pound for manufacturing cheese, 1.87 cents; average amount of milk to make one pound of cheese, 11.19 pounds.

The people in the neighborhood of Ingoldsby, Ont., held a meeting last week to take into consideration the building of a cheese factory, and have come to the conclusion to put up a building at what is known as Austin's Narrows. They expect to have it in full blast next summer.

A proposed change in the system of taxation has stirred up a big war between Winnipeg's wholesalers and retailers. The latter desire that taxes be imposed according to the valuation of stocks, but the wholesalers want it according to floor space. The floor space tax is at present in vogue.

were $507,547.26, the amount collected for the first six months being $258,930 68, and for the six months ending Dec. 31, $248,-616.58. The collections for 1894 were $442,-281.86, showing an increase for 1895 of $65,-265.40. A considerable portion is due to the increased tax on sugar.

For the week ending Feb. 7 the C.P.R. traffic receipts were $353,000, an increase of $122,000 over the corresponding week of last year. The company has a surplus of $1,374,-385 for 1895, and out of this declares a dividend of 2 per cent. on the preference stock for the half year, and 1½ per cent. on the common stock for the year 1895.

The exports from St. John during January were $545,000, compared with $162,000 in January, 1895, and $116,000 in January, 1894. The figures do not include any of the American flour or other foreign goods, or any Canadian goods entered at Montreal or other Custom houses before being forwarded to this port for export.

The Pond Mills Cheese Company's work for the season shows: Amount of cheese manufactured, 144,015 pounds; number of pounds of milk to make one pound of cheese, 11.03; average price received for cheese, 7.93 cents; rate due the patrons for ten pounds of milk, 5.59 cents; cost to manufacture 100 pounds of cheese, $1.75. A majority of those present at the annual meeting favored selling the factory. The directors elected were: R. Nicholl, president; A. Beattie, W. Rae, F. Elliot and A. Copeland; J. Elliott, secretary.

There was a good turnout to the Springfield cheese factory meeting on Saturday. They are contemplating having a creamery in connection with the factory. Mr. Dickinson was engaged for another year, and the following were appointed directors: H. Chambers, W. J. Lindsay, J. Yoder, I. B. Haney and S. Charlton, and R. D. Stirton, salesman.

A number of the retail grocers of Halifax met at the Board of Trade rooms the other evening to consider the advisability of organizing a retail grocers' association. W. E. Crowe occupied the chair. A code of by-laws was submitted and a copy of the same will be sent to every member of the trade. They met again on Tuesday evening and organized.

The employes of the McCormick Manufacturing Company, confectioners, London, Ont., spent a very pleasant evening at the residence of Mr. McCormick, South London, the other night, it being their 30th annual supper. On two previous occasions Mr. McCormick divided a large sum of money to the employes of the company, and again after a lapse of three years he shows his appreciation of their diligent services and interest in the welfare of the business by giving each employe, who has been in service for the three years, (without regard to position, competency or sex) a cheque for $50. All other employes engaged subsequently were given cheques in proportion to their time of service.

Potatoes were selling for two cents a sack in San Francisco a week or ten days ago, and sold slowly even at that price. The potato crop all over the country last season was enormous, and most growers lost money on a considerable part of their crop. In some regions the potatoes were not taken out of the ground, the price got down so low.

The cheese manufactured last season by the Lyons factory amounted to 109,000 lbs.; average price, 7⅞c. per lb.; pounds of milk required for a pound of cheese, 11.18. Mr. C. O. Luton was engaged as cheese maker at $1.05 per cwt. Officers for the ensuing year: D. Taylor, secretary; James Mitchell, salesman and treasurer; Thos. Winder, auditor; James Mitchell, J. J. Roberts, Fred. Orris, Colin Blake and W. E. Martin, directors.

The Richmond, Que., Board of Trade have elected these officers for the ensuing year: W. L. Ball, president; A. J. Hudon, vice-president; E. F. Cleveland, secretary-treasurer; Council, Jas. Alexander, E. S. Bernard, J. A. Charron, Wm. Davis, W. E. Jones, R. F. McKee, J. C. Sutherland, H. P. Wales, W. J. Woodburn, S. McMorine; Board of Arbitration, E. H. Armitage, E. S. MEXICAN COFFEE.

A CORRESPONDENT of The Texas Farm and Ranch writes entertainingly of a recent visit to the coffee lands of Mexico. He says in part :

"The second day we began to get down into the coffee country, although the first that we saw upon the highest elevations showed the effect of the unusually cold winter of last season, which extended even down below the 20th degree of latitude. While the coffee plant seems to be very hardy and tenacious of life under ordinary circumstances, it cannot stand the least frost. The coffee tree, or shrub, is an evergreen with an oblong, smooth and shining leaf five or six inches long and about two and a half inches wide. It presents a beautiful appearance, either with its clusters of snow-white flowers or with its scarlet ripe berries. The fruit is a fleshy berry, having the appearance of a cherry or small plum. Each one of these berries contains two seeds, each grain of coffee that we use being a perfect seed. The seeds lie against each other in the pulp which encloses them, and are covered by a thin covering or parchment. This is the chaffy substance that comes off during the roasting process, the coffee having been imperfectly cleaned. There are two processes employed in preparing the coffee for market. That which is commonly adopted by the natives and by some of the smaller growers among the Americans, is to gather the berry as soon as it assumes a dark red color, and dry it in the sun. When thoroughly dried it is flailed or pounded until the covering has been well broken, after which it is fanned out just as we used to do grain before the advent of the thresher. The method, however, which is employed by the larger growers, especially Americans, is to run the berries through a pulping machine just as soon as gathered, thus removing the necessity of drying so much waste material.

"The coffee 'tree' is really not a tree, but is more of a shrub, its average height being only about seven feet. Regarding the necessity of shade for the plant, there is a great diversity of opinion. Some of the most successful planters maintain that shading the trees produces only detrimental results. Probably this is so when the soil is shallow, but in the Tuxpan valley, where the soil is very rich and deep, we found the planters unanimous in the opinion that shade is necessary. In clearing the land there, only the underbrush and a part of the trees are removed, leaving enough shade to break the direct rays of the sun. The plants are then taken from the nursery and planted six or eight feet each way, using the mountain or hillside in preference to more level ground. Land is thus used for coffee which would not be available for cultivated crops. It is not considered necessary to plough or in any way stir the soil, the only cultivation being to cut down the sprouts two or three times a year. The expense is thus reduced to a minimum, as the native laborers are only paid from 37 to 50c. Mexican money, or 20 to 27c. in our money, per day. The trees are thus cared for without any returns until the third year from planting, when a light crop is gathered, and by the fifth year the trees are in full bearing. They are then expected to produce from one to three pounds of marketable coffee per tree."

SUGAR FACTORIES IN GERMANY.

According to German official statistics as to the production and taxation of sugar in the German Customs district, there were in operation, in 1894-95, 467 sugar manufactories, 405 of which were beetroot sugar factories, 56 were sugar refineries and 6 were for extracting sugar from molasses. These factories, says Handel's Museum, used altogether 14,521,030 tons (metric tons of 2,204 lbs.) of beets, and produced 1,692,011 tons of raw sugar, as well as 992,136 tons of sugar of all kinds ready for consumption ; the figures for the 1893-94 campaign being 1,270,508 tons of raw sugar and 819,629 tons of sugar ready for consumption. The quantity of beetroots worked up last season was the largest ever known in Germany ; the 1893-94 figures were 10,644,372 tons. The importation of sugar into Germany was insignificant, and remained at about the same level as in the previous year. On the other hand, considerably larger quantites of sugar were exported in 1894-95 than in the previous year, although the export of molasses has fallen off. In 1894-95, 609,663 tons of raw sugar and 392,857 tons of sugar ready for consumption were exported, as compared with 436,674 tons and 262,610 tons respectively in 1893-94. The consumption of sugar in Germany in the year 1894-95 was computed at 552,695 tons of refined sugar, i.e. 10.7 kilogs (23½ lbs.) per head of the population, which compares with 10.01 kilogs in 1893-94, and 9.1 kilogs the average of the last nine working years.

LEARNING A BUSINESS.

As a rule the best business men are those who commenced their mercantile career in a very subordinate position, and, by steady application and attention to the duties that devolved upon them, worked their way upward into a place of prominence, says an exchange. A close inquiry into the careers of many business men reveals the fact that the most of them began business as poor boys, and by energy, industry and economy, acquired wealth and influence. Instances are rare in which a young man has begun business at the top and has made a grand success of it. Such instances sometimes occur, but not with great frequency. The quickest way in the world in which a young man can get rid of a fortune is to embark in a business of which he knows nothing and attempts to run it on a large scale.

GOOD BUSINESS RULES.

Lloyd's Commercial Guide gives the following advice to its readers :

"Never sign a paper without reading it ; and if, after reading, you do not understand it, have it thoroughly explained before you put a signature on it. It is best to get some third person, who is not interested in the matter at all, to explain the meaning of what is not clear, or to point out words that may have two meanings in the document.

"Always make a memorandum in your little book of any contract you undertake for money, or any agreement to work. It saves much trouble to keep a memorandum book and put down the date when you either pay or receive money. Whenever money passes on account, set it down. If any money or thing of value goes through your hands, give a receipt for it and make a memorandum. Your receipt settles the amount that passes, and that cannot be disputed. When you pass it to a third party, get a receipt and keep it. This form is as important in the transfer of income, trust money, or valuables among your own family as with other persons.

"Never allow a person to do any service for you without first agreeing upon the cost to you. This rule, strictly adhered to, will save you many annoyances."

SALMON TRADE IN OTHER LANDS.

Mail advices from Liverpool say : "There is a very firm tone in the market for Alaska salmon and supplies of this fish are absorbed at full prices as fast as they come forward. There are a few ovals in the market, but these are held at good figures. Prices for Fraser River and Columbia River talls and flats are firm and holders are not anxious to dispose of these even at limits fixed."

Melbourne advices state that the hot weather has stimulated the demand, and very fair business has been done. Considerable sales have been made of several brands of salmon at 6s. 9d. to 7s. 4½d. and one parcel of flat tins at a price not stated has been moved. Salt salmon is quoted at 3¾d. to 3⅞d. according to package and quality.

Moderate trade is reported in the leading lines of tinned fish ; at Wellington, New Zealand, salmon at 9s. 3d. to 9s. 6d. for Cocktail, 8s. for Skeena River and 7s. to 7s. 6d. for Red Alaska.—B. C. Commercial Journal.

"Selling the goose that laid the golden egg" might well be applied to the fellow who offers his best customers an inferior cough drop. B. F. P. Cough Drops cure.

It is upon he who robs himself of an hour's time for the purpose of applying it to the task he has in hand that the sun of prosperity smiles most beneficently.

EXPOSING FOOD PRODUCTS.

A recent writer, who is apparently sane as well as sanitary, says of exposing food products, etc., in the front of the stores in the open air, a system which is very common among retail grocery men: "From the time of the opening of these stores to the time of closing them, their food supplies are displayed on the sidewalks and dusted throughout the day with horse manure and every other kind of disease dust afloat in the air, from scabies to tubercle bacillus. At closing time these supplies are piled into the store without regard to cleanliness or order, as they are to be tumbled out again the first thing in the morning; and, needless to add, the stir within the store is quite sufficient for the like dusting of everything sold over the counters. The dark recesses, closets, stow-holes and cellars of such stores are thus loaded with disease-bearing dust, more or less putrescible, according to the conditions of darkness, moisture and temperature, tainting everything that is served therefrom."

RIO COFFEE SITUATION.

The Rio News of January 7 says: "There has been some talk of a supply in Rio of 1,000,000 bags for the first half of the current year, against the 600,000 bags the estimates would furnish, and the increase is expected to result from early entries of new crop coffees. The St. Paulo journals have been publishing alarming accounts of the drouth in that state. That there has been a want of rain in the interior seems certain, and this probably means a deterioration in the quality of the coming crops both in the Rio and St. Paulo zones; but the St. Paulo people were at one time seriously exercised as to the destination of the 'bumper' crops expected, and the present reduced estimates are at least open to some suspicion."

CAUSES OF FAILURE

In the Hardware Trade and How Avoided.

As long as there are failures, subjects that furnish information how to prevent them will always be timely. We have published, in pamphlet form, three admirable papers on the above topic, in which Over-Stocking, Expense, Capital, Credit, Discounts, Buying, etc., etc., are ably discussed. We will mail the whole three essays to any address on receipt of 25 cents

We sold more Salt than any other firm, outside the manufacturers, in Canada. It has taken us ten years to accomplish this, and we want to increase our business by having your Salt trade, not only for the next carload you want but for just as long as we can make our shipments satisfactory to you, and the price will be the lowest possible figure at which Salt can be had. When you want anything in Salt, write US.

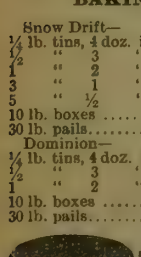
CURRENT MARKET QUOTATIONS

TORONTO, Feb. 13, 1896.



This list is corrected every Thursday. The prices are solicited for publication, and are for such qualities and quantities as are usually ordered by retail dealers on the usual terms of credit.

Goods in large lots and for prompt pay are generally obtainable at lower prices.

All quotations in this department are under the direct control of the Editor, and are not paid for or doctored by any manufacturing or jobbing house unless given under their name, the right being reserved to exclude such firms as do not furnish reliable information.

The Selling of Canned Meats

Is an important branch of the grocery business. It is profitable or otherwise, according as the grocer handles the right kind or not. Canned meats which are constantly being sent back or exchanged are not only a loss directly, but indirectly they are harmful to a grocer's business—a detriment to his good name.

Canned meats put up under the "Helmet" brand are recognized as the finest product of their kind. Grocers everywhere find a constantly growing demand for them. They give profit to the grocer, pleasure to the customer, satisfaction to both. They sell well because they are prepared well.

THE CANADIAN GROCER

Vol. X. (Published Weekly) TORONTO AND MONTREAL, FEBRUARY 21, 1896 ($2.00 per Year) No. 8

DROPS FROM THE EDITOR'S PEN.

Cold weather frequently imparts warmth to business.

Hard times, like hills from a distance, are usually exaggerated.

Advertise honestly. People are not fools. They will not be mocked.

A man cannot live by business alone any more than he can by bread alone.

The house organ journal was conceived in fraud and shapen in misrepresentation.

He who soweth the seed of advertising judiciously shall in time reap bountifully.

Stock-taking is a time when a merchant gets his eyes open and sees "where he is at."

A man cannot rise in the world without energy any more than can bread without yeast.

Poetry allows much license, but there should be either rhyme or reason for cutting prices.

A clean clerk attracteth customers to the store, but an unclean one driveth them away.

Reading a trade paper is as much the part of a merchant's duty as is the selling of goods.

"G" stands stands for grocer, a man of great aims, who gets small returns for his labor and pains.

A little partisanship is all right. It is when partisanship absorbs the man that the trouble begins.

Not until the people of this country recognize that it is as absurd to endow with parliamentary honors men who are the lick-spittles of party, the mediocres of professional life and the sediment of humanity, as it is to engraft brambles on thorn bushes, can we expect to have a business-like House of Commons.

Although advertising is a science, it does not follow that a man need be a scientist in order to appreciate it.

There appears to be no question regarding the ability of Canada to "save her bacon" on the English market.

The advertisement never opens its mouth, but it says and does more to sell goods than any other factor in the world.

Because business is a war it does not follow that everything is fair which he who is waging it can call into operation.

The live trade paper is a substance, not a spirit, but there is nothing like it to infuse inspiration into clerks and merchants.

When the tongue cannot persuade men to pay their debts it is almost a pity that the persuasive powers of a club cannot be legally exercised.

The starch manufacturers of the United States are selling below cost owing to the cutting of prices. The "starch" is evidently out of the business.

Photography by cathode rays is doing some wonderful things, but it is scarcely to be hoped that by its aid we shall be able to "see ourselves as others see us."

If 10 per cent. of the debt-collecting machinery which has been devised were only workable, many merchants would be 50 per cent. better off than they are to-day.

Every young man, if he is at all teachable, learns one thing after he has launched into business: He learns whether or no he is adapted for the calling he has adopted.

The discovery of the North Pole does not hold out much inducement for an ambitious merchant to start a store there, for though he would have no competitors he would be without customers.

It is well for the merchant to be obliging, but it is folly for him to be over so, as he obviously is when he pleads to be allowed to send home a small order which the customer, without any inconvenience, is quite capable of carrying himself.

Well is it to think several times before changing your business once: Forsaking one business to enter another is frequently like trading horses while crossing a stream.

The city travelers of Toronto may be able to defeat with ease the retail grocers at pedro, but they are not so clearly masters of the situation when it comes to striking a bargain.

Good-will between merchants is a better guarantee for good prices than ever can be the strongest of associations. The chief office of the association is to create and promote good-will.

Foolishness is he possessed of who essays to build up a healthy bank account on an impairment of his health. Success in its essence means a healthy body as well as a healthy bank account.

Merchants cannot be too careful where they place their accounts for collection: There are some concerns that possess the power to collect but are minus the honesty to make returns to their clients.

Adversity is not dishonesty. And he who stoops to accept a lower position than he was wont to fill, rather than starve or depend upon the bounty of his friends, is displaying a type of manhood higher than he exhibited in his days of affluence.

CANADIAN BACON IN ENGLAND.

THE National Provisioner, of New York and Chicago, in a review of the market for hog products says: "Stocks in Liverpool were also a disappointment to the bulls, showing a considerable increase, notwithstanding smaller shipments since the first of January. This was especially true of bacon, which Mr. John Gledhill, American buyer of the great Wholesale Co-operative Society of England, explains by the fact that the imports of Danish and Canadian bacon have increased much more largely than the American since the beginning of the packing season; for, while we have advanced, their markets have remained comparatively stationary, leaving them relatively lower than ours; and Irish supplies have also been larger than usual, with a prospect of their continuance for some time yet. Another reason given by him is that the Canadian bacon is superior to the American, the meat being firmer and sweeter, owing to feeding of pea meal, while both the Irish and Danish are lighter and leaner, with a much smaller proportion of fat, which is not wanted in breakfast bacon, so popular in England. The forcing of hogs in the United States with corn from the time they are pigs produces an undue proportion of fat, which is not desirable in meats, while in Denmark this is only done near the time for killing. Thus it will be seen that the outlook for improved exports is very discouraging in the near future, or until these supplies from competing countries are exhausted."

THE BRANTFORD STARCH CO.

Mr. A. P. Murray, manager of the Brantford Starch Co., was in town a few days ago to rearrange that company's Toronto selling agency.

Brantford starch will now be handled in this market by Wright & Copp, the well-known representatives for Imperial Cheese and Surprise Soap. Mr. Wright has already begun to interest his friends in the goods turned out by the new Brantford company, which has just finished its first year. The names of the brands used by their predecessors have been continued, but great improvements have been made in the quality of the starch and the appearance of the packages. In particular the handsome enamelled tin canister, which this company has placed on the market in room of the old wooden box, has been a great success. Last season the company were unable to fill more than a portion of the orders for it, but Mr. Murray reports that they have taken advantage of the dull winter season to pile up a very heavy stock of this line, and now anticipate no trouble in filling every order promptly. The spring business has just begun, and the indications are very promising for quite as good a starch business this year as last.

OWEN SOUND BOARD OF TRADE.

The annual meeting of the Owen Sound Board of Trade was held on Friday last. Gratifying reports were presented and read by the secretary and president, the former showing a marked increase in the export and import trade of the town during the past year, while the latter showed that no failures of any importance had taken place during that time.

The election of officers for the ensuing year resulted as follows: President, Jas. W. Maitland; vice-president, W. A. McLean; secretary-treasurer, James H. Rutherford; council—S. J. Parker, S. Lloyd, E. W. Waud, M. Kennedy, Jas. McLauchlan, R. Wightman, John Wright, W. T. Lee, W. B. Stephens, John Harrison; Board of Trade arbitrators—J. C. Hay, J. F. McCollum, D. Rutherford, Geo. Ingles, W. M. Matthews, M. S. Hodder, John Rutherford, Jno. Waites, Geo. Dench, John H. McLauchlan, J. R. Brown, E. Buchan; auditors—W. T. Lee, E. W. Waud.

WANTED HIS GALL.

An insolvent grocer recently called a meeting of his creditors, says N. E. Grocer. After perusing his statement of assets and liabilities, which showed a division of the former among his immediate family and relatives, the creditors asked what he proposed to do. He replied: "Gentlemen, I have nothing to give you except this poor body of mine—cut it up and divide it among yourselves."

There was a long pause, when one of the creditors remarked: "Gentlemen, if this debtor's proposition is accepted, there is one little part I should lay claim to."

"And what may that portion be?"

"His gall."

NOVEL ADVERTISING.

An apple-grower in the famed "lake region" of western New York had long desired a trade-mark that would protect his particular brand of apples, which he had brought to a great state of perfection by grafting and years of special cultivation, says New Ideas. He hit upon the following plan, which succeeded beyond his expectations: Selecting a fine tree, bearing the fruit of which his shipments were principally composed, and that had a good southern exposure, he prepared slips of sized paper in which he cut out or "stenciled" the letters of his name, and when the apples were fully matured on the tree, and about two weeks before ripening or picking time, bound a slip of the paper around each apple, taking care to have the name part on the "sunny side" of the apple. He thus bandaged several hundred—enough to allow of putting one in the top of each barrel shipped. The sun faithfully performed its work, and when the time for picking had arrived, the name strips were removed, and on each apple appeared the full name of the grower in red letters on a green background.

One of these "name" apples was wrapped in tissue paper and placed on top of every full barrel before heading up, and the legend, "look for the name" printed on the outside of the barrel head. His apples are now known and sought for in the market as "look-for-the-name" apples.

Old trade revived, new trade made by handling side lines. B. F. P. cough drops pay big profits.

IT IS AN EXCRESCENCE.

THE Patrons' Advocate, of Rapid City, Manitoba, is dead. The deceased journal was well-edited, well-managed, and possessed a reputation for clearness and solid information.

But a reservoir possesses little utility when its source of supply gives out. And that was the trouble with The Advocate: the paper was all right, but the source from which it drew its supplies was all wrong. In other words, the Patrons did not keep true to the organ that played tunes to the music composed at their inspiration.

It is the old tale of man's simplicity and Patron duplicity. The only difference is that the victim is a little different to that usually sacrificed.

The Patron is a great deal like the ostrich. The ostrich, imagining itself a blast furnace, swallows metals with avidity; the Patron, imbued with the idea that he is anointed to be the saviour of both the business and the political world, declares, by implication if not by word of mouth, that these temporal matters of business and politics can only be successfully fashioned and shaped by his hand. Those who will not be persuaded to subscribe to his tenets he tries to drive both from business and from politics.

"By their fruits ye shall know them," is an axiom good for measuring the Patron organization as well as the life of individuals. As far as its political fruits are concerned we have nothing to say. We leave the dissecting of them to the political press. It is only with the business fruits we have any desire to deal. These have been by no means creditable, and they could not well be otherwise.

The idea that the Patrons were called upon to do the storekeeping of the land was born in ignorance and nurtured and trained in methods as unbusiness and illogical as it is possible to conceive anything to be.

The idea of a merchant being compelled to subscribe to an agreement to the effect that he will sell his merchandise to all members of the organization at from 10 to 12 per cent. above the invoice price or die the death of a neglected merchant, is preposterous. No man can subscribe to such an agreement, faithfully observe it, and at the same time pay 100 cents. on the dollar any more than can a man load his hands and feet with lead and swim.

There is a law in business as well as in the natural world, and obedience is just as imperative in the one as it is in the other.

From its inception to the present day the Patron organization has been working clearly in defiance of this law. And its fruits are ruined merchants and defunct Patron lodges. By their fruits ye shall indeed know them.

All we at the moment know about the Patrons of Rapid City is that many of them are far in their arrears with their subscriptions to their late organ, and that their association is moribund. This latter condition is a subject for thankfulness.

No matter what it may do in politics, the days of the Patron organization as a factor in business are numbered. It is an excrescence on the horizon of the business world, and must go.

THE LENTEN TRADE.

THE Lenten season, which opened on Wednesday last, does not promise any unusual developments as far as the grocery trade is concerned.

The attitude of the Roman Catholic Church in regard to the rules and regulations for governing the Lenten observances is quite liberal. It is probably not more so than a year ago, but as certain clauses have been given a more definite reading, the regulations have the appearance of greater latitude.

For instance, in the regulations just issued is a clause which reads to the effect that lard and suet may be used in preparing fast foods during the season; also on other fast days during the year.

Hitherto there has been some doubt as to the intention of the church in this particular and consequently a great many refrained from using lard and suet during the Lenten season.

The provision dealers will be interested to know that the use of butter, cheese, eggs and milk is permitted every day.

At the moment the fish trade is showing a little more activity, but the improvement is small indeed. And a good demand is not anticipated for a few days.

The fish lists which the wholesale grocers, commission houses, etc., have prepared show greater variety than usual. But as a rule merchants are moving with caution. The fact that the regulations of the church now offer such little restrictions regarding proscribed foods during the Lenten season is partly the cause of this, not as much fish now being relatively consumed. At the expiration of former seasons the members of the trade have found themselves with an over supply which had to be eventually thrown away. An effort is being made to prevent its repetition this year. However, the fact alone that so many prepared fish now come upon the market reduces the possibility of loss being entailed from unsold stocks.

Many of the retailers are dressing their windows with goods suitable for the Lenten season, and those who have not yet done so should wheel into line immediately. Lenten goods give ample scope for making attractive displays, and there is no reason why any grocer should not put his window in a condition in keeping with the season.

BUTTER-MAKING IN BRITISH COLUMBIA.

BRITISH COLUMBIA is ambitious to develop her butter-making industry. The province is primarily known for the wealth of her fisheries and mining lands. And so she will probably always continue to be. But Nature has blessed her with rich pasture lands as well as in the respects mentioned. Ways and means are now being discussed for taking advantage of these lands as far as butter-producing is concerned.

At present British Columbia can be more fittingly termed a butter-consumer than a butter-producer. As an importer of butter, she occupies the first place in the Dominion. And that in a most pronounced manner, her imports last year for home consumption being 263,278 pounds, or nearly 95 per cent. of the total imports of the country.

The total imports of the country for home consumption were 274,666 pounds. Of this quantity 231,988 pounds came from the United States, 40,291 from Australasia, and 2,387 pounds from Great Britain. It is obvious that nearly all this went to British Columbia.

It is worthy of note that Australian butter did not appear in the trade returns till 1894, the year after the Australian-Canadian line was put on. We, however, imported about 18,000 pounds of Australian butter less in 1894 than in 1895.

Besides what British Columbia purchases elsewhere, she also buys extensively of Manitoba butter, and the dairy people of the latter province have been actively engaged —during the past couple of years especially— in pushing trade with the former.

It may be interesting to note that, while British Columbia imports so much butter, she also figures in the returns as an exporter, and although the quantity she sends out is small, yet it is not the smallest, both Manitoba and the Northwest Territories being below her in the list. British Columbia's exports in 1895 were 7,471 pounds.

The particular method which is at the moment agitating the public for the development of the butter industry of British Columbia is that proposed in a bill which has been submitted to the Legislature of the province by the Minister of Agriculture. This bill proposes to give a bonus of so much per pound on all butter made in the creameries. The creameries must be owned and operated by associations of farmers, must be of a capacity to use the milk of not less than 300 cows, and there must be not less than a certain number (to be fixed in the bill) of members in the association, so as to preclude a single individual or firm from taking advantage of assistance intended to be for the benefit of a number of small farmers. The bonus will be given from a fixed sum to be voted annually by the Legislature, and will be paid monthly to the associations in proportion to the amount of butter produced.

The Minister of Agriculture has no doubt received his inspiration from New Zealand, where the bonus system has wonderfully developed the butter-making industry.

AN EXPORT DUTY WOULD HELP TRADE.

MR. LAHAIE, one of THE GROCER'S readers in Buckingham, P.Q., who was in town last week, said that while trade was very fair, still the business of his district was capable of great expansion. They had unusually fine water privileges, which were not utilized to their fullest capacity. There are large quantities of spruce timber, which make the best pulp in the world. The American paper makers are cutting this wood and taking it to the States to manufacture into pulp and paper, employing all the labor that should be done in Canada. The logs are admitted free to the States, but a heavy duty is charged on pulp. If the Dominion Government would put an export duty on the logs, the Americans would have to manufacture the pulp, and even ually the paper, in Canada. This would mean a large and important industry for such towns as Buckingham, and indirectly the whole of Canada.

It is the duty of business men everywhere to consider the importance of this and similar questions, and insist that their representatives in Parliament support a policy that will develop our natural resources. The elections are coming on. We should all join one of the political parties and endeavor to get the convention to nominate a successful business man—one as well who is true to Canada and her interests. If both sides nominate good, honest men we are sure of having a suitable representative. Even if our own man does not win we can still rejoice that our interests are safe in his opponent's hands.

While on the question of paper-making, it may be added that one of the best informed paper makers in Great Britain, who has been making a tour of the world, said to THE CANADIAN GROCER that Canada and Scandanavia were now the only countries in the world which produced good pulp-wood, and that before long they should control the paper-making of the world. From Canada's present policy, he said, it looked as if we were going to hand over the most profitable part of our industry to the Americans, when we allowed them to do the manufacturing.

FRAUDULENT LABELS.

ON Friday last a very interesting decision was given by Judge Dugas in Montreal on the illegal use of trade labels.

All business men and manufacturers know that the label on a standard article means its reputation. If it is diverted to some other line of a similar character it constitutes not only a serious imposition on the public, but a direct injury to the rightful owner of the trade mark.

For a long time past Wm. Dow & Co., the famous brewers, have been troubled and lost materially through the unathorized use of their label by persons not allowed by the firm to bottle their beer. Three months ago they secured a conviction against three offenders, but it did not check the abuse.

The other day one, Onesime Champagne, was discovered by the firm to be in possession of a number of their labels, which he was using without authority. When brought before Judge Dugas he pleaded guilty to the offence of using a false trade description without authority from the owners of the trade mark. The judge fined Champagne $20 with costs, stating that the offence appeared to be on the increase. He had been much inclined for this reason to inflict a heavier penalty in this instance, but owing to certain circumstances he deemed it advisable to place the fine at the amount named. He warned the accused that in future all offenders would suffer the full penalty of four months' imprisonment at hard labor, or a fine of $100. The law, which the defendant had contravened, was for the protection of the public generally as well as the proprietors of various valuable trade marks in particular. Goods sold under trade mark or design were all supposed to be of the manufacture of the person or firm owning that trade mark. A person applying that trade mark to other goods was guilty of a direct fraud and should be punished.

THE CANADIAN GROCER agrees with the honorable judge, its only regret being that the maximum penalty which it is in his power to inflict is not more severe than it is. A fine of $100, the extreme limit, will be a mere bagatelle to many dishonest people. Good plain imprisonment at hard labor would suit such gentry much better.

DISCRIMINATION AGAINST TEA SAMPLES.

Recently complaints have been made to the Montreal Board of Trade by its members that the weight limit for sample post had been reduced from three pounds to half a pound.

The Board, on enquiry, ascertained that the reduction was confined to tea samples only. As they had received no complaint or communication from the Wholesale Grocers' Guild in regard to the matter, they referred it to them for report.

On all other packages except tea the limit allowed is 24 ounces. The Department does not explain why it makes this discrimination against tea samples, and the Guild will be perfectly justified in requesting that they do so. They ought to have a strong reason for such a peculiar course.

ADVANCE IN CODFISH.

A decided spurt in the general Lenten demand for fish is noted this week at Montreal. The most striking effect of its influence has been an advance of 50c. per barrel all round in the price of green cod.

Most dealers believed that the supply of this staple line of fish, though not large, was ample, but it appears that they were wrong.

Jobbers, after they had satisfied a few of their customers, finding the enquiry steady, commenced to think of new supplies. When they tried to procure them the light position of stocks was immediately made plain, and the result was a sudden and sharp advance in price.

Sales of good-sized lots of No. 1 draft cod have been made up to $6.50, and no No. 1 large are now available under $6.

Other advances in quotations are given in our regular market report, and a strong market, not only on green cod, but on all kinds of fresh fish, is looked for during the next week or so.

VALENCIA ORANGES ADVANCE.

Green fruit dealers in Montreal would not be surprised if the orange market became once more as animated and interesting as it was a month ago. This belief is based upon cable advices which they received this week, showing that it would cost 25c. per box advance to lay down fresh importations of Valencias in Montreal.

Cables on Tuesday quoted 12s., or 2s. advance, equivalent to about $4.25 Montreal. As a result of this spot prices are somewhat firmer, and the inside price with most holders was $4, as against $3 75 last week, and it is not unlikely that some would ask an advance on that figure.

OUR NEW OFFICES.

WHEN this paper first hung its sign from the top storey window of an old-fashioned building on St. Francois Xavier street, Montreal, it was thought it would remain there for many years to come. The reception accorded to its early issues was so cordial and enthusiastic that it was soon necessary to increase the business and editorial staff beyond the capacity of its dingy quarters. Larger and more comfortable offices were secured on St. James street, just across from St. Lawrence Hall, and only one flight up. But still the business increased, and a year ago it became apparent that if the subscriptions and advertisements should continue to pour in from every part of this wide Dominion it would be necessary to seek another home. It was found necessary. Offices conveniently situated were demanded. They must be on the ground floor. Nothing else will suit the great number of subscribers and advertisers. What they said had to be carried out.

Fortunately, the choicest offices in the city — and the most expensive, too — were offered, and a lease was quickly signed. This number will be issued from the new quarters. They are in the Board of Trade building. The principal offices are on the ground floor, just to the left of the main entrance and opposite the Board's own quarters. This was all the space available here, and the remainder of the staff will occupy larger rooms upstairs, which are easily reached by the elevators. In the main office will be found the chief editor, the advertising manager and clerk. Just off it is Mr. MacLean's private office.

In a few days everything will be ready to welcome the thousands of readers who come from every city, town and village of Canada. It must not be thought that the paper has grown proud because it has made a great hit and has grown rich—in circulation, not money—and has nearly all the best firms in the land in its advertising columns—(and they say they lose money if they stay out). Its head is not "big." None will receive a more cordial welcome than will its old friends who helped by their subscriptions, their advertisements and their advice in the good old days on St. Francois Xavier street.

WANT REASONABLE NOTICE.

It has been a frequent cause of complaint that the Ottawa Ministers, especially the Minister of Trade and Commerce and the Controller of Customs, when they visit Montreal do not give merchants sufficient notice in advance.

The Wholesale Grocers' Guild of Montreal took the matter up again this week, asking the Council of the Board of Trade to point out to the Government, and urge that in the case of any future visits, the Board of Trade be notified in advance.

If this were done merchants who wished to confer with the Ministers would be able to do so intelligently.

MOLASSES STILL STRONG.

Last week THE CANADIAN GROCER gave some exclusive information in regard to molasses at primary markets.

Supplementary advices this week bear out the strength of those noted last week. Cables from Antigua to well-known selling agents in Montreal state that the best price is 31c., cost and freight Montreal.

Last year at this time the same salesmen were booking import orders for this grade of stock at 25c., or 6c. less.

HANDSOME PLAYING CARDS.

There is no earthly harm in a quiet game of whist or euchre. It is a fitting accompaniment on these cold winter evenings to a nice warm glass of John Dewar & Sons' famous Scotch whisky. So that all the ingredients will be at hand for their many Canadian friends, the Messrs. Dewar not only provide their Canadian agents, J. M. Douglas & Co., of Montreal, with the liquid portion, but have also sent along some very handsome decks of playing cards, which arrived this week. The excellent stock and first-class lithographic work of these testify to a pretty good outlay, showing plainly that the firm, when they do advertise, are not afraid to spend a little money to do so in a proper way. The back of each card is a print of one of Dewar's well-known bottles, label and all, and makes a very effective "ad." Readers who enjoy a hot toddy and like a quiet little round, can have a pack sent them by writing J. M. Douglas & Co., Board of Trade, Montreal, and mentioning THE CANADIAN GROCER. So that none of their friends will be without one of these attractive souvenirs, J. M. Douglas & Co. have decided to send only one deck to each of their customers.

THE MONTREAL OFFICES OF THE MACLEAN PUBLISHING CO. ARE IN THIS BUILDING.

CANNED GOODS MEN IN SESSION.

THE CANADIAN GROCER is in receipt of the following, under date of Chicago, February 15, from Mr. Wellington Boulter, president of the Canadian Packers' Association, written while in attendance at the convention of the Western Canned Goods Association :

"There is a large attendance, this being their annual convention. Some 15 States are represented, with 200 delegates. The machinery exhibit, which is always made at these meetings by all the manufacturers of canned goods, etc., represents the newest and most improved kinds, and is a great benefit to all attending, as, being in motion, all can see its working. It is wonderful the improvements that have been made in the facilities for packing now to what it was fifteen years ago, when I first started in the business. The business in the United States at present is in a very much depressed condition. Prices are in many cases below cost of packing and, as with us, too many are engaged in it.

"The following Canadians are present : W. A. Ferguson, Delhi ; D. Marshall, Aylmer ; H. Malcolmson, Chatham ; F. Miller and foreman, Trenton ; W. A. Carson, Belleville ; W. R. Wright and wife, and Geo. E. Boulter, Picton.

"The members of the association are pleased to see so many Canadians present, and all are doing their best to make their visit as pleasant as possible. L. G. Seager, former president, Gilman, Iowa, was elected president, with J. S. Edwards, Leavenworth, Kansas, secretary-treasurer. The next annual meeting takes place at Cincinatti, Ohio, in Feb., 1897."

NEW SEASON'S CEYLON-INDIA TEAS.

The matter of spring supplies of new season's teas is commencing to occupy jobbers' attention. Joseph Tetley & Co., Montreal office, 14 Lemoine street, have turned into stock some standard blends of new season's Indian and Ceylon teas, which they propose to offer at prices to suit all customers. Any of our readers can have a sample sent them free by writing Joseph Tetley & Co., 14 Lemoine street, Montreal, and mentioning THE CANADIAN GROCER. This is a chance to find out what to buy.

WANT ANOTHER WEIGHER.

The Montreal Butter and Cheese Association consider that, owing to the increase in the exports of butter and cheese, there is more work than the present public weighers can handle. They have accordingly petitioned the Council of the Board of Trade to urge upon the Government the appointment of another public weigher immediately.

Seville Orange Marmalade

An Article of Rare Delicacy and Purity.

ONLY the Finest Selected Seville Oranges and Redpath's Extra Standard Granulated Sugar used in its manufacture.

WE KNOW that there are numerous so-called marmalades offered as "pure," but they lack that delicious, appetising flavor of the true SEVILLE. There have been no Seville Oranges on the market as yet this season from which to manufacture the Genuine Seville Orange Marmalade. The first shipment is due this week, and we will be in a position to fill all orders next week.

WE HAVE this article put up expressly for us, and you have our assurance that the quality is right.

MARKETS AND MARKET NOTES

ONTARIO MARKETS.

GROCERIES.

TRADE this week is in a somewhat comatose condition. The usual quietude that obtains at this season of the year is all the more pronounced on account of the stormy and cold weather, which has blocked the railroads and country roads and impeded the movement of travelers and farmers. An improvement in a few days is confidently looked for. Generally speaking, local quotations are much the same as a week ago, and the outside markets are, as a rule, strong. Sugar continues to gather strength, and the Canadian refiners are anticipating higher prices before long. Canned vegetables continue firm. In teas, Indian and Ceylon growths are firmer in the primary markets. Foreign dried fruits are, on the whole, quiet and steady. Payments are still slow.

CANNED GOODS.

Tomatoes and peas continue firm, the latter particularly, some of the wholesalers having advanced their view regarding them during the past week. While 90c. is still the lowest with some, others are not inclined to take less than 95c. Some cutting appears to be going on in regard to the price of "Horseshoe" salmon, as low as $1.30 being accepted in some instances. This is peculiar, especially in view of the fact that some houses are asking other houses for quotations on this brand, their stocks evidently being exhausted. We quote: Tomatoes, 80 to 90c.; corn, 75 to 80c.; peas, 95c. for ordinary; sifted select, $1.10; extra sifted, $1.45 to $1 50; peaches, $2.90 to $3 for 3's, $1.90 to $2 for 2's; raspberries, $1.40 to $2.00; strawberries, $1.80 to $2.45, according to brand and quality; blackberries, $1.90 to $2.20; cherries, $2 40 to $2.45; apples, 3's, 85 to 90c.; gallons, $1 90 to 2.25; salmon, "Horseshoe," $1.32½ to $1.35; "Maple Leaf," $1.35; "Lion," $1.35 to $1 40; Lowe Inlet, $1.27 to $1 30, in tall tins; cohoes, $1.10 to $1.20; canned mackerel, $1.10 to $1.20; lobsters, $1.80 to $2.10, for tall tins; flats, $2.35 to $2.65; half tins, $1.45 to $1.50; Canadian canned beef, 1's, $1.35 to $1 45; 2's, $2 25 to $2.35; 6's, 7.50 to $8; 14's, $15 to $16.50.

COFFEE.

Trade continues quiet and prices unchanged. We quote green in bags: Rio, 19 to 21c.; East Indian, 27 to 30c.; South American, 21 to 23c.; Santos, 19 to 22½c.; Java, 30 to 33c.; Mocha, 33 to 35c.; Maracaibo, 21 to 23c.; Jamaica, 21 to 25c.

SYRUPS.

Syrups are fairly active on account of the Lenten demand. The supply of syrups at the refineries is still short, and brights are sold as soon as they are made. We quote: Dark, 30 to 32c.; medium, 33 to 35c.; bright, 40 to 42c.

MOLASSES.

Demand is good, and the tendency of values in the primary markets is still upward. We quote: New Orleans, barrels, 28 to 35c.; half-barrels, 30 to 35c.; Barbadoes, barrels, 31 to 35c.; half-barrels, 33 to 35c.

SUGAR.

The local market has continued very quiet, with scarcely any enquiry from jobbers, notwithstanding the fact that the raw market has continued to strengthen very considerably. On the 11th inst. the Trust finally gave up the game of trying to bear the New York market, and on that day bought everything in sight, some 20,000 tons centrifugals at 4c. New York. Since then the Trust have been freely offering 4c. for centrifugals without finding any sellers. Three advances of 1-16c., each time on refineds, have taken place on the New York market, but refiners' prices in Canada have remained unchanged. The New York receipts of Cuban sugars were only 1,200 tons, against 41,000 tons for the same week last year. Quotations on the local market are unchanged, 4⅞c. being the idea for granulated, and 3⅞c. up for yellows.

SPICES.

The market is dull. Cream of tartar, while not so high in the primary market as it was a week ago, is nevertheless strong. We quote as follows: Pure black pepper, 10 to 12c.; pure white, 18 to 25c.; pure Jamaica ginger, 23 to 25c.; cloves, 15 to 20c.; pure mixed spice, 25 to 30c.; cream of tartar, French, 25 to 27c.; ditto, best, 28 to 30c. per lb.; allspice, 14 to 18c.

NUTS.

Trade continues quiet and featureless. We quote as follows: Brazil nuts, 14 to 15c.; Sicily shelled almonds, 25 to 26c.; Tarragona almonds, 14 to 14½c.; peanuts, 10 to 12c. for roasted, and 7 to 10c. for green; cocoanuts, $4.50 to $5 per sack; Grenoble walnuts, 12 to 12½c. Marbot walnuts, 11 to 12c.; Bordeaux walnuts, 9c.; Sicily filberts, 8 to 10c. for sacks and 10½ to 11c. for small lots; pecans, 10½ to 11c.

TEAS.

Generally have been quiet; the only movement of consequence has been in Ceylons, chiefly low grades, in which kinds a fair business has been doing. In Chinas, both blacks and greens, the only transactions of note have been in second Young Hysons. Japans continue neglected. Indians quiet. The market for Indian teas in Calcutta has practically closed. It will reopen about the middle of May. London sales have shown a decided firmer tendency on Indian teas for anything showing suitable liquor. All flavory Cylons are also dearer and only poor liquoring teas are selling at low figures. We quote ruling prices to retailers as follows: Young Hysons, 12 to 18c. for low grades, 24 to 27c. for mediums, and 30 to 45c. for high grades; China Congous, 14 to 18c. for mediums, and 25 to 55c. for high grades; Japans, 15 to 20c. for mediums, 28 to 35c. for high grades; Indians and Ceylons, 18 to 22c. for mediums, and 30 to 65c. for high grades.

DRIED FRUITS.

Reports from Patras regarding the currant market are to the effect that there is a present dulness with slightly easier prices, in consequence of shipments to the United Kingdom and Continent, on account of Patras shippers who were unable to take up the documents and had to force sales. It is, however, thought that when these stocks are cleared there will be a tendency towards higher prices, as the position of the market is otherwise good. The currant trade locally is quiet, although there have been some large sales to cover losses by wreck of the steamer Lamington. We quote: Provincials, 3¾ to 4c in bbls.; fine Filiatras, in bbls., 4¼ to 4½c.; do, half-bbls., 4¼ to 4¾c.; ditto, half-cases, 4¾ to 5c.; Casalinas, cases, 5 to 5¼c.; Vostizzas, cases, 6 to 6½c.; ditto, half-cases, 6½ to 6¾c.; ditto, extra fine, 6¾ to 7¼c.; ditto, half-cases, 7¼ to 7½c.; Panaretas, in cases, 9c.

Valencia raisins are still going out in limited quantities only. We quote: Off-stalk, 4½ to 4¾c.; fine off-stalk, 5 to 5¼c.; selected, 6 to 6¼c., and layers, 6½c.

California fruits remain steady with a little better enquiry. Two carloads of choice peaches consigned by Griffin & Skelley arrived this week; these are very fine. We quote: Apricots, 15 to 16c.; peaches, 8c., in bags, and 10 to 15c. in boxes; pears, 10½ to 12½c; plums, 6½c. for unpitted, and 12½c for pitted; nectarines, 11 to 13c.; loose muscatels, 5½ to 6½c. per lb.

Sultana raisins are quiet and unchanged at 5½ to 6c.

Dates still rule quiet at 4½ to 5½c.

Prunes are not yet attracting much attention. We quote: Bosnias, "Sphinx" brand, "A," 65 to lb. 9c.; "B," 75 to lb. 7¾c., "U," 102 to lb., 6½ to 6¾c.; California prunes, 40-50, 10 to 10½c. per lb.; 50-60, 9½c. per lb.; 60-70, 9c.; 70 80, 8½c. per lb.; French, 5 to 6c.

Eleme figs are quiet and unchanged. We quote: Eleme, 14 oz., 9 to 10½c.; 10 lb., 9½ to 12½c.; 12 lb., 12½c.; 28 lb., 15c.

GREEN FRUIT.

The orange market is firmer. California oranges are up fully 50c. per box on the Coast, and Valencias are 2s. to 3s. dearer in

THERE IS ONLY ONE

Liverpool. Some shipments of Valencia oranges have arrived on the Toronto market within the last few days in a damaged condition, but as the consignees will give them a thorough overhauling the trade is not likely to suffer. Lemons are not coming forward as liberally as they were, and the demand is fair. We quote: Lemons — Messina, $2.50 to $3.50 for 360's and 300's per box. Oranges—Jamaicas, $3 50 to $4; fancy, $4.25 to $4.50; California navels, $3.50 to $4; Valencias, 420's, $4 to $4 25; Jumbo's, 420's, $5 to $5.50; ditto, 714's, $4.75 to $5; Sevilles, $3 per box. Bananas, $1.25 to $1.75; cocoanuts, $3.50 to $4 a sack; apples, $1.50 to $3 a barrel; Malaga grapes, $5 to $7 per keg; domestic onions, 60 to 65c. per bag; Spanish onions,40 to 50c. per small crate; sweet potatoes, $3 to $3.25 per bbl.; cranberries, $9.50 to $10 per bbl. for first class, and $7 to $8 for ordinary, and $3 to $3.75 per case, according to quality; hickory nuts, $1.50 to $1.75 per bush.

BUTTER AND CHEESE.

BUTTER—Deliveries have fallen off materially during the past week on account of the weather, and, as a consequence, there is a firmer feeling in regard to values. The receipts are still largely confined to roll butter, and the demand is largely confined to these. Tub butter would be taken fast enough if the quality were right, but the trouble is that it is not. Dairy pound prints, if good, are wanted, but the same complaint applies to them as to tub butter. There is nothing new in regard to creamery butter. We quote: Early summer dairy store packed, 7 to 8c.; good to choice fresh packed, 15 to 16c.; large rolls, fresh, 15 to 16c.; dairy pound prints, 16 to 17c. Fresh creamery — Tubs, 19 to 20c.; do., pound prints, 20 to 22c.

CHEESE—Locally there is a fair demand, but the enquiry on export account is quiet. We quote: Summer make, 9c.; September and October, 9½ to 10c.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

BEANS—The demand is limited at $1 to $1.10 per bushel.

DRIED APPLES—Business continues light, with jobbers paying 4c. and selling at 4½ to 5c.

EVAPORATED APPLES—Continue dull at 6½ to 7c.

EGGS—Deliveries have been light during the past few days on account of the cold weather. For new laid and pickled the demand is good, but it is difficult to dispose of cold storage at any price. We quote: New laid, 17 to 18c.; pickled, 13 to 14c.; held fresh and cold stored, 12½ to 13c.

HONEY—Trade is slow and prices are easier. We quote: Strained, clover, 9 to 10c.; dark, 5c.; comb, clover, $1.80 per dozen; dark, 80c. per dozen.

POULTRY—Is scarce and firm, with prices a little higher. Nice bunches of turkeys have sold as high as 11c. per lb. We quote: Turkeys, 9 to 11c.; geese, 7 to 8c.; chickens, 40 to 60c.; ducks, 60 to 90c.

PROVISIONS AND DRESSED HOGS.

Since the cold snap set in the offerings of dressed hogs have not been quite as large. With milder weather freer offerings and easier prices are looked for. Several carloads were purchased the latter part of last week at $5 to $5.05, delivered. The ruling quotation at the moment is $5 for straight weights, and $5.10 for select weights, delivered in Toronto. Packers do not appear to be anxious buyers. A firmer feeling exists in regard to provisions and trading is moderate. There is a disposition on the part of buyers to make contracts ahead. Trade continues fairly good in lard. Prices are without notable change.

DRY SALTED MEATS—Long clear bacon, 6½c. for carload lots, and 6¾ to 7c. for small lots; backs, 8c.

SMOKED MEATS — Breakfast bacon, 10c.; rolls, 7¼ to 7½c.; hams, large, 22 lbs. and over, 9c.; medium, 15 to 20 lbs., 10c.; small hams, 10c.; backs, 9 to 9¼c.; picnic hams, 7c.; all meats out of pickle, 1c. less than above.

LARD—Pure Canadian, tierces, 8 to 8¼c.; tubs, 8½ to 8¾c.; pails, 8¾ to 9c.

BARREL PORK—Canadian heavy mess, $14.00; Canadian short-cut, $14 to $14.50; clear shoulder mess, $12; shoulder mess, $11.50.

FISH AND OYSTERS.

The market shows some improvement, and a fair Lenten trade is anticipated. We quote oysters: Standards at $1.30 to $1.35, and selects $1.70. Fish are quoted as follows: Skinned and boned codfish, 6½c.; boneless fish, 3½ to 4c.; haddock, 5 to 6c.; Labrador herring, $3.25 to $3.50 half barrel and $5.50 to $5.75 per barrel; Newfoundland herring, $2.50 per half barrel, and $4.50 to $4.75 per barrel; fresh water salt herring, $3 per barrel; blueback herring, 4c.; pike, 6 to 7c. per lb.; flitched cod, 5c.; finnan haddies, 6½c.; Digby herring, in bundles of 5 boxes, 11c.; ditto, lengthwise, 10c.; large halibut, 12 to

FLOUR AND FEED, HAY, ETC.

WHEAT—Deliveries are a little freer, but they are still light, with prices higher. We quote: White, 84 to 85c.; red, 82 to 83c.; goose, 67½c.

BARLEY—Steady, 1,200 bushels selling on the street on Wednesday at 38 to 43c.

OATS—Firm, at 28 to 29c.

PEAS—On the street 100 bushels sold at 57½ to 58c.

FLOUR—There is a good demand for patents, presumably on account of their relative cheapness in price, but generally speaking the flour market is quiet, with prices firm. We quote in job lots: Manitoba patents, $4.40 per bbl.; Ontario patents, $4.50 per bbl.; strong bakers', $3.80; family grades, $3.80 to $4.15.

BREAKFAST FOODS—Trade is quiet and and prices unchanged. We quote: Oatmeal, cornmeal and pot barley from 10 to 15c. lower; Standard oatmeal and rolled oats, $3.15; rolled wheat, $2.40 in 100-lb. barrels; cornmeal, $2.75; split peas, $3.25; pot barley, $3.25.

SEEDS.

The wholesalers are chiefly engaged in buying just now. There is not a great deal of alsike offering on account of the short crop of hay. Holders, particularly of red clover, have been asking better prices than the market warrants; and as the export season is nearly over, jobbers fear that too much for the domestic demand will remain on hand, in which event lower prices would obtain. We quote: Red clover, $4.75 to $5 per bushel; alsike, $3 to $4.50 per bushel.

SALT.

Trade is active at unchanged prices. We quote at Toronto: In carload lots, $1 per barrel, and 60c. per sack; in less than carload lots, $1.05 per barrel and 65c. per sack. At the wells we quote: F.O.B. barrels, 70c.; sacks 50c. for points west of Toronto, and 45c. for Toronto and points east of Toronto.

MARKET NOTES.

Indian and Ceylon teas are a little firmer.

Sugar is strong, with an upward tendency.

A good many apples are being shipped to the Old Country.

Butter and eggs are a little firmer on account of lighter receipts.

QUEBEC MARKETS.

MONTREAL, Feb. 20th, 1896.

GROCERIES.

IN a general jobbing way, the grocery market is not a brisk one. Business is quiet in most of the leading staples from first and second hands, which is surprising, considering that the tendency of values is firm. This is notably the case with sugar, though actual spot quotations are not altered. But if outside conditions are anything like a criterion they may advance at any moment. The same firmness is noted in the case of molasses. In fact, as noted editorially, further quotations from primary points for spring importation show sharp advances over the offers made on the same stock at this time last spring. Syrups naturally share in this strong feeling, and all the more so as stocks both in first and second hands are admitted to be light. Teas, coffees, and spices continue quiet. Dried fruits are steady, the most active line being California raisins, the turnover of which on this market is increasing every season. Their value also is pointing upward. Another notable feature has been a sharp advance in codfish of 50c., consequent upon the Lenten demand, and an unexpected light stock.

SUGAR.

The sugar market continues firm in its tendency, and advices during the week from outside points have ruled very strong. In New York, for instance, raws advanced ¼c. per lb. on Monday, 4c. being paid for 96 test centrifugal laid down there. Naturally, therefore, the feeling here is very firm though no actual change in quotations can be cited. At the refineries the demand, despite the firmness, has not been brisk, but the movement from jobbers' hands is good on the whole. At the refineries granulated in 250 bbl lots sold at 4 5-16c.; 100-bbl. lots, 4 11-16c, and smaller quantities, 4¾c. We quote jobbing prices: Granulated, 4⅞c.; yellows, 3¾ to 4⅜c., as to grade.

SYRUPS.

The firm feeling already noted in syrups is fully maintained. Stocks in first hands have been of narrow compass for several weeks back, and all this time supplies in second hands have been gradually shrinking. The result is a market barely supplied and holders firm in their views for the moderate business passing at 1¾c. for ordinary, and 2½ to 3c. for bright.

MOLASSES.

Latest intelligence testifies to the continued strength of this product in outside markets and at primary centres. The firm figures noted on Barbadoes and Porto Rico for forward delivery last week have been fully maintained. A cable on Tuesday, for instance, quoted Antigua at 31c. cost and freight Montreal, which is fully 6c. over the figures ruling in the same connection at the corresponding period last year. On spot demand is fair and a good volume of business is passing. Holders who were sellers of round lots of Porto Rico at 33c. net last week now want 34c. net ex store, and it may be mentioned that there is little on offer. In a jobbing way prices are firm. We quote: Barbadoes, 36 to 37c.; Porto Rico, 34 to 35c., and New Orleans, 25½ to 35c.

RICE.

There has been a fair trade passing in rice, and prices are firmly held. We quote as follows: Japan standard, $4.25 to $4.40; crystal Japan, $4.75 to $5; standard B., $3 45; English style, $3.30; Patna, $4.25 to $5, and Carolina, $6 50 to $7 50.

SPICES.

There has been a fairly active trade in spices, and prices rule steady. We quote: Pure black pepper, 10 to 12c.; pure white, 15 to 22c.; pure Jamaica ginger, 23 to 25c.; cloves, 15 to 20c.; pure mixed spice, 25 to 30c.; cream of tartar, French, 25 to 27c; ditto, best, 28 to 30c. per lb.; allspice, 12 to 15c.

COFFEE.

The coffee market continues quiet, and there is little news from the outside calculated to have any influence. We quote bean coffee as follows: Maracaibo, 19 to 21c.; Rio, 16½ to 20c.; Java, 28c.; Jamaica, 20c., and Mocha, 29 to 32c.

TEAS.

Trade generally has been dull with few features except a scarcity of both low grade Japans and blacks. Jobbers complain of difficulty in filling orders with this kind of stock. Otherwise there is little to report. We quote: Young Hysons, 10 to 18c. for low grades, 24 to 27c. for mediums, and 30 to 45 for high grades; China Congous, 11½ to 18c. for mediums, and 25 to 55c. for high grades; Japans, 12 to 20c. for mediums, 28 to 35c. for high grades; Indians and Ceylons, 18 to 22c. for mediums, and 30 to 65c. for high grades.

DRIED FRUIT.

The chief line, so far as activity in a jobbing way goes, is California raisins. The turnover of these fruit on the market has, as noted previously, been largely increased this fall and winter, and at present most of the business doing is in them. Stocks, however, are light, and prices very firmly held, as noted last week. We quote: 3-crown, 5½ to 6c., and 4-crown, 6¾ to 7c.

Currants are quiet and firm with nothing special to report. We quote: Barrels, 4c.; half-barrels, 4¼c., and cases, 4½ to 5½c. as to grade, the supply of the higher descriptions being very light.

Valencia raisins are very firm in tendency, but business is quiet. Stocks here are small, but will be sufficient for existing demand for some time. We quote: Ordinary off-stalk, 4 to 4¼c.; fine, 4½ to 4¾c.; selected, 5 to 5¼c., and layers, 6½ to 7c.

Advices on Sultana raisins have been firm in tone from primary markets, and continue so, and cables from London note a strong market there. Local business is moderate, and prices firmly held at 6 to 6¼c.

The prune market is without new feature. Advices on Bosnia have been firmer, and some of the larger sizes command more money this week, sales being made at 6½c., whereas 6¼c. was the top last week. Other kinds are without change, the easier feeling on the Coast on Californias not affecting the spot range, which has been pretty low ever since some large arrivals two or three weeks ago. We quote: French, 4½ to 5c.; Bosnia, 6¼ to 6½6c., and California 7½ to 15c., as to grade.

Figs continue quiet and unchanged: Bag figs, 4c.; ordinary boxes, 8½ to 9c., and fancy, 12 to 14c.

The date market is quiet at 4½ to 5c.

NUTS.

Continue featureless and dull, some slight shading on pecans being the only feature. We quote: Grenoble walnuts, 11½ to 12½c.; filberts, 7½ to 8c.; Tarragona almonds, 11½ to 12c.; pecans, 8 to 12c., and shelled walnuts, 15 to 19c.

CANNED GOODS.

There has been a fair jobbing demand for canned fish, such as mackerel, lobsters and salmon, in small lots. Canned vegetables are quiet and steady. We quote: Tomatoes, 72½ to 85c.; corn, 75 to 85c.; peas, 95c. to

WINES AND SPIRITS.

There is a fair trade doing in wines and spirits in a jobbing way. Business for import, however, still continues quiet.

GREEN FRUIT.

The chief feature of the green fruit market is the firmer cables on Valencia oranges, which are quoted 2s. higher at 12s., which would mean a cost laid down here of $4.25. The inside price here has, in consequence of this, been advanced to $4. Dried apples also have a rather firmer tendency. We quote : Oranges—Valencias, 420's, $4.00, and 714's, $4.25 to $4 50. Lemons, $2 to $3. Grapes, $5 to $6 per keg. Cranberries, $8.50 to $10 per barrel. Apples, $2 to $3.50 per barrel. Dried do. 4½ to 5c. Evaporated do. 6¼ to 6½c. Spanish onions, 40c. per crate.

FISH.

The only new feature in fish has been a sharp advance in green cod, owing to the Lenten demand, of 50c. per bbl. all round. Other kinds of fish are unchanged as to value, but a good demand is experienced for all kinds of fish. We quote: Fresh haddock, 3 to 3½c. per lb.; cod, 3c ; smelts 4 to 5½c. ; fresh frozen B.C. salmon, 9 to 10c. ; Manitoba whitefish, 7c. ; pickerel, 6½c. ; dore, 6½c. ; pike, 4 to 4½c. ; trout, 7c. ; tommycods, $1 to $1.75 per bbl. Choice pickled Labrador herrings, $5.25 ; No. 1 N.S. $3 to $4 ; No. 1 green cod, $5.00 ; No. 2, $3 50; No. 1 haddock, $3 ; No. 1 large codfish, $6 ; No. 1 lake trout, $4 to $4 25 ; B.C. salmon, $10.50; No. 2 Labrador salmon, $13 ; No. 1 mackerel, $18 50; Loch Fyne herrings, 85c. per keg, and $11 per bbl.; No. 1 sardines, $4 50 ; No. 1 dried cod, $4.25 to $4 50; boneless cod, 6c. per lb. ; boneless fish, 3¼c. ; boneless haddock, 5c. ; shredded, 11c. ; haddies, 6½ to 7c. per lb. ; bloaters, 90c. per box, and smoked herrings, 8 to 10c. per lb.

PROVISIONS.

Since the opening of the present week there has been some cutting in prices for round lots of short cut, clear pork, but in a jobbing way values are steady. We quote as follows : Canadian short cut, clear, $14 50 to $15; Canadian short cut, mess, $15 to $15.50; hams, city cured, per lb., 9 to 10c. ; lard, Canadian, in pails, 8c. ; bacon, per lb., 9 to 10c. ; lard, com. refined, per lb., 6¼c.

The market here this week is absolutely bare of dressed hogs, and it is impossible to quote them.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

EGGS—There has been continued easiness in fresh eggs in this market, and prices are 2c. lower than a week ago. Limed eggs are unchanged. We quote : Fresh, 20c. ; Montreal limed, 13 to 14c., and Western limed, 12 to 12½c.

BEANS — Remain dull under a jobbing enquiry, restricted to small lots. We quote: Car lots, hand-picked, $1 to $1.05, and small lots, $1.10 to $1.20.

POTATOES—Continue the same ; car lots, 30 to 32c., and jobbing lots, 35 to 40c.

ONIONS—Without change, yellows selling steady at $1.50 to $1.60, and red, $2.50 per bbl.

FLOUR, FEED AND MEAL.

Demand for flour has been chiefly confined to small jobb ng lots. Prices are the same as they were a week ago. We quote : Winter wheat, $4.40; spring wheat, patents, $4.25; straight roller, $4.10; straight roller, bags, $1.95 to $2; extra, bags, $1.75 to $1.85; Manitoba strong bakers', $4.

The firm feeling noted last week in oatmeal has been well maintained under a good jobbing enquiry. We quote : Standard, barrels, $3 10 to $3.20 ; granulated, barrels, $3 20 to $3.30 ; rolled oats, barrels, $3 10 to $3.20 ; rolled wheat, per 100 lbs., $2.40 to $2.50.

Feed rules steady in tone, with values precisely the same. We quote : Bran, $14 to $15 ; shorts, $15 to $16 ; mouillie, $19 to $20.

CHEESE AND BUTTER.

The cheese market is without change. Demand continues of the same indifferent character, very little new business of importance going through. Sales of fall makes, to the extent of a few hundred boxes, at 9c. was the only business noted. This was by a tired holder, and it is not certain that a buyer could secure the same price if he made a complete round of the market. On summer goods values were nominal at 8 to 8¼c. A well-known New York dealer was up here Monday, but whether he did any business could not be ascertained.

There is a steady sort of market for butter on local account, jobbers being quiet, but continued buyers of fine creamery at 20½ to 21c. Exporters are not in the market to any noticeable extent.

HAY.

The hay market has ruled steady at the decline noted last week. We quote : No. 1, $13.50 to $14, and No. 2, $12.50 to $13.

ASHES.

The ashes market continues quiet at last week's decline. We quote : First pots, $3.50 ; seconds, $3 25 ; and pearls, $5.

MONTREAL NOTES.

Leonard Bros. predict a strong market, not only on dried and pickled, but also on all kinds of fresh fish. They were very busy with the latter during the week.

Hudon, Hebert & Co., and J. A. Mathewson & Co. are offering this week some of the well-known "Bull" brand Porto Rico molasses.

The headquarters for the Province of Quebec for Enameline Stove Polish is with W. H. Dunn, St. Paul street, Montreal. This firm also report good orders for Cottam's bird seed, which they represent in the province.

Antigua molasses is cabled firm at the Islands at 6c. advance on what prices opened at last spring.

W. H. Dunn has just received this week a carload of Babbitt's 1776 powder and a carload of Babbitt's "Best" soap. Messrs. Babbitt have made the Montreal office their Canadian headquarters.

Rose & Laflamme expect a shipment of Batger's Seville orange marmalade, new pack, in about ten days.

NEW BRUNSWICK MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE CANADIAN GROCER.

ST. JOHN, N.B., Feb. 20, 1896.

A FAIR week's business is reported, but there is still no large volume to trade. There is some complaint that city accounts are hard to collect. It is said one reason for this is that our retailers buy a great many goods from travelers and from outside houses in other ways, which accounts are as a rule drawn against on short terms. These drafts are paid, and the city merchants selling goods on open account have to wait. In markets, the strong feeling continues, though advances during the week have been slight. In some cases markets are unsteady, owing to some merchants holding large stocks cutting prices. Molasses is in a much firmer condition here, owing to some large shipments west, and advices from the islands being that prices will open high. The shortage in New Orleans is also a factor.

OIL—There is but light movement. This is the quiet month; as days get longer, sales of burning oil are lighter, and demand for lubricating does not begin so early in the year. We quote: American burning oil, 23¼c.; best Canadian, 21½ to 21¾c.; prime, 19c. No charge for barrels.

SALT—It will be next month before this line shows much movement. Prices are easy. We quote: Coarse, 50 to 55c.; fine factory-filled, $1.10; 5-lb. bags, $3.25 per bbl.; 10-lb. bags, $3 per bbl.; 20-lb. boxes, 20c.; 10-lb. boxes, 12c.; cartoons, $2 per doz.; salt, bulk, $2.70 to $2 80 per bbl.

CANNED GOODS—Show better movement, with prices held firm. It is said by some retailers that a better class of corn, peas and tomatoes than the regular grade would sell. There is an unfortunate tendency on the part of some retailers to sell canned goods at cost, or very nearly, trusting to make up in some other way. This is not in the interests of honest business. A rather better demand is noticed for oysters. There is somewhat of a range in prices among packers. We quote as follows: Corn, 85 to 90c.; peas, 90 to 95c.; tomatoes, 90 to 95c.; gallon apples, $2 15 to $2.25; corned beef, 2-lb. tins, $2.50 to $2.65; 1-lb. tins, $1.60 to $1 65; oysters, 2's, $2 to $2.25; 1's, $1.60 to $1.65; peaches, 3's, $2.75 to $2.85; 2's, $1.90 to $2; pineapple, Canadian pack, $2.35; salmon, $1.40 to $1.50; lobsters, $1.75 to $2; haddies, $1.30; clams, $5 for 4 doz.; chowder, $2 75 for 2 doz.; scallops, $5.50 for 4 doz.; Digby chickens, $1; kippered herring, $1.10.

DRIED FRUIT—In place of Ontario buying dried apples in this market, as last year, they are offering below the price of the Nova Scotia goods. There is quite a range in evaporated, as quoted by dealers, and there is a tendency upward. A good demand is continued for cleaned currants, both bulk and in packages. Prices are very firm. Owing to shortage in foreign prunes a better demand is noted for Californias. If these goods will suit the trade they now have a good chance to get their work in. The peanut market appears to gain strength and some good orders have been placed. We quote as follows: Valencias, 4⅞ to 5c.; layers, 6 to 6¼c.; California L. M. 4-crown, 6 to 7c.; 3-crown, 5 to 6c.; London layers, $1.70 to $1.85. Currants, bbls., 3⅞ to 4c.; cases, 4¼ to 5c.; cartoons, cleaned, 7½c.; bulk, cleaned, 6½c.: prunes, kegs, 4c.; boxes, 4½ to 5c.: half-boxes, 6 to 8c.; dates, 4½ to 5c.; dried apples, 5c.; evaporated apples, 7 to 7½c.; California evaporated peaches, 12 to 13c.; apricots, 12 to 14c.; pears, 12 to 14c. Canadian onions, $2 25 to $2.50; cocoanuts, $3 to $4 per 100 lbs.; figs, 10 to 12c.; Sultana raisins, 7 to 8c.

HUGH WALKER & SON

GREEN FRUIT—There is no change in markets to note. A fair volume of business is being done, chiefly in oranges, Valencias moving most freely. Lemons show fair demand at the low figures. Very little will be done in bananas till the frost is gone. Good apples are becoming scarce and bring good figures. The low price of oranges tends to cause less demand for apples, the best of which at this season tend to be dry, our Nova Scotia apples perhaps more so than others. Cranberries in bushel boxes were received from Boston during the week. We quote: Apples, $2 to $2.75; oranges, $5 to $6 per bbl., $3 50 to $4 per box; Lemons, $2.75 to $3.50; Valencia oranges, $3.50 to $4; California oranges, seedlings, $2.50; navals, $3.50; pineapples, $2 50 to $3 per doz.; cranberries, $11 per barrel.

DAIRY PRODUCE—Cheese tends to firmer prices, but there is little active demand. Stocks held here are not large, and there are but few through the country. In butter the market is dull, there being large quantities to hand, and though good is scarce it is difficult to get extra price. Held eggs are dull, and demand for case eggs light. Fresh eggs will bring good price. We quote: Common dairy butter, 15 to 16c.; dairy, 17 to 18c.; new creamery prints, 23 to 24c.; cheese, 8½ to 9c.; creamery, tubs, 20 to 21c.; eggs, 17 to 19c. by case.

SUGAR—The market is strong and prices are well sustained. Much better stocks of granulated are held than of yellows. The local demand is not particularly large. We quote: Granulated, 4¾ to 4⅞c.; yellow, 4 to 4⅜c.; Paris lump, 5¼ to 5½c.; powdered, 5¼ to 5½c.

MOLASSES—The market here is firmer, owing to the quantity of Barbadoes shipped west. There is very little in small packages here except New Orleans, which is held firm at advance, and tends to higher prices. There is still a good demand for best syrup, which is also firm at the advance. A small quantity new Trinidad arrived this steamer. We quote: Barbadoes, 31 to 33c.; Porto Rico, 34 to 36c, bbls; New Orleans, 34 to 36c.; St. Croix, 28 to 30c.; syrup, 36 to 38c.

FISH—Fresh fish of all kinds are scarce, which is a loss to fishermen and merchants, as at this season there is good demand. A good movement is noticed in dry, which are firm at quotations. In pickled, prices shows no change, stocks are not large and there is fair sale. Smoked are dull. Shipments to the West Indies show but fair returns. The fact of but few fresh fish coming in puts almost a stop to the shipping of haddies. There is a fair movement in bone ess. We quote: Fresh haddock and cod, 2¾ to 3¼c. per lb.; dry, $1.50; large cod, $3 70 to $3.75; medium, $3.45 to $3 50; pollock, $1.50; bay herring, $1.25 to $1.30 per half bbl.; Ripplings, $1.65; Wolves, $1.85 to $2; new smoked, 5 to 6c.; Canso, $4 to $4.50 per bbl.; shad, half-bbl., $5 to $6; Grand Manan herring, half-bbl., $1.25 to $1.35; Shelburne, $3.75 bbl., $1.65 half-bbl.; boneless, 2½ to 8c.; ysters, $3 to $3.50 per bbl.; frozen herring, 80 to 90c. per 100.

PROVISIONS—In pork and beef there is but light movement. In pork, price continues to be lower than outside markets, and higher prices are looked for. Lard is firm though showing quite a range in price. A better movement is noted in smoked meats, which also tend upward. We quote: Clear pork, $15.50 to $16; mess, $14 to $14 50; beef, $13 to $14; domestic mess pork, $14 to $14.50; hams, 10 to 11c.; rolls, 8½c.; pure lard, 9 to 9½c.; compound, 7¾ to 8c.

FLOUR, FEED AND MEAL—There is a tendency, particularly in Manitoba flour, to cut prices, though higher prices are expected. Agents of Ontario mills find it hard to get flour to fill orders. Beans tend firmer; in meal there is no change, though for oatmeal market is tending upward. Oats are in rather lighter demand, with prices firm. Hay is firm. Some shipments are being made to the English market, but it is hard to see how returns are to be on the right side. Feed shows but light demand. We quote: Manitoba, $4 75 to $4.85; best Ontario, $4.55 to $4 65; medium, $4 40 to $4 50; oatmeal, $3 40 to $3 65; cornmeal, $2 25 to $2 30; middlings, $19 to $20 on track; bran, $18 to $19; hand-picked beans, $1.25; prime, $1.20; oats, 34 to 35c.; hay, $12.25 to $13; pot barley, $4; round peas, $3 65 to $3.75; split peas, $3.70 to $3.80; yellow-eye beans, $1.85; buckwheat meal, $1.30 to $1.35.

ST. JOHN NOTES.

A. L. Goodwin received 200 cases Valencia oranges this week.

"Cream" baking powder is finding a good demand from those who want fine goods. C. & E. Macmichael received a full line this week.

Theo. H. Estabrooks is having a splendid trade in syrups. He landed a shipment this week.

T. Collins & Co. have received a small lot choice Porto Rico in casks.

New Orleans molasses in barrels is filling a long felt want. Northrup & Co. make a point of keeping only the best grades.

James Patterson received part of the few fresh fish to hand this week.

THE GROCER extends congratulations to Allen Schofield, of Schofield Bros., the St. John agents of the E. B. Eddy Co., who was married last week.

John Sealy is finding an increased sale for his boneless fish. All goods are guaranteed.

Quite a business is being done shipping lobsters to Boston, where they bring 12 to 14c. They are caught at Black River.

A gentleman in Nova Scotia who shipped a sample lot of turkeys to London, England, has received the account sales and is well satisfied.

Nineteen ocean steamers have been in our port during January and February. The new warehouse 300 x 70 feet is completed. The cars which brought the American cattle for shipment were sealed by the Customs authorities and and sent back at once. Some potatoes for shipment have been bought as low as forty cents per barrel. ment is successful a better price will be offered in future, but this is understood to be ten cents better than the price in Maine.

Moncton's exports for 1895 were $180,000 ahead of these for 1894. The largest values being 62,000 tons plaster, 13,200,000 feet lumber, 1,200 cords tanbark, 1,000 tons manganese.

The winter creamery has been a great success in Charlottetown, turning out about a ton a day, distributing about $2,000 per week among the farmers who send the milk, of which there are only some 300 or 400. This business can be much extended, as there are 16,000 farmers on the island.

The plebiscite held in Fredericton regarding standard time resulted in a majority of 5 to 1 against its use, the merchants favoring it and mechanics and laborers voting against it.

Owing to the late closing of the Richibucto river, the smelt fishermen petitioned to have the season extended from the 15th, when it is supposed to close, to the end of the month. The Department have granted the request. So far some 400 tons have been taken. Large quantities of eels are also being shipped to the American market.

I have been so accustomed to seeing and using the word "shredded" in connection with codfish since Messrs. Beardsley's Sons have been advertising it in THE GROCER, that whenever I use the word codfish I seem to associate it with Beardsley's shredded. I made a mistake last week when writing my despatch in calling a new line put on the market by Leonard Bros. by that name. The word "shredded" is copyrighted by Messrs. Beardsley's Sons, New York, but whether it were or not, the Messrs. Leonard are too honorable to intentionally use the trade-mark adopted and the reputation built up by another firm. The error was due to no fault of theirs.

HALIFAX TRADE GOSSIP.

SO Halifax is to have cold storage. The old city by the sea moves slowly, but it is generally sure to get there. The want of cold storage has been felt for a long time. Of late it became an urgent necessity, and some of our business people, noticeable among them G. E. Boak, put their heads together and formed a company. Then they placed their views and scheme before the farmers and fruit growers of the province, and secured the co-operation of both the Farmers' and Fruit-growers' Associations, both of which are under the wing of the Local Government. The company has received an Act of Incorporation from the Local Parliament, and something else. The Government has guaranteed the interest on $100,000 capital stock, and the project is now assured. The cold storage building will likely be erected at Dartmouth.

R. J. Leslie, who has been engaged in the lobster packing business on a large scale in this province, has recently returned from London, where he has been making enquiries regarding the requirements of the English market in the line of Canadian canned goods. He informed THE GROCER that he had obtained information which will be of great value to the trade concerning the future development of this important industry. Mr. Leslie has formed a co-partnership with Guy C. Hart. The new firm will be chiefly interested in the handling of canned goods, and will represent the well known London house of George Hooper & Co., one of the largest handlers of lobsters and canned goods in the world, and formerly represented here by James Fraser and Mr. Hart. Their offices will be on Pickford & Black's wharf.

This has been another dull week in most lines.

Green fruits remain in plentiful supply and at moderate prices. A few packages were received from Boston on Monday.

The provision market is dull, and, with the near approach of Lent, offers no sign of improvement.

The fish market remains about as last week. There is good enquiry for grocery cod and herring, and prices are somewhat stiffer.

Sugar remains strong at the advance noted last week. Buying, however, at the refinery is not heavy, merchants being fairly well stocked.

Provisions remain low.

There have been no arrivals of molasses of late. A schooner load, bound to this port, has been lost off the western shore. Prices are firm.

Business in the breadstuffs line is fairly active for the middle of this dull month. The activity is caused by the advance of flour. There is a fair stock of flour here. We heard of a sale of a carload of Kent at $4.25 on this market at the close of last week, when one of our operators paid $4.05 at the mill for export shipment for the same shipment, which is equal to $4 25½ at Halifax, including wharfage, or $4.60 all rail. Thus the advance is heavily discounted by traders on our market.

Oatmeals are firm, but we do not note any material advance. Cornmeal is steady. Mill feeds are quiet.

Hay is offered freely, with no margin of profit between sellers and buyers, quotations being $11.70 to $12 per ton, although we hear of transactions at lower figures.

The following are the latest revised wholesale and jobbing prices: Ogilvie's or Five Roses, $4.70 to $4 80; Ontario made Manitobas, in wood, $4.40 to $4 50; Manitoba shipments in sacks, $4.25 to $4.35; Ontario and Manitobas, mixed, for patents, $4.40 to $4.50; 90 per cent. flour, $4 25 to $4.30; low grades, $3.45 to $3.70; oatmeal and rolled oats, $3.35 to $3.45; cornmeal, $2.17 to $2.25; middlings, per ton, $20 to $21; bran, $19 to $20; oats, per bushel, 35 to 36c.; cotton seed meal, per ton, $24; oat cake meal, per ton $25.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Alex. Swan, of Granite Creek, B.C., is in Toronto renewing old acquaintanceships. Mr. Swan is a brother of Henry and Robert Swan, the well-known grocers of King street east, and this is his first visit to Toronto since 1862, when he left for the gold fields of British Columbia. He is still engaged in mining operations.

Mr. J. Fred. Ramsay has returned from a six weeks' visit to Englapd and Scotland.

CONCERNING RETAILERS.

A. M. Little, general merchant, Guelph, after a successful and unbroken business career of over 28 years in the "Royal City," has sold his stock to S. L. Squire, a young man well known in that locality. Mr. Little, it is reported, will now take a trip to California. THE CANADIAN GROCER wishes Mr. Little a pleasant holiday and his successor a prosperous career.

Robert Barfett, general merchant, Newcastle, who was burned out by the recent fire, has started up again.

Mr. McKelvey, of Minden, has bought his stock back from his creditors, and will continue the business.

John E. Foreman, grocer, 69 Munro street, Toronto, died on Saturday. He had worked up a good cash business, and was much respected in the vicinity. He leaves a widow, who is carrying on the business, and one child.

HINTS TO BUYERS.

GUNN, FLAVELLE & CO. report that they have been able to catch up with their orders for "Maple Leaf" brand of lard, and shipments will now go forward regularly.

A carload of Windsor salt arrived this week for Davidson & Hay.

J. W. Lang & Co. have arriving a nice line of New Orleans molasses in half-barrels.

The Quincy corn popper, a sure seller, is in stock with H. P. Eckardt & Co.

Davidson & Hay are showing some special values in Japans to sell for a quarter.

Davidson & Hay are offering "Oyster Bay" canned asparagus, in square key-opening cans.

T. Kinnear & Co. are in receipt of a carload of New Orleans molasses in barrels and half-barrels.

H. P. Eckardt & Co. have a full line of fish on hand, and the firm reports that prices are right.

P. C. Larkin & Co. report that the past week was the largest in the history of "Salada" Ceylon tea.

California choice pitted plums and white nectarines, in 25-lb. boxes, now in stock with H. P. Eckardt & Co.

"'Kurma' tea is getting there, and on its merits too," report Davidson & Hay, the wholesale agents for this tea.

John Sloan & Co. are in receipt of Sultana raisins; also California dried fruits in peaches, plums and nectarines.

California evaporated fruits are having a large sale with T. B. Escott & Co. The firm reports that it is in a position to handle them at a little lower figure than many houses.

Davidson & Hay report the arrival of California prunes, all sizes, and California silver prunes in 25-lb. boxes.

Rutherford, Marshall & Co. have a consignment of finnan haddie, "King" brand, in stock in pound tins, four dozen tins to the box.

W. H. Gillard & Co. are offering to the trade an exceptionally fine line of choice peaches in 25-lb. boxes, and in bags of about 80 lbs.

T. Kinnear & Co. have in stock a shipment of Griffin & Skelley's California goods, consisting of 3 and 4-crown raisins, 50-to-60 plums, 60-to-70 plums and 110 plums.

The Eby, Blain Co., Ltd., have received a shipment of Bensdorp's "Royal Dutch" cocoa. They claim it is the most popular cocoa in the market and is still gaining ground.

T. B. Escott & Co., London, have arriving a large shipment of Indian teas, bought before the recent advance, which they are offering at old prices. They show good value.

P. C. Larkin & Co. report that the sale of their "Ideal" packer is extending to all parts of the earth, they having shipped to Winnipeg, Baltimore, Chicago, London, Eng., and now have an enquiry from Sydney, New South Wales.

This coming week, W. H. Gillard & Co. will be in a position to fill all orders for their genuine Seville orange marmalade, which they state will be as pure as the best selected Seville oranges and Redpath's extra standard granulated sugar can make it. They anticipate a large sale. The first carload of genuine Seville oranges arrived this week.

The Eby, Blain Co., Ltd., are offering, during Lenten season, fish, including fresh water herrings, Labrador herrings (No. 1 inspected), whitefish, trout, scaled herrings and boneless fish of all kinds, at special prices.

"Cream Sodas" were first put up in 3-lb. tins by the Toronto Biscuit and Confectionery Co., who have registered the name, and persons using any other manufacturer's "Cream Sodas" are liable to get into trouble, as the T. B. & C. Co. have instructed their solicitors to prosecute every infringement of their rights in this matter.

H. Walker & Son have just to hand this week a car of extra fancy California Washington navels, Sunflower and Yosemite brands, packed at Redlands, handsome, heavy, juicy fruit, free from frost. Also, car Valencia oranges, 420's and 714's, ex ss. Labrador.

BANKRUPT STOCK SALES.

At Suckling's on Wednesday, these stocks were sold: The fancy goods stock of McCabe, Robertson & Co., invoiced at $20,500, was sold to Josephine A. Robertson at 47¾c. on the dollar. The hardware stock of B. G. Kelly, Clarksburg, valued at $780, was sold to John M. Steele for 43c. on the dollar. The dry goods stock of George A. Chrysler, of Brantford, valued at $7,400, was sold to F. G. Ramsey, of Dunnville, for 64c. on the dollar. Graham & Cathcart's general stock, Stuttsville, invoiced at $1,600, was bought by R. H. Graham for 53c. on the dollar. The general stock of James Irwin & Co., Brussels, amounting to $2,700, was sold to W. B. Gould, of Port Hope, for 25c. on the dollar

HALF TOMATO, HALF POTATO.

The curious effect of grafting tomatoes and potatoes has been shown by recent experiments, says an American exchange. Two tubers were planted in separate pots on March 22, and when about four or five inches high the plant was cut off half an inch from the level of the soil, and a graft of a tomato plant introduced on May 8. The result of this has been that the potato, nourished by the tomato plant above ground, produced a crop of potatoes in the pot, and also the tomato plant above ground produced a fairly good crop of tomatoes, nourished by the potato roots in the pot.

This process was reversed with even more curious effect. The tomato plant was cut off half an inch above the surface, and the potato graft introduced. The tomato roots did not, of course, produce potatoes, but the potato plant above ground produced one truss of flowers and seven berries; and in order to extend this somewhat interesting experiment, the tomato flowers have been fertilized with potato pollen and the potato flowers with tomato pollen for further experiment next year. On examining the plant recently it was found that two of the potatoes growing on tomato stalks appeared suddenly to be aware of the fact, and, although producing flowers and berries, they have not yet produced tubers, and, it being "never too late to mend," they produced tubers from the axils of the leaves and stems.

This is the season for colds—colds that irritate and hang around the system. You should be a benefactor to your neighbors, and have on hand a full line of B. F. P. cough drops.

Confederation Life Association

HEAD OFFICE, TORONTO

The demand for a contract guaranteeing a fixed income for a term of years has led to the adoption by the Confederation Life Association of the Guaranteed Income Policy, under which is guaranteed to the beneficiaries, under the contract, or if policy is on the Endowment Plan, to have the insured, should he survive the period, a fixed annual income for ten years of $100 per year, or for twenty years at $50 per year, as the case may be, for each $1,000 of insurance held.

All the benefits and privileges, such as Extended Insurance, Paid-up and Cash Values, etc., as at present given under the ordinary Unconditional Policy, attach also to the Guaranteed Income Contracts, and the fact that such a policy relieves the anxiety as to investment should make it very popular.

The Head Office or any of the agents of the association will be glad to quote rates on application.

Copied Again

Our Cream Sodas in 3-lb. tins are already being imitated. The words "Cream Sodas" we have registered and mean to protect. Handle the original Cream Sodas. We are the originators for the imitators. Genuine Cream Sodas are put up in 3-lb. tin boxes with a blue label, white letters. We are the only people who, by law, can make "Cream Sodas."

DROPS FROM THE EDITOR'S PEN.

There is money in seizing golden opportunities.

A cheap clerk is often a dear piece of machinery.

"Elbow grease" is not as rare as gold, but it is more valuable.

A man has no right to loll in leisure till he has perspired in labor.

Sleep is as unnatural to the advertisement as it is natural to the advertiser.

A man's a man for a' that, whether he be big or whether he be little merchant.

The quick and obliging clerk is a jewel to the merchant and a joy to the customer.

The ideal merchant is he who can originate as well as imitate other people's schemes.

Those who would rush their country into war are neither good business men nor good patriots.

There is no saccharine matter in a smile, but it is sweetness to the customer who receives it.

Variableness in window displaying demonstrates continuity of purpose in securing trade.

When mercantile heads are brought together some brilliant ideas ought to be knocked out.

Following upon prompt payment of accounts comes prompt recognition of a merchant's worth.

Slowness in starting is fatal in business as well as in racing. When you decide to do a thing, do it.

Commercial travelers who were last week stalled for hours in snow banks, surrounded with much cold and snow and little or no food, would gladly have exchanged places with unappreciative clerks in warm warerooms who think the traveler's life is an easy one.

"G" stands for grip, a disease most vile and distressing, which cannot be got rid of without much caressing.

Good demeanor in a clerk is much more to be desired than good looks, and fortunately all can acquire it.

It is not enough to keep the store door open; a supply of good bait should also be kept constantly on hand.

New goods, like new people, need to be introduced, and the best way of introducing them is through the trade paper.

The young clerk who allows little and unpleasant details to master him can never become a thorough master of his business.

If you have not a good appetite for the business in which you are engaged it is not likely to provide you with many luxuries.

The fundamental object in forming a business men's association should be the increasing of the members' efficiency as merchants.

The trade paper is the cable which conveys the electricity of information from the manufacturer and wholesaler to the retailer.

Never reject honest criticism. It is both the whetstone which sharpens the edge and the flame which tempers the steel of your ability.

The merchant who is wide awake has one eye open for the selling of his goods and the other open for the buying of goods that will sell well.

Why spend ye your strength for nought in pushing goods that bring no profit when there are articles to be procured that will bring dollars to your purse and less worry to your soul?

Down in Florida they are raising strawberries, while we in this part of the world are eating their strawberries while watching our icicles grow.

He who obtains his bread by the sweat of his own brow is an infinitely better man than he who obtains it by the sweat of other people's brows.

A merchant cannot expect to be an expert advertiser at the first venture; but until he makes the first venture he can never be an expert.

The cause of failures is not so much that there are too many in business, as that there are too many in business who do not know how to do business.

The proper thing to do in the presence of difficulties is to try and deal them a knock-out blow, and not shiver and shake like an aspen in their presence.

A Kentucky grocer found a diamond ring in a barrel of sugar which he opened the other day. It is loss a great many grocers in Canada find in their sugar.

The business world is so full that many a poor fellow is being crowded out from it into oblivion, and yet there is still room and to spare for men of energy and ideas.

Merchants who handle good goods are building their business on a rock, while he who essays to build on notoriety and cheap goods is laying his foundation in sand.

No two men are possessed by the same ideas. And it is for this reason forsooth that merchants should fraternize with each other when and wherever opportunity offords.

People who essay to spring into affluence at a bound usually find they must come down from their high perch and begin to climb from the lowest rung of the ladder; in other words, begin over again.

WESTERN ASSURANCE COMPANY.

FORTY-FIFTH ANNUAL MEETING OF SHAREHOLDERS.

THE annual meeting of the shareholders of the above company was held at its offices in this city on Thursday, the 20th inst. Mr. Geo. A. Cox, president, occupied the chair, and Mr. C. C. Foster, having been appointed to act as secretary to the meeting, read the annual report of the directors.

The report showed that there had been a considerable increase in premium income over that of the preceding year, and that in the fire branch a satisfactory profit had been realized, which result was due mainly to the moderate loss ratio on the business of the company in the United States. In the marine department it was shown that on account of the low water in the lakes and rivers during the past season and from other causes the general experience of companies engaged in that business had been particularly unfavorable. Under these circumstances last season's operations on the lakes had shown a loss which materially affected the total result of the business of the company for the year.

The following is a summary of the

The president, in moving the adoption of the report, said :

In considering the report, shareholders should bear in mind that the year with which it deals has been, in many respects, a remarkable one in our business. It will be remembered by those connected with fire and marine underwriting in this country as a year which brought with it disasters of an exceptional character—heavy losses upon classes of business regarded as the most desirable—and, therefore, as one which was generally disappointing in its results to insurance companies. Under these circumstances, I feel that we may claim that there is more matter for congratulation in the balance-sheet now before you than there has been in many of the annual statements we have had the honor of presenting to shareholders, in which, under more favorable conditions, our revenue account exhibited a much more substantial balance of income over expenditure than is shown as the outcome of our transactions for 1895.

The serious fires in the early part of the year in this city, involving an aggregate loss of some two million dollars, are, no doubt, fresh in the minds of shareholders. The "Western" was called upon to pay to its policy-holders in these disasters $102,500, about one-half of which, however, was covered by re-insurance in other companies. Closely following these came other fires of exceptional magnitude, to which I need not refer in detail, but I may say that, on the whole, the company never experienced a more unfavorable opening in any year than its fire records show for the first three months of 1895. The ultimate profit shown on our fire business at the end of the year was, therefore, as gratifying to us as it was reassuring to the theories we have entertained based on the doctrine of average. It will be of interest to shareholders to know that we regard the existing arrangement for the joint management and supervision of the United States branches of this company and those of the British America Assurance Company as contributing in no small measure to this favorable result. This arrangement, as will readily be understood, enables the companies to provide for a more thorough inspection of their risks, and a more efficient oversight of their agencies than could be secured, without undue expense, by either company independently ; and, as intimated in the report, it is to the profits from our fire agencies in the United States that we have had to look in the past year to make up our losses in other departments. In some previous years, it will be remembered, our experience has been the reverse of this, and these varying results in different fields go to confirm the wisdom of the policy of extending, as widely as possible, with proper provision for local supervision, the operations of companies engaged in the business of fire insurance, and enabling them thus to distribute over a wide area the burden of conflagrations, such as experience has shown us may occur at any time and at any place where large values are concentrated. It is, I may say, the recognition of the vital importance of this principle—and the conduct of the business upon these lines—that enables the British, American and Canadian companies, operating throughout this continent, to offer property-holders a guarantee of indemnity from loss by such disasters ; and I will say further that it is the absence of facility for the application of this essential principle of insurance, namely a wide distribution of risks of moderate amount, that must be fatal to any scheme for municipalities assuming the fire risks upon the property of their citizens, as it has been suggested they should do by some ardent social reformers, who appear to lose sight of the fact that investors will look for larger returns in the way of interest on municipal bonds, if they are called upon to assume greater risks than are undertaken by the shareholders of an insurance company. In making this reference, I wish it to be understood that I speak as one more largely interested in the debentures of the City of Toronto and the general credit of the city than in the stocks of our fire insurance companies.

Although the fire business has always been our chief source of income, we have, as you are aware, almost since the organization of the company, been engaged to a limited extent in marine underwriting. In this branch our operations during recent years have been chiefly confined to the inland lakes and rivers. From this source we have, on the whole, over a series of years, derived a moderate margin of profit, but from various causes the record of the lakes for the past season has been one of continual disaster to shipping, the casualties having been, as far as can be judged from published records, more than double those of any preceding year in the amount of property lost. As a consequence we have to report a very considerable loss on the business of the year in this branch, the losses and expenses having exceeded the premiums by upwards of $100,000. I have little doubt that as a result of the generally unprofitable nature of last season's business an improvement in rates, which is recognized on all hands as necessary, will be brought about before the opening of navigation. Failing this there would appear to be no course open to us but to discontinue this branch of our business altogether.

I may briefly summarize the past year's experience of the company by saying that the profits on our fire business were practically absorbed by the losses of our marine branch, and that our interest earnings were sufficient to pay (after providing for the amount written off for depreciation in securities) about 7 per cent. upon our capital stock, the additional 3 per cent. required to make up the usual dividend being taken from the reserve fund accumulated from the surplus of previous years. On account of the larger volume of business on our books we have increased the amount estimated as necessary to run off unexpired policies to $794,460. The actual liability under this reserve is, of course, dependent upon the number and amount of the policies which may become claims before the expiry of the term for which the premiums have been paid. Similar estimates in previous years, however, have proved to be more than ample, and our reserve for this purpose, I may say, is considerably larger for our volume of business than that set aside to provide for unexpired risks in the statements of any of the British companies which have come under my notice.

At the last annual meeting we reported that the company had re-insured all the risks in Canada of the United Fire Insurance Co., of Manchester, England, which company ceased operations in this country on the 15th of January, 1895. The liability under this contract is nearly run off, leaving a profit to the company, in addition to some new connections which promise to be of permanent advantage.

It would, of course, be premature at this date to attempt to form an estimate of the probable outcome of the present year, but it is, nevertheless, gratifying to be able to say that our experience thus far in 1896—both as to volume of business and moderate loss ratio—has been very satisfactory, and taking into account the evidence which the report now before us presents of the ability of the company to meet out of the year's premium receipts such exceptional calls upon it as the losses of the past year, I think we may say, without laying ourselves open to the charge of optimism, that the prospects of the present year—in fact, of the future of the company—are very encouraging.

In conclusion, I wish to bear testimony to the ability and zeal which the officers and agents of the company have shown in furthering its interests during the past year.

The vice-president, Mr. J. J. Kenny, seconded the adoption of the report, which was carried unanimously.

The election of directors for the ensuing year was then proceeded with, and resulted in the unanimous re-election of the old board, viz.: Messrs. George A. Cox, Hon. S. C. Wood, Robt. Beaty, G. R. R. Cockburn, M.P., Geo. McMurrich, H. N. Baird, W. R. Brock, J. K. Osborne and J. J. Kenny.

At a meeting of the Board of Directors held subsequently, Mr. George A. Cox was elected president and Mr. J. J. Kenny vice-president for the ensuing year.

FOLLOW ONE RULE.

If you undertake to do a satisfactory credit business make up your mind, says an exchange, to follow one rule: Never, under any circumstance, credit anyone of whom you have the least doubt as to his ability and intention to pay when the bill falls due. If there are any doubts in your mind either as to the party's ability to pay or good intention in making the purchase, it is well to miss the sale rather than to charge the goods. It is through allowing your best judgment to be carried away through personal or sympathetic reasons that one makes the worst mistakes in charging goods. You must handle your credits in a cold blooded, strictly business way, judging every person upon the same basis, and being more afraid of making a bad charge than you are of losing a sale. You would better lose the sale ten times over at the store than to furnish the goods to the customer and get no pay for them. One sale made and no money received for it eats up the profits on a great many other sales, for which you may get pay.

TRAVELING GENERAL STORE.

On some of the southern railroad lines, according to an exchange, a kind of traveling general store is used. This is known as a "supply car," and is stocked by the railroad company on whose line it runs. The purpose of the car is to furnish the track hands with supplies, saving them the necessity of losing time in going to market. It is stocked with everything that a laborer requires for his family, and goes over the road twice a month. The men are furnished whatever supplies they want at cost, with ten per cent. added to cover handling. They are not compelled to buy from the car, but it is almost universally patronized.

Grand Manan is to have a lobster canning factory. It is expected to be running by the middle of April. Large quantities of lobsters are caught there, and a profitable business should be done.

The directors of the Berlin Elevator Co. have decided to accept the offer made by George Rumpel, which was $1,200 cash, and the shareholders will receive 20 cents on the dollar.

PROPOSED DUTY ON PULP.

"ABOUT one hundred thousand cords of wood go into the manufacture of paper pulp each year in Canada, while in the same space of time between 500,000 and 600,000 cords are exported into the United States, and are there manufactured into pulp and then into paper."

These were some of the figures given by Mr. W. H. Rowley, secretary-treasurer of the E. B. Eddy Company, one of the largest paper manufacturers in Canada. Mr. Rowley strongly advocates an export duty being placed on pulp wood, thus preventing the wood in its raw state being exported into the United States. This, he stated, would have the effect of opening up pulp mills in Canada, the employment of thousands of men and would altogether give the Dominion the benefit which is now derived by the people of the United States to the detriment of Canada. A number of prominent pulp and paper manufacturers met recently and organized what is known as the Canadian Pulp Makers' Association. Among those who are prominently identified are Mr. F. H. Clergue, of the Sault Ste. Marie Mills; Mr. John Forman, of the Laurentide Pulp Company; Mr. John Davy, of the West Canada Pulp Company; Mr. John R. Barlow, of the Georgetown and of the Cornwall mills; Mr. W. H. Masterman, of the Masterman Pulp Co., and Mr. Rowley, of the E. B. Eddy Co.

As Mr. Rowley gave these names he spoke of the Sault Ste. Marie mills as a fair example of what might be done throughout Canada. "Here was a plant," he said, "in which $2,000,000 of United States capital was invested for the purpose of producing pulp for the American markets. This, with a little careful handling and a tariff rightly applied, could be duplicated throughout Canada, and the United States, instead of receiving the raw material from this country, would receive instead the finished article—pulp. You see," Mr. Rowley explained, "the United States depends entirely upon Canada for her supply of pulp wood to-day. She has depleted her forests, while ours teem with this ever-valuable product. We have water-power in abundance, a very necessary adjunct to the manufacture of wood pulp. For every cord of wood which to-day is exported into the United States for the manufacture of pulp, not over $6 per cord, including railway freights, is left in Canada. But for every ton of pulp which goes into the United States $18, $20 and even as high as $30 per ton is left in Canada."

"That can mean but one thing," continued Mr. Rowley, "and that is millions of money for the Dominion and the employment of thousands of men."

He then went on to speak of the recent trip to Ottawa in which a proposition to put a tariff on the raw material was placed before the Government.

He said that every company in Canada was represented either in person or by letter, and to a man they favored it. In the morning the delegation were received by Hon. W. B. Ives, Hon. J. F. Wood and Hon. Col. Prior, and in the afternoon by Sir Charles Tupper and Hon. George E. Foster. What was asked the Government was that a tariff of not less than $2 per cord be placed on pulp wood when the same was consigned to the United States. When pulp is taken into the United States a duty of 10 per cent. is charged by that Government, and it was considered that the $2 per cord asked for would about equalize the duty thus imposed against the Canadian manufacturer. Some, indeed, favored a duty so high that the raw material could not be exported under any consideration.

The matter, Mr. Rowley states, was received by the members of the Government with a feeling very much akin to enthusiasm, and the delegation was promised that the matter would have the serious consideration of the Government at an early date.

In conclusion, Mr. Rowley said that as three-quarters of the paper used to-day in the United States was the direct product of the Canadian forests, he considered that at least the Canadian should be put on an equal footing with his cousin across the line, and that the benefits which nature had showered upon Canada should be shared by Canada's sons.—Star, Montreal, Feb. 25.

THE DEPARTMENT STORE EVIL.

THE Toronto Globe of Friday last devoted three-fourths of a column on its editorial page to a discussion of the departmental store problem. The agitation against the department store it likens to that which arose when machinery entered into competition with hand labor. As for the stores themselves The Globe justifies them as being a development of the economic conditions of to-day, and consequently that any attempt to interfere with them would be interference with a natural law. If, it opines, the department store does not perform the offices claimed for it, then it will die; but let it die of its own volition, do not kill it.

THE CANADIAN GROCER cannot agree with the premises taken by The Globe on this important question.

We have no quarrel with the department store because it is a store with many departments. It is not in this that its evil lies. Anything that is natural cannot with truth be termed an evil.

There is a law in business as well as in nature, and it is because departmental stores are violating this business law that they are evils. The most flagrant of these violations is in regard to prices: goods are sold every day at a figure which is not based on their cost, but on their ability to draw trade away from the regular merchant who deals in these particular lines. The Globe overlooks this phase of the matter altogether. And yet this is the pivot on which turns the whole question. The ordinary live storekeeper has no great fear of the departmental store when it preserves the ratio between the reasonable and unreasonable prices; in other words, when it sells its goods at a figure which is based upon the cost.

There is not a branch of trade to-day—certainly not a branch in the staple lines—in which the margin of profit is other than narrow, owing to the keenness of the competition that exists. Consequently the department store cannot make matters much worse as long as it follows the natural business law and sells its goods at a small profit.

The effect of placing a commodity on the market at or below its cost price is the unsettlement of trade. Of course we have no reference to such lines as have lost their original market value through one or many circumstances. We mean goods the price of which is being deliberately cut. The Globe will doubtless agree with us that this is not to be countenanced. And this is the chief lever which the departmental store uses to build up its own trade and level to the ground that of the ordinary dealer.

The machinery which supplants hand labor or other machinery does so because it can produce more cheaply the article manufactured: It does not make the article at less than the cost; in fact, it is quite possible the profit on the article made by the more modern method secures to the maker a greater profit, although sold at a lower price, than the article produced by the method which it superseded. This is quite different to selling articles below cost in order to coax customers away from the grocer, the hardwareman, the dry goods man, the furniture man, etc.

These large department stores have expenses, and enormous expenses, to meet. And what they lose on bargains they make up on other lines. Ask anyone who is conversant with prices on the different articles handled by these stores and you will be told that although they take it off the profit on one line, they stick it on with interest on other lines. The average consumer is ignorant of this, and imagines that he can buy at the department store to better advantage nearly everything he requires. That is the stage to which the department store proprietor studies to get the public.

The fruit of this is ruined merchants, empty stores, depreciated store property. And it is not produced by natural means, mind you. On the contrary, it is by going contrary to the ethics of business. Yet we are told by The Globe that we must be careful to do nothing that will interfere with the development of the department store.

THE CANADIAN GROCER would not for one moment suggest the wiping out of the department stores. The big stores themselves are doubtless an outcome of economic conditions. It is their methods that are unnatural and evil.

It is natural for a stream to flow towards the sea; but it is just as natural for men to devise ways and means for keeping a stream from overflowing its banks and breeding destruction and death.

It is quite natural for mammoth stores to develop; but it is just as natural that ways and means should be devised for curtailing the evil that these stores are doing through evil practices.

CANADA HAS BEEN THE GAINER.

THE introduction of the bill in the British House of Commons making permanent the restrictions placed upon the importation of live cattle into the United Kingdom extinguishes forever the hope that cattle from the Dominion will be permitted to enter that country again on the hoof.

We do not expect that any serious protest will be entered by the Dominion. It would be unlikely to have any effect if we did; and then the restrictions have not wrought so much injury to Canada as it was expected they would. But we are, nevertheless, anything but pleased at the decision of the British Government to lock the door and throw away the key.

Canada has yet to be convinced that pleuro-pneumonia exists among her cattle. We have appointed the leading veterinary surgeons of the country to investigate, and although they sought with much pains for a trace of the dreaded disease none could they find.

The cases which were alleged to have been discovered in the cattle which had been landed in Great Britain, were never satisfactorily proved to the Scottish experts to be pleuro-pneumonia. They in fact declared that it was not, the opinion of those representing the British Board of Agriculture notwithstanding.

Canada will never consider the bill now before the British House of Commons anything other than unjust. The restrictions put on two or three years ago affected the reputation of our cattle; the bill in question deepens the stain, while at the same time denying us opportunity of proving what we are confident ourselves is true, namely, that there is no pleuro-pneumonia in Canada.

The truth of the matter is, the British agriculturists, who are behind the Government in this matter, do not desire to prove that Canadian cattle are free from the dreaded disease. What they want is protection for their home market, and as they are stronger than their Scottish confreres, who want our cattle, they are getting what they desire. If they essayed to get it under its proper name they know they would fail, but they artfully secure a law to prohibit the importation of live cattle into their markets by the roundabout way of inducing the Government to introduce a measure such as that which is now before the House.

But Canada, after all, has not suffered so badly since the restrictions were placed upon her cattle in the British market in the fall of 1892. Even in cattle itself, the result is not so bad as might have been expected. True, last year we sent to Great Britain 15,563 head—or 14.85 per cent.—less than in 1892 but that was over 5,000 head in excess of our exports in 1894.

But in 1892 we did not send one pound of beef, the product of Canada, to Great Britain, and only 3,705 pounds in 1893, but in 1895 we shipped 5,324,793 pounds, an increase of 60 per cent. over the preceding year. The beef we hitherto sent out by our ports was the product of the United States.

Then in exports of hides, hoofs, horns, etc., to all countries, the value was 46.46 per cent. greater in 1895 than during the last year that Canada's cattle had free access to the English market.

Taking the aggregate value of the exports of live cattle and beef to England, and hides, etc., to all countries, for 1895 and 1892, we find the figures $8,107,324 and $7,958,803 respectively. Obviously, we have not lost much in dollars. On the contrary, taking into account what has been paid out in wages at home, we have been the gainers.

UNSATISFACTORY BACON CONDITIONS.

THE CANADIAN GROCER has had occasion several times within the last few weeks to refer to the gratifying success which Canadian bacon has met with during the past year on the English market. It is with some regret, therefore, that we deal with conditions that are not so favorable. Fortunately, however, no fault lies at the door of Canada.

The trouble is with the market. According to private advices received this week by a Toronto exporter, the market in Liverpool for the past week or two has ruled so dull that it has been simply impossible to make sales of even the finest qualities of bacon from this side of the Atlantic, and this notwithstanding that prices have declined four or five shillings per cwt.

The cause of this unsatisfactory condition of affairs is the enormous quantities of Danish bacon which have been consigned to the British market, which have sold down to about equivalent to five cents per pound for Wiltshire sides, or about the price that is ruling to-day for Canadian dressed hogs, select weights.

A part of last year saw the British market in about the worst condition it was ever in, and yet it was the best year Canada ever experienced in an export way. It is to be hoped that the present conditions will not prevent a repetition of last year's experience.

INIQUITOUS CUSTOMS RULINGS.

Canadians who have apples for export are wishing just now that the United States tariff was not as high as it is on this point.

There are buyers on the other side of the boundary line who are making a bid for Canadian greenings, and the difference between them and the sellers is the amount of the duty, namely, 20 per cent.

Even if it could be assured that the duty would be only 20 per cent. on the cost price it is possible a deal might be effected; but the trouble is this cannot be assured. And it is all because of those sharp underhand methods which Customs officials in the States—and in Canada too, sometimes—have of increasing the amount of duty without increasing the rate.

For instance, a short time ago an American buyer bought a carload or so of apples from an exporter in Toronto, paying $1.80 per barrel, f.o.b. point of shipment.

When the shipment reached the boundary line, the Customs official at that point refused to accept the invoice price of $1.80 as a basis upon which to figure the duty, but fixed an arbitrary price himself of $2 per barrel and, in addition to this, imposed a fine of $100.

Since then buyers to the south who have wanted our apples have been somewhat at their wits' end.

THE CANADIAN GROCER also hears of a similar case in regard to turnips. The turnips had been bought at eight cents per bushel, but the Custom house officer fixed the price at twelve cents per bushel when it came to calculating the duty.

MEXICAN ORANGES IN CANADA.

IT is probable that the last shipment of Mexican oranges for the season has arrived on the Toronto market.

Before this season the Mexican orange was an unknown fruit on this market, but it has made so many friends in the trade that it may hereafter be looked for as a regular visitor.

The quality of the orange is excellent, and, compared with that of Florida growth, is declared by the trade to be superior.

The Mexican orange has not only heretofore been a stranger in Canada, but in many parts of the United States as well. St. Louis has seen a few and so have places in Texas and Kansas, but the Chicago market has not made their acquaintance till this year.

The appearance of this orange as a factor in the market is due partly to the failure of the crop in Florida; but the direct reason is the enterprise of a citizen of the United States.

The trouble in previous seasons with the Mexican orange was that it was not properly packaged. It was, as a rule, put up in barrels, and if not in barrels it was shipped in cases or boxes which had been previously used for some other commodity.

This season an American conceived the idea of buying Mexican oranges as they grew on the trees and taking down with him properly made cases to pack them in. The result of this is that Mexican oranges have made the acquaintance of people in the United States and Canada that they never knew before.

The enterprising American in question bought, it is said, about 180 carloads of Mexican oranges, clearing about $75 per car. He was entitled to all he made.

OUTLOOK FOR MALAGA RAISINS.

Mr. W. C. Bevan, of W. C. Bevan & Co., Malaga, Spain, was in Toronto on Tuesday. The day was cold and clear, and Mr. Bevan was enjoying it like a native Canadian. "I came to America," he said as he threw back his shoulders, "to get cold weather. I have been suffering from fever, and when I landed in New York and saw the boys throwing snowballs at each other I could scarcely resist the temptation of joining them. You know I am an American by birth."

"What are the prospects for the crop of Mediterranean fruits?" I asked.

"The winter has been a favorable one, and we look for a good crop of oranges, almonds, raisins, etc., especially of Malaga raisins. What makes the outlook for raisins so particularly good is the fact that the vines that were planted to replace those destroyed by the phylloxera will yield the coming season, and the fruit from these will be superior in quality to that obtained from the old vines."

Mr. Bevan left for the east on Tuesday night.

FACTS ABOUT PORK.

Our St. John, N.B., correspondent writes as follows:

There are but few lines of business which show the material increase that the pork business does. Each locality is being more and more supplied at home from year to year. Take New Brunswick. It is not many years since American was almost the only lard sold here. Then Canadian lard took its place. And though this is largely used, Prince Edward Island sends quantities into this market. And that locally put up is being more largely used. In barrelled pork in St. John but little, if any, from Ontario is used, but through the province there is a fair quantity sold. But though the great bulk is American, that packed in our own province is a large factor and is yearly growing. A large quantity is also brought here from Prince Edward Island. That which is true of lard, as regards that now used, is true of smoked meats, except that a larger proportion of that used in the city of St. John is cured by local houses. The figures show that where New Brunswick imported in 1890 to the value of $181,500 all that came into the province in 1895 was $64,500. The same facts are true all through Canada, for where in 1890 the imports were valued at $1,548,286, those in 1895 valued less than $300,000, showing even a greater difference. We are also exporting very large quantities of pork products, particularly smoked meats.

EDMUND B. OSLER.

THE president of the Toronto Board of Trade for 1896 is Mr. Edmund B. Osler, of the financial firm of Osler & Hammond, and a prominent figure in Canadian commercial life. There is a consensus of opinion that in obtaining Mr. Osler for president the Toronto Board have been fortunate, inasmuch as the advantage of having for the representative of the commercial community of Toronto a man of acknowledged position, of tried experience and known ability, is a practical benefit at a time like the present. This is not said by way of idle compliment. Mr. Osler does not require puffing in the press ; in fact, his temperament is rather averse to publicity, and his own responsibilities, as a financial authority, are sufficient to engross the largest proportion of his time. He is a Canadian, having been born in Tecumseh township, Simcoe County, in 1845. He was educated in the town of Dundas, his parents having gone to live there in 1857. He began his financial career as a member of the staff of the Bank of Upper Canada, and was a clerk in the head office when this institution went down. That he possessed an aptitude for financial control and management seems to have been recognized even then, for he was retained to assist in the winding-up operations of the bank. Later on, in 1867, Mr. Osler formed a partnership with Mr. Henry Pellatt, the firm being Pellatt & Osler, brokers and financial agents. In 1882 the present firm of Osler & Hammond was formed. Mr. Osler became interested in some of the railway projects promoted by the late George Laidlaw, projects which did much for the development and expansion of Toronto. This brought him into association with railway building, and he became the president of the Ontario and Quebec Railway, now an important link in the transcontinental line of the Canadian Pacific, and he administered the finances of this branch of the line during construction. He had also undertaken to represent the large interests of Sir George Stephen, now Lord Mount-Stephen, and out of these connections with railway capitalists grew his election to the Directors' Board of the Canadian Pacific Railway, a position he has ever since filled. Mr. Osler's services have been much sought after by large monetary and other institutions, where the experience and capacity which he possesses in a marked degree are specially prized. He is, for instance, a director of the Dominion Bank and manager of the North of Scotland Mortgage Co. In December, 1891, when Toronto had to choose a new Mayor, and the need of a strong and able financier was felt, Mr. Osler was pressed to become a candidate. This he ultimately consented to do, and was supported by the commercial interests of the city, especially by the merchants, both wholesale and retail, whose representative he was. Owing to political complications which placed three other candidates in the field, the representative of the great business interests of all sections in Toronto was defeated. This relieved Mr. Osler of a duty which he had undertaken at the earnest request of others, but it was a great misfortune to the city, which has since suffered in many ways for want of a thorough financier at the head of affairs. It is a general hope that at some future time Mr. Osler may be prevailed on to direct the affairs of the city as the commercial interests require and demand. Mr. Osler has, of course, another side to his nature besides that of financier and man of affairs. He enjoys social life as much as anyone, and takes part in such pastimes as curling in winter and fishing in summer with reasonable zest. He has a country residence at Lake Simcoe, where as much time as can be spared is spent. It seems almost needless to add that he is a member of the talented family which includes Mr. Justice Osler, Mr. B. B. Osler (the eminent barrister) and the famous Dr. Osler, of Johns Hopkins' University, all of whom are his brothers.

MR. E. B. OSLER, PRESIDENT TORONTO BOARD OF TRADE.

Mr. Osler first joined the Toronto Board of Trade in 1869, but was not a candidate for any office until elected second vice-president two years ago. Last year he was first vice-president, and this year was elected president by acclamation.

HINTS TO BUYERS.

WARREN BROS. & BOOMER have a carload of Rio coffee arriving this week ; also carload of French plums.

Rutherford, Marshall & Co. are experiencing a good demand for roll butter and eggs, both on account of home trade and shipment.

Gunn, Flavelle & Co. report that their receipts of butter and eggs are larger than they were the same time last year.

J. W. Lang & Co. announce they have a nice line of Lenten goods in stock.

John Sloan & Co. have just passed into stock a shipment of fancy Japan rice.

Clemes Bros. are in receipt of their first direct shipment of Seville oranges. There are two carloads in the shipment.

The Eby, Blain Co., Ltd., have received a shipment of Cove oysters, 1-lb. and 2-lb. tins.

W. H. Gillard & Co. have three grades of California peaches in bags, which they are offering at special prices.

Codfish, Labrador herring, etc., at close figures with Davidson & Hay.

James Turner & Co. report an extra large consignment of Bensdorp's Royal Dutch cocoa just to hand.

Davidson & Hay have in stock a full assortment of Roberts' table jellies.

Dawson & Co. are in receipt of one carload each of lemons and California oranges (navels and seedlings). Another car of lemons is due on Saturday.

Davidson & Hay are showing some great values in Congous, low grades.

"Yes, we are selling more Gunpowders than usual," say Lucas, Steele & Bristol, "but then look at the values. Oolongs are also going well. They show great cup quality."

Another shipment California evaporated fruit is advised by the Eby, Blain Co., Ltd., consisting of silver prunes, Bartlett pears, pitted plums, egg plums, prunes (all sizes).

"The values in second Young Hysons," say Lucas, Steele & Bristol, "are astonishing. We never had anything like them."

W. H. Gillard & Co. are in receipt of several lines of Young Hyson and India teas. They have also arriving several hundred packages of Ceylons.

"Our Labrador herrings are extra fine this season," write Lucas, Steele & Bristol, "and cheap also. In spite of scarcity of fish at the Coast, we still offer choice codfish, in quintals and halves, very reasonable."

W. H. Gillard & Co. are advertising this week a comparative novelty in the shape of a display case. This article has met with a hearty reception on the other side of the boundary line, where all up-to-date grocers have availed themselves of its advantages. W. H. Gillard & Co. are the Hamilton agents.

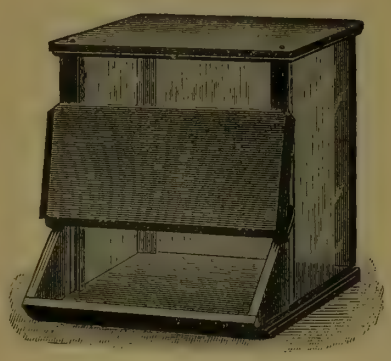
Jams and marmalades in 7-lb. pails are going fast with Lucas, Steele & Bristol. They will gladly furnish figures on application.

NORTH AMERICAN LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY.

THE annual statement for 1895 of this solid and progressive company has just been published, the official returns to the Dominion Government having been promptly made on the 31st of December last at the close of its year's business. The report shows that substantial and solid additions have been made to the insurance in force, assets, net surplus, the movements of which items from year to year indicate progress or the reverse of a company.

There are four items in a life insurance company's statement from which a very good idea can be obtained of its progress or retrogression. If these items are carefully compared at the end of certain years, the company's record and standing can be ascertained. The items referred to are cash income, assets, net surplus and insurance in force, and at the end of the last three quinquennial periods of the North American were as follows :

	Cash income.	Assets.	Insurance in force.	Net surplus.
1885.....	$153,401	$ 343,746	$ 4,849,287	$ 36,001
1890.....	354,601	1,434,325	10,076,554	127,149
1895.....	581,478	2,300,518	15,442,444	405,218



During the last quinquennium it will be observed that the cash income has increased by 64 per cent., the assets by 122, the insurance by 53 and the net surplus by 219.

The operations for 1895 were more successful than in any past year, ; policies issued exceeded $3,000,000, the cash income reached $581,478, while the sum of $67,000 was added to the net surplus, now amounting to over $405,000, after setting aside $25,000 out of the year's earnings as an additional contingency reserve fund to anticipate a change in the basis of valuation. The solid character of the company's assets is vouched for by the comparatively small amount of interest due, and the failure to find among them any trace of such undesirable items as "commuted commissions," "agents' balances or advances," "bills receivable." The North American claims a higher ratio of assets to liabilities than any other Canadian company, and compares most favorably in this respect with the very best of the American companies.

It is well known that mere size does not always guarantee strength or ability to make satisfactory profit returns to policy holders, and this is practically borne out in the record of the North American Life, for not only is it relatively about the strongest life company in the field, if we gauge strength by a comparison of assets to liabilities, but it has for several years past been paying handsome returns under its investment policies, which has tended to make the company one of the most popular in the Dominion and a favorite with its agency staff. As an evidence of this, it may be mentioned that several policy holders have just received from this company a return under fifteen-year investment policies, which have given them insurance for the term named, and then returned the whole of the premiums paid with compound interest thereon, at the rate of about five per cent. per annum. Certainly such a result as this should satisfy any policy-holder, and no doubt will attract the attention of intending insurers to the special forms of investment policies issued by the North American.

The success of the company and the high standing it has attained owing to its splendid financial position must be exceedingly gratifying to all those interested in the company, and also to those who watch the progress of our Canadian institutions. It has an excellent staff of officers, and the mention of the name of the president, Mr. John L. Blaikie, is sufficient to inspire confidence and give assurance of caution and skill in everything connected with the investments of the company, while the name of the managing director, Mr. William McCabe, F.I.A., is sufficient evidence that all that experience and actuarial skill, so essential to the success of a life company, is being exercised in the management of the North American. In the efforts made by Mr. McCabe to push forward and promote the interests of the company, he has always been ably assisted by Mr. L. Goldman, A.I.A., the company's secretary since its inception.

It has been decided to change the name of The Maritime Grocer to Maritime Merchant and Commercial Review. It will now be a general trade paper. The first issue will be February 21.

MARKETS AND MARKET NOTES

ONTARIO MARKETS.

GROCERIES.

TRADE exhibits a little improvement, especially during the last couple of days, but the volume of business is still small, and there is a general absence of life. Many of the roads in the country are still in an impassible condition, and this is undoubtedly the cause of the pronounced dulness There is not an article in the grocery list for which the demand can be said to be active. Sugar continues firm, but there is nothing doing. Canned vegetables are in moderate demand, but other kinds of canned goods are flat. Syrups continue scarce. Spices are receiving a little more attention than they were, although the market is not yet active. Teas are dull. Foreign dried fruits are quiet, with California goods and prunes most in demand. Lemons have been going out in large quantities during the week, and oranges are in good demand and firmer. Cheese is offering more freely, with prices easier. Payments are, if anything, a little better.

CANNED GOODS.

The canned goods market does not yet exhibit any life. Vegetables are still receiving the most attention, and for them the demand is by no means brisk. A little better demand is being experienced for canned fruits, but the sales are only in small lots. Salmon is quiet, with "Horseshoe" scarce. We quote as follows: Tomatoes, 80 to 90c.; corn, 75 to 80c.; peas, 95c. for ordinary; sifted select, $1.10; extra sifted, $1.45 to $1.50; peaches, $2.90 to $3 for 3's, $1.90 to $2 for 2's; raspberries, $1.40 to $2.00; strawberries, $1.80 to $2.45, according to brand and quality; blackberries, $1.90 to $2.20; cherries, $2.40 to $2.45; apples, 3's, 85 to 90c.; gallons, $1.90 to 2.25; salmon, "Horseshoe," $1.35 to $1.40; "Maple Leaf," $1.35; "Lion," $1.35 to $1.40; Lowe Inlet, $1.27 to $1.30, in tall tins; cohoes, $1.10 to $1.20; canned mackerel, $1.10 to $1.20; lobsters, $1.80 to $2.10, for tall tins; flats, $2.35 to $2.65; half tins, $1.45 to $1.50; Canadian canned beef, 1's, $1.35 to $1.45; 2's, $2.25 to $2.35; 6's, 7.50 to $8; 14's, $15 to $16.50.

COFFEE.

The market is a little easier, and holders are offering more freely. Locally there is not much doing. We quote green in bags: Rio, 18c.; East Indian, 27 to 30c.; South American, 21 to 23c.; Santos, 19 to 22½c.; Java, 30 to 33c.; Mocha, 27½ to 30c.; Maracaibo, 21 to 23c.; Jamaica, 21 to 25c.

SYRUPS.

A few very bright syrups are being offered by the Canadian refiners at from 42 to 45c. at the refinery. Wholesalers are experiencing a fair trade. We quote: Dark, 30 to 32c.; medium, 33 to 35c.; bright, 40 to 42c.

MOLASSES.

The market continues firm, with demand good. We quote: New Orleans, barrels, 28 to 35c.; half-barrels, 30 to 35c.; Barbadoes, barrels, 31 to 35c.; half-barrels, 33 to 35c.

SUGAR.

The market was a little easier in England, but it has recovered again. In New York the conditions are stronger than they were a week ago. The refiners there have been bidding 4⅛c., but holders will not sell at less than 4¼c. The Canadian refiners are strong in their views, and look for higher prices with an improvement in the demand. In the meantime, however, the demand is almost nil. Quotations on the local market are unchanged, 4⅞c. being the idea for granulated, and 3⅞c. up yellows.

SPICES.

Trade has improved a little during the past week, although the turnover is not large. Cream of tartar has taken another weak turn in the primary market, being quoted about 3s. per cwt. lower. There are no changes on the local market. We quote as follows: Pure black pepper, 10 to 12c.; pure white, 18 to 25c.; pure Jamaica ginger, 23 to 25c.; cloves, 15 to 20c.; pure mixed spice, 25 to 30c.; cream of tartar, French, 25 to 27c.; ditto, best, 28 to 30c. per lb.; allspice, 14 to 18c.

RICE.

The market rules quiet, with the demand principally for ordinary at 3½ to 3⅝ per lb. Heavy shortages of rice are reported from four large rice-producing countries, namely, Siam, Saigon, Japan and Bengal.

NUTS.

Cable advices received this week quote almonds firm and unchanged. There is no change in the situation locally. We quote as follows: Brazil nuts, 14 to 15c.; Sicily shelled almonds, 25 to 26c.; Tarragona almonds, 14 to 14½c.; peanuts, 10 to 12c. for roasted, and 7 to 10c. for green; cocoanuts, $4.50 to $5 per sack; Grenoble walnuts, 12 to 12½c. Marbot walnuts, 11 to 12c.; Bordeaux walnuts, 9c.; Sicily filberts, 8 to 10c. for sacks and 10½ to 11c. for small lots; pecans, 10½ to 11c.

TEAS.

Some unusually good values have been shown in China Congous and cheap greens during the past few days, and there has been some buying in these, but otherwise China teas have not been attracting any attention. Japans are neglected. The chief business has been confined to Indian and Ceylon teas, although in these transactions have been but few. Fine Ceylon teas of autumn flavor are dearer in London, and well looked after. We quote ruling prices to retailers as follows: Young Hysons, 12 to 18c. for low grades, 24 to 27c. for mediums, and 30 to 45c. for high grades; China Congous, 14 to 18c. for mediums, and 25 to 55c. for high grades; Japans, 15 to 20c. for mediums, 28 to 35c. for high grades; Indians and Ceylons, 18 to 22c. for mediums, and 30 to 65c. for high grades.

DRIED FRUITS.

Last week's mail advices reported an easier currant market in Patras, but this week's cables announce the market there firm. The local market is quiet and unchanged. We quote: Provincials, 3¾ to 4c. in bbls.; fine Filiatras, in bbls., 4¼ to 4½c.; do, half-bbls., 4¼ to 4¾c.; ditto, half-cases, 4¾ to 5c.; Casalinas, cases, 5 to 5¼c.; Vostizzas, cases, 6 to 6½c.; ditto, half-cases, 6½ to 6¾c.; ditto, extra fine, 6¾ to 7¼c.; ditto, half-cases, 7¼ to 7½c.; Panaretas, in cases, 9c.

Valencia raisins are quiet and unchanged. We quote: Off-stalk 4½ to 4¾c.; fine off-stalk, 5 to 5¼c.; selected, 6 to 6¼c., and layers, 6½c.

A few transactions are reported in California peaches, but at lower figures. The whole trade reports an improved and fair demand for California dried and evaporated fruits. We quote: Apricots, 15 to 16c.; peaches, 8c., in bags, and 10 to 15c. in boxes; pears, 10½ to 12½c.; plums, 6½c. for unpitted, and 12½c. for pitted; nectarines, 11 to 13c.; loose muscatels, 5½ to 6½c. per lb.

Prunes are showing a little more activity in a jobbing way, with those of California growth a little easier in the primary markets. The Bosnia prune market is advised firm. We quote: Bosnias, "Sphinx" brand, "A," 65 to lb. 9c.; "B," 75 to lb. 7¾c., "U," 102 to lb., 6½ to 6¾c.; California prunes, 40-50, 10 to 10½c. per lb.; 50-60, 9½c. per lb.; 60-70, 9c.; 70 80, 8½c. per lb.; French, 5 to 6c.

Eleme figs are quiet and unchanged. We quote: Eleme, 14 oz., 9 to 10½c.; 10 lb., 9½ to 12½c.; 12 lb., 12½c.; 28 lb., 15c.

Sultana raisins are quiet and unchanged at 5½ to 6c.

Dates still rule quiet at 4½ to 5½c.

GREEN FRUIT.

Oranges are more active, and the demand is now good for all kinds. The supply has been good in all kinds except marmalades, but the first direct shipment of these have now arrived. Prices are a little firmer. Lemons are selling freely, and the demand is good, with the tendency of prices upward. Apples are quiet, farmers' deliveries still largely supplying the trade. We quote: Lemons—Messina, $2.50 to $3.50 for 360's and 300's per box. Oranges—Jamaicas, $3.50 to $4; fancy, $4.25 to $4.50; California navels,

Bananas, $1.25 to $1.75; cocoanuts, $3.50 to $4 a sack; apples, Spies $3, Baldwins, $2.75, greenings $1.50 to $2 a barrel; Malaga grapes, $5 to $7 per keg; domestic onions, 60 to 65c. per bag; Spanish onions, 40 to 50c. per small crate; sweet potatoes, $3 to $3.25 per bbl.; cranberries, $9.50 to $10 per bbl. for first class, and $7 to $8 for ordinary, and $3 to $3.75 per case, according to quality; hickory nuts, $1.50 to $1.75 per bush.

BUTTER AND CHEESE.

BUTTER—Receipts of butter have been small during the past week, and all that has come forward has been readily disposed of. Choice roll butter is scarce, the receipts being largely medium and low grade. During the last few days the deliveries are a little freer. Prices are firm at quotations. We quote: Early summer dairy store packed, 9 to 11c; good to choice fresh packed, 15 to 16c.; large rolls, fresh, 15 to 16c.; dairy pound prints, 16 to 17c. Fresh creamery — Tubs, 19 to 20c.; do., pound prints, 21 to 22c.

CHEESE—There is a great deal offering, and prices are easier. A few enquiries on export account are reported. We quote: Summer make, 8½c.; September and October, 9 to 9½c.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

BEANS—Business is still quiet and prices unchanged at $1 to $1.10 per bushel.

DRIED APPLES—There is still no movement of any importance, and the jobbing price is unchanged at 4½ to 5c. per lb.

EVAPORATED APPLES—Still very little doing, with jobbing price as before at 6½ to 7c.

EGGS—The week opened out with receipts fairly liberal. The demand for held and cold stored stock is almost nil. There are a good many new laid selling, but still the price interferes with the demand somewhat. We quote: New laid, 17 to 18c.; pickled, 13 to 14c.; held fresh and cold stored, 11½c.

HONEY—Demand is fair this week for strained, at 9 to 10c. We quote: Strained, clover, 9 to 10c.; dark, 4½ to 5c.; comb, clover, $1.80 per dozen; dark, 80c. per dozen.

POULTRY—Receipts are scarce and the market is quite capable of absorbing larger quantities than are now coming forward. We quote: Turkeys, 9 to 11c.; geese, 7 to 8c.; chickens, 40 to 60c.; ducks, 60 to 90c.

POTATOES — The market is still dull and weak at 18c. per bushel in carload lots on the track, and at 25c. out of store.

MAPLE PRODUCTS—Quite an enquiry for maple products has developed since Lent set in. We quote: Syrup, 70c. per tin; sugar, 10c. per lb.

PROVISIONS AND DRESSED HOGS.

The market is a great deal easier on dressed hogs, and packers are holding off in the expectation that prices will rule lower, large deliveries in the spring being anticipated. Complaints are also heard to the effect that the hogs coming forward are too fat and heavy. What packers want are select weights of about 150 pounds, for which $5 would be paid. Mixed cars are quoted at $4.75 to $4.85 delivered here. The provision trade is quiet and prices unchanged.

DRY SALTED MEATS—Long clear bacon, 6½c. for carload lots, and 6¾ to 7c. for small lots; backs, 8c.

SMOKED MEATS — Breakfast bacon, 10c.; rolls, 7¼ to 7½c.; hams, large, 22 lbs. and over, 9c.; medium, 15 to 20 lbs., 10c.; small hams, 10c.; backs, 9 to 9½c.; picnic hams, 7c.; all meats out of pickle, 1c. less than above.

LARD—Pure Canadian, tierces, 8 to 8¼c.; tubs, 8½ to 8¾c.; pails, 8¾ to 9c.

BARREL PORK—Canadian heavy mess, $14.00; Canadian short-cut, $14 to $14.50; clear shoulder mess, $12; shoulder mess, $11.50.

FISH AND OYSTERS.

Trade in fish has improved during the past week, but, notwithstanding, business is not as satisfactory as it was same time last year. We quote oysters: Standards at $1.30 to $1.35, and selects $1.70. Fish are quoted as follows: Skinned and boned codfish, 6½c.; boneless fish, 3½ to 4c.; haddock, 5 to 6c.; Labrador herring, $3.25 to $3.50 half barrel and $5.50 to $5.75 per barrel; Newfoundland herring, $2.50 per half barrel, and $4.50 to $4.75 per barrel; fresh water salt herring, $3 per barrel; blueback herring, 4c.; pike, 6 to 7c. per lb.; flitched cod, 5c.; finnan haddies, 6½c.; Digby herring, in bundles of 5 boxes, 11c.; ditto, lengthwise, 10c.; large halibut, 12 to 15c.; Restigouche salmon, 20 to 25c.; British Columbia salmon, 15 to 16c.; mackerel, 20 to 25c.; steak cod, 6½ to 7c.; haddock, 5c.; black bass, 9 to 10½c.; white fish, 7½c.; salmon trout, 7½ to 8c.; Lake Superior whitefish, 7½c.; Lake Winnipeg whitefish, 7 to 7½c.

OATS—Quiet and steady at 28½ to 29½c.

PEAS—Steady at 58½ to 59c.

FLOUR—Trade has shown some improvement during the past week, and as people have not been buying much lately a brisker trade is looked for if present figures are maintained. We quote in job lots: Manitoba patents, $4.40 per bbl.; Ontario patents, $4.50 per bbl.; strong bakers', $3.90; family grades, $3.80 to $4.15.

BREAKFAST FOODS— Trade is moderate for this time of the year. Prices are steady at quotations. We quote as follows: Oatmeal, cornmeal and pot barley from 10 to 15c. lower; Standard oatmeal and rolled oats, $3.15; rolled wheat, $2.40 in 100-lb. barrels; cornmeal, $2.75; split peas, $3.25; pot barley, $3.25.

SALT.

A better demand has developed on country account during the week for carload lots. Packers are rather slow buyers at the moment. Prices are steady and unchanged. We quote at Toronto: In carload lots, $1 per barrel, and 60c. per sack; in less than carload lots, $1.05 per barrel and 65c. per sack. At the wells we quote: F.O.B. barrels, 70c.; sacks 50c. for points west of Toronto, and 45c. for Toronto and points east of Toronto.

PETROLEUM.

Trade continues fairly good. We quote in 1 to 10 bbl. lots, imperial gallon, Toronto: Canadian, 16½c.; carbon safety, 18c.; Canadian water white, 18c.; American water white, 21c.; Pratt's astral, 22c.

Messina oranges are about exhausted on the Toronto market. The few that are here are quoted at $2.50 to $2.75 per box.

Mr. J. H. Magor, of Frank Magor & Co., Montreal, is in town looking for spring orders for the lines he represents; before returning home, he will visit Hamilton, London, Brantford, etc.

In another column will be found the advertisement of H. P. Gould & Co., produce and commission merchants, 80 Colborne street, Toronto. This firm began business about six months ago, and has already established a healthy and growing business. Mr. Gould was for 30 years in business for himself as a retail merchant at Castleton, and consequently knows from experience the needs of the country merchant. This no doubt in part accounts for the good connection H. P. Gould & Co. to-day can boast of.

QUEBEC MARKETS.

MONTREAL, Feb. 27, 1896.

GROCERIES.

THE grocery market has not shown any material change during the past week, the same ruling features being noticeable as a week ago. Enquiry from second hands, however, in a jobbing way is confined largely to actual wants, except in the case of orders for future shipment. In this latter connection, the strength of sugar, syrup, and molasses has spurred buyers up a bit in the matter of providing for the future, but for prompt shipment they are not urgent. Advices from the outside continue very strong on raw sugar and molasses. Reports from primary markets on the latter this week, though they do not show any actual change, state that the markets have a rising tendency. Spot prices are unchanged as regards jobbing trade, but it would not surprise many if refiners put up their price on granulated and yellows. Activity in California raisins and firm values are the dominant fact of the dried fruit market. The demand for these, both from first and second hands, has been quite brisk during the week, and agents for some of the leading brands are entirely sold out. Fish of all kinds continue strong, as noted last week, in fact, several staple lines, it will be seen, are advanced.

SUGAR.

The firm feeling in sugar has been fully maintained during the past week, and with outside markets retaining their strength as they are, little else can be expected. In fact, an advance in refiners' prices here would not be a surprise to anyone, considering that while the price of refined has advanced materially at New York within the past ten days Canadian values have remained stationary. Demand has been quiet, the strength failing to induce any special activity. We quote: Granulated, 4⅞c.; yellows, 3¾ to 4⅜c., as to grade

SYRUPS.

The strength in sugar has exerted a marked influence on the syrup market, in view of the fact that stocks both in first and second hands here are very light. Business, however, has been quiet on the basis of last week's quotations: 1¾c. for ordinary and 2½ to 3c. for bright grades.

MOLASSES.

The strength in molasses continues, and the week only strengthens the belief expressed last week in the possibility of a high range of prices for the new season. Nothing special is to note locally, and we quote: Barbadoes, 36 to 37c.; Porto Rico, 34 to 35c., and New Orleans, 25½ to 35c.

RICE.

There has been little change in the rice market, demand ruling fair for the season. We quote as follows: Japan standard, $4.25 to $4.40; crystal Japan, $4.75 to $5; standard B., $3.45; English style, $3.30; Patna, $4.25 to $5, and Carolina, $6.50 to $7.50.

SPICES.

There has been a fairly active trade in spices, and prices generally are steady. We quote: Pure black pepper, 10 to 12c.; pure white, 15 to 22c.; pure Jamaica ginger, 23 to 25c.; cloves, 15 to 20c.; pure mixed spice, 25 to 30c.; cream of tartar, French, 25 to 27c.; ditto, best, 28 to 30c. per lb.; allspice, 12 to 15c.

COFFEE.

The coffee market continues quiet, but steady, with a moderate distributing trade passing. We quote bean coffee as follows: Maracaibo, 19 to 21c.; Rio, 16½ to 20c.; Java, 28c.; Jamaica, 20c., and Mocha, 29 to 32c.

TEAS.

The tea market has continued quiet on the whole, but a steady feeling is to note in consequence of the possibility of the imposition of a duty by the United States, which would have an enlivening effect for a time. Scarcity of low grade Japans and blacks continues, and the withdrawal of several lots of the latter held here on American account has accentuated it. We quote: Young Hysons, 10 to 18c. for low grades, 24 to 27c. for mediums, and 30 to 45 for high grades; China Congous, 11½ to 18c. for mediums, and 25 to 55c. for high grades; Japans, 12 to 20c. for mediums, 28 to 35c. for high grades; Indians and Ceylons, 18 to 22c. for mediums, and 30 to 65c. for high grades.

DRIED FRUIT.

The activity in California raisins in a jobbing way noted last week continues and constitutes the main feature of the dried fruit market. Prices are well maintained, in fact, point higher if anything, at 5½ to 6c. for 3-crown, 6¾ to 7c. for 4-crown.

Currants continue firm and unchanged. We quote: Barrels, 4c.; half-barrels, 4¼c., and cases, 4½ to 5½c. as to grade, the supply of the higher descriptions being very light.

Valencia raisins are in very light supply, but enquiry is moderate. Prices are unchanged: Ordinary off-stalk, 4 to 4¼c.; fine, 4½ to 4¾c.; selected, 5 to 5¼c., and layers, 6½ to 7c.

Very few Sultana raisins are offering, and jobbers who have any stock hold it firm around 6c.

The prune market is firm at the advance noted last week for Bosnia, while Californias have not been influenced as yet by the changes on the Coast. We quote: French, 4½ to 5c.; Bosnia, 6¼ to 6½c., and California 7½ to 15c., as to grade.

There has been no change in figs, which range as follows: Bags, 4c.; ordinary boxes, 8½ to 9c., and fancy, 12 to 14c.

Dates are without change at 4½ to 5c.

NUTS.

There is a moderate seasonable trade doing in nuts at last week's range. We quote: Grenoble walnuts, 11½ to 12½c.; filberts, 7½ to 8c.; Tarragona almonds, 11½ to 12c.; pecans, 8 to 12c., and shelled walnuts, 15 to 19c.

CANNED GOODS.

A fair jobbing trade is doing in canned fish of all kinds, and prices are firmly held on them. Peas and some other staple vegetables have also been more enquired for during the week in small lots. We quote: Tomatoes, 75 to 85c.; corn, 75 to 85c.; peas, 95c. to $1 for ordinary; sifted select, $1.10; extra sifted, $1.45 to $1.50; peaches, $2.90 to $3 for 3's, $1.90 to $2 for 2's; raspberries, $1.40 to $2; strawberries, $2 to $2.45, according to brand and quality; blackberries, $1.90 to $2.20; cherries, $2.40 to $2.45; apples, 3's, 80 to 90c.; gallons, $1.90 to $2.25; salmon, "Horseshoe," $1.35 to $1.40; "Maple Leaf," $1.25; "Lion," $1.25 to $1.40; Lowe Inlet, $1.25 to $1.30, in tall tins; cohoes, $1.05 to $1.15; canned mackerel, $1.10 to $1.20; lobsters, $1.80 to $2.10, for tall tins; flats, $2.35 to $2.65; half tins, $1.45 to $1.50; Canadian canned beef, 1's, $1.35 to $1.45; 2's, $2.25 to $2.35; 6's, $7.50 to $8; 14's, $15 to $16.50.

WINES AND SPIRITS.

Salesmen have got through with their placing trips in Manitoba, the Northwest and the Maritime Provinces, and report the returns quite equal to those of the corresponding season last year. Import business in Ontario and Quebec has not been started in earnest yet, but as far as indications go buyers are in no special hurry.

GREEN FRUIT.

The green fruit market locally has been steady and moderately active, demand on purely local account showing expansion owing to Lenten wants. Values as a rule continue much as they were last: Oranges—Valencias, 420's, $4.00, and 714's, $4.25 to $4.50. Lemons, $2 to $3. Grapes, $5 to $6 per keg. Cranberries, $8.50 to $10 per barrel. Apples, $2 to $3.50 per barrel. Dried do. 4½ to 5c. Evaporated do., 6¼ to 6½c. Spanish onions, 40c. per crate.

FISH.

The fish market, with one single exception of fresh B. C. salmon, is firm in tone, with a higher tendency, as stocks are hardly equal to the demand. Among the staple lines that have advanced during the week are fresh haddock, fresh herring, tommycod, haddies and bloaters. The decline in fresh B. C. salmon noted is due to an over supply, and the one large holder here has reduced his price to try and induce a clearance of it. We quote: Fresh haddock, 3½ to 4c. per lb.; cod, 3c; smelts 4 to 5½c.; fresh frozen B.C. salmon, 8 to 9c.; Manitoba whitefish, 7c.; pickerel, 6½c.; dore, 6½c.; pike, 4 to 4½c.; trout, 7c.; tommycods, $1.60 to $1.80 per bbl. Choice pickled Labradorherrings, $5.25; No. 1 N.S., $3 to $4; No. 1 green cod, $5.00; No. 2, $3.50; No. 1 haddock, $3; No. 1 large codfish, $6; No. 1 lake trout, $4 to $4.25; B.C. salmon, $10.50; No. 2 Labrador salmon, $13; No. 1 mackerel, $18.50; Loch Fyne herrings, 85c. per keg, and $11 per bbl.; No. 1 sardines, $4 50; No. 1 dried cod, $4.25 to $4.50; boneless cod, 6c. per lb.; boneless fish, 3¼c.; boneless haddock, 5c.; shredded, 11c.; haddies, 7½ to 8c. per lb.; bloaters, $1 per box, and smoked herrings, 8 to 10c. per lb.

PROVISIONS.

Demand for pork, lard and smoked meats has been of a limited character and prices rule steady. We quote as follows: Canadian short cut, clear, $14.50 to $15; Canadian short cut, mess, $15 to $15.50; hams, city cured, per lb., 9 to 10c.; lard, Canadian, in pails, 8c.; bacon, per lb., 9 to 10c.; lard, com. refined, per lb., 6¼c.

There have been a few receipts of dressed hogs during the week. Holders are much easier in their views than a fortnight ago, offers of car lots being freely made at a decline of 25 to 50c. per 100 pounds. We quote: Car lots, $5.15, and small lots, $5.50.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

EGGS—There has been a fairly active trade in eggs during the week, but fresh stock have again declined under increasing receipts. We quote: Fresh, 18 to 20c.; Montreal limed, 13 to 14c., and Western limed, 12 to 12½c. per doz.

BEANS—These have been in slow demand. We quote: Car lots, $1 to $1.05, and small quantities, $1.10 to $1.20.

POTATOES — There has only been a small jobbing business in potatoes at 35 to 40c. per bag in small lots. Car lots are offered at 30c. with few buyers.

ONIONS—Continue unchanged, yellows selling at $1.50 to $1.60, and red at $2.50 per bbl.

FLOUR, FEED AND MEAL.

The opening of the week witnessed a rather improved demand for flour, but up to this writing prices have been unaffected by the fact, We quote: Winter wheat, $4.40; spring wheat, patents, $4.25; straight roller, $4.10; straight roller, bags, $1.95 to $2; extra, bags, $1.75 to $1.85; Manitoba strong bakers', $4.

Oatmeal has ruled quiet and unchanged. We quote: Standard, barrels, $3.10 to $3.20; granulated, barrels, $3.20 to $3.30; rolled oats, barrels, $3 10 to $3.20; rolled wheat, per 100 lbs., $2.40 to $2.50.

Feed is quiet with no change in values. We quote: Bran, $14 to $15; shorts, $15 to $16; mouillie, $19 to $20.

CHEESE AND BUTTER.

The cheese market continues dull and unsatisfactory, but, though demand is lacking, the majority of holders are not, by any means, disheartened with the prospects. In a nominal way, the market was 8¾ to 9c. for fall cheese, and 8c. for summer goods, with, possibly, some outside lots for less money.

The butter market was quiet and unchanged, creamery jobbing at 21c., and Western dairy rolls, 14 to 15c.

The exports of cheese and butter last week from Montreal via American ports and St. John, aggregated 49,540 boxes cheese, and 22 packages of butter, which was distributed as follows: London, 13,802 cheese; Bristol, 23,363 cheese, and Liverpool, 12,375 cheese and 22 packages butter.

HAY.

The hay market has had a material advance since last writing, No. 1 being quoted at $14 to $14.25 and No. 2, $13, these prices being on track in Montreal and not ex-store.

ASHES.

The ashes market has ruled rather firm, pots being 5c. higher at $3.50 to $3.55 for firsts and $3 25 to $3.30 for seconds; pearls, unchanged at $5.

MONTREAL NOTES.

Howe, McIntyre Co. have just unloaded another carload of "2236" rolled oats.

Hart & Tuckwell turned into stock this week a shipment of "G Ostrich" brand prunes.

Advices to Rose & Laflamme from Antigua, Barbadoes and Porto Rico on molasses continue strong in tone.

Joseph Tetley & Co. have in stock some standard brands of new season's Ceylon and India teas, of which they will send samples to any grocer in Canada who writes them, 14 Lemoine street, and mentions THE CANADIAN GROCER.

The Quebec Bank has made a demand of assignment on Mercier & Villeneuve, grocers, St. Lawrence street, Montreal, who consent to assign. There are 50 creditors in all, and their claims range from 75c. to $5,460.55. The largest creditors are the Comp. d'App Allimentair, $2,299; Howard Bottling Co., $135; J. L. Perron, $150, and the Quebec Bank, partly guaranteed, $5,460. The liabilities are about $9,000.

The stock of fresh B.C. salmon here is practically all controlled by one firm, who have possibly 17,000 pounds of the fish on hand. They are the sole weak line in fish at present.

The season is on for all kinds of fish. Jobbers should not forget that Marshall's Scotch pickled herring are a delicacy for the Lenten season. "Crown" brand fish are famous.

A. P. Tippet & Co. have had a brisk week's trade in California dried fruit, especially three and four-crown G. & S. loose California muscatels.

Rose & Laflamme will have on hand next week a shipment of Batger's Seville orange marmalade.

Montreal is to have another retail grocery store. Mr. A. R. Ross, Torrance street, will commence to supply the public wants in that line about the first of May.

NEW BRUNSWICK MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE CANADIAN GROCER.

ST. JOHN, N.B., Feb. 27, 1896.

THERE has been but little of special interest during the week. Travelers report country trade good and paper is being well met. Our merchants note with pleasure that Canadian subsidies are not to be allowed those steamers using foreign ports as terminal points from which to receive Canadian freight for export. Though this step should have been taken years ago, it is a welcome one, and fully justified after the success which has attended those lines using St. John this winter. To somewhat atone for the delay, the Government should aid us in our harbor improvements to at least some of the extent they have the cities in Upper Canada. As regards markets, beans, which were thought to be at bottom, have rather eased off. Sugar holds firm. While flour is firmer, no further advance is noted.

SALT — There is still but light movement, and stocks are ample. Better things are expected next month. Prices are easy. We quote as follows: Coarse, 50 to 55c.; fine factory-filled, 95c. to $1.10; 5-lb. bags, $3.25 per bbl.; 10-lb. bags, $3 per bbl.; 20-lb. boxes, 20c.; 10-lb. boxes, 12c.; cartoons, $1.90 to $2 per doz.; dairy, bulk, $2.80 per bbl.; cheese, bulk, $2.70 per bbl.

OIL—There is fair business, but while season is early for lubricating, it is getting late for burning oil. The competition between Canadian and American tends to keep sellers moving. In Canadian oil, while there is no change here, at outside points it is quoted rather higher. We quote: American, 23¼c.; best Canadian, 21½c.; prime, 19c.; no charge for barrel.

CANNED GOODS—Some better inquiry is noted for salmon and canned haddies. It may be that Lent is a cause. Some Nova Scotia packed plums and crab apples, in attractive 3-lb. tins, are being offered. There is a fair movement in vegetables. Sales of gallon apples have much fallen off during the last year or two. American packers of corned beef are waking up to the fact that if the Canadian goods give satisfaction they are likely to see but little of the trade which has been so largely theirs. We quote as follows: Corn, 85 to 90c.; peas, 90 to 95c.; tomatoes, 90 to 95c.; corned beef, 2-lb. tins, $2.50 to $2.65; 1-lb. tins, $1.50 to $1.60; oysters, 2's, $2 to $2.25; 1's, $1.60 to $1.65; peaches, 3's, $2.85 to $2.90; 2's, $1.90; lobsters, $1.75 to $2; haddies, $1.40; salmon, $1.35 to $1.50; flat, $1.75; clams, $5.50 for 4 doz.; chowder, $3 for 2 doz.; scallops, $5.50 for 4 doz.; Digby chickens, $1; pineapples, $2 to $2.35; kippered herring, $1.10; American peaches, $2.40.

DRIED FRUIT—The stock of imported prunes, either French or Austrian, in this market is very small. Nor is there any large stock in the States. This leads to a fair business in California goods; but price is rather against business. Evaporated are rather easier, a good many being offered here at lower prices than have been ruling. Last year stocks here were large and prices unsatisfactory to holders. On this account buyers have been rather careful, but there is now a full stock held. Dried are looking for offers, which are hard to get. Raisins and currants continue quiet. Onions are held firm; only silver skins sell here. We quote: Valencias, 5 to 6c.; figs, 10 to 12c.; 4-crown Cal. L. M. raisins, 6 to 7c.; 3-crown Cal. L.M. raisins, 5½ to 6c.; keg prunes, 4c.; boxes, 4¾ to 6c.; Cal. L. L. raisins, $1.50 to $1.75; currants, bbls., 4 to 4½c.; half-cases, 4¼ to 4¾c.; evaporated apples, 7 to 7½c.; dried apples. 5 to 6c.; dates, 4½ to 5c.; California evaporated peaches, 12 to 13c.; do. apricots, 12 to 14c.; do. pears, 12 to 13c.; California prunes, 6½ to 10c.; clean currants, bulk 5½ to 6½c.; 1-lb. cartoons, 7 to 7½c.; Canadian onions, $2.25 to $2.50 per bbl.; cocoanuts, $4 to $4.50 per 100; citron, 15 to 16c.; orange, 13 to 14c.; lemon, 12 to 13c.; Valencia layers, 6 to 6½c.

GREEN FRUIT—The cold weather continues to limit country business, but a good city business is being done. The continued low price of oranges makes a large movement, and Valencias are now a splendid fruit. In Californias sale is more limited. Pines sell more freely. Lemons are sellers at the price. Local sale of apples is not large, but choice fruit is held firm. We quote: Valencia oranges, $3.50 to $4.00; lemons, $2.50 to $3.50; pippins and winter fruit, $2 to $3; native cranberries, $8 per bbl.; Cape Cod ditto., $10 to $12 per bbl.; California oranges, $2.50 to $3.50; imp. Valencia, $4.50 to $5.

DAIRY PRODUCE—There is a better inquiry for cheese, though price shows no change. In butter the market continues dull. Even creamery brings but fair price, showing much better demand in Halifax than here. Prince Edward Island sends large quantities of creamery prints here. Eggs, if fresh, show fair sale. We quote: Cheese, 9 to 9½c.; butter, 16 to 18c.; eggs, 16 to 18c.; fresh creamery prints, 22 to 24c.; tubs, 20 to 22c

MOLASSES—Stocks held are quite light. Dealers look forward to new arriving soon. Market in Barbadoes has opened rather higher than it opened last season. Advices from Porto Rico are also higher, while the short crop of New Orleans has already advanced that grade 2c. from lowest point, and had its effect on other grades. The new Demerara which arrived here cost about 35c., landed. There were but 20 casks; quality was extra. Syrup continues in good demand at the advance. We quote: Barbadoes, 30 to 33c.; St. Croix, 28 to 30c.; Porto Rico, 34 to 36c.; syrup, 35 to 38c.; New Orleans, bbls., 35 to 36c.

SUGAR—Market shows no change during the week. Prices are held firm and a fair trade reported. We quote: Granulated, 4¾ to 4⅞c.; yellow, 4 to 4¼c.; Paris lump, 5¼ to 5½c.; powdered, 5¼ to 5½c.

FISH—The only change is that owing to very small arrivals fresh fish are higher. There is a good demand for dry and pickled, and price is held firm. In smoked, the steamer for Porto Rico took quite a large quantity, but reports from that market do not point to large returns. Hake are very dull. Havana, which, as a rule, takes a large quantity, is no good. There are a number of new brands of codfish being put upon this market. One of the best yet received is put up by a firm in Campobello. Smoked herring are very dull. Boneless fish show good demand, as do lobsters, but the latter are small. Smoked haddies are higher. We quote as follows: Lobsters, 4c. each; frozen herring, 80c. to $1 per 100; frozen cod and haddock, 3 to 3¼c.; bloaters, 60c.; haddies, 5½c.; Medium cod, $3.45 to $3.50; large, $3.70 to $3.75; small, $2.35 to $2.50; pollock, $1.50; bay herring, $1.25 to $1.30; Grand Manan, $1.30 to $1.40; ripplings, $1.65 to $1.70; Quoddy River, $2.75 to $3; smoked, 5 to 5½c.; shad, half-bbl., pickled, $4.50 to $5; Canso, $4; halfs, $2.25; Shelburne, $2.75 to $3 per bbl.

PROVISIONS—Market is firm with but fair demand. No change in prices is noted during the week. Fairly large stocks are held, except in smoked meats. In these, however, the quantity bought and to arrive is equal to demand. We quote: Domestic mess pork, $14 to $14.25; American, $14 to $14.50; clear pork, $15.50 to $16; beef, $13 to $14; pure lard, 8¾ to 9c.; compound lard, 8c.; rolls, 8 to 8½c.; hams, 10½ to 12c.

FLOUR FEED AND MEAL—There continues to be a good business done. A very large quantity of Manitoba has been sold here. And why not, when it is sold out of store if not at the same price as, at least but little higher than, some grades of Ontario? The market is firm, particularly Ontario brands. Upward movement has, however, stopped. In oatmeal and oats there is a firmer feeling, but market is stocked in oatmeal, and no change is noted here. The bean market is unsatisfactory. There are quite large stocks here, largely bought at higher prices than ruling at present, and at time of writing the market is weak. Nothing noted in hay; market is strong. Seeds are being talked of, but little if any business has yet been done. Prices open rather lower than last season. Canadian houses sold much more seed here last season than ever before, and they are again on hand to try and allow the American seller even a smaller share of the trade. We quote

ST. JOHN NOTES.

Chatham is to be incorporated.

The Havelock mineral spring is reported sold to J. C Mahon, of Truro.

Northrup & Co. have just received a shipment of Instantaneous tapioca.

Mr. Robert Jardine now represents the "Log Cabin" brand of canned goods.

Among the freight passing through St. John during the past week was a car of factory cotton for China.

A canning factory to can lobsters is being built at Welshpool, Campobello. It is expected to can a large quantity.

The cold storage movement is assuming shape, and that St. John will have a good cold storage warehouse this coming season is almost an assured fact.

To find no bones in boneless fish is not the rule. But if buyers bought Sealey's guaranteed, they would find the satisfaction of using a fish that is boneless.

Some say fish are not being so largely used in Lent, but this is not the report received from Northrup & Co., who say they find an increasing demand for their canned Golden finnan haddies.

It is said the ss. Monticello is to be put on between Yarmouth and Halifax. There is, no doubt, room for a good boat there. Both St. John and Halifax do a large business along that shore. This would be much appreciated by St. John merchants.

Winter port business continues to increase. This week five Atlantic line steamers were in port. The steamer for Glasgow takes 30 tons logwood and satinwood, landed here by steamer from Demerara. The West India boats regularly take down large consignments of goods from China. The value of the cargoes of the Beaver line boats increases from trip to trip. That of the last steamer was valued at $172,706, almost half of which was American goods. The value of cargo to go by steamer now loading is said to be more than the above figures. The value of the cargoes out of Portland is much more, but if the steamers coming to a Canadian port were patronized by our western people, as they should be, this would not be the case.

HALIFAX TRADE GOSSIP.

WE are having lots of snow and good roads, just what we have been praying for, but, somehow or other, trade is quiet. With the exception of fish there is very little doing. Every other line is reported dull.

The flour market is barely steady. Further advances seem checked and holders are shading a fraction to move stocks. The same may be said of all other lines of breadstuffs.

Sugar remains firm with no change in quotations.

The Lenten season has helped the local trade in fishstuffs considerably. There is a big demand experienced by dealers for all grocery grades, and it is found that sufficient large fish have not been cured to meet the demand. This necessitates the using of large, heavy salted Bank cod, which, although obtainable at a lower figure, does not give satisfaction. The Newfoundland stocks are said to be much lower than last year, and dealers here are looking forward to a better trade later.

Cheese is reported a trifle stiffer in price, but without any perceptible change in the demand. September is quoted at 10½c.

The butter market is steady. Creamery is worth 22c.; good Townships dairy, 20c.; western, 18c.; Canadian rolls, 17 to 18c. Nova Scotia butter runs from 10 to 18c.

There is a scarcity of eggs this week, on account of the cold snap. Stocks have been jobbing as high as 20c. Lower prices are looked for as soon as mild weather sets in and stocks arrive more freely.

Prince Edward Island potatoes are selling at 18c., and several lots were disposed of this week at 15c. to close consignment.

There is nothing doing in provisions, Canadian beef offering here at 5½ to 6½c. A carload of Northwest beef was offered here to-day at 5c. Ontario beef is selling well in this market, but Northwest goes slow. There is very little native offering. Northwest lamb and mutton is offered landed here at 5c., and Northwest pork at 6c. Veal is in demand at 5c.

The green fruit market remains unchanged. The demand for oranges is increasing, and the quality is getting better. Lemons remain low. Apples are scarce. Onions have advanced ¼c.

Dried fruits are receiving attention on account of the scarcity of green fruit for variety.

Canadian maple sugar and syrup are on the market. The latter is quoted at $2.75 per dozen for quart bottles.

There is an improved demand for molasses. Jobbing prices are: Choice Porto Rico, 32c.; fancy do., 34c.; fancy Demerara, 38c., and low grade molasses, 25c.

Canadian oats were quieter this week, at 37c.

The Halifax and Dartmouth Retail Grocers' Association has been organized, with the following officers: W. E. Crowe, president; J. B. MacLean, first vice-president; W. A. Adams, second vice-president; T. A. Hubley, treasurer; I. C. Stewart, secretary. Directors—R. Boutlier, M. H. Ruggles, W. J. Hopgood, H. V. Wier, J. Forsyth, jr.

The next meeting will be held in the Board of Trade rooms, at 3 p.m., on the first Tuesday in March. The association starts with a membership of 50.

The Maritime Grocer is now The Maritime Merchant and Commercial Review. The first number is very creditable. Mr. I. C. Stewart has associated with him in the editorship Mr. Frank Ronnan, a hustler for Davidson Bros.

B. Rautenburg, the Toronto commercial traveler who was recently converted at Hunter & Crossley's revival meetings, spoke in the New Glasgow Methodist Church last Sunday evening.

A deputation of Westmoreland and Cumberland shippers of hay, by appointment interviewed the general manager of the I.C.R. in regard to the shipment of hay over the Intercolonial Railway. The deputation was composed of Messrs. Wm. Black, Frank Page, of Amherst; R. T. Coates, Nappan; J. H. Goodwin and J. A. McQueen, Pt. de Bute; W. F. George, Albert Anderson, Sackville; Bedford Bent, of Amherst.

It is claimed that a regulation issued recently by the I. C. R. greatly handicaps shippers. The regulation complained of stipulates that only 48 hours will be allowed in which to load a car of hay, and the deputation contended that the length of time was insufficient on account of the condition of the roads and weather. After that time $1 per day rental is charged. Mr. Page presented the views of the deputation, after which Mr. Pottinger said that the order was comparatively new and he had no doubt that some definite arrangement might be made that would be satisfactory to all concerned.

Thomas Glenn has started a cigar factory here. His ten-cent brands are called "Santalina" and "Young Queen," and the five-cent brands "Havana Cheroots" and "Florita." He employs six men.

WILL ADVANCE COMMERCIAL INTERESTS.

OWEN SOUND, Feb. 14, 1896.

EDITOR GROCER,—I was indeed ageeably surprised on reading this evening the very flattering and businesslike notice you have given me in this week's issue of your excellent paper. I trust that if elected in North Grey I shall merit the good things you say of me, and can assure you I will do my utmost to advance the commercial interests of the Dominion, that have been for a long time so ably advocated in your journal.

Again thanking you, etc.,

JAMES MCLAUCHLAN.

REMARKS,—Nothing would give us greater pleasure than to publish similar notices of other nominees, be they Liberal or Conservative. It is good sound business men we want in Parliament, not lawyers, ward politicians and business men who have failed to make a success of their own affairs.

THE EDITOR.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Mr. Fred Ward, of J. P. Mott & Co., Halifax, is in Toronto this week. Mr. Ward is now a partner of the firm, but he has lost none of his energy for business.

Mr. Alex. Jardine, of the Pure Gold Manufacturing Co., who is wintering at Nassau, West Indies, has much improved in health.

IT IS MOST UNJUST.

ONE of the greatest injustices practised upon liberal advertisers is by dealers who try to palm off other goods upon customers as something "just as good." The reason for such irregular, not to say dishonest, action is usually traceable to the fact that the dealers who practise it are anxious to substitute something upon which they realize a larger profit, and which is generally much inferior. Such a practice simply amounts to robbing the enterprising advertiser, after he has, in many instances, spent a fortune in placing good goods properly before the public, and The News takes this opportunity to warn its readers against all who so attempt to impose upon them. It is neither fair nor honest dealing, and those who descend to such practices are seldom worthy of public confidence. The very fact that a certain article is inquired for should be accepted as sufficient evidence that it has won a place in the public esteem, and, instead of trying to belittle it or substitute something else for it, an honest, up-to-date dealer will take steps to add it to his stock.

But this is not the worst of it. The dealer who stoops to such practices also deceives and injures his customers, in numerous instances, by inducing them to accept something much inferior to the article which they desire to purchase. In a very large majority of cases, goods which have pushed their way to the front, through liberal advertising and sheer merit, are the very best and most satisfactory of their class, while the "something just as good," which lies molding upon the dealers' shelves has failed to acquire a reputation, because of general or special unfitness and unworthiness. It is natural for dealers with elastic consciences to try to work off goods upon which they have been "stuck" by substituting them for those through which their neighbors have acquired a reputation and made money. This fact, however, does not detract from the dishonesty of the practice. Many customers place implicit confidence in the judgment of those with whom they trade, rendering imposition comparatively easy. Such imposition, however, is an insult which should be promptly resented. Any self-respecting customer would be justified in walking out of a store the proprietor of which tried to sell him something he did not want for something he did, and never afterward returning.

It is a well-established fact that the only articles placed before the public which have established a permanent reputation and given general satisfaction through actual merit are those which have been extensively advertised. Such being the case, unscrupulous manufacturers cannot afford to invest their money in advertising their goods which are inferior, or wholly without merit. It is always safe to presume that the man who is spending large sums of money in advertising his goods knows that they are all that is claimed for them. If the reverse were true, he would be running the risk of losing all he spent in placing them before the public.—Detroit Evening News.

About 12,300 tons of sugar are now afloat on the way to Philadelphia from Alexandria, Egypt. The importation in large quantities of Egyptian sugar is now a thing made necessary through the apprehension that the Cuban crops, by reason of the war, will be poor. Considerable sugar is being shipped from Hamburg in British steamships, and from Honolulu in American clipper ships.

The other day the chandelier in F. L. Fowke's provision store, in Oshawa, fell, smashing every lamp. The oil spread over the floor and ignited with a flash. At first sight it appeared as if the establishment were doomed beyond hope, but the presence of mind of Wilson Drew, the clerk, saved the place. He threw a quantity of meal upon the flames, which had the effect of smothering the most of the blaze, and finished the career of the blaze with a few pails of water. The stock of feed and grain on hand was considerably in excess of the insurance, and the prompt smothering of the flame saved Mr. Fowke the difference.

A SUCCESSFUL FIRM.

LAST Saturday the retail grocery business of The Whitelaw Trading Co. was closed, and hereafter the whole energies of the firm will be devoted to wholesaling. The business will be done in the west store, and will be under the direct personal supervision of Mr. A. Whitelaw and his brother Joseph Whitelaw.

Thirteen years ago Mr. A. Whitelaw started business in Brandon, in the building that was a few years ago converted into a residence, and is now occupied by Sheriff Clement. He and a Mr. Whitehead, who has long since left Brandon, opened out a general store in January, '83, and they did a rushing business, for those were the days when money was plentiful. In July, 1886, Mr. Whitehead retired from the business, and Mr. I. R. Strome took his place, and the firm name was changed to that of Strome & Whitelaw. After the entrance of Mr. Strome the business was moved to the Braeside Block, in which Mr. Whitelaw has continued up to the present. In 1891, after the firm had purchased the stock of Paisley, Miller & Carscaden, Strome & Whitelaw dissolved partnership, Mr. Strome taking to dry goods exclusively, while Mr. Whitelaw continued the grocery and crockery business. In 1893 the firm name was changed to The Whitelaw Trading Co., and this will continue to be the name under which Mr. Whitelaw will do business. In addition to doing a wholesale grocery trade, the company will go extensively into produce and and fruit. The fruit business especially will receive a large share of attention.

In all these years of business in Brandon, Mr. Whitelaw has been a great believer in the future prospects of the city, and has ever been ready to ad ance its interests when occasion offered. He has been active in Presbyterian church circles, taking special interest in the Sunday school, of which he has been superintendent for many years. He is also an active worker in the Y.M.C.A., and is president of that organization.

In the retail trade Mr. Whitelaw has been a most satisfactory business man to deal with, and many families who have dealt with him for years will regret that he will no longer cater directly to their daily needs.—Times, Brandon, Man., Feb. 15.

WINNIPEG CITY TRAVELERS.

THE Winnipeg city travelers on the 17th inst. had their second annual At Home in the McIntyre and Friendship halls, about 200 being present. The dance programme was preceded by a concert of more than ordinary interest ; the musical arrangements were in the hands of Mr. David Ross, and though the room was unsuited as far as acoustic properties are concerned, still the singers each did as well as could be expected under the circumstances. Mrs. T. H. Verner, Miss Patton and Messrs. Jackson Hanby and D. Ross were the vocalists, and Mr. J. W. Matthews the accompanist. Probably the best number on the programme was the trio, "Queen of the Night," by Mrs. Verner, Miss Patton and D. Ross. At the conclusion of the musical programme the company adjourned to the Friendship hall, where ample provision was made by Mr. W. Kenealy for the more substantial element of the necessities of an At Home. Though it was this gentleman's first effort at catering for so large a gathering outside of the Queen's Hotel, he and his assistants left no stone unturned for the satisfying of the wants of those present. The tables were tastefully set out, and garnished with flowers, evergreens, etc., and looked very inviting.

Whilst supper was in progress the McIntyre hall was set out with small tables for cards, crokinole, etc., and a plentiful supply of fruit, and shortly before midnight the dance programme of sixteen items and three extras was commenced under the directorship of Mr. Jas. Barnes.

For those who did not care to participate in the dizzy whirl, the Mandolin and Guitar Quintette, Messrs. E. Tugwell, F. Hughes, J. Hughes, W. McLean and J. Howden, entertained their listeners. Emma's orchestra supplied the music for dancing with their usual ability. Mr. D. M. Horne was chairman of the committees, Mr. J. W. Scott, treasurer, and Mr. John Horne, secretary.

Among those present were noticed the following : Mr. John Mouat, Miss C. Mouat, Mr. E. A. Simmons, Mr. and Mrs. A. DeCow, Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Horne, Mr. and Mrs. Dickie, Miss Dickie, Mr. J. P. Shortly before 3 o'clock the "Home, Sweet Home" waltz reminded the dancers that an evening that will long live in the memory of all present was brought to a successful close.

A STRONG COMPANY.

Confidence in a vessel's safety can only be established after she has weathered a severe storm. And what applies to a vessel applies to financial and commercial institutions. The year 1895 will long be remembered for the fire and marine disasters that accompanied it. An insurance company, therefore, that emerged from that year without showing impaired strength can be safely accounted safe and worthy of confidence.

The Western Assurance Co. suffered heavily by the fires which visited Toronto and its marine branch also had to bear its share of the losses which characterised the shipping of last year, but in spite of these drains upon its resources, the company brought up the end of the year without the least suspicion of impairment. The sum of $100,000 was paid out in dividends. To-day there is for the security of the policyholders the handsome sum of $3,072,952, while the new year has opened up most auspicuously for the company. A report of the annual meeting will be found on another page.

LATER BUSINESS CHANGES.

The Toronto Shoe Co., King and Jarvis streets, Toronto, has assigned. The liabilities are about $10,000.

The liabilities of Cleghorn & Son, the insolvent Toronto fish dealers, are $14,900, and the assets $8,500. The firm is offering to compromise at 25c. on the dollar.

R. R. Harris, the insolvent crockery dealer of Brantford, has submitted two offers to his creditors. One is for 35c. on the dollar, and the other for 50c. Both have been refused, and the creditors will sell the stock. The liabilities are $13,000.

Mrs. E. Dickson, grocer, Clayton, has sold out.

Joseph Saul is the name of a new grocer in Clayton.

W. J. Wilson & Co., general merchants, Greenway, Ont., are offering to compromise at 50c. on the dollar.

The general stock of A. Beaulieu, St. Pacome, Que., has been sold at 51½c. on the dollar.

F. Cote, general merchant, St. Sylvere, Que., has compromised with his creditors.

Labrecque & Leclaire, grocers, Montreal, have dissolved.

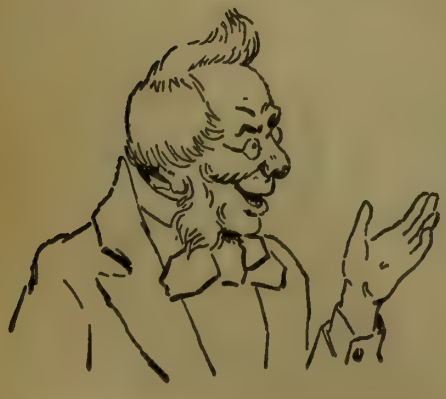
HOW AN EGG KEEPS.

THERE is nothing which is more susceptible to surrounding influences than an egg. When it is fresh and new the shell is coated with a glaze, which prevents any air from reaching the inside or meat of the egg and starting decomposition. But unless the egg is properly cared for this coating soon wears off and the albumen or white of the egg becomes thin and watery, says The Egg Reporter. The shell of an egg under a powerful microscope resembles very closely a very fine piece of lace, being thoroughly porous, and but for the coating that is provided by nature to protect it the meat would soon become stale after production.

As soon as the white of an egg becomes thin it is not strong enough to support the yelk, and when the egg is examined and turned around by the inspector or candler the yelk will drop from side to side. Such an egg is known among the egg men as a "floater," and is thus distinguished from the newly-laid stock. Floaters as a rule go into seconds and are fit only for a certain class of cheap baker's trade. They sell all the way from two to four cents below the better grades at wholesale, and generally find a pretty good outlet at these lower figures.

After an egg has become a "floater," and remained in one position for a great length of time, the yelk lying on the bottom side, the egg adheres to the shell and will stay in one position, no matter how the egg is turned or in what position it is placed. When it reaches the stage of decomposition it is called "spot," and it is in pretty bad shape for commercial purposes. Such eggs, together with "black rots," as they are called, are used to finish leather with, giving it that high-glazed appearance which is noticed on new leather fresh from the tannery.



When an egg known as "spot" is broken, the yelk and white run out together, as the yelk is broken when the white is drawn off.

Because of the fact that the yelk of an egg adheres to the side of a shell when left in one position for any length of time, the custom was at one time to turn the package containing the eggs over, so that this adhesion might be prevented. This was when the storage people thought that the proper temperature to store an egg was about 40 deg. But when the temperature of the storage is kept around 32 deg. the white of the egg is prevented from becoming thin, and therefore the yelk does not stick to the shell. Not only does the low temperature prevent the glaze from coming off the shell, but the extreme cold serves to thicken the albumen so that it supports the yelk with difficulty.

There is no longer any excuse for musty eggs in good storage houses. There was a time when it was expected that more or less would be musty. That was before the day of modern and improved storage houses. Must in an egg is caused by dampness. If the temperature of an egg room is heated 32 deg. for any length of time, and permitted to rise a degree or two, then be cooled down again, great damage will result. The cooling down temperature is always accompanied by condensation of moisture in the atmosphere. The egg will remain cold in its case longer than the surrounding atmosphere, and when warmer air strikes it, the moisture will collect upon the shell of the egg and cause it to "sweat." A few repetitions of this process will leave a deep deposit, from which a fungus will spring, and this fungus, known as mildew, will taint the egg. In fact, a pine shaving left in the bottom of a case of eggs in storage for a few months will impart the pine odor to every egg in the case. This is the reason why storage people have to be so very particular about the class of lumber they use in their houses. Nothing but the very best of kiln-dried wood that imparts no flavor can be used with safety.

In the days of the old process, when the temperature of the egg room was kept at 40 deg. or thereabout, it was not much out of the way to have a loss of three to five dozen eggs to the case from stock put away in April and May and taken out in the winter months. Now the average loss from a good cooler is not over a dozen, and more times not half that. There are instances where eggs have been taken out in January that were put away in April without losing a single egg to the case. Such eggs were, of course, put away in good order and closely candled.

G. Caron, general merchant, Cap St. Ignace, Que, has assigned, and a meeting of creditors will be held 6th prox.

J. S. Atkinson & Co., general merchants, Hopewell Corner, N.B., are offering to compromise at 40c. on the dollar—4, 8 and 12 months.

R. R. Harris, crockery dealer, Brantford, is offering his creditors 35 cents on the dollar. The creditors will meet in Toronto shortly. The statement of affairs shows a deficit of about $1,500.

W. A. Currie, general storekeeper, of Glencoe, has assigned to David Blackley, of Toronto. The liabilities of the estate are said to be in the neighborhood of $7,000 with assets nominally the same. A meeting of the creditors will be held on March 3.

A meeting of the creditors of George Spence, postmaster, mill owner, storekeeper, etc., Uffington, Muskoka district, was held in Toronto. The statement shows liabilities and assets in the neighborhood of $5,000. Caldecott, Burton & Co. are the principal creditors. A settlement will probably enable Mr. Spence to continue his business.

WOULD MAKE GOOD OLD APPLE JACK.

PRESIDENT EVANS, of the Missouri State Horticultural Society, recently read a paper before the Kansas State Horticultural Society treating of the various methods of utilizing waste fruit in the orchard. His concluding remarks, as given by The Trade, Baltimore, were:

"Now Mr. Chairman, as there is no money in canning, evaporating, making cider or vinegar, or even feeding to hogs, the question remains unanswered, What shall we do with our culls?

"There is a way to answer it, however, but it is a way I would hardly dare suggest to the Kansas fruit growers, besides the statutes of the State prohibit him from availing himself of it. In that way every bushel of fruit not suitable to pack and ship to market can be made worth from 30 to 50c. besides converting them into a greatly condensed form, saving largely in packages and freight and shipping when you please.

"Many are taking advantage of this, some perhaps as a matter of choice, but most of them through necessity. The extreme low price of fruits the last few years, and the extreme high rates of transportation have made it necessary for the fruit grower to look for some other way to turn the products of his labor into money. In this way the windfalls, culls and waste of a commercial orchard may be made to go a long way toward paying the running expenses.

"While the manufacture of fruit spirits is not popular in some sections, it is the only way to answer the question, besides it enables the fruit growers to furnish the laboring man more work and pay him better wages and give his children better schooling.

"It is an inducement to the orchardist to clean up and take out all wormy, scabby and diseased fruit that would otherwise remain on the ground and breed destruction for the next crop.

"Mr. Chairman, your secretary has asked me to answer this question, and if I have not suggested anything that will help your orchardist to utilize his culls, I may at least have told some ways that will not pay, so that they need not make the mistake that so many have made, and squander their means in canning factories to be sold out at 50c. or less on the dollar after running the first year at a great loss."

DROPS FROM THE EDITOR'S PEN.

Money cannot buy brains, but brains can get money.

A negligent merchant is an active cultivator of dead beats.

A good rank to enter is that of the first-class business man.

Trade, like character, is largely what men in business make it.

It is better to have determination to do than money with which to buy.

Dishonesty produces discredit and ultimately business dissolution.

Tenacity may savor of the bull dog, but it is a good attribute nevertheless.

Absence of money where there is presence of brains does not debar success.

Clerks who tipple are likely to topple over before they gain much eminence.

We cannot expect to get a penny postage from tu'penny-ha'penny politicians.

As the spring approaches, the hopes of a good spring trade are beginning to bud.

The value of a business men's association is just what its members choose to make it.

"Starch" is as necessary to a merchant's business life as is blood to his physical life.

A well-displayed window opens the store door as well as invites customers to come in.

The "dead beat" possesses life enough to suck sustenance from over-confiding merchants.

Country merchants should give as much care to their local advertising as they do to their stock.

If all young men realized that the successful management of business was one of the hardest instead of one of the easiest things in the world there would be both fewer men in business and fewer failures.

The man who lies in his advertisements won't have to wait till the Judgment Day to be found out.

A word well-weighed before being spoken is not likely to turn into a boomerang after it has left your lips.

The first essential to success in business is the mastery of the details of the trade in which you are engaged.

Gold we cannot all have access to, but a wealth of knowledge we can all obtain at the price of diligent research.

Not more isolated on his lonely island was Robinson Cruso than is the merchant who subscribes to no trade paper.

The names of those who tarry long at the wine-cup should not be permitted to tarry long on the merchants' books.

In adopting bright, go-ahead business methods, it does not follow that a merchant should emulate the Cheap John.

Package peanuts are captivating the people of the United States. What next will be doled out in packages?

The difference in the insanity of the man who cuts his throat and the merchant who cuts prices is merely one of degree.

An obstacle does not stop the progress of the man of courage and energy: it merely makes him climb harder or jump higher.

A man is none the worse for a fall in business; it is when he falls and has not the courage to get up again that he is the worse.

It is when advertisers sow their seed in stoney ground that they get unprofitable fruitage. An advertisement well planted in a good medium is like seed sown in good ground, and frequently bringeth forth an hundred-fold.

Merchants who keep reliable goods in stock, like men who are jealous of their good name, gain the confidence of their clients.

It is a pity that more of the department stores do not, like Wanamaker, recognize the incompatibility of groceries and dry goods.

There is a duty of the merchant towards his clerk as well as a duty of the clerk towards the merchant, and that duty is to teach him his business.

What this country needs is a Remedial Bill that will give us relief from the unbusiness like nonentities that sit in Parliament and foregather at Cabinet Councils.

A tobacco pipe is no more in keeping with the store than it is with the drawing room, and, thanks be to goodness, most grocers know it; but there are a few who do not.

Knights of the Grip who are floundering along side-lines and creeping along snow-bound railways, capturing trade for their respective houses, are entitled to our sympathy.

The Cleveland Association of Retail Grocers is trying to form a combination with a view to establishing a card on several staple articles. If they succeed, most people will account them a little higher than the angels.

The reason there are so many unsuccessful men in the world is that there are so many merchants who should have been mechanics and so many mechanics who should have been merchants. Be what Nature designed you to be.

We are at the dawn of the day when a merchant or manufacturer who does not advertise will be placed on a par with the merchant or manufacturer who would essay to do business without keeping a set of books.

EARLY CLOSING BY GROCERS.

THERE were about 75 of the representative retail grocers of the city present at the last meeting of the Retail Grocers' Association of London. The meeting was called for two purposes — pleasure or sociability and business interests or discussions on questions relative to the trade. Mr. McCutcheon, president, occupied the chair, and set the ball rolling by proposing the first question, "The usefulness of the Grocers' Association." He remarked that he was pleased to see such a good representation of the trade present. As president of the association he would try and point out some of the good resulting from the association. First, and perhaps one of the most important things, was the keeping track of delinquents or bad-pay parties. This has no doubt been a great benefit to the members of this association. There are certain people who do not care who supplies them with goods so long as they do not have to pay for them. They do not intend to pay for them when they are ordering, and are in the habit of running accounts as long as they can at one store. Then they go to another, and the grocers have been greatly imposed upon by this class. But we have them on our list, and, as a consequence, there is not the credit given to this class of persons as there was formerly. They know we know their reputation, and they must pay as they go. Another good result of this association is the friendly feeling of the members. We get acquainted with each other through meeting together, and there certainly is a better feeling all round than existed before the association was organized. He hoped if there were any present not members, they would hand in their names to the secretary.

He then called on Mr. A. McCormick, the first president of the association. Mr. McCormick said he fully endorsed all that had been said by the president, especially regarding the friendly feeling engendered. He felt it a pleasure to meet a fellow-grocer on the market and shake hands, and while we do not at any of our meetings pretend to bind ourselves to prices, there is that feeling that we should live and let live. There is not the jealousy existing among the members as there was before the association was formed, and, another thing, our picnics have been a most enjoyable outing. It was a pleasure to see such a gathering. If there were any present who were not members of this association, he hoped they would join at once. He hoped everyone would enjoy themselves.

Mr. W. T. Stenberg favored the meeting with a song, entitled, "The Flag That Never Failed."

"Early closing of stores on Saturday evenings" was the next question introduced for discussion.

Mr. R. A. Jones said that many of those present had heard this discussed at their regular meetings. He thought it was time to take more definite action. He did not think it was necessary for any grocer to make a slave of himself and employes, working from 14 to 16 hours a day, and felt that if the grocers would look fairly and squarely into the matter, they would agree that the work could be done in much shorter hours, and not keep their employes and horses out until 1 or 2 o'clock Sunday mornings. No matter how late the stores are kept open the last customers are those living next door or very close to the store, and could do their purchasing earlier if they only would. The agitation has done good, and now is the time to take further and more definite action.

Mr. W. H. Branton believed no one would be any worse off in pocket and certainly better in health, and perhaps live much longer if we closed at a more seasonable hour, and from the effect of the agitation he felt satisfied that we would have the good will of the public. None of our customers like to be kept up late on Saturday evenings waiting for their groceries. Several of his customers had already stated that they were pleased to see that steps were being taken to shorten the hours for keeping the stores open on Saturday nights, and he was sure that if we took some definite action we we would have the support of the citizens generally. He believed it was time to state some hour. The only parties who might have cause to complain would be the gas or electric light companies.

Mr. Sharpe said he was pleased to see such a large gathering of grocers. The question of early closing had been pretty well discussed by the former speakers. The movement is a popular one with the citizens, and he felt that if the grocers do not take some action they will be the losers. We are catering to the public, and should bear this in mind, we cannot afford to offend our customers. The agitation was started in behalf of the employes. The different associations and organizations in the city are agitating the question, and we will make a mistake if we do not fall into line. He would like to see the popular vote of this meeting as to the most suitable hour for closing on Saturday nights. He would be in favor of 9 o'clock, but if the majority say 10 o'clock, he would quite willingly go with the majority in order to make it unanimous.

Mr. Jas. Fitzgerald enquired what about other evenings? He would like to see the grocers come to some understanding on the question of shorter hours for all days of the week.

Several members remarked that they agreed with Mr. Fitzgerald. A motion favoring shorter hours on Saturday was then put and carried unanimously.

A motion was made favoring 9 o'clock, and an amendment that this meeting would recommend 10 o'clock on Saturday evenings and 7 o'clock all other evenings, except before holidays. The amendment carried unanimously.

The question was then asked: "What action are we to understand will be taken from the resolutions just passed?"

R. A. Jones, on behalf of the committee on the early closing movement, would like something definite to take from the meeting to the Early Closing Association, and it was moved that the secretary prepare a petition for early closing and ascertain how many of the grocers favor closing at 10 o'clock on Saturdays and 7 o'clock other evenings, and that April 1st be the date for carrying the movement into effect. This was concurred in.

Mr. Austin gave a reading, entitled, "They carried it too far," and as it had no reference to the early closing movement, it brought the house down.

"Our next annual outing." This question brought J. C. Trebilcock to his feet. He said it had already been stated that our picnics have been a very pleasant day's outing, and are always looked forward to. Why, the citizens of London would be lost; they would not know what to do with themselves if the grocers didn't have a picnic. It possibly might be a good idea to carry it a little further. We have always gone to the Park. We might go to Springbank this season for a change.

P. McGlade said that he was not at all surprised at Mr. Trebilcock favoring a picnic, but as we have had five very good picnics, and London grocers are noted for good picnics from Montreal to Vancouver, he would be in favor of going out of the city this season for a change. It has been suggested that we go to some central point, and that all the associations in Ontario join in a picnic or convention. There are questions of importance to the trade generally that could be discussed. He would like an expression of this meeting on the question.

Mr. F. Harley said he was of the same opinion as Mr. McGlade at one time, but on thinking it over he rather favored a picnic.

A vote was taken to ascertain the feeling of the meeting, and the excursion carried.

A resolution of regret and sympathy for Mr. T. A. Rowat, who was not present through a severe illness, and a hope that he would soon regain his health, was passed, as also best wishes for Mr. W. H. Ferguson, absent, but remembered.

Mr. E. Ryan favored with a song.

The caterer, Mr. F. E. Lee, announced that the coffee was hot, and the president thought it a very fitting time to test its quality, and for the next half hour justice was done to the good things provided, sandwiched with songs and a social time, and as the grocers are in favor of shorter hours, the meeting broke up at a very seasonable hour by singing "He's a Jolly Good Fellow."

THE TINNED PRODUCE TRADE.

THE past season was not a good one for the Canadian export trade in tinned products. Owing to the glutted state of the British markets the prices for tomatoes in tins were the lowest on record, goods of average quality in standard tins weighing about 2½ lbs. gross, fetching only 2s. 6d. per doz., freight paid, in London. The prices were mainly obtained by United States packers, Canadian and European packers naturally preferring to hold rather than sell under the cost of production. Canadian packers were the more inclined to do this as their brands are admittedly better in point of flavor, though some allege that they are not so regular in color or so solid. Canadians would, moreover, do well to pay greater heed to the look of their goods so placed on these markets—their labels, for example, might be brighter and the general appearance of the tins more attractive.

The tinned peas trade has suffered severely as the result of Government prosecutions against retail grocers for selling tinned peas with an admixture of sulphate of copper for coloring purposes. Some French packers talk of sending peas here without any copper coloring, and stamped "guaranteed pure." Canadians may think it worth their while to make a like test of British tastes.

Canadians might also do more in the way of tinned fruits. Pears have been received of late from the Eastern States which are held to be of better flavor than the Californian fruit, though smaller in size. If the Eastern States, why not Eastern Canada, Nova Scotia and Ontario? Much the same may be said of peaches. Californian apricots of the best brand have been retailed in England as low as 6d. per tin. Tinned apples from Canada seem to improve in quality and color, and are now superior to United States brands. Let this improvement be steadily maintained, and the effect must be seen in the prices. As to dried apples and apple rings, much prejudice has been created in the trade by the arrival of mildewy and musty fruit from the States. If Canadians wish to make their mark they must strive to establish a uniform grade of better quality fruit.

A steady improvement is reported in the quality of Canadian tinned meats received in London, and, speaking generally, Canadian brands are now said to compare favorably with the brands from the United States and Australia. But Canadian shipments are still very small in comparison.

Good reports are also made as to the lobster trade, long under a cloud. A Halifax merchant has introduced a new method for preventing the formation of sulphide of iron—that is to say, smut—in the cans. This method seems chiefly to consist in the addition of gelatine, and wholesale buyers say it is a marked advantage. It is early yet to say what the consuming public think. The precautions of the Canadian Government for the prevention of illicit packing are well spoken of as having prevented the dumping of inferior qualities on the British markets, and so lowering the prices at the opening of the season.

Many think that a great change is destined to come over the whole trade in perishable agricultural and fishing products by the introduction of effective refrigeration on transatlantic steamers. In Nova Scotia the erection of cold storage accommodation is to be energetically pushed under Government encouragement, and great hopes are entertained of developments elsewhere in Canada.—Canadian Gazette, London, Eng.

NOVA SCOTIA'S APPLE TRADE.

Nova Scotia has enjoyed what the president of its Fruit Growers' Association calls "another successful year in this important and profitable industry." From sales of fruits and berries together the growers of the province will pocket over a million dollars. Yet no one can doubt that Nova Scotia is as yet only at the threshold of her development in fruit farming. Her capacities are beyond dispute, so also is the certainty of a market for her production. Despite a 20 per cent. duty, she marketed 50,000 barrels of apples in the United States at prices ranging from 25 to 50 per cent. above those obtained for United States fruits. In England, too, Nova Scotia apples head the list of imported fruits on the score of quality. The openings are abundant, and success is pretty well assured to those who understand their business and will stick to it.—Canadian Gazette.

IT IS HIGHLY APPRECIATED.

EDITOR GROCER,—At a meeting of the Winnipeg City Travelers' Association, held on Feb. 22nd, it was unanimously resolved to send a hearty vote of thanks to the press, and especially THE CANADIAN GROCER, for their kind notices of our meetings here. I may mention that your valuable paper is highly appreciated here.

Yours, etc., JOHN HORNE,
Winnipeg, Feb. 28. 1896. Secretary.

HAD NO USE FOR INSURANCE.

I got in the store of a genuine curiosity last week. He was a grocer who didn't carry a cent of insurance on his stock, his building, his life or his horse. I haven't heard of his being burned out yet, but I expect to. That's always the luck of the uninsured man, while the one who carries a fat insurance has to keep on his business just the same.

This fellow said he never had any use for insurance of any kind.

"Ever been burned out?" I asked him.

"Nope," he said. "Never expect to be."

"You'll look at insurance differently some morning when you find your place gone up in smoke," I said.

"I'll never find it that way," he persisted, and gave as his reasons the fact that he never had found it so yet.

I never saw a more mulish grocer than this one.

"Suppose your horse dies," I said.

"It ain't a-going to die till its time comes," he answered. "I buy good horses and I take care of 'em. I don't expect a horse to live forever."

Then I tried him on a new tack.

"What'll become of your wife and children when you die, if you have no life insurance?" I asked.

"I've got no wife and I don't want any!" he snapped, and I regarded the interview as closed. He'll be burned to the ground some day, mark my word.—Stroller, in The Grocery World.

ARTIFICIAL PREPARATION OF CAFFEINE.

THE current number of The Journal of the Berlin Chemical Society contains a short paper by Professor Emil Fischer, of Berlin, (the successor in Berlin University of that world-famous chemist the late A. W. von Hofmann) and Herr Lorenz Ach, of which the outcome may be very far-reaching. These gentlemen have just succeeded in synthetising caffeine (also called theine), the constituent of tea and coffee, which imparts to these their invigorating and refreshing properties. In other words, they have carried out the last stages in the building up of this extremely complex chemical compound from other simpler (if still complex) ones, which in their turn are capable of being prepared from the four elements, carbon, hydrogen, oxygen, and nitrogen. Caffeine, or theine, belongs to the class of chemical substances known as the vegetable alkaloids, a class which embraces quinine, strychnine, morphine, nicotine, and many other compounds of the highest importance in medicine. But although it may be safely predicted that with the rapid growth of organic chemistry, the artificial production of the many and various alkaloids will be merely a question of time, there have been up to the present only a few of them synthetised, the difficulties to be overcome being very great. It would, of course, be quite out of place to enter here into the complicated series of chemical reactions by which Messrs. Fischer and Ach have built up caffeine in the laboratory: let the statement suffice for the present: The amount of caffeine in different teas varies considerably, but we shall not be far wrong in putting it at 2½ per cent. on the average, while coffee contains 1 per cent. In every 100 lbs. of tea, therefore, we use 2½ lbs. of caffeine. The imports of tea to the United Kingdom in 1889 amounted to 221,602,660 lbs., the actual consumption being 185,621,800 lbs. (or 4 9 lbs. per head of population), equivalent to 4,640,545 lbs. of caffeine. These figures show what an immense consumption there is of caffeine in the form of an infusion of tea. The pure substance (prepared from tea) is likewise now used to some extent for medicinal purposes. The new process is merely a laboratory one, and its cost would be entirely prohibitive of its being applied in its present form on a commercial scale. But the discoverers are careful to point out that this will no longer be the case if one particular stage of the method should eventually prove capable of accomplishment in a more direct way. Whether the artificial preparation of caffeine and its consequent cheapening would be an actual blessing to the world in this age of "nerves" remains to be proved. This discovery—a brilliant one from a scientific point of view—has at all events brought us within measurable distance of it.

FRENCH AND CALIFORNIA PRUNES

In answer to the question why no further export orders for California prunes were being received, Mr. Fred. Bennett, of Hartwig & Bennett, said that his information was to the effect that French farmers who had been holding back their stocks for better prices, owing to the short crop in France last year, have only recently become acquainted with the fact that California is invading European markets and is now again supplying the wants of Europe. Another commission man said that if Europe could get French prunes the prejudice already existing in favor of that fruit would go a long way toward preventing the sellers of California prunes from getting a foothold on the other side.—N. Y. Journal of Commerce.

Canadian manufacturers of patent medicines have decided to advance prices to wholesalers on April 1. This action is at the request of the Retail Druggists' Association, and is the beginning of war with the departmental stores, which have been cutting prices in these lines. The retail druggists informed the manufacturers that unless they quit dealing with firms selling goods at less than registered prices they would quit handling patent medicines. Consequently this attempt is being made to keep the price up to the former figure and drive departmental stores out of the patent medicine business.

CREDIT SYSTEM AND FAILURES.

THE London Financial Times recently made the astounding statement that "half the failures in Canada are caused by excessively long credits," and it has gone the rounds of the trade papers in the United States.

The credit system undoubtedly has freer course in Canada than it should have; but there is no use giving a dog a worse name than it really has. And this is what The London Financial Times has been giving the credit system of Canada.

Half the failures in Canada are not caused by excessively long credits, and had the press of the United States only taken the pains to refer to the statistics compiled by the statisticians of their own country they would not have fallen into the same error as their London contemporary.

The pamphlet, "A Record, Not a Prospectus," issued by the Bradstreets' Company, of New York, shows that the total failures in Canada and Newfoundland combined in 1895 were 1,916, and that those due to unwise credits were 22, 1.2 per cent. of the whole, or 48.8 per cent. less than The Financial Times asserts. Taking incompetence, inexperience, neglect of business and unwise credits altogether the per-centage is scarcely 15 per cent. In the United States last year unwise credits were the cause of 5.1 per cent., or nearly 4 per cent. greater than in Canada.

The chief cause of failures in both Canada and the United States is lack of capital. THE CANADIAN GROCER regrets to say that the former is a greater sinner than the latter in this respect. This imparts a lesson which all who contemplate going into business should "read, work, learn and inwardly digest." No less than 71 per cent. of the failures in Canada last year were due to this cause.

Obviously, a large source of failure supplies would be cut off if men with large ambition and inadequate capital would desist from going into business until the two essentials were more evenly balanced.

The statement made by The Financial Times brings to mind another fallacious statement which has found credence for some years in a wide constituency. We refer to the percentage of unsuccessful to successful business men. This statement was to the effect that "95 out of every 100 concerns or firms in business fail." Anyone who would roll this over on his tongue for a few minutes would scarcely afterwards swallow it. But the honor of disproving the fallacy lies with the Bradstreets' Company, which has taken particular pains to investigate this particular matter.

The research covered both the United States and Canada, and we take this clause from Bradstreets' report thereon: "An examination of the records of the number of firms, individuals and corporations in business, together with the total number of failures in years preceding 1893, indicates that the total failures in business of both kinds—that is, those failing to pay what they owe and those which merely failed to succeed—amounted to about 11 per cent. annually of the total number of concerns recorded as having an established place in business, while the total number of those failing owing more than they could pay was only a fraction more than 1 per cent. annually."

It may be interesting to note in this connection that there were 80,666 places of business in Canada last year. As the total number of failures were 1,916 it will be observed that the percentage of failures to the number of firms in business was 1.25. In the United States the percentage was slightly less.

A MERCHANT FROM WATERFORD.

Mr. S. L. Squire, who recently bought out A. M. Little, general merchant, Waterford, has been in Toronto attending the millinery openings. Mr. Squire was formerly a clerk in the store of which he is now proprietor, and took possession February 1. He is a young man of good address, and a few minutes conversation convinces one that he is bright and pushing.

"Business, while quiet at the moment," he said in reply to a question, "is promising. We do not look for a boom. But we do anticipate a healthy spring trade. Fall wheat is looking well, and the farmers in our part of the country are in a better condition than they have been for some time. True, they are not buying much; but they have been paying their debts, and to-day owe less than usual."

"Do you do much advertising?"

"Yes; and through the medium of our local paper and posters. I find the poster catches some that the newspaper does not. And I find that if you want to keep alive and up to date you must read the trade press," he added.

INDIFFERENT ABOUT MOLASSES.

THE strong news from primary markets on molasses of all kinds has failed entirely in waking up Canadian jobbers and importers.

Last year, before the middle of February, most of the Montreal wholesale grocery houses, at any rate, had executed or placed their contracts for Barbadoes and Porto Rico. This spring up to the present time not a single contract of importance has been put through, and, what is more, the news of the steadily advancing cost at the Islands does not seem to cause the least anxiety. On the other hand, jobbers themselves admit that very seldom has their stock been as light as it is at the present time. One instance is sufficiently striking to illustrate this. A leading Montreal firm at this time last spring controlled 800 to 1,000 puncheons of molasses. To-day they themselves admit that they are not carrying more than 25 or 50 puncheons.

Briefly, the understanding that many of the Montreal jobbers are working on is that we are going to have a larger and superior yield of maple syrup this spring, and that it will sell at a price that will compete with molasses if the cost of the latter keeps advancing as it has.

In the meantime nothing seems to check the strength both at Port Rico and Barbadoes.

As will be seen elsewhere a leading sales agent in Montreal has been instructed to withdraw all stock and quotations of the latter. Their advices state that the crop is 25 per cent. short, and that the market is excited, the commission men being unable to fill their orders.

Bids equivalent to 30 c.i.f. New York per wine gallon have been refused. This is equivalent to 36c. imperial gallon, or 40c. laid down in Montreal.

Latest cables from Barbadoes are equally firm, quoting 20c. f.o.b., including puncheons, at the island. This is equivalent to fully 33½c. Montreal, making no allowance for commission or loss in gauge, the latter being generally good for 5 per cent. shrinkage.

The first cargo shipment from Antigua, consisting of 500 puncheons, has left that market, being billed for Vineyard Haven. It has been offered in Montreal at 30c., landing gauges duty paid, but no business has been done. In fact, the jobbers at the metropolis have made no move at all, either in the matter of securing future supplies or taking advantage of the strength at primary points on the goods now in bond. They are still jobbing these out at the old figures, whereas in New York fancy Porto Rico has advanced 6c. per gallon within the past fortnight to 35c.

There are no lots of any consequence in Montreal commission men's hands, all being closed out some time ago.

RETALIATION ON CANADA.

A WASHINGTON despatch to The N.Y. Journal of Commerce states that several complaints have recently reached the State Department there on the subject of certain Canadian regulations regarding goods imported in bond via United States ports, and stating that the Government at Washington may adopt similar regulations in regard to goods imported in bond via Canadian ports.

The particular Canadian Customs regulations which are the source of the complaint in question are contained in a sub section of section 68, which reads :

> Goods that have entered for consumption and for warehouse, or that have been permitted to remain unclaimed, or that have been permitted to remain for any purpose in any other country intermediary between the country of export and Canada, shall not be considered as in transitu through such intermediary country, but shall be treated as goods imported from such intermediary country and valued and rated for duty accordingly.

In order to prove that goods imported in bond, via United States ports, have not been held for any purpose in that country the Customs authorities demand a certificate showing that they have been entered at the entry port for immediate shipment to Canada. Goods not accompanied by this certificate are treated as if "imported from such intermediary country, and valued and rated for duty accordingly." In other words, to the original cost of the goods in the country of production is added the amount of the duty which they would have been compelled to pay had they remained in the United States.

The appraiser bases his calculation on the aggregate value thus obtained.

In the United States no cognizance is taken as to whether the goods imported in bond have been in warehouse in the intermediary country or not ; but how long they will refrain from doing so seems questionable, in view of the despatch just cited.

The cause of which the present narrow Canadian regulations are the effect was the abuse of the privileges which importers enjoyed of bringing in goods in bond via United States ports, and being subject to the same Customs regulations as if imported direct from the country of production. The regulations never intended that goods should be entered in warehouse, say New York, and there held until the importer could canvas the particular trade in which he was interested, in both the United States and Canada, bringing them on to the latter country only when he could obtain a better price. Yet this is what was done, and that frequently. The modus operandi was as follows : When the goods arrived at New York or any other United States port, the importer who desired to try both the American and Canadian markets, instead of claiming them, allowed them to be put into the Customs warehouse for unclaimed goods. When he had decided to which market he would send them he would innocently ask the Custom authorities if goods consigned to So and So had arrived on a certain steamer, and on being answered in the affirmative, would claim them and forward them to the destination decided upon.

Without discussing the merits or demerits of the regulations, it might be with propriety asked whether the time has not arrived when Canada has not more to gain by abrogating than by continuing them.

There was a time when Canada would have little to lose by retaliation from the United States in the particular under consideration, for the imports of merchandise at Canadian ports destined for the United States did not amount to a great deal ; but the conditions are changing.

On the Pacific we have the C. P. R. steamers running to the Orient and the line plying to the Antipodes. These are the best equipped routes going from and coming to the Pacific side of the continent, and are increasing in popularity with United States importers and exporters. Then on the Atlantic we have the improved winter service with termination at St. John, N.B., which our neighbors to the south are beginning to patronize freely, while there is the prospective fast line which the Home and Imperial authorities propose to subsidise.

Retaliation on the part of the United States in the matter of goods in transitu would naturally tend to stifle the patronage of Canadian steamship routes by United States importers. The question is worthy of consideration : Can we afford to continue a system which threatens to produce retaliation, or will it pay us better to remove the irritant and allow goods in transitu to come into the country without exacting any conditions as to whether they have been in warehouse in intermediary country, merely being satisfied with evidence as to country of origin ?

The proportion of the imports which would likely be allowed to enter the warehouse for unclaimed goods at the ports of entry with the object of ascertaining where the best market was to be found before claiming them would be small. The question therefore arises, is it worth while to allow a small thing to become a bone of big contention ?

VALENCIA ALMONDS DEARER.

Advices received this week in Toronto announce an advance of three shillings in the price of Valencia almonds.

The shortness of the crop now appears to be beyond all question. The best informed shippers have maintained this all along, but while prices were low there were not many who placed faith in their declarations.

The Valencia almond is an article which is imported the year round into Canada, and, as stocks are not large, it is probable importers will have to pay the advanced price before the new campaign begins.

SELF-SEEKING M.P'S.

READERS of these columns are familiar with the fact that one of the worst features in Canadian politics is the large number of impecunious lawyers, ward politicians and schemers who are in Parliament now, or who are pulling the wires to get there. Their aim in going there is not for the love of political life or from a desire to serve their country. They want appointments for themselves or their friends. Little do they care for the business and other interests of the country. They do as they are told by the leaders of their party, regardless of the public interests. As a reward they expect to be made judges, Customs officials, registrars, sheriffs, etc.

If the prospects of members of Parliament being appointed to such vacancies were slender there would be fewer such useless men in politics. Mr. Mulock, M. P. for North York, recognized this and he introduced a bill in the House of Commons last week which prevented any member from receiving an appointment in the gift of the Dominion Government within one year after the expiration of the Parliament of which he was a member.

Mr. Mulock has the support of the best element on both sides of the House, as well as of every good citizen, but, we are sorry to say, the Government defeated the bill. The opponents made no attempt to justify their position. They simply retorted that the Liberals in Ontario "gave jobs to their friends in the House," and voted the measure down. The course of the Ontario Government is quite as disgraceful as that of the Dominion in this respect, but Mr. Mulock seems to be a stamp of man who does what is right, regardless of his party.

It is given on the authority of a Conservative member of the House of Commons who agrees with Mr. Mulock that 33 members of the present House have been promised "jobs."

Let both sides nominate men who do not want positions.

NO ADVANCE IN SUGAR.

The advance in the price of sugar that many expected still fails to materialize.

Toward the close of last week the market for raw abroad took an easier turn, but at the opening of the present week a sharp recovery set in, both beet and cane stock being cabled firm from London, the former at 13s. 0¼d. fair refining and 12s. 9¼d. for June, and the latter 14s. for 96 test centrifugals, and 12s. 3d. for fair refining Muscovado.

Sales agents for both refineries in Montreal told THE CANADIAN GROCER that dispite this strength of raw an advance in refined in Canada was unlikely until the New York refiners made a move. It is their belief that the Trust in New York is keeping the price of refined down to assist them in gathering in supplies of raw at a lower cost. They note also that there have been some large arrivals of Egyptian raw sugar in New York latterly, the ss. Bretwalda landing a cargo of 30,000 bags, or 3,000 tons, the other day at that port.

It is expected that the imports of this Egyptian sugar to the United States will increase materially this spring, as the importation from Cuba will be almost nil, the insurrection having resulted in an almost total annihilation of the crops on the island.

Last year the total imports of Egyptian sugar at New York were only 70,000 bags. It is claimed for this sugar that it is much superior to that produced elsewhere.

DROP IN SURPRISE SOAP.

THE cutting of prices among the soap manufacturers has taken a more aggravated turn.

As the trade is well aware, the St. Croix Manufacturing Co., makers of "Surprise" soap, have maintained their price throughout the campaign. Now, however, they have determined to take a more aggressive attitude. In pursuance of this the price has been reduced 80c. per box. The price of one-box lots is now $4.20 and that of five-box lots $4.10.

While the cutting which makers of other soaps have been making is, no doubt, partly the reason for the lower prices in "Surprise," the chief reason appears to be the cheapness of raw material, which is now at its lowest mark.

Of course, the firm could scarcely afford to make a reduction of 80c. per box without making it up in part in some way, and what it has decided to do is to slightly reduce the weight of the soap, while another saving has been entailed by omitting the advertising bags from the boxes.

The retailer will now be able to sell "Surprise" at five cents and reap a good profit.

That the cutting of prices which has characterized other soap makers was not materially injuring the St. Croix people is evident from the fact that, notwithstanding that they maintained their prices in the face of the slaughtering that was going on all round, they were enabled to increase their business. They report that their sales so far this year are materially in excess of those for the same period in 1895.

The works of the St. Croix Soap Manufacturing Co. are situated at St. Stephen, N.B., and are among the largest, if not the largest, in the Dominion. The firm has agencies in Montreal, Toronto, Winnipeg, Victoria and Newfoundland, besides traveling salesmen covering the territory between these centres. Beside this it does business in the West Indies, and has recently received a good order from Amsterdam, Holland, where the prospects for building up a good trade are bright.

CANADA'S TEA REGULATIONS.

MR. H. DEVEREUX, representing the tea house of Harrisons & Crosfield, London, Eng., arrived in Toronto on Monday. He is here chiefly in the interest of direct Ceylon business, in which his firm is largely interested. I ran across him in the office of Harrisons & Crosfield's agents, J. L. Watt & Scott. Like most Englishmen, Mr. Devereux has an aversion to the newspaper interviewer, but when I touched upon the Canadian Customs regulations, he forgot his diffidence and talked.

"They are absurd," he declared, with some warmth, "and it is a surprise to me that importers have not taken preconcerted action in the matter. If we in England were to take any action it would mean that we would first have to go to the Canadian High Commissioner in London, and then through him memorialise the Canadian House of Commons. This would put us to more trouble than the game is worth. We do not object so much to the five shillings we pay for every certificate we are compelled to take out, showing that the tea has been entered by the Customs authorities as fit for home consumption, as the trouble and annoyance to which we are being continually put. It is like a beastly little fly biting us all the time. These certificates are absolutely worthless. The apparent object was to prevent the importation into Canada of spurious teas, and yet no certificate is required from China, Japan, etc., where the spurious teas are made and exported. And yet a certificate is demanded for tea bought in England where no spurious teas are made. It is most unfair to the English tea merchant. Why does not the Government leave the matter of deciding whether the teas imported from England are spurious or not to its own inspectors, just as it does teas brought direct from China, Japan and other countries?"

"What is done with the teas rejected in London as being unfit for home consumption?"

"They are shipped to the continent, particularly to Hamburg, where large quantities of poor teas are consumed."

Mr. Devereux said that the Ceylon tea business with Canada was assuming large dimensions which he ascribed to the wonderful value offered on direct Colombo samples.

GETTING ENLIGHTENMENT.

The third congress of the Chambers of Commerce of the Empire will be held in London, Eng., next year. Boards of trade in Canada have been invited to send delegates. The Toronto Board of Trade has wisely decided, between now and the time when this congress shall be held, to hold a series of special meetings for the purpose of considering the subjects that are to be discussed at that important gathering. A circular has been issued, drawing the attention of the members to these meetings and soliciting their co-operation.

A list of the subjects to be discussed is given. There are seventeen in all. The most important are "Commercial Relations Between the Mother Country and Her Colonies and Dependencies," "Codification of the Commercial Law of the Empire," "A Decimal System of Weights, Measures and Currency," "Imperial Penny Postage," "Cable Communication, Construction, Rates, Codes," "Steamship Communication, Rates, Subsidies, War Risks, Insurance," "Bills of Exchange—Uniform Precedence," "Representation of United Kingdom in Colonies, and of Colonies in the United Kingdom, to make up for want of Consular officers who are only appointed to foreign countries."

The first of these meetings will be held on Thursday, March 26, at 8 p.m.

TRAVELERS' INSTALLATION.

Toronto travelers held their regular monthly meeting in their rooms, St. George's Hall, Elm street, Friday evening, Feb. 28. The secretary's annual report was read and adopted, showing an increase in the treasury over any previous year. After the general routine of business the following officers were installed for the year 1896:

President—R. M. Corrie.
First Vice-President—W. F. Daniel.
Second Vice-President—G. B. Curran.
Treasurer—J. Mortimer.
Chaplain—J. F. Smyth.
Marshal—T. Holman.
Secretary—R. R. Cherry, 241 Sherbourne street.

After the installation a pleasant and enjoyable evening was spent.

CUSTOMS CHANGES.

Collectors of Customs have been notified that allowance may be made for packages as follows, when same are made a separate charge on invoices: For boxing, finished or polished marble, 75c. per cubic foot; for boxing or crating slabs in the rough, 25c. per cubic foot. Paper packages containing Lipton's teas are to be valued for duty purposes as follows: 1½c. each for pound package; 1c. each for half-pound package. The package to be rated for duty at 35 per cent. under item No. 120 of the tariff.

The Customs Department is informed that at some ports colored cotton blankets have been entered as rugs at 25 per cent., under item No. 441, whereas they are properly dutiable at 30 per cent., under item No. 403. All such importations are to be carefully examined, and if the articles represented as rugs are found to be double, they should be entered as blankets, rugs being in all cases single.

BACON CURING IN DENMARK.

THE system adopted in the curing and marketing of Danish bacon is thus described by a correspondent of The London Grocers' Gazette :

"The farmers of a certain district form among themselves a guarantee fund of, say, £4,000, each putting down his name for the sum he is prepared to risk, and on the strength of this guarantee the bank advances them the £4,000, or such other sum as may be required, for the construction of a bacon-curing factory for the district in question. The bank also advances a further £500 for the payment of the preliminary working expenses. The factory is then constructed, replete with all the latest methods in machinery, etc., and inclusive of large storage for the ice which forms so important an item in the work. In some instances a factory will have room for 50,000 tons of ice, which is gathered in during the winter at the cost only of the requisite labor, and is so stored that it lasts until the next winter. The factory is put in charge of a special staff, and the farmers devote their own energies solely to pig raising, for which purpose they have an excellent stock of animals, while swine fever seems to be practically unknown. The farmers sell their pigs to the factory at full market rates, being paid at first out of the £500 already referred to. At the factory the pigs are killed and turned into either bacon or 'mess pork' for ships, and these products are in due course sent to London, where they are sold, and the London agent sends to Denmark a cheque for the amount due. The bank, through which the whole thing is worked, deducts its charges, which may come to 8 per cent., and the remainder stands to the credit of the factory for the payment of expenses and for eventual division among the farmers, in addition to the market rates they have already been paid for their pigs. There are now about twenty of these factories in Denmark, and, generally speaking, they have been established without any actual call being made on the guarantee funds. Altogether these factories will sometimes deal with 10,000 pigs in one week, and the total output has now attained such proportions that our imports of bacon from Denmark alone amounted last year to over 1,000,000 cwt."

THE STORE LOAFER.

The store loafer is more often a guest than a customer.

Men who wear out the seat of their pants on soap boxes or sugar barrels are likely to have little else in their pockets than four fingers and a lazy thumb.

A chair in a store is an excellent piece of furniture—if the right person holds it down.

Customers as a rule are not anxious to have the nose of a loafer over their shoulder when making a purchase or paying a bill.

Idle men and empty pockets have no right to make a poultry roost of a counter.

There are more buzzards that dine on scandal hatched in the idler's corner than all the guns in a county could shoot.

Where the loafer does his whittling, scandal is retailed by the ton.

Curfew at a store, to put out the gas when the public are putting on their nightcaps, would limit the circulation of plugged dimes.

A store loafer and a bar room bummer, if shaken out of a common sack, would be a case of twins, or a double-yolked egg.

To make a store comfortable for customers is one thing—to make it a smoking divan for gossips is another.

A skunk in a cabbage patch is apt to spoil the kraut, and gossips in a store are likely to keep the public nose out of its door.

Merchants who encourage loafing are simply raising caterpillars to lunch on their lettuce.

A man with nothing to do but toast his toes and whittle is very apt to forget what he owes, and take home what he never pays for.

The turtle that rolls off a log into a creek to get out of the rain has more sense than the merchant who thinks that a circle of pipes around his stove means more business than smoke.—Exchange.

ONTARIO MARKETS.

GROCERIES.

ANOTHER week has passed, and the grocery trade has failed to develop any new or striking features. The volume of business is still, as before, small, while values remain unchanged. Canned vegetables are being enquired after a little more and salmon is selling a little more freely on account of the prospective higher prices for "Horseshoe." Teas are still quiet. Molasses is in fair demand. Sugars are quiet and steady. There is a little better movement in green coffees on account of fresh arrivals. Valencia almonds are dearer in the primary market, and advices quote currants firm. Payments are slow.

CANNED GOODS.

There is a little more enquiry to note in canned vegetables, although it has not yet led to much business. In fruits there is scarcely anything doing. There is quite an enquiry for "Horseshoe" brand salmon on account of the anticipated higher prices. A feature of the situation in respect to this brand of salmon is that small dealers are buying larger quantities than is their wont. We hear of five-case lots going out at $1.35 per dozen, and smaller lots at $1.40. Only a few houses appear to have anything like stocks of "Horseshoe" salmon. We quote as follows: Tomatoes, 80 to 90c.; corn, 75 to 80c.; peas, 95c. for ordinary; sifted select, $1.10; extra sifted, $1.45 to $1.50; peaches, $2.90 to $3 for 3's, $1.90 to $2 for 2's; raspberries, $1.40 to $2.00; strawberries, $1.80 to $2.45, according to brand and quality; blackberries, $1.90 to $2.20; cherries, $2.40 to $2.45; apples, 3's, 85 to 90c.; gallons, $1.90 to 2.25; salmon, "Horseshoe," $1.35 to $1.40; "Maple Leaf," $1.35; "Lion," $1.35 to $1.40; Lowe Inlet, $1.27 to $1.30, in tall tins; cohoes, $1.10 to $1.20; canned mackerel, $1.10 to $1.20; lobsters, $1.80 to $2.10, for tall tins; flats, $2.35 to $2.65; half tins, $1.45 to $1.50; Canadian canned beef, 1's, $1.35 to $1.45; 2's, $2.25 to $2.35; 6's, 7.50 to $8; 14's, $15 to $16.50.

COFFEE.

There are not many good green Rio coffees on the market, and the fresh shipments which have been received lately are going out well. The ruling idea as to price for good coffees is 18 to 19c. Common grades are shaded a little. We quote green in bags: Rio, 18c.; East Indian, 27 to 30c.; South American, 21 to 23c.; Santos, 19 to 22½c.; Java, 30 to 33c.; Mocha, 27½ to 30c.; Maracaibo, 21 to 23c.; Jamaica, 21 to 25c.

SYRUPS.

The scarcity is more pronounced, some of the refineries having none of any kind to offer. We quote: Dark, 30 to 32c.; medium, 33 to 35c.; bright, 40 to 42c.

MOLASSES.

There is still a fairly good call for molasses, and firmess still characterizes the primary markets. We quote: New Orleans, barrels, 28 to 35c.; half-barrels, 30 to 35c.; Barbadoes, barrels, 31 to 35c.; half-barrels, 33 to 35c.

SUGAR.

The demand is still limited. The London market was a little easier, the American Trust having sold some beets there. But the market is strong again. A London cable on Tuesday announced an advance of 1½d. in beets, and stated that cane was firm and unchanged. This advance leaves about 3d. of the recent decline to be made up. The Canadian refineries continue to hold strong views, although they are doing little or no business. Wholesalers' quotations are: Granulated, 4¾ to 4⅞c.; yellows, 3⅞c. up.

The N.Y. Journal of Commerce of Wednesday: "The market for raw sugar is assuming a stronger position, and the efforts of refiners to get considerable lines on the old basis have not been successful. The advancing tendency of the foreign market lends strength to the situation here. The strength abroad seems to be on the realization of the strong position of sugar in all markets as well as to the relief from the speculative selling pressure of last week."

SPICES.

Trade is quiet and devoid of special features. We quote: Pure black pepper, 10 to 12c.; pure white, 18 to 25c.; pure Jamaica ginger, 23 to 25c.; cloves, 15 to 20c.; pure mixed spice, 25 to 30c.; cream of tartar, French, 25 to 27c.; ditto, best, 28 to 30c. per lb.; allspice, 14 to 18c.

RICE.

Trade is moderate and prices unchanged, the idea being 3½ to 3⅝ per lb. for ordinary.

NUTS.

Valencia almonds are 3s. dearer. There is no change to note in the local market. We quote as follows: Brazil nuts, 14 to 15c.; Sicily shelled almonds, 25 to 26c.; Tarragona almonds, 14 to 14½c.; peanuts, 10 to 12c. for roasted, and 7 to 10c. for green; cocoanuts, $4.50 to $5 per sack; Grenoble walnuts, 12 to 12½c. Marbot walnuts, 11 to 12c.; Bordeaux walnuts, 9c.; Sicily filberts, 8 to 10c. for sacks and 10½ to 11c. for small lots; pecans, 10½ to 11c.

TEAS.

There are a few Young Hysons changing hands and flavory Ceylons and good clean-drawing Ceylons at price are being looked for, but generally speaking the tea trade is quiet. We quote ruling prices to retailers: Young Hysons, 12 to 18c. for low grades, 24 to 27c. for mediums, and 30 to 45c. for high grades; China Congous, 14 to 18c. for mediums, and 25 to 55c. for high grades; Japans, 15 to 20c. for mediums, 28 to 35c. for high grades; Indians and Ceylons, 18 to 22c. for mediums, and 30 to 65c. for high grades.

DRIED FRUITS.

Advices from Patras state that currants are firm on account of the demand on German account. Locally the market is quiet and unchanged. We quote: Provincials, 3¾ to 4c. in bbls.; fine Filiatras, in bbls., 4¼ to 4½c.; do, half-bbls., 4¼ to 4¾c.; ditto, half-cases, 4¾ to 5c.; Casalinas, cases, 5 to 5¼c.; Vostizzas, cases, 6 to 6½c.; ditto, half-cases, 6½ to 6¾c.; ditto, extra fine, 6¾ to 7¼c.; ditto, half-cases, 7¼ to 7½c.; Panaretas, in cases, 9c.

Valencia raisins are quiet and unchanged. We quote: Off-stalk 4½ to 4¾c.; fine off-stalk, 5 to 5¼c; selected, 6 to 6¼c., and layers, 6½c.

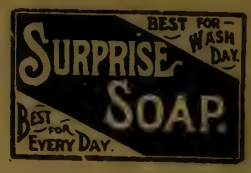
California fruits are quiet and unchanged. We quote: Apricots, 15 to 16c.; peaches, 8c., in bags, and 10 to 15c. in boxes; pears, 10½ to 12½c.; plums, 6½c. for unpitted, and 12½c. for pitted; nectarines, 11 to 13c.; loose muscatels, 5½ to 6½c. per lb.

The situation in prunes is much as before, both as regards prices and business. We quote: Bosnias, "Sphinx" brand, "A," 65 to lb. 9c.; "B," 75 to lb. 7¾c., "U," 102 to lb., 6½ to 6¾c.; California prunes, 40-50, 10 to 10½c. per lb.; 50-60, 9½c. per lb.; 60-70, 9c.; 70 80, 8½c. per lb.; French, 5 to 6c.

Eleme figs are quiet and unchanged. We quote: Eleme, 14 oz., 9 to 10½c.; 10 lb., 9½ to 12½c.; 12 lb., 12½c.; 28 lb., 15c.

Sultana raisins are quiet and unchanged at 5½ to 6c.

Dates still rule quiet at 4½ to 5½c.



GREEN FRUIT.

Oranges are a little firmer in price, and the demand has improved. Jamaicas are practically done for the season. There is a good supply of California and Valencias. The demand appears to be particularly good for Valencias, a good many of these being used with bitter oranges in making marmalade. The Liverpool market is firmer on Valencias. A fair enquiry is to be noted for lemons, and higher prices are being discussed at the "ports," but there has been no appreciation in values yet. An improvement has developed in the demand for bananas, and business in this line is now active. The cranberry season is about over, and as dealers are desirous of cleaning up stocks the market is easier. We quote: Lemons—

THERE IS ONLY ONE
"SALADA"
and that has a larger sale in a week than all other package teas sold in Canada put together have in a month. The increase last year was more than double the amount of the total sales of the year previous.

Messina, $2.50 to $3.50 for 360's and 300's per box. Oranges—Jamaicas, $3 50 to $4; California navels, $2.75 to $4, according to size; Valencias, 420's, $4.50; Jumbo's, 420's, $5.50 to $6; ditto, 714's, $5.50 to $5.75; Sevilles, $3 per box. Bananas, $1.25 to $1.75; cocoanuts, $3.50 to $4 a sack; apples, Spies $3, Baldwins, $2.75, greenings $1.50 to $2 a barrel; Malaga grapes, $5 to $7 per keg; domestic onions, 60 to 65c. per bag; Spanish onions, 50 to 60c. per small crate; sweet potatoes, $3 to $3.25 per bbl.; cranberries, $5 to $8 per bbl., and $2.50 to $3 per case, according to quality; hickory nuts, $1.50 to $1.75 per bush.

BUTTER AND CHEESE.

BUTTER—Choice large rolls and pound prints are in good demand. Receipts of good butter continue light, and in consequence of this there is a firmer feeling in regard to prices. In creamery butter the demand is steady and about equal to the supply. We quote: Early summer dairy store packed, 8 to 12c.; good to choice fresh packed, 15 to 16c.; large rolls, fresh, 15 to 17c.; dairy pound prints, 16 to 18c. Fresh creamery — Tubs, 19 to 20c.; do., pound prints, 21 to 22c.

CHEESE—The local trade continues fairly active, but the export demand is light. We quote: Summer make, 8½ to 9c.; September and October, 9½ to 10½c.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

BEANS—Market is quiet and prices unchanged at $1 to $1.10 per bushel.

DRIED APPLES—The market is dull and weak. We hear of one transaction at 4c. Toronto, but jobbers are not, as a rule, willing to pay this price. We hear of two or three bids at 3¼c. f.o.b. cars, but no business has transpired at that figure as far as we are aware. The idea of holders appears to be 3¾ to 4c. f.o.b. cars. Jobbers, as a rule, are quoting 4½ to 4¾c.

EVAPORATED APPLES—Holders are asking 6c. f.o.b., and the jobbing price ranges from 6½ to 7c. There is not much doing.

EGGS—The cold snap has caused a falling off in deliveries, and as a consequence prices are firm. We quote: New laid, 16 to 17c.; pickled, 11 to 13c.; cold stored, 8 to 10c.

HONEY—There is not much doing, and prices are much as before. We quote: Strained, clover, 9 to 10c.; dark, 4½ to 5c.; comb, clover, $1.80 per dozen; dark, 80c. per dozen.

POULTRY — Receipts are practically nil, stocks in the country evidently being about exhausted. Turkeys are dearer. We quote: Turkeys, 9 to 12c.; geese, 7 to 8c.; chickens, 40 to 60c.; ducks, 60 to 90c.

POTATOES—The market continues dull at 18c. on track, and 25c. out of store. There has been some improvement on the American market.

MAPLE PRODUCTS—There is a fair enquiry, but supplies are scarce with prices higher on syrup. We quote: Syrup, 70c. per tin; sugar, 10c. per lb.

PROVISIONS AND DRESSED HOGS.

In provisions there has been an all round good demand. Offerings of dressed hogs have been liberal. The latter part of last week they were large, and carlots of nice weights changed hands at $4.80, Toronto. Deliveries of farmers' hogs last week were heavy. The idea as to price is now $4 90 to $5 for weights ranging from 100 to 150 pounds, and for anything under these weights $4 50 to $4.75.

DRY SALTED MEATS—Long clear bacon, 6½c. for carload lots, and 6¾ to 7c. for small lots; backs, 8c.

SMOKED MEATS — Breakfast bacon, 10c.; rolls, 7¼ to 7½c.; hams, large, 22 lbs. and over, 9c.; medium, 15 to 20 lbs., 10c.; small hams, 10c.; backs, 9 to 9½c.; picnic hams, 7c.; all meats out of pickle, 1c. less than above.

LARD—Pure Canadian, tierces, 8 to 8¼c.; tubs, 8½ to 8¾c.; pails, 8¾ to 9c.

BARREL PORK—Canadian heavy mess, $14.00; Canadian short-cut, $14 to $14.50; clear shoulder mess, $12; shoulder mess, $11.50.

FISH AND OYSTERS.

A fairly good fish trade is passing on country account, but there is not much doing in the city. The volume of business is still below that of the same time a year ago. B.C. salmon, white fish and salmon trout are quoted a little lower. Finnan haddies are fractionally dearer. The cold weather has stimulated the demand for oysters. We quote oysters: Standards at $1.30 to $1.35, and selects $1.70. Fish are quoted as follows: Skinned and boned codfish, 6½c.; boneless fish, 3½ to 4c.; haddock, 5 to 6c.; Labrador herring, $3.25 to $3.50 half barrel and $5.50 to $5.75 per barrel; Newfoundland herring, $2.50 per half barrel, and $4 50 to $4.75 per barrel; fresh water salt herring, $3 per barrel; blueback herring, 4c.; pike, 6 to 7c. per lb.; flitched cod, 5c.; finnan haddies, 7c.; Digby herring, in bundles of 5 boxes, 11c.;

WHEAT, FLOUR, FEED, ETC.

WHEAT—Street deliveries are almost nil. We quote: White, 82½c.; red, 81 to 82c.; goose, 60c.

BARLEY—Four hundred bushels sold on the street on Wednesday at 38 to 42c.

OATS—Steady at 29c.

PEAS—One hundred and fifty bushels sold Wednesday on the street at 59 to 62½c.

FLOUR—There is not much doing, but prices are steady. We quote: Straight roller, $3.70 to $3.75, carload lots, Toronto freights, and $3.80 to $3.90 in job lots; Manitoba patents, $4.25 to $4.35 per bbl.; Ontario patents, $3.80 to $3.90 per bbl.; strong bakers', $3.90 to $4.

BREAKFAST FOODS—Business is picking up, dealers this week being fairly busy. Prices are unchanged. We quote: Oatmeal, cornmeal and pot barley from 10 to 15c. lower; Standard oatmeal and rolled oats, $3.15; rolled wheat, $2.40 in 100-lb. barrels; cornmeal, $2.75; split peas, $3.25; pot barley, $3.25.

DRESSED BEEF, VEAL, MUTTON, ETC.

Trade is fairly good and prices are steady. We quote: Forequarters, $3.50 to $4 per 100 lbs.; hindquarters, $4.50 to $7, according to quality; lamb, 6½ to 7½c.; mutton, 5¼ to 7c.; veal, 5½ to 6½c.

SALT.

Business has been fairly good during the past week at unchanged prices. We quote at Toronto: In carload lots, $1 per barrel, and 60c. per sack; in less than carload lots, $1.05 per barrel and 65c. per sack. At the wells we quote: F.O.B. barrels, 70c.; sacks 50c. for points west of Toronto, and 45c. for Toronto and points east of Toronto.

SEEDS.

The export demand for alsike dropped off about a week ago and prices here declined about 25c. per bushel. In red clover there is not much offering and the demand is limited, with prices easier. We quote jobbers paying prices at outside points: Alsike, $3 to $4.25 per bushel; red clover, $4.80 to $4.90.

HIDES, SKINS AND WOOL.

HIDES—Are steady, with moderate demand. Dealers pay 5c. for No. 1, 4c. for No. 2, 3c. for No. 3. Cured hides quoted at 6 to 6¼c.

CALFSKINS—6c. for No. 1 and 5c. for No. 2. Sheepskins are firm at 90c. to $1.

WOOL—Trade quiet. Fleece nominal at

MARKET NOTES.

Oranges are firm.

Sugar is stronger in London.

Valencia almonds are 3s. dearer.

Maple products are scarce on the Toronto market.

Cranberries are nearly out of the market and cheaper.

Currants are cabled firm.

Apples are still being shipped to the English market, but the returns are unsatisfactory, the net returns being less than $2 per barrel.

The price of "Surprise" soap has been reduced 80c. per box.

QUEBEC MARKETS.

MONTREAL, Mar. 5, 1896.

GROCERIES.

THE week has exhibited little change in the general grocery position. Business has been quiet, except in dried and green fruit, the Lenten demand causing considerable activity in both of these during the past eight days. The turnover of California raisins was notably good, several good lots being cleared out of first hands, and in Valencia the demand also led to the clearance of several round lots. Values generally are firm, and sugar is held strong though enquiry is small. Syrups and molasses continue to point upward, while teas, coffees and spices are absolutely without feature. Fresh fish have ruled a trifle easier in some respects, but pickled are steady. Canned vegetables and fish have met a moderate local call.

SUGAR.

The market here for refined sugar continues as firm as ever, but there is no actual change in values, and none seems to be expected in the immediate future. Demand has been rather better from jobbers during the past few days, more especially for yellows, of which stocks in second hands are low, but the market as a whole is anything but active. In the raw market the easiness noted at the close of last week seems to have been dissipated, for advices recently quote a firm market. At the refineries granulated in 250-bbl. lots sold at 4⅝c.; 100-bbl. lots, 4 11-16c., and smaller quantities, 4¾c. We quote jobbing prices: Granulated, 4⅞c.; yellows, 3¾ to 4⅜c., as to grade

SYRUPS.

There has been a better local demand for syrups in small lots, due to Lenten wants, and in this respect more activity has been shown. The firm tone noted for some weeks now is fully maintained, as stocks are light both in first and second hands. We quote: 1¾c. for ordinary and 2½ to 3c. for bright goods.

MOLASSES.

The firm advices from primary markets have continued during the present week, first sales of Barbadoes at the Islands showing an advance of 2c. within 48 hours, business being done at 14 to 15c. Sales of Porto Rico have also been made for early spring shipment at a full figure, cost and freight New York. In fact, all the news points, as noted last week, to a high level of values this spring on molasses of all kinds. The jobbing demand on spot has shown improvement, consequent on the filling of small orders for Lenten account. We quote: Barbadoes, 36 to 37c.; Porto Rico, 34 to 35c., and New Orleans, 25½ to 35c. The inside prices are strictly for 5 and 10-puncheon lots.

RICE.

There has been a fair business doing in rice at former quotations. We quote: Japan standard, $4.25 to $4.40; crystal Japan, $4.75 to $5; standard B., $3.45; English style, $3.30; Patna, $4.25 to $5, and Carolina, $6.50 to $7.50.

SPICES.

The weather has been favorable to a good local jobbing demand for spices of all kinds, which have moved in fair volume on this account. We quote: Pure black pepper, 10 to 12c.; pure white, 15 to 22c.; pure Jamaica ginger, 23 to 25c.; cloves, 15 to 20c.; pure mixed spice, 25 to 30c.; cream of tartar, French, 25 to 27c.; ditto, best, 28 to 30c. per lb.; allspice, 12 to 15c.

COFFEE.

There has been no change in this market, business continuing dull and of a limited jobbing character. We quote bean coffee as follows: Maracaibo, 19 to 21c.; Rio, 16½ to 20c.; Java, 28c.; Jamaica, 20c., and Mocha, 29 to 32c.

TEAS.

The tea market is quiet and unchanged, jobbers evidently having sufficient to work along on until the spring. They themselves also complain of dulness, so that retailers also are working along on as small supplies as possible. The excitement across the lines worked up in consequence of the duty development had no influence whatever here despite the fact of the withdrawal of the two good sized lots carried here on American account. Low grade blacks and Japans continue scarce. We quote: Young Hysons, 10 to 18c. for low grades, 24 to 27c. for mediums, and 30 to 45 for high grades; China Congous, 11½ to 18c. for mediums, and 25 to 55c. for high grades; Japans, 12 to 20c. for mediums, 28 to 35c. for high grades; Indians and Ceylons, 18 to 22c. for mediums, and 30 to 65c. for high grades.

DRIED FRUIT.

There has been a good active trade transacted in California raisins at firm prices; in fact, the movement can be called a liberal one, and has led to the cleaning up of several lots in first hand at full rates. We quote; 3-crown, 5½ to 6c., and 4-crown, 6¾ to 7c.

Valencia raisins have benefitted from the activity in California fruit to a certain extent, and one or two round lots have been turned over at 4 to 4¼c, which is an advance of ¼c. on what was possible a fortnight ago. Stocks here are light, and as there is little to be had in New York, firmness is looked for from now out. We quote: Ordinary off-stalk, 4 to 4¼c.; fine, 4½ to 5c.; selected, 5½ to 6c., and layers, 6½ to 7c.

There is no change in Sultanas, which are in light supply, and firmly held at 6 to 6¼c.

The currant market has shown a moderate degree of activity, and prices are firmly held; in fact, in some cases jobbers want an advance, stocks being very light. We quote: Barrels, 4c.; half-barrels, 4¼c., and cases, 4½ to 5½c., as to grade.

There has been a good jobbing trade in prunes, more especially California and Austrian, at unchanged prices. Stocks here both in first and second hands have been reduced materially. We quote: French, 4½ to 5c.; Bosnia, 6¼ to 6½c., and California 7½ to 15c., as to grade.

Figs are without change, and meet a moderate call. We quote: Bags, 4c.; ordinary boxes, 8½ to 9c., and fancy, 12 to 14c.

WHOLESALE IMPORTING AND MANUFACTURING GROCERS

TORONTO - - ONTARIO

There is no change in dates, which rule steady at 4½ to 5c.

NUTS.

There is a moderate seasonable trade in nuts. We quote: Grenoble walnuts, 11½ to 12½c.; filberts, 7½ to 8c.; Tarragona almonds, 11½ to 12c.; pecans, 8 to 12c., and shelled walnuts, 15 to 19c.

CANNED GOODS.

This market continues much the same as it was a week ago. No special features are to note, and values are unchanged. We quote: Tomatoes, 75 to 85c.; corn, 75 to 85c.; peas, 95c. to $1 for ordinary; sifted select, $1.10; extra sifted, $1.45 to $1.50; peaches, $2.90 to $3 for 3's, $1.90 to $2 for 2's; raspberries, $1.40 to $2; strawberries, $2 to $2.45, according to brand and quality; blackberries, $1.90 to $2.20; cherries, $2 40 to $2.45; apples, 3's, 80 to 90c.; gallons, $1.90 to $2.25; salmon, "Horseshoe," $1.35 to $1.40; "Maple Leaf," $1.25; "Lion," $1.25 to $1.40; Lowe Inlet, $1.25 to $1.30, in tall tins; cohoes, $1.05 to $1.15; canned mackerel, $1.10 to $1.20; lobsters, $1.80 to $2.10, for tall tins; flats, $2.35 to $2.65; half tins, $1.45 to $1.50; Canadian canned beef, 1's, $1.35 to $1 45; 2's, $2.25 to $2.35; 6's, $7.50 to $8; 14's, $15 to $16.50.

WINES AND SPIRITS.

Business in wines and spirits is without new feature. Orders are commencing to come in on Ontario and Quebec account for spring importation, but in very moderate volume.

GREEN FRUIT.

There has been a good jobbing trade in green fruit of all kinds during the past week. Oranges, lemons and apples have moved well, sound stock fetching good prices. We quote: Oranges—Valencias, 420's, $4., and 714's, $4.25. Lemons, $2 to $3. Grapes, $5 to $6 per keg. Cranberries, $8.50 to $10 per barrel. Apples, $2 to $4 per barrel. Dried do. 4½ to 5c. Evaporated do., 6¼ to 7c. Spanish onions, 40c. per crate. Pineapples, 15 to 30c. as to size.

FISH.

The demand for fish slackened off a trifle during the early portion of the present week as dealers are supplied for the time being. Stocks of all kinds in wholesale hands are small, the market being almost bare. Fresh fish, such as haddock, smelts and tommycods, are a shade easier, but trout, white fish and dore are scarce and firm. Values are also maintained on pickled fish of all kinds. We quote: Fresh haddock, 3c. per lb.; smelts 3 to 5c.; fresh frozen B.C. salmon, 8 to 9c.; Manitoba whitefish, 7c.; dore, 7 to 7½c.; trout, 7c.; tommycods, $1.50 to $1.60 per bbl. Choice pickled Labrador herrings, $5.25; No. 1 N.S., $3 to $4; No. 1 green cod, $5.00; No. 2, $3.50; No. 1 haddock, $3; No. 1 large codfish, $6; No. 1 lake trout, $4 to $4.25; B.C. salmon, $10.50; No. 2 Labrador salmon, $13; No. 1 mackerel, $18.50; Loch Fyne herrings, 85c. per keg, and $11 per bbl.; No. 1 sardines, $4 50; No. 1 dried cod, $4.25 to $4.50; boneless cod, 6c. per lb.; boneless fish, 3¼c.; boneless haddock, 5c.; shredded, 11c.; haddies, 7½ to 8c. per lb.; bloaters, $1 per box, and smoked herrings, 8 to 10c. per lb.

PROVISIONS.

There has been a limited demand for provisions, and prices are unchanged. We quote: Canadian short cut, clear, $14.50 to $15; Canadian short cut, mess, $15 to $15.50; hams, city cured, per lb., 9 to 10c.; lard, Canadian, in pails, 8c.; bacon, per lb., 9 to 10c.; lard, com. refined, per lb., 6¼c.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

EGGS—A fair business was done in eggs, there being a good demand for small lots, and prices were about steady at the decline. Strictly new laid eggs are selling at 23 to 25c. We quote: Fresh, 18 to 19c.; Montreal limed, 10 to 11c.; Western limed, 9 to 10c., and refigerator stock, 8 to 9c. per doz.

BEANS—The market for beans continues quiet, demand only being for small lots. We quote: Car lots of choice hnad-picked at $1 to $1.05, and small quantities, $1.10 to $1.20.

POTATOES—Business in potatoes is of a jobbing character, and prices are steady. We quote: Car lots, on track, 30 to 32c. per bag, and in small quantities, 35 to 40c.

FLOUR, FEED AND MEAL.

There was no change in the situation of the flour market, prices ruling steady. The demand was fair and millers seem quite satisfied with the volume of business for the season. Dealers in Ontario grades state that trade is only of a jobbing character. We quote: Winter wheat, $4 35 to $4.40; spring wheat, patents, $4.25; straight roller, $4 to $4.10; straight roller, bags, $1.95 to $2; extra, bags, $1.75 to $1.85; Manitoba strong bakers', $4.

There has been an easier feeling in the meal market for rolled oats, and sales of car lots in barrels have been made at $3, and in bags at $2.90. We quote: Standard, barrels, $3 to $3.10; granulated, barrels, $3.10 to $3.20; rolled oats, barrels, $3 to $3.10; rolled wheat, per 100 lbs., $2.40 to $2.50.

A fairly active trade is reported in feed, there being a better demand at steady prices. We quote: Bran, $14 to $15; shorts, $15 to $16; mouillie, $19 to $20.

CHEESE AND BUTTER.

The cheese market is quiet and steady so far as holders are concerned. Indeed, if anything, the tone was firmer Monday, despite another decline of sixpence in the public Liverpool cable. In the local way prices are nominally at 9c. for fall, and 8c. for summer makes.

The butter market is without change. Creamery moves in a jobbing way at 21 to 22c.; Townships, at 19c., and Western rolls, 14 to 15½c.

HAY.

There was little change in this market. No. 1 baled hay sells on track at $14 and No. 2, $13.

ASHES.

Business in ashes is quiet. We quote: First pots, $3.50; seconds, $3.75, and pearls, $5.

MONTREAL NOTES.

Ewing, Herron & Co. have on hand this week a few barrels of sifted carraways for sale, prompt shipment. These are a bargain.

W. H. Dunn notes an advance of ⅛c. per lb. in the price of pound packages of German bird seed. The rise has induced some extra orders.

Rose & Laflamme have been instructed by N. W. Taussig & Co., of New York, to withdraw all stock and quotations of Porto Rico molasses.

GRAND MOGUL TEA COMPETITION

You've heard about the grand Mogul,
On India's coral strand,
The greatest of all eastern kings,
In that celestial land.

This potentate as history shows,
In various things excelled—
As for his judgment and good taste
Was in great honor held.

And chief among his virtues was
The certain way that he
Could tell the best and purest of
The different brands of tea.

When traveling men to Delhi came—
This monarch would command
That none should come within its gates,
Except they brought his brand.

And thus it came that only one
Could stand the regal test—
And that the one the Mogul chose—
Because it was the best.

Now, when the nations far and near
Had heard the king's decree:
They all refused inferior goods—
And took "Grand Mogul" Tea.

They found no poisonous tannin there,
Nutritious theine instead—
And vendors of inferior grades
Soon found their business dead.

And people bought the very best
And gave up drinking frauds
And all pronounced "Grand Mogul" Tea
"The nectar of the Gods!"

For purity and healthfulness
Its equal cannot be found,
And then its price—so very low—
But Fifty Cents a Pound!

Its use promotes both health and wealth,
It soothes the tired brain—
The young increasing vigor get
And the old grow young again.

Then do not fly to wine or ruin,
If feeling sad or dull,
Imbibe the King of Teas instead—
The cheering "Grand Mogul!"

J. A. Mathewson & Co. are offering this week something fine in fancy price Porto Rico molasses. These goods are just to hand, and an excellant purchase at the money.

A. P. Tippet & Co. report an exceptionally active business in California dried fruit during the past ten days. They have just to hand advices of a carload of San Jose "G & S" brand California prunes.

Robert Greig, of Robert Greig & Co., is on board the Majestic, due yesterday. He has had a very profitable trip to England, securing a lot of valuable new agencies.

E R. Pugh, of the firm of Alex. Riddle & Co., proprietors of Stower's lime juice goods, etc., spent a day or so in Montreal at the close of last week on business in connection with these goods, which have a growing sale in Canada. He left for Toronto, Chicago and other western points Saturday.

NEW BRUNSWICK MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE CANADIAN GROCER.

ST. JOHN, N.B., March 5, 1896.

FEBRUARY has not shown the amount of business which many were led to expect from that offering during January. Frozen fish, which should have been very active at this season, failed to be in supply, and that trade was lost. While there has been a fair demand for sugar and flour, it has hardly been as large as would have been expected from the firmness of the market, the higher prices tending to keep down sales. There has been but little change in prices during the week. Flour and oatmeal continue firm, with cornmeal and beans easy. Fish tend firmer, particularly fresh. Molasses is quiet, waiting for the new, expected soon. First arrivals will be high. In tea there is fair movement. Seed men are beginning to take orders.

OIL—Dealers in lubricating are pushing sales for future. There is lots of competition among both American and Canadian sellers. The Canadians have a great advantage on account of the high duty, and these oils are used more largely from year to year. Cod oil is higher, with light stocks. Sale of burning oil is quiet, with prices firm. We quote: American burning oil, 23¼c.; best Canadian, 21½ to 21¾c.; prime, 10c. No charge for barrels.

SALT—The last steamer had a small quantity on board and buyers are beginning to be interested, and further lots are likely to arrive shortly. Prices show no change. We quote: Coarse, 50 to 55c.; fine factory-filled, $1.10; 5-lb. bags, $3.25 per bbl.; 10-lb. bags, $3 per bbl.; 20-lb. boxes, 20c.; 10-lb. boxes, 12c.; cartoons, $2 per doz.; salt, bulk, $2.70 to $2 80 per bbl.

CANNED GOODS—A rather better demand is noticed from week to week. A car of gallon apples was among the arrivals this week. In oysters it is said some packers are not giving full weight in tins, which is the reason for a range in price. Full weight tins are the cheapest to buy. Corned beef is beginning to take the attention of the trade, and wholesale houses are placing orders, Canadian goods having the advantage. It is said prices will advance early in March. We quote as follows: Corn, 85 to 90c.; peas, 90 to 95c.; tomatoes, 90 to 95c.; gallon apples, $2.15 to $2.25; corned beef, 2-lb. tins, $2.40 to $2.50; 1-lb. tins, $1.50 to $1.60; oysters, 2's, $2 to $2.25; 1's, $1.60 to $1.65; peaches, 3's, $2.45 to $2.85; 2's, $1.90 to $2; pineapple, Canadian pack, $2 10 $2.35; salmon, $1.40 to $1.50; lobsters, $1.75 to $2; haddies, $1.30; clams, $5 for 4 doz.; chowder, $2 75 for 2 doz.; scallops, $5.50 for 4 doz.; Digby chickens, $1; kippered herring, $1.10.

DRIED FRUIT—Raisins are very quiet. The few that are moving are California loose muscatels. In currants, cleaned in cartoons are being pushed. Evaporated apples have been arriving quite freely and price is easy. Dried are dull and low. California prunes are finding a fair sale. They are well liked, but the price is higher than the trade has been used to pay, which tends to lessen sales. The demand for California evaporated fruit is light. The goods are nice. Sultana raisins are very light movement. Onions are rather firmer. Peanuts tend to higher prices and they show better demand. We quote: Valencias, 4½ to 5c.; layers, 5½ to 6c.; California L. M. 4-crown, 6 to 7c.; 3-crown, 5 to 6c.; London layers, $1.70 to $1.85. Currants, bbls., 3⅞ to 4c.; cases, 4¼ to 5c.; cartoons, cleaned, 7½c.; bulk, cleaned, 6½c.: prunes, kegs, 4c.; boxes, 4½ to 5c.; half-boxes, 6 to 8c.; dates, 4½ to 5c.; dried apples, 5c.; evaporated apples, 7 to 7½c.; California evaporated peaches, 12 to 13c.; apricots, 12 to 14c.; pears, 12 to 14c. Canadian onions, $2 25 to $2.50; cocoanuts, $3 to $3.50 per 100 lbs.; figs, 9 to 10c.; Sultana raisins, 7 to 8c.

GREEN FRUIT—A much better demand is noted. The busy season is coming. Bananas are moving more freely and that is a sure sign. In oranges prices are higher and tend upward. There are large quantities moving, Valencias selling very much more largely than California. In pine apples there is but light business. Cranberries are higher and but few moving. Apples are scarce; there has been quite a large movement during the week. Prices on best grades are marked up. Lemons are also higher. We quote: Apples, $2 to $3.50; Lemons, $3 to $3.50; Valencia oranges, $4.25 to $4.50; California oranges, seedlings, $2.50; navels, $4 to $4.50; pineapples, 12 to 20c.; cranberries, $12 per barrel.

DAIRY PRODUCE—Eggs have been a little firmer, but no doubt the warmer weather will tend to lower prices. The quality of those coming in continues to improve. With so many cheese factories it is surprising how the supply of butter seems rather to increase than otherwise. Market is dull, and much of the quality very poor. Large quantities of creamery prints continue to arrive from Prince Edward Island. In cheese, stock held is not large, but movement is light as yet, and prices show no change, though feeling is firmer. We quote as follows: Common dairy butter, 15 to 16c.; dairy, 17 to 18c.; new creamery prints, 22 to 23c.; cheese, 9 to 9½c.; creamery, tubs, 20 to 21c.; eggs, 17 to 19c. by case.

SUGAR—During the week the market has shown no change, although a fair business is being done. We quote: Granulated, 4¾ to 4⅞c.; yellow, 4 to 4⅜c.; Paris lump, 5¼ to 5½c.; powdered, 5¼ to 5½c.

MOLASSES—The new being near to hand it is hard to set prices, people only buying from hand to mouth. Stocks of old are not large, particularly of desirable quality. Price opened in Barbadoes at 13c. and 4 for casks, and has already advanced 2c., and is said to be tending upward. New Orleans, which is now a factor in our market, is held very firm. Quite a quantity continues to come forward from week to week. In syrup there is still a good demand at firm prices. We quote: Barbadoes, 31 to 33c.; Porto Rico, 34 to 36c., bbls.; New Orleans, 34 to 36c.; St. Croix, 28 to 30c.; new Demerara, 34 to 35c.; syrup, 36 to 38c.

FISH—There has been good demand, and half-barrels of bay herring are higher. A few frozen herring were received, but too high for wholesale trade to do anything with. Fresh haddock and cod are also very scarce. The smelt season is over. The shipments this season have been very large. Smoked herring show no improvement. Fair quantities of dried are being received, and a large movement is noted; boneless are also finding large sale. Dry hake are dull. We quote: Fresh haddock and cod, 4 to 4¼c. per lb.; dry, $1.50; large cod, $3.70 to $3.75; medium, $3.45 to $3.50; pollock, $1.50; bay herring, $1.35 to $1.40 per half-bbl.; Ripplings, $1.65; Wolves, $1.85 to $2; new smoked, 5 to 6c.; Canso, $4 to $4.50 per bbl.; shad, half-bbl., $5 to $6; Grand Manan herring, half-bbl., $1.25 to $1.35; Shelburne, $3.75 bbl., $1.65 half-bbl.; boneless, 2½ to 8c.; oysters, $3 to $4.25 per bbl.; frozen herring, $1 per 100.

PROVISIONS—Large stocks of pork are held here. In mess pork the local packed and that from Prince Edward Island is driving the American out of the market. In heavy clear, there are now bought for this market (the large part of which is here), between three and four thousand barrels of American pork. Prices show no change during the week, but are firm. Smoked meats show increased demand. We quote: Clear pork, $15.50 to $16; mess, $14 to $14.50; beef, $13 to $14; domestic mess pork, $14 to $14.50; hams, 10 to 11c.; rolls, 8½c.; pure lard, 9 to 9½c.; compound, 7¾ to 8c.

FLOUR, FEED MEAL AND SEED—In flour, stocks (particularly Manitoba) are large. One Manitoba mill is reported as selling one hundred cars in one month. In cornmeal the price is again marked down five cents. Westmoreland hay is coming more freely into the market and at lower price than Careleton Co., owing to American buyers being in the latter and offering high prices. In seed, though prices are lower than last year, timothy tends upward and clover has already advanced. In timothy American houses are offering at very low prices, but neither in it or clover are their seed said to equal Canadian in quality. We quote as follows: Manitoba, $4 75 to $4.80; best Ontario, $4.50 to $4 65; medium, $4.40 to $4.50; oatmeal, $3.30 to $3.50; cornmeal, $2.20 to $2.25; middlings, $19 to $20 on track; bran, $18 to $19; hand-picked beans, $1.25; prime, $1.20; oats, 34 to 35c.; hay, $12.50 to $13;

ST. JOHN NOTES.

A cargo of 1,400 barrels potatoes has been shipped from Metaghan to Barbadoes.

An effort is to be made by the member for Digby County, N.S., to have the rate on drop letters reduced.

Some British Columbia frozen salmon were received here during the week. It sold at 12c. wholesale.

To be up to date our packers are putting up fish sausages. They have a large sale, during Lent especially.

The last of the smelt have gone forward. On one day last week two carloads passed through here for the American market.

A large shipment of St. George granite is to be made from here to New York, consisting of 20,000 feet or 1,640 tons.

Large quantities of American flour continue to be shipped to England via St. John. Not less than 130 cars were forwarded during the past week.

A vessel cleared during the week from Lunenburg, N.S., for Waterford, Ireland, with a cargo of dry fish, valued at $12,000. One also loaded at the same port for Brazil.

The steamship Barcelona took from Halifax 413 barrels herring for Liverpool. So far St. John merchants have not thought that market a good one, and they will watch the shipment with interest.

The Virginia Peanut Association has again been organized on what is thought to be a firmer basis than before. It includes all the cleaners in Eastern Virginia. In quoting nuts they quote less quantities than 25 sacks ½c. higher than for that quantity.

Last season was the first for a number that Porto Rico molasses was imported direct into St. John. A large quantity was brought here by one of our largest dealers, and the business was a great success. Some 200 puncheons Mayaguez have already been purchased at the Island for here. The price is much higher than last season.

HALIFAX TRADE GOSSIP.

THE Halfax markets are featureless this week. Breadstuffs, provisions, produce, sugar, molasses and fruit remain about the same as last week. There is a little doing in grocery fishstuffs, as might be expected at this season, but nothing of extra note. A large quantity of frozen herrings have been received, but the price is low. Several cars of Ontario beef were received here the latter part of last week, but the demand is slow. The steamer Strathcarron, from Samarang, landed 15,360 bushels of sugar this week, which is for the Moncton and Woodside refineries. Eggs are stiffer in price and not too plentiful. Several small consignments of molasses have been received, but prices remain unchanged. There is a steady demand for canned goods, principally fruits.

Contracts for supplies for the British Fleet, which is expected here shortly, have been awarded. Maling & Co. will supply the fresh and salt meat, Dillon Bros. the vegetables, and Moir, Son & Co. the bread.

The week has been the dullest one in the grocery line in Halifax for a twelve-month.

COFFEE STATISTICS.

An English coffee house says of coffee: "The rough average requirements of the trade in Europe and the United States are about 654,000 tons on the basis of prices current during the past three years; the average supply from other countries is well known to reach about 330,000 tons, and with Brazil estimates of, say, 5,500,000 bags for this crop and 8,000,000 bags for next, it requires very elementary calculations to prove that we tend towards much larger visible supplies. Increased cultivation, which has been talked about for the last three or four years, is now beginning to assert itself in larger prospective importations, and we must hope for an expansion in consumption, to be stimulated by a more moderate range of value."

NUTMEG ADULTERATION.

Mr. Wm. Schroder, of Amsterdam, according to N. Y. Journal of Commerce, continues to show up the adulteration of nutmegs, and in his last circular has the following: "I have been informed, that also at London larger lots of nutmegs have been 'doctored up' for America, bored nutmegs filled, limed and mixed with odd goods. I trust that such manipulations may go once, but must turn out at the end against the sellers of such stuff. Fair competition is a good thing, but it is a pity that the competition has become so sharp that it leads to such unsound operations."

APPLES FOR THE PRINCE OF WALES.

R. W. Shepherd, manager of the Ottawa River Navigation Company, and proprietor of the Greenwood Nurseries, at Como, has received an order to ship four dozen apple trees to H. R. H. the Prince of Wales, to be grown on the Sandringham estate. The varieties chosen are the Fameuse, Wealthy, Winter St. Lawrence and McIntosh Red. These are all apples which show a very high color and are used solely for the table; but, although they will bear a fruit similar in flavor and size, they will not have the same fine appearance, as the summer season in England is not sufficiently hot to bring out the deep red of the apple grown in Canada. —Chronicle, Halifax.

HAD STRENGTH TO SAY "NO."

A grocer, says a writer in an exchange, tells me one of his friends, with whom he was in the habit of going out and spending a good time together, concluded to have a book and run a monthly account—bills to be settled before the 4th day of each month. This friend, who receives his salary the last day of each month, paid up right along until the last month, when he did not show up. The grocer is a strict business man, and when his friend did not keep his agreement he refused to sell him any more goods on credit.

He said: "No; no more!"

And this is what I like to impress upon the mind of every grocer. Learn to say no! and do not be too good hearted, even with friends. If they know that you adhere strictly to business principles, they will not be apt to take advantage of you.

SOMETHING NEW IN MEAT.

If any reliance can be placed upon a Hamburg newspaper article, which is reproduced in a recent number of the "Apotheker Zeitung," Professor Emmerich has invented a method for preserving slaughtered animals entire, with skin and hair, which is soon to be aplied commercially by a company recently organized. The professor is said to have succeeded in slaughtering and treating an ox, a sheep and a pig by a simple process which preserves the animals entire and the edibility of the meat for months; moreover, the flesh is not brought in touch with chemicals. According to reports, several of the most distinguished professors of the Munich Uniuersity—among them the director of the Hygienic Institute — took part in a repast prepared from the flesh of a wether, which, treated by the professor's process, had hung for four months behind the oven of a heated room. All the feasters were surprised by the fresh appearance and taste of the mutton, and pronounced the new method to be the ideal mode of conserving meat.

This new method is destined to play an important role in the abattoirs and packing houses of the future, and will doubtless bring about many changes in this field. Patents are said to have been secured in all lands.—Food and Sanitation.

SCARBOROISMS.

AN ad. that is just right is one from which you can strike nothing without weakening it and to which you can add nothing without overdoing it.

When you say what you mean and mean what you say your advertisement is certain to command attention and bring business.

The ad. writer who has merely vague opinions about business and human nature will write nothing forcible and vivid because he has no vigorous and vivid ideas to spur him in his work.

The spring of a watch has most pulling power when it is compressed, so has an advertisement.

Saying old things in a new way is what makes your advertisement fasten itself in the reader's memory. Take any old moss-covered commonplace and re-color it with new language and you'll be surprised to see how it will interest your readers.

When a merchant in his advertisement expresses his best thoughts in his best words, that is the style most natural to him, and if he be true to himself and his business a convincing advertisement is the result.

The man who sees no timber in his business fit for advertising is half brother to the fellow who went through the forest without seeing any trees.

People are apt to lose respect for the claims of the advertiser who is forever trying to say bright things in his ads. simply to show off. Looks too much as if he were a dealer in words rather than "straight goods."

Greased bullets go farthest. Courteous arguments have greater weight with intelligent people than coarse and uncouth blustering.—Business.

PACKING OF COLONIAL BUTTER.

A new system of packing butter is reported from Australia, and it is anticipated that it will effect a considerable saving in export expenses, as it does away with the necessity of keeping the article in a freezing chamber during transport. The new arrangement consists of a specially-constructed box made of six sheets of glass, designed in the form of a cube, the joints being covered with adhesive grease proof paper. When the box is filled it is covered with about a quarter of an inch of plaster of paris, which in turn is covered with prepared paper, if the box is a small one, and with canvas if it is a large one. The cubes are made to hold various weights, from one pound to two hundredweight of butter, and it is claimed that the plaster of paris, being a non-conductor of heat, preserves the hermetically sealed butter from being affected by any temperature likely to be encountered.—The Grocers' Journal.

CANNED CORN IN THE STATES.

In his review of the canned goods situation, the Baltimore correspondent of The Merchants' Review, says: "Probably there never was a time when corn occupied the same position among the trade as it does at the present time. It is true that corn sold as low once before, but it was corn in name only. The stock now offered at 40c. is far above the common field corn in point of quality, and is really a first-class article. There is, however, a block of corn which is doubtless being offered from this market at a shade less than 40c. that the trade will do well to fight shy of. It is ancient, doctored and rejuvenated generally. I don't think the market will at any time be lower than 40c., but even if it does decline there is not room to lose much money, if any. Notwithstanding the low prices at which both York State and western packers are offering corn, the writer's mind is filled with the idea that there must be a change for the better. People are not going to stop eating corn altogether, whilst it is true that they have stopped to some extent, but if an effort is made by the packers to improve the quality it will soon be demonstrated to the satisfaction of everyone that corn is as good a seller when offered in the proper quality as it ever has been."

TRADE CHAT.

SHORTLY after midnight Monday fire was discovered in a three-storey brick building occupied by the Hamilton Biscuit Company and Lovell Bros., 83 to 91 Cannon street west, Hamilton, and, owing to a delay in sending in the alarm, about $1,500 damage was done before the blaze could be extinguished.

Owing to the recent advance in the price of flour, the Bakers' Association of Toronto has decided to increase the price of bread by 1c. a large loaf. The new arrangement will come into force on Monday.

Mr. St. George Dillon, of Montreal, came near being on board the ill-fated steamer Ailsa, which was sunk on Saturday by the steamer La Bourgogne, while leaving New York harbor. Mr. Dillon had purchased his ticket for Kingston, W.I., but, at the last moment, he changed his mind and proceeded by way of Tampa, Florida. Three years ago, it will be remembered, Mr. Dillon was shipwrecked off Cape Hatteras, while on a business trip to the West Indies, on board the steamer Erin.

SELLING ACCIDENT INSURANCE.

HE came into the office of a merchant in ———, and with a cheery "Good morning," as of a familiar friend, pulled a chair up near the desk and sat down. The merchant eyed him for a moment, and quietly remarked: "Well."

"Yes, thank you," he replied, with a smile. "I hope you are well also."

It almost jarred the merchant out of his seat. "I did not ask you whether you were well or not," he said, getting hot, "and it is none of your business how I am. What I do want to know is what you want."

"I want a million pounds, and a palace, and a yacht, and a four-in-hand," he rattled away, "and while I am about it I may mention that I also want—"

"Confound you," angrily exclaimed the merchant, "what do I care what you want?"

"I don't really know," he answered in the best humor imaginable; "but I presume you did care, or you wouldn't have asked me."

"Come, come," stuttered the angry merchant, "this is past endurance. You are a perfect stranger to me, and you come in here and take up my time and talk like an idiot. What do you come here for?"

"For a few moments only," said the visitor, serenely, and with the same placid demeanor.

"Oh, did you?" and the merchant jumped out of his chair and started for him. "Well, if you don't get out in two minutes I'll break your head for you."

"Now, now you are talking business," calmly responded the visitor. "Come on, and break my head, and my arm, and my leg. That will lay me up for at least twelve weeks, and I'll get ten pounds a week from the finest accident insurance company in all this beautiful world of ours, sir—the very finest and surest, and most reliable and richest. I represent that company, sir. Don't you want a policy with us? Ten pounds a week if you are injured by any accident, and two thousand pounds cash and no commissions if you are killed. I carry two policies myself, and when I hear a man talk about using me as you threaten to do, I fairly beam with joy, and hope breaks out. I have been——"

"For pity's sake," interrupted the victim, "shut up. How much is a policy for a year? Give me one quick and get out, before I commit suicide and sue your company for the full value."—Exchange.

RETAIL BUYING AGENCIES.

According to The Baltimore American the Baltimore Retail Grocers' Association, the first organization of the kind to establish a distributive agency, has lost money of late in running that department. Says The American: "It is a co-operative concern and all groceries are purchased direct from the manufacturer and sold at a very small advance to the members, thereby escaping the extra cost that is added in passing through the hands of the middleman from the manufacturer to the retail dearer. The amount added to the manufacturers' price and charged to members of the association is only such as is required to meet the running expenses of the association. The question now under consideration is whether the expenses shall be curtailed or the percentage added to the manufacturers' prices increased. The majority of the directors and members are said to have a friendly feeling for the clerks employed by the association and are not favorable to a reduction of the present force. The groceries purchased by the association are sold to the members at an advance of 1 per cent., and with the expenses continuing as at present it is claimed that the percentage added to the manufacturers' prices will have to be doubled."—Merchants' Review.

HARD TO BEAT.

An Iowa farmer came into a store and exhibited an enormous egg, which he vowed had been laid by one of his own hens, says Egg Reporter. He had it packed in cotton, and wouldn't allow anyone to handle it for fear of breaking it. The grocer examined it and said, "Pshaw, I have got something that will beat that."

"I'll bet you a dollar you haven't," said the countryman.

"Right," replied the grocer, and going behind the counter he brought out an egg-beater. "There's something that will beat it, I guess," said he, reaching over for the stakes.

"Hold on there," said the farmer. "Let's see you beat it," and he handed it to the grocer. The latter held out his hand for it, and dropped it in surprise on the counter, where it broke two soup plates. It was solid iron, painted white.

"Some folks think they are darnation cute," muttered the farmer, and he pocketed the stakes and cleared, "but 'taint no use buckin' against solid facts."

HE FRESHENS PEAS.

A novel discovery, says Grocery World, is said to have been made in New England, and, if bona fide, it may, to a great extent, revolutionize the present market for dried vegetables. The new discovery is a method of restoring the flavor and freshness to dried peas at a very small cost.

The process was said to be the discovery of a pedlar, who worked it by buying dried peas at grocery stores by the bushel, and putting them through his solution, which, for a quantity sufficient to freshen a bushel, is said to cost only about five cents. The discoverer of the process then sold the freshened peas from door to door at fifteen cents per quart, which netted him a handsome profit.

This pedlar-inventor has built up such a business by his freshening process that he now employs an assistant, and has all he can do to supply the demand. It is probable that the business will be widened as soon as its ability to move in a wide field is demonstrated.

A Philadelphia grocer is having a delivery wagon built, the motive power of which will be a naphtha engine. He claims that it can be run at a cost of 14c. per day, and that the novelty of it will prove a big paying advertisement.

W. H. Gillard & Co. are in receipt of a direct shipment of "Unicorn" brand Austrian prunes, in 56-lb. boxes, 100 to 105 per lb., and state the quality this season is exceptionally fine, and they look for a large demand.

W. H. Gillard & Co. believe in offering first-class fruits to their customers, and with this end in view have some choice California peaches in bags, which are going freely on account of the low prices consistent with quality.

Mr. C. B. Fabien has just issued his illustrated catalogue, in which will be found many useful ideas for those in search of a refrigerator. He has secured Aubin's patent and all his refrigerators are manufactured under it. The grocery trade of Montreal are well acquainted with this make, as the large number of sales have shown. Catalogues will be sent on application.

LA DELICATESSE CHEESE.

A new potted cheese is being introduced on the Canadian market. It is named "La Delicatesse," and is manufactured in the United States. It is put up in an attractive jar, and the agents in Canada are A. E. Richards & Co., of Hamilton. "La Delicatesse" is being energetically pushed in the United States.

PERSONAL MENTION.

J. F. Morgan, who is handling a select stock of confectionery in Wales, Ont., is adding a line of choice groceries to it. His store is bright and well kept.

C. H. Lewis, formerly with Kinloch, Lindsay & Co., Montreal, has joined the traveling staff of the Eby, Blain Co., Ltd. Mr. Lewis is with his old love again, having previously been with the latter firm some years. Mr. Lewis will cover his old ground east of Cobourg.

Mr. Somerville, of W. Somerville & Co., commission merchants, Hamilton, was in Toronto on Tuesday. "Deliveries of farm produce in Hamilton are fairly good," he said. "The T. H. & B. is bringing in a number of farmers with their baskets from away back to Smithville."

Mr. G. F. Galt, of G. F. & J. Galt, wholesale grocers, Winnipeg, was in Toronto this week.

"GASSY" APPLES.

A New Haven grocer has had lots of trouble with his apples, according to a Boston paper. He bought a large stock early in the fall and put them down cellar. Recently he has been selling a large number of apples, but barrel after barrel and bushel after bushel had been returned to him. They all had a nasty taste, and what it was appeared a mystery. The grocer finally ascertained that there had been an escape of illuminating gas in the cellar near where the apples were stored, and the odor had permeated the fruit.

The Round Lake Fishing and Hunting Company, Ltd., has been organized with a capital of $2,000. Its object is the preservation and propagation of fish and game in the company's property. The company is composed of Messrs. D. B. Dewar, of London; J. B. Hughes, Charles Hendry and Walter Wells, Waterloo; H. J. Hall, Berlin, and James Livingston, Baden.

THE SOCIAL ASPECT OF IT.*

GENTLEMEN,— The above subject was forwarded to me by your esteemed president from his far away home in Iowa, with a request that I, as president of the Canadian Packers' Association, would respond with a paper, for your present meeting. When I look back over the number of years I have had the pleasure of meeting with you in these social reunions, and being favored in listening to the different able and well defined ideas of subjects allotted to those among you, in the papers carefully prepared for the general good of the members of your association in this up-to-date age, I for several reasons feel very incapable of attempting to respond to so high and noble a subject. The times have not been very prosperous with the fraternity the past year. To the old veterans all that can be said is to look carefully over the prospects and regulate your business according to the wants of your country, while to the new ones, and I presume we have some among us who have been dazzled by the tempting wealth heralded in their ears by those who knew more about the business than those long engaged in it, who have started in on the high road to wealth, striving with each other in the race for life, piling up his product of cans in proper shape, waiting for the broker to visit him, knowing that he had done his best to keep the vacuums on each and every end of the cans, and then finding so many of them stretching up their heads to welcome him on his daily visit, arrogating to themselves the privilege of wearing plug hats and swelling out in their pride, each trying to outdo his neighbor, you stand aghast and wonder where all this wind is coming from, you forgetting that they feel they have as good a right to erect themselves, particularly when a Presidential year comes around, as any one. The poor unfortunate packer begins to hunt around and find out what the duty is over in Canada, thinking possibly he could swop them over there and get his rebate on his tin, but finding no comfort there he is ready to shoulder a club and hunt up the fool of a fellow who beguiled him into putting all his worldly wealth into a canning factory that is a failure. He then hies himself away to Chicago in the month of February, having heard of the wonderful benefits these associations are, with his club laying low, possibly for the machinery man with the guileless tongue, who had so persuaded him in the past. I have one consolation. Knowing once he is under the benign influence of your president he is perfectly hypnotized and his feelings so changed and he becomes perfectly docile, and, although he has only occasionally looked over The Canner and Dried Fruit Packer, and The Baltimore Trade, and read the reports of these wonderful meetings, he comes to the conclusion that Friends Deming and Jugge are wide-awake folks, and he carefully scans over these papers for information that will benefit him. But when he reads of reports of what a splendid chance there is for the opening of another canning factory at such and such a place ; how enthusiastic the people there are to take stock in it ; what wealth there is in the business, etc., his heart changes, and sorrow for his poor countrymen fills his soul and he wants to kill this fool factory starter. But, like all the rest of us, he has to bide his time, hoping for the survival of the fittest.

But, my friends, while the year that has gone may not be as prosperous as all expected, like sensible men we all will try and be sociable. We know that " The Great Scott," so ably assisted by his " staff," will do all in his power to make our meeting together not only pleasant but profitable as well. And my duty is thus made easier, and while in the past the cordial relations as nations existing among us so pleasantly have become somewhat strained and it looked at one time as if the poor " Canucks." would be knocked into a cocked hat because they belonged to the old empire that the great Anglo-Saxon race had sprung from, and reading reports of the many kinks that were being put in the old " Lion's tail," for the benefit of those down in South America, and particularly by many living a long way from the " Atlantic Coast " and in this windy city of Chicago, the members of the Canadian Packers' Association began to think our pleasant recollections would be a thing of the past. But when the Emperor of Germany did some foolish writing, congratulating the Boers of Africa on their success over a few enterprising, pushing men in trying to help not only Englishmen but some of your own people in what they considered was right, " a request was flashed under the ocean that the old Union Jack would protect all," then it was shown that " blood was thicker than water," and the world knew that Anglo-Saxons would, if it became necessary, rally together as brothers ; and when your honored president sent us a flag of truce, as he did, we Canadians would have taken our lives in our hands and invaded your country, determined to enjoy ourselves to the fullest extent possible, feeling, as we do, that we are among our own flesh and blood, knowing that each and every one of you would vie with each other in extending a brother's welcome.

And now, my friends, let me assure you that the social point of meeting together yearly is one of the strongest ties that binds us as friendly nations together. While we all struggle in business, as it were, against the other, it is good for us to meet together and show that the Great Brotherhood of Mankind, no matter what flag we live under, the Anglo-Saxon race particularly must always be to the front in these social and happy reunions, and we will all be the better off for so doing. When I reflect how in the years gone by at your meetings, and at your banquets, presided over by your different toastmasters, how each one tried to out-do his neighor in making us all feel welcome, we all vowed it was well worth the many miles traveled to get together to enjoy each other's society. Who among us will ever forget that famous speech in 1886 at St. Louis by your honored president at the banquet, on what has gone down in history, living longer in the memory of every good American than any " Jingo Manifesto" issued. I refer to that wonderful and famous word " Protoplasm." It has woven a wreath around his mortal brow that will never grow dim, and his name will go down to posterity evolving as he did for our benefit " Something from Nothing." And now, my friends, in closing, if I have helped to solve the problem of sociability in these meetings of yours, not only by this paper but by the presence of some of our own members who, I am sure, will extend to each and every member of your association should you ever visit our own loved Canada a warm and hearty brother's welcome, proving to you that while we do not envy you in any way in belonging to so prosperous and pushing, go-ahead nation, we love our own broad prosperous Dominion, that our people are contented and willing to remain, as we are living, along side of you in peace and prosperity, and no matter how some may shout for imaginary wrongs and do a lot of kite flying, you will find that the sensible people of Canada, like all sensible native Americans, are determined there shall be no trouble amongst us. There is plenty of room for both of us on this broad continent to live in peace and harmony.

DELICIOUS

That's the only way to rightly describe the

Ram-Say Tea

It's the finest of Indian-Ceylon teas — done up in lead-lined packets — absolutely air-tight.

NOVA SCOTIA FIBRED CODFISH

REPRESENTS the highest achievement in the art of curing and preparing Codfish ready for cooking.

NOTHING is used in this product but the finest of shore Codfish especially cured and dried for it.

THE disagreeable odor usually considered to be a necessary evil to be endured while cooking Codfish will be found to be entirely lacking in this.

EVERY particle of skin and bone being removed and the water evaporated, there is absolutely no waste. The contents of each package, therefore, is worth to the housekeeper about three times its weight in Codfish as ordinarily sold.

PUT UP in half-pound cartons, 3 doz. cartons to the case, and sold by the wholesale and retail grocers throughout Canada.

Vol. X. (Published Weekly) MONTREAL AND TORONTO, MARCH 13, 1896 ($2.00 per Year) No. 11

DROPS FROM THE EDITOR'S PEN.

Bad roads make bad payments.

Cleanly customers will not cling to uncleanly stores.

It pays the grocer to keep a little "soft soap" in stock.

Good clerks are as essential to success in business as good goods.

A business to be permanent must not be built on a fake foundation.

A well fixed store is as essential to success as a well "fixed" merchant.

Etiquette is as much demanded in the store as in the drawing-room.

It takes a bold "ad" to win custom, as well as a brave heart to win fair lady.

It is to be hoped that when spring comes in she will be accompanied by a good brisk trade.

Method is the modus operandi whereby much work can be done in business building.

The drop of eighty cents per box in the price of "Surprise" soap was a surprise to the trade.

A well-dressed window is more profitable, and hence more desirable, than a well-dressed wife.

Observe the same regularity in the changing of your "ad" as you do in the changing of your linen.

It is not a difficult thing to create an ideal; but it is no easy task to create an ideal that is practicable.

It is nothing strange for a man to succeed under difficulties. The strangeness would be apparent if he succeeded without encountering difficulties. Difficulties may not be a lubricant, but they induce the energy that is necessary to success.

Business may be fickle, but it is a more faithful rewarder of service than is the business of politics.

Merchants without organization, like a man without legs, make but slow progress against trade evils.

When an article won't sell it becomes a drug; but not, however, always qualified for the druggist's shop.

A government that is weak in business instincts can scarcely be expected to be strong in political acumen.

The merchant who keeps his shelves filled with dirty and dusty goods is eventually shelved by his customers.

An advertisement is not the business, but it frequently indicates what manner of business man the advertiser is.

It is indiscreet for a merchant to keep in his employ a clerk or salesman who cannot be allowed some discretion.

When a merchant closes his ledger he should close his methods which stock-taking has shown him to be pernicious.

With the opening of spring comes the desire of the merchant to close his store early. He should put his desires into practice.

Time waits for no man, and the merchant who does not keep up with it soon finds himself behind both his customers and time.

The study of how to make a favorable impression upon the various descriptions of customers is a part of the business curriculum.

The Dominion Government at last appears inclined to do something for Montreal harbor. The black eye which Montreal Centre gave the Government recently appears to have brought it to its senses.

It is well for a business man to be quick in coming to a decision; but it is also well for him not to be too quick: He might "wind" himself.

Recreation is a part of a merchant's business as well as work behind the counter: It endows him with the vigor to do good work behind the counter.

While the commercial traveler is usually dignified, he sometimes becomes indignant because of the disturbing elements he encounters in his territory.

The young man who starts out in life with the idea of acquiring wealth suddenly should consult some old hard-headed business man before he gets much of a start.

Siberia, it is said, will be Europe's future granary. The name of Siberia is at present associated with dark dungeons, bleakness and starvation. It will be a relief to have it associated with something brighter and more humane.

He who starts out in life with no other wealth but that of mind and ambition is more richly endowed, both for this world and the next, than the average man who comes into the world with a gold brick tucked under his arm.

The Boston Retail Grocers' Association have decided not to allow members to participate in the death benefits if their dues are not paid up. The departed delinquent members will probably not turn over in their grave thereat.

There are 340 different specimens of timber trees on the North American continent, 121 of which are within Canadian territory. It is no misnomer to call Canada a wooden country, and she will not wax indignant at being so dubbed.

THE STORM IN THE TEACUP.

"Oh that mine adversary would write a book."

WELL, he has not done so, but he has made a confession. The leading importers of China and Japan teas in New York have admitted, in a report to Congress, that they are unable to supply the country with clean, uncolored teas. Does not this also imply that they have been importing bad and filthy teas for years?

The difficulty, they now admit, has not arisen suddenly. Importers into England, Australia, Canada and many other countries found it out long ago.

It were a curious question to inquire into the subtle probings of the importing mind which prompted this confession at this juncture. Can it in any way be connected with alleged holdings of immense stocks of cheap Amoys, as some cynics assert, or has the importing conscience been stirred by parallel movements in municipal government tending towards purification of the streets, closing of saloons and brothels, the weeding out of police, etc.? There is no doubt when a sudden enthusiasm for cleanliness and purification sets in, it sweeps, by eddies and side currents, into channels which it was hardly expected to reach.

Explanation of the phenomena might well be sought in that direction, but we are inclined to ascribe it rather to bitter disappointment on the part of the small importing body, because after honest and strenuous efforts maintained for years to procure clean and wholesome teas from the far Orient, they find it is impossible. The habits and circumstances of the owners of the small tea gardens in China and Japan are such that cleanliness in manufacture is unattainable. The temptation to color teas artificially by the addition of plumbago and many other substances is irresistible, and, in the absence of rolling and firing machinery, these operations must be carried out by filthy and sweating hands, arms and feet, often covered with gangrenous sores. No wonder that one of these importing gentlemen says: "The tea-tasters would as soon quench their thirst from a Chinaman's bath as swallow the stuff they supply to the public."

But, as these importing gentlemen have now made confession, we must credit them with the intention of amendment; and, setting aside the question of why they have so long clung to these unclean teas, let us see whether there is any truth in the alleged difficulty of obtaining the pure and wholesome article. At the price they admit such teas have been sold wholesale, viz., 10c. per lb., we at once admit the difficulty. From 10c. substract profits here, charges in importing from China, export duties there, which are heavy, cost of refiring and packing at shipping port, profits of middlemen who buy the teas from the small farmers in the interior, transports from interior, etc., and it will be seen that its original grower cannot get 2c. per lb. for his tea. Can Jap or John be blamed if for such a price he is not over-concerned as to the quality?

The average amount of leaf gathered daily by a laborer is about 16 lbs., which gives 4 lbs. of dry tea. Supposing the wage paid be only 4c. a day, this reduces the grower's price by half, or leaves him 1c. per lb., and it is well known that this is about the amount he gets on an average.

The Chinaman's garden is anything, from a quarter of an acre upwards. The European planters in Ceylon and India own gardens running from 200 acres to thousands of acres. On these they erect large factories equipped with rolling, firing and sifting machinery. The fully equipped factory costs about $40 per acre on planted area. Good Ceylon teas, grown on a large scale and manufactured by steam-driven machinery, cannot possibly be laid down in New York at a price which would enable importers to sell at wholesale at 10c., nor even at 12 or 14c. Very low grade teas, unsuited for the English market, are occasionally brought over and sold here at 12 to 14c.; but, excluding dust and fannings, which are little used here, the average price of clean machine-made tea in the London wholesale market is about 9 to 10d., while fine teas may run up to 1s. 6d. or even 2s. Fair average teas can be landed here at 18 to 22c., and might well be retailed profitably at less than 50c., which the importers of China and Japan teas say is the usual retail price for the trash they admit they sell wholesale at 10c. If importers are sincerely anxious, as they aver, to supply the public with pure tea, they will not grudge the prices mentioned at which the teas can be procured without any difficulty; and, seeing that from their greater strength such teas go nearly twice as far as Japan or China, much less being required in the pot, they are really more economical than the cheaper colored teas.

The following figures show that pure teas are making their way in the world:

From Ceylon 13 years ago 11,000,000 lbs. were shipped; in 1895, 98,000,000, of which 78,000,000 were consigned to England, and 20,000,000 to other countries. In 1879, 126,000,000 lbs. of China tea were consumed in Great Britain; now the quantity is about 26,000,000 lbs.; yet the total consumption of Britain is some 80,000,000 more than in 1879.

In the United States and Canada the following figures show that the people are beginning to discriminate and follow the lead of other countries in buying Ceylon teas.

1892	3,200,000
1893	4,200,000
1894	5,380,000
1895	9,280,000

Tea is a soothing, upholding and invigorating beverage; and drinkers of it should buy the best, say from 60c. to $1 per lb. Of these pure teas, as they are very strong, much less should be put into the pot, and the tea should be poured into the cup within four minutes.

People accustomed to China and Japan teas may not like the first cup of pure machine made tea, because of its novelty; but the second they will find tolerable, and after the third they will want it, and there will be no relapse.

G.C.C.

New York, March 10, 1896.

THE BRITISH EGG TRADE.

We are glad to learn as the result of inquiries among shippers that the export trade of Canada continues to work into steady, regular lines, and was last year more satisfactory than in previous years. One large shipper is himself leaving for Canada in April to make further and extensive arrangements for supplies, aud nothing could well be more significant of his opinion of the Canadian trade. Another large importer reports that his firm have had several consignments from Canada, both fresh and pickled, which were disposed of advantageously to the shippers. The mode of packing and size of the case are, he reports, just what is wanted; and, provided the quality be maintained, a large business should be done.

The returns of the Board of Trade show that of the 12½ million great hundreds which the United Kingdom imported in 1895, Canada supplied less than half a million; Germany led with only 3½ million; France came next with 2¾, Belgium 2⅓, Russia, 2¼, and Denmark 1¼ millions. Still the Canadian trade is, of course, a young one, and it evinces clear signs of advance, as these figures of British imports from Canada show:

		Quantities.	Value.

THE MECCA

How Pleasing

. . . . . To the lady of the house, when entertaining her friends in a cup of coffee, to have the satisfaction of knowing that she is presenting them with one of the choicest and most popular brands of goods now being sold throughout Canada.

Its strength will surprise you; its perfect flavor and aroma will delight you; it will save you many a disappointment by handling these goods; there is nothing that detracts from the pleasure of the breakfast table so much as a remark that the coffee is very poor. This difficulty will never occur when MECCA COFFEE is used.

These goods have had to line up and take their stand side by side with all the popular brands now offering to the public; and what has been the result? MECCA stands to-day as a Giant whose popularity is the envy of rival competitors, the admiration of all lovers of this cheering cup.

Our experience of many years has taught us that there will always be a demand for high grade goods.

John Smith, of Tonawanda, can endorse anything from a baking powder to a horseless carriage without injury to himself and without much help to the article endorsed; but when hundreds of the foremost grocers of Canada to-day are sending us orders for MECCA COFFEE we feel that we have in our possession a brand of goods that we can sincerely recommend as a leader to all grocers who delight to please their customers.

You cannot procure any commodity in your line that will be productive of so good results as MECCA COFFEE.

We respectfully await your solicitation for a sample, which we will have pleasure in forwarding with despatch. These goods are carefully packed and sealed in 25-pound tins, and always fresh, as we roast every day. This will always guarantee you fresh goods.

HE IS A RARITY.

Dollars are often made by reading one issue of a live trade paper, and yet there are merchants who begrudge two dollars for fifty-two issues—CANADIAN GROCER.

Very few merchants can be found who do this. It is the age of progress, and the tradesmen of the present generation are coming to see that their lives can be made immeasurably easier by culling from the best trade journal they can find the voluminous and valuable information therein contained. It is actually almost as bad for a grocer of the present day to attempt the grocery business, and expect to reach its highest possibilities without a good trade journal at his elbow, as it would be for a lawyer to attempt to practise law without reading Blackstone. The law of the land prevents the latter; the law of the survival of the fittest will prevent the former.—Grocery World.

THE CURIOSITIES ARE FEW.

Merchants who consider they can do without a trade paper are as mariners who fancy they can dispense with the compass.—CANADIAN GROCER.

This is right in the majority of cases. Once in a while, however, you come across a grocer who lives under the blind luck that seems to accompany some people through life. He could probably get along, not only without the trade paper, but several other things which the average grocer has to have. But these curiosities are few. — Grocery World.

WOODSTOCK BOARD OF TRADE.

At the annual meeting of the Woodstock Board of Trade the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, John White; vice-president, R. W. Whitelaw; secretary-treasurer, J. G. Wallace. An effort is being made by the Board to have the instalment system of tax collections introduced. Pressure is also being brought to bear on the Town Council looking towards the erection of a new fire hall.

THE CARIBOO RAILWAY.

It is understood that the long talked of railway between Ashcroft and Barkerville, which will have the effect of opening up the great Cariboo country, is much more nearly an accomplished fact than many people imagine. The report is that negotiations are progressing for the acquisition by the C.P.R. of the plant of the narrow gauge railway which formerly connected Lethbridge and Dunmore (the Galt railway, as it is perhaps more favorably known). The rolling stock is an extensive and valuable one, and has been lying idle ever since the gauge of the Galt road was widened. The construction of a railway of the description proposed is much less expensive than that of one of the standard gauge, the cost of rock cutting and excavations being very much lower. We have always believed that the Cariboo railway would be an early development and with its construction and operation better days than those of old will be seen in Golden Cariboo. The C.P.R. people, with all their faults, have enterprise, which others would do well to emulate.— B. C. Commercial Journal.

DEM WATERMELONS.

Few people, remarks an exchange, are aware of the magnitude of the watermelon industry in the South. Thomasville, which is centre of the watermelon district, covers an area of 150 miles square. It includes the south-western portion of Georgia and the northwestern portion of Florida, and when the season opens the freight departments of the railroads in this section move their headquarters to Thomasville, and the telegraph company sends down five extra operators to handle the increased business occasioned by the purchase and shipment of the crop. The season lasts about two months, beginning with July and ending with August, and last year between 9,000 and 10,000 carloads were shipped outside the State, carrying an average of 1,200 melons to a car, which makes a total of about 11,000,000 melons contributed to the northern and western appetite. About 52,000 pounds of seed have been harvested in one season at Monticello. One grocer declares that he has sold more than $1,500 worth of seed in one month.

THE SYRUP TARIFF.

THERE are times when the burdensome character of the syrup duty is more in evidence than at others. The present is one of these times.

The refineries have no dark syrups at all to offer, and some of them have even no brights. Dark syrups they have scarcely at any time. This fact is particularly annoying when there is a demand for them. And there is a demand for them at the moment.

In spite of the fact that dark syrups cannot be had in the country, the duty practically precludes their entry into the country.

The duty on syrups is a specific one of equal to 10½c. per gallon. As far as bright syrups are concerned there appears to be no serious objection to the duty. It is in regard to the dark syrups that the indignation goes out.

About the lowest priced syrup that can be got at the moment from the Canadian refineries is a bright at 36c, Toronto, per gallon, while the lowest price the wholesalers have been paying for some time is 28c. per gallon.

Now, while the lowest price Canadian wholesalers have been paying for some time is 28c. per gallon, a very fair syrup can be obtained in New York at equal to 14c. per gallon, imperial measure. But this syrup, with freight and duty added, would cost practically the same as the twenty-eight cent domestic article, allowing 10½c. per gallon duty and 3c. per gallon freight. This means a duty of over 70 per cent., while on a lower grade it would of course be higher.

Although an odd lot of American syrup is now and then brought in, a duty of over 70 per cent. is obviously prohibitory. Consequently people are compelled to use a high-priced syrup or go without.

If the home refineries produced even a fair quantity of medium or dark syrups, and sold them at a moderate price, there would not be much cause for complaint.

It is of little matter to a people whether a duty is high or low as long as the home product is reasonable in price. In the matter of syrup, however, the duty is not only high, but the home refineries, conscious of the helpless condition of the trade in the premises, refuse to supply what they know the tariff prevents from coming into the country.

Were dark and medium syrups deleterious, there would be some excuse, but they are not; that is, at any rate such as the trade in this country want.

As there is a large constituency in this country—the poorer people—with whom dark syrup is a staple product, it is obvious that the duty bears most heavily upon those who are least able to bear it.

The grocery trade of the country do not begrudge the home refineries a fair meed of protection, but they do object, and that strongly, to a protection that permits them to deprive a goodly portion of the people of a staple article of food.

No one desires to see the home market made the dumping ground of inferior American syrups, but it should not be a difficult thing to so re-arrange the tariff that Canadians would be able to import dark syrups at a reasonable rate of duty when they cannot procure them at home.

The Canadian refineries treat consumers well with regard to sugar: they produce the best sugar in the world at a reasonable price. Would we could only say they were as considerate in regard to syrups.

The evil is so obvious that it is only a question of time before it will be removed.

METHOD OF SELLING TEA.

THE contracts placed this spring at Montreal for early May Japan teas are away behind those of the corresponding period last spring.

Each succeeding spring seems to entail a decrease in the volume of these forward sales of high-priced, early Japan teas.

Two or three years ago Montreal sales agents thought nothing of booking 100-chest orders for high-priced Japan teas. Now the maximum length that the majority of buyers will go is 25 to 30 chests.

Of course there are houses in Montreal who still buy largely at one time, but they are the exception, not the rule, and the market, to use the expression of a leading broker, is becoming more and more of a peddling one each successive season.

This condition is attributable to various causes. Probably the most influential is that the taste of the mass of the consuming public has been educated to accustom itself to a low or medium priced tea. Another circumstance that has led to diminution in the desire to place forward contracts is the fact that very frequently buyers found they were out of pocket by so doing.

It has often happened during the past two or three years that jobbers after stocking up pretty fully had the unpleasant experience of witnessing competitors filling their wants on the market in Montreal at a laid-down price considerably under what their tea cost them. They would not be human if they did not then and there declare that they would not be taken in again.

Unfortunately, some brokers are not entirely free from the accusation that they did not take advantage of their own customers in this way. Considering all the circumstances, therefore, it is not surprising that wholesale houses do not care to load up ahead, when, as above noted, the operation may mean a serious loss to them.

Another point also worthy of notice is the growing inclination to do away entirely with "credits," and sell tea laid down on sample in Montreal or elsewhere, as the case may be. This method obviates the possibility of disputes and legal complications that so often arise to the detriment of the good feeling that should exist among traders.

A case in point may be cited, when, the other week, a leading Montreal wholesale firm went to the length of taking out a capias against a seller. The matter was ultimately settled, but such occurrences are not creditable to the good name of the trade.

With the new method—and it may be said that one or two agents are adopting it entirely this spring—the teas being sold laid down, if not according to sample, can be refused, and that ends the matter. This will certainly be better all round than the old method.

AN OLD FIRM RETIRING.

THE firm of Kinloch, Lindsay & Co. is one of the landmarks of the wholesale grocery trade in Montreal, and it will be learned with regret that this old landmark is to disappear. This is made necessary by the determination of Wm. Kinloch, the senior partner, to retire from the cares and worry of active business life.

Mr. Kinloch has certainly earned an honorable retirement, being, so to speak, the "Dean" of the trade in Montreal, entering into active business over 53 years ago. Since that time he has been constantly associated with the management of the house, which financially was one of the foremost in the Dominion, its large capital enabling it to do more of a large wholesale supply than a purely jobbing trade.

The junior partner, Wm. B. Lindsay, is the senior of the great majority of the present members of the trade also. Both gentlemen are among the wealthy men of Montreal, as they retire with handsome fortunes.

It may be remarked that Mr. Lindsay has not yet definitely made up his mind to retire entirely from trade. He has not yet decided what he intends to take up, but if he does, as he himself put it: "It will be something connected with groceries, as I don't profess to know very much about anything else."

The stock of the firm is being gradually disposed of, and when this operation is concluded the business will be wound up.

TRADE ON THE NORTH SHORE.

MR. A. M. PARKINSON, of Trout Creek, has been paying his annual visit to the east. He was in Toronto on Friday last.

"We have had a good winter," he said in reply to a query of mine. "Trade has been good and the outlook is bright. And we have had some pretty cold weather. Two weeks ago last Sunday the thermometer registered 48 degrees below zero. But we don't feel the cold so much. You see, when we get these heavy frosts we do not get any wind."

"How have lumbering operations been this winter?" I asked.

"Good; there has been a lot of stuff got out in the woods this winter, and our mills expect a pretty busy spring and summer. We have four mills, but one of them did not run last season; neither will it this. Our largest mill employs about twenty-five men."

"Is there much done in pulp wood around Trout Creek?"

"We have cut and shipped a good deal in the past; but there will be nothing done in it this year. Prices are too low and freight rates too high. The best we can get to-day is $6.50 per cord, delivered at the mills, Niagara Falls, N. Y. Out of that we have got to pay $3.50 for freight alone. This leaves only three dollars for cutting the wood and getting it on the cars, etc. The wood cannot be got out for the money. People did do it when they had nothing else to do; but they have lost money. And this year there will be nothing done. A good deal of what was got out last year is lying on the owners' hands rotting. About 2,500 cords of last year's cut is lying at South River. We have not so much at our place. We hold two or three hundred cords, and cannot find a purchaser."

Then Mr. Parkinson animadverted upon Trout Creek. "The town is going ahead nicely. When I went there six years ago, there was a small store and one hotel. Now we have four stores, three hotels, three churches, two blacksmith shops, a jewelry store, a millinery store, a harness shop, and a new school house that cost two thousand dollars. The town has done remarkably well for the time. It is the trade centre for the country for forty miles around."

Mr. Parkinson, who carries on a general business at Trout Creek, left for home on Saturday.

BRITISH SUGAR IN TORONTO.

SUGAR of British production has been received into stock by some of the Toronto wholesalers during the last few days.

It is pure cane and is about the same quality as Canadian refined dark sugar.

The wholesale price is a shade less than the Canadian product of the same grade, notwithstanding that the importer had to pay a duty of $1.14 per 100 pounds. The sugar will net the wholesaler about the same profit as the Canadian refined.

The importation of British sugar was only made possible after the recent advance on the Canadian market.

It is some years since British refined sugar was seen on the Toronto market, although it is not so much a stranger in other parts of the country.

The Trade and Navigation Returns show that during the fiscal year ending June 30 last the Dominion imported for home consumption 1,163,706 pounds of British refined sugar. Besides that we took 4,572,123 pounds of German refined, 2,907,122 pounds of China and 372,625 pounds of United States refined sugar. We also received small quantities from Australia, British West Indies, Hong Kong, Austria, Belgium, Holland, Spanish and West Indies. Our total imports of refined sugar last year for home consumption were 9,188,730 pounds, valued at $289,093, on which a duty of $63,462.42 was collected.

In 1894 the imports for home consumption of sugar above 14 Dutch standard and sugar syrups derived from refined sugars, all told, only aggregated 2,816,445 pounds, valued at $116,444.

The present duty of $1.14 per 100 pounds on refined sugar was put on after the close of the fiscal year, so that we can confidently look for much smaller importations in 1896 than in 1895. Besides the influence of the duty, it is quite certain that the unpopularity which the German granulated earned for itself will preclude its being imported into Canada again in large quantities.

A DISHONEST PRACTICE.

THE CANADIAN GROCER is informed that some of the retail merchants in the country are in the habit of using the boxes and jars of the Adams & Sons Co. as a receptacle for other gums.

The practice cannot be too strongly denounced. The object is clearly to delude people into the belief that they are buying Adams & Sons Co's gums when it is some other they are getting.

The gum may be just as good as that made by the firm whose jars and boxes are used: The question of quality is not so much an issue as the deceptive methods employed. But this fact is patent: the Adams Co.'s jars and boxes would scarcely be employed as a medium for selling Tom, Dick and Harry's gums if their gums were not superior in quality.

The good coin is not an imitation of the spurious; it is the spurious that is the imitation of the good.

The reputation possessed by Adams' chewing gums has been obtained after years of toil and the expenditure of much money, and it is annoying to them to see a lot of cuckoos come along and settle in the nests which they have made.

Retail merchants should not, either of their own volition or through the inspiration of interested persons, permit themselves to be any longer the medium of these frauds.

No honest retailer will. To sell other chewing gums out of Adams & Sons Co.'s jars or boxes is first of all a deception on the public. But it is doubly injurious to the firm that is the victim of this practice: They at the same time lose business, and are utilized to sell the products of competitors, while, furthermore, every person who is led into believing he is getting Adams' gums receives the impression that their gums are deteriorating in quality.

HOW TO COOK CALIFORNIA FRUIT.

Mr. Geo. W. Solomon, representing J. W. Teasdale & Co., California dried fruits, nuts, etc., St. Louis, Mo., was in Toronto on Tuesday looking up business, in company with the firm's Toronto agent, Mr. James Haywood.

"The consumption of California dried and evaporated fruits is increasing wonderfully in Canada," he said; "and I find it is much easier to sell goods than it was a year ago. The great trouble, however, is that you people over here do not know how to cook California fruits. They, as a rule, undertake to cook them in the first water. This should not be done. The fruit should first be soaked eight or ten hours. After that the water should be turned off, fresh water put in and the fruit soaked for another six or eight hours. It is not, however, imperative that the fruit should be soaked as long as that the second time, but it is better. In the second water the fruit should be cooked by being allowed to slowly simmer. My reference to the length of time the fruit should be soaked in the second water applies more particularly to high class goods, which are full of sulphur. You know California fruits are bleached in sulphur. White nectarines will have twice as much sulphur as apricots, and fine bright peaches will have more sulphur than dark ones. The whiteness of the goods is in proportion to the quantity of sulphur used. The object in taking off the first water is to 'get shut' of the sulphur. There is no sulphur in prunes. Sulphur is only used in peaches, apricots, nectarines and silver plums, and the brighter the goods the more sulphur is there in them.

APPLE TRADE RETROSPECT.

THE export apple trade is still in an unsatisfactory condition. Cables received by Toronto exporters state that the market is this week one shilling higher, but even at the advance shippers are losing money. A mail advice under date of Liverpool, February 29th, stated that exporters were losing "a pot of money."

The chief cause of this unsatisfactory condition is the fact that many of the Canadian apples have been arriving on the English market in a "spent" condition due to the unseasonable character of the early part of the winter. The demand is good in Liverpool for choice apples, but the presence of so much inferior fruit has sadly affected the average of prices.

The quantity of apples being shipped is comparatively small. The aggregate quantity which last week went out from Canada on British account was 4,077 barrels, about 50 per cent. less than for the same time a year ago.

A good many apples have, however, gone out of the country this season. Many more in fact than it was six months ago thought possible.

The fact of the matter is that a general effort was made by exporters to belittle the quantities of apples that they had bought and stored. THE CANADIAN GROCER hears of one man, for instance, who had bought something like 300 per cent. more than he professed to have bought.

The result of this was that up to December 1 last the exports of apples aggregated more than the original estimates of the total crop.

In spite of the large crop of apples that the United States had in 1895 that country last fall took a great number of Canadian apples largely on speculative account. One Chicago firm alone is credited with purchasing about twelve thousand barrels of Canadian apples, while others took from four to ten thousand barrels each.

The secret of it is this: Large as the United States crop was, a good portion of it consisted of the Ben Davis variety. That apple, though to the eye everything that can be desired, is neither first class for cooking nor eating. Consequently there was a demand for Canadian Spies, Greenings, Bellfleur's and Talman Sweets.

At the moment the English market is the only one that is receiving attention from Canadian exporters, but, as has already been noted, with anything but satisfactory results.

WHY THE TRADE INCREASED.

"I see," remarked a well-known business man, "that Mr. Devereux, in his interview in last week's GROCER, says that the growth of the Ceylon tea trade with Canada was due to the very fine values that were offered on direct shipments from Colombo. I agree with him, but only in part. He should have said on account of the good values and judicious advertising in THE CANADIAN GROCER by W. Mackenzie, the representative of the Ceylon Government." Of course, I quite agree with Business Man.

A TALK ON CEYLON TEAS.

MR. W. MACKENZIE, of the Ceylon Tea Association, Ceylon, paid a flying visit to Toronto on Wednesday, returning to New York in the evening. Shortly before he left I had the pleasure of a few minutes' chat with him at the Queen's Hotel. Mr. Mackenzie is an enthusiastic and energetic promoter of the Ceylon tea trade. Naturally it was upon this subject that I interrogated him.

This is Mr. Mackenzie's third visit to the American continent during the past thirteen months. He came out in February, 1895, merely to spy out the land. On that occasion he forwarded a report to the Ceylon Government, the result of which was that a man was sent to the United States to begin operations. In August last Mr. Mackenzie made another trip to the American continent.

"When," he remarked to me, "I suggested, in August last, to the merchants in New York, that they should stock Ceylon tea, they simply laughed at me. Now, however, many of these American firms are taking these teas in hand—or, as you say here, handling them—who last year never dealt with them unless to fill an order. They said it was against their vested interests in China and Japan."

"Is the tea acreage increasing much in Ceylon?" I ventured.

"You understand," he rejoined, "Ceylon is a small country, and, consequently, our possibilities are limited. India, on the other hand, is a continent in itself, with a teeming population, and its resources are unlimited. At present 200,000 acres of tea lands are under cultivation by European capitalists, and all the tea is machine-made. There are more available lands, but they are held by the Government, mainly with a view to preserving irrigation, and partly, perhaps, to prevent over-production."

Referring to the altitude of the tea plantations, Mr. Mackenzie said: "It is when you get over 5 000 feet above the sea level that you obtain the finest tea. At 4,000 feet you get good tea. The tea plant is hardy. It will grow at the sea level at the equator, or at 7,000 feet above the sea level 30 deg. north of the equator, at Darjeeling, where for weeks at a time snow is on the ground. The largest quantity is raised at the low elevation, but the finest flavor is obtained on the highest elevation, and strength and quantity from the lowest, where the climate is more favorable to forcing the plants."

"It has been charged," I remarked, "that there is deterioration in methods of making tea in Ceylon. What is there in it?"

"Nothing," replied Mr. Mackenzie, with the air of a man who considered such a charge absurd. "All our teas are made by machinery, and our methods are the same as they were ten years ago, with this difference: we are always improving our machinery. Then, as to Ceylon teas maintaining their popularity among those who drink them. They have in England, they have in Australia, and why should they not here? People do not like their flavor at the first attempt. At the second attempt they begin to like them, and at the third attempt would not do without them. The reason they do not like the flavor at first is because it is the natural flavor, while they have been used to the imparted flavor which is given other teas."

"What is the outlook for the coming crop?" I queried.

"The official estimate of the coming crop is 102,000,000 pounds. Last year the total crop was 99,000,000. But there is a slightly larger acreage, some plants that in 1895 were not fit to give a crop having matured."

Then Mr. Mackenzie became reminiscent. "Thirteen years ago Ceylon exported 1,000,000 pounds of tea; last year 99,000,000 pounds, 78,000,000 pounds of which was taken by Great Britain."

"There is not much tea consumed in Ceylon, is there?"

"No; probably not more than half a million pounds annually. The natives, like the negros on this continent, drink chiefly coffee."

"Have the hard times of the past few years affected Ceylon?"

"Not noticeably so. You know, we produce practically nothing but tea and cocoanuts, and our trade in these has increased. Yes, we export a little plumbago, but our coffee trade does not now amount to much: it has been supplanted by tea. Ceylon's exports of coffee touched in one year the total of one million cwt., but now it is only 30,000 cwt. per year."

Mr. Mackenzie was accompanied by Mr. Blechynder, representing the Indian Tea Planters' Association.

GROCERY TRAVELERS.

The Montreal Wholesale Grocery Travelers' Association held its regular monthly meeting Monday evening at the Monument National, with Elzear Massicotte, president of the association, in the chair. After some routine business had been transacted, the committee which had been formed to organize the musical party, which was given the 11th of February, presented its report. The soiree was a success from every point of view, so much so, in fact, that the association is organizing one for the week after Easter. A vote of thanks was passed to the president and to the members of the committee on the motion of W. Lajeunesse, seconded byDr. F. X. Plouffe and Mederic Perras.

DRUMMERS AND RAILWAY RATES.

THE conference of the Dominion Commercial Travelers' Association delegates and passenger agents was concluded Monday at the Windsor Hotel, Montreal. In the absence of Lieut.-Col. Massey, the vice-president, Max Murdock, presided. The delegates spent the first hour in arranging and discussing business in connection with the requests about to be made to the railway representatives, after which Messrs. McNicoll and Ussher, of the C.P.R. and N. J. Power, of the G.T.R., were introduced, who promised to take the requests into careful consideration.

Several of the requests had reference principally to the Northwest, and the western delegates voiced them. A local rate on the C.P.R. main line from Fort William to Canmore and on branches in Manitoba was considered by the drummers too high, being three cents. The railway men were asked to reduce the rate to 2½c. The request that the $10 rate from Winnipeg to Banff should include stop-over privileges was refused. It was agreed to reduce the rate of 5c. a mile to 3¼c. a mile on branches in British Columbia. Better arrangements for excess baggage were also asked for, and they asked to be allowed to ship baggage by the regular freight rate as formerly.

Afterwards the delegates fully discussed the question of forming an executive for commercial travelers of the whole Dominion looking towards the federation of the present five distinct associations under a central committee. The matter will be referred to the respective associations. The meeting concluded with a vote of thanks to the chairman, and with grateful expressions of the delegates for kind treatment. The delegates were all invited to lunch by the representatives from the Northwest. Most of the visitors left for their homes last evening.

The D.C.T.A. presented each delegate with a souvenir copy of "Canada and her commerce."

THE RETAILER'S IMPORTANCE.

IT is a good thing for the retail grocer to reflect, as a strengthener of the independence which is too often lacking, that he is the most indispensable factor in the introduction of food products to the consumer. Without him, both manufacturer and jobber would find their work extremely difficult, if not absolutely impossible. He it is who gives the advice to the consumer as to whether a certain food product is desirable or undesirable, and whose advice is often taken. The manufacturer may spend thousands of dollars in advertising to the consumer direct, in which he iterates and reiterates, "ask your grocer," but it is the grocer every time who is able to turn such request aside if he wishes. Grocers are right in looking with disfavor upon the manufacturer who attempts to compel them to handle his goods.

A surprising number of consumers depend upon the grocer for information concerning given food products, and honest and progressive grocers utilize this tendency to their own legitimate advantage. If the grocer says to a consumer, and says honestly, that he knows nothing about a certain product, and that he does not handle it because there are so many things better, the whole effect of those thousands of dollars spent in advertising is wasted, so far as that one consumer is concerned.

Contrariwise, the grocer' sfriendship for a given article is an equal factor in its success. The average consumer who comes to the store intending to purchase some other article may, in at least five cases out of ten, be induced to take the one under consideration, simply through the grocer's statement that it is better and will give better satisfaction. The retailer has the whole matter practically in the hollow of his hand, and can either greatly assist or hopelessly retard the success of any food product in existence.—Grocery World.

Genuine Seville Orange Marmalade

We have the goods ready for shipment. It's the pure quill, and meets with success everywhere. Why? Because it's the best that can be made and very cheap; 7-lb. pails, 6 in a crate. Every consumer will buy it. It's a delicious tonic and anti-bilious delicacy. It's the greatest value in preserved fruit on the market. We sold thousands of pails last season. Can be retailed at 10 cents per lb. and leave you a handsome margin.

We have a few Jams, in 7-lb. pails, left and will give special price on application.

Did you get any of the 1894 Crop Peaches in bags, and find them "not rich enough in quality and appearance to please the consumer?" We have some very choice 1895 Crop Yellow Peaches in bags that will bring trade.

We have a snap in FRENCH IMPERIAL PLUMS, in 25-lb. boxes.

We handle also UNICORN PRUNES, 56-lb. boxes.

MARKETS AND MARKET NOTES

ONTARIO MARKETS.

GROCERIES.

TRADE exhibits a little more life this week, but the volume of business is still unsatisfactory. And the same may be said with regard to payments. Sugars are still dull, and, although the refiners are holding prices steady, some of the jobbers are not indisposed to shade prices when it will secure an order. The demand has improved a little for canned vegetables and salmon, but the turnover is still small. Syrups are in light demand and scarce. Trade in spices is quiet, with pepper and ginger a little higher in the primary markets. Business in tea is moderate. There is a fair trade to report in foreign dried fruits, especially California goods.

CANNED GOODS.

There is perhaps a little better demand for canned vegetables, particularly tomatoes and peas, and there is a little better turnover in salmon; but the orders are only small and the aggregate turnover light. There is some corn on the market, last year's pack, which is being sold wholesale at 70c. per dozen. Canned fruits are as dull as ever. We quote as follows: Tomatoes, 80 to 90c.; corn, 70 to 80c.; peas, 95c. for ordinary; sifted select, $1.10; extra sifted, $1.45 to $1.50; peaches, $2.90 to $3 for 3's, $1.90 to $2 for 2's; raspberries, $1.40 to $2.00; strawberries, $1.80 to $2.45, according to brand and quality; blackberries, $1.90 to $2.20; cherries, $2.40 to $2.45; apples, 3's, 85 to 90c.; gallons, $1.90 to 2.25; salmon, "Horseshoe," $1.35 to $1.40; "Maple Leaf," $1.35; "Lion," $1.35 to $1.40; Lowe Inlet, $1.27 to $1.30, in tall tins; cohoes, $1.10 to $1.20; canned mackerel, $1.10 to $1.20; lobsters, $1.80 to $2.10, for tall tins; flats, $2.35 to $2.65; half tins, $1.45 to $1.50; Canadian canned beef, 1's, $1.35 to $1.45; 2's, $2.25 to $2.35; 6's, 7.50 to $8; 14's, $15 to $16.50.

COFFEE.

A fair volume of business is passing in the better grades of green Rio coffees. We quote green in bags: Rio, 18c.; East Indian, 27 to 30c.; South American, 21 to 23c.; Santos, 19 to 22½c.; Java, 30 to 33c.; Mocha, 27½ to 30c.; Maracaibo, 21 to 23c.; Jamaica, 21 to 25c.

SYRUPS.

There is not much doing, and there is a light supply of all kinds. Dark syrups there are none. We quote: Dark, 30 to 32c.; medium, 33 to 35c.; bright, 40 to 42c.

MOLASSES.

Trade is quiet and featureless. The outside markets rule steady. We quote: New Orleans, barrels, 28 to 35c.; half-barrels, 30 to 35c.; Barbadoes, barrels, 31 to 35c.; half-barrels, 33 to 35c.

SUGAR.

The representatives of the refiners declare that up to within the last couple of days the sugar market was never quieter. Within the last few days, however, there has been a resumption of buying in a small way; but the market cannot yet be called any other than dull. The larger retailers throughout the country appear to be still fairly well supplied, but it is said that the small merchants and the farmers are pretty well cleaned out of supplies. The wholesalers report a slightly better demand, there being a few more transactions in carload lots; but the volume of business is anything but satisfactory, and some houses are shading prices to induce trade. The refiners' prices are still 4¾c. net. Wholesalers' quotations are: Granulated, 4¾ to 4⅞c.; yellows 3⅞c. up.

N. Y. Journal of Commerce, Tuesday: "The market for raw sugar seems to be halting. It appears that refiners are unwilling to purchase on the 4⅛c.-basis, and it is reported that they are bidding only 4 1-16c. for centrifugals, and some reports have it that their bids are not over 4c. On the other hand, it is said that only a few small parcels just arrived are offered on the 4⅛c.-basis, and that holders generally are maintaining a steady front. The steamship Saratoga has arrived with about 9,230 bags, and out of this from 8,000 to 9,000 bags have been ordered into store. One considerable lot of this sugar is said to be owned by a Cuban planter, who has cabled that one-half of the cane on his plantations has been burned, and he has ordered his sugar here placed in store to hold for higher prices. Mail advices from St. Kitts, under date of Feb. 24, say that the burning of plantations has extended to the British Islands, owing to the labor troubles, laborers claiming that their wages are too low. A despatch received from an American now in Cuba says that the condition of the island is most serious and the sugar crop is practically lost."

SPICES.

Pepper and ginger are both firmer in the primary markets. Locally spices are quiet and unchanged. We quote: Pure black pepper, 10 to 12c.; pure white, 18 to 25c.; pure Jamaica ginger, 23 to 25c.; cloves, 15 to 20c.; pure mixed spice, 25 to 30c.; cream of tartar, French, 25 to 27c.; ditto, best, 28 to 30c. per lb.; allspice, 14 to 18c.

RICE.

The seasonable quietude still obtains, with the demend chiefly for ordinary at 3½ to 3⅝c. per lb.

NUTS.

Business is quiet and prices unchanged. A cable from Bordeaux states that stocks of Bordeaux and Marbot walnuts are exhausted. We quote as follows: Brazil nuts, 14 to 15c.; Sicily shelled almonds, 25 to 26c.; Tarragona almonds, 14 to 14½c.; peanuts, 10 to 12c. for roasted, and 7 to 10c. for green; cocoanuts, $4.50 to $5 per sack; Grenoble walnuts, 12 to 12½c. Marbot walnuts, 11 to 12c.; Bordeaux walnuts, 9c.; Sicily filberts, 8 to 10c. for sacks and 10½ to 11c. for small lots; pecans, 10½ to 11c.

TEAS.

A feature of the local trade is an active enquiry for highly flavored Indian and Ceylon teas of all grades. There has been a little movement in Young Hysons, but China teas generally are quiet. Japan teas are neglected also. We quote ruling prices to retailers: Young Hysons, 12 to 18c. for low grades, 24 to 27c. for mediums, and 30 to 45c. for high grades; China Congous, 14 to 18c. for mediums, and 25 to 55c. for high grades; Japans, 15 to 20c. for mediums, 28 to 35c. for high grades; Indians and Ceylons, 18 to 22c. for mediums, and 30 to 65c. for high grades.

DRIED FRUITS.

Currants are quiet, and the little demand there is, is for better qualities. The N.Y. Journal of Commerce of Tuesday said: "Cables from Greece indicate that holders there are disposed to accept less money on prompt shipment. The stock sold yesterday ex Lamington will, it is said, go almost immediately into consumption, as it can be sold at much less than current market quotations. Efforts were made to induce the health authorities of this city, Brooklyn and the State to prohibit the sale of the goods, but without result." Locally we still quote: Provincials, 3¾ to 4c. in bbls.; fine Filiatras, in bbls., 4¼ to 4½c.; do, half-bbls., 4¼ to 4¾c.; ditto, half-cases, 4¾ to 5c.; Casalinas, cases, 5 to 5¼c.; Vostizzas, cases, 6 to 6½c.; ditto, half-cases, 6½ to 6¾c.; ditto, extra fine, 6¾ to 7¼c.; ditto, half-cases, 7¼ to 7½c.; Panaretas, in cases, 9c.

Valencia raisins appear to be scarce east of Toronto, and we hear of a transaction of one carload of off-stalk for shipment there. The terms are private. A cable announces that there are no Valencia raisins left in Denia. Locally the trade is quiet at unchanged prices. We quote: Off-stalk 4½ to 4¾c.; fine off-stalk, 5 to 5¼c.; selected, 6 to 6¼c., and layers, 6½c.

The local representatives of California dried fruit firms report an improved trade for the past week. Loose 3-crown muscatels have advanced ⅛c. per pound in the primary markets. A few special lots of peaches have been offered in carloads. The wholesale houses report the demand better for California fruits than for any other kind of dried fruit. Peaches, in bags, at about 6½c. per lb., are particularly in demand. We quote: Apricots, 15 to 16c.; peaches, 8c., in bags, and 10 to 15c. in boxes; pears, 10½ to 12½c.; plums, 6½c. for unpitted, and 12½c. for pitted; nectarines, 11 to 13c.; loose muscatels, 5½ to 6½c. per lb.

Bosnia prunes are getting scarce on spot, but further shipments are close at hand. The demand is chiefly for the better grade of California prunes at from 9 to 11c. per lb. California prunes are a little easier on the Coast. We quote: Bosnias, "Sphinx" brand, "A," 65 to lb. 9c.; "B," 75 to lb. 7¾c., "U," 102 to lb., 6½ to 6¾c.; California prunes, 40-50, 10 to 10½c. per lb.; 50-60, 9½c. per lb.; 60-70, 9c.; 70-80, 8½c. per lb.; French, 5 to 6c.

Eleme figs are quiet and unchanged. We quote: Eleme, 14 oz., 9 to 10½c.; 10 lb., 9½ to 12½c.; 12 lb., 12½c.; 28 lb., 15c.

Sultana raisins are quiet and unchanged at 5½ to 6c.

Dates still rule quiet at 4½ to 5½c.

GREEN FRUIT.

Oranges are in good demand, especially Valencias, and although there are not many on the market there are more on the way. Valencia oranges are quoted $1 per box higher, in sympathy with the advance on the Liverpool market. Valencia oranges are arriving in a wasty condition and have to be repacked. California Washington navels have advanced to $2.50 per case f.o.b. Riverside, for imported goods. This is an advance of 90c. per case from the lowest point, and telegraphic advices state that the market is active at the advance with every prospect of still higher figures obtaining. On the spot prices of California oranges are unchanged. Lemons are in fair demand at unchanged prices. Pineapples are in fair demand for the season. Spanish onions are getting scarce. Apples of good quality are in fair demand. The condition of the foreign market is still unsatisfactory. We quote: Lemons—Messina, $2.50 to $3.50 for 360's and 300's per box. Oranges—Jamaicas, $3 50 to $4; California navels, $2.75 to $4, according to size; Valencias, 420's, $5 50 to $6; Jumbo's, 420's, $6.50 to $7; ditto, 714's, $6.50 to $7; Sevilles, $2.75 to $3 per box. Bananas, $1.25 to $1.75; cocoanuts, $3.50 to $4 a sack; apples, Spies, $2.75 to $3.50, Baldwins, $2.50 to $2.75, greenings, $2 to $2.50 a barrel; Russets, $1.75 to $2.50; Malaga grapes, $5 to $7 per keg; domestic onions, 60 to 65c. per bag; Spanish onions, 60c. per small crate; pineapples, 22 to 30c.; sweet potatoes, $3 to $3.25 per bbl.; cranberries, $5 to $8 per bbl., and $2.50 to $3 per case, according to quality; hickory nuts, $1.50 to $1.75 per bush.

BUTTER AND CHEESE.

BUTTER—The receipts are still light, and prices are firm at quotations. Of good butter there is not enough to supply the demand. Some enquiries from the east are reported this week. We quote: Early summer dairy store packed, 8 to 12c; good to choice fresh packed, 15 to 16c.; large rolls, fresh, 15 to 16c.; dairy pound prints, 15 to 18c. Fresh creamery—Tubs, 19 to 20c.; do., pound prints, 21 to 22c.

CHEESE—The demand is light, with prices local unchanged. We quote; Summer make, 8½ to 9c.; September and October, 9½ to 10½c.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

BEANS—More beans are being offered than are wanted, and prices are easy, and range all the way from 90c to $1 per bushel for ordinary in a jobbing way.

DRIED APPLES—The market is dull and weak; 3¾ to 4c. appears to be the idea f.o.b. outside, while wholesalers are willing to accept about these same figures from retailers. The very outside figure obtainable appears to be 4½c.

EVAPORATED APPLES—Are quiet. Holders are still asking 6c. f.o b., and the jobbing price ranges from 6½ to 7c.

EGGS—The market was much higher the end of last week, as high as 18c. being commonly obtained for new laid, while we hear of 1c. more than that being paid. This week, however, receipts have been more liberal, and prices are back to where they were at time of last review. There are practically no cold-stored eggs left on the market. We quote: New laid, 16 to 17c.; pickled, 11 to 13c.

HONEY—Demand continues light, and prices unchanged. We quote as follows Strained, clover, 9 to 10c.; dark, 4½ to 5c.; comb, clover, $1.80 per dozen; dark, 80c. per dozen.

POULTRY—There is scarcely anything arriving, and prices are nominal. We quote: Turkeys, 9 to 12c.; geese, 7 to 8c.; chickens, 40 to 60c.; ducks, 60 to 90c.

POTATOES—The market continues dull at 18c. on track, and 25c. out of store.

MAPLE PRODUCTS—Demand is light.

SALT.

The demand for carload lots is not as good as it was a week ago. Parces are as before. We quote at Toronto : In carload lots, $1 per barrel, and 60c. per sack; in less than carload lots, $1.05 per barrel and 65c. per sack. At the wells we quote : F.O.B. barrels, 70c.; sacks 50c. for points west of Toronto, and 45c. for Toronto and points east of Toronto.

SEEDS.

Receipts continue fair and prices are unchanged. Alsike, unchanged, at $4 50 to $7 per 100 lbs. Red clover, firm, at $7.50 to $8.33 per 100 lbs., and timothy, $3.75 to $4.50 per cental.

HIDES, SKINS AND WOOL.

HIDES—Unchanged, with moderate demand. Dealers pay 5c. for No. 1, 4c. for No. 2, 3c. for No. 3. Cured hides quoted at 6c.

CALFSKINS—6c. for No. 1 and 5c. for No. 2. Sheepskins are firm at 90c. to $1.

WOOL—Trade quiet. Fleece nominal at 21 to 22c., and rejections 17 to 18c. Pulled supers are 20¼ to 21c., and extras 22½ to 23c.

PETROLEUM.

Trade continues fairly good with prices unchanged. We quote in 1 to 10 bbl. lots, imperial gallon, Toronto : Canadian, 16½c.; carbon safety, 18c.; Canadian water white, 18c.; American water white, 21c.; Pratt's astral, 22c.

MARKET NOTES.

California 3-crown loose muscatels are ½c. per lb. dearer on the Coast.

California prunes are practically easier.

British pure cane sugar is in stock on the local market.

Washington navel oranges are dearer on the Coast, and Valencia oranges are dearer in Liverpool.

A cable to P. L. Mason & Co. from Malaga intimates that there are no Valencia raisins left in Denia. A cable to the same firm states that stocks of Bordeaux and Marbot walnuts are exhausted.

QUEBEC MARKETS.

MONTREAL, March 12, 1896.

GROCERIES.

THE fine weather that inaugurated the present week led to some improvement in the local jobbing enquiry, but the increase in the volume of trade on this account was small. In fact, buyers generally, both large and small, manifest a determination to get along with as little as possible until the spring freights. There has been no radical change in values. The strength of raw sugar continues, despite attempts to manipulate a bear turn, but local refineries have not altered their rates. The same is the case with both syrups and molasses, which have been advanced outside, but are being jobbed out from stock by local wholesalers at the old rates, and the latter show no anxiety about future supplies, though it is generally believed that their stocks are light. Jobbing enquiry for tea is fair, but there is no hurry shown by importers to place spring credits. In provisions another decline has transpired on pork, while fish and staple lines of canned fish and vegetables have encountered the usual Lenten enquiry.

SUGAR.

The situation of the sugar market is without change, demand being of a limited character from first hands, but jobbers note a rather better enquiry locally. Refiners' and jobbers' prices here are as firm as ever, but it is claimed that western wholesale houses are selling at refiners' prices in an effort to induce demand. The raw market continues firm, despite the attempts at manipulation on beet at London. In New York the tone is firm, with nothing for sale under the basis of 4⅛c. for centrifugal testing 96 degrees. Here the price of refined is firm at 4⅞c. for granulated, and yellows, 3¾ to 4⅜c., as to grade.

SYRUPS.

There has been a fairly active demand for syrups in small lots for prompt delivery locally, and also for future shipment. Prices are firmly maintained at 1¾c. for ordinary and 2½ to 3c. for bright goods.

MOLASSES.

The molasses market continues quiet in a jobbing way, the marked strength at primary markets having no influence whatever on local jobbers, who are filling orders steadily at the old range. Demand in a jobbing sense is fair, and stocks are small, which makes the indifference of jobbing holders all the more remarkable. There is only one lot of 500 puncheons of Porto Rico in first hands here, and when this is cleaned up, the market will be bare, and to lay down any new stock from New York means the payment of much higher prices, the advance on that market having been already referred to. In a jobbing way prices are : Barbadoes, 36 to 37c. ; Porto Rico, 34 to 35c., and New Orleans, 22½ to 35c.

RICE.

The rice market rules steady, with a fair amount of business doing for the season. We quote : Japan standard, $4.25 to $4.40; crystal Japan, $4.75 to $5 ; standard B., $3.45 ; English style, $3.30; Patna, $4.25 to $5, and Carolina, $6.50 to $7.50.

SPICES.

A fair seasonable trade is noted in spices, demand being fair for small lots. We quote: Pure black pepper, 10 to 12c.; pure white, 15 to 22c.; pure Jamaica ginger, 23 to 25c.; cloves, 15 to 20c.; pure mixed spice, 25 to 30c.; cream of tartar, French, 25 to 27c. ; ditto, best, 28 to 30c. per lb.; allspice, 12 to 15c.

COFFEE.

Business in coffee continues as dull as ever, and outside of a few small lots of Rio and Maracaibo changing hands, there is nothing doing in bean stock. We quote : Maracaibo, 19 to 21c.; Rio, 16½ to 20c.; Java, 28c.; Jamaica, 20c., and Mocha, 29 to 32c.

TEAS.

The tea market fails entirely in showing any signs of improvement in a wholesale sense, though the jobbing enquiry is rather better than it was. Jobbers seem to think that they have enough to last them over until the appearance of the new crop on the market, and importers state that the demand is slow. There is no spirit in the trade in New York either, it would appear. We quote : Young Hysons, 10 to 18c. for low grades, 24 to 27c. for mediums, and 30 to 45 for high grades ; China Congous, 11½ to 18c. for mediums, and 25 to 55c. for high grades ; Japans, 12 to 20c. for mediums, 28 to 35c. for high grades ; Indians and Ceylons, 18 to 22c. for mediums and 30 to 65c. for high grades.

DRIED FRUIT.

The week has been rather quiet in dried fruit, as dealers have supplied themselves for the time being. This is the case with California raisins, the tone of which is firm, despite the offers of 2-crown fruit made this week. We quote : 4-crown, 6¾ to 7c., 3-crown, 5½ to 6c., and 2-crown, 4½ to 5c.

Valencia raisins have also ruled quiet during the week, but prices are unchanged, except that some lower grade off-stalk are jobbing out at 3¾c., while jobbers have closed out small lines of layers at 6c. We quote: Ordinary off-stalk, 3¾ to 4¼c.; fine, 4½ to 5c. ; selected, 5½ to 5¾c., and layers, 6 to 7c., as to grade.

Sultanas are quiet and unchanged at 6 to 6¼c.

TORONTO - - ONTARIO

Currant stocks in second hands are steadily diminishing, and prices are unchanged. Barrels, 4c.; half-barrels, 4¼c., and cases, 4½ to 5½c., as to grade.

There is little change in prunes except that receipts of California stock have come to hand, and have been selling at slightly lower rates in a jobbing way. French and Austrian are steady. We quote: French, 4 to 5½c.; Bosnia, 6 to 6½c., and California, 8 to 12c.

The fig market is quiet and unchanged. We quote: Bags, 4c.; ordinary boxes, 8½ to 9c., and fancy, 12 to 14c.

Dates range quiet from 4 to 4½c.

NUTS.

There is no change in nuts, which job out steadily. We quote: Grenoble walnuts, 11½ to 12½c.; filberts, 7½ to 8c.; Tarragona almonds, 11½ to 12c.; pecans, 8 to 12c., and shelled walnuts, 15 to 19c.

CANNED GOODS.

The canned goods market has been moderately active in a jobbing way for fish, vegetables and fruit. We quote: Tomatoes, 75 to 85c.; corn, 75 to 85c.; peas, 95c. to $1 for ordinary; sifted select, $1.10; extra sifted, $1.45 to $1.50; peaches, $2.90 to $3 for 3's, $1.90 to $2 for 2's; raspberries, $1.40 to $2; strawberries, $2 to $2.45, according to brand and quality; blackberries, $1.90 to $2.20; cherries, $2 40 to $2.45; apples, 3's, 80 to 90c.; gallons, $1.90 to $2.25; salmon, "Horseshoe," $1.35 to $1.40; "Maple Leaf," $1.25; "Lion," $1.25 to $1.40; Lowe Inlet, $1.25 to $1.30, in tall tins; cohoes, $1.05 to $1.15; canned mackerel, $1.10 to $1.20; lobsters, $1.80 to $2.10, for tall tins; flats, $2.35 to $2.65; half tins, $1.45 to $1.50; Canadian canned beef, 1's, $1.35 to $1 45; 2's, $2.25 to $2.35; 6's, $7.50 to $8; 14's, $15 to $16.50.

GREEN FRUIT.

The market for green fruit has ruled steady and unchanged since our last report. We quote: Oranges—Valencias, 420's, $4., and 714's, $4.25. Lemons, $2 to $3. Grapes, $5 to $6 per keg. Cranberries, $8.50 to $10 per barrel. Apples, $2 to $4 per barrel. Dried do. 4c. Evaporated do., 6 to 7c. Spanish onions, 40c. per crate. Pineapples, 15 to 30c. as to size.

FISH.

There has been a fair trade doing in fish of all kinds, and prices generally are steady, what changes there were being of a minor nature. We quote: Fresh haddock, 3½ to 4c. per lb.; smelts 2 to 4c.; fresh frozen B. C. salmon, 8 to 9c.; Manitoba whitefish, 7c.; dore, 7c.; trout, 7c.; tommycods, $1.50 to $1.60 per bbl. Choice pickled Labrador herrings, $5.25; No. 1 N.S., $3 to $4; No. 1 green cod, $5.00; No. 2, $3.50; No. 1 haddock, $3; No. 1 large codfish, $6; No. 1 lake trout, $4 to $4.25; B.C. salmon, $10.50; No. 2 Labrador salmon, $13; No. 1 mackerel, $18.50; Loch Fyne herrings, 85c. per keg, and $11 per bbl.; No. 1 sardines, $4 50; No. 1 dried cod, $4 to $4.25; boneless cod, 6c. per lb.; boneless fish, 3¼c.; boneless haddock, 5c.; shredded, 11c.; haddies, 7 to 7½c. per lb.; bloaters, 90c. to $1 per box, and smoked herrings, 8 to 10c. per lb.

PROVISIONS.

The chief item in the provision market was a further shading of 50c. in the price of pork, which, however, at this writing is steady at the decline. We quote: Canadian short cut, clear, $13.50 to $14; Canadian short cut, mess, $14 to $14.50; hams, city cured, per lb., 9 to 10c.; lard, Canadian, in pails, 8c.; bacon, per lb., 9 to 10c.; lard, com. refined, per lb., 6¼c.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

EGGS—There has been another decline in both fresh and limed eggs since last writing consequent upon increased receipts of the former. We quote: Fresh, 17 to 18c.; Montreal limed, 9½ to 10c.; Western limed, 8½ to 9c., and refrigerator stock, 7½ to 8½c. per doz.

BEANS—The demand for beans continues slow and market is dull, at $1 to $1.05 for car lots, and small quantities at $1.10 to $1.20.

POTATOES—The market for potatoes is quiet, sales being principally in small lots. We quote: Car lots, on track, 30 to 32c. per bag, and in small quantities, 35 to 40c.

ONIONS—Several carloads of American onions have been offering here at $1.75 per large sack. We quote, however, red, $2.50 per bbl., and yellow, $1.60 to $2 per bbl.

FLOUR AND MEAL.

The flour market was quiet and unchanged during the week. We quote: Winter wheat, $4 35 to $4.40; spring wheat, patents, $4.25; straight roller, $4 to $4.10; straight roller, bags, $1.95 to $2; extra, bags, $1.75 to $1.85; Manitoba strong bakers', $4.

Oatmeal continues quiet. We quote: Standard, barrels, $3 to $3.10; granulated, barrels, $3.10 to $3.20; rolled oats, barrels, $3 to $3.10; rolled wheat, per 100 lbs., $2.40 to $2.50.

A fairly active trade is doing in feed, and prices rule steady. We quote: Bran, $14 to $15; shorts, $15 to $16; mouillie, $19 to $20.

CHEESE AND BUTTER.

The butter market was quiet and steady to-day. Choice parcels of creamery are not plentiful, and, as a result, command full figures, 22c. being easily obtainable; but goods can be had considerably below that figure, sales at 20c. being noted in some cases. Townships dairy jobs out at 18 to 19c., and a few western rolls are selling around 14c.

The chief item in cheese since our last has been the steady drop in the public cable quotation, which now stands at 42s. 6d., the lowest figure at this date for the past seven years. This is a clean drop of one shilling since the first of the month. Some shippers here attribute the steady decline of the past week, at Liverpool, to the fact that there have been two large lines of summer cheese consigned to that port lately, and that it has been offered on the market for what it will fetch. At any rate, despite the change, private cables from the other side, Tuesday morning, supplemented the more cheerful advices noted, reporting an undertone of steadiness. On spot there is little to note, for the very good reason that the quantity of cheese left there is not large. The only transaction that was spoken of was a line of 700 July goods, which were closed up at 7c. The buyer of this lot claimed that they were prime stock, but, on the other hand, more than one dealer as positively asserted that the lot in question had been called over twice, and that they did not offer a fair criterion of the market as regards value. In fact, values continue nominal. The position of the public cable at this date in previous years may be interesting, in view of its present low position. It was as follows:

GRAND MOGUL TEA COMPETITION

You've heard about the grand Mogul,
On India's coral strand,
The greatest of all eastern kings,
In that celestial land.

This potentate as history shows,
In various things excelled—
As for his judgment and good taste
Was in great honor held.

And chief among his virtues was
The certain way that he
Could tell the best and purest of
The different brands of tea.

When traveling men to Delhi came—
This monarch would command
That none should come within its gates,
Except they brought his brand.

And thus it came that only one
Could stand the regal test—
And that the one the Mogul chose—
Because it was the best.

Now, when the nations far and near
Had heard the king's decree:
They all refused inferior goods—
And took "Grand Mogul" Tea.

They found no poisonous tannin there,
Nutritious theine instead—
And vendors of inferior grades
Soon found their business dead.

And people bought the very best
And gave up drinking frauds
And all pronounced "Grand Mogul" Tea
"The nectar of the Gods!"

For purity and healthfulness
Its equal cannot be found,
And then its price—so very low—
But Fifty Cents a Pound!

Its use promotes both health and wealth,
It soothes the tired brain—
The young increasing vigor get
And the old grow young again.

Then do not fly to wine or ruin,
If feeling sad or dull,
Imbibe the King of Teas instead—
The cheering "Grand Mogul!"

MONTREAL NOTES.

David Brown, Canadian manager for Jos. Tetley & Son, left for Toronto and the towns between on Tuesday evening. He will call on his friends and takes this opportunity of advising them through THE CANADIAN GROCER.

Leonard Bros. have just turned into warehouse a carload of choice No. 1 Cape Breton herrings. These fish are scarce on this market at present.

Rose & Laflamme note continued strength in the tenor of their advices from both Barbadoes and Porto Rico on molasses.

Laporte, Martin & Cie. are carrying an unusually large assortment of dried fruits. They have had quite a run on them for the local Lenten demand. They are still in a position to execute orders for all descriptions of this kind promptly.

Leonard Bros. have just received two carloads of fresh frozen Halifax herring. These fish show exceptionally good quality.

R. Greig & Co. will have a complete line of samples in English and continental goods in the course of a few days, which they will be pleased to show their friends when in the city.

Laporte, Martin & Cie. are jobbing out a large quantity of canned goods. They are offering this stock at close figures, and have had some heavy sales.

W. H. Dunn, manufacturers' agent, has been appointed agent for Seely's extracts, which are made in Windsor. He will carry a full stock in Montreal.

R. Greig, of R. Greig & Co., when in England submitted samples of their "Crown Brand" essences to the leading manufacturers of these goods, who pronounced them superior to anything in the English market, and the indications are that a large business with England will result.

NEW BRUNSWICK MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE CANADIAN GROCER.

ST. JOHN, N.B., March 12, 1896.

THE week has only been a fair one as far as general business is concerned. The roads through the country are reported very bad, and that always affects trade. There are many who seem to fear that the very small quantity of snow there is will so affect the freshet that it will be very difficult getting logs out this spring. But although there appears some ground for this idea, such things have been said before, and after all there have been lots of logs, and the same is likely to be true again. It is, of course, a matter of great importance to us. Another matter that is important to us is freights; they are very low for the season. Coast business as well as other collections are reported harder to make, not only in the city, but through the country, and quite a number of full and part renewals are reported, with a quiet demand for goods. In spices nutmegs rule low, with other lines firm. Cream of tartar shows little, if any, change, being still high. No great changes are reported in values.

OIL—There is but light business. While prices are firm there has been no change. Cod oil continues scarce. We quote: American, 23¼c.; best Canadian, 21½c; prime, 19c.; no charge for barrel.

SALT—The spring demand, though not yet here, is beginning to have attention, and two cargoes are contracted for to come by sailer. It will be, however, a month before they arrive. Stocks here are fully equal to demand and prices easy. We quote: Coarse, 50 to 55c.; fine factory-filled, 95c. to $1.10; 5-lb. bags, $3.25 per bbl.; 10-lb. bags, $3 per bbl.; 20-lb. boxes, 20c.; 10-lb. boxes, 12c.; cartoons, $1.90 to $2 per doz.; dairy, bulk, $2.80 per bbl.; cheese, bulk, $2.70 per bbl.

CANNED GOODS—Although peas are getting quite low as regard stocks held, some prices fully as low as the stocks are reported. In all lines there is a fair movement. We quote clams, for which a better demand is noticed, rather lower. In oysters, prices are held firm, and, at present prices, packers say there is no profit if full weight is given. There is some inquiry for 4 and 8-oz. goods, but few, if any, packers are offering. Canadian packers have advanced corned beef, 2 lbs., 10c. If there is any change in American, it is rather lower. The Canadian packers are doing more business than before, their price being so much lower than the other. We quote: Corn, 85 to 90c.; peas, 90 to 95c.; tomatoes, 90 to 95c.; corned beef, 2-lb. tins, $2.50 to $2.65; 1-lb. tins, $1.50 to $1.60; oysters, 2's, $2 to $2.25; 1's, $1.60 to $1.65; peaches, 3's, $2.85 to $2.90; 2's, $1.90; lobsters, $1.75 to $2; haddies, $1.40; salmon, $1 35 to $1.50; flat, $1.75; clams, $5 for 4 doz.; chowder, $3 for 2 doz.; scallops, $5.50 for 4 doz.; Digby chickens, $1; pineapples, $2 to $2.35; kippered herring, $1.10; American peaches, $2.40.

GREEN FRUIT—We quote apples higher, though quality must be good to bring the extra price. Stock is rather better than last week. In California oranges there are light stocks, with rather better demand. Valencias continue to move in large quantities; price is still low, but tending upward. Lemons are still quoted at low prices. Pines show light sales. Bananas also are small movement. We quote: Valencia oranges, $4.25 to $4.50; lemons, $2.75 to $3.25; pippins and winter fruit, $2 to $4; native cranberries, $8 per bbl.; Cape Cod ditto., $10 to $12 per bbl.; California oranges, $3.50 to $4 50.; pineapples, $2 to $3 per doz.; bananas, $2 to $2.50 per bunch.

DRIED FRUIT—In California evaporated peaches and dried prunes a fair trade is being done; quantities moving are, however, not large. The goods, as to quality, give good satisfaction. In raisins and currants there is little doing. The principal movement is in California loose muscatels and pound cartoons. Market is stocked with evaporated, and prices are easy. In dried, the market is dull. Canadian are offered very low and Nova Scotia look in vain for buyers. Last year at this season they sold freely for export, but now there is no demand. American onions are being brought in quite freely. We quote as follows: Valencias, 4½ to 5c.; figs, 10 to 12c.; 4-crown Cal. L. M. raisins, 6 to 7c.; 3-crown Cal. L. M. raisins, 5 to 6c.; keg prunes, 4c.; boxes, 4¾ to 6c.; Cal. L. L. raisins, $1.50 to $1.75; currants, bbls., 4 to 4½c.; half-cases, 4¼ to 4¾c.; evaporated apples, 7 to 7½c.; dried apples. 5 to 6c.; dates, 4½ to 5c.; California evaporated peaches, 12 to 13c.; do. apricots, 12 to 14c.; do. pears, 12 to 13c.; California prunes, 6½ to 10c.; clean currants, bulk 5½ to 6½c.; 1-lb. cartoons, 7 to 7½c.; onions, $2.25 to $2.50 per bbl.; cocoanuts, $4 to $4.50 per 100.; Valencia layers, 5½ to 6c.

DAIRY PRODUCE—As noted last week, eggs are firm and at present writing are very scarce. Much less complaint is being heard as regards quality. In butter, while medium grades continue plentiful and dull, there is a fair demand for best goods. Less Canadian is seen than usual, there being no demand. Cheese shows no improvement. Stocks are not large. We quote: Cheese, 9 to 9½c.; butter, 16 to 18c.; eggs, 18c.; fresh creamery prints, 22 to 24c.; tubs, 20 to 22c

MOLASSES—There are but light stocks. Demand is, however, lighter than is usual at this season. There is good movement in small packages. Some Porto Rico was offered to the trade at 33c., direct shipment. Some new Barbadoes is expected next week by steamer, but it is thought quantity will be small. Reports favor high prices. Stock of best grade syrup is light and further supply hard to get. Prices tend upward, We quote: Barbadoes, 31 to 33c.; St. Croix, 28 to 30c.; Porto Rico, 34 to 36c.; syrup, 35 to 38c.; New Orleans, bbls., 35 to 36c.

SUGAR—There is a fair movement. Prices during the week shows no change. We quote: Granulated, 4¾ to 4⅞c.; yellow, 4 to 4¼c.; Paris lump, 5¼ to 5½c.; powdered, 5¼ to 5½c.

FISH—In Bay herring stocks are very light. The fact that fish have been so scarce has increased the demand. Other grades of pickled herring are, however, low priced, such as Shelborne and Canso, and sell freely. A few fresh haddock were to hand during the week. Fresh herring are nil; if the weather were not so open Newfoundland herring would have been imported. One small cargo that arrived, and which were held high, are still unsold. It does not do to push the market too hard. In smoked, though shipments to the West Indies continue quite large, the market is very dull. Shad are scarce. In dry there is a good business at firm prices. Boneless also shows good demand. Haddies and bloaters are scarce, particularly bloaters. We quote: Lobsters, 4c. each; frozen herring, 80c. to

72 St. Peter Street . . . MONTREAL

$1 per 100; frozen cod and haddock, 3 to 3¼c.; bloaters, 60c.; haddies, 5½c.; Medium cod, $3 45 to $3 50; large, $3.60 to $3.75; small, $2.35 to $2.50; pollock, $1.25 to $1.50; bay herring, $1.35 to $1.50; Grand Manan, $1.35 to $1.50; ripplings, $1.65 to $1.70; Quoddy River, $2.75 to $3; smoked, 5 to 5½c.; shad, half-bbl., pickled, $4.50 to $5; Canso, $4; halfs, $2.25; Shelburne, $2.75 to $3 per bbl.; No. No. 2, $2 35.

PROVISIONS—Pork is rather easier and Canadian packers are lower, following American prices. Local packers are putting pork in half-barrels. Beef is firm. In smoked meats there is fair demand, but nothing large, with price hardly as firm as was expected. We quote: Domestic mess pork, $14 to $14.25; American, $14 to $14.50; clear pork, $15.50 to $16; beef, $13 to $14; pure lard, 8¾ to 9c.; compound lard, 8c.; rolls, 8 to 8½c.; hams, 10½ to 12c.

FLOUR FEED AND MEAL—Markets show no change during the week, but feeling is firm and many look for higher prices. Oatmeal is firm. Cornmeal is selling very freely, which affects the feed market. In hay no large quantity is moving here and prices are firm. Beans, of which a large stock is held, are easy, but show no change. In seed buyers still hold off. In timothy seed the American prices are still below the Canadian, although some effort has been made to meet them. In Yellow-Eye beans there is a steady demand; quite large quantities are grown here and in Nova Scotia. We quote as follows: Manitoba, $4.70 to $4 80; best Ontario, $4 60 to $4.65; medium, $4 45 to $4.50; oatmeal, $3 40 to $3 50; cornmeal, $2.20 to $2.30; hand-picked beans, $1.20 to $1 25; prime, $1.10 to $1.15; split peas, $3.70; pot barley, $4.10 to $4.25; hay, $12 to $13; oats, 35 to 36c.; middlings, $19 to $20 on track; bran, $18.; buckwheat meal, domestic, $1.25 to $1.30; western, $1.75 to $2; Yellow-Eye beans, $1.75 to $1.85.

ST. JOHN NOTES.

C. & E. Macmichael received a shipment of "Wheat Germ" meal this week.

Thomas Dean is offering 20 cents on the dollar. Liabilities about $5,000.

Northrup & Co. find an increased demand for Golden finnan haddies.

Four hundred and sixteen American cattle were reported one day last week at the Custom House for export.

There is to be a daily mail service by steamer to Digby in the future.

Springhill, N.S., is organizing a Board of Trade.

Jardine & Co. are in receipt of a shipment of fancy evaporated peaches, 25-lb. boxes.

Hamilton's fine fruit tablets are finding a large demand. The Canadian Drug Co. gave an order for 250 bottles this week.

John Seely holds in stock about the only pickled shad in this market. He guarantees all his fish.

Both the direct New York and Boston steamers were late this week. It was a great inconvenience to importers, as there was but one steamer due. Commencing on the 9th, there will be two steamers from Boston per week.

Passengers for the United States can now have their baggage examined here before starting, and if they intend going to Europe via American ports, baggage can be forwarded in bond, the United States Government having established a branch Customs House here.

It is not often a commercial traveler is an evangelist. But Mr. Rautenburg, representing Park, Blackwell & Co., is an exception. Last week he addressed a number of large meetings here with good results.

It is expected next season a large business will be done with the English market in chopped hay. Already a large company is being formed in Amherst with this in view.

HALIFAX TRADE GOSSIP.

A SLIGHT improvement in business is noted this week, which may continue from this out.

The indications point to a slightly easier flour market.

Cornmeal and feeds are quiet.

Hay is quiet.

The local fish market shows signs of great improvement. Hard cured Jamaica and Brazilian stocks are specially firm and holders look for an immediate advance as present stocks are small, with no prospect of replenishing them before June or July. Bank or Bay cured are not moving as lively as shippers would like.

There is good enquiry for salt herrings from the States, but this article still remains in over supply, and holders are losing heavily. Grocery cod are scarce.

Smoked herrings continue low and neglected. Shore cod is quoted at $3 to $4 for prime; large Bank at $3 to $3.20; Bay of Islands split herrings, $1; Labrador, No. 1, $4; mackerel, No. 1, $12; No. 3, fat, $14; No. 2, $16.

There is no change in the sugar market. Quotations are: Porto Rico, 3½c.; refined cut loaf, 6½c.; granulated, 4⅞ to 5c.; standard "A," 4½c.; yellow extra "C," 3⅞c.

Small consignments of molasses have been received. Geo. E. Boak received 126 puncheons from Arroyo on Monday. There have been some enquiries from Quebec and Newfoundland, but no sales made of note. Prices are: Antigua, 28c.; Porto Rico, 34 to 36c.; Trinidad, 28c.; Barbadoes, 32c.; Demerara, "MR" brand, 39c.; St. Kitts, 28c.

Provisions remain low, and are in over supply. P.E.I. potatoes can be had all the way from 22 to 27c., according to size of purchase. Nova Scotia potatoes command 2c. more. P.E.I. oats are worth from 34 to 36c.; Nova Scotia, 33 to 35c., and Canadian, 32 to 34c.

The tea market is quiet. Congous, fair to good, are quoted at 16 to 20c.; choice at 24 to 25c., and extra at 27 to 28c. Choice Souchong is worth 25 to 28c., and Oolong, 33 to 34c.

The provision market is extremely quiet, especially in fresh meats. There is a large quantity of Canadian beef offering here, which, by the way, constitutes our sole supply now, at 5½ to 6c., landed here. Native beef seems to have about dropped out of the market, or until Canadian ceases to come in, which will not be until the last of May. A carload of "blizzard beef" sold at from 2 to 5½c. It was very poor stock, principally lean cows.

A carload of Montreal sheep and lambs sold in lots of from 2½ to 4½c.

Canadian pork is quoted this week at $5.75.

There is a fair demand for veal at 5c.

Poultry is scarce, especially fowls and chickens, the supply not being nearly up to the demand. Canadian turkeys sell at 12c. landed here.

Eggs remain scarce. The quotation this week is from 18 to 19c.

The open weather is favorable to the green fruit trade, and considerable activity is noted this week. The consignments from Boston on Monday were not heavy.

There is a good supply of Valencia, Denia and California navel oranges, and Jamaicas are expected on the steamer now due. Prices have somewhat advanced, Valencias being quoted at $6, Denias at $7 and California navels at $3.50 to $4.

Lemons remain in plentiful supply and at low prices for this season. Fancy stock is quoted at $3.50.

Lots of bananas are now coming in and sell at from $2.25 to $2.50 for Goldenvale stock.

The market is about cleaned up of apples. The steamer for Liverpool on Saturday last took about the last from the Annapolis valley. Choice stocks range from $3 to $4.

Choice cocoanuts, fresh, good stock, sell at $4.50 per 100.

Silver skin onions, extra fancy stock, sell at 2 to 2¼c. per lb.

Pictou has a new tobacco factory, run by McDonald & Co.

There is nothing to note in dried fruit.

Thomas Gillan has bought out Charles Cantley's grocery business at New Glasgow.

The Milling Co. at New Glasgow are turning out excellent flour.

N. C. Bigelow, of Lower Stewiacke, has assigned. Mr. Bigelow has carried on a general business there for over 12 years, and is said to have done from $30,000 to $40,000 worth of business each year. In 1891 he lost his mill by fire. Previous to that he was reported to be worth $12,000. The mill was built again in 1892. The same year the mill was partially burned, and also the store and stock, entailing a loss of about $5,000. Mr. Bigelow alleges that he lost $1,000 last year by parties failing to pay for their lumber. On account of some of their creditors coming down on him they have assigned to R. J. Pollock, of Lower Stewiacke, who will convert everything into cash for the benefit of the creditors. It is Mr. Bigelow's intention to call a meeting of his creditors and see what arrangements can be made with them. He says he is not going to leave the country, but shall start business again, having been offered backing by reliable parties if satisfactory arrangements can be made with his creditors.

Halifax is getting ready for a civic election. There is one grocer in the field, D. H. Campbell, who offers for Ward 2. Ald. Creighton, another grocer, seeks re-election in Ward 6.

WOODENWARE MEN MEET.

The quarterly meeting of the Canadian Woodenware Association was held in Toronto on Wednesday. The question of the competition of the prison-made product of the Dorchester Penitentiary was referred to, and some strong feelings are understood to have been expressed with reference thereto. Nothing was decided upon regarding prices, and an adjournment was made pending the receipt of reports from selling agents throughout the country as to the prospects for spring trade. From what THE CANADIAN GROCER can gather there does not appear to be any prospect of lower prices, as the manufacturers are now turning out their products at figures which are anything but satisfactory.

PERSONAL MENTION.

R. Anderson, of Guelph, was in Toronto on Monday and gave THE CANADIAN GROCER a call.

Mr. Muat-Corrie, secretary of the Toronto Retail Grocers' Association, is wearing a big smile these days. It is a girl, and the second one at that. Congratulations.

Mr. James McLauchlan, of James McLauchlan & Son, Owen Sound, was in Toronto this week.

W. B. Hogarth, Tilsonburg, favored THE CANADIAN GROCER with a call on Tuesday. He reports business at home in a healthy condition. The merchants and professional men of Tilsonburg have re-organized their Board of Trade. They organized four years ago, but disbanded after two or three years' work.

Mr. N. W. Rowley, secretary-treasurer of the E. B. Eddy Co., Hull, was in Toronto on Wednesday and Thursday.

BILL RESPECTING ASSIGNMENTS.

The Attorney-General of Ontario has introduced a bill as to certain proceedings under the Act respecting assignments and references by insolvent persons. The Attorney-General makes provision for filing assignments in the districts of Algoma, Muskoka, Rainy River, Thunder Bay, Manitoulin and Nipissing. The largest dividend possible is to be paid by the assignee within twelve months after the assignment and every six months thereafter. The inspector is not to have any allowance beyond necessary disbursements without the consent of the creditors, and then not more than $4 per day and expenses. It provides for the examination of clerks, agents, etc., of the assignor, and for compelling persons having any statement as to the affairs of the insolvent to disclose the same.

Sir Oliver Mowat, in introducing this bill [illegible] but that so many suggestions had been made since the first measure was introduced that he had drafted this bill as a substitute bill.

THE CUTTER "TUMBLED."

The absurdity and futility of price wars between retail grocers was fully demonstrated in a South Dakota town recently. A local grocer cut the price of sugar, offering twenty pounds for a dollar. Two of his competitors tried an old trick, and, through the aid of confederates, bought all the sugar he had to offer, the deal affording them a fair profit. It happened that the cutter "tumbled" to the scheme, and in order to get even he filled a number of 20 lb. bags with salt, putting a thin layer of sugar at each end, and succeeded in palming off a number of them on his rivals before his trick was discovered. Discovery was made when the two anti-cutters sold some of the bags they had purchased, and then the "price war," if such it can be called, came to a sudden end.

AN OLD TEAMSTER'S MAXIMS.

As driving a horse is something that almost everyone has to do, even in this day of electricity and steam and bicycles, says Youth's Companion, the proper way to drive a horse is a matter of universal interest, and the following maxims, which are the work of an old driver, will be found good for men as well as for the animals :

The more whip, the less horsemanship.

Bad tempered driver—bad tempered team.

Axle-grease modifies the grain bill.

There are more balky drivers than balky horses.

The golden rule applies to horses as much as it does to men.

Whips, like emetics, are to be used very seldom.

A horse's power is proportionate to his food.

Five cents invested in sugar is better than a dollar invested in whips.

He who cannot govern himself cannot govern horses.

HINTS TO BUYERS.

JOHN SLOAN & CO. report that the demand for their Sangalla package tea is steadily increasing.

Davidson & Hay offer California silver prunes.

The Ireland National Food Co. reports demand good for buckwheat flour.

Smith & Keighley are in receipt of a shipment of Grenoble walnuts.

Davidson & Hay have in stock a full range of California prunes.

During Lent the Eby, Blain Co, Ltd., are offering fish of all kinds at very low figures.

The sale of "Kurma" tea last week trebled itself over the corresponding week last year.

Another carload of bright sugar syrup in half-barrels arrived this week for Davidson & Hay.

John Sloan & Co. have in stock a shipment of Crosse & Blackwell's orange marmalade in patent one-pound glass jars.

Davidson & Hay report a large sale of Demouriez French coffee put up in 1-lb. glass jars.

F. W. Fearman, Hamilton, says that the sale of meats and lard is more than usually satisfactory for the Lenten season.

T. Kinnear & Co. have a nice line of Acadia syrup in half-barrels, "Pearl" syrup in barrels and half-barrels, and New Orleans molasses.

The Eby, Blain Co. report a large and increasing demand for California evaporated fruits. They still have a large and well-assorted stock of them.

W. H. Gillard & Co. are offering some fine sifted Young Hysons and Moyune Young Hysons, in stock and to arrive shortly.

T. A. Lytle & Co. are booking order for vinegars that are surprisingly large for the season of the year and speak well for the goods they handle.

This season there are numerous varieties of California evaporated peaches offered to the trade, but W. H. Gillard & Co. wish to advise their friends that the grades they carry comprise nothing but really first-class fruit; no 1894 crop fruit kept.

The firm of Lucas, Steele & Bristol are offering exceptional value in molasses. The goods are specially selected for their superior baking qualities.

The Pure Gold Manufacturing Co. are putting a new brand of coffee on the market. It is contained in a coffee pot, and is named "Parisian." There is one pound of coffee in each pot.

W. H. Gillard & Co. are having an active demand for their genuine Seville orange marmalade, which they state is manufactured from nothing but Redpath's extra standard granulated and the true Seville bitter orange.

"Globe and Beaver" brand crushed Java and Mocha coffee (XTR), controlled by the Eby, Blain Co., Ltd., has grown steadily in public favor. They claim that up to date the sale this year has nearly doubled that of last year.

"Teas of all kinds are showing fine values, and in low grade Young Hysons we never remember seeing them so cheap," report Lucas, Steele & Bristol. "Teas at 10 to 12c. are extraordinary. Our Japans at 12½ to 14c. are moving out fast, also. Buyers appear to appreciate their worth."

DIRECT FRUIT CARGOES.

The Montreal export fruit trade are already commencing to talk about the direct fruit steamers. Nothing definite is known yet regarding them, but it is expected that four steamers will sail direct with fruit cargoes from the Mediteranean for Montreal this spring. In this event probably in the vicinity of 100,000 boxes of fruit will be landed on the Montreal docks this spring.

A GROCERY FAILURE.

A demand of assignment has been made on Pigeon, Gendron & Co., wholesale grocers, St. Paul street, Montreal. The assets consist of stock in trade, such as groceries, liquors, book debts, fixtures, etc., nothing being known yet of what the estate will pay. The liabilities are over $16,000. The largest creditors are J. C. Beauchamp, $7.259; Rogers, Robertson & Co., $792; Masson & Co., $227; T. Doherty & Co., $419; National Bank, $4,000, and Jas. C. Beauchamp, $812.

Montreal, Que., March 7.—The balance sheet and statements of the Canadian Pacific Railway of the results of working for 1895 have been issued preparatory to the annual report to be submitted to the annual meeting on April 1st. The gross earnings for the year were $18,941,036 87. The working expenses were $11,460,085.88, and the net earnings were $7,480,950.99.

TORONTO GROCERS' ASSOCIATION.

THE regular monthly meeting of the Toronto Retail Grocers' Association was held in St. George's Hall on Monday night. President White was in the chair, and among those present were the following: Secretary Muat-Corrie, Hon. Secretary Mills, Vice-President Bond, John Butcher, D. W. Clark, T. Clark, F. S. Roberts, F. W. Johnston, W. H. Marmion, B Panter, D. Bell, J. Nolan, J. Davies.

The matter of an excursion some time during the ensuing summer was the first question discussed. After several motions and suggestions had been offered it was decided, on motion of Mr. Roberts, seconded by Mr. Mills, to leave the matter in the hands of the Executive Committee.

The question of fruit inspection was introduced by Mr. Johnston, who suggested that the matter be allowed to drop. It was, however, decided, on motion of Mr. Mills, seconded by Mr. Bond, to continue the agitation in favor of proper inspection of fruit, and the secretary will correspond with the Inland Revenue Department to see what can be done in the premises.

The report of the Executive Committee was submitted by Mr. Mills. It recommended that Secretary Corrie's salary for the ensuing year be $100, with commission for new members; also that the member for Centre Toronto in the House of Commons be waited upon with a view to getting the booths and fruits stands along the Custom House in Yonge street removed. The report was received and adopted.

This committee, nominated by Mr. Bond and seconded by Mr. D. W. Clark, was appointed to wait on Mr. Cockburn, the member for Centre Toronto: President White and Messrs Mills and Johnston.

An effort was made by Mr. Bell to increase the sum of $25, voted at the last meeting for a smoking concert, to $50, but on motion of Messrs. Mills and T. Clark it was decided to leave the matter in abeyance, which practically kills the proposition.

The committee appointed to wait upon the Property Committee of the City Council, regarding pedlars' licenses, reported. They reported that a deputation from the Pedlars' Association was also present, who petitioned that the license fee be reduced to one dollar, on the ground that farmers and market gardeners were exempt from taking out a license. Eventually, the committee reported. Ald. Spence got a motion through authorizing the city to apply to the Ontario Legislature for power to so amend the by-law governing pedlars that a license fee might be imposed upon farmers and market gardeners.

Mr. Mills said the grocers' deputation had urged that the by-law be so amended that pedlars would be forbidden to ply their avocation before a certain hour in the day. It was thought that 1 p. m. would be a suitable hour.

The report was received and adopted.

A letter was read from the secretary of the Retail Grocers' Association of Montreal reciprocating the views expressed in a letter from Hon. Sec. Mills of the Toronto Association regarding the advisability of closer relations between the two organizations.

A letter was also read from E. Sutton, secretary of the London Retail Grocers' Association suggesting the participation in a joint excursion and a three days' business convention.

The Executive Committee will look after the suggestion made by the latter communication, while Mr. Mills was instructed to keep in touch with the Montreal association.

Mr. T. Clark broached the subject of a collecting agency in connection with the association, urging that the present method was not satisfactory. The matter will be discussed at a future meeting.

Mr. Roberts gave notice of motion to the effect that he would ask for an amendment to the by-laws declaring that any motion involving an expenditure of money should require a two-thirds vote to carry.

Mr. Panter deprecated the fact that the members did not pay more attention to the "dead beat" list, and urged that they should amend their ways. "It would be a good idea if each grocer would cut out the names furnished on the list and paste them in a book alphabetically," he declared.

AS THERE ARE . . . .

Horses and Horses

SO THERE ARE . . . .

TEAS and TEAS

There are Teas from CHINA, made on the old principles of cheap labor, manipulated by sweaty, unwashed Mongolians,—

There are Teas from JAPAN, made on slightly more modern principles of labor and cleanliness, teas that are sweet when fresh, but fishy and unsatisfying to the palate at best,—

And there are The Wonderful Teas of Ceylon

British grown, machine-made, clean, flavory, healthful, nourishing, Satisfying—Teas that are a marvel, a revelation, a pride to all growing, handling, selling, consuming them—

They are the Teas that will Rule the World.

THE DEPARTMENTAL STORE EVIL —A REMEDY.

EDITOR CANADIAN GROCER: The great price-cutter, the departmental store, has been the subject of considerable discussion in your columns for some time past. That these enormous retail houses have become a source of great danger to the commercial life of the smaller dealers is admitted by every man engaged in retail business. But they are with us, and we have to fight them by every fair and legitimate means at our disposal. How to do this, and not be unjust, is a problem worthy our most serious consideration.

In Toronto an attempt was made last year, I think, to check the growth of this octopus by levying a special tax on each of the several departments. The measure did not carry, as public opinion is against extra taxation on principle. Besides, how could a muncipality levy a tax on the grocery or any other department of a store because it may happen to be carried on with one or more other branches of trade, and not impose the same tax on the corner grocery shop? If imposed on both, it would only increase the revenue of the city; if imposed only on one class of traders, the party aggrieved would undoubtedly contest its legality, with a strong chance of success.

I have written to suggest a remedy, which is as simple as it would be effective. Boycott the price-cutting store in your private dealings, and have your friends do the same. Do individually what you tried to do collectively. This remedy suggested itself to me during a visit to Toronto and Montreal not long ago. On several occasions pieces of furniture and clothing were shown to me by the wives and daughters of some of my friends, whose husbands are retail merchants, with the remark that they had been purchased at So and So, the great departmental store. In answer to my query as to whether the same goods could not have been purchased in some other store as cheaply, I was told: "I did not go anywhere else to find out." A lady friend, whose husband carries on a retail dry goods store, told me she had bought a jacket at the big store because her husband did not happen to have the goods she wanted in stock at the time. When I remarked to her that she was contributing her share to the success of an institution that would eventually drive her husband, as well as many others, to the wall, she innocently said: "The matter never suggested itself to me in that light." Such cases are not exceptional, they could be cited by the dozens, nay, hundreds.

I have prepared a short table that ought to help to convince my fellow-tradesmen in your city and elsewhere, of our numerical strength and ability to carry the war into Africa if we only had a clever general to lead us in this great battle for a living. Who is the man, or what local association, will take the initiative in organizing a provincial —or better still—a Dominion Retail Merchants' Protective Association that will seriously take up the consideration of this most important question?

The following traders in Toronto are all indirectly suffering in their business by one or more of the price-cutting departmental stores:

Crockery, etc	30
Dairies	200
Dressmakers	650
Druggists	140
Dry goods	90
Express and cartage	200
Fancy goods	100
Flour and feed	75
Fruits, fish, etc	120
Furniture	55
Furs	15
Gents' furnishings	40
Grocers	2,000
Hardware	75
Hats, caps	25
House furnishings	40
Market produce	200
Milliners	70
Pictures and frames	30
Produce dealers	20
Stable fittings	55
Proprietory medicines	60
Provision dealers	95
Stationers	80
Tailors	250
Wooden ware	13
Total	4,788

Or a total of about 5,000. Allowing on an average 5 members to each family, it would give a total of 25,000 persons to start with. Say that we, each of the above merchants, employs two heads of families, and with the same average per family it will give another 50,000 consumers. En passant let me remark that the clerk is even more interested than the merchant of the present day, as the big stores are daily lessening his chances of ever being able to start out for himself at any future day. But this is not all. We must not forget our mutual friend, the landlord, he that owns and rents business stands to small traders in every part of the city. I will guess this class to number 1,000 sufferers. On the basis of calculation as above it will bring the grand aggregate total to 80,000 (eighty thousand) consumers. I ask, Mr. Editor, don't you think that something could be done?

My advice to the owners of business stands of all kinds, to the retailers or distributing community in all branches of trade, is, be sure, as far as possible, that your patronage flows into channels whose tide may return to you some day. Do not help on your own destruction by patronising the large "price cutters." It is the inherent right of every British subject to be free, therefore let us organize, and enter the fight with a determination to win, and win we will.

Yours truly,

A. E. P.

Confederation Life Association

HEAD OFFICE, TORONTO

The demand for a contract guaranteeing a fixed income for a term of years has led to the adoption by the Confederation Life Association of the Guaranteed Income Policy, under which is guaranteed to the beneficiaries, under the contract, or if policy is on the Endowment Plan, to have the insured, should he survive the period, a fixed annual income for ten years of $100 per year, or for twenty years at $50 per year, as the case may be, for each $1,000 of insurance held.

All the benefits and privileges, such as Extended Insurance, Paid-up and Cash Values, etc., as at present given under the ordinary Unconditional Policy, attach also to the Guaranteed Income Contracts, and the fact that such a policy relieves the anxiety as to investment should make it very popular.

The Head Office or any of the agents of the association will be glad to quote rates on application.

THE E. B. EDDY COMPANY.

The annual general meeting of the E. B. Eddy Company was held at Hull on Wednesday last. The secretary-treasurer submitted the audited accounts for the year 1895; the semi-annual dividend was declared, and the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

Mr. E. B. Eddy, president and managing director.
Mr. S. S. Cushman, vice-president.
Mr. Geo. H. Millen, general mechanical superintendent.
Mr. J. J. Gormully, Q.C., solicitor.
Mr. W. H. Rowley, secretary-treasurer.
Mr. J. T. Shirreff, assistant secretary-treasurer.

It is understood from a reliable source that although the competition has been very keen, and prices in all lines manufactured by the Eddy Co. very low, the peculiarly advantageous conditions under which these works are operated have resulted on the whole satisfactorily for 1895.

Mr. Eddy is still absent in Europe, but is looked for to return in the spring or early summer.

JAMAICA ORANGE CROP.

The largest crop of Jamaica oranges ever harvested was in this season of 1895-6. The figures:

	Boxes.	Barrels.
1891-2	8,468	34,439
1892-3	7,688	42,179
1893-4	5,165	20,261
1894-5	12,296	88,751
1895-6	83,140	192,173

These figures have been carefully compiled by James Golden, of I. Mercadante's importing house. They show that the receipts have been equal to 467,486 boxes this season, which is more than twice the quantity of last season and nearly as many as were received in the four years previous put together.—American Grocer.

A HINT TO THE CLERK.

Mr. Clerk, be firm, be emphatic, but be quiet about it, don't get boisterous, remarks an exchange. Be easy in your manner. Meet people on the level, convinced that you are as good as they. Consider yourself socially their equal, if you will, but don't presume upon it. Never strain the limit; keep to your own side of the fence and don't attempt to be familiar.

For the time being you are the servant of those you are serving, and no matter how well people may treat you outside of the store, they may resent what they term presumption on the part of the clerk in his clerkly capacity. So be wise, and keep strictly to your own side of the fence.

IMITATION

Is the highest form of flattery, but there is no money in it for us in the case of Cream Sodas. We registered this brand, and merchants who love fair play will see our rights protected. Buy the lawful brand, the original brand. Don't be fooled with something "just as good."

Cream Sodas are put up in 3 pound tins, blue label.
